In the courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise the LORD, for the LORD is good;‡
Sing praises to His name, for it is gracious and lovely.

4 For the LORD has chosen [the descendants of] Jacob for Himself,‡

<sup>5</sup> For I know that the LORD is great ‡

<sup>6</sup> Whatever the LORD pleases, He does, ‡

In the heavens and on the earth, in the seas and all deeps—

<sup>7</sup> Who causes the clouds to rise from the ends of the earth; ‡

Who makes lightning for the rain,

Who brings the wind from His storehouses;

Both of man and animal;  [Ex 12:12 , 29 ; Ps 78:51 ; 136:10 ]

Upon Pharaoh and all his servants.

<sup>10</sup> Who struck many nations ‡

And killed mighty kings,

Og, king of Bashan,

And all the kingdoms of Canaan;

<sup>12</sup> And He gave their land as a heritage, ‡

<sup>13</sup> Your name, O LORD, endures forever, ‡

Your fame and remembrance, O LORD, [endures] throughout all generations.

And He will have compassion on His servants [revealing His mercy].  [Heb 10:30 ]

<sup>15</sup> The idols of the nations are silver and gold, ‡

The work of men's hands.

<sup>16</sup> They have mouths, but they do not speak;

They have eyes, but they do not see;

<sup>17</sup> They have ears, but they do not hear,

Nor is there any breath in their mouths.

So is everyone who trusts in and relies on them.  [Ps 115:4–8 ]

<sup>19</sup> O house of Israel, bless and praise the LORD [with gratitude]; ‡

O house of Aaron, bless the LORD;
<sup>20</sup> O house of Levi, bless the LORD;
You who fear the LORD [and worship Him with obedience], bless the LORD [with grateful praise]!  [Deut 6:5; Ps 31:23 ]
<sup>21</sup> Blessed be the LORD from Zion, ‡
Who dwells [with us] at Jerusalem.
Praise the LORD! (Hallelujah!)

Thanks for the LORD 's Goodness to Israel.

<sup>1</sup>GIVE THANKS to the LORD, for He is good; ‡
For His lovingkindness (graciousness, mercy, compassion)
<sup>2</sup> Give thanks to the God of gods, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever.
<sup>3</sup> Give thanks to the Lord of lords,
<sup>4</sup> To Him who alone does great wonders, ‡
<sup>5</sup> To Him who made the heavens with skill, ‡
<sup>6</sup> To Him who stretched out the earth upon the waters, ‡
<sup>7</sup> To Him who made the great lights, ‡
<sup>8</sup> The sun to rule over the day, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
<sup>9</sup> The moon and stars to rule by night,

<sup>10</sup> To Him who struck the firstborn of Egypt, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Ex 12:29 ]
<sup>11</sup> And brought Israel out from among them, ‡
<sup>12</sup> With a strong hand and with an outstretched arm, ‡

13 To Him who divided the Red Sea into parts, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Ex 14:21, 22 ]
14 And made Israel pass through the midst of it,
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
15 But tossed Pharaoh and his army into the Red Sea, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
16 To Him who led His people through the wilderness, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
17 To Him who struck down great kings, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
18 And killed mighty kings, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Deut 29:7 ]
19 Sihon, king of the Amorites, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Num 21:21–24 ]
20 And Og, king of Bashan, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Num 21:33–35 ]
21 And gave their land as a heritage, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
22 Even a heritage to Israel His servant,
For His lovingkindness endures forever;  [Josh 12:1 ]

23 Who [faithfully] remembered us in our lowly condition, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
24 And has rescued us from our enemies,
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
25 Who gives food to all flesh, ‡
For His lovingkindness endures forever;
26 Give thanks to the God of heaven,
For His lovingkindness (graciousness, mercy, compassion)
endures forever.

An Experience of the Captivity.

1 BY THE rivers of Babylon,
There we [captives] sat down and wept,

When we remembered Zion [the city God imprinted on our hearts].

We hung our harps.

<sup>3</sup> For there they who took us captive demanded of us a song with words,‡

And our tormentors [who made a mockery of us demanded] amusement, saying,

In a strange and foreign land?

<sup>5</sup> If I forget you, O Jerusalem,
Let my right hand forget [her skill with the harp].

<sup>6</sup> Let my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth ‡
If I do not remember you,
If I do not prefer Jerusalem
Above my chief joy.  [Ezek 3:26. ]

<sup>7</sup> Remember, O LORD, against the sons of Edom, ‡
The day of [the fall of] Jerusalem,
Who said “Down, down [with her]
To her very foundation.”

How blessed will be the one
Who repays you [with destruction] as you have repaid us.  [Is 13:1–22; Jer 25:12, 13 ]

<sup>9</sup> How blessed will be the one who seizes and dashes your little ones ‡
Against the rock.

Psalm 138

Thanksgiving for the LORD ’s Favor.

A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> I WILL give You thanks with all my heart; ‡
I sing praises to You before the [pagan] gods.

<sup>2</sup>I will bow down [in worship] toward Your holy temple ‡
And give thanks to Your name for Your lovingkindness and Your truth;

For You have magnified Your word together with Your name.

<sup>3</sup> On the day I called, You answered me;
And You made me bold and confident with [renewed] strength in my life.

When they have heard of the promises of Your mouth [which were fulfilled].

<sup>5</sup> Yes, they will sing of the ways of the LORD [joyfully celebrating His wonderful acts],

For great is the glory and majesty of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> Though the LORD is exalted, ‡
He regards the lowly [and invites them into His fellowship];
But the proud and haughty He knows from a distance.  [Prov 3:34
; James 4:6; 1 Pet 5:5 ]

<sup>7</sup> Though I walk in the midst of trouble, You will revive me; ‡
You will stretch out Your hand against the wrath of my enemies,
And Your right hand will save me.  [Ps 23:3, 4 ]

<sup>8</sup> The LORD will accomplish that which concerns me; ‡
Your [unwavering] lovingkindness, O LORD, endures forever—
Do not abandon the works of Your own hands.  [Ps 57:2; Phil 1:6

Psalm 139

God's Omnipresence and Omniscience.

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, you have searched me [thoroughly] and have known me. ‡

<sup>2</sup> You know when I sit down and when I rise up [my entire life, everything I do]; ‡

You understand my thought from afar.  [Matt 9:4; John 2:24, 25 ]

- <sup>3</sup> You scrutinize my path and my lying down,‡
And You are intimately acquainted with all my ways.
- <sup>4</sup> Even before there is a word on my tongue [still unspoken],‡
Behold, O LORD, You know it all.  [Heb 4:13 ]
- <sup>5</sup> You have enclosed me behind and before,
And [You have] placed Your hand upon me.
- <sup>6</sup> Such [infinite] knowledge is too wonderful for me;‡
It is too high [above me], I cannot reach it.
- <sup>7</sup> Where can I go from Your Spirit?‡
Or where can I flee from Your presence?
- <sup>8</sup> If I ascend to heaven, You are there;‡
If I make my bed in Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead), behold, You are there.  [Rom 11:33 ]
- <sup>9</sup> If I take the wings of the dawn,
If I dwell in the remotest part of the sea,
- <sup>10</sup> Even there Your hand will lead me,
And Your right hand will take hold of me.
- <sup>11</sup> If I say, “Surely the darkness will cover me,
And the night will be the only light around me,”
- <sup>12</sup> Even the darkness is not dark to You and conceals nothing from
You,‡
But the night shines as bright as the day;
Darkness and light are alike to You.  [Dan 2:22 ]
- <sup>13</sup> For You formed my innermost parts;
You knit me [together] in my mother’s womb.
- <sup>14</sup> I will give thanks and praise to You, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made;
Wonderful are Your works,
And my soul knows it very well.
- <sup>15</sup> My frame was not hidden from You,‡
When I was being formed in secret,
And intricately and skillfully formed [as if embroidered with many colors] in the depths of the earth.
- <sup>16</sup> Your eyes have seen my unformed substance;
And in Your book were all written
The days that were appointed for me,

When as yet there was not one of them [even taking shape].

<sup>18</sup> If I could count them, they would outnumber the sand.

When I awake, I am still with You.

<sup>20</sup> For they speak against You wickedly, ‡

<sup>21</sup> Do I not hate those who hate You, O LORD? ‡

And do I not loathe those who rise up against You?

They have become my enemies.

Test me and know my anxious thoughts;

<sup>24</sup> And see if there is any wicked or hurtful way in me, ‡

And lead me in the everlasting way.

Psalm 140

Prayer for Protection against the Wicked.

To the Chief Musician. A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> RESCUE ME, O LORD, from evil men;

<sup>2</sup> They devise evil things in their hearts; ‡

Poison of a viper is under their lips.  [Rom 3:13. ]

Selah.

Protect me from violent men

Who intend to trip up my steps.

<sup>5</sup> The proud have hidden a trap for me, and cords; ‡

They have spread a net by the wayside;
They have set traps for me.
Selah.

6 I said to the LORD, “You are my God;
Listen to the voice of my supplications, O LORD.
7 “O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation,
You have covered my head in the day of battle.
8 “Do not grant, O LORD, the desires of the wicked; ‡
Do not further their evil device, that they not be exalted.

Selah.

9 “Those who surround me raise their heads; ‡
May the mischief of their own lips come upon them.
10 “Let burning coals fall upon them; ‡
Let them be thrown into the fire,
Into deep [water] pits from which they cannot rise.
11 “Do not let a slanderer be established in the earth;
Let evil quickly hunt the violent man [to overthrow him and stop his evil acts].”

12 I know [with confidence] that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, ‡
And [will secure] justice for the poor.
13 Surely the righteous will give thanks to Your name;
The upright will dwell in Your presence.

Psalm 141

An Evening Prayer for Sanctification and Protection. A Psalm of David.

1 LORD, I call upon You; hurry to me. ‡
Listen to my voice when I call to You.
2 Let my prayer be counted as incense before You; ‡
The lifting up of my hands as the evening offering. [1 Tim 2:8 ;
Rev 8:3, 4]
3. Set a guard, O LORD, over my mouth;

Keep watch over the door of my lips [to keep me from speaking thoughtlessly].

<sup>4</sup> Do not incline my heart to [consent to or tolerate] any evil thing, ‡

Or to practice deeds of wickedness
With men who plan and do evil;
And let me not eat of their delicacies (be tempted by their gain).

<sup>5</sup> Let the righteous [thoughtfully] strike (correct) me—it is a kindness [done to encourage my spiritual maturity]. ‡

It is [the choicest anointing] oil on the head;
Let my head not refuse [to accept and acknowledge and learn from] it;

For still my prayer is against their wicked deeds.  [Prov 9:8 ; 19:25 ; 25:12 ; Gal 6:1 ]

<sup>6</sup> Their [wicked, godless] judges are thrown down the sides of the rocky cliff,

And they [who followed them] will hear my words, for they are pleasant (just).

<sup>7</sup> As when the one plows and breaks open the ground [and the soil scatters behind him],

Our bones have been scattered at the mouth of Sheol [by the injustices of the wicked].  [2 Cor 1:9 ]

<sup>8</sup> For my eyes are toward You, O GOD, the Lord; ‡

In You I take refuge; do not pour out my life nor leave me defenseless.

<sup>9</sup> Keep me from the jaws of the trap which they have set for me, ‡
And from the snares of those who do evil.

While I pass by and safely escape [from danger].

Psalm 142

Prayer for Help in Trouble. ‡

A skillful song, or a didactic or reflective poem, of David; when he was in the cave. A Prayer.

<sup>1</sup> I CRY aloud with my voice to the LORD;

I make supplication with my voice to the LORD.
2 I pour out my complaint before Him; ‡
I declare my trouble before Him.
3 When my spirit was overwhelmed and weak within me [wrapped in darkness], ‡
You knew my path.
In the way where I walk
They have hidden a trap for me.
4 Look to the right [the point of attack] and see; ‡
For there is no one who has regard for me [to act in my favor].
Escape has failed me and I have nowhere to run;
No one cares about my life.

5 I cried out to You, O LORD; ‡
I said, “You are my refuge,
My portion in the land of the living.
6 “Give attention to my cry, ‡
For I am brought very low;
Rescue me from my persecutors,
For they are stronger than I.
7 “Bring my soul out of prison (adversity), ‡
So that I may give thanks and praise Your name;
The righteous will surround me [in triumph],
For You will look after me.”

Psalm 143

Prayer for Help and Guidance. A Psalm of David.

1 HEAR MY prayer, O LORD, ‡
Listen to my supplications!
Answer me in Your faithfulness, and in Your righteousness.
2 And do not enter into judgment with Your servant, ‡
For in Your sight no man living is righteous or justified.  [Ps 130:3
; Rom 3:20–26 ; Gal 2:16 ]
3 For the enemy has persecuted me,
He has crushed my life down to the ground;

He has made me dwell in dark places, like those who have been long dead.

<sup>4</sup> Therefore my spirit is overwhelmed and weak within me [wrapped in darkness]; ‡

My heart grows numb within me.

I meditate on all that You have done;

I ponder the work of Your hands.

My throat thirsts for You, as a parched land [thirsts for water].

Selah.

Do not hide Your face from me,

Or I will become like those who go down into the pit (grave).

<sup>8</sup> Let me hear Your lovingkindness in the morning, ‡

For I trust in You.

Teach me the way in which I should walk,

For I lift up my soul to You.

<sup>9</sup> Rescue me, O LORD, from my enemies;

I take refuge in You.

<sup>10</sup> Teach me to do Your will [so that I may please You], ‡

For You are my God;

Let Your good Spirit lead me on level ground.

<sup>11</sup> Save my life, O LORD, for Your name's sake; ‡

In Your righteousness bring my life out of trouble.

And destroy all those who afflict my life,

For I am Your servant.

Psalm 144

Prayer for Rescue and Prosperity.

A Psalm of David.

<sup>1</sup> BLESSED BE the LORD, my Rock and my great strength, ‡
Who trains my hands for war
And my fingers for battle;

<sup>2</sup> My [steadfast] lovingkindness and my fortress,
My high tower and my rescuer,
My shield and He in whom I take refuge,
Who subdues my people under me.

<sup>3</sup> LORD, what is man that You take notice of him? ‡
Or the son of man that You think of him?  [Job 7:17; Ps 8:4;
Heb 2:6 ]

<sup>4</sup> Man is like a mere breath; ‡
His days are like a shadow that passes away.

<sup>5</sup> Bow Your heavens, O LORD, and come down; ‡
Touch the mountains, and they will smoke.

Send out Your arrows and confuse and embarrass and frustrate them.

Set me free and rescue me from great waters,
Out of the hands of [hostile] foreigners [who surround us]

<sup>8</sup> Whose mouths speak deceit [without restraint], ‡
And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

Upon a harp of ten strings I will sing praises to You,

<sup>10</sup> Who gives salvation to kings, ‡
Who sets David His servant free from the evil sword.

<sup>11</sup> Set me free and rescue me from the hand of [hostile] foreigners,
Whose mouth speaks deceit [without restraint],

And whose right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

- <sup>12</sup> Let our sons in their youth be like plants full grown, ‡
And our daughters like corner pillars fashioned for a palace;
<sup>13</sup> Let our barns be full, supplying every kind of produce,
And our flocks bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our fields;
- <sup>14</sup> Let our cattle bear
Without mishap and without loss,
And let there be no outcry in our streets!
- 15—How blessed and favored are the people in such circumstance; ‡ How blessed [fortunate, prosperous, and favored] are the people whose God is the LORD!

Psalm 145

The LORD Extolled for His Goodness. ‡

A Psalm of praise. Of David.

- <sup>1</sup> I WILL exalt You, my God, O King,
And [with gratitude and submissive wonder] I will bless Your name forever and ever.
- <sup>2</sup> Every day I will bless You and lovingly praise You;
Yes, [with awe-inspired reverence] I will praise Your name forever and ever.
- <sup>3</sup> Great is the LORD, and highly to be praised, ‡
And His greatness is [so vast and profound as to be] unsearchable [incomprehensible to man].  [Job 5:9; 9:10; Rom 11:33. ]
- <sup>4</sup> One generation shall praise Your works to another, ‡
And shall declare Your mighty and remarkable acts.
- <sup>5</sup> On the glorious splendor of Your majesty
And on Your wonderful works, I will meditate.
- <sup>6</sup> People will speak of the power of Your awesome acts,
And [with gratitude and submissive wonder] I will tell of Your greatness.

<sup>7</sup> They will overflow [like a fountain] when they speak of Your great and abundant goodness
And will sing joyfully of Your righteousness.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD is gracious and full of compassion, ‡
Slow to anger and abounding in lovingkindness.
<sup>9</sup> The LORD is good to all, ‡
And His tender mercies are over all His works [the entirety of things created].

And Your godly ones will bless You.

<sup>11</sup> They shall speak of the glory of Your kingdom
And talk of Your power,
<sup>12</sup> To make known to the sons of men Your mighty acts
And the glorious majesty of Your kingdom.
And Your dominion endures throughout all generations.  [Dan 7:14, 27 ]

<sup>14</sup> The LORD upholds all those [of His own] who fall ‡
And raises up all those who are bowed down.

And You give them their food in due time.

And satisfy the desire of every living thing.

<sup>17</sup> The LORD is [unwaveringly] righteous in all His ways
And gracious and kind in all His works.

<sup>18</sup> The LORD is near to all who call on Him, ‡
To all who call on Him in truth (without guile).

<sup>19</sup> He will fulfill the desire of those who fear and worship Him
[with awe-inspired reverence and obedience];
He also will hear their cry and will save them.

<sup>20</sup> The LORD keeps all who love Him, ‡
But all the wicked He will destroy.

<sup>21</sup> My mouth will speak the praise of the LORD,
And all flesh will bless and gratefully praise His holy name forever and ever.

Psalm 146

The LORD an Abundant Helper.

<sup>1</sup> PRAISE THE LORD! (Hallelujah!) ‡

Praise the LORD, O my soul!

<sup>2</sup> While I live I will praise the LORD; ‡

I will sing praises to my God as long as I live.

In mortal man, in whom there is no salvation (help).

In that very day his thoughts and plans perish.  [1 Cor 2:6 ]

<sup>5</sup>.How blessed and graciously favored is he whose help is the God of Jacob (Israel), ‡

Whose hope is in the LORD his God,  [Gen 32:30 ]

<sup>6</sup> Who made heaven and earth, ‡

The sea, and all that is in them,

Who keeps truth and is faithful forever,  [Gen 1:3 ]

<sup>7</sup> Who executes justice for the oppressed, ‡

Who gives food to the hungry.

The LORD sets free the prisoners.

The LORD lifts up those who are bowed down;

The LORD loves the righteous [the upright in heart].  [Luke 13:13 ; John 9:7 , 32 ]

<sup>9</sup> The LORD protects the strangers; ‡

He supports the fatherless and the widow;

But He makes crooked the way of the wicked.

<sup>10</sup>.The LORD shall reign forever, ‡

Your God, O Zion, to all generations.

Psalm 147

Praise for Jerusalem's Restoration and Prosperity.

<sup>1</sup> PRAISE THE LORD! ‡

For it is good to sing praises to our [gracious and majestic] God;

Praise is becoming and appropriate.

<sup>2</sup>. The LORD is building up Jerusalem; ‡

He is gathering [together] the exiles of Israel.

He calls them all by their names.

<sup>6</sup>. The LORD lifts up the humble; ‡

He casts the wicked down to the ground.

Sing praises to our God with the lyre,

Who provides rain for the earth,

Who makes grass grow on the mountains.

<sup>9</sup>. He gives to the beast its food, ‡

And to the young ravens that for which they cry.

<sup>10</sup> He does not delight in the strength (military power) of the horse, ‡

<sup>11</sup> The LORD favors those who fear and worship Him [with awe-inspired reverence and obedience],

Those who wait for His mercy and lovingkindness.  [Ps 145:20 ]

<sup>12</sup> Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem!

Praise your God, O Zion!

<sup>13</sup> For He has strengthened the bars of your gates,

He has blessed your children within you.

He satisfies you with the finest of the wheat.

He scatters the frost like ashes.

He causes His wind to blow and the waters to flow.

<sup>20</sup> He has not dealt this way with any [other] nation; ‡

They have not known [understood, appreciated, heeded, or cherished] His ordinances.

Praise the LORD! (Hallelujah!)  [Ps 79:6 ; Jer 10:25 ]

Psalm 148

The Whole Creation Invoked to Praise the LORD .

<sup>1</sup> PRAISE THE LORD!

Praise the LORD from the heavens;

For He commanded and they were created.

<sup>6</sup> He has also established them forever and ever; ‡

He has made a decree which shall not pass away.

<sup>7</sup> Praise the LORD from the earth, ‡

Sea monsters and all deeps;

<sup>8</sup> Lightning and hail, snow and fog; ‡

Stormy wind, fulfilling His orders;

<sup>9</sup> Mountains and all hills; ‡
Fruitful trees and all cedars;
<sup>10</sup> Beasts and all cattle;
Creeping things and winged birds;
<sup>11</sup> Kings of the earth and all people;
Princes and all judges of the earth;
<sup>12</sup> Both young men and virgins;
Old men and children.

<sup>13</sup> Let them praise the name of the LORD, ‡
For His name alone is exalted and supreme;
His glory and majesty are above earth and heaven.
<sup>14</sup> He has lifted up a horn for His people [giving them strength, prosperity, dignity, and preeminence], ‡
Praise for all His godly ones;
For the people of Israel, a people near to Him.
Praise the LORD! (Hallelujah!)  [Ps 75:10; Eph 2:17 ]

Psalm 149

Israel Invoked to Praise the LORD .

<sup>1</sup>.PRAISE THE LORD! ‡
Sing to the LORD a new song,
And praise Him in the congregation of His godly ones (believers).
<sup>2</sup> Let Israel rejoice in their Maker; ‡
<sup>3</sup> Let them praise His name with dancing; ‡
Let them sing praises to Him with the tambourine and lyre.
<sup>4</sup> For the LORD takes pleasure in His people; ‡
He will beautify the humble with salvation.

Let them sing for joy on their beds.
And a two-edged sword in their hands,  [Heb 4:12; Rev 1:16 ]

<sup>7</sup> To execute vengeance on the nations
And punishment on the peoples,
<sup>8</sup> To bind their kings with chains
And their nobles with fetters of iron,
<sup>9</sup> To execute on them the judgment written. ‡
This is the honor for all His godly ones.

Psalm 150

A Psalm of Praise.

<sup>1</sup>.PRAISE THE LORD!
Praise God in His sanctuary;
Praise Him in His mighty heavens.
<sup>2</sup> Praise Him for His mighty acts; ‡
Praise Him according to [the abundance of] His greatness. [
Deut 3:24; Ps 145:5, 6.]

<sup>4</sup> Praise Him with tambourine and dancing; ‡
Praise Him with loud cymbals.
<sup>6</sup>.Let everything that has breath and every breath of life praise
the LORD!
Praise the LORD! (Hallelujah!)

Annotations for Psalms

The Design and Message of the Psalter

The Psalms exhibit numerous structural features that contribute to their overall theme:
instruction in the godly life under the reign of God

Book I

Ps 1–2 Introduction, framed by two ‘ashre (“Blessed is/are”) declarations

- 1 Evokes instructions of Torah [Law] and Hokmah [Wisdom]
- 2 Evokes Former and Latter Prophets (Yahweh and his anointed, Israel’s only hope in the turmoil of history)

Thus 1. The Psalter must be read in the context of the rest of the OT canon.

2. As the portal to the temple of the Psalter, these two psalms teach that those who would appropriate the prayers and praises of the Psalter must fit the profile of the framing declarations; their lives must be shaped by Law and godly Wisdom, and they must “take refuge” in Yahweh and his anointed—the two basic components of “the fear of Yahweh.”

Ps 3–14

64 lines	3 Plea for deliverance from foes	9 Plea for deliverance from hostile nations	64 lines
	4 Plea for relief in time of drought	10 Plea for deliverance from the wicked
	5 Plea for deliverance from foes	11 Trust in Yahweh’s righteous rule
	6 Plea for healing	12 Plea for help in an ungodly time
	7 Plea for deliverance from foes	13 Plea for deliverance from serious illness and enemies
	8 Praise of the Creator (the glory of God bestowed on humans)	14 The folly of humankind (“The LORD looks down . . . to see . . . All have turned away”)

49 The folly of those who “trust in their wealth and boast of their great riches”

50 God calls his people to account

51 Humble prayer for forgiveness and cleansing

52 The folly of the one who “trusted in his great wealth” and those who “boast of evil”

53 The folly of those who live as if there is no God (repeat of Ps 14)

Ps 54–60 Seven prayers at the center of Book II

54 Prayer of individual for help against enemies

55 Prayer for help: a conspiracy in Jerusalem (“they prowl about on its walls”) (“words...are drawn swords ”)

56 Prayer for help against enemies

57 Prayer for deliverance from enemies (“tongues are sharp swords ”)

58 Prayer for the heavenly Judge to set right what human rulers have not

59 Prayer for help: enemies surround Jerusalem (“They . . . prowl about the city”) (“spew . . . words from their lips . . . sharp as swords ”)

60 Prayer of community for help after suffering devastating defeat

(“You have rejected us” and “no longer go out with our armies”)

Ps 61–64 Four royal prayers with interweaving themes

61 Appeal for restoration to God’s presence (“rock,” “refuge,” “strong tower,” “in the shelter of your wings”)

62 Appeal for deliverance from arrogant foes (“rock,” “fortress,” “mighty rock,” “refuge”; “You reward everyone according to what they have done”)

63 Appeal for God’s refreshing presence when threatened by enemies (“sing in the shadow of your wings”; “Those who want to kill me . . . will go down to the depths of the earth”)

64 Appeal for God’s protection against conspirators (“The righteous will rejoice in the LORD and will take refuge in him”)

Ps 65–68 God’s “awesome and righteous deeds” evoke the praise of “all...the earth”

65 God’s blessing the earth into fruitfulness is highlighted (“the hope of all the ends of the earth”)

66 God’s saving acts on behalf of Israel are highlighted (“Shout for joy to God, all the earth!”)

67 God’s blessing the earth into fruitfulness is highlighted (“all the peoples praise . . . all the ends of the earth . . . fear”)

68 God’s saving acts in behalf of Israel are highlighted (“kings . . . bring you gifts . . . Sing to God, you kingdoms of the earth”)

Ps 69–72 Three prayers with a royal psalm attached (see Ps 42–45)

69 A king’s prayer for deliverance when under vicious attack

70 A short prayer (repeat of Ps 40; see introduction to Ps 71)

71 A king’s prayer for God’s help in old age when under attack

72 A prayer that the king be specially gifted to rule justly

(“. . . endure . . . through all generations”)

(“. . . all nations . . . be blessed through him”)

Books IV and V

Ps 90–100 Eleven psalms framed by “Lord [Adonai] . . . our dwelling place throughout all generations” (90:1) and “The LORD [Yahweh] . . . his love . . . faithfulness continues through all generations” (100:5)

90 Plaintive prayer concerning the mortality of those who have long had the Lord as their “dwelling place”

91 Assurances for those who make the Most High their “dwelling” place (v. 9; cf. v. 1): “With long life I will satisfy” them (v. 16)

92 Celebration of Yahweh’s righteous rule and its result (what the “senseless...do not know”): “evildoers...will be destroyed forever” but “the righteous...will still bear fruit in old age”

93 Celebration of the invincible reign of Yahweh

- 94 Appeal to Yahweh to deal judicially with those who perpetrate injustices and oppression:
“Take notice, you senseless ones among the people”
- 95 Call for the delivered covenant community to joyfully worship Yahweh their God (and warning not to repeat earlier rebelliousness)
- 96 Call to all nations to worshipfully celebrate the universal reign of Yahweh
- 97 Joyful celebration of Yahweh’s universal reign—whose throne is founded on “righteousness and justice”
- 98 Call to all nations to worshipfully praise Yahweh for his saving acts in behalf of Israel
- 99 Joyful celebration of Yahweh’s universal reign, especially for what he has done for Israel
- 100 Concluding exhortation to worshipfully praise Yahweh, Israel’s Maker and “good” Shepherd-King

Ps 101–110 A “little psalter” framed by two royal psalms

101	A royal pledge to reign righteously	110	Prophecies concerning the Messianic King-Priest
102	Individual lament	109	Individual lament
103	Praise of Yahweh for his “great...love”	108	Praise of Yahweh for his “great...love”
104	Praise of Yahweh the Creator	107	Call for praise of Yahweh who hears cries of distress
105	Recital of Israel’s saving history	106	Recital of Israel’s history of rebellion

Ps 111–119 The “Egyptian Hallel” framed by 111/112 and 119

111/112 Formal and thematic twins: Righteous God (111:3) and God-fearing persons, “who find great delight in his [God’s] commands” (112:1)

119 Prayer of one who finds “delight” in God’s “commands” (v. 35.)

Ps 120–137 Songs of ascents plus two appendices

120–134 The Songs of Ascents

135–136 Hymns traditionally associated by the Jews with the songs of ascents

137 Song of love for Zion by one returned from Babylonian exile (brings closure to the preceding collection)

Ps 138–145 Eight psalms assigned to David: prayers framed by praise

138. Praise of Yahweh: “When I called, you answered”; “May all the kings . . . praise you . . . for [your] glory”

139. Acknowledgment of total nakedness before the omniscient and omnipresent God

140–144. Five prayers for deliverance from:

140: evildoers, “the violent...the wicked”

141: evildoers

142: pursuers who “are too strong for me”

143: enemies

144: foreigners

145. (Acrostic) Praise of Yahweh, “the King”: who “is near to all who call on him”; “All your works . . . tell of the glory of your kingdom . . . so that all . . . may know of . . . the glorious splendor of your kingdom”

Ps 146–150 Five Hallelujah psalms that serve as the concluding doxology for the entire Psalter
(see Introduction: Collection, Arrangement and Date)

1:1 Success—Psalm 1 sets the tone for the whole Book of Psalms. It contrasts the ways of life of the blessed man and the wicked man. Being blessed or successful is not a once for all time, dramatic event, but rather a lifetime of choosing to follow God and His commandments. Success happens when we move from grudging acceptance to enthusiastic delight in absorbing and then following God's laws and mandates. Nothing provides more resources. No motivational speakers will set us on a better course. No degrees will give us more of a life-changing education.

At first glance this kind of lifestyle may not look like the most exciting way to live. We can go through life, plodding along this way, without anybody even noticing. It's a lifestyle that doesn't fill up trophy cases or result in monuments being created. It can, however, end with "Well done, thou good and faithful servant" from our Lord. The excitement is in the results of being in a position to help family and friends grow. Success comes from being in a relationship with God that means fruitfulness by His definition. 1:1 Blessed [fortunate, prosperous, and favored by God] is the man. Hebrew wisdom literature and poetry is filled with descriptions of two favorite characters: "the righteous man" and "wisdom" (often personified as "she"). In this context, "the righteous man" is a literary tool used to represent those who love and desire to please God, rather than an actual individual.

1:2 meditates. Biblical meditation is focusing the mind on Scripture or the attributes and actions of God.

1:3 he prospers. This is not a guarantee of the future financial worth of the righteous; rather, the righteous person is always useful and productive to the Lord.

1:6 knows and fully approves the way. The verb "knows" in this context refers not just to God's awareness, but to an intimate, personal knowledge (101:4 ). God is intimately involved with the way of the righteous, but has no connection with the way of the ungodly, except in judgment (146:9 ).

2:1 Why are the nations in an uproar. David, the human author of this psalm (Ac 4:24–26 ), was probably referring to the nations that confronted him and his legitimate heirs to the throne of Israel. But the Davidic kings were mere shadows of the coming great King, the Savior Jesus. Consequently, in a larger sense, this verse refers to any attack on Jesus and His divine kingdom. This assault occurred in its most dramatic form at the cross, but resistance to God's kingdom has continued.

2:12 Kiss (pay respect to) the Son. All peoples are presented with a clear choice. They can either love and respect the Lord's anointed, and so experience His great blessing, or they can refuse to submit, and incur God's wrath.

3 title When he fled from Absalom. The history behind this psalm is recorded in 1 Samuel 15.

3:2 Selah. This is probably a literary or musical term, perhaps indicating a pause in the lyrics for a musical interlude.

3:7 struck . . . on the cheek. In the poetic imagery that David uses, his enemies are like powerful beasts whose strength is in their jaws and whose terror is in their teeth. God's strike at the source of their strength means that they are no longer a threat.

4:1 O God of my righteousness. This phrase can also be translated "O my righteous God." It has two meanings: only God is righteous, and all of a person's righteousness is found in Him alone.

4:4 Tremble [with anger or fear], and do not sin. These words are cited by Paul in the New Testament, translated "Be angry [at sin—at immorality, at injustice, at ungodly behavior], yet do not sin" (Eph 4:26). This is a good description of what righteous indignation should look like.

4:7 their wheat and new wine. The joy God gives transcends the joy of the harvest. Agricultural produce, the result of abundant rain on fertile soil, was a blessing of God on His people. But there is something greater than full barns and overflowing cisterns—the joy of God's presence.

5:7 Your holy temple. David was a leader in reforming the worship of God in Jerusalem, and he established a structure for the worship that would take place in the temple to be built by Solomon. David uses the word "temple" in anticipation of the future glorious building; all later generations of Hebrew worshipers would understand their own worship better because of the use of this word in these psalms.

5:9 Their throat is an open grave. Paul echoed the words of these verses in describing the depravity of all people (Ro 3:13 ).

6:4 because of Your [unfailing] steadfast love and mercy. Perhaps the most significant single term in the Hebrew text regarding the character of God is the word rendered “mercy” here. The Hebrew word describes what some prefer to call the “loyal love” or “lovingkindness” of God.

6:6–7 grief. The sighing and tears of this psalm are to be understood as responses to the psalmist’s physical afflictions experienced at the hands of his enemies, and also to reflect the seriousness with which he felt the weight and burden of his own sinfulness. All affliction is not directly related to sin; however, it is an occasion when a spiritual accounting with God should be taken and in which the believer should be inclined to strengthen himself in God.

7:1 in You I take refuge. The dominant message in the Book of Psalms is twofold: (1) God is good, and (2) life is difficult. The life of faith is lived between these two realities.

7:12 If a man does not repent. God abhors sin, but He is also merciful, giving people the opportunity to repent before they are punished for their wickedness.

7:14 he conceives mischief. These words are echoed in the apostle James’ description of the progress of sin (Jas 1:14–15 ).

8:5 a little lower than God. Mankind stands at the summit of God’s creation. The Septuagint, an ancient Greek translation of the Old Testament, translates the Hebrew word meaning “God” (elohim ) as “angels.” The author of Hebrews bases his argument in 2:5–9 on this translation, and both readings are true. God made man (human beings) in His own image, just a little lower than angels. God created human beings as majestic creatures who were to rule over His creation. In our fallen state, we are profoundly disfigured, a perversion of the majesty God intended. However, Jesus restores those who put their trust in Him. In Christ, we recover majesty; in Him, we become the people that God wants us to be. Whenever we feel worthless, the words of this psalm should encourage us. We and all other human beings are valuable because God Himself created us in His own glorious image.

8:9 O LORD, our Lord. The first word is the divine name Yahweh. The second Hebrew word translated “our Lord” speaks of the One in control: “our Sovereign.”

9:1 with all my heart. Real praise is not half-hearted; it involves one’s whole being (146:2 ). The words of these two verses are characteristic of the praise of God in the Psalms. He is to be praised for His works and His name. His name represents who He is; His works represent what He does.

9:10 those who know Your name. Those in Old Testament times who “knew the name of the Lord” were those who looked forward with saving faith to God’s promised redemption, just as we look back with saving faith to the redemption accomplished.

9:14 the daughter of Zion. This endearing term for Jerusalem indicated the close relationship and nurturing care God had for His people.

10:1 Why. Psalm 10 is found as the second half of Psalm 9 in the Septuagint, the ancient Greek translation of the Hebrew Scripture.

10:3 the greedy. The verb “to boast,” as translated here, is most commonly rendered “praise.” The wicked offer praise, but not to the Lord. Rather, their hearts offer praise and worship to their own covetous desires. Their desires know no divinely set limits, since the wicked do not seek Him, but live with the conscious thought that there is no God (v. 4 ).

10:11 God has [quite] forgotten. The wicked behave the way they do because they doubt that the Lord knows, cares, or will act. They want to believe that there will be no final judgment, so they feel free to do as they please. But the truth is that God will establish justice.

11:1 In the LORD I take refuge. In contrast to the surrounding psalms of lament (9 ;10 ;12 ), this psalm expresses great trust in the Almighty Lord.

11:3 If the foundations [of a godly society] are destroyed. The wicked may taunt, but in fact the foundations are not destroyed and will never be.

11:5 The LORD tests. Undergoing trials and suffering is not necessarily a mark of sin or of God's disfavor. Such tests will show the true allegiance of our hearts.

12:2 deceitful and worthless words. The very foundation of a nation is undermined when falsehood prevails. Every aspect of life—home, business, social life—is based on truth. Falsehood breeds suspicion and distrust, which will destroy the very fabric of society and civilization.

12:6 pure words. In contrast to the idle words of the wicked, the words of God are altogether trustworthy. The eternal and steadfast nature of the Lord Himself stands behind His words. He will establish justice just as He has promised to David (v. 5 ).

13:1 How long, O LORD? The Lord allows David to pour out his anxiety before Him. But by the end of David's prayer, the Lord has granted him a correct perspective on his situation. David's only option is to trust in the sovereign mercy of his loving God.

13:5 Your lovingkindness and faithfulness. These words refer to God's loyal love, His faithfulness to His commitment to take care of His people.

14:1 fool. This word does not refer to mental inability, but to moral and spiritual insensitivity. A fool is one who lives a life of "practical atheism," the view that even if there is a God, it really does not matter to one's life.

14:4 no knowledge. The wicked lack knowledge of God's truth. Although people may be brilliant in their chosen fields, they can still be morally insensitive and spiritually closed to the issues that have eternal consequences.

15:1 who may lodge [as a guest] in Your tent. No one except Jesus the Messiah is righteous enough to approach God. But there have always been those who stand before God as forgiven sinners, whose righteousness comes as a gift from God. We may come boldly into God's presence because our sins have been covered by Christ's blood.

15:2 He who walks with integrity . . . and works righteousness. The Lord commands us to be holy (1Pe 1:15–16 ), and He also gives us the power to become holy (2Th 2:16–17 ).

16:5 my inheritance. This phrase refers to the promised land. God had given this inheritance to His people (Dt 6:1–3 ). However, there was a greater inheritance for the Levites, who did not receive a share in the land (Nu 26:62 ); their share of the inheritance was in the Lord. David had an ancestral inheritance in the land. As king, he also had extensive royal holdings. But he realized that no inheritance was greater than his relationship with Almighty God.

16:10 Sheol. This is the Hebrew word for "the grave," or the realm of the dead. Not much is known of the ancient Hebrew's concept of life after death. "The grave" or Sheol seems to be a dreaded place, shrouded in mystery.

17:3 tried my heart. David knew that God had done what he was requesting even before he asked. That is, God knew David's needs and what was in his heart. David's prayer helped him to focus on the source of his strength and to reaffirm his determination to live a pure life.

17:4 God's Word Corrects—There are many symbols for God's Word that can be found in the Bible itself. It can be thought of as a mirror (Jas 1:23–25 ), a seed (1Pe 1:23 ), a lamp (Ps 119:105 ), a sword (Eph 6:17 ), and even food (Heb 5:12–14 ). But the Bible also serves as a measuring rod that can be used as a standard against which to measure our beliefs.

God Himself sometimes uses His Word to correct us as He did with David. "You have dealt well with Your servant, O Lord, according to Your promise . . . Before I was afflicted I went astray, but now I keep and honor Your word [with loving obedience]" ( Ps 119:65, 67 ).

There are times when God's Word can correct believers when they are in honest and unintentional error. Aquila and Priscilla, a godly Christian couple, used the Scriptures to help a young preacher named Apollos ( Ac 18:24–28 ). Paul does the same thing for some former disciples of John the Baptist that he met in the city of Ephesus ( Ac 19:1–7 ). Go to Theological Notes Index

[17:14 whose portion \[of enjoyment\] is in this life.](#) The wicked live their lives with only the pursuit of the pleasures of this world in mind. The righteous should not try to obtain what this life can offer, but instead pursue God and His ways.

17:15 I shall see Your face. In the Old Testament there is no well-developed theology of heaven, yet there are times when the faith of the writer rises to utter statements of hope of resurrection and of life eternal with God. It would appear that such a view was always a part of godly faith, even though dim in comparison with the later revelation through Christ. Both Psalms 16 and 17 are testimonies to a growing faith that entrance into God's presence would be the fruit of a relationship with God in this life. The afflictions on earth cause faith to look forward to a time after this life when one will behold God's face in righteousness, and faith in God will be vindicated by seeing God.

[18:1 I love You \[fervently and devotedly\], O LORD .](#) Twice in the Psalms the poet declares a love for God (116:1 ). Here an unusual word for love is used, referring to compassion as deep as a mother's love. The text for this psalm is also found in 2 Samuel 22 .

18:2 The LORD is my rock. This is a particularly apt image for David, who many times had to hide in the mountains for security (1Sa 26:1 ,20 ).

18:5–6 distress. As the title of Psalm 18 indicates, this poem of praise was composed in the midst of very trying times (2Sa 22:1 ). Once again, David had become the object of Saul's uncontrollable rage; in his bouts of paranoia, Saul mistakenly suspected that David was laying the foundation of a revolt against his own royal position. How foolish David would have been had he said, "In my distress I took the matter into my own hands." Rather he said, "In my distress I called upon the LORD." We have no other option when caught in our distressing situations. Otherwise we compound the suffering.

18:11–12 darkness . . . brightness. The references to darkness speak of the hiddenness of God. He cannot be completely understood by those whom He has created. The references to brightness speak of God's holiness.

18:35 the shield of Your salvation. The use of battle armor as an image of God's provision for the righteous is found in both the Old and New Testaments (Eph 6:10–20 ).

18:41 They cried . . . to the LORD . Apparently, in the extremes of battle, the enemies of David found no help from their gods, so they screamed aloud to David's God for deliverance. But God would not answer them. There is only one prayer from the wicked to which He gladly listens—the prayer of repentance.

18:43 head of the nations. David gained his empire by the work of the Lord on his behalf. But David's empire was only a picture of the kingdom of God that will one day be governed by David's greater Son, the Lord Jesus.

18:49 among the nations. By proclaiming the victories of God to the nations, the poets were calling for the nations to respond in faith. How fitting that Paul would cite this verse (or its parallel in 2Sa 22:50 ) in Romans 15:9 as an indicator of God's ongoing intention to bring His salvation to all people.

19:1 The heavens are telling. All of creation reveals God's glory and majesty (Ro 1:18–20 ).

19:4 a tent for the sun. In the ancient Middle East, the sun was often thought of as a god. In this poem, the sun is but the stunning workmanship of the Creator, glorifying the God who made it.

19:7–8 The law of the LORD . The world reveals God's glory, and the Word reveals His saving grace. God's law (or teaching) is described as "perfect," which is best understood here as "complete." This law needs no alteration in part or in whole. It has power to bring deep and radical change in the inner life or soul. It is God's great instrument in conversion (Jas 1:18 ; 1Pe 1:23 ). The Word of God is spoken of as God's "testimony" because it is His own instruction concerning His person and purpose. In Scripture, God testifies concerning Himself, His Son, and sinners. God's Word is sure (2Pe 1:19 ), and may be trusted because He is faithful (1Ti 1:15 ). To those wise in their own eyes, the truth of God is hidden (Mt 11:25 ), but to the simple the Scriptures give wisdom that leads to salvation (2Ti 3:15 ).

19:14 my Redeemer. God is the One who purchases our freedom from any bondage or slavery. The principal meaning of the word is “defender of family rights.”

20:5 victory. In the immediate context, victory is used to describe daily deliverance from the rigors of the battle and the triumph over the enemy. But the Lord’s deliverance of us from our spiritual troubles should prompt the same type of praise.

20:6 His right hand. This is a slogan that describes God’s powerful deliverance of the Israelites from Egypt (17:7 ; 44:3 ; 118:16 ; Ex 15:6 ).

21:2 his heart’s desire. The Lord gives people their aspirations when they are derived from a fundamental desire for God’s honor and glory (20:4 ; 37:4 ; 145:19 ).

21:9 the time of your anger. This may refer to any period of God’s judgment, but compare to “the day of the Lord” (Joel 2:1 ; Zep 1:14 ).

22:1 My God, my God, why have You forsaken me? David used these words to express a painful sense of separation from God at a time of great trouble (38:21 ). These were the very words used by Christ while in agony on the cross (Mt 27:46 ; Mk 15:34 ).

22:6 despised by the people. When David was at his lowest, his enemies ridiculed his faith in the Lord. These words also describe the experience of the Savior who endured the verbal abuse of His tormentors (Mt 27:27-31 ,39-44 ).

[22:15 my \[dry\] tongue clings to my jaws.](#) Jesus’ words “I am thirsty” (Jn 19:28 ) also expressed the pain of terrible thirst.

22:16 They pierced my hands and my feet. This verse explicitly predicts the crucifixion of the Lord Jesus Christ. The words were a figure of speech for David, but they were literally true for Jesus.

22:18 cast lots for my garment. This text was directly fulfilled by the soldiers who gambled at the foot of the cross for the possession of Jesus’ robe (Mt 27:35 ).

22:27 all the families of the nations. This is speaking of the eventual spread of the gospel of redemption to the whole world, fulfilling God’s promise to bless all nations through Abraham’s descendants (Ge 12:3 ).

23:1 The LORD is my Shepherd. Even though the word “king” does not appear in it, this psalm is a description of what it means to be a good ruler. Moreover, the psalm prophetically speaks of Jesus. He is the Good Shepherd whose flock trusts in Him (Jn 10:1-18 ) and the King whose perfect rule will be established (Lk 23:2-3 ).

[23:4 the \[sunless\] valley of the shadow of death.](#) The awareness of our own mortality often comes with sickness, trials, and hardship. But the Lord our protector can lead us through these dark and difficult valleys to eternal life with Him. There is no need to fear death’s power (1Co 15:25-27 ). Our Lord has already traveled this road and come through the valley of darkness. Because He lives, we too shall live. Death is not our final destiny.

23:6 in the house and in the presence of the LORD . God’s promise for the Israelites was not just for the enjoyment of this life in the land of promise; it was also for the full enjoyment of the life to come in His presence (16:9-11 ;17:15 ; 49:15 ).

24:1 Affirming God’s Ownership of the World— Whose world is this anyway? David, of course, who lived in the hills with the animals, had a firm answer. It is God’s world. This statement should shape our thinking about a great deal of life. We should have a heightened sense of stewardship to care for God’s creation. We should look to God more to understand what is important and what is not important. Seeing God’s creation every day should help make praise and thanksgiving a way of life. It should also help us desire to understand God’s redemptive acts in history and in our lives. Go to Theological Notes Index

24:4 clean hands and a pure heart. God looks at a person's actions and also at the attitudes of the heart.

24:9 That the King of glory may come in. When Jesus came, the meaning of this ancient poem became clear (Mt 21:1–10 ; Rev 19:11–16 ).

25:3 who [expectantly] wait for You. Waiting on the Lord is the equivalent of hoping in Him (25:5 ; 40:1 ).

25:7 sins of my youth. Both the sins of immaturity and the transgressions of adulthood need forgiveness (1Jn 1:9 ).

25:14 for those who fear Him. Those who fear the Lord pay attention to His instructions and thus learn the secrets of God's wisdom (111:10 ; Pr 1:7 ; 3:32 ).

25:19 They hate me. This psalm is a prayer for forgiveness, instruction, and protection from the forces of darkness which are oppressing the writer. His most prominent trial is hostility from enemies. The animosity which the psalmist encountered was not primarily personal, but was the result of his identification with God's cause. Therefore, he could ask the Lord to look upon Him and vindicate him in the face of his afflictions. The writer's suffering had its roots in the origins of redemptive history (Ge 3:15)—there would be enmity between the seed of the woman and the seed of the serpent, between the godly and the ungodly. Jesus also reminded his disciples that hatred directed against his servants on His account was to be expected (Jn 15:18–20 ).

26:3 Your lovingkindness. The loyal love (13:5) of God is the recurring focus of the Book of Psalms.

26:9 Do not sweep my soul away. On the basis of his protests of integrity (vv. 1–2), David prays for divine discrimination (4:3). God distinguishes those who have responded to His grace from those who have not.

27:6 sacrifices with shouts of joy. These are praise offerings that the believers bring to God to celebrate the blessings He gives them (Heb 13:15 ).

27:14 Wait for and confidently expect the LORD. To wait for the Lord is to demonstrate confident expectation. The Hebrew word for “wait” may also be translated “hope.” To hope in God is to wait for His timing and His action (40:1 ; Isa 40:31 ).

28:1 the pit. This is one of the terms for death in the Psalms (55:23 ; 143:7 ).

28:5 they have no regard. The language here is similar to that of Paul in Romans 1:18–32. One day even the wicked will have to acknowledge God as their Creator and give Him the glory He deserves.

28:8 His anointed. This term acknowledges God's covenant with David, His promise that He would be David's God and David would be His representative. This passage became a heritage of the monarchy, a treasure for each godly king in the Davidic line to go back to for strength and encouragement.

29:1 O sons of the mighty. This means “O sons of gods.” This Hebrew phrase refers to spiritual beings who are in the presence of God (see Job 1:6 ).

29:2 Worship by Israel— The central aspect of Israel's worship was the object of their worship, the Lord. While other nations paid homage to many gods, including inanimate objects such as trees and stones, Israel worshiped the one true God. This worship could be private, as a family or corporate as a congregation.

Israel's worship occurred in many different contexts and many different elements. It included offering sacrifices (1Sa 1:3), adopting a reverent posture (2Ch 7:6), verbal praise—either spoken (1Ch 16:7) or sung (Ps 57:7), instrumental praise (Ps 150:3–5), prayer (2Ch 6:14–42), and the great feasts (Lev 23 ; 25).

The first place of worship for the people of Israel was the tabernacle constructed by Moses (Ex 25 ; 27 ; 30–31 ; 35 ; 40). Solomon's temple in Jerusalem became the permanent place for the central worship of the whole nation when it was completed. The New Testament teaching is that there is no limitation on location for worship. Access to God is direct and immediate (1Co 6:19). Go to Theological

29:10 at the flood. God is the true victor over all. He even controlled the waters at the height of their destructive power during the flood.

30:3 from Sheol. David is not reporting a resurrection, but a deliverance from a nearly fatal illness. As in 28:1, the psalmist describes death as a great pit into which a person drops into the enveloping darkness of the unknown.

30:10 my helper. “Helper” can also be translated “power” or “shield (33:20). Jesus promised His disciples that the Holy Spirit would be their Helper (Jn 14:16).

31:1 I have placed my trust. This is a psalm of lament, yet David expresses deep trust in God in spite of his afflictions.

31:5 Into Your hand I commit my spirit. With these words, David expressed his complete dependence on God. These very words were spoken by Jesus on the cross shortly before His death (Lk 23:46), and by Stephen when he was stoned (Ac 7:59).

31:15 My times are in Your hands. Even when we cannot understand the “why,” we can trust that God is in control of when each life begins and ends, and also of our times of suffering.

31:22 I said in my alarm. The psalmist’s emotional response was to accuse God of abandoning him instead of asking for help, yet God still answered his true need.

32:1 Blessed. “Blessed” means “happy.” It is appropriate that this word is used both of the righteous (1:1) and of the forgiven.

32:3 kept silent. When we refuse to admit our sin, we will suffer. David realized that it was not just his feelings that were assaulting him, but the heavy hand of God (38:1,6-8). No matter who else is hurt, the principal offense of any sin is always against the Lord.

32:5 What Should be Done About Sin— There are only two things that the believer should do about his sin: confess it and forsake it. He should never condone or attempt to excuse his sin. Here David confesses his sin and experiences forgiveness. Similarly 1 John 1:9 makes the same point. When the believer confesses his sin, he has the assurance that God “is faithful” (He can be counted on to keep His word) and “just” (He is just in dealing with our sins because He paid the price for them) “and will forgive our sins and cleanse us continually from all unrighteousness.” God is able to cleanse us completely from anything that is inconsistent with His own moral character. Having received forgiveness and cleansing, the believer is to forsake his sin and yield himself completely to God. In so doing, the believer is restored to full fellowship with God. Go to Theological Notes Index

32:9 bridle and rein . . . Otherwise they will not come near to you. God does not want to drive His people with rules and regulations, the “bridle and rein” of righteousness. Rather, He wants His people to follow Him willingly, that they desire above all to please Him, not just to appease Him.

33:5 The earth is full. In spite of the fallen nature of our world, much of the creation remains as it was in the beginning: “very good” (Ge 1:31). We do have to deal with evil, but every time we see the goodness of God’s creation we should rejoice.

33:9 He spoke, and it was done. The creation account in Genesis 1 describes God’s spoken word as the controlling element in creation; John 1 shows that Word to be Jesus Christ, God’s Son.

33:15 He who fashions the hearts . . . Who considers. When we are troubled and weary and suffering, we can never say that God does not notice or understand. He made us carefully, and He continues to watch over all that we do.

33:18 hope. Those who hoped for the Lord’s lovingkindness were looking forward in faith to the promised redemption, the ultimate fulfillment of the covenants, just as believers today who have the same hope, based on faith in Christ’s finished work of redemption.

34:1 at all times. The determination of David to praise God is similar to the words of Paul in

1 Thessalonians 5:18 . The story behind this psalm may be found in 1 Samuel 21:10–15 .

34:7 The angel of the LORD . This term is often used interchangeably with the name of God (Ex 3 ). When we realize that God Himself is watching over us, there is no need to fear.

34:9 O [reverently] fear the LORD . This is a call to awe, wonder, worship, and reverence (Pr 1:7 ). To fear God is to respond to Him in obedience.

34:20 keeps all his bones. John 19:33–36 shows that the words of this verse were fulfilled in detail in the death of Jesus. Despite the terrible suffering that the Savior endured, none of His bones were broken.

35:2 stand up for my help. David did not hesitate to call upon God for vindication, comfort, and justice. He placed complete dependence on the Lord.

35:8 Let destruction come upon my enemy. David's response is certainly not an example of turning the other cheek or loving his enemies (Mt 5:39 ,44 ), but it shows David's keen awareness of the battle between good and evil, the reality of wickedness, and his understanding that wickedness is an abomination to the Lord.

35:18 congregation. Three times a year, at three of the great annual feasts, all males were required to appear before the Lord in Jerusalem. Each brought his offering to the Lord on these occasions. When they came accompanied by their families, as was often the case, Jerusalem was flooded by a vast horde of people intent upon worshiping God. David viewed speaking before this “great congregation” or the assembly of Israel as the ultimate opportunity for testimony. A constant testimony is given to the world by believers as they give voice to praise Him for His watchful care over them.

35:19 hate me without cause. This passage was fulfilled in the suffering of Jesus, the Savior (Jn 15:23–25 ).

35:26 ashamed. The phrase “be ashamed” does not refer just to simple embarrassment, but to the revelation of the complete emptiness of wickedness before the judgment seat of God.

36:1 no fear (dread) of God. Underlying wickedness is a complete disregard for the reality of God in a person's life and in the world.

36:9 fountain of life. God's salvation and continuing mercy to His people are often described in terms of life-giving water (Isa 12:3 ; Jer 2:13 ; Jn 4:1–14 ).

37:1 Do not worry. When the wicked seem to prosper, the psalmist calls for patience, a renewed sense of dependence on the Lord, and a new sense of pleasure in knowing Him.

37:4 the desires and petitions of your heart. Many times, we read this verse as a promise that God will give us anything that we want because He wants us to be happy. In reality, this verse goes much deeper. When we truly delight in God, He plants in our hearts godly desires that He delights to fulfill.

37:7 Be still before the LORD . . . Do not fret. This is not a call to stop caring and go to sleep, but to depend actively on the living Lord, leaving our lives and times in His hands.

37:13 He sees that his day [of defeat] is coming. The wicked sometimes appear to prosper, but from God's perspective, the flourishing of the wicked is short (Ecc 3:16–17 ).

37:21 the righteous is gracious and kind and gives. There are many contrasts between the wicked and the righteous in the wisdom psalms; this one is based on contrasting attitudes toward possessions (15:5 ; 112:5 ). Jesus said that such generous givers would be rewarded with “good measure—pressed down, shaken together, and running over” (Lk 6:38 ).

37:25 pleading for bread. Some interpret these words as referring to spiritual famine—the righteous will never be deprived of the Lord's presence (Jn 6:35 ). However, many have taken these words literally and experienced God's miraculous provision for their material needs.

37:27 Depart from evil. In this life people must choose either to cling to God and righteousness or to pursue evil.

37:39 salvation. The principal issue here is not regeneration, but sanctification—the daily deliverance of God’s people from temptation and evil.

38:1 do not rebuke me. David is not saying, “Don’t tell me I’m wrong,” but “Have mercy on my sinfulness.” David’s penitent psalms can serve as a model for our own prayers of confession.

38:14 a man who does not hear. David was determined not to present an opportunity for his enemies to condemn the name of the Lord. His silence foreshadowed the silence of Jesus before His accusers (Mk 14:61 ).

38:18 I do confess. David’s silence was only before his enemies; to the Lord he willingly confessed his sins.

39:1 I will guard my ways. David determined to be silent in suffering so that he would not speak out foolishly.

39:9 You who has done it. David knows that his only chance of deliverance is in God. But he also believes that his trouble has come from God. He is in a quandary. Should he ask for God’s help, or should he ask for God to leave him alone?

39:13 O look away from me. If God is not going to deliver him, the despondent psalmist asks God to leave him alone. It is rare outside the Book of Job to find language such as this (Job 7:19 ). The pain of the psalmist was so far from being resolved that he remained in despair until the last verse. Yet the fact that God saves those who call upon Him is described again and again in the Book of Psalms (22:31 ; 118:21 ).

40:1 I waited patiently. The verb “to wait” expresses a confident trust or faith in the Lord (130:5 ). David knows that salvation comes only from the Almighty (3:8 ).

40:6 You have opened my ears. God allows us to hear His words, and He also gives us understanding and wisdom to internalize and apply them.

40:7 Behold, I come. According to Hebrews 10:4–7 , Jesus spoke these words to the Father.

40:8 To Know God’s Will— Knowing the will of God is not simply a vehicle for finding the right vocation for a life’s work. While vocation is important, it is only a small part of God’s will. The will of God must be thought of in more comprehensive terms. The will of God is for everyone to live in such a way as to bring honor and glory to God. For different people God may have very different things in mind. We must continually stay in God’s Word so that He can make clear to us what His will is for us. We must also be still, listen, and know that He is God.

The first step towards understanding God’s will is believing in Christ (Jn 3:14–16 ). If we do not accept this gift from God, we will not be saved from judgment (Mt 7:21 ). Second, Scripture teaches us that it is God’s will for every believer to be sanctified (2Th 2:13–17 ). Third, the Bible declares God’s will as it must be applied to our lives (Dt 29:29 ). This fact involves commands to be obeyed, principles to be followed, prohibitions of things to be avoided and living examples to be imitated or shunned. God takes great joy in those who cheerfully do His will.

Although the Bible is a comprehensive revelation of God’s will, there are always decisions we make that Scripture does not directly address. In order to know God’s will in these situations we need to be in fellowship with the Lord (1Jn 1:6–7 ), seek principles from the Word (1Co 10:6 ), obtain advice from godly counselors (Pr 11:14 ), use common sense, and remember that God works through our own minds and He desires for us to do His will (Php 2:13 ). Go to Theological Notes Index

40:9 assembly. In Psalm 35 David prayed for deliverance from his enemies and promised to give God praise before “the great assembly,” the assembly of Israel, for that deliverance. Psalm 40 is a joyful account of his deliverance from trouble, and his witness of God’s righteousness before the people. The believer is obligated to speak of God’s righteous acts toward him, so that others may hear of the goodness and glory of God.

40:11 tender mercy. This term refers to God's affection for us. David is asking God to surround him with warmth and comfort that is practically maternal.

41:4 for I have sinned. In the context of this psalm, this is a general acknowledgement of sin and the need for God's forgiveness and restoration (1Jn 1:9 ).

41:9 Even my own close friend. Jesus quoted this verse, noting its fulfillment in Judas (Jn 13:18 ).

41:13 Blessed. This psalm begins with a blessing of God on the righteous; it ends with the righteous blessing their Lord. This word "blessed" is different from the word in verse 1. Here the word identifies the Lord as the source of our blessing.

42:4 I used to go along before the great crowd . . . to the house of God. This psalm was written in exile. The psalmist is remembering with longing and tears the times when he was able to worship God in Jerusalem.

42:5 I shall again praise Him. As is common in the Psalms, the poet is not describing an act of private devotion, but of public praise of the goodness of God. This is praise in words and songs that would be repeated in the midst of the congregation (22:22 ; Eph 5:19 ; Heb 13:15 ).

42:6 the land of the Jordan . . . peaks of [Mount] Hermon. These are references to the promised land, from which the people were exiled.

43:1 Judge and vindicate me. It is believed that Psalm 43 is a continuation of Psalm 42 .

43:5 in despair. Psalms 42 and 43 reflect a uniform feeling of being cut off from God, rejected and forsaken by Him. There is a common refrain in both psalms in which the author reasons with himself in order to surmount his feelings of depression and loneliness. Prayer is still possible when God seems to be absent, and we can hope in God in the face of present affliction because faith enables the believer to give thanks before the answer is experienced.

44:4 You are my King. In this community lament, it is striking that here the speaker is singular. It may be that these words are spoken by Israel's king to the King of glory. As the king of the nation, it was appropriate for him to lead the people in asking for God's renewed favor.

44:9 You have rejected us. The army of Israel was not just a group of soldiers. They were the warriors of the Almighty; their victories were the victories of God, and their defeats were losses that He allowed them to endure. If He ceased accompanying them to battle, they were doomed to failure.

44:17 we have not forgotten You. The faithful remnant had to bear the punishment of exile as well as the wicked. Human beings are so interwoven that it is impossible to sin alone. Inevitably others will have to share the burden of our just punishment.

44:22 as sheep. These words predict another beloved Son of the Most High who would also feel cast off by the Lord (Isa 53:7 ; Ro 8:36 ).

45:3 O mighty One. In the ancient Middle East the king was supposed to be a great warrior. The model in Israel was David, the celebrated champion who defeated the giant Goliath (1Sa 17 ). The term "mighty One" is also a messianic title.

45:6–7 O God . . . God, your God. The words "thy throne" indicate the messianic direction of the psalm. Here the King is addressed as God, yet it is "God, your God" who anointed Him. The writer to the Hebrews used these verses to assert Jesus' deity (Heb 1:8–9 ).

45:7 righteousness. A person is known by his loves and his hates. If a person "loves" something, he will "hate" its opposite. One who loves justice will hate oppression. One who loves truth will hate falsehood. One who loves kindness will hate cruelty. The psalm deliberately uses very strong verbs: loved righteousness, hated wickedness. We might prefer to be a bit more moderate and tone down the language, but the Scripture calls us to disengage ourselves radically from wickedness, for it is both a virus and a vice. anointed You. Anointing set aside a particular person for special service to God. In Old Testament times, those who were anointed for special service foreshadowed the Anointed One, the Messiah.

45:9 Ophir. Possibly located in southern Arabia or in Africa (2Ch 8:17–18), this place was known in the Old Testament world as a source of fine gold.

45:14 embroidered garments. In the ancient world, the beauty of the bride's gowns might be an expression of her family's wealth, their pride in her, and their love for her.

46:2 though the earth should change. God is a refuge for His people against everything actual or imagined.

46:5 God is in the midst of her. We do not have an absentee deliverer, a defense that is only sometimes present. The Lord lives with His people and His protection can be counted on.

46:10 Be still and know (recognize, understand) that I am God. This call for stillness before the Lord is not preparation for worship, but for impending judgment (Hab 2:20; Zep 1:7; Zec 2:13).

47:4 whom He loves. To love means "to make one's choice in." God had chosen the Israelites to be His holy people and, in that way, He loved them. In His dialogue with Nicodemus, Jesus explained that God's love extended to all the nations as well as to Israel (Jn 3:16).

47:9 the people of the God of Abraham. This is the prophetic picture of the ultimate fulfillment of the Abrahamic covenant (Ge 12:1–3). One day all the peoples of the earth who have come to faith in God through Jesus will discover that they are one people. They are all the true seed of Abraham because they, like Abraham, believed in God (Ge 15:6; Gal 3:5–8).

48:1 Great is the LORD. Psalm 48 unites with Psalms 46 and 47 to form three great psalms of praise to God for His kingship and His love for the holy city of Jerusalem. This emphasis on Jerusalem has led many scholars to speak of these psalms as "Songs of Zion." the city of our God. The city of Jerusalem had a particularly dear place in the heart of God's people (1Ki 14:21). The city was holy because of the presence of God in the temple.

48:2 the joy of all the earth. As is strongly established in the Book of Psalms, the purpose of God's work in Israel was to draw all nations to Himself. city of the great King. Jesus quoted these words in Mt 5:35, speaking of Jerusalem.

48:12 Walk about Zion. Praising the city of Zion was another way of praising God, whose dwelling was there.

49:4 riddle. This word refers to a perplexing moral problem. How do the righteous come to terms with oppressive rich people who seem to have no thought for God?

49:6 those who trust in and rely on their wealth. The accumulation of material wealth is of no value in the life to come (Mk 10:23). Money can never buy redemption. Only God has the power to deliver us from death and hell.

49:14 Death will be their shepherd. Death is the great leveler. People who have beauty, riches (vv. 16–17), and power in this world will lose them all at death. They will be stripped of everything except their character or soul. This is why the Scriptures exhort us to pursue character development—God's law, holiness, wisdom, and knowledge—more than anything else.

50:1 The mighty One, God, the LORD. These three titles give a stunning introduction to the poem, a grand display of God Himself in the midst of His people.

50:8 reprove you for your sacrifices. The sacrifices were commanded by God in Leviticus, but the people had difficulty keeping a godly perspective on the nature of sacrifices. God did not need their offerings—He is already the owner of all the earth. The sacrifices were for their sakes, so that they would understand that sin equals death, and atonement comes by blood.

50:12 If I were hungry, I would not tell you. God doesn't hunger for food—and even if He did, He would not need His people to bring it to Him. He hungers for the righteousness of His people.

50:18 associate with adulterers. In this psalm the Lord brings a legal case against His people for violations of the covenant (v. 4). Verses 7–15 address the formalists, whose major emphasis is on the outward and external observances of the ceremonial law. Verses 16–23 are spoken to wicked members of the community who do not put God's commandments into practice in everyday life. The believer's attitude toward evil is to be one of total rejection: "Do not love the world [of sin that opposes God and His precepts], nor the things that are in the world" (1Jn 2:15). There is no neutrality in regard to the moral law, and no approval can be given to those who disobey God's law (Ro 1:32).

51:1 Have mercy on me. This psalm is associated with one of the hardest experiences of David's life, the aftermath of his affair with Bathsheba. For the account of David's sin and the prophet Nathan's rebuke, see 2 Samuel 11:1–12:15. the greatness of Your compassion. David's call for mercy is the only appropriate request for a confessing sinner. No sinner should ask for justice, for that would mean judgment and ruin.

51:4 Against You. David had sinned against Bathsheba, Uriah, and the nation he was called to rule. But none of these indictments were as serious as David's offense against God.

51:5 wickedness. The psalmist should not be misunderstood as teaching that the pollution of human nature results from anything inherently corrupt in sexual relations between husband and wife. We are male and female by the sovereign will and creative power of God (Ge 1:27). What David confesses, however, is the reality of human depravity (Ro 5:12). We are inclined to gratify the cravings of our sinful nature, following its desires and thoughts, contradicting God's commands. This is why we must experience radical regeneration by the supernatural power of the Holy Spirit. Apart from that rebirth, we can neither see nor enter the kingdom of God (Jn 3:3–5).

51:7 hyssop. Here David refers to the ritual acts of cleansing described in the law of Moses (Lev 14:4; Nu 19:6).

51:10–13 Confession—Confession leads to forgiveness, but what does that look like? Psalm 51 gives us a picture. The results of forgiveness are a clean heart, a renewed spirit, a restored relationship with God, and a joyful experience of God's salvation. God cleans us up. He makes us presentable. He reorients us towards Himself, helping us to focus on what is right. By forgiving us, God crosses over the canyon of sin that separates us from Him. When you put all this together there is great cause for joy on our part. Forgiveness is more than a theological abstract. It makes the salvation experience deeply personal and emotional in every sense. It takes that which is wrong in our life and makes it right. Go to Theological Notes Index

51:16 You do not delight in sacrifice. God's pleasure is not in the sacrificed animal, but in the willing obedience of His people (Ge 4:1–7; Jn 4:21–24; Ro 12:1–2). The motions of sacrifice not accompanied by a contrite heart are not acceptable to God (Isa 1:12–20).

52:2 Your tongue. This phrase refers to more than just words. These people used language as a weapon, for they believed that the gods could empower their words to a devastating effect.

52:6 see it and fear. This fear is a deepened respect for God and a sense of awe before His throne.

52:8 a green olive tree. An olive tree was a symbol of beauty. In Romans 11:16–24, the olive tree is used as a symbol of the Gentiles who are grafted into the root—the people of God or the church.

53:1 The [empty-headed] fool. In the Bible, the term "fool" does not indicate mental incompetence, but moral and spiritual insensitivity.

53:5 scattered the bones. This is a prophetic pronouncement of the final judgment on the wicked.

54:3 They have not set God before them. In one of the dark moments of David's life, when the insanely jealous King Saul was bent on destroying him, David was able to lift his heart in supplication, trust, and praise to God. He had been hiding with his men in the hill country south of Jeshimon, but his location was betrayed to Saul by the people of Ziph (1Sa 23:19; 26:1). These were the "strangers" who doubtless stood to profit from David's death. They had no regard for covenant law, which bade the Israelites to love their neighbors as themselves (Lev 19:18 ). Nor did they love the Lord their God wholeheartedly (Dt 6:5 ), but instead turned their hands against His anointed. Betrayal is a supreme act of treachery, whether in terms of a human being such as David, or of Jesus (Lk 22:48 ), the anointed Son of God. As such, it merits the most severe punishment from God (Mk 14:21 ).

54:5 He will pay back. David did not take vengeance into his own hands. Only the Lord can take revenge.

55:4 terrors of death. David's intense pain can be felt in his strong language. The phrase "terrors of death" is unusual. The Hebrew word for "terror" or "dread" is first used in Scripture to describe the horror that Abraham felt in the unnatural darkness that seized him as God was about to come near (Ge 15:12 ). The word also described the horrors that would fall on the people of Canaan when the Lord gave the land to the Israelites (Ex 15:16 ). To strengthen this feeling, David speaks of fear and trembling and an overwhelming horror (Eze 7:18 ).

55:15 Let them go down alive to Sheol. David could express his emotions to God in prayer, but judgment or revenge was in God's hands (Ro 12:19 ).

55:22 Cast your burden on the LORD . The Lord is the one constant in life, and the one true Friend.

56:1 Be gracious to me. David cried out to God because of his overwhelming sense of loss during his time as a fugitive in a foreign land (1Sa 21:10–15 ).

56:8 Put my tears in Your bottle. Nothing that happens to us escapes God's notice and care; not a tear falls to the ground that He does not remember. When we suffer, it is a great comfort to know that God is for us—everything that we live through will be put to use for our good.

57 title Saul in the cave. The narrative of David's life indicates that he twice hid in caves—once in Adullam (1Sa 22:1–5 ) which was the setting of Psalm 142 , and once in En Gedi (1Sa 24:1–7 ), the setting of this poem. In En Gedi, David spared Saul's life even though he had a perfect chance to put Saul out of the way and claim the kingship for himself.

57:1–3 I will cry to God . Although he had lived a righteous life, David still realized that he did not deserve the protection of God and that if his life was saved it would be by the grace of God. He trusted God to care for him just as a mother hen protects her young by covering them with her wings.

57:5 Be exalted. One of the ways in which God exalts Himself is by graciously delivering the needy.

57:7 My heart is steadfast. Just as Paul was able to say that he had kept the faith (2Ti 4:7 ), David rejoiced that his trust in God had remained strong.

58:1 O gods. This may also be translated "mighty ones" or "judges." Although they were merely humans, the wicked judges were behaving as though they claimed divine authority.

58:6 break their teeth. The wicked are pictured as having powerful teeth, as though they were carnivores, eating the righteous alive. Here David asks God to shatter their teeth, symbolizing the destruction of the power of the wicked over the poor and defenseless.

58:10 wash his feet in the blood of the wicked. We know that it is wrong to rejoice in the downfall of another human being; the picture of the righteous wading in the blood of their fallen enemies is hard for modern Western Christians to understand. Jesus clearly taught that our attitude towards our enemies should be one of compassion and forgiveness (Mt 5:43–48 ; Lk 23:34 ), but this does not mean that we should take a soft attitude towards sin. Wickedness grieves and angers God, and when wickedness has finally been dealt with, we will rejoice.

59:1 Deliver me from my enemies. The story behind this psalm of lament is found in 1 Samuel 19:9–17 .

59:3 Not for my wrongdoing. There were times in David's life when he knew that he was suffering because of sin in his life (Ps 32:1–7 ), but at other times he was hounded by wicked persons even though he was innocent.

59:6 dogs. Dogs were unclean animals, semi-wild scavengers rather than the beloved pets of our own day. To call someone a dog or compare him to a dog was a profound insult.

59:11 Do not kill them . . . Scatter. The imprecation or curse in this verse is unusual. Instead of asking for the destruction of the wicked, the psalmist asks for them to be scattered, to be made fugitives. This would be a constant reminder of the consequences of evil.

59:16–17 I will sing. David knew that King Saul had sent a murder squad to track him down and kill him. Yet he arose in the morning with joy in his heart and a song on his lips. This was in contrast to his enemies, who would return to the city each evening after a long, fruitless search for David. They were nervous, irritable, and arrogant.

60:1 You have broken [down our defenses and scattered] us. This is a poetic description of an otherwise unknown defeat of the armies of Israel in a battle that was part of the campaign against Aram of Zobah and his Mesopotamian allies (2Sa 8 ). The defeat was so startling that it caused the people of Israel to feel as though God had made the earth tremble.

60:5 Your beloved ones. This term is particularly endearing (Isa 5:1 ; Jer 11:15 ). God did not merely act for His people out of duty, He loved them.

60:8 Moab . . . Edom . . . Philistia. These traditional enemies of Israel were also enemies of God. The Lord would not allow them to disturb His people.

60:12 we will have victory. As the title records, this was what happened. David's general Joab led the battle, and under God's hand Israel's enemies were soundly defeated. When the help of man proves useless, often God dramatically provides strength and power so that our boast is solely in Him.

61:2 the rock that is higher than I. The imagery of God as a Rock for the believer was introduced by Moses (Dt 32:4 ) and is developed elsewhere in the Psalms (62:2 ; 71:3 ; 144:1 ).

61:6 like many generations. This phrase refers to David's long rule, but more literally prophesies the eternal rule of Jesus, the King of kings.

62 title Jeduthun. Jeduthun was appointed by David as one of those in charge of the music associated with worship (1Ch 16:41–42 ).

62:8 Trust . . . O people. David addresses the righteous with his lesson of reliance on God. What is true for David is extended to all in the believing community.

62:11 once, Twice. It is a convention of wisdom literature to use a number and then raise it by one (Pr 30:15–31 ), emphasizing the certainty of the point made.

63 title in the wilderness of Judah. This possibly refers to an incident during the period when Saul was chasing David (1Sa 22–24 ).

63:2 in the sanctuary. The sanctuary had been at Nob (1Sa 21:1 ), and it was there that David had sought the presence of the Lord. Later it was moved to Jerusalem (76:1–2 ).

63:4 lift up my hands. To lift the hands to the Lord expresses dependence on Him, coupled with an acknowledgement of His power, wonder, and majesty.

63:8 Your right hand. The same power of God that delivered Israel from Egypt (Ex 15:6 ) would support David—and all other believers in their daily lives.

64:10 take refuge in Him. By placing our problems into God's hands, we can rest in His sovereign will for our lives. Concerns about the future can be cast aside, for the Lord controls our future and has good plans for us (Ro 8:28 ).

65:3 You forgive them. David speaks of a coming day when sin will be dealt with fully, when redemption will be completely paid. This took place in the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ (Eph 1:7 ).

65:9 You visit the earth. Rainfall is seen here as a gracious visitation of God. This is in keeping with the provisions of God's covenant with Israel (Dt 28:12). These words have some fulfillment every time the rains bring productivity to the earth.

66:1 all the earth. As in Psalm 100:1, the call is not only for the people of Israel, but for the peoples of all the earth to join in the praises of the living God, the Most High (Ps 87:7 ; 96:1–6 ; 117:1).

66:2 the honor and glory and magnificence of His name. The Lord's name describes His character, so honoring God's name is honoring God Himself (Ex 3:14–15).

66:8 Bless our God. To bless God is to identify Him as the source of our blessing.

66:13 Your house. This term refers to the temple in Jerusalem where God lived among His people.

66:16 all who fear God. Those who fear God are those who respond in awe and wonder to Him.

66:18 regard sin and baseness. Ongoing sin tolerated in a believer's life is one of the main things that blocks effective prayer and hinders growth.

67:1 His face shine. In the language of Aaron's benediction (Nu 6:24–26), the psalmist calls for God to smile on His people.

67:2 known on earth. From the beginning God had intended to bring His blessing to all nations, in fulfillment of the provisions of the Abrahamic covenant (Ge 12:3). This passage anticipates the thrust of world mission that is found in the New Testament (Mt 28:18–20 ; Ac 1:8).

67:6 yielded its harvest. The coming of God's kingdom on earth will be marked by a magnificent increase in production. The curse on the land (Ge 3:17–19 ; Ro 8:22) will be lifted at that time.

68:1 Let God arise. This psalm is based in part on the Song of Deborah in Judges 5. The presence of the wicked on the earth is an assault on God's holiness and a constant threat to the righteous. Only God's mercy compels Him to delay His judgment (75:2).

68:5–6 father. The view of God as Father is not as fully developed in the Old Testament as it is in the New Testament. This passage affords some insight into the character of God as Father. He is not seen in these verses as the Almighty God destroying His foes. He is pictured rather as the Father helping His children in need. He delights in kindly works which bring a happy existence to His children.

68:11 The women who proclaim the good news. This may refer to the women who gave praise to God under the direction of Miriam (Ex 15:20–21).

68:14 the Almighty. This translates the name "Shaddai," a title that refers to the majesty and strength of the Lord (91:1).

68:18 You have led away captive Your captives. Paul quotes this verse in Ephesians 4:8, applying it to Jesus Christ. received gifts. When God delivered His people from Egypt, He brought them out with great treasures from the Egyptians (Ex 12:35–36). These gifts were used by the people of Israel to build the tabernacle (Ex 35:20–29), where the Lord promised to dwell.

68:29 kings will bring gifts to You. Royal guests came to Solomon with gifts (1Ki 10:1–10); but the ultimate prophetic fulfillment of this verse was in the kings who came to Jerusalem to bring gifts to the infant Jesus (Mt 2:1–12). One day all kings will show their obedience and humility before Jesus, the great King (2:10–12 ; 76:11).

69:1 the waters have threatened my life. This highly messianic psalm presents a remarkable description of the suffering of Jesus Christ. Psalm 22 describes Jesus' physical sufferings, while Psalm 69 focuses more on His emotional and spiritual suffering. Yet, like Psalm 22, this psalm was written by David approximately a thousand years before the events it describes. Both psalms begin with the sufferings of David but have their full meaning in the sufferings of Jesus. For these reasons, the apostles in the New Testament acknowledge that David was a prophet of God (Ac 2:30).

69:4 without cause. The Savior suffered affliction even though He was holy, harmless, and undefiled, and so no amount of holiness in His followers can prevent the enmity of a wicked world (Jn 15:19). In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus promised blessing and a great reward to His followers who suffered for the sake of righteousness, a cause which is identified with Christ's own person (Mt 5:10–11 ). Peter must have taken seriously Jesus' words on this subject, for he reminds believers that if they are reviled for the name of Christ, it is a blessing which indicates that the Spirit of God is resting upon them (1Pe 4:14 ).

69:9 zeal for Your house has consumed me. Like Phinehas in Numbers 25 , David describes himself as a zealot for the house of the Lord. Jesus' cleansing of the temple was a fulfillment of these words (Jn 2:17 ).

69:21 gall. "Gall" is commonly employed in Scripture as a synonym for poison, or bitterness. When Jesus hung on the cross, He actually was offered some sour wine mixed with gall (probably the bitter herb myrrh), a drink given occasionally to relieve the crucified person's thirst and pain (Mt 27:34 ).

69:25 May their encampment be desolate. These words were fulfilled in Judas Iscariot. See Acts 1:20 , in which the words of this verse are joined to the words of 109:8 .

70:2 be ashamed and humiliated. David prays that those who rejoice in his misery will be proven wrong in their assumption that the Lord is unable to help His people. In this way, the Lord's deliverance of David will result in God's name being glorified—both by the joy of God's people and the shame of His enemies.

71:2 Your righteousness. The psalmist is concerned with his own plight and also with the character of God. The psalmist's point is that God could display His righteousness by answering the needs of the psalmist, whose life had been lived in constant trust in God.

71:7 a wonder. The poet declares that the work of God in his life has made him a special sign to the people, similar to the great miracles of God through Moses and Aaron in Egypt \(Ex 7:3 ; 11:9\) .

71:22 the harp . . . the lyre. The psalmist praised God with music, both vocal and instrumental. His worship came from his inner being ("my soul," v. 23 ) which was filled with praises to the living God. No matter what form our worship takes, it is worthless unless it comes from the heart.

72:1 Give the king [knowledge of] Your judgments. Solomon's prayer for his own godly reign is an intensely messianic poem, speaking in ideal terms of the coming of the great King. The psalm calls for a good king to govern Israel under God's blessing. Ultimately this king is the Savior Jesus.

72:8 May he also rule from sea to sea. The promises of God to Abraham included a promise that his descendants would have dominion over the land of Canaan (Ge 15:18–21 ). These verses expand the geographical dimensions to include the entire earth.

72:14 He will redeem their life. This verse points to Jesus' death on the cross, when He paid the price to redeem us from the oppression of sin.

72:17 May his name endure forever. The name of the great King will be regarded as the greatest in the universe. Paul speaks this way of Jesus' name in Philippians 2:9–11 .

72:20 The prayers of David . . . are ended. The superscription of this psalm attributes it to Solomon. It is possible that Solomon wrote this poem as the close of a collection of his father's psalms. Other psalms were later added to this original collection.

73:1 Walking in the Spirit— An important prerequisite to walking in the Spirit is the confession of sin. Sin must be confessed in order to restore fellowship and to continue receiving God's forgiveness (1Jn 1:5–10 ). Confession means that we agree with God about our sin. That involves much more than simply acknowledging the sin. Confession requires an attitude of sorrow for the sin and a willingness to turn from it. It does not mean that we will never commit the same sin again, but it does mean that the attitude of repentance towards the sin is present.

Confession should be made at the moment the Christian becomes aware of sin. The Scriptures actually mention two specific times for confession: before the close of the day (Eph 4:26.) and before the Lord's Supper (1Co 11:27–32 ). Failure to do the latter is a special cause for discipline from the Lord.

Confession of sin should involve only those who have knowledge of the sin. This means that private sins should be confessed privately; sins between individuals confessed between those involved (Mt 5:23–24); and public sins confessed publicly (Mt 18:17). Public confession is normally made for the edification of the church (1Co 14:26). Go to Theological Notes Index

73:3 For I was envious. This psalmist is open with the readers concerning his own weakness and doubts; he also shows that he came to the right conclusion in the end: to trust God.

73:12 prosper and are at ease [in the world]. It often does appear that ungodly people get away with everything, ending up on the top of the heap and leaving the godly wondering whether their own acts of righteous living are without meaning or purpose.

73:15 betrayed. Even as he struggled with the apparent lack of reward for righteousness, Asaph knew in his heart that such thoughts were wrong. Even when we can't understand the surface facts, God's witness in our spirits lets us know when we are moving down the wrong track.

73:22 like a beast before You. An animal has no sense of eternity or divine perspective. When the psalmist wondered about the value of righteousness, his thinking was based only on the present, like an animal, rather than understanding the bigger picture as a being with an eternal soul.

73:28 it is good for me to draw near to God. There are those who may enjoy great wealth and notoriety today, but nothing they have or do will last forever. Compared to a relationship with the living God, nothing else matters.

74:1 anger. The Babylonian destruction of the temple in 586 BC occasioned a crisis of faith among the ancient covenant people. Since the temple served as the external sign of God's covenant with Israel, its destruction may have caused the impression that God's promise to David had been canceled (2Sa 7:12–14). The psalmist is deeply conscious that God is angry with the nation, and the reason for His anger is unmistakably clear. The people had forsaken the covenant, and worshiped and served other gods (Dt 29:25–26). God's anger reminds us of His eternal hatred of all unrighteousness. It is the holiness of God stirred into an appropriate response to sin.

74:12 my King of old. The Lord is King by virtue of His creation of the earth (Ps 93). He is King because of His special relationship with Israel (44:4 ; 99:1–3). And He is the coming King who will reign over all (96:13 ; 97:1–6 ; 98:6–9).

74:14 Leviathan. This creature was used to poetically describe various evil forces over which God has ultimate control and victory. Eventually the Leviathan (Job 41:1–10) became a symbol for Satan (Isa 27:1) who is “the dragon, that old serpent” (Rev 20:2).

74:15 dried up ever-flowing rivers. God enabled His people to cross over the Red Sea (Ex 14) and the river Jordan (Jos 3).

75:2 When I select an appointed time. God will not be rushed, even by His devoted followers. When we grow impatient to see justice done, we must remember that God has a better sense of time than we do.

75:8 a cup. This is not a cup of blessing, but of the Lord's wrath. The biblical image of wine and judgment goes back to Jacob's blessing on Judah (Ge 49:11) and is referred to in Christ's judgment as depicted in Revelation 19:13–15.

76:2 Salem. Salem is the shortened form of the name Jerusalem.

76:6 rider and horse. This verse is referring to the defeat of the army of Pharaoh (Ex 14:13–29 ; 15).

76:7 to be feared. For the righteous, the fear of God is a response of awe, wonder, adoration, and worship. For the wicked, the fear of God is terror, for there is no escape from Him (14:5).

76:11 bring gifts. As one might bring gifts to a king, so the righteous should bring their gifts to God—the ultimate gift being the dedication of their lives to the service of God (Ro 12:1).

77:3 remember . . . disquieted. What he knew of God contrasted with what he was experiencing. The more the psalmist thought about these things, the more troubled he became.

77:7–8 Will the Lord reject forever? Even though we have put our faith in Christ and committed ourselves to obeying His will, this doesn't automatically guarantee total and perpetual immunity from trouble. There will be seasons when God seems remote and we begin to wonder about God's unfailing love. It is in these times that we must hold most firmly to what we know about God, rather than what we feel. God has neither forgotten to show mercy nor stifled His compassion.

77:11 I will [solemnly] remember. Asaph did not feel any more at peace, but he made a conscious decision to turn from his pain and focus his thoughts on the person, works, and wonders of God. When we are in distress, we often feel that it is our right to vent our frustrations and complaints as long as we still feel them, but God doesn't call us to be driven by feelings. Instead, we have to consciously decide to praise God, trusting that the feelings will follow.

77:20 You led Your people like a flock. Lost in contemplation of the greatness of God, the poet seems thoroughly distracted from his pain. He does not mention it again, not daring to compare it to the greatness of the Almighty.

78:1 my teaching. The psalmist uses the vocabulary of the wisdom school to establish himself. "My teaching" or "my law" is the familiar word Torah. The wisdom writers used this word to indicate insight; their instruction is always in accord with the law of Moses (Pr 1:8 ; 3:1 ; 4:2 ).

78:2 dark and puzzling sayings. These are riddles, or instructions with a deeper meaning beyond the surface.

78:4 Israel's History— The biblical history of Israel covers 1,800 years and represents a marvelous panorama of God's gracious working through promise, miracle, blessing, and judgment. Israel begins as only a promise to Abraham (Ge 12:2 ). For over four hundred years the people of Israel maintain their belief in that promise while in bondage in Egypt. Finally, in God's perfect timing, He brings the nation out of Egypt with the greatest series of miracles recorded in the Old Testament (Ex 7–15 ). This event is called the exodus, meaning a going out. It is the formative event in the history of the nation. It was a great act of redemption and in the Old Testament is the foremost example of God's care for His people (Ps 77:14–20 ; 78:12–55 ; Hos 11:1 ).

Once God had redeemed Israel He established His covenant with them at Mount Sinai (Ex 19:5–8 ). From that point on He has been their God and they, His people. The covenant foretells gracious blessings for obedience and severe judgments for disobedience. The rest of Israel's history demonstrates the certainty of that prophecy. Throughout periods of conquest, judges, monarchy, exile, restoration, and Gentile domination, Israel was blessed when she obeyed and judged when she disobeyed. The nation is finally destroyed in AD 70, although this event is not described in the New Testament. Many prophecies appear to promise a future redemption (Ro 11:26 ).

There are at least three good reasons to study the history of Israel:

It sets forth examples to be followed or avoided (1Co 10:6 ).

It shows God's control of historical events (Ps 78 ).

It serves as a model for all ages of God's kindness and mercy towards his people (Ps 78 ). Go to Theological Notes Index

78:5–7 testimony. The history of Israel is told in a series of cycles with steps in each cycle ranging from a firm, dependent hope in God to deep apostasy. One generation would seek the works of God, hope in Him, and follow Him. The next generation would forget the mighty works of God and depart from reliance and confidence in Him. To avert this endless round of making the same mistakes, God commanded His people to make His laws a regular part of their everyday lives (Dt 6:4–9 ), so that they could not forget.

78:9 Ephraim . . . turned back. The poet may be referring to Ephraim's conflict with Jephthah (Jdg 12:1–7 ).

78:29 He gave them what they craved. When we turn our hearts toward the Lord, our desires will change to match His will. Then He delights to give us our desires because they are right things which will lead to wholeness and goodness (37:4 ). Without God, we don't have the wisdom to know what we should long for.

78:38 the source of compassion and lovingkindness. The awesome transcendence of the Lord is complemented in this section (v. 35 ) by an emphasis on His compassionate mercy.

78:58 high places. These places of worship were associated with the Canaanite worship of Baal and other fertility gods.

78:60 the tabernacle at Shiloh. This reference to Shiloh, the place where the tabernacle was set up in the time of Eli, places the time of disobedience described here in the latter period of the judges (1Sa 1:3 ).

78:61 gave up His strength and power (the ark of the covenant) into captivity. This term is an unusual way of speaking of the ark of the covenant which was lost to the Philistines during the battle of Aphek (1Sa 4:1-11 ). At this time the suffering of the people was acute, including even the deaths of priests (1Sa 4:17-18 ).

78:68 Mount Zion, which He loved. The description of the sanctuary in verses 68-69 suggests that this psalm was written after Solomon's temple was built.

78:71 To shepherd Jacob His people. The shepherding attributed to David is an ideal; it will be fully realized in the Savior King, Jesus, the true Good Shepherd (Mt 2:6 ; Jn 10:1-18 ).

79:1 Your sacred temple. The destruction described in this verse may be what the Babylonians did in 586 BC.

79:6 Pour out Your wrath. An imprecation or curse on one's enemies is often found in the psalms of lament (Ps 137:7-9 ). Vengeance is left to the Lord, but such a call for vengeance is based in part on the covenant provisions that God had established with Abraham. God had promised to curse those who cursed Abraham's descendants (Ge 12:2-3 ).

79:12 return into the lap of our neighbors sevenfold The taunts. While the Israelites' cries for vengeance seem to be missing the concept of "love your neighbor," it is clear that they understand both the seriousness of the offense against God and also the fact that it is God, not they, who must avenge.

80:1 Shepherd of Israel. The concept of God as the Good Shepherd who cares for His people is clearly shown by Jesus in John 10:1-18 . sit enthroned above the cherubim. In the most holy place, the ark of the covenant was topped by the mercy seat on which were two cherubim, heavenly symbols of the throne of God (Ex 25:22 ).

80:8 You uprooted a vine (Israel) from Egypt. The picture of Israel as God's vine recurs other places in Scripture (see, for example, Isa 5:1-25 ). In the New Testament, Jesus used the same metaphor to describe the relationship of God with all who trust in Him (Jn 15:1-8 ).

81:3 at the New Moon. The New Moon festival is mentioned in association with the Feast of Trumpets (Nu 29:6 ). Regulations for this festival can be found in the instructions to the Levites during the time of David (1Ch 23:31 ) and Solomon (2Ch 2:4 ). This psalm seems to be a basic instruction on the festival. The language and regulations are as solemn as any in the Torah.

81:7 I answered you. The Lord's appearance to Moses on Mount Sinai was God's great revelation of Himself (Ex 19:20 ).

81:9 no strange god. Asaph, the chief musician during David's reign, reviews the goodness of God and His marvelous deliverance of Israel from the land of bondage (Ex 7-12 ). The plagues sent upon Egypt were meant to accomplish a purpose: first, to show to God's people the power of the true God; and second, to demonstrate to the Egyptians the total inability of their false gods. In spite of these dramatic object lessons against idolatry, Israel began worshiping pagan images almost as soon as they left Egypt.

82:6 You are gods. Jesus quoted this verse in His exchange with the religious authorities who wanted to stone Him for declaring Himself to be the Son of God (Jn 10:31–35). The word translated “gods” here is the same word that is used in verse 1. This word (elohim) is used to refer to the one God, to false gods, to angels, or to “mighty ones” (that is, the judges).

83:6 tents of Edom. The place names in this passage refer to nations on the borders of Israel and Judah. The Hagrites may have come from Arabia (1Ch 5:10,19–20).

83:9 Sisera. God’s victory over Sisera was accomplished through Deborah and Barak (Jdg 4–5). The same God who had battled Israel’s enemies in the past would fight all those who might oppose His people in the future.

[83:16 That they may \[persistently\] seek Your name.](#) Asaph’s first call for God to shame Israel’s enemies is redemptive—that the nations might hear, feel shame, repent, and seek the Lord. Yet, if they continued in their wicked path, they would be further confounded and would one day face God in judgment.

84:1 How lovely are Your dwelling places. This psalm celebrates God’s presence in Jerusalem, the city where His temple was built. Today it is not necessary to go to Jerusalem to draw near to God, for God is near to those who trust in His Son (Mt 28:18–20).

84:6 the Valley of Weeping \(Baca\). The “Valley of Weeping” refers to the various difficulties that one might face on a pilgrimage. With God, even times of hardship and sorrow can become times of great joy and blessing.

84:9 Your anointed. The two phrases “our shield” and “Your anointed” both point to the same person, the king of Israel (89:3–4). These anointed kings foreshadowed the coming Messiah—the Anointed One.

84:11 No good thing will He withhold. When we go through times of darkness and difficulty, it sometimes seems that God is not giving us what we need. However, God is far wiser than we can ever be, and He never withholds what is good from us. When it seems that He does, we must assume that what we want would not actually be a good thing for us to have.

[85:1 You have restored \[from Babylon\] the captives.](#) The setting for this psalm appears to be the restoration of the people of God following a great catastrophe—perhaps the Babylonian captivity.

85:2–3 You have forgiven. In all its forms, from hideous to petty, sin alienates people from God and is deserving of His punishment. The wonderful message of the Bible is that God will forgive even the most despicable sinner if that sinner repents and turns from wickedness. God’s forgiveness is not just an arbitrary overlooking of our sin, but a judicial act whereby He applies the penalty paid by His son to our account. Our sins are thus covered by Jesus’ blood, and God considers us righteous.

85:10 Steadfast love and truth and faithfulness meet together. Kindness without truth is hypocrisy, while truth without love and mercy is cruel. Only when the two meet can we experience wholeness and healing.

86:1 Incline Your ear. David’s dramatic phrase captures the grandeur of God on high and his own humble position on the earth below.

86:8 among the gods. The ancient nations took their sense of identity in part from their ties to their supposed gods. When the nations found out that their “gods” did not exist, they would have to acknowledge that the Lord alone is God. Here David envisions other nations worshiping the true God and thus anticipates the missionary thrust of the New Testament (Ps 117:1; Mt 28:18–20).

86:13 You have rescued my life. The cold hand of death knocks at everyone’s door, whether we dwell in a luxury condominium with security guards or a tenement surrounded by urban blight. The good news, however, is that the Lord has not left us at the mercy of death, but has provided for the deliverance of our souls from the depths of the grave. We can face the future confidently, knowing that, when our bodies die, our spirits will be with Christ, and that one day we shall also experience the resurrection of the body by His mighty power (Php 3:20–21).

87:1 His foundation. God Himself established Zion (or Jerusalem) as the center of true worship. He ordained Solomon to build a temple there so that He could live among the Israelites (1Ki 6:13 ). Zion is holy because of God’s declaration (1Ki 11:13 ), His promise, the worship given Him there (1Ki 8:14-66 ), the future work of the Savior there (Mt 21:4-11 ), and the future rule of the King there (Rev 21 ).

87:4 Rahab. Rahab is a symbolic name for Egypt (Isa 30:7 ) that has negative connotations, alluding to the arrogance of the Egyptians. Babylon. Babylon was the proverbial seat of apostasy and idolatry (Ge 10:10 ).

87:5 born in her. Despite their foreign heritage, the people who worshiped God were considered to have been born in Zion. It appears that this is referring to a spiritual birth, foreshadowing Jesus’ teaching about being born again (Jn 3:1-8 ).

88 title Heman. Heman is identified in 1 Kings 4:31 as a gifted wise man, and in 1 Chronicles 15:16-19 as one of the musically gifted Levites who ministered in worship during the time of David.

88:1 God of my salvation. Even in the midst of despair, Heman confesses his faith in God’s saving goodness.

88:3 grave. This is also translated “Sheol,” which is the Hebrew word for “hell.” It is often linked with the term “pit” as a symbol of the end of earthly existence. The Old Testament has very little to say about what happens to a soul after death, but it is clear that to go to Sheol is the end of all we know.

89:1 the goodness and lovingkindness of the LORD . The lovingkindness of the Lord in this psalm centers on the covenant that He made with David, promising him an eternal dynasty (2Sa 7 ).

89:6 divine beings. This phrase may mean “sons of gods” or “heavenly beings.” The reference could be to other supposed gods or to angels, members of the heavenly court (Job 1:6 ).

89:13 a strong arm. God is the great Deliverer; He brandished His arm and hand in delivering His people from Egypt (Ex 6:6 ; 15:6 ).

89:18 the Holy One of Israel. This is the title that Isaiah used to describe God, following his experience of God’s holiness in his memorable vision of God’s throne (Isa 6:1-5 ).

89:29 descendants . . . throne. These words echo the covenant God made with David (2Sa 7:8-17 ).

89:34 My covenant I will not violate. God is determined to complete, fulfill, and accomplish His grand plan for David’s dynasty (2Sa 7:1-24 ).

89:49-51 Which You swore to David. The writer complains that God has not been keeping His promises to David (2Sa 7:1-24 ). As a result, His people are experiencing harsh treatment from their enemies. There is no resolution to this psalm; it ends with the people, the king, and the psalmist in distress. Yet the inclusion of this psalm among the praises of Israel suggests that God did answer this prayer of His people, just as He did in the case of Psalm 60 .

90:1 LORD . This is not God’s personal name (Ex 3:14-15 ), but a Hebrew word celebrating His majestic authority.

90:4 a thousand years . . . like yesterday. A thousand years may seem long at the time, but in comparison with God’s eternal existence, they are nothing.

90:7 Your anger. The unbelieving Israelites in the wilderness experienced God’s anger (Nu 13-14 ). An entire generation spent their lives wandering because of their unbelief and rebellion.

90:10 seventy years . . . eighty years. The point here is not to set a maximum, but to present a context for the brevity of human life. No matter how long people live, death is inevitable.

90:12 Counting Our Days— This prayer of Moses, probably written near the end of his life, gives us some excellent insight into living. We need to seek wisdom, be sober-minded and diligent, and seek to use our time wisely, living in light of the Lord’s commands.

Life is often painful, sometimes very painful but survivable.

We perpetually fall short of God's plan for us.

We are loved by an all-powerful yet merciful God who knows all about us.

The only true satisfaction is in knowing and obeying God.

Serve God to your fullest because your time here on earth is short. Go to Theological Notes Index

90:17 Confirm for us the work of our hands. We need to have a sense of lasting meaning in our lives, something that will continue to the next generation.

91:1 in the shelter. The person who trusts in God is the one who lives close to Him. Most High. This title emphasizes God's majesty and is parallel to the term "Almighty." Together, the terms "most High" and "Almighty" speak of God as a mountain-like majesty.

91:4 pinions . . . wings. Just as chicks take refuge under the wings of the mother hen, so we can take refuge in God's enveloping care.

91:7 A thousand may fall at your side. The Israelites in Egypt were spared the danger that touched their neighbors (Ex 9:26 ; 10:23 ; 11:7 ); similarly, believers in the Lord are protected from Satan's attacks.

91:11 command His angels in regard to you. These words were used by Satan to tempt the Savior (Mt 4:5–6 ).

91:13 lion and cobra. The animal and snake imagery in this verse pictures all kinds of evil that might threaten believers.

91:14 he set his love on Me. The word used here is not the usual Hebrew word for love. It has the idea of "holding close to," or even "hugging tightly in love" (Dt 7:8 ; 10:15 ).

92:6 A senseless man . . . a [self-righteous] fool. A foolish or senseless person is not someone with limited intelligence, but rather a person who is spiritually obtuse—someone who ignores God and refuses to accept responsibility.

92:10 my horn [my emblem of strength and power] You have exalted. This is a figure of speech for the psalmist's eventual triumph, the celebration of the psalmist's strength.

92:12 flourish like the date palm. This promise does not refer to success as the world counts it—the righteous are not often wealthy or powerful—but rather to spiritual success. Those who are committed to following God's ways will be so alive spiritually that even in old age they will appear young and vibrant.

93:1 has clothed and encircled Himself with strength. This language describes the victor of one-on-one combat. God is dressed in the garments of victory.

93:4 The LORD on high is mighty. The Creator King is infinite in power; no force in the universe competes with Him.

94:2 Judge of the earth. Even when the poets call out for divine vengeance, they recognize that God decides when to exercise His wrath and judgment. God's law clearly states that vengeance belongs to Him (Dt 32:35 ).

94:6 kill the widow and the alien. The Israelites had been commanded to comfort widows and orphans and to welcome strangers, as long as those strangers obeyed the law of God (Ex 22:21–22 ).

94:12 Blessed [with wisdom and prosperity] is the man whom You discipline and instruct. The word "blessed" means "happy." Discipline doesn't usually seem to us to be a reason for joy, but we must realize that God's discipline is always for our ultimate good, and thus shows the depth of His love for us (Heb 12:7–11 ).

94:13 the pit is dug for the wicked. "Pit" is one of the words used as a synonym for Sheol (16:10 ). Digging the "pit" is a way of describing the preparations for the final judgment of the wicked (Rev 20:11–15 ).

94:14 the LORD will not abandon His people. God will not forget His people any more than He will forget or deny Himself (2Ti 2:13 ).

94:18 Your compassion and lovingkindness. God's "compassion" or "lovingkindness" refers to His loyal, covenant love.

95:1–7 shout joyfully. Along with others (Ps 96–100 ), this song was probably sung at the dedication of the temple after it was restored by Ezra and Nehemiah. It was a time of great celebration. The hearts of the people were filled with joy as they sang and shouted to God, whom they declared to be the great King above all gods.

95:6 worship . . . bow down . . . kneel. These words amplify each other and call for a reflective, humble approach to God. Worship is joyful and can be done with abandon (v. 1–5 ); but at other times worship may be quiet reverence of the Almighty (Ps 134 ).

95:7–11 For He is our God. This whole section is quoted in Hebrews 3:7–11 , with a notable introduction: "Therefore, just as the Holy Spirit says." This phrase reminds us that the words of the Psalms, which are the response of the worshiping Israelite community, are also the oracles of God.

95:8 Meribah. This word would remind the Israelites of a time when they had doubted the Lord's provision (Ex 17:7 ; Nu 20:13 ).

96:3 all the peoples. This is a bold declaration that one day the message of God's mercy will be known the world over, the fulfillment of God's covenant promise to Abraham that through his descendants all nations of the earth would be blessed (Ge 12:1–3 ).

96:7 O families of the peoples. The allusion to the Abrahamic covenant continues (vv. 2–3 ; Ge 12:1–3 ).

96:10 The LORD reigns. This key phrase was the counter-cultural cry of ancient Israelites in a world that believed that gods could rise and fall. In contrast, the living God remains Ruler for all eternity.

96:11–13 Let the heavens be glad . . . for He is coming. All creation groans under the curse, but when Christ returns, "the creation itself will also be freed from its bondage to decay [and gain entrance] into the glorious freedom of the children of God" (Ro 8:21 ).

97:2 Clouds and thick darkness. These words may be rephrased as "impenetrable clouds," an indicator of the final judgment and God's awesome power (Joel 2:2 ; Zep 1:15 ).

97:7 Worship Him, all you gods. One day, people will be forced to acknowledge that God is the only one worthy of worship, as they see that the very things they devoted themselves to in rejection of God must bow down to the Creator as Lord.

97:10 hate. The righteousness of God evokes a response either of delight or of shame because of sin (Isa 6:5 ). The subjects of the kingdom, the lovers of God, follow Him by loving what He loves and hating what He hates. "The [reverent] fear and worshipful awe of the LORD includes the hatred of evil" (Pr 8:13 ). Sin is portrayed in Scripture as an active and powerful force in unrelenting pursuit of its victims (Ge 4:7 ; 1Pe 5:8 ), and the believer is called to total war against it.

98:1 His right hand. The "right hand" of the Lord is a way of referring to His great salvation of Israel from Egypt (Ex 15:6 ; Dt 4:34 ). The phrase is like a slogan for the Lord's redemption.

98:2 [openly] revealed His righteousness in the sight of the nations. God's salvation was designed to be a witness to the nations (Dt 4:6 ).

98:9 for He is coming. Creation rejoices at the coming of the Lord because when He establishes His kingdom, the curse will be lifted, and all creation will be freed from its slavery to corruption (Ro 8:21–22 ).

99:1 cherubim. Cherubim are the angels most closely related to the glory of God. Two gold cherubim graced the mercy seat of the ark of the covenant (Ex 25:18–22 ).

99:3 name; Holy is He. To be holy is to be "distinct from," "separated," "set apart." This is the principal Hebrew word used to describe the transcendence of God (113:4–6 ).

99:5 His footstool. The footstool of the Lord is sometimes said to be the earth (Isa 66:1 ); but more specifically, Zion is the Lord's footstool (132:7 ; Isa 60:13 ). When the Israelites came to the temple in Jerusalem to worship, they pictured themselves as being at the feet of the Creator.

100:1 Shout joyfully. This command is addressed not just to Israel but to all the earth. The Israelites were to be a people who would attract the nations to worship God.

100:3 the LORD Himself is God. These words reflect the great confession of faith in Dt 6:4–9 .

100:5 the LORD is good. The shout of the goodness of God in this verse is buttressed by an appeal to His lovingkindness and faithfulness. The Hebrew root word for “faithfulness” comes from the word meaning “to be established” or “to be confirmed.” From this word also comes the word “amen,” meaning “surely” or “truly.” God’s goodness is based on His loyal love and His truth.

101:1 lovingkindness and justice. God’s loyal love is coupled with justice. He does not allow sin to go unnoticed or unpunished, either in His children or in those who oppress them.

101:6 My eyes will be on the faithful. David made a covenant with his eyes (Job 31:1 ) to observe the righteous and sustain them in their walk.

102:12 enthroned forever. Our days may be just a passing shadow, but God is King forever. He is gracious, loves His people, and promises to favor them.

102:15 the nations will fear. A time will come when the Lord will rule over all the earth.

102:25 At the beginning. God is eternal and His works are from ancient times. The writer of the Book of Hebrews applies these words of creation and eternality to the Son (vv. 25–27 ; Heb 1:10–12 ).

103:1 Bless and affectionately praise the LORD . To bless the Lord is to remember that He is the source of all our blessings. The psalmist blesses the Lord with his entire being (146:2 ).

103:3 heals all your diseases. This cannot be seen as a promise that the godly will never suffer from disease. Many believers have suffered and died of illnesses, despite repeated prayers for healing. Even though He does not always choose to heal, God is the source of all healing. This verse could also be seen as a parallel construction, coupling pardon from iniquity with healing from the disease of sin.

103:8 merciful and gracious. This is a basic description of God in the Old Testament (86:15 ; Ex 34:6–7 ). If God dealt with us according to our sins, no one could stand before Him (130:3 ).

103:11 as the heavens are high above the earth. There is no way to compare the divine with the mortal; the mercy of God is greater than the heavens.

103:20–22 Bless the LORD . The poet began the psalm with a call to his own inner being to respond with praise to God (v. 1 ); he concludes the psalm with a call to heaven and earth to join him.

104:2 covers Yourself with light. God is Spirit (Jn 4:24 ), and descriptions of Him vary throughout the Bible. One strong description of Him is “light” (1Jn 1:5 ). Here, light is described as the garment that enfolds His wonder. The first act of God in Genesis was the command for light (Ge 1:3 ).

104:5 established the earth on its foundations. The poet retells the story of creation from Genesis 1 .

104:6 covered it with the deep. The term “deep” is the same word used in Genesis 1:2 .

104:9 set a boundary. God promised that never again would the entire earth be covered as in the flood (Ge 8:21–22 ).

104:15 wine . . . oil . . . bread. It is clear that the earth was created for human beings and filled with good things for our sake.

104:19 He made the moon for the seasons. In the ancient world, the heavenly bodies (sun, moon, and stars) were often worshiped as gods. God makes it clear that, far from being objects of worship, these things were created and set in place specifically for humans. The moon is not our god but our servant, set in place to keep track of times and seasons.

104:27 They all wait for You. All creation depends on the Creator for birth, life, and sustenance. Even death is controlled by the Sovereign One.

104:31 May the LORD rejoice and be glad in His works. The Lord considered His creation “good” from the beginning (Ge 1:31), and His pleasure in it remains (Pr 8:30–31).

105:5 Remember [with awe and gratitude] the wonderful things. The psalmist calls to memory what God did for His people in fulfillment of the covenant with Abraham (Ge 12:1–3 ; 22:16–18).

105:8 He has remembered. The words of the original promise to Abraham set out the Lord’s obligation in strong terms (Ge 12:1–3).

105:13–15 wandered . . . rebuked kings for their sakes. The descendants of Abraham have more than once been strangers in a foreign land, but each time the Lord has preserved their identity as a people and has rescued them from destruction. He saved them from the hand of Pharaoh (Exodus), and from the Persians (Esther). Today, the Jews are again scattered, but even though many have forgotten their God, they still do not forget that they are Jews. God’s miraculous preservation of the identity of His people indicates that He is not yet finished with them.

105:17 Joseph. The story of Joseph’s life is told in Genesis 37–50.

105:26–36 He sent Moses. The full story of the Israelites’ slavery in Egypt and the plagues God sent upon the Egyptians is told in Exodus 1–11.

105:44 gave them the lands of the nations. It is believed that this psalm may have been composed after the return from exile in Babylon. A celebration of God’s gift of land would have been a tremendous source of encouragement to the people who had just returned to Israel.

106:6 sinned like our fathers. It is easy to point out the places where people have gone wrong in the past and to marvel at their stupidity and rebellion, but we have to point the finger at ourselves as well.

106:12 Then Israel believed. The people had faithlessly rebelled, but God graciously rescued them anyway, proving that His word is true and worth believing.

106:13 they quickly forgot. Faith which is only active in the face of abundant proof is weak and short-lived.

106:15 He gave them their request. When the people rebelliously kept asking for their own desires, God finally let them have their own way—and also let them take the consequences. We don’t have to fear that we might accidentally pray for something wrong and then receive a bad gift from the Lord. Even when we pray wrongly, if our hearts are turned towards God, He will redirect our desires and teach us the better way (37:4). However, it is sin if we keep praying for something when we already know that He said no, and we may have to bear consequences that we never dreamed of.

106:20 exchanged [the true God who was] their glory. These words are echoed by Paul in Romans 1:22–23.

106:24–25 They did not believe . The Old Testament books of Exodus and Joshua illustrate God’s plan of salvation. The first relates how Israel was brought out of the land of bondage, and the second describes how they were brought into the land of blessing. The wilderness route they traveled was of His choosing, but not the aimless wandering which followed. That sad 40-year episode was a direct result of their sin of unbelief.

106:28 Baal of Peor. After Balaam was prevented from cursing the Israelites, he suggested that the Moabites could destroy the Israelites in another way, by leading them into sin against their God (Nu 25).

106:34 not destroy the [pagan] peoples. If Israel had obeyed and the Canaanites had been driven out, the people might never have succumbed to the idolatry that marked their existence for hundreds of years.

106:45 He remembered His covenant. God's wrath must always be seen in the context of His loyal love and His long forbearance. Even when the people brought down His wrath by their sins, He remained faithful to the covenant.

107:1 His compassion and lovingkindness endure forever. God's "loyal love" or "mercies" will never end. He is always willing to restore those who call on Him.

107:9 He satisfies the parched throat. Only God can fulfill the spiritual longings of the human soul.

107:17 Fools. This harsh word emphasizes moral failure (Pr 1:7 ; 15:5 ). These people deserved the trouble they suffered, yet they too may call upon the Lord, and He will deliver and restore them.

107:33 He turns rivers into a wilderness. During the reign of King Ahab of the Northern Kingdom of Israel, God sentenced the land to three years of drought because of their Baal worship (1Ki 17:1-7 ).

107:43 Who is wise. There is no wisdom apart from centering in on and responding to the love of God. The psalmist exhorts the readers to review God's history of delivering those in trouble and to praise His great love.

108 title A Song. This psalm is actually a medley of two other psalms of David. Verses 1-5 are from 57:7-11 , and verses 6-13 are from 60:5-12 . David is the author of both of these psalms, and 108 is attributed to him as well, even though the arrangement may have been someone else's.

108:7 I will rejoice. The remarkable fact about these words is that they are spoken by God. The Lord has pleasure in delivering His people and giving them victory. He celebrates His deliverance of them.

109:8 let another take his office. These words (along with 69:25 ) are quoted in Acts 1:20 as having been fulfilled in the replacement of Judas Iscariot.

109:9 fatherless . . . a widow. The curses that the psalmist wants to call down on his enemies seem very harsh and unforgiving. It is hard to understand how we should take this kind of language, in the face of Christ's teaching about loving our enemies and doing good to those who hurt us. However, two important points are clear: the psalmist left vengeance in the hands of the Lord, and he also clearly understood the reality of wickedness. We must remember that forgiveness is not saying, "It wasn't really bad." True forgiveness does not pretend that sin did not happen; it recognizes evil, and then releases the desire for vengeance into God's hands. God has promised that He will judge the wicked in the end.

109:27 let them know. Even in the psalmist's intense emotional state, he wants to see the name of God defended, proclaimed, and honored.

110:1 The LORD . "LORD" is the translation of the Hebrew name Yahweh (I AM) and refers to God the Father. According to Jesus' interpretation of the passage (Mt 22:41-45 ; Mk 12:35-37 ; Lk 20:41-44 ), the second Lord is a reference to the Son of God in heaven in the presence of the Father. David himself confesses the Son to be his Lord—that is, his master or sovereign. at My right hand. This position of high honor beside the Father was given to the Savior upon His resurrection and ascension (Ac 2:33-36 ; 1Co 15:20-28 ; Col 3:1 ; Heb 1:13 ). The Savior placing His feet on His foes depicts the utter defeat of the enemies of Christ (1Co 15:25-26 ; Eph 1:22-23 ).

110:4 a priest. God is seen appointing the coming Messiah to be a priest (Heb 7 ). This was a source of confusion for Jews, as demonstrated by the questions that the New Testament Jews had about the Messiah. Some Dead Sea Scrolls give evidence that more than one Messiah was anticipated. According to Scripture, the Messiah would be a descendant of David (Isa 9:7 ), but this prophecy presents Him as a priest. This might seem to be a contradiction because true priests had to be descendants of Aaron, but the Messiah is presented as a priest by divine declaration rather than human descent. Melchizedek. Melchizedek is first mentioned in Genesis 14:18–20. He was a true priest of the Most High God, unrelated to Abraham and living hundreds of years before Aaron. He became a prototype of the Messiah, whose priesthood was not based on connection with the line of Aaron but was by divine decree (Heb 5:5–11 ; 6:20 ; 7:1–28 ).

111:1 Praise the LORD. This translates the Hebrew word hallelujah.

111:9 redemption. The psalmists constantly look back to the exodus, but they also speak of that which was still to come—the redemption of mankind through the Messiah.

111:10 fear of the LORD. The fear of the Lord describes an obedient response of wonder and awe before the Most High God.

112:1 Praise the LORD. Like Psalm 111, this psalm begins with the Hebrew word “hallelujah.” It then picks up where Psalm 111 left off. Blessed. This word, meaning “manifestly happy,” is the same word which begins the Book of Psalms.

112:2 His descendants will be mighty. Compare the blessings of this psalm with the curses placed on the wicked in 109:6–13.

112:9 given freely to the poor. The gracious and compassionate nature of God is also seen in His people, especially in their acts of benevolence toward the poor. The poor are the materially destitute and helpless segments of society—widows, orphans, and aliens—whose rights are more easily violated. Scripture tells us that giving to the poor is lending to the Lord and will be repaid by the Lord (Pr 19:17). To give freely to the poor literally means “to scatter” God’s gifts, which suggests that the poor will be provided for and that abundance will come to the giver as well (2Co 9:8–9). His horn. The horn is a symbol of power. When used for a righteous person, it speaks of prominence and a lasting sense of worth in his or her life.

113:1 Praise the LORD. This psalm of descriptive praise begins and ends with the Hebrew word “hallelujah.” This psalm, along with Psalm 114, is traditionally read before the Passover meal.

113:2 the name of the LORD. In biblical times there was a close association between a person’s name and identity. Praising the name of God centers one’s thoughts on His character.

113:4 high above all nations. Unlike the manmade gods of the ancient Middle East, the Lord is not limited to a certain tribe or territory. Not only is He supreme over all nations, but His glory cannot be contained in the universe.

113:6 humbles Himself. God is not some far distant deity who set the world in motion and then went about His business. Instead, He is deeply involved in the lives of the people He created and loves us so much that He came down from His high position to save us (Php 2:5–9).

113:9 barren woman. In that time and culture, a barren woman was without significance and without joy. The joy of a barren woman who has been given children is a picture of the joy we receive when God stoops down to touch us.

114:1 of Egypt. This psalm recalling the salvation of Israel from Egypt is traditionally read along with Psalm 113 before the Passover meal.

114:2 Judah became His sanctuary. This verse anticipates the New Testament sense of God living among His people (Eze 37:26–27 ; 2Co 6:16–18 ).

115:1 to Your name give glory. This community psalm of praise focuses on the glory of the Lord in the salvation of His people. It is one of the Passover Psalms (115–118 ; 136), traditionally read or sung after the Passover meal.

115:4–8 idols. Like the prophets (Isa 40:18–20 ; Jer 10:1–10), the psalms are derisive toward the idols of the nations.

115:18 Praise the LORD. Many of the Passover Psalms (115–117) conclude with the Hebrew word “hallelujah.”

116:1 I love the LORD. This messianic psalm is one of the Passover psalms (113–118). It was probably recited by Jesus on the night of His arrest, the night He celebrated the Passover with His disciples (Lk 22:15).

116:3 sorrows of death. These words point prophetically to the Savior’s anguish on the cross (Mt 27:27–35).

116:10 I believed . . . I said. This belief is the hope of eternal life articulated in verse 9. Paul quotes this verse (translated “I believed, and therefore have I spoken”) as proof of the scriptural hope of the resurrection (2Co 4:13).

116:13 the cup of salvation. This psalm is traditionally read after the Passover meal, following the third cup of wine, called the cup of salvation. How appropriate that this Passover psalm would call to mind God’s cup of salvation the very night that the Savior was betrayed (Mt 26:27; Lk 22:14–22).

118:1 give thanks. This is the climax of the group of psalms called the Passover psalms. These psalms were probably sung by Jesus on the night before His death.

118:2 His lovingkindness endures forever. This refrain praises God’s loyal, merciful, covenant love throughout the psalm.

118:9 trust in princes. Although relying on other people is part of living, our ultimate trust can only be placed in the Lord God. Even powerful rulers are limited by their own mortality (146:3).

118:13 the LORD helped me. Compare this to Paul’s words in 2 Timothy 4:17–18. Deliverance always comes from God.

118:14 my strength and song. These words are a quotation from “the Song of Moses” (Ex 15:2); they are also quoted in Isaiah 12:2. The God who delivered the Israelites by dividing the waters of the Red Sea was ready to deliver the psalmist from trouble.

[118:19 Open to me the \[temple\] gates of righteousness](#). The poet draws on the wording and imagery of Psalm 24. There is only One who can enter the gates of the Lord of His own accord—Jesus, the perfect King of glory.

118:20 gate of the LORD. The literal reference may be to the gate of Jerusalem, the city of God—or even to a gate of the temple. Jesus declared that He was the gate or door leading to salvation (Jn 10:9).

118:22 the chief corner stone. The potent imagery of this verse depicts Jesus’ rejection by many (Isa 53:3; Mk 8:31; Lk 9:22; 17:25). Jesus elaborated on this prophetic verse with the parable of the vineyard owner. In this parable, the rejection included the murder of the owner’s son—a reference to God’s only Son (Mk 12:1–12). But, even though the Savior was rejected, He was elevated to the right hand of God (Ac 7:56). The cross, the symbol of Jesus’ rejection, has become the symbol of our salvation (1Co 1:18; Heb 12:2).

118:25 save now. These words are familiar to us in the transliteration of the Hebrew word “hosanna.” The words are so significant that, if the people had not shouted them aloud (Mt 21:16) when Jesus entered Jerusalem, the stones would have had to shout them (Lk 19:40).

118:26 Blessed is the one who comes. These are the very words that the people used to bless Jesus as He rode into Jerusalem the week before the Passover (Mt 21:9; Mk 11:9; Lk 19:38).

119:1 blessed . . . are those whose way is blameless. This very lengthy poem is an acrostic. For each of the 22 consonants in the Hebrew alphabet, there are eight verses beginning with that letter. Within the psalm, eight words for God's law occur again and again: law, testimonies, promise, precepts, statutes, commandments, judgments, word. These words elaborate the application of the law of God to daily life and to Israel's destiny. the law . . . of the LORD. The Hebrew word torah, translated "law," basically means "instruction" or "direction." Broadly, it refers to all God's instructions from Moses to the prophets. More strictly, it refers to the first five books of the Old Testament. The law was never designed as a means of salvation; no one could be saved by keeping it. Instead, the law was the means for the Israelites to learn how to live as God's holy people. The psalmists consistently describe the law of God as a great blessing, for it was God's gracious revelation to His people for their own good (Dt 6:1–3). In the law, God mercifully pointed out the right path to follow. Only mistaken legalistic interpretations of the law prompted the negative statements in the New Testament.

119:9–11 Your word. The Lord designs that His Word should bring purity (v. 9), security (v. 23), freedom (v. 45), hope (v. 49), life (v. 50), light (v. 105), and peace (v. 165).

119:9 God's Word Cleanses— One of the pieces of furniture in the Old Testament tabernacle was called the bronze laver (Ex 38:8). It was a huge upright bronze bowl filled with water, resting upon a pedestal. The priests would often stop at this laver to perform their ritualistic cleansings. The Word of God is like this laver. Only the Word can remove the filth and dirt from our hearts (1Pe 1:22) just as the bronze laver removed the physical impurities from the priests.

How can the Bible cleanse us? It can cleanse us from wrong thoughts (Ps 19:12; Ps 51:10; Php 4:8–9). It can help eliminate fear (Jdg 1:9). It can cleanse us from wrong actions (1Jn 1:9). Jesus directly promises all this: "You are already clean because of the word which I have given you" (Jn 15:3). Go to Theological Notes Index

119:11 Memorizing Scripture— The Bible recognizes the importance of Scripture memorization. By memorizing the Word, we have access to it no matter where we are or what our circumstances. The following benefits can be cited:

It keeps us from sinning (Ps 119:11).

It provides comfort in times of trouble (Ps 119:52, 92).

It provides daily sustenance for the spiritual life (Dt 8:3).

It provides continual and ready guidance in all the situations of life (Pr 6:20–23).

It provides the basis for formal and informal instruction of your children (Dt 6:6–7). Go to Theological Notes Index

119:16 statutes. The Hebrew word translated "statutes" refers to something marked out as a boundary, something inscribed or engraved. Hence the word speaks of the permanence of the law, which God Himself had engraved in stone (Ex 24:12). The same word is often translated "decree" (2:7).

119:22 testimonies. The Hebrew word translated "testimonies" is derived from the verb meaning "to witness" or "to testify." It refers to the Ten Commandments, called the "two tablets of the testimony" (Ex 31:18). The commandments were a testimony because they were a witness to the Israelites of their faithfulness or unfaithfulness to the covenant (Dt 31:26).

119:37 Your ways. The will of God is like a path leading to life; His ways are a reflection of His good character.

119:45 at liberty. Many think of laws, instructions, and commandments as limiting and restricting, but the law of God paradoxically frees us. It frees us from sin (v. 133) and gives us the peace that comes from following the Lord's instructions (v. 165).

119:56 precepts. This Hebrew word means "an appointed thing," "something for which one is given charge." The word has the same idea as "commandment" for both words assume that the One who commands has the authority to "take charge" or "appoint" (v. 4).

119:70 delight. This is not the delight of a passive observer, but the delight of a disciple who has staked his life and security on a cause or principle.

119:82 Your promise. The Hebrew term for “promise” is derived from the verb “to say.” The term is a general word for God’s law, encompassing everything that the Lord has promised and spoken.

119:97 how I love Your law. Fundamentally, the psalmist’s attraction to the law is the result of his love for God Himself, his Teacher (vv. 102, 132).

119:105 a light to my path. God’s word is a guide for everyday living.

119:127 commandments. This word alludes to God’s authority to govern His people. The commandments of God help believers to find their way in a world that is filled with confusion, sin, and error.

119:136 streams of waters. One of the earmarks of a true believer is the remorse and sorrow that is felt when the person sins and fails to keep God’s law.

119:149 renew and refresh. With these words, the psalmist begs God to transform him, to breathe new life back into his soul. The psalmist does not want his obedience to be mechanical; he asks for a renewed spirit. The basis for his plea is God’s covenantal love and His just nature.

119:159 lovingkindness. The “lovingkindness” of God is a recurring theme in the Book of Psalms, describing His loyal, covenant love and merciful care of His people.

119:162 rejoice. Jesus also described the “kingdom of God” as a great treasure, one so valuable that it would be worth selling everything one had in order to possess it (Mt 13:44–46).

119:176 like a lost sheep. Jesus, the Messiah, described Himself as the Good Shepherd who would lay down His own life in order to protect and rescue His sheep (Jn 10:11). He affirmed that God does indeed seek lost sinners in order to bring them to Himself (Lk 15:3–7).

120:1 In my trouble I cried. This psalm is the first of a group of psalms called the Songs of Ascent (120–134). This group of hymns was probably used by pilgrims making their way to Jerusalem to worship the Lord during the three annual feasts—Passover, Pentecost, and Tabernacles (Lev 23). Since Jerusalem is on a high hill, a traveler always goes “up” to Jerusalem; hence the term “songs of ascent.”

120:5 Meshech . . . Kedar. These seem to be examples of the pagan peoples among whom the psalmist had to live.

121:1 my eyes to the hills. This Song of Ascent (see Ps 120) dramatically pictures a traveler approaching the city of Jerusalem.

121:2 from the LORD . As comforting as the sight of the holy city would be to a pilgrim, the psalmist emphasizes the real reason for rejoicing: God’s tender care for His people. Who made. We might have expected the psalmist to emphasize God as a loving heavenly Father or a tender and compassionate Savior, but instead he ascribes our everlasting safety to the God of creation. God owns the world because He made it; nothing that happens is beyond Him.

121:6 Nor the moon by night. There is never a time when the Lord is “off duty” and does not see what is happening to His people.

122:1 I was glad. This third Song of Ascent (see Ps 120) describes the joy of the pilgrim on arriving at Jerusalem to worship God.

122:4 the [twelve] tribes go up. This refers to the three annual feasts of ancient Israel (Lev 23), as well as to any time that an individual or family needed to worship the Lord in the holy city.

122:5 thrones of judgment. Jerusalem was not only the central place for worship, it was also the site where civil judgments and decisions were made. Religious and civil issues were closely intertwined in the law of God.

122:6 the peace of Jerusalem. True peace will only come when the Prince of Peace returns to establish His rule (Ps 98:5–6; Rev 21:9–27)

123:2 as the eyes of servants. Good servants keep watch over their masters, anticipating their wants and keeping themselves in constant readiness to obey orders. In the same way, we should keep ourselves focused on pleasing God. The more we look at Him, the more we become like Him (2Co 3:18 ).

124:1 the LORD who was on our side. It is because God is “on our side” that He sent His Son to save the world (Jn 3:16 ).

124:6 Blessed be the LORD . To bless God is to identify Him as the source of our blessings (103:2 ).

125:2 the mountains surround Jerusalem. Jerusalem is built on one of seven mountain peaks in the region. The mountains provided some protection for the city, since any invading army would have to march through difficult terrain to reach the city.

126:1 brought back the captives. This seventh Song of Ascent (see Ps 120 ) comes from the time of the restoration of Jerusalem, following the Babylonian captivity.

126:4 Restore our captivity. The people who returned were a small percentage of those who had been exiled; the people still prayed that God would complete the restoration of His people to their land.

127:1 Unless the LORD . This psalm, the eighth Song of Ascent (see Ps 120 ), is one of only two psalms attributed to Solomon (see Ps 72 ).

127:2 bread of anxious labors. This phrase captures the essence of those removed from a sense of the Lord in their lives. The food that should give them strength for life and a zest for living only maintains their miserable state.

127:5 at the [city] gate. The gate was the place where the elders of the city met and where citizens would convene (Ru 4:1-12 ).

128:1 Blessed. This word describes the happiness of those who trust in the Lord and do His will (127:5 ). fears. The fear of God is an attitude of respect, a response of reverence and wonder. It is the only appropriate response to our Creator and Redeemer.

128:2 the fruit of [the labor of] your hands. There is a reward in work and a satisfaction in labor that is a blessing of God (Ecc 3:9-13 ).

129:1-4 Many times. The psalm begins with a liturgy of suffering, as the people of God acknowledge that throughout their history in the land they have been under constant assault by various peoples.

129:6 grass on the housetops. Sod was sometimes used on the roofs of the houses. After a spring rain, there might be grass growing on the housetop, but this was not grass that flourished; it lacked roots and soon withered under the summer heat.

130:1 Out of the depths. The placement of this penitential psalm is fitting. We must not be so interested in the destruction of the wicked (Ps 129 ) that we fail to understand our own heart before the Lord.

130:3 sins. Does the Lord keep a record of our sins? The answer is both yes and no. At the end of all things, Christ will sit on the judgment seat, the books will be opened, and everyone will be judged according to the actual record (Rev 20:11-15 ). However, if we cry to Him for mercy now in this life, we shall find forgiveness. Then the record of our sins will be cast away into the depth of God’s forgetfulness. They are covered by the blood of Jesus.

130:4 forgiveness . . . That You may be feared. God’s provision for forgiveness is not to be taken lightly (Ro 6:1-2 ). The truly forgiven sinner realizes the magnitude of God’s grace, remains grateful for Jesus’ sacrifice for sins, and lives in the fear or awe of God (Ps 128 ).

130:8 He will redeem. God had redeemed the people from slavery in Egypt; the psalmist also looked forward to the time when He would redeem the people from slavery to their own sinful natures, through the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ (Gal 3:13 ).

131:1 my heart is not proud. David presents himself with genuine humility, a delicate balance between self-abasement and arrogant pride. From the life of David, we know that he was not always able to keep this balance. But it was his desire, and at times—by God’s grace—a reality in his life.

131:2 Like a weaned child. A weaned child is comforted just by the presence of his mother, without crying for the more tangible comfort of milk as a younger baby does.

132:1 remember. This psalm was one of the 15 Songs of Ascent sung by pilgrims as they approached the holy city to worship. Each year, as they marched and sang, they anticipated that perhaps this was the year that this prophecy would be fulfilled. David’s . . . hardship and affliction. If this psalm was written during the period after the exile, these words have a significant meaning. During the years between the return of the people to Jerusalem and the birth of Jesus, there would have been a growing desire on the part of godly people for the Lord to restore David’s kingdom in fulfillment of His promise.

132:6 Ephrathah. This name refers to the region of Bethlehem (Ru 1:2 ).

132:12 sit upon your throne forever. The ultimate fulfillment of God’s covenant with David (2Sa 7:8–16 ) is in Jesus Christ, the Son of David (Lk 1:32–33 ; Ac 2:30 ).

132:16 joy. God’s presence is a source of joy to the upright. God had chosen Zion as His resting place, and His godly ones shouted “aloud for joy.” When God rules on the throne of the human spirit, joy reigns within.

132:17 horn . . . lamp. The words “horn” and “lamp” speak of the Messiah’s authority and righteousness (Isa 11:1–5 ).

133:3 the dew of [Mount] Hermon. This high mountain to the north of Israel received such large amounts of water that it seemed to be a source of moisture for the lands below.

134:1 all servants of the LORD . This psalm concludes the Songs of Ascent. The people who had come to worship at the temple were getting ready to go home, but the priests would remain at the holy temple, continuing to lift up worship to the Lord.

135:8 the firstborn of Egypt. The defeat of Egypt was solely the work of the Lord. Israel was merely His instrument; the battle belonged to Him (Ex 12:12 ; 15:3 ).

135:15 idols of the nations. The people who returned from Babylon had had their fill of the worship of idols; at long last, the people of Israel were ready to worship the only true God.

135:19 bless and praise the LORD . To bless the Lord is to identify Him as the source of all blessings and to be grateful for all that He has given.

136:1 mercy. This word, also translated “lovingkindness” or “loyal love,” is the most significant term used in the Psalms to describe the character of God. His love is forever; it is part of His eternal character.

136:4–9 great wonders. God’s creation of the universe is the grand display of His wisdom. The heavens give a clear presentation of the glory of God (19:1–6 ). Romans 1:20 teaches that God’s “invisible attributes” are clearly seen through the things He has made.

136:23 remembered us. It is possible that these words suggest the return of the people of Judah and Jerusalem to their land following the Babylonian captivity.

137:1 Babylon. Babylon was one of the great empires in world history. When this psalm was written, the Jews were living there in exile.

137:5 If I forget you. The love of the people for Jerusalem was not just for the place, but for its function in their lives. The place was holy because it was the dwelling place of God and the place of worship and sacrifice for sins.

137:9 How blessed will be. The idea of rejoicing and happiness at the violence depicted here is hard to swallow. Like some of the other difficult stories recorded in Scripture (see the Book of Judges ), this imprecatory psalm is included with no comments about how God viewed the psalmist’s emotion. Elsewhere in Scripture, we receive strict commands condemning taking vengeance into our own hands (Ro 12:19–21 ), rejoicing when others suffer (Ob 12 ), and refusing to forgive (Mt 5:43–45 ; 6:14–15 ). However, none of these passages are saying that we should pretend that evil doesn't exist. This psalmist's violent reaction to evil should remind us of how seriously God takes sin. He will not allow wickedness to go unpunished.

138:1 before the [pagan] gods. David is so confident in his faith in the Lord that he is determined to take the name of God into foreign territory.

138:2 Your holy temple. The use of the word "temple" does not rule out David as the author of this or similar poems (15:1 ). The Hebrew term is a general one that would fit whatever building was in use in David's day.

138:6 the lowly. When man is boastful and conceited before God, he separates himself from God. Yet God bends with a special concern toward those who are humble before Him.

138:8 lovingkindness . . . endures forever. God's loyal covenant love will never be rescinded or forgotten.

139:5 You have enclosed me behind and before. The purpose of God's intimate knowledge of His servants is protective and helpful, not judgmental and condemning.

139:7–12 You are there. The believer can rejoice and rest in the knowledge that God is present in every place and every situation in life.

139:12 Darkness and light are alike to you. God can see what is happening to us even under cover of darkness. Nothing can conceal His people from Him.

139:14 God's Omnipotence— He is the God who knows. He knows everything that has happened and will happen. He understands all of nature perfectly. In fact He knows everything there is to know. God knows so much that it would be impossible to overstate what He knows. The proper theological term for this attribute of God is omniscience.

God knows all of our thoughts, motives, and deeds. God knows us better than we know ourselves. We are all uneasy with the fact that God knows us so well. Like Adam and Eve, we fear the exposure of our sin.

There is, however, great reason to rejoice in the fact that God knows us so well. He loves us in spite of what He knows about us; in the middle of our sin He still loves us. He knows the worst things there are to know about us and still wants to save us. He also knows the best things about us. When everyone else misunderstands us, He understands us fully. Finally, God knows what we will be. He has a marvelous end in mind that should give us great comfort no matter what our present state. Go to Theological Notes Index

139:16 in Your book. The idea is that all human beings, and the structure and meaning of each person's life, are all established from the beginning by God.

139:23 Search me [thoroughly], O God. It is only when we are aware of our sins that we can repent of them and be healed.

140:6 You are my God. David confessed his complete trust in the Lord even though he was surrounded by people plotting his destruction. On the basis of his trust, he pled with the Lord to deliver him.

140:10 Let burning coals fall. David recalls the judgment of Sodom and Gomorrah (Ge 19:12–29 ) and asks God to once again judge the enemies of the righteous.

140:12 justice for the poor. The cause of the poor and afflicted is of special interest to the Lord. He promises to uphold and comfort them (41:1 ; 72:4 ; 109:31 ; Lk 4:18 ; 6:20 ).

141:2 as incense. The prayers of God's people are also compared to incense in Revelation 8:3–4 .

141:3 Set a guard . . . over my mouth. David recognized how terribly easy it is to sin in what we say (Pr 30:32–33 ; Jas 3:1–12 ).

141:5 Let the righteous [thoughtfully] strike (correct) me—it is a kindness. The rebuke of a righteous person, even if it is painful at the time, is designed to bring about good. Sometimes being "nice" isn't really the kindest thing we can do for someone.

141:8 my eyes are toward You. If we focus on the strength of wickedness, we will be overcome with fear. If we focus on ourselves, we will become absorbed in our difficulties or exalt ourselves in our victories. Only when we focus on God can we achieve balance and health.

142 title when he was in the cave. This may refer to one of two occasions when David hid from King Saul in a cave: at En Gedi (57 ; 1Sa 24 ), and at Adullam (1Sa 22:1 ).

142:5 You are my refuge. Sometimes God allows us to go through times when we have no one at our right hand, “no one who has regard for me,” just so that we will be very aware of our need for God.

143:2 no man living is righteous or justified. This is not so much a confession as an observation that everyone is sinful.

143:3 in dark places. To live in dark places is similar to being in the pit (v. Z); this is the reason for the parallel to those who are already dead (Job 10:21–22 ).

143:11 for Your name's sake. The requests of the psalmists are often tied to various character traits of God. When we pray “in Jesus name,” we pray both in the authority of His name and in the character it represents.

144:4 like a shadow. Human life apart from God is presented in the darkest terms by the Word of God. Briefly stated, it is short and full of trouble (Job 14:1 ), uncertain (Lk 12:16–20 ), and empty (Ecc 1:2 ). In contrast, Paul the apostle describes the life of the redeemed as being like a victorious soldier, a winning athlete, a successful farmer, a diligent student, and a useable vessel (2Ti 2 ). The redeemed life is marked by peace and purpose now, and eternity with Christ later.

144:11 hand of falsehood. The principal lie of the enemy was that the Lord could not save His people (Isa 36:18–20 ).

144:15 How blessed. The blessing that David describes refers both to external well-being and to internal peace.

145:8 gracious and full of compassion. In contrast to the popular image of God as stern and critical, God is full of compassion for erring humans—so much so that He sent His own Son to redeem them (Jn 3:16 ).

145:13 an everlasting kingdom. The rule of God is eternal, and the message of His wonders needs to be delivered to all people in the present time.

145:17 righteous . . . gracious and kind. The pairing of these terms is a powerful description of the character of God. Righteousness alone would lead to our destruction because of our sin, but God is also kind and gracious and has arranged a way for us to be saved.

146:3 in princes. Even the best of people are not adequate help in times of terrible stress.

146:5 hope. Most men are aware that there is more in life than they are getting out of it. They try many things to satisfy their desire for a fuller life. But like Solomon, who gives his testimony in the Book of Ecclesiastes, they find that “things” do not satisfy. Blessedness, or fullness of life, comes to those who have a relationship with God and hope of eternal life with Him.

146:10 reign forever. God’s reign is both present and eternal.

147:2 building up Jerusalem. The few people who had returned from captivity faced an immense task. They needed to remember that the work was God’s and He would see that it was accomplished.

147:3 heals the brokenhearted. God’s principle work is always within the human heart (51:10–12 ).

147:6 lifts up the humble. God’s greatness may be approached only by the humble (Jas 4:6 ).

147:9 beast its food. Jesus describes God’s care as extending even to sparrows (Mt 10:29 ).

147:10 He does not delight. The joy that God finds in His “very good” creation (Ge 1 ) does not compare with the delight that He takes in humans whose hearts are turned to Him.

147:19 His word. God’s word goes throughout His creation, causing snow, frost, hail, wind, and every other aspect of weather to obey His command. He has also given His Word to His people. Will we obey as the wind does, or will we be the only element of creation that is unresponsive to Him?

148:5 He commanded and they were created. The reality of God as Creator of the universe is the basis of His claim on our lives.

148:14 a people near to Him. When we consider the meaning of God's holiness (99:1 ; Isa 6:3 ) and the reality of His power, the marvel that He approaches us to mercifully provide for us becomes overwhelming.

149:1 in the congregation. One of the primary emphases in the Book of Psalms is that the praise of God is to take place in the center of the worshiping community. Praise unites the people of God (33:1–3 ).

149:5 the godly ones. This term refers to those who demonstrate in their lives the characteristics of the God whom they serve.

149:6 two-edged sword. The focus of the psalm switches from the congregation at worship to the army in training. Israel's army was to be the vanguard for the battle of the Lord. Their training was to have a strong component of praise and worship to God.

150:1 Praise the LORD . This psalm is a development of the Hebrew word "hallelujah," meaning "praise the Lord." Praise— To praise God is to acknowledge who He is in all His glory. While thanksgiving is given to acknowledge what God has done, praise is given to declare who God is. Here are some facts about praise:

God alone is worthy of our praise ( Ps 18:3; 113:3 ).

It is His will for us to praise Him ( Ps 50:23 ).

Praise should be continuous ( Ps 34:1; 71:6 ) and also public ( Ps 22:25 ).

We are to praise God for His holiness ( 2Ch 20:21 ), grace ( Eph 1:6 ), goodness ( Ps 135:3 ), and kindness ( Ps 138:2 ).

All nature praises God ( Ps 148 ).

The sun, moon, and stars praise Him ( Ps 19:1 ).

The angels praise Him ( Ps 148:2 ). Go to Theological Notes Index

150:6 everything that has breath. The very breath that God gives us should be used to praise Him. As long as we live we should praise our Creator (146:1–2 ). By His breath God created all things (33:6 ), and by our breath we should adore Him. The Book of Psalms begins with God's blessing on the righteous (1:1 ) and concludes with all of creation blessing its loving Creator.

The Proverbs

- AUTHOR: Solomon's name appears at the beginning of the three sections that he wrote: 1–9 ; 10:1–22:16 ; and 25–29 . Only about 800 of the more than 3000 proverbs attributed to Solomon are recorded here. It is likely that Solomon collected and edited proverbs other than his own. The collection of Solomonic proverbs in chapters 25–29 was assembled by the scribes of King Hezekiah. Some of the sayings in Proverbs are quite similar to those found in The Wisdom of Amenemope , a document of teachings on civil service by an Egyptian who probably lived between 1000 BC and 600 BC.
- TIMES: c. 950–700 BC
- KEY VERSES: Pr 3:5–6
- THEME: The Proverbs are part of what is commonly called the wisdom literature of the Bible. Each society needs a way to pass on what it understands to be the best way to live to succeeding generations. Biblical wisdom literature provided that means for the Jewish community. The Proverbs contain nuggets of truth that endure not only in the Jewish culture, but also make sense today. It contains basic wisdom on how to deal with the most common everyday issues that we face. Transcending personality and culture, the simple truth is that if people followed the advice of Proverbs, many of their problems would be reduced dramatically.

Proverbs 1

The Usefulness of Proverbs

<sup>1</sup> THE PROVERBS (truths obscurely expressed, maxims) of Solomon son of David, king of Israel: ‡ The Wise Man According to Proverbs: An Outline

- <sup>2</sup>. To know [skillful and godly] wisdom and instruction;
To discern and comprehend the words of understanding and insight,
- <sup>3</sup>. To receive instruction in wise behavior and the discipline of wise thoughtfulness, Righteousness, justice, and integrity;
- <sup>4</sup>. That prudence (good judgment, astute common sense) may be given to the naive or inexperienced [who are easily misled],
And knowledge and discretion (intelligent discernment) to the youth,
- <sup>5</sup> The wise will hear and increase their learning, ‡
And the person of understanding will acquire wise counsel and the skill [to steer his course wisely and lead others to the truth],  [Prov 9:9 ]
- <sup>6</sup> To understand a proverb and a figure [of speech] or an enigma with its interpretation, ‡
And the words of the wise and their riddles [that require reflection].
- <sup>7</sup>. The [reverent] fear of the LORD [that is, worshiping Him and regarding Him as truly awesome] is the beginning and the preeminent part of knowledge [its starting point and its essence]; ‡
*But arrogant fools despise [skillful and godly] wisdom and instruction and self-discipline.*  [Ps 111:10 ]

The Enticement of Sinners

<sup>8</sup> My son, hear the instruction of your father, ‡
And do not reject the teaching of your mother.
<sup>9</sup> For they are a garland of grace on your head,
And chains and ornaments [of gold] around your neck.
<sup>10</sup> My son, if sinners entice you, ‡
Do not consent.  [Ps 1:1 ; Eph 5:11 ]
<sup>11</sup> If they say, “Come with us; ‡
Let us lie in wait to shed blood,
Let us ambush the innocent without cause; <sup>12</sup> Let us swallow them alive like Sheol (the place of the dead), ‡
Even whole, as those who go down to the pit [of death];
<sup>13</sup> We will find and take all kinds of precious possessions,
We will fill our houses with spoil;
<sup>14</sup> Throw in your lot with us [they insist];
We will all have one money bag [in common],”
<sup>15</sup> My son, do not walk on the road with them; ‡
Keep your foot [far] away from their path,
<sup>16</sup> For their feet run to evil, ‡
And they hurry to shed blood.
<sup>17</sup> Indeed, it is useless to spread the baited net
In the sight of any bird;
<sup>18</sup> But [when these people set a trap for others] they lie in wait for their own blood;
They set an ambush for their own lives [and rush to their destruction].
<sup>19</sup> So are the ways of everyone who is greedy for gain; ‡
Greed takes away the lives of its possessors.  [Prov 15:27 ;
1 Tim 6:10 ]

Wisdom Warns

<sup>20</sup> Wisdom shouts in the street, ‡
She raises her voice in the markets;
<sup>21</sup> She calls out at the head of the noisy streets [where large crowds gather];
At the entrance of the city gates she speaks her words:

22 “How long, O naive ones [you who are easily misled], will you love being simple-minded and undiscerning?

How long will scoffers [who ridicule and deride] delight in scoffing,

How long will fools [who obstinately mock truth] hate knowledge?

23 “If you will turn and pay attention to my rebuke,‡

Behold, I [Wisdom] will pour out my spirit on you;

I will make my words known to you.  [Is 11:2; Eph 1:17–20 ]

24 “Because I called and you refused [to answer],‡

I stretched out my hand and no one has paid attention [to my offer];  [Is 65:11, 12; 66:4; Jer 7:13, 14; Zech 7:11–13 ]

25 And you treated all my counsel as nothing‡

And would not accept my reprimand,

26 I also will laugh at your disaster;‡

I will mock when your dread and panic come,

27 When your dread and panic come like a storm,‡

And your disaster comes like a whirlwind,

When anxiety and distress come upon you [as retribution].

28 “Then they will call upon me (Wisdom), but I will not answer;‡

They will seek me eagerly but they will not find me,  [Job 27:9; 35:12, 13; Is 1:15, 16; Jer 11:11; Mic 3:4; James 4:3 ]

29 Because they hated knowledge‡

And did not choose the fear of the LORD [that is, obeying Him with reverence and awe-filled respect],  [Prov 8:13 ]

30 They would not accept my counsel,‡

And they spurned all my rebuke.

31 “Therefore they shall eat of the fruit of their own [wicked] way‡

And be satiated with [the penalty of] their own devices.

32 “For the turning away of the naive will kill them,

And the careless ease of [self-righteous] fools will destroy them.  [Is 32:6 ] 33 “But whoever listens to me (Wisdom) will live securely and in confident trust ‡

And will be at ease, without fear or dread of evil."

Proverbs 2

The Pursuit of Wisdom Brings Security

<sup>1</sup> MY SON, if you will receive my words ‡
And treasure my commandments within you,
<sup>2</sup> So that your ear is attentive to [skillful and godly] wisdom,
And apply your heart to understanding [seeking it conscientiously and striving for it eagerly];
<sup>3</sup> Yes, if you cry out for insight,
And lift up your voice for understanding;
<sup>4</sup> If you seek skillful and godly wisdom as you would silver ‡
And search for her as you would hidden treasures;
<sup>5</sup> Then you will understand the [reverent] fear of the LORD
[that is, worshiping Him and regarding Him as truly awesome]
And discover the knowledge of God.  [Prov 1:7 ]
<sup>6</sup> For the LORD gives [skillful and godly] wisdom; ‡
From His mouth come knowledge and understanding.
<sup>7</sup> He stores away sound wisdom for the righteous [those who are in right standing with Him]; ‡
He is a shield to those who walk in integrity [those of honorable character and moral courage],
And He preserves the way of His saints (believers).  [1 Sam 2:9; Ps 66:8, 9 ] <sup>9</sup> Then you will understand righteousness and justice [in every circumstance]
And integrity and every good path.
<sup>10</sup> For [skillful and godly] wisdom will enter your heart
And knowledge will be pleasant to your soul.
<sup>11</sup> Discretion will watch over you, ‡
Understanding and discernment will guard you,
<sup>12</sup> To keep you from the way of evil and the evil man,
From the man who speaks perverse things;

<sup>13</sup> From those who leave the paths of uprightness ‡
To walk in the ways of darkness;

<sup>14</sup> Who find joy in doing evil ‡
And delight in the perversity of evil,

<sup>15</sup> Whose paths are crooked, ‡
And who are devious in their ways;

<sup>16</sup> To keep you from the immoral woman; ‡
From the seductress with her flattering words,  [Prov 2:11 ]

<sup>17</sup> Who leaves the companion (husband) of her youth, ‡
And forgets the covenant of her God.

<sup>18</sup> For her house leads down to death ‡
And her paths lead to the dead;

<sup>19</sup> None who go to her return again,
Nor do they regain the paths of life—

<sup>20</sup> So you will walk in the way of good men [that is, those of personal integrity, moral courage and honorable character],
And keep to the paths of the righteous.

<sup>21</sup> For the upright [those who are in right standing with God] will live in the land ‡
And those [of integrity] who are blameless [in God's sight] will remain in it;

<sup>22</sup> But the wicked will be cut off from the land ‡
And the treacherous shall be [forcibly] uprooted and removed from it.

Proverbs 3

The Rewards of Wisdom

<sup>1</sup> MY SON, do not forget my teaching, ‡
But let your heart keep my commandments;

<sup>2</sup> For length of days and years of life [worth living] ‡
And tranquility and prosperity [the wholeness of life's blessings] they will add to you.

<sup>3</sup> Do not let mercy and kindness and truth leave you [instead let these qualities define you]; ‡

Bind them [securely] around your neck,
Write them on the tablet of your heart.  [Col 3:9–12 ]

<sup>4</sup> So find favor and high esteem ‡
In the sight of God and man.  [Luke 2:52 ]

‡

And do not rely on your own insight or understanding.

<sup>6</sup> In all your ways know and acknowledge and recognize Him, ‡
And He will make your paths straight and smooth [removing obstacles that block your way].

<sup>7</sup> Do not be wise in your own eyes; ‡
Fear the LORD [with reverent awe and obedience] and turn [entirely] away from evil.  [Prov 8:13 ]

<sup>8</sup> It will be health to your body [your marrow, your nerves, your sinews, your muscles—all your inner parts] ‡
And refreshment (physical well-being) to your bones.

And with the first fruits of all your crops (income);  [Deut 26:2 ; Mal 3:10 ; Luke 14:13 , 14 ]

<sup>10</sup> Then your barns will be abundantly filled ‡
And your vats will overflow with new wine.  [Deut 28:8 ]

<sup>11</sup>. My son, do not reject or take lightly the discipline of the LORD [learn from your mistakes and the testing that comes from His correction through discipline]; ‡

Nor despise His rebuke,  [Ps 94:12 ; Heb 12:5 , 6 ; Rev 3:19 ]

<sup>12</sup> For those whom the LORD loves He corrects, ‡
Even as a father corrects the son in whom he delights.

man who finds [skillful and godly] wisdom, ‡
And the man who gains understanding and insight [learning from God's word and life's experiences],

<sup>14</sup> For wisdom's profit is better than the profit of silver, ‡
And her gain is better than fine gold.

And nothing you can wish for compares with her [in value].  [Job 28:12–18 ]

<sup>17</sup> Her ways are highways of pleasantness and favor, ‡
And all her paths are peace.

<sup>18</sup> She is a tree of life to those who take hold of her, ‡
And happy [blessed, considered fortunate, to be admired] is everyone who holds her tightly.

<sup>19</sup> The LORD by His wisdom has founded the earth; ‡
By His understanding He has established the heavens.  [Col 1:16 ]

<sup>20</sup> By His knowledge the deeps were broken up ‡
And the clouds drip with dew.

<sup>21</sup> My son, let them not escape from your sight,
But keep sound wisdom and discretion,

<sup>22</sup> And they will be life to your soul (your inner self) ‡
And a gracious adornment to your neck (your outer self).

And your foot will not stumble.  [Ps 91:11, 12; Prov 10:9 ]

<sup>24</sup> When you lie down, you will not be afraid;
When you lie down, your sleep will be sweet.

Nor of the storm of the wicked when it comes [since you will be blameless];

<sup>26</sup> For the LORD will be your confidence, firm and strong,
And will keep your foot from being caught [in a trap].

<sup>27</sup> Do not withhold good from those to whom it is due [its rightful recipients], ‡

When it is in your power to do it.  [Rom 13:7; Gal 6:10 ]

<sup>28</sup> Do not say to your neighbor, “Go, and come back, ‡
And tomorrow I will give it,”

When you have it with you.  [Lev 19:13; Deut 24:15 ]

<sup>29</sup> Do not devise evil against your neighbor,
Who lives securely beside you.

If he has done you no harm.  [Rom 12:18 ]

But His private counsel is with the upright [those with spiritual integrity and moral courage].  [Ps 25:14 ]

But He blesses the home of the just and righteous.  [Ps 37:22 ;
Zech 5:4 ; Mal 2:2 ]

Yet He gives His grace [His undeserved favor] to the humble
[those who give up self-importance].  [James 4:6 ;
1 Pet 5:5 ]

<sup>35</sup> The wise will inherit honor and glory,
But dishonor and shame is conferred on fools.  [Is 32:6 ]

Proverbs 4

A Father's Instruction

<sup>1</sup> HEAR, O children, the instruction of a father, ‡
And pay attention [and be willing to learn] so that you may gain understanding and intelligent discernment.

Do not turn away from my instruction.

Tender and the only son in the sight of my mother (Bathsheba),

<sup>4</sup> He taught me and said to me, ‡
“Let your heart hold fast my words;
Keep my commandments and live.  [1 Chr 28:9 ; Eph 6:4 ]

<sup>5</sup> “Get [skillful and godly] wisdom! Acquire understanding [actively seek spiritual discernment, mature comprehension, and logical interpretation]! ‡

Do not forget nor turn away from the words of my mouth.

and protect you; ‡

Love her, and she will watch over you.

wisdom [it is preeminent]! ‡

And with all your acquiring, get understanding [actively seek spiritual discernment, mature comprehension, and logical interpretation].  [James 1:5 ]

She will honor you if you embrace her.

<sup>9</sup> “She will place on your head a garland of grace; ‡
She will present you with a crown of beauty and glory.”

<sup>10</sup> Hear, my son, and accept my sayings, ‡
And the years of your life will be many.

<sup>11</sup> I have instructed you in the way of [skillful and godly] wisdom;

I have led you in upright paths.

<sup>12</sup> When you walk, your steps will not be impeded [for your path will be clear and open]; ‡

And when you run, you will not stumble.

<sup>13</sup> Take hold of instruction; [actively seek it, grip it firmly and] do not let go.

Guard her, for she is your life.

<sup>14</sup> Do not enter the path of the wicked, ‡
And do not go the way of evil men.

<sup>15</sup> Avoid it, do not travel on it;

Turn away from it and pass on.

<sup>16</sup> For the wicked cannot sleep unless they do evil; ‡
And they are deprived of sleep unless they make someone stumble and fall.

<sup>17</sup> For they eat the bread of wickedness
And drink the wine of violence.

That shines brighter and brighter until [it reaches its full strength and glory in] the perfect day.  [2 Sam 23:4 ; Matt 5:14 ; Phil 2:15 ]

They do not know over what they stumble.  [John 12:35 ]

<sup>20</sup> My son, pay attention to my words and be willing to learn;
Open your ears to my sayings.

- <sup>21</sup> Do not let them escape from your sight; ‡
 Keep them in the center of your heart.
- <sup>22</sup> For they are life to those who find them, ‡
 And healing and health to all their flesh.
- <sup>23</sup> Watch over your heart with all diligence,
 For from it flow the springs of life.
- <sup>24</sup> Put away from you a deceitful (lying, misleading) mouth,
 And put devious lips far from you.
- <sup>25</sup> Let your eyes look directly ahead [toward the path of moral courage]
 And let your gaze be fixed straight in front of you [toward the path of integrity].
- <sup>26</sup> Consider well and watch carefully the path of your feet,
 And all your ways will be steadfast and sure.
- <sup>27</sup> Do not turn away to the right nor to the left [where evil may lurk]; ‡
 Turn your foot from [the path of] evil.

Proverbs 5

Pitfalls of Immorality

- <sup>1</sup> MY SON, be attentive to my wisdom [godly wisdom learned by costly experience], Incline your ear to my understanding;  [1 Kin 4:29 ]
- <sup>2</sup> That you may exercise discrimination and discretion (good judgment), ‡
 And your lips may reserve knowledge and answer wisely [to temptation].
- <sup>3</sup> For the lips of an immoral woman drip honey [like a honeycomb] ‡
 And her speech is smoother than oil;  [Ezek 20:30; Col 2:8–10 ; 2 Pet 2:14–17. ]
- <sup>4</sup> But in the end she is bitter like [the extract of] wormwood, ‡
 Sharp as a two-edged sword.
- <sup>5</sup> Her feet go down to death; ‡
 Her steps take hold of Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead), <sup>6</sup> So that she does not think [seriously] about the path of life;

Her ways are aimless and unstable; you cannot know where her path leads.

<sup>7</sup> Now then, my sons, listen to me
And do not depart from (forget) the words of my mouth.
<sup>8</sup> Let your way [in life] be far from her,
And do not go near the door of her house [avoid even being near the places of temptation],  [Prov 4:15 ; Rom 16:17
; 1 Thess 5:19–22 ]

<sup>9</sup> Or you will give your honor to others,
And your years to the cruel one,
<sup>10</sup> And strangers will be filled with your strength
And your hard-earned wealth will go to the house of a foreigner [who does not know God];

<sup>11</sup> And you will groan when your life is ending,
When your flesh and your body are consumed;
<sup>12</sup> And you say, “How I hated instruction and discipline, ‡
And my heart despised correction and reproof!

<sup>13</sup> “I have not listened to the voice of my teachers,
Nor have I inclined my ear to those who instructed me.

<sup>14</sup> “I was almost in total ruin

relationship]

And fresh running water from your own well.

<sup>16</sup> Should your springs (children) be dispersed,
As streams of water in the streets?

yours alone,

And not the children of strangers with you.

<sup>18</sup> Let your fountain (wife) be blessed [with the rewards of fidelity], ‡

And rejoice in the wife of your youth.  [Song 4:12 , 15 ]

<sup>19</sup> Let her be as a loving hind and graceful doe, ‡
Let her breasts refresh and satisfy you at all times;
Always be exhilarated and delight in her love.

- <sup>20</sup> Why should you, my son, be exhilarated with an immoral woman ‡
And embrace the bosom of an outsider (pagan)?
And He carefully watches all of his paths [all of his comings and goings].  [2 Chr 16:9; Job 31:4; 34:21; Prov 15:3; Jer 16:17; Hos 7:2; Heb 4:13 ]
<sup>22</sup> The iniquities done by a wicked man will trap him, ‡
And he will be held with the cords of his sin.
<sup>23</sup> He will die for lack of instruction (discipline), ‡
And in the greatness of his foolishness he will go astray and be lost.

Proverbs 6

Parental Counsel

- <sup>1</sup> MY SON, if you have become surety (guaranteed a debt or obligation) for your neighbor, ‡
If you have given your pledge for [the debt of] a stranger or another [outside your family], <sup>2</sup> If you have been snared with the words of your lips,
If you have been trapped by the speech of your mouth,
<sup>3</sup> Do this now, my son, and release yourself [from the obligation];
Since you have come into the hand of your neighbor,
Go humble yourself, and plead with your neighbor [to pay his debt and release you].
<sup>4</sup> Give no [unnecessary] sleep to your eyes, ‡
Nor slumber to your eyelids;
<sup>5</sup> Tear yourself away like a gazelle from the hand of the hunter
And like a bird from the hand of the fowler.

Observe her ways and be wise,  [Job 12:7 ]
<sup>7</sup> Which, having no chief,
Overseer or ruler,

<sup>8</sup> She prepares her food in the summer
And brings in her provisions [of food for the winter] in the harvest.

When will you arise from your sleep [and learn self-discipline]?  [Prov 24:33, 34. ]

<sup>10</sup> “Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,
A little folding of the hands to lie down and rest”—

<sup>11</sup> So your poverty will come like an approaching prowler who walks [slowly, but surely] ‡
And your need [will come] like an armed man [making you helpless].  [Prov 10:4; 13:4; 20:4. ]

<sup>12</sup> A worthless person, a wicked man,
Is one who walks with a perverse (corrupt, vulgar) mouth.

feet [to signal], ‡

Who points with his fingers [to give subversive instruction];

Who spreads discord and strife.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore [the crushing weight of] his disaster will come suddenly upon him; ‡

Instantly he will be broken, and there will be no healing or remedy [because he has no heart for God].

<sup>16</sup> These six things the LORD hates;
Indeed, seven are repulsive to Him:

<sup>17</sup> A proud look [the attitude that makes one overestimate oneself and discount others], a lying tongue, ‡

And hands that shed innocent blood,  [Ps 120:2, 3. ]

<sup>18</sup> A heart that creates wicked plans, ‡

Feet that run swiftly to evil,

<sup>19</sup> A false witness who breathes out lies [even half-truths], ‡
And one who spreads discord (rumors) among brothers.

<sup>20</sup> My son, be guided by your father’s [God-given] commandment (instruction) ‡

And do not reject the teaching of your mother;  [Eph 6:1–3 ]

<sup>21</sup> Bind them continually upon your heart (in your thoughts), ‡
And tie them around your neck.  [Prov 3:3 ; 7:3 ]

<sup>22</sup> When you walk about, they (the godly teachings of your parents) will guide you; ‡

When you sleep, they will keep watch over you;
And when you awake, they will talk to you.

And reproofs (rebukes) for discipline are the way of life,  [Ps 19:8 ; 119:105 ]

<sup>24</sup> To keep you from the evil woman, ‡

From [the flattery of] the smooth tongue of an immoral woman.

Nor let her capture you with her eyelashes.

<sup>26</sup> For on account of a prostitute one is reduced to a piece of bread [to be eaten up], ‡

And the immoral woman hunts [with a hook] the precious life [of a man].

And his clothes not be burned?

<sup>28</sup> Or can a man walk on hot coals

And his feet not be scorched?

<sup>29</sup> So is the one who goes in to his neighbor's wife;

Whoever touches her will not be found innocent or go unpunished.

<sup>30</sup> People do not despise a thief if he steals

To satisfy himself when he is hungry;

<sup>31</sup> But when he is found, he must repay seven times [what he stole]; ‡

He must give all the property of his house [if necessary to meet his fine].

<sup>32</sup> But whoever commits adultery with a woman lacks common sense and sound judgment and an understanding [of moral principles]; ‡

He who would destroy his soul does it.

<sup>33</sup> Wounds and disgrace he will find,

And his reproach (blame) will not be blotted out.
34 For jealousy enrages the [wrongs] husband;
He will not spare [the guilty one] on the day of vengeance.
35 He will not accept any ransom [offered to buy him off from demanding full punishment];
Nor will he be satisfied though you offer him many gifts (bribes).

Proverbs 7

The Wiles of the Prostitute

1 MY SON, keep my words ‡
And treasure my commandments within you [so they are readily available to guide you].
2 Keep my commandments and live, ‡
And keep my teaching and law as the apple of your eye.
3 Bind them [securely] on your fingers; ‡
Write them on the tablet of your heart.
4 Say to [skillful and godly] wisdom, “You are my sister,”
And regard understanding and intelligent insight as your intimate friends;
5 That they may keep you from the immoral woman, ‡
From the foreigner [who does not observe God’s laws and] who flatters with her [smooth] words.

6 For at the window of my house
I looked out through my lattice.
7 And among the naive [the inexperienced and gullible], ‡
I saw among the youths
A young man lacking [good] sense,
8 Passing through the street near her corner;
And he took the path to her house
9 In the twilight, in the evening; ‡
In the black and dark night.
10 And there a woman met him,
Dressed as a prostitute and sly and cunning of heart.
11 She was boisterous and rebellious; ‡

She would not stay at home.

<sup>12</sup> At times she was in the streets, at times in the market places, Lurking and setting her ambush at every corner.

<sup>13</sup> So she caught him and kissed him
And with a brazen and impudent face she said to him:
<sup>14</sup> “I have peace offerings with me;
Today I have paid my vows.

<sup>15</sup> “So I came out to meet you [that you might share with me the feast of my offering],
Diligently I sought your face and I have found you.

<sup>16</sup> “I have spread my couch with coverings and cushions of tapestry, ‡
With colored fine linen of Egypt.

<sup>17</sup> “I have perfumed my bed
With myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.

<sup>18</sup> “Come, let us drink our fill of love until morning;
Let us console and delight ourselves with love.

<sup>19</sup> “For my husband is not at home.
He has gone on a long journey;

<sup>20</sup> He has taken a bag of money with him,
And he will come home on the appointed day.”

<sup>21</sup> With her many persuasions she caused him to yield; ‡
With her flattering lips she seduced him.

<sup>22</sup> Suddenly he went after her, as an ox goes to the slaughter [not knowing the outcome],

Or as one in stocks going to the correction [to be given] to a fool,

<sup>23</sup> Until an arrow pierced his liver [with a mortal wound]; ‡
Like a bird fluttering straight into the net,
He did not know that it would cost him his life.

<sup>24</sup> Now therefore, my sons, listen to me,
And pay attention to the words of my mouth.

<sup>25</sup> Do not let your heart turn aside to her ways,
Do not stray into her [evil, immoral] paths.

Indeed, all who were killed by her were strong.  [Neh 13:26 ]

Descending to the chambers of death.  [1 Cor 6:9. ]

Proverbs 8

The Commendation of Wisdom

- <sup>1</sup> DOES NOT wisdom call, ‡
And understanding lift up her voice?
- <sup>2</sup> On the top of the heights beside the way,
Where the paths meet, wisdom takes her stand;
- <sup>3</sup> Beside the gates, at the entrance to the city,
At the entrance of the doors, she cries out:
- <sup>4</sup> “To you, O men, I call,
And my voice is directed to the sons of men.
- <sup>5</sup> “O you naive or inexperienced [who are easily misled], understand prudence and seek astute common sense;
And, O you [closed-minded, self-confident] fools, understand wisdom [seek the insight and self-discipline that leads to godly living].  [Is 32:6. ]
- <sup>6</sup> “Listen, for I will speak excellent and noble things; ‡
And the opening of my lips will reveal right things.
- <sup>7</sup> “For my mouth will utter truth,
And wickedness is repulsive and loathsome to my lips.
- <sup>8</sup> “All the words of my mouth are in righteousness (upright, in right standing with God);
There is nothing contrary to truth or perverted (crooked) in
them.
- <sup>9</sup> “They are all straightforward to him who understands [with an open and willing mind],
And right to those who find knowledge and live by it.
- <sup>10</sup> “Take my instruction rather than [seeking] silver,
And take knowledge rather than choicest gold,
- <sup>11</sup> “For wisdom is better than rubies; ‡
And all desirable things cannot compare with her.  [Job 28:15
; Ps 19:10; 119:127. ]
- <sup>12</sup> “I, [godly] wisdom, reside with prudence [good judgment, moral courage and astute common sense],

And I find knowledge and discretion.  [James 1:5 ]

13 “The [reverent] fear and worshipful awe of the LORD includes the hatred of evil; ‡

Pride and arrogance and the evil way,
And the perverted mouth, I hate.

14 “Counsel is mine and sound wisdom; ‡
I am understanding, power and strength are mine.

15 “By me kings reign ‡
And rulers decide and decree justice.  [Dan 2:21 ; Rom 13:1 ] 16 “By me princes rule, and nobles,

All who judge and govern rightly.

17 “I love those who love me; ‡
And those who seek me early and diligently will find me. [
    1 Sam 2:30 ; Ps 91:14 ; John 14:21 ; James 1:5 ]

18 “Riches and honor are with me, ‡
Enduring wealth and righteousness (right standing with God).
     [Prov 3:16 ; Matt 6:33 ]

19 “My fruit is better than gold, even pure gold, ‡
And my yield is better than choicest silver.

20 “I, [Wisdom, continuously] walk in the way of righteousness,
In the midst of the paths of justice,

21 That I may cause those who love me to inherit wealth and true riches,
And that I may fill their treasuries.

22 “The LORD created and possessed me at the beginning of His way, ‡
Before His works of old [were accomplished].

23 “From everlasting I was established and ordained, ‡
From the beginning, before the earth existed, [I, godly wisdom, existed].  [John 1:1 ; 1 Cor 1:24 ]

24 “When there were no ocean depths I was born,
When there were no fountains and springs overflowing with water.

25 “Before the mountains were settled, ‡
Before the hills, I was born;  [Job 15:7 , 8 ]

<sup>26</sup> While He had not yet made the earth and the fields,
Or the first of the dust of the earth.

<sup>27</sup> “When He established the heavens, I [Wisdom] was there;
When He drew a circle upon the face of the deep,

<sup>28</sup> When He made firm the skies above,
When the fountains and springs of the deep became fixed and strong,

<sup>29</sup> When He set for the sea its boundary ‡
So that the waters would not transgress [the boundaries set by] His command,
When He marked out the foundations of the earth—  [Job 38:10, 11; Ps 104:6–9; Jer 5:22 ]

<sup>30</sup> Then I was beside Him, as a master craftsman; ‡
And I was daily His delight;
Rejoicing before Him always,  [Matt 3:17; John 1:2, 18. ]
<sup>31</sup> Rejoicing in the world, His inhabited earth, ‡
And having my delight in the sons of men.  [Ps 16:3. ]

For blessed [happy, prosperous, to be admired] are they who keep my ways.  [Ps 119:1, 2; 128:1, 2; Luke 11:28. ]

<sup>33</sup> “Heed (pay attention to) instruction and be wise,
And do not ignore or neglect it.

<sup>34</sup> “Blessed [happy, prosperous, to be admired] is the man who listens to me, ‡
Watching daily at my gates,
Waiting at my doorposts.

<sup>35</sup> “For whoever finds me (Wisdom) finds life ‡
And obtains favor and grace from the LORD.

<sup>36</sup> “But he who fails to find me or sins against me injures himself; ‡
All those who hate me love and court death.”

Proverbs 9

Wisdom’s Invitation

<sup>1</sup> WISDOM HAS built her [spacious and sufficient] house; ‡

She has hewn out and set up her seven pillars.

She has also set her table.  [Matt 22:2–4 ]

<sup>3</sup> She has sent out her maidens, she calls ‡

From the highest places of the city:

As for him who lacks understanding, she says,

And drink the wine I have mixed [and accept my gifts].  [Is 55:1 ; John 6:27 ]

<sup>6</sup> “Leave [behind] your foolishness [and the foolish] and live,
And walk in the way of insight and understanding.”

<sup>7</sup> He who corrects and instructs a scoffer gets dishonor for himself,

And he who rebukes a wicked man gets insults for himself.

<sup>8</sup> Do not correct a scoffer [who foolishly ridicules and takes no responsibility for his error] or he will hate you; ‡

Correct a wise man [who learns from his error], and he will love you.  [Ps 141:5 ]

<sup>9</sup> Give instruction to a wise man and he will become even wiser; ‡

Teach a righteous man and he will increase his learning.

And the knowledge of the Holy One is understanding and spiritual insight.

<sup>11</sup> For by me (wisdom from God) your days will be multiplied, ‡

And years of life shall be increased.

If you scoff [thoughtlessly ridicule and disdain], you alone will pay the penalty.

She is naive and easily misled and thoughtless, and knows nothing at all [of eternal value].

<sup>14</sup> She sits at the doorway of her house, ‡

On a seat by the high and conspicuous places of the city,

<sup>15</sup> Calling to those who pass by,

Who are making their paths straight:

And to him who lacks understanding (common sense), she says, <sup>17</sup> “Stolen waters (pleasures) are sweet [because they are forbidden]; ‡

And bread eaten in secret is pleasant.”  [Prov 20:17 ]

<sup>18</sup>. But he does not know that the spirits of the dead are there, ‡

And that her guests are [already] in the depths of Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead).

Proverbs 10

Contrast of the Righteous and the Wicked

<sup>1</sup> THE PROVERBS of Solomon: ‡

A wise son makes a father glad,

But a foolish [stubborn] son [who refuses to learn] is a grief to his mother.

<sup>2</sup> Treasures of wickedness and ill-gotten gains do not profit, ‡

But righteousness and moral integrity in daily life rescues from death.

<sup>3</sup> The LORD will not allow the righteous to hunger [God will meet all his needs], ‡

But He will reject and cast away the craving of the wicked.  [Ps 34:9, 10; 37:25 ]

<sup>4</sup>. Poor is he who works with a negligent and idle hand, ‡

But the hand of the diligent makes him rich.

<sup>5</sup> He who gathers during summer and takes advantage of his opportunities is a son who acts wisely, ‡

But he who sleeps during harvest and ignores the moment of opportunity is a son who acts shamefully.

But the mouth of the wicked conceals violence.

But the name of the wicked will [be forgotten and] rot [like a corpse].  [Ps 112:6 ; 9:5 ]

<sup>8</sup> The wise in heart [are willing to learn so they] will accept and obey commands (instruction), ‡

But the babbling fool [who is arrogant and thinks himself wise] will come to ruin.

<sup>9</sup> He who walks in integrity and with moral character walks securely, ‡

But he who takes a crooked way will be discovered and punished.

And the babbling fool [who is arrogant and thinks himself wise] will come to ruin.

<sup>11</sup> The mouth of the righteous is a fountain of life and his words of wisdom are a source of blessing, ‡

But the mouth of the wicked conceals violence and evil.

But love covers and overwhelms all transgressions [forgiving and overlooking another's faults].

But discipline and the rod are for the back of the one who is without common sense and understanding.

But with the mouth of the foolish, ruin is at hand.

The ruin of the poor is their poverty.  [Ps 52:7 ; 1 Tim 6:17 ]

<sup>16</sup> The wages of the righteous [the upright, those in right standing with God] is [a worthwhile, meaningful] life,

The income of the wicked, punishment.  [Rom 6:21–23 ; 1 Tim

6:10 ]

<sup>17</sup> He who learns from instruction and correction is on the [right] path of life [and for others his example is a path toward wisdom and blessing],

But he who ignores and refuses correction goes off course [and for others his example is a path toward sin and ruin].

And he who spreads slander is a fool.  [Prov 26:24–26 ]

<sup>19</sup> When there are many words, transgression and offense are unavoidable, ‡

But he who controls his lips and keeps thoughtful silence is wise.

The heart of the wicked is worth little.

But fools [who reject God and His wisdom] die for lack of understanding.

And He adds no sorrow to it [for it comes as a blessing from God].

<sup>23</sup> Engaging in evil is like sport to the fool [who refuses wisdom and chases sin], ‡

But to a man of understanding [skillful and godly] wisdom brings joy .

But the desire of the righteous [for the blessings of God] will be granted.

But the righteous has an everlasting foundation.  [Ps 125:1 ; Matt 7:24–27 ]

<sup>26</sup> Like vinegar to the teeth and smoke to the eyes,

So is the lazy one to those who send him to work .

But the years of the wicked will be shortened.

and integrity] is joy, ‡
But the expectation of the wicked [those who oppose God and ignore His wisdom] comes to nothing.

<sup>29</sup>The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright, ‡
But it is ruin to those who do evil.

But the wicked will not inhabit the earth.  [Ps 37:22 ; 125:1 ]

<sup>31</sup>The mouth of the righteous flows with [skillful and godly] wisdom, ‡
But the perverted tongue will be cut out.

<sup>32</sup> The lips of the righteous know (speak) what is acceptable, But the mouth of the wicked knows (speaks) what is perverted (twisted).

Proverbs 11

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

- <sup>1</sup>A FALSE balance and dishonest business practices are extremely offensive to the LORD, ‡
But an accurate scale is His delight.  [Lev 19:35 , 36 ; Prov 16:11 ]
- <sup>2</sup>When pride comes [boiling up with an arrogant attitude of self-importance], then come dishonor and shame, ‡
But with the humble [the teachable who have been chiseled by trial and who have learned to walk humbly with God] there is wisdom and soundness of mind.
- <sup>3</sup> The integrity and moral courage of the upright will guide them, ‡
But the crookedness of the treacherous will destroy them.
- <sup>4</sup> Riches will not provide security in the day of wrath and judgment, ‡
But righteousness rescues from death.  [Prov 10:2 ; Zeph 1:18 ]
- <sup>5</sup> The righteousness of the blameless will smooth their way and keep it straight,
But the wicked will fall by his own wickedness.
- <sup>6</sup> The righteousness of the upright will rescue them, ‡

But the treacherous will be caught by their own greed.

<sup>7</sup> When the wicked man dies, his expectation will perish; ‡
And the hope of [godless] strong men perishes.

<sup>8</sup> The righteous is rescued from trouble, ‡
And the wicked takes his place.

But through knowledge and discernment the righteous will be rescued.

And when the wicked perish, there are shouts of joy.

<sup>11</sup> By the blessing [of the influence] of the upright the city is exalted, ‡

But by the mouth of the wicked it is torn down.

<sup>12</sup> He who despises his neighbor lacks sense,
But a man of understanding keeps silent.

But he who is trustworthy and faithful keeps a matter hidden.

<sup>14</sup> Where there is no [wise, intelligent] guidance, the people fall [and go off course like a ship without a helm], ‡
But in the abundance of [wise and godly] counselors there is victory.

<sup>15</sup> He who puts up security and guarantees a debt for an outsider will surely suffer [for his foolishness], ‡
But he who hates (declines) being a guarantor is secure [from its penalties].

<sup>16</sup> A gracious and good woman attains honor, ‡
And ruthless men attain riches [but not respect].

<sup>17</sup> The merciful and generous man benefits his soul [for his behavior returns to bless him], ‡

But the cruel and callous man does himself harm.

<sup>18</sup> The wicked man earns deceptive wages, ‡
But he who sows righteousness and lives his life with integrity will have a true reward [that is both permanent and satisfying].  [Hos 10:12; Gal 6:8, 9; James 3:18. ]

<sup>19</sup> He who is steadfast in righteousness attains life,
But he who pursues evil attains his own death.

<sup>20</sup> The perverse in heart are repulsive and shamefully vile to the

LORD,

But those who are blameless and above reproach in their walk are His delight!

<sup>21</sup> Assuredly, the evil man will not go unpunished,‡
But the descendants of the righteous will be freed.

<sup>22</sup> As a ring of gold in a swine's snout,
So is a beautiful woman who is without discretion [her lack of character mocks her beauty].

But the expectation of the wicked brings wrath.

<sup>24</sup> There is the one who [generously] scatters [abroad], and yet increases all the more;‡
And there is the one who withholds what is justly due, but it results only in want and poverty.

<sup>25</sup> The generous man [is a source of blessing and] shall be prosperous and enriched,‡
And he who waters will himself be watered [reaping the generosity he has sown].  [2 Cor 9:6–10 ]

<sup>26</sup> The people curse him who holds back grain [when the public needs it],‡
But a blessing [from God and man] is upon the head of him who sells it.

<sup>27</sup> He who diligently seeks good seeks favor and grace,‡
But he who seeks evil, evil will come to him.

<sup>28</sup> He who leans on and trusts in and is confident in his riches will fall,‡
But the righteous [who trust in God's provision] will flourish like a green leaf.

<sup>29</sup> He who troubles (mismanages) his own house will inherit the wind (nothing),‡
And the foolish will be a servant to the wise-hearted.

<sup>30</sup> The fruit of the [consistently] righteous is a tree of life,‡
And he who is wise captures and wins souls [for God—he gathers them for eternity].  [Matt 4:19; 1 Cor 9:19;
James 5:20 ]

<sup>31</sup> If the righteous will be rewarded on the earth [with godly blessings],‡
How much more [will] the wicked and the sinner [be repaid] with punishment]!

Proverbs 12

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

<sup>1</sup> WHOEVER LOVES instruction and discipline loves knowledge,

But he who hates reproof and correction is stupid.

But He will condemn a man who devises evil.

<sup>3</sup> A man will not be established by wickedness, ‡

But the root of the [consistently] righteous will not be moved.

But she who shames him [with her foolishness] is like rottenness in his bones.  [Prov 31:23; 1 Cor 11:7 ]

But the counsels and schemes of the wicked are deceitful.

But the mouth of the upright will rescue and protect them.

<sup>7</sup> The wicked are overthrown [by their evil] and are no more, ‡

But the house of the [consistently] righteous will stand [securely].

<sup>8</sup> A man will be commended according to his insight and sound judgment, ‡

But the one who is of a perverse mind will be despised.

<sup>9</sup> Better is he who is lightly esteemed and has a servant, ‡

Than he who [boastfully] honors himself [pretending to be what he is not] and lacks bread.

But even the compassion of the wicked is cruel.  [Deut 25:4 ]

<sup>11</sup> He who tills his land will have plenty of bread, ‡

But he who follows worthless things lacks common sense and good judgment.

<sup>12</sup> The wicked desire the plunder of evil men,

But the root of the righteous yields richer fruit.

of his lips,‡

But the righteous will escape from trouble.

<sup>14</sup> A man will be satisfied with good from the fruit of his words,‡

And the deeds of a man's hands will return to him [as a harvest].

<sup>15</sup> The way of the [arrogant] fool [who rejects God's wisdom] is right in his own eyes,‡

But a wise and prudent man is he who listens to counsel.  [Prov 3:7; 9:9; 21:2 ]

<sup>16</sup> The [arrogant] fool's anger is quickly known [because he lacks self-control and common sense],‡

But a prudent man ignores an insult.

<sup>17</sup> He who speaks truth [when he testifies] tells what is right,‡
But a false witness utters deceit [in court].

<sup>18</sup> There is one who speaks rashly like the thrusts of a sword,‡
But the tongue of the wise brings healing.

<sup>19</sup> Truthful lips will be established forever,‡

But a lying tongue is [credited] only for a moment.

<sup>20</sup> Deceit is in the heart of those who devise evil,
But counselors of peace have joy.

But the wicked are filled with trouble.  [Job 5:19; Ps 91:3 ;
Prov 12:13; Is 46:4; Jer 1:8; Dan 6:27 ; 2 Tim 4:18 ]

But those who deal faithfully are His delight.  [Prov 6:17 ;
11:20 ; Rev 22:15 ]

the proper time],‡

But the heart of [over-confident] fools proclaims foolishness.
 [Is 32:6 ]

But the negligent and lazy will be put to forced labor.

But a good (encouraging) word makes it glad.  [Ps 50:4 ; Prov 15:13 ]

26. The righteous man is a guide to his neighbor,
But the way of the wicked leads them astray.
27. The lazy man does not catch and roast his prey,
But the precious possession of a [wise] man is diligence [because he recognizes opportunities and seizes them].
- 28 In the way of righteousness is life,
And in its pathway there is no death [but immortality—eternal life].  [John 3:36; 4:36; 8:51; 11:26; 1 Cor 15:54; Gal 6:8 ]

Proverbs 13

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

- <sup>1</sup> A WISE son heeds and accepts [and is the result of] his father's discipline and instruction, ‡
But a scoffer does not listen to reprimand and does not learn from his errors.
- <sup>2</sup> From the fruit of his mouth a [wise] man enjoys good, ‡
But the desire of the treacherous is for violence.
- <sup>3</sup> The one who guards his mouth [thinking before he speaks] protects his life; ‡
The one who opens his lips wide [and chatters without thinking] comes to ruin.
- <sup>4</sup> The soul (appetite) of the lazy person craves and gets nothing [for lethargy overcomes ambition], ‡
But the soul (appetite) of the diligent [who works willingly] is rich and abundantly supplied.  [Prov 10:4 ]
- <sup>5</sup>. A righteous man hates lies,
But a wicked man is loathsome, and he acts shamefully.
- <sup>6</sup> Righteousness (being in right standing with God) guards the one whose way is blameless, ‡
But wickedness undermines and overthrows the sinner.
- <sup>7</sup>. There is one who pretends to be rich, yet has nothing at all; ‡
Another pretends to be poor, yet has great wealth.  [Prov 12:9 ;
Luke 12:20, 21 ]
- <sup>8</sup> The ransom for a man's life is his wealth,

But the poor man does not even have to listen to a rebuke or threats [from the envious].

<sup>9.</sup>The light of the righteous [within him—grows brighter and] rejoices, ‡

But the lamp of the wicked [is a temporary light and] goes out.

But he who gathers gradually by [honest] labor will increase [his riches].

<sup>12</sup> Hope deferred makes the heart sick, ‡

But when desire is fulfilled, it is a tree of life.

But he who [reverently] fears and respects the commandment [of God] will be rewarded.

<sup>14.</sup>The teaching of the wise is a fountain and source of life, ‡

So that one may avoid the snares of death.

<sup>15.</sup>Good understanding wins favor [from others],

But the way of the unfaithful is hard [like barren, dry soil].

But a [closed-minded] fool [who refuses to learn] displays his foolishness [for all to see].

<sup>17</sup> A wicked messenger falls into hardship, ‡

But a faithful ambassador brings healing.

<sup>18</sup> Poverty and shame will come to him who refuses instruction and discipline, ‡

But he who accepts and learns from reproof or censure is honored.

But it is detestable to fools to turn away from evil [which they have planned].

<sup>20.</sup>He who walks [as a companion] with wise men will be wise,

But the companions of [conceited, dull-witted] fools [are fools themselves and] will experience harm.  [Is 32:6 ]

<sup>21</sup> Adversity pursues sinners,‡

But the [consistently] upright will be rewarded with prosperity.

<sup>22</sup> A good man leaves an inheritance to his children's children,‡

<sup>23</sup> Abundant food is in the fallow (uncultivated) ground of the poor,‡

But [without protection] it is swept away by injustice.

But he who loves him disciplines and trains him diligently and appropriately [with wisdom and love].  [Prov 19:18 ; 22:15 ; 23:13 ; 29:15 , 17 ; Eph 6:4 ]

But the stomach of the wicked is in need [of bread].

Proverbs 14

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

But the foolish one [who lacks spiritual insight] tears it down with her own hands [by ignoring godly principles].

‡

But he who is devious in his ways despises Him.

But the lips of the wise [when they speak with godly wisdom] will protect them.

But much revenue [because of good crops] comes by the strength of the ox.

- <sup>5</sup> A faithful and trustworthy witness will not lie,‡
But a false witness speaks lies.
- <sup>6</sup> A scoffer seeks wisdom and finds none [for his ears are closed to wisdom],‡ But knowledge is easy for one who understands [because he is willing to learn].
- <sup>7</sup> Leave the presence of a [shortsighted] fool,
For you will not find knowledge or hear godly wisdom from his lips.
- <sup>8</sup> The wisdom of the sensible is to understand his way,
But the foolishness of [shortsighted] fools is deceit.
- <sup>9</sup> Fools mock sin [but sin mocks the fools],‡
But among the upright there is good will and the favor and blessing of God. [Prov 10:23]
- <sup>10</sup> The heart knows its own bitterness,
And no stranger shares its joy.
- <sup>11</sup> The house of the wicked will be overthrown,‡
But the tent of the upright will thrive.
- <sup>12</sup> There is a way which seems right to a man and appears straight before him,‡
But its end is the way of death.
- <sup>13</sup> Even in laughter the heart may be in pain,‡
And the end of joy may be grief.
- <sup>14</sup> The backslider in heart will have his fill with his own [rotten] ways,‡
But a good man will be satisfied with his ways [the godly thought and action which his heart pursues and in which he delights].
- <sup>15</sup> The naive or inexperienced person [is easily misled and] believes every word he hears,
But the prudent man [is discreet and astute and] considers well where he is going.
- <sup>16</sup> A wise man suspects danger and cautiously avoids evil,‡
But the fool is arrogant and careless.
- <sup>17</sup> A quick-tempered man acts foolishly and without self-control,
And a man of wicked schemes is hated.

<sup>18</sup> The naive [are unsophisticated and easy to exploit and] inherit foolishness,

But the sensible [are thoughtful and far-sighted and] are crowned with knowledge.

<sup>19</sup> The evil will bow down before the good,

And the wicked [will bow down] at the gates of the righteous.

<sup>20</sup> The poor man is hated even by his neighbor, ‡

But those who love the rich are many.

But happy [blessed and favored by God] is he who is gracious and merciful to the poor.

<sup>22</sup> Do they not go astray who devise evil and wander from the way of righteousness?

But kindness and truth will be to those who devise good.

<sup>23</sup> In all labor there is profit,

But mere talk leads only to poverty.

But the foolishness of [closed-minded] fools is [nothing but] folly.

<sup>25</sup> A truthful witness saves lives, ‡

But he who speaks lies is treacherous.

<sup>26</sup> In the [reverent] fear of the LORD there is strong confidence,

And His children will [always] have a place of refuge.

So that one may avoid the snares of death.  [John 4:10, 14 ]

<sup>28</sup> In a multitude of people is a king's glory,

But in a lack of people is a [pretentious] prince's ruin.

<sup>29</sup> He who is slow to anger has great understanding [and profits from his self-control], ‡

But he who is quick-tempered exposes and exalts his foolishness [for all to see].  [Prov 16:32; James 1:19 ]

<sup>30</sup> A calm and peaceful and tranquil heart is life and health to the body, ‡

But passion and envy are like rottenness to the bones.

31. He who oppresses the poor taunts and insults his Maker,‡
But he who is kind and merciful and gracious to the needy honors Him.  [Prov 17:5 ; Matt 25:40 , 45 ]

32. The wicked is overthrown through his wrongdoing,‡
But the righteous has hope and confidence and a refuge [with God] even in death.

33 Wisdom rests [silently] in the heart of one who has understanding,‡
But what is in the heart of [shortsighted] fools is made known.  [Is 32:6 ]

34. Righteousness [moral and spiritual integrity and virtuous character] exalts a nation,
But sin is a disgrace to any people.

35 The king's favor and good will are toward a servant who acts wisely and discreetly,‡
But his anger and wrath are toward him who acts shamefully. [
Matt 24:45 , 47 ]

Proverbs 15

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

1. A SOFT and gentle and thoughtful answer turns away wrath,‡
But harsh and painful and careless words stir up anger.  [Prov
25:15 ] Character Traits in Proverbs

2 The tongue of the wise speaks knowledge that is pleasing and acceptable,‡
But the [babbling] mouth of fools spouts folly.

3. The eyes of the LORD are in every place,‡
Watching the evil and the good [in all their endeavors].  [Job
34:21 ; Prov 5:21 ; Jer 16:17 ; 32:19 ; Heb 4:13 ]

4 A soothing tongue [speaking words that build up and encourage] is a tree of life,
But a perverse tongue [speaking words that overwhelm and depress] crushes the spirit.

5 A [flippant, arrogant] fool rejects his father's instruction and correction,‡
But he who [is willing to learn and] regards and keeps in mind a reprimand acquires good sense.

6 Great and priceless treasure is in the house of the [consistently] righteous one [who seeks godly instruction and grows in wisdom],

But trouble is in the income of the wicked one [who rejects the laws of God].

7 The lips of the wise spread knowledge [sifting it as chaff from the grain];

But the hearts of [shortsighted] fools are not so.

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is hateful and exceedingly offensive to the LORD,‡

But the prayer of the upright is His delight!  [Is 1:11; Jer 6:20; Amos 5:22 ]

9 The way [of life] of the wicked is hateful and exceedingly offensive to the LORD,‡

But He loves one who pursues righteousness [personal integrity, moral courage and honorable character].

10 There is severe discipline for him who turns from the way [of righteousness];‡

And he who hates correction will die.

11 Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead) and Abaddon (the abyss, the place of eternal punishment) lie open before the LORD—‡

How much more the hearts and inner motives of the children of men.  [Job 26:6; Ps 139:8; Rev 9:2; 20:1, 2 ]

12 A scoffer [unlike a wise man] resents one who rebukes him and tries to teach him;‡

Nor will he go to the wise [for counsel and instruction].

13 A heart full of joy and goodness makes a cheerful face,‡

But when a heart is full of sadness the spirit is crushed.  [Prov 17:22 ]

14 The mind of the intelligent and discerning seeks knowledge and eagerly inquires after it,

But the mouth of the [stubborn] fool feeds on foolishness.  [Is 32:6 ]

15 All the days of the afflicted are bad,‡

But a glad heart has a continual feast [regardless of the circumstances].

Than great treasure and trouble with it.  [Ps 37:16 ; Prov 16:8 ; 1 Tim 6:6 ]

<sup>17</sup> Better is a dinner of vegetables and herbs where love is present ‡

But he who is slow to anger and patient calms disputes.

<sup>19</sup> The way of the lazy is like a hedge of thorns [it pricks, lacerates, and entangles him], ‡

But the way [of life] of the upright is smooth and open like a highway.

But a foolish man despises his mother.

But a man of understanding walks uprightly [making his course straight].  [Eph 5:15 ]

<sup>22</sup> Without consultation and wise advice, plans are frustrated, ‡

But with many counselors they are established and succeed.

And how good and delightful is a word spoken at the right moment—how good it is!

That he may keep away from Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead) below.  [Phil 3:20 ; Col 3:1, 2 ]

<sup>25</sup> The LORD will tear down the house of the proud and arrogant (self-righteous), ‡

But He will establish and protect the boundaries [of the land] of the [godly] widow.

<sup>26</sup> Evil plans and thoughts of the wicked are exceedingly vile and offensive to the LORD, ‡

But pure words are pleasant words to Him.

But he who hates bribes [and does not receive nor pay them] will live.  [Is 5:8 ; Jer 17:11 ]

- <sup>28</sup> The heart of the righteous thinks carefully about how to answer [in a wise and appropriate and timely way], ‡
But the [babbling] mouth of the wicked pours out malevolent things.  [1 Pet 3:15. ]
- <sup>29</sup> The LORD is far from the wicked [and distances Himself from them], ‡
But He hears the prayer of the [consistently] righteous [that is, those with spiritual integrity and moral courage].
- <sup>30</sup> The light of the eyes rejoices the hearts of others,
And good news puts fat on the bones.
- <sup>31</sup> The ear that listens to and learns from the life-giving rebuke (reprimand, censure) ‡
Will remain among the wise.
- <sup>32</sup> He who neglects and ignores instruction and discipline despises himself,
But he who learns from rebuke acquires understanding [and grows in wisdom].
- <sup>33</sup> The [reverent] fear of the LORD [that is, worshiping Him and regarding Him as truly awesome] is the instruction for wisdom [its starting point and its essence]; ‡
And before honor comes humility.

Proverbs 16

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

- <sup>1</sup> THE PLANS and reflections of the heart belong to man,‡
But the [wise] answer of the tongue is from the LORD.
- <sup>2</sup> All the ways of a man are clean and innocent in his own eyes [and he may see nothing wrong with his actions], ‡
But the LORD weighs and examines the motives and intents [of the heart and knows the truth].  [1 Sam 16:7; Heb 4:12 ]
- <sup>3</sup> Commit your works to the LORD [submit and trust them to Him], ‡
And your plans will succeed [if you respond to His will and guidance].

- <sup>4</sup> The LORD has made everything for its own purpose, ‡
Even the wicked [according to their role] for the day of evil.
- <sup>5</sup> Everyone who is proud and arrogant in heart is disgusting and exceedingly offensive to the LORD; ‡
Be assured he will not go unpunished.  [Prov 8:13; 11:20, 21 ]
- <sup>6</sup> By mercy and lovingkindness and truth [not superficial ritual] wickedness is cleansed from the heart, ‡
And by the fear of the LORD one avoids evil.
- <sup>7</sup> When a man's ways please the LORD,
He makes even his enemies to be at peace with him.
- <sup>8</sup> Better is a little with righteousness ‡
Than great income [gained] with injustice.  [Ps 37:16; Prov 15:16 ]
- <sup>9</sup> A man's mind plans his way [as he journeys through life], ‡
But the LORD directs his steps and establishes them.  [Ps 37:23; Prov 20:24; Jer 10:23 ]
- <sup>10</sup> A divine decision [given by God] is on the lips of the king
[as His representative];
His mouth should not be unfaithful or unjust in judgment.  [Deut 17:18–20; 2 Sam 14:17–20; 1 Kin 3:9–12; Is 11:2 ]
- <sup>11</sup> A just balance and [honest] scales are the LORD's; ‡
All the weights of the bag are His concern [established by His eternal principles].
- <sup>12</sup> It is repulsive [to God and man] for kings to behave
wickedly, ‡
For a throne is established on righteousness (right standing with God).
- <sup>13</sup> Righteous lips are the delight of kings, ‡
And he who speaks right is loved.
- <sup>14</sup> The wrath of a king is like a messenger of death, ‡
But a wise man will appease it.
- <sup>15</sup> In the light of the king's face is life, ‡
And his favor is like a cloud bringing the spring rain.
- <sup>16</sup> How much better it is to get wisdom than gold! ‡
And to get understanding is to be chosen above silver.  [Prov 8:10, 19 ]

17. The highway of the upright turns away and departs from evil;

He who guards his way protects his life (soul).

18. Pride goes before destruction,

And a haughty spirit before a fall.

19. It is better to be humble in spirit with the lowly

Than to divide the spoil with the proud (haughty, arrogant).

20. He who pays attention to the word [of God] will find good, ‡

And blessed (happy, prosperous, to be admired) is he who trusts [confidently] in the LORD.

21. The wise in heart will be called understanding,

And sweet speech increases persuasiveness and learning [in both speaker and listener].

22. Understanding (spiritual insight) is a [refreshing and boundless] wellspring of life to those who have it, ‡

But to give instruction and correction to fools is foolishness.

23. The heart of the wise instructs his mouth [in wisdom]

And adds persuasiveness to his lips.

24. Pleasant words are like a honeycomb,

Sweet and delightful to the soul and healing to the body.

25. There is a way which seems right to a man and appears straight before him, ‡

But its end is the way of death.

26. The appetite of a worker works for him, ‡

For his hunger urges him on.

27. A worthless man devises and digs up evil,

And the words on his lips are like a scorching fire.

28. A perverse man spreads strife, ‡

And one who gossips separates intimate friends.  [Prov 17:9 ]

29. A violent and exceedingly covetous man entices his neighbor [to sin], ‡

And leads him in a way that is not good.

30. He who [slyly] winks his eyes does so to plot perverse things;

And he who compresses his lips [as if in a secret signal] brings evil to pass.

31. The silver-haired head is a crown of splendor and glory; ‡

It is found in the way of righteousness.  [Prov 20:29 ]

32. He who is slow to anger is better and more honorable than the mighty [soldier], ‡

And he who rules and controls his own spirit, than he who captures a city.

33. The lot is cast into the lap,

But its every decision is from the LORD.

Proverbs 17

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

1. BETTER IS a dry morsel [of food served] with quietness and peace ‡

Than a house full of feasting [served] with strife and contention.

2. A wise servant will rule over the [unworthy] son who acts shamefully and brings disgrace [to the family] ‡

And [the worthy servant] will share in the inheritance among the brothers.

3 The refining pot is for silver and the furnace for gold, ‡

But the LORD tests hearts.  [Ps 26:2 ; Prov 27:21 ; Jer 17:10 ; Mal 3:3 ]

4. An evildoer listens closely to wicked lips;

And a liar pays attention to a destructive and malicious tongue.

5 Whoever mocks the poor taunts his Maker, ‡

And he who rejoices at [another's] disaster will not go unpunished.  [Job 31:29 ; Prov 14:31 ; Obad 12 ]

6 Grandchildren are the crown of aged men,

And the glory of children is their fathers [who live godly lives].  [Ps 127:3 ; 128:3 ]

7. Excellent speech does not benefit a fool [who is spiritually blind],

Much less do lying lips benefit a prince.

8 A bribe is like a bright, precious stone in the eyes of its owner;

Wherever he turns, he prospers.

9 He who covers and forgives an offense seeks love, ‡

But he who repeats or gossips about a matter separates intimate friends.

<sup>10</sup> A reprimand goes deeper into one who has understanding and a teachable spirit

Than a hundred lashes into a fool.  [Is 32:6 ]

Therefore a cruel messenger will be sent against him.

<sup>12</sup> Let a man meet a [ferocious] bear robbed of her cubs ‡

Rather than the [angry, narcissistic] fool in his folly.  [Hos 13:8 ]

<sup>13</sup> Whoever returns evil for good, ‡

Evil will not depart from his house.  [Ps 109:4, 5; Jer 18:20 ]

<sup>14</sup> The beginning of strife is like letting out water [as from a small break in a dam; first it trickles and then it gushes]; ‡

Therefore abandon the quarrel before it breaks out and tempers explode.

Are both repulsive to the LORD.  [Ex 23:7; Prov 24:24; Is 5:23 ]

<sup>16</sup> Why is there money in the hand of a fool to buy wisdom, ‡

When he has no common sense or even a heart for it?

<sup>17</sup> A friend loves at all times, ‡

And a brother is born for adversity.

He who [proudly] raises his gate seeks destruction [because of his arrogant pride].

And he who is perverted in his language falls into evil.  [James 3:8 ]

<sup>21</sup> He who becomes the parent of a fool [who is spiritually blind] does so to his sorrow, ‡

And the father of a fool [who is spiritually blind] has no joy.

healing, ‡

But a broken spirit dries up the bones.  [Prov 12:25; 15:13, 15 ]

<sup>23</sup> A wicked man receives a bribe from the [hidden] pocket ‡
To pervert the ways of justice.

<sup>24</sup> [Skillful and godly] wisdom is in the presence of a person of understanding [and he recognizes it], ‡

But the eyes of a [thickheaded] fool are on the ends of the earth.

<sup>25</sup> A foolish son is a grief and anguish to his father ‡
And bitterness to her who gave birth to him.

<sup>26</sup> It is also not good to fine the righteous, ‡
Nor to strike the noble for their uprightness.

<sup>27</sup> He who has knowledge restrains and is careful with his words, ‡

And a man of understanding and wisdom has a cool spirit
(self-control, an even temper).  [James 1:19 ]

<sup>28</sup> Even a [callous, arrogant] fool, when he keeps silent, is considered wise; ‡

When he closes his lips he is regarded as sensible (prudent, discreet) and a man of understanding.

Contrast the Upright and the Wicked

<sup>1</sup>. HE WHO [willfully] separates himself [from God and man] seeks his own desire,

He quarrels against all sound wisdom.

<sup>2</sup>. A [closed-minded] fool does not delight in understanding,
But only in revealing his personal opinions [unwittingly displaying his self-indulgence and his stupidity].

<sup>3</sup> When the wicked man comes [to the depth of evil], contempt [of all that is pure and good] also comes,
And with inner baseness (dishonor) comes outer shame (scorn).

<sup>4</sup> The words of a man's mouth are like deep waters [copious and difficult to fathom]; ‡

The fountain of [mature, godly] wisdom is like a bubbling stream [sparkling, fresh, pure, and life-giving].

<sup>5</sup> To show respect to the wicked person is not good, ‡
Nor to push aside and deprive the righteous of justice.

<sup>6</sup> A fool's lips bring contention and strife,
And his mouth invites a beating.

<sup>7</sup> A fool's mouth is his ruin, ‡
And his lips are the snare of his soul.

<sup>8</sup>-The words of a whisperer (gossip) are like dainty morsels [to be greedily eaten]; ‡

They go down into the innermost chambers of the body [to be remembered and mused upon].

<sup>9</sup> He who is careless in his work ‡
Is a brother to him who destroys.

<sup>10</sup>-The name of the LORD is a strong tower; ‡
The righteous runs to it and is safe and set on high [far above evil].

<sup>11</sup> The rich man's wealth is his strong city, ‡
And like a high wall [of protection] in his own imagination and conceit.

<sup>12</sup>-Before disaster the heart of a man is haughty and filled with self-importance, ‡

But humility comes before honor.

It is folly and shame to him.  [John 7:51 ]

<sup>14</sup>-The spirit of a man sustains him in sickness,
But as for a broken spirit, who can bear it?

<sup>15</sup> The mind of the prudent [always] acquires knowledge,
And the ear of the wise [always] seeks knowledge.

And brings him before great men.  [Gen 32:20; 1 Sam 25:27;

Until another comes and cross-examines him.

<sup>18</sup> To cast lots puts an end to quarrels
And decides between powerful contenders.

He will be satisfied with the consequence of his words.

And those who love it and indulge it will eat its fruit and bear the consequences of their words.  [Matt 12:37 ]

<sup>23</sup> The poor man pleads, ‡

But the rich man answers roughly.

<sup>24</sup> The man of too many friends [chosen indiscriminately] will be broken in pieces and come to ruin, ‡

But there is a [true, loving] friend who [is reliable and] sticks closer than a brother.

Proverbs 19

On Life and Conduct

<sup>1</sup> BETTER IS a poor man who walks in his integrity ‡
Than a [rich] man who is twisted in his speech and is a [shortsighted] fool.

And he who hurries with his feet [acting impulsively and proceeding without caution or analyzing the consequences] sins (misses the mark).

Then his heart is resentful and rages against the LORD [for, being a fool, he blames the LORD instead of himself].

<sup>4</sup> Wealth makes many friends, ‡

But a poor man is separated from his friend.  [Prov 14:20 ]

And he who breathes out lies will not escape.  [Ex 23:1; Deut

19:16–19 ; Prov 6:19 ; 21:28 ]

<sup>6</sup> Many will seek the favor of a generous and noble man,‡
And everyone is a friend to him who gives gifts.

How much more do his friends abandon him!
He pursues them with words, but they are gone.

<sup>8</sup> He who gains wisdom and good sense loves (preserves) his own soul; ‡

He who keeps understanding will find good and prosper.

<sup>9</sup> A false witness will not go unpunished,‡
And he who breathes lies will perish.

<sup>10</sup> Luxury is not fitting for a fool;‡
Much less for a slave to rule over princes.

<sup>11</sup> Good sense and discretion make a man slow to anger,‡
And it is his honor and glory to overlook a transgression or an offense [without seeking revenge and harboring resentment].

<sup>12</sup> The king's wrath terrifies like the roaring of a lion,‡
But his favor is as [refreshing and nourishing as] dew on the grass.  [Hos 14:5 ]

<sup>13</sup> A foolish (ungodly) son is destruction to his father,‡
And the contentions of a [quarrelsome] wife are like a constant dripping [of water].

<sup>14</sup> House and wealth are the inheritance from fathers,‡
But a wise, understanding, and sensible wife is [a gift and blessing] from the LORD.  [Prov 18:22 ]

<sup>15</sup> Laziness casts one into a deep sleep [unmindful of lost opportunity], ‡
And the idle person will suffer hunger.

<sup>16</sup> He who keeps and obeys the commandment [of the LORD] keeps (guards) his own life,‡
But he who is careless of his ways and conduct will die.  [Prov 13:13 ; 16:17 ; Luke 10:28 ; 11:28 ]

<sup>17</sup> He who is gracious and lends a hand to the poor lends to the
And the LORD will repay him for his good deed.  [Prov 28:27
; Eccl 11:1 ; Matt 10:42 ; 25:40 ; 2 Cor 9:6–8 ; Heb 6:10

- <sup>18</sup> Discipline and teach your son while there is hope, ‡
And do not [indulge your anger or resentment by imposing inappropriate punishment nor] desire his destruction.
- <sup>19</sup> A man of great anger will bear the penalty [for his quick temper and lack of self-control];
For if you rescue him [and do not let him learn from the consequences of his action], you will only have to rescue him over and over again.
- <sup>20</sup> Listen to counsel, receive instruction, and accept correction, ‡
That you may be wise in the time to come.
- <sup>21</sup> Many plans are in a man's mind, ‡
But it is the LORD's purpose for him that will stand (be carried out).  [Job 23:13; Ps 33:10, 11; Is 14:26, 27;
46:10; Acts 5:39; Heb 6:17 ]
- <sup>22</sup> That which is desirable in a man is his loyalty and unfailing love,
But it is better to be a poor man than a [wealthy] liar.
- <sup>23</sup> The fear of the LORD leads to life, ‡
So that one may sleep satisfied, untouched by evil.  [Job 5:19;
Ps 91:3; Prov 12:13; Is 46:4; Jer 1:8; Dan 6:27; [2 Tim
4:8](#) ]
- <sup>24</sup> The lazy man buries his hand in the [food] dish, ‡
But will not even bring it to his mouth again.
- <sup>25</sup> Strike a scoffer [for refusing to learn], and the naive may [be warned and] become prudent; ‡
Reprimand one who has understanding and a teachable spirit, and he will gain knowledge and insight.
- <sup>26</sup> He who assaults his father and chases away his mother ‡
Is a son who brings shame and disgrace.  [1 Tim 5:8 ]
- <sup>27</sup> Cease listening, my son, to instruction and discipline
And you will stray from the words of knowledge.
- <sup>28</sup> A wicked and worthless witness mocks justice, ‡
And the mouth of the wicked spreads iniquity.
- <sup>29</sup> Judgments are prepared for scoffers, ‡
And beatings for the backs of [thickheaded] fools.  [Is 32:6 ]

Proverbs 20

On Life and Conduct

And whoever is intoxicated by it is not wise.  [Prov 23:29 , 30 ; Is 28:7 ; Hos 4:11 ]

<sup>2</sup> The terror of a king is like the roaring of a lion; ‡
Whoever provokes him to anger forfeits his own life.

<sup>3</sup> It is an honor for a man to keep away from strife [by handling situations with thoughtful foresight], ‡ But any fool will [start a] quarrel [without regard for the consequences].

season arrives; ‡

So he begs at the [next] harvest and has nothing [to reap].

<sup>5</sup> A plan (motive, wise counsel) in the heart of a man is like water in a deep well,

But a man of understanding draws it out.  [Prov 18:4 ]

<sup>6</sup> Many a man proclaims his own loyalty and goodness, ‡
But who can find a faithful and trustworthy man?

<sup>7</sup> The righteous man who walks in integrity and lives life in accord with his [godly] beliefs— ‡

How blessed [happy and spiritually secure] are his children after him [who have his example to follow].

<sup>8</sup> A [discerning] king who sits on the throne of judgment ‡ Sifts all evil [like chaff] with his eyes [and cannot be easily fooled].

I am pure from my sin?”  [1 Kin 8:46 ; 2 Chr 6:36 ; Job 9:30 ;
14:4 ; Ps 51:5 ; 1 John 1:8 ]

<sup>10</sup> Differing weights [one for buying and another for selling] and differing measures, ‡
Both of them are detestable and offensive to the LORD.  [Deut 25:13 ; Mic 6:10 , 11 ]

<sup>11</sup> Even a boy is known and distinguished by his acts, ‡

The [omnipotent] LORD has made both of them.

Open your eyes [so that you can do your work] and you will be satisfied with bread.

<sup>14</sup> “It is [almost] worthless, it is [almost] worthless,” says the buyer [as he negotiates the price];

But when he goes his way, then he boasts [about his bargain].

But the lips of knowledge are a vessel of preciousness [the most precious of all].  [Job 28:12 , 16–19 ; Prov 3:15 ; 8:11 ]

And hold him in pledge [when he guarantees a loan] for foreigners.”  [Prov 27:13 ]

But afterward his mouth will be filled with gravel [just as sin may be sweet at first, but later its consequences bring despair].

<sup>18</sup> Plans are established by counsel;‡

So make war [only] with wise guidance.

Therefore do not associate with a gossip [who talks freely or flatters].  [Rom 16:17 , 18 ]

<sup>20</sup> Whoever curses his father or his mother,‡

His lamp [of life] will be extinguished in time of darkness.

Will not be blessed in the end.  [Prov 28:20 ; Hab 2:6 ]

Wait [expectantly] for the LORD, and He will rescue and save you.  [Deut 32:35 ; 2 Sam 16:12 ; Rom 12:17–19 ; 1 Thess 5:15 ; 1 Pet 3:9 ]

And fraudulent scales are not good.

How then can a man [fully] understand his way?

<sup>25</sup> It is a trap for a man to [speak a vow of consecration and] say rashly, “It is holy!”‡

And [not until] afterward consider [whether he can fulfill it].

26. A wise king sifts out the wicked [from among the good] ‡
And drives the [threshing] wheel over them [to separate the chaff from the grain].

27 The spirit (conscience) of man is the lamp of the LORD, ‡ Searching and examining all the innermost parts of his being. [
1 Cor 2:11]

28 Loyalty and mercy, truth and faithfulness, protect the king, ‡
And he upholds his throne by lovingkindness.

29 The glory of young men is their [physical] strength, ‡
And the honor of aged men is their gray head [representing wisdom and experience].

30. Blows that wound cleanse away evil,
And strokes reach to the innermost parts.

Proverbs 21

On Life and Conduct

1. THE KING'S heart is like channels of water in the hand of the LORD;
He turns it whichever way He wishes. [Ex 10:1, 2; Ezra 6:22
]

2 Every man's way is right in his own eyes, ‡
But the LORD weighs and examines the hearts [of people and their motives]. [Prov 24:12; Luke 16:15.]

3 To do righteousness and justice ‡
Is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice [for wrongs repeatedly committed]. [1 Sam 15:22; Prov 15:8; Is 1:11; Hos 6:6; Mic 6:7, 8.]

4 Haughty and arrogant eyes and a proud heart, ‡
The lamp of the wicked [their self-centered pride], is sin [in the eyes of God].

5 The plans of the diligent lead surely to abundance and advantage, ‡
But everyone who acts in haste comes surely to poverty.

6. Acquiring treasures by a lying tongue ‡
Is a fleeting vapor, the seeking and pursuit of death.

7 The violence of the wicked will [return to them and] drag them away [like fish caught in a net],

Because they refuse to act with justice.

<sup>8</sup> The way of the guilty is [exceedingly] crooked,
But as for the pure, his conduct is upright.

<sup>9</sup> It is better to live in a corner of the housetop [on the flat roof, exposed to the weather]
Than in a house shared with a quarrelsome (contentious) woman.

<sup>10</sup> The soul of the wicked desires evil [like an addictive substance]; ‡

His neighbor finds no compassion in his eyes.  [James 2:16 ]

<sup>11</sup> When the scoffer is punished, the naive [observes the lesson

But when the wise and teachable person is instructed, he receives knowledge.  [Prov 19:25 ]

<sup>12</sup> The righteous one keeps an eye on the house of the wicked

How the wicked are cast down to ruin.

Will cry out himself and not be answered.  [Matt 18:30–34 ;
James 2:13 ]

<sup>14</sup> A gift in secret subdues anger,
And a bribe [hidden] in the pocket, strong wrath.

<sup>15</sup> When justice is done, it is a joy to the righteous (the upright, the one in right standing with God),
But to the evildoers it is disaster.

<sup>16</sup> A man who wanders from the way of understanding (godly wisdom)

Will remain in the assembly of the dead.

<sup>17</sup> He who loves [only selfish] pleasure will become a poor man;

He who loves and is devoted to wine and [olive] oil will not become rich.

<sup>18</sup> The wicked become a ransom for the righteous,
And the treacherous in the place of the upright [for they fall into their own traps].

<sup>19</sup> It is better to dwell in a desert land
Than with a contentious and troublesome woman.

- <sup>20</sup> There is precious treasure and oil in the house of the wise
[who prepare for the future], ‡
But a short-sighted and foolish man swallows it up and wastes it.
- <sup>21</sup> He who earnestly seeks righteousness and loyalty ‡
Finds life, righteousness, and honor.  [Prov 15:9 ; Matt 5:6 ]
- <sup>22</sup> A wise man scales the city [walls] of the mighty ‡
And brings down the stronghold in which they trust.
- <sup>23</sup> He who guards his mouth and his tongue ‡
Guards himself from troubles.  [Prov 12:13 ; 13:3 ; 18:21 ;
- <sup>24</sup> “Proud,” “Haughty,” “Scoffer,” are his names
Who acts with overbearing and insolent pride.
- <sup>25</sup> The desire of the lazy kills him,
For his hands refuse to labor;
- <sup>26</sup> He craves all the day long [and does no work],
But the righteous [willingly] gives and does not withhold [what he has].  [2 Cor 9:6–10 ]
- <sup>27</sup> The sacrifice of the wicked is detestable and offensive [to the LORD]. ‡
How much more [unacceptable and insulting can it be] when he brings it with evil intention?
- <sup>28</sup> A false witness will perish,
But a man who listens to the truth will speak forever and go unchallenged.
- <sup>29</sup> A wicked man puts on a bold face,
But as for the upright, he considers, directs, and establishes his way [with the confidence of integrity].
- <sup>30</sup> There is no [human] wisdom or understanding ‡
Or counsel [that can prevail] against the LORD.
- <sup>31</sup> The horse is prepared for the day of battle, ‡
But deliverance and victory belong to the LORD.

Proverbs 22

On Life and Conduct

<sup>1</sup> A GOOD name [earned by honorable behavior, godly wisdom, moral courage, and personal integrity] is more desirable than great riches; ‡

And favor is better than silver and gold.

<sup>2</sup> The rich and poor have a common bond;

The LORD is the Maker of them all.  [Job 31:15; Prov 14:31 ]

<sup>3</sup> A prudent and far-sighted person sees the evil [of sin] and hides himself [from it],

But the naive continue on and are punished [by suffering the consequences of sin].

<sup>4</sup> The reward of humility [that is, having a realistic view of one's importance] and the [reverent, worshipful] fear of the LORD

Is riches, honor, and life.  [Prov 21:21 ]

<sup>5</sup> Thorns and snares are in the way of the obstinate [for their lack of honor and their wrong-doing traps them];

He who guards himself [with godly wisdom] will be far from them and avoid the consequences they suffer.

<sup>6</sup> Train up a child in the way he should go [teaching him to seek God's wisdom and will for his abilities and talents], ‡

Even when he is old he will not depart from it.  [Eph 6:4; 2 Tim 3:15 ]

<sup>7</sup> The rich rules over the poor,

And the borrower is servant to the lender.

<sup>8</sup> He who sows injustice will reap [a harvest of] trouble,

And the rod of his wrath [with which he oppresses others] will fail.

<sup>9</sup> He who is generous will be blessed, ‡

For he gives some of his food to the poor.  [2 Cor 9:6–10 ]

<sup>10</sup> Drive out the scoffer, and contention will go away; ‡

Even strife and dishonor will cease.

<sup>11</sup> He who loves purity of heart ‡

And whose speech is gracious will have the king as his friend.

<sup>12</sup> The eyes of the LORD keep guard over knowledge and the one who has it,

But He overthrows the words of the treacherous.

13. The lazy one [manufactures excuses and] says, “There is a lion outside! ‡

I will be killed in the streets [if I go out to work]!”

14 The mouth of an immoral woman is a deep pit [deep and inescapable]; ‡

He who is cursed by the LORD [because of his adulterous sin] will fall into it.

15 Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child; ‡

The rod of discipline [correction administered with godly wisdom and lovingkindness] will remove it far from him.

16 He who oppresses or exploits the poor to get more for himself

Or who gives to the rich [to gain influence and favor], will only come to poverty.

17. Listen carefully and hear the words of the wise,

And apply your mind to my knowledge;

18 For it will be pleasant if you keep them in mind [incorporating them as guiding principles];

Let them be ready on your lips [to guide and strengthen yourself and others].

19 So that your trust and reliance and confidence may be in the LORD,

I have taught these things to you today, even to you.

20 Have I not written to you excellent things

In counsels and knowledge,

21 To let you know the certainty of the words of truth, ‡

That you may give a correct answer to him who sent you? [

Luke 1:3, 4. ]

22 Do not rob the poor because he is poor [and defenseless], Nor crush the afflicted [by legal proceedings] at the gate [where the city court is held],  [Ex 23:6; Job 31:16, 21 ]

23 For the LORD will plead their case ‡

And take the life of those who rob them.  [Zech 7:10; Mal 3:5 ]

<sup>24</sup> Do not even associate with a man given to angry outbursts;
Or go [along] with a hot-tempered man,

<sup>25</sup> Or you will learn his [undisciplined] ways
And get yourself trapped [in a situation from which it is hard to escape].

<sup>26</sup> Do not be among those who give pledges [involving themselves in others' finances], ‡

Or among those who become guarantors for others' debts.

<sup>27</sup> If you have nothing with which to pay [another's debt when he defaults],

Why should his creditor take your bed from under you?

<sup>28</sup> Do not move the ancient landmark [at the boundary of the property] ‡

Which your fathers have set.

<sup>29</sup> Do you see a man skillful and experienced in his work?

He will stand [in honor] before kings;

He will not stand before obscure men.

Proverbs 23

On Life and Conduct

<sup>1</sup> WHEN YOU sit down to dine with a ruler,
Consider carefully what is [set] before you;

<sup>2</sup> For you will put a knife to your throat
If you are a man of great appetite.

<sup>3</sup> Do not desire his delicacies,
For it is deceptive food [offered to you with questionable motives].

<sup>4</sup> Do not weary yourself [with the overwhelming desire] to gain wealth; ‡

Cease from your own understanding of it.  [Prov 28:20; 1 Tim 6:9, 10 ]

<sup>5</sup> When you set your eyes on wealth, it is [suddenly] gone.

For wealth certainly makes itself wings
Like an eagle that flies to the heavens.

<sup>6</sup> Do not eat the bread of a selfish man, ‡
Or desire his delicacies;

<sup>7</sup> For as he thinks in his heart, so is he [in behavior—one who manipulates]. ‡

He says to you, “Eat and drink,”
Yet his heart is not with you [but it is begrudging the cost].

<sup>8</sup> The morsel which you have eaten you will vomit up,
And you will waste your compliments.

<sup>9</sup> Do not speak in the ears of a fool, ‡
For he will despise the [godly] wisdom of your words.  [Is 32:6 ]

property]

And do not go into the fields of the fatherless [to take what is theirs],  [Deut 19:14 ; 27:17 ; Prov 22:28 ]

He will plead their case against you.

<sup>12</sup> Apply your heart to discipline
And your ears to words of knowledge.

<sup>13</sup>. Do not withhold discipline from the child; ‡
If you swat him with a reed-like rod [applied with godly wisdom], he will not die.

<sup>14</sup> You shall swat him with the reed-like rod And rescue his life from Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead).

<sup>15</sup>. My son, if your heart is wise,
My heart will also be glad;

<sup>16</sup> Yes, my heart will rejoice
When your lips speak right things.

<sup>17</sup> Do not let your heart envy sinners [who live godless lives and have no hope of salvation], ‡

But [continue to] live in the [reverent, worshipful] fear of the LORD day by day.

And your hope and expectation will not be cut off.

<sup>19</sup> Listen, my son, and be wise,
And direct your heart in the way [of the LORD].

Or with gluttonous eaters of meat,  [Is 5:22; Luke 21:34; Rom 13:13; Eph 5:18 ]

<sup>21</sup> For the heavy drinker and the glutton will come to poverty,
And the drowsiness [of overindulgence] will clothe one with rags.

<sup>22</sup> Listen to your father, who sired you, ‡
And do not despise your mother when she is old.

<sup>23</sup> Buy truth, and do not sell it; ‡
Get wisdom and instruction and understanding.

<sup>24</sup> The father of the righteous will greatly rejoice, ‡
And he who sires a wise child will have joy in him.

<sup>25</sup> Let your father and your mother be glad,
And let her who gave birth to you rejoice [in your wise and godly choices].

<sup>26</sup> My son, give me your heart
And let your eyes delight in my ways,

<sup>27</sup> For a prostitute is a deep pit, ‡
And an immoral woman is a narrow well.

<sup>28</sup> She lurks and lies in wait like a robber [who waits for prey], ‡
And she increases the faithless among men.

<sup>29</sup> Who has woe? Who has sorrow? ‡
Who has strife? Who has complaining?
Who has wounds without cause?
Whose eyes are red and dim?

<sup>30</sup> Those who linger long over wine, ‡
Those who go to taste mixed wine.  [Prov 20:1; Eph 5:18 ]

- <sup>31</sup> Do not look at wine when it is red,
When it sparkles in the glass,
When it goes down smoothly.
- <sup>32</sup> At the last it bites like a serpent
And stings like a viper.
- <sup>33</sup> Your [drunken] eyes will see strange things
And your mind will utter perverse things [untrue things, twisted things].
- <sup>34</sup> And you will be [as unsteady] as one who lies down in the middle of the sea,
And [as vulnerable to disaster] as one who lies down on the top of a ship's mast, saying,
- <sup>35</sup> “They struck me, but I was not hurt! ‡
They beat me, but I did not feel it!
When will I wake up?
I will seek more wine.”

Proverbs 24

Precepts and Warnings

- <sup>1</sup> DO NOT be envious of evil men, ‡
Nor desire to be with them;
- <sup>2</sup> For their minds plot violence,
And their lips talk of trouble [for the innocent].
- <sup>3</sup> Through [skillful and godly] wisdom a house [a life, a home,
a family] is built,
And by understanding it is established [on a sound and good foundation],
- <sup>4</sup> And by knowledge its rooms are filled
With all precious and pleasant riches.
- <sup>5</sup> A wise man is strong, ‡
And a man of knowledge strengthens his power;  [Prov 21:22
; Eccl 9:16 ]
- <sup>6</sup>. For by wise guidance you can wage your war, ‡
And in an abundance of [wise] counselors there is victory and safety.

<sup>7</sup> Wisdom is too exalted for a [hardened, arrogant] fool; ‡
He does not open his mouth in the gate [where the city's rulers sit in judgment].

<sup>8</sup> He who plans to do evil ‡
Will be called a schemer or deviser of evil.
<sup>9</sup> The devising of folly is sin,
And the scoffer is repulsive to men.

<sup>10</sup> If you are slack (careless) in the day of distress,
Your strength is limited.

<sup>11</sup> Rescue those who are being taken away to death, ‡
And those who stagger to the slaughter, Oh hold them back [from their doom]!

<sup>12</sup> If you [claim ignorance and] say, “See, we did not know this,” ‡
Does He not consider it who weighs and examines the hearts and their motives?
And does He not know it who guards your life and keeps your soul?
And will He not repay [you and] every man according to his works?

<sup>13</sup> My son, eat honey, because it is good, ‡
And the drippings of the honeycomb are sweet to your taste.

<sup>14</sup> Know that [skillful and godly] wisdom is [so very good] for your life and soul; ‡
If you find wisdom, then there will be a future and a reward,
And your hope and expectation will not be cut off.

<sup>15</sup> Do not lie in wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous;

Do not destroy his resting place;

But the wicked stumble in time of disaster and collapse.  [Job 5:19 ; Ps 34:19 ; 37:24 ; Mic 7:8 ]

<sup>17</sup> Do not rejoice and gloat when your enemy falls,‡
And do not let your heart be glad [in self-righteousness] when he stumbles,

<sup>18</sup> Or the LORD will see your gloating and be displeased,
And turn His anger away from your enemy.

<sup>19</sup> Do not get upset because of evildoers,‡

Or be envious of the wicked,

<sup>20</sup> For there will be no future for the evil man;
The lamp of the wicked will be put out.

<sup>21</sup> My son, fear the LORD and the king;‡

And do not associate with those who are given to change [of allegiance, and are revolutionary],

<sup>22</sup> For their tragedy will rise suddenly,

And who knows the punishment that both [the LORD and the king] will bring on the rebellious?

<sup>23</sup> These also are sayings of the wise:‡

To show partiality in judgment is not good.

<sup>24</sup> He who says to the wicked, “You are righteous,”‡

Peoples will curse him, nations will denounce him;

<sup>25</sup> But to those [honorable judges] who rebuke the wicked, it will go well with them and they will find delight,

And a good blessing will come upon them.

<sup>26</sup> He kisses the lips [and wins the hearts of people]

Who gives a right and straightforward answer.

And get it ready for yourself in the field;

Afterward build your house and establish a home.

<sup>28</sup> Do not be a witness against your neighbor without cause,‡
And do not deceive with your lips [speak neither lies nor half-truths].  [Eph 4:25 ]

<sup>29</sup> Do not say, “I will do to him as he has done to me;‡

I will pay the man back for his deed.”  [Prov 20:22 ; Matt 5:39
, 44 ; Rom 12:17 , 19 ]

<sup>30</sup> I went by the field of the lazy man,
And by the vineyard of the man lacking understanding and common sense;

<sup>31</sup> And, behold, it was all overgrown with thorns,‡
And nettles were covering its surface,
And its stone wall was broken down.

<sup>32</sup> When I saw, I considered it well;
I looked and received instruction.

<sup>33</sup> “Yet a little sleep, a little slumber,‡
A little folding of the hands to rest [and daydream],”

<sup>34</sup> Then your poverty will come as a robber,
And your want like an armed man.

Proverbs 25

Similitudes, Instructions

<sup>1</sup> THESE ARE also the proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied: [1 Kin 4:32] ‡

But the glory of kings is to search out a matter.  [Deut 29:29;
Rom 11:33 ]

<sup>3</sup> As the heavens for height and the earth for depth,
So the hearts and minds of kings are unsearchable.

<sup>4</sup> Take away the dross from the silver,‡
And there comes out [the pure metal for] a vessel for the silversmith [to shape].  [2 Tim 2:21 ]

<sup>5</sup> Take away the wicked from before the king,‡
And his throne will be established in righteousness.

<sup>6</sup>Do not be boastfully ambitious and claim honor in the presence of the king,
And do not stand in the place of great men;
For it is better that it be said to you, “Come up here,” ‡
Than for you to be placed lower in the presence of the prince, Whom your eyes have seen.  [Luke 14:8–10. ]

<sup>8</sup> Do not rush out to argue your case [before magistrates or judges]; ‡

Otherwise what will you do in the end [when your case is lost and]

When your neighbor (opponent) humiliates you?  [Prov 17:14 ; Matt 5:25 ]

And do not reveal another's secret,  [Matt 18:15 ]

<sup>10</sup> Or he who hears it will shame you

And the rumor about you [and your action in court] will have no end.

Is a word spoken at the right time.  [Prov 15:23 ; Is 50:4 ]

<sup>12</sup> Like an earring of gold and an ornament of fine gold

Is a wise reprobate to an ear that listens and learns.

<sup>13</sup> Like the cold of snow [brought from the mountains] in the time of harvest, ‡

So is a faithful messenger to those who send him;

For he refreshes the life of his masters.

<sup>14</sup> Like clouds and wind without rain ‡

Is a man who boasts falsely of gifts [he does not give].  [Jude 12 ]

<sup>15</sup>. By patience and a calm spirit a ruler may be persuaded, ‡

And a soft and gentle tongue breaks the bone [of resistance]. [

Gen 32:4 ; 1 Sam 25:24 ; Prov 15:1 ; 16:14 ]

Otherwise, being filled excessively, you vomit it.

<sup>17</sup> Let your foot seldom be in your neighbor's house,

Or he will become tired of you and hate you.

<sup>18</sup> Like a club and a sword and a piercing arrow ‡

<sup>19</sup> Like a broken tooth or an unsteady foot

Is confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble.

- reactive, useless mixture of] vinegar on soda,‡
Is he who [thoughtlessly] sings [joyful] songs to a heavy heart.  [Dan 6:18 ; Rom 12:15 ]
- <sup>21</sup>If your enemy is hungry, give him bread to eat;‡
And if he is thirsty, give him water to drink;  [Matt 5:44 ; Rom 12:20 ]
- <sup>22</sup>For in doing so, you will heap coals of fire upon his head,‡
And the LORD will reward you.
- <sup>23</sup>The north wind brings forth rain;‡
And a backbiting tongue, an angry countenance.
- <sup>24</sup>It is better to live in a corner of the housetop [on the flat roof, exposed to the weather]‡
Than in a house shared with a quarrelsome (contentious) woman.  [Prov 21:9 ]
- <sup>25</sup>Like cold water to a thirsty soul,
So is good news from a distant land.
- <sup>26</sup>Like a muddied fountain and a polluted spring
Is a righteous man who yields and compromises his integrity before the wicked.
- <sup>27</sup>It is not good to eat much honey,‡
Nor is it glorious to seek one's own glory.
- <sup>28</sup>Like a city that is broken down and without walls [leaving it unprotected]‡
Is a man who has no self-control over his spirit [and sets himself up for trouble].  [Prov 16:32 ]

Proverbs 26

Similitudes, Instructions

- <sup>1</sup> LIKE SNOW in summer and like rain in harvest,‡
So honor is not fitting for a [shortsighted] fool.  [Is 32:6 ]
- <sup>2</sup> Like the sparrow in her wandering, like the swallow in her flying,‡
So the curse without cause does not come and alight [on the undeserving].  [Num 23:8 ]
- <sup>3</sup> A whip for the horse, a bridle for the donkey,‡
And a rod for the backs of fools [who refuse to learn].

<sup>4</sup> Do not answer [nor pretend to agree with the frivolous comments of] a [closed-minded] fool according to his folly,

Otherwise you, even you, will be like him.

Otherwise he will be wise in his own eyes [if he thinks you agree with him].  [Matt 16:1-4; 21:24-27 ]

Cuts off his own feet (sabotages himself) and drinks the violence [it brings on himself as a consequence].  [Prov 13:17 ]

<sup>7</sup> Like the legs which are useless to the lame,

So is a proverb in the mouth of a fool [who cannot learn from its wisdom].

<sup>8</sup> Like one who [absurdly] binds a stone in a sling [making it impossible to throw],

So is he who [absurdly] gives honor to a fool.

<sup>9</sup> Like a thorn that goes [without being felt] into the hand of a drunken man,

So is a proverb in the mouth of a fool [who remains unaffected by its wisdom].

<sup>10</sup> Like a [careless] archer who [shoots arrows wildly and] wounds everyone,

So is he who hires a fool or those who [by chance just] pass by.

<sup>11</sup> Like a dog that returns to his vomit ‡

Is a fool who repeats his foolishness.

<sup>12</sup> Do you see a man [who is unteachable and] wise in his own eyes and full of self-conceit? ‡

There is more hope for a fool than for him.  [Prov 29:20; Luke 18:11; Rom 12:16; Rev 3:17 ]

<sup>13</sup> The lazy person [who is self-indulgent and relies on lame excuses] says, “There is a lion in the road!

A lion is in the open square [and if I go outside to work I will be killed]!”  [Prov 22:13 ]

<sup>14</sup> As the door turns on its hinges,

So does the lazy person on his bed [never getting out of it].

It wearies him to bring it back to his mouth.  [Prov 19:24 ]

<sup>16</sup> The lazy person is wiser in his own eyes

Than seven [sensible] men who can give a discreet answer.

<sup>17</sup> Like one who grabs a dog by the ears [and is likely to be bitten]

Is he who, passing by, stops to meddle with a dispute that is none of his business.

<sup>18</sup> Like a madman who throws

Firebrands, arrows, and death,

<sup>19</sup> So is the man who deceives his neighbor (acquaintance, friend) ‡

And then says, “Was I not joking?”  [Eph 5:4 ]

<sup>20</sup> For lack of wood the fire goes out,

And where there is no whisperer [who gossips], contention quiets down.

So is a contentious man to kindle strife.  [Prov 15:18 ; 29:22 ]

<sup>22</sup> The words of a whisperer (gossip) are like dainty morsels [to be greedily eaten];

They go down into the innermost chambers of the body [to be remembered and mused upon].  [Prov 18:8 ]

<sup>23</sup> Like a [common] clay vessel covered with the silver dross [making it appear silver when it has no real value]

Are burning lips [murmuring manipulative words] and a wicked heart.

<sup>24</sup> He who hates, disguises it with his lips,

But he stores up deceit in his heart.

<sup>25</sup> When he speaks graciously and kindly [to conceal his malice], do not trust him, ‡

For seven abominations are in his heart.

<sup>26</sup> Though his hatred covers itself with guile and deceit,

His malevolence will be revealed openly before the assembly.

And he who rolls a stone [up a hill to do mischief], it will come back on him.  [Ps 7:15 , 16 ; 9:15 ; 10:2 ; 57:6 ; Prov 28:10 ; Eccl 10:8 ]

<sup>28</sup> A lying tongue hates those it wounds and crushes,
And a flattering mouth works ruin.

Proverbs 27

Warnings and Instructions

<sup>1</sup> DO NOT boast about tomorrow,
For you do not know what a day may bring.  [Luke 12:19, 20 ;
James 4:13 ]

A stranger, and not your own lips.

<sup>3</sup> Stone is heavy and the sand weighty,
But a fool's [unreasonable] wrath is heavier and more burdensome than both of them.

But who is able to endure and stand before [the sin of] jealousy?

Than love that is hidden.  [Prov 28:23 ; Gal 2:14 ]

<sup>6</sup> Faithful are the wounds of a friend [who corrects out of love and concern],
But the kisses of an enemy are deceitful [because they serve his hidden agenda].

<sup>7</sup> He who is satisfied loathes honey,
But to the hungry soul any bitter thing is sweet.

<sup>8</sup> Like a bird that wanders from her nest [with its comfort and safety],
So is a man who wanders from his home.

<sup>9</sup> Oil and perfume make the heart glad;
So does the sweetness of a friend's counsel that comes from the heart.

<sup>10</sup> Do not abandon your own friend and your father's friend, ‡
And do not go to your brother's house in the day of your disaster.

Better is a neighbor who is near than a brother who is far away.

That I may reply to him who reproaches (reprimands, criticizes) me.  [Prov 10:1; 23:15, 24 ]

<sup>12</sup> A prudent man sees evil and hides himself and avoids it, But the naive [who are easily misled] continue on and are punished [by suffering the consequences of sin].  [Prov 22:3 ]

<sup>13</sup> [The judge tells the creditor,] “Take the garment of one who is surety (guarantees a loan) for a stranger; And hold him in pledge when he is surety for an immoral woman [for it is unlikely the debt will be repaid].”  [Prov 20:16 ]

<sup>14</sup> He who blesses his neighbor with a loud voice early in the morning, It will be counted as a curse to him [for it will either be annoying or his purpose will be suspect].

<sup>18</sup> He who tends the fig tree will eat its fruit, ‡ And he who faithfully protects and cares for his master will be honored.  [1 Cor 9:7, 13 ]

Nor are the eyes of man ever satisfied.  [Prov 30:16; Hab 2:5 ]

<sup>22</sup> Even though you pound a [hardened, arrogant] fool [who rejects wisdom] in a mortar with a pestle like grain, ‡

Yet his foolishness will not leave him.

<sup>23</sup> Be diligent to know the condition of your flocks,
And pay attention to your herds;

<sup>24</sup> For riches are not forever,
Nor does a crown endure to all generations.

<sup>25</sup> When the grass is gone, the new growth is seen, ‡
And herbs of the mountain are gathered in,

<sup>26</sup> The lambs will supply wool for your clothing,
And the goats will bring the price of a field.

<sup>27</sup> And there will be enough goats' milk for your food,
For the food of your household,
And for the maintenance of your maids.

Proverbs 28

Warnings and Instructions

But the righteous are as bold as a lion.  [Lev 26:17, 36; Ps 53:5 ]

<sup>2</sup> When a land does wrong, it has many princes,
But when the ruler is a man of understanding and knowledge, its stability endures.

<sup>3</sup> A poor man who oppresses and exploits the lowly ‡
Is like a sweeping rain which leaves no food.  [Matt 18:28 ]

<sup>4</sup> Those who set aside the law [of God and man] praise the wicked, ‡
But those who keep the law [of God and man] struggle with them.  [Prov 29:18 ]

<sup>5</sup> Evil men do not understand justice, ‡
But they who long for and seek the LORD understand it fully.
 [John 7:17; 1 Cor 2:15; 1 John 2:20, 27 ]

Than he who is crooked and two-faced though he is rich.  [Prov 19:1 ]

<sup>7</sup> He who keeps the law [of God and man] is a wise and discerning son, ‡

But he who is a companion of gluttons humiliates his father [and himself].

Gathers it for him who is gracious to the poor.  [Job 27:16 , 17 ; Prov 13:22 ; Eccl 2:26 ]

<sup>9</sup> He who turns his ear away from listening to the law [of God and man], ‡

Even his prayer is repulsive [to God].  [Ps 66:18 ; 109:7 ; Prov 15:8 ; Zech 7:11 ]

Will himself fall into his own pit,

But the blameless will inherit good.

<sup>11</sup> The rich man [who is conceited and relies on his wealth instead of God] is wise in his own eyes,

But the poor man who has understanding [because he relies on God] is able to see through him.

<sup>12</sup> When the righteous triumph, there is great glory and celebration; ‡

But when the wicked rise [to prominence], men hide themselves.

But whoever confesses and turns away from his sins will find compassion and mercy.  [Ps 32:3 , 5 ; 1 John 1:8–10 ]

<sup>14</sup> Blessed and favored by God is the man who fears [sin and its consequence] at all times, ‡

But he who hardens his heart [and is determined to sin] will fall into disaster.

<sup>15</sup> Like a roaring lion and a charging bear ‡

Is a wicked ruler over a poor people.

<sup>16</sup> A leader who is a great oppressor lacks understanding and common sense [and his wickedness shortens his days],

But he who hates unjust gain will [be blessed and] prolong his days.

<sup>17</sup> A man who is burdened with the guilt of human blood (murder) ‡

Will be a fugitive until death; let no one support him or give him refuge.

<sup>18</sup> He who walks blamelessly and uprightly will be kept safe, ‡
But he who is crooked (perverse) will suddenly fall.

<sup>19</sup> He who cultivates his land will have plenty of bread, ‡
But he who follows worthless people and frivolous pursuits will have plenty of poverty.

But he who hurries to be rich will not go unpunished.  [Prov 13:11; 20:21; 23:4; 1 Tim 6:9 ]

<sup>21</sup> To have regard for one person over another and to show favoritism is not good, ‡
Because for a piece of bread a man will transgress.

<sup>22</sup> He who has an evil and envious eye hurries to be rich ‡
And does not know that poverty will come upon him.  [Prov 21:5; 28:20 ]

<sup>23</sup> He who [appropriately] reprimands a [wise] man will afterward find more favor ‡
Than he who flatters with the tongue.

<sup>24</sup> He who robs his father or his mother ‡
And says, “This is no sin,”
Is [not only a thief but also] the companion of a man who destroys.

But he who trusts in the LORD will be blessed and prosper.

<sup>26</sup> He who trusts confidently in his own heart is a [dull, thickheaded] fool,
But he who walks in [skillful and godly] wisdom will be rescued.  [James 1:5 ]

<sup>27</sup> He who gives to the poor will never want, ‡
But he who shuts his eyes [from their need] will have many curses.  [Deut 15:7; Prov 19:17; 22:9 ]

<sup>28</sup> When the wicked rise [to power], men hide themselves; ‡
But when the wicked perish, the [consistently] righteous increase and become great.  [Prov 28:12 ]

Proverbs 29

Warnings and Instructions

<sup>1</sup> HE WHO hardens his neck and refuses instruction after being often reproved (corrected, criticized), ‡

Will suddenly be broken beyond repair.

<sup>2</sup> When the righteous are in authority and become great, the people rejoice; ‡

But when the wicked man rules, the people groan and sigh.

<sup>3</sup> A man who loves [skillful and godly] wisdom makes his father joyful, ‡

But he who associates with prostitutes wastes his wealth.

<sup>4</sup> The king establishes (stabilizes) the land by justice,

But a man who takes bribes overthrows it.

<sup>5</sup>—A man who flatters his neighbor [with smooth words intending to do harm]

Is spreading a net for his own feet.

But the righteous man sings and rejoices [for his plan brings good things to him].

But the wicked man has no interest in such knowledge.  [Job 29:16 ; 31:13 ; Ps 41:1 ]

<sup>8</sup> Scoffers set a city afire [by stirring up trouble], ‡

But wise men turn away anger [and restore order with their good judgment].

The foolish man [ignores logic and fairness and] only rages or laughs, and there is no peace (rest, agreement).

But the upright are concerned for his life.  [Gen 4:5 , 8 ; 1 John 3:12 ]

<sup>11</sup> A [shortsighted] fool always loses his temper and displays his anger, ‡

But a wise man [uses self-control and] holds it back.

<sup>12</sup> If a ruler pays attention to lies [and encourages corruption], All his officials will become wicked.

The LORD gives light to the eyes of both.  [Prov 22:2 ]

<sup>14</sup>If a king faithfully and truthfully judges the poor, ‡
His throne shall be established forever.

<sup>15</sup>The rod and reproof (godly instruction) give wisdom, ‡
But a child who gets his own way brings shame to his mother.

<sup>16</sup>When the wicked are in authority, transgression increases, ‡
But the righteous will see the downfall of the wicked.

<sup>17</sup>Correct your son, and he will give you comfort; ‡
Yes, he will delight your soul.

<sup>18</sup>Where there is no vision [no revelation of God and His word], the people are unrestrained; ‡

But happy and blessed is he who keeps the law [of God]. [
1 Sam 3:1 ; Amos 8:11, 12 ]

<sup>19</sup>A servant will not be corrected by words alone;
For though he understands, he will not respond [nor pay attention].

<sup>20</sup>Do you see a [conceited] man who speaks quickly [offering his opinions or answering without thinking]? ‡

There is more hope for a [thickheaded] fool than for him.

<sup>21</sup>He who pampers his slave from childhood
Will find him to be a son in the end.

<sup>22</sup>An angry man stirs up strife, ‡
And a hot-tempered and undisciplined man commits many transgressions.

<sup>23</sup>A man's pride and sense of self-importance will bring him down, ‡

But he who has a humble spirit will obtain honor.  [Prov 15:33
; 18:12 ; Is 66:2 ; Dan 4:30 ; Matt 23:12 ; James 4:6, 10 ;
1 Pet 5:5 ]

<sup>24</sup>Whoever is partner with a thief hates his own life; ‡
He hears the curse [when swearing an oath to testify], but discloses nothing [and commits perjury by omission].

<sup>25</sup>The fear of man brings a snare, ‡
But whoever trusts in and puts his confidence in the LORD will be exalted and safe.

<sup>26</sup>Many seek the ruler's favor, ‡

But justice for man comes from the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> An unjust man is repulsive to the righteous,
And he who is upright in the way [of the LORD] is repulsive to the wicked.

Proverbs 30

The Words of Agur

<sup>1</sup> THE WORDS of Agur the son of Jakeh, the oracle:
The man says to Ithiel, to Ithiel and to Ucal:

<sup>2</sup> Surely I am more brutish and stupid than any man, ‡
And I do not have the understanding of a man [for I do not know what I do not know].

<sup>3</sup> I have not learned [skillful and godly] wisdom, Nor do I have knowledge of the Holy One [who is the source of wisdom].

<sup>4</sup> Who has ascended into heaven and descended? ‡
Who has gathered the wind in His fists?
Who has bound the waters in His garment?
Who has established all the ends of the earth?
What is His name, and what is His Son's name?
Certainly you know!  [John 3:13; Rev 19:12 ]

He is a shield to those who trust and take refuge in Him.  [Ps 18:30; 84:11; 115:9–11 ]

<sup>6</sup> Do not add to His words, ‡
Or He will reprove you, and you will be found a liar.

<sup>7</sup> Two things I have asked of You;
Do not deny them to me before I die:

<sup>8</sup> Keep deception and lies far from me; ‡
Give me neither poverty nor riches;
Feed me with the food that is my portion,

<sup>9</sup> So that I will not be full and deny You and say, “Who is the LORD?” ‡

Or that I will not be poor and steal,
And so profane the name of my God.  [Deut 8:12, 14, 17; Neh 9:25, 26; Job 31:24; Hos 13:6 ]

10 Do not slander or malign a servant before his master [stay out of another's personal life],

Or he will curse you [for your interference], and you will be found guilty.

11 There is a generation (class of people) that curses its father
And does not bless its mother.

12 There is a generation (class of people) that is pure in its own eyes, ‡

Yet is not washed from its filthiness.

13 There is a generation (class of people)—oh, how lofty are their eyes! ‡

And their eyelids are raised in arrogance.

14 There is a generation (class of people) whose teeth are like swords ‡

And whose jaw teeth are like knives,
To devour the afflicted from the earth
And the needy from among men.

15 The leech has two daughters,

“Give, give!”

There are three things that are never satisfied,
Four that do not say, “It is enough”:

16 Sheol, and the barren womb, ‡

Earth that is never satisfied with water,
And fire that never says, “It is enough.”

17 The eye that mocks a father ‡

And scorns a mother,

The ravens of the valley will pick it out,
And the young vultures will devour it.  [Lev 20:9; Prov 20:20 ; 23:22 ]

18 There are three things which are too astounding and unexpectedly wonderful for me,

Four which I do not understand:

- 19. The way of an eagle in the air,
The way of a serpent on a rock,
The way of a ship in the middle of the sea,
And the way of a man with a maid.
- 20. This is the way of an adulterous woman:
She eats and wipes her mouth
And says, “I have done no wrong.”

21 Under three things the earth is disquieted and quakes,
And under four it cannot bear up:

22 Under a servant when he reigns, ‡
Under a [spiritually blind] fool when he is filled with food, 23 Under an unloved woman when she gets married,
And under a maidservant when she supplants her mistress.

24. There are four things that are small on the earth,
But they are exceedingly wise:

25 The ants are not a strong people, ‡
Yet they prepare their food in the summer;  [Prov 6:6 ]

26 The shephanim are not a mighty folk, ‡
Yet they make their houses in the rocks;  [Ps 104:18 ]

27 The locusts have no king,
Yet all of them go out in groups;

28 You may grasp the lizard with your hands,
Yet it is in kings’ palaces.

29 There are three things which are stately in step,
Even four which are stately in their stride:

30 The lion, which is mighty among beasts
And does not turn back before any;

31 The strutting rooster, the male goat also,
And the king when his army is with him.

32. If you have foolishly exalted yourself, ‡
Or if you have plotted evil, put your hand on your mouth.  [Job 21:5; 40:4 ]

33 Surely the churning of milk produces butter,

And wringing the nose produces blood;
So the churning of anger produces strife.

Proverbs 31

The Words of Lemuel

1 THE WORDS of King Lemuel, the oracle, which his mother taught him:

2 What, O my son? ‡

And what, O son of my womb?

And what [shall I advise you], O son of my vows?

3 Do not give your [generative] strength to women [neither foreign wives in marriages of alliances, nor concubines], ‡

Nor your ways to that which destroys kings.

4. It is not for kings, O Lemuel, ‡

It is not for kings to drink wine,

Or for rulers to desire strong drink,  [Eccl 10:17 ; Hos 4:11 ]

5 Otherwise they drink and forget the law and its decrees, ‡

And pervert the rights and justice of all the afflicted.

6 Give strong drink [as medicine] to him who is ready to pass away, ‡

And wine to him whose life is bitter.

7 Let him drink and forget his poverty

And no longer remember his trouble.

8 Open your mouth for the mute, ‡

For the rights of all who are unfortunate and defenseless;  [1 Sam 19:4 ; Esth 4:16 ; Job 29:15 , 16 ]

9 Open your mouth, judge righteously, ‡

And administer justice for the afflicted and needy.  [Lev 19:15 ; Deut 1:16 ; Job 29:12 ; Is 1:17 ; Jer 22:16 ]

Description of a Worthy Woman

10—An excellent woman [one who is spiritual, capable, intelligent, and virtuous], who is he who can find her?

Her value is more precious than jewels and her worth is far above rubies or pearls.  [Prov 12:4 ; 18:22 ; 19:14 ]

<sup>11</sup> The heart of her husband trusts in her [with secure confidence],

And he will have no lack of gain.

<sup>12</sup> She comforts, encourages, and does him only good and not evil

All the days of her life.

<sup>13</sup> She looks for wool and flax

And works with willing hands in delight.

<sup>14</sup> She is like the merchant ships [abounding with treasure];
She brings her [household's] food from far away.

<sup>15</sup> She rises also while it is still night ‡

And gives food to her household

And assigns tasks to her maids.  [Job 23:12 ]

<sup>16</sup> She considers a field before she buys or accepts it [expanding her business prudently];

With her profits she plants fruitful vines in her vineyard.

<sup>17</sup> She equips herself with strength [spiritual, mental, and physical fitness for her God-given task]

And makes her arms strong.

Her lamp does not go out, but it burns continually through the night [she is prepared for whatever lies ahead].

<sup>19</sup> She stretches out her hands to the distaff,

And her hands hold the spindle [as she spins wool into thread for clothing].

<sup>20</sup> She opens and extends her hand to the poor, ‡

And she reaches out her filled hands to the needy.

For all in her household are clothed in [expensive] scarlet [wool].  [Josh 2:18 , 19 ; Heb 9:19–22 ]

Her clothing is linen, pure and fine, and purple [wool].  [Is 61:10 ; 1 Tim 2:9 ; Rev 3:5 ; 19:8 , 14 ]

<sup>23</sup> Her husband is known in the [city's] gates, ‡

When he sits among the elders of the land.  [Prov 12:4 ]

<sup>24</sup> She makes [fine] linen garments and sells them;
And supplies sashes to the merchants.

<sup>25</sup> Strength and dignity are her clothing and her position is strong and secure;
And she smiles at the future [knowing that she and her family are prepared].

<sup>26</sup> She opens her mouth in [skillful and godly] wisdom,
And the teaching of kindness is on her tongue [giving counsel and instruction].

And does not eat the bread of idleness.  [1 Tim 5:14; Titus 2:5
]

<sup>28</sup> Her children rise up and call her blessed (happy, prosperous, to be admired);
Her husband also, and he praises her, saying,

<sup>29</sup> “Many daughters have done nobly, and well [with the strength of character that is steadfast in goodness],
But you excel them all.”

<sup>30</sup> Charm and grace are deceptive, and [superficial] beauty is vain,

But a woman who fears the LORD [reverently worshiping, obeying, serving, and trusting Him with awe-filled respect], she shall be praised.

<sup>31</sup> Give her of the product of her hands,
And let her own works praise her in the gates [of the city]. [
Phil 4:8 ]

1:2–3 To know . . . To discern . . . To receive. These verbs refer to the ways we acquire wisdom. Wisdom refers to skill. Instruction could also be translated discipline; it refers to the process of receiving knowledge and applying it to daily life.

1:3 Righteousness, justice, and integrity. Biblical wisdom also has a moral context. It involves all of life and may often involve a change of behavior and a commitment to justice.

1:4 knowledge and discretion \(intelligent discernment\) to the youth. The young have little experience and are more likely to make mistakes. A wise person has learned by experience how to distinguish what is true, praiseworthy, and good from what is false, shameful, and bad (Ro 12:1–2 ).

[1:7 The \[reverent\] fear of the LORD .](#) This concept is the most basic ingredient in wisdom. Fools have rejected the fear of the Lord. The term “despise” is strongly negative. Not fearing God is the same as rejecting wisdom outright (Da 11:32 ; Jn 17:3 ).

1:8 My son, hear. The opening words of wisdom’s instruction come as an appeal from parents to their son (a generic term for child)—a theme that continues throughout the book. Both the Old and New Testament have one central teaching for children to understand—obey your parents. The Fifth Commandment makes honoring parents the foundational teaching in human relationships. It is also the only Commandment that comes with a promise, “that your days [on the earth] may be prolonged” (Dt 5:16 ). Paul’s teaching in Ephesians 6:1 echoes what we see here in Proverbs. Obeying parents is the right thing to do.

From obedience springs the ability to deal with all the other important issues of life. The child who has not learned to obey his parents, who are God’s representatives in the family, will probably not learn to obey God.

Christ’s obedience is the perfect illustration. He was obedient to God the Father even though that obedience resulted in His death ( Php 2:6–8 ). Being obedient for Christ meant no qualifications or limitations on that obedience.

1:15–18 My son, do not walk on the road with them. The parents speak words of caution. One step on the precipitous path is a step toward destruction. Spreading a net in the sight of the bird one wishes to trap would be a fruitless task. Yet the fool is less sensible than the bird; he will watch the trap being set and get caught in it anyway.

1:19 takes away the lives. The study of wisdom is a matter of life and death.

1:20–21 Wisdom shouts. The word wisdom is plural and intensive. This fact calls attention to the word and heightens its meaning.

1:22–27 How long, O naive ones [you who are easily misled], will you love being simple-minded and undiscerning? Wisdom addresses the naive ones. These are young people who have not yet made up their minds about life or the direction they will take. Wisdom ridicules those who reject her when they come to face the inevitable judgment of their foolishness (Ps 2:4 ). Yet wisdom also laughs with joy at God’s work and has delight in the people of God (8:30–31 ).

1:28–33 I will not answer. When fools despise wisdom, they must face the results of their choice. Their hatred for wisdom arises out of refusal to fear God (v. 29 ). Fools bring about their own destruction. In contrast, those who listen to her will find security.

2:1–5 My son. These verses begin the second of the “my son” passages and tie the concepts of wisdom and the knowledge of God more closely together. Wisdom is near but not always easy to embrace.

2:5–8 the [reverent] fear of the LORD . . . the knowledge of God. When a person seeks wisdom, he or she finds it. Those who know God, fear or revere Him. sound wisdom. This is another word for wisdom that can also mean “abiding success” or “victory.”

2:10–11 wisdom will enter your heart. This phrase stresses the internalization of wisdom. The proverbs do not merely provide knowledge; they provide insight into practical living.

2:12–15 the way of evil and the evil man. Evil is directly contrasted with wisdom. It is characterized by perverse things such as lies, deceptions, and deviousness.

2:16–19 the immoral woman. Adultery was foreign and strange to the ideal of God’s law. “Immoral” also implied prostitution, because of the ancient Middle Eastern fertility cults that included sexual practices in their worship rituals. The adulteress is described as a flatterer, and flattery is the method used by the adulteress, not only in trapping her victims, but in excusing her sin (30:20 ). She is unfaithful to her husband and prefers to forget the covenant of her God (2:17 ).

3:3–4 mercy and kindness and truth. These words describe God’s character (Ps 100:5 ). The apostle John used the Greek equivalent of these words, “grace and truth,” to describe Jesus’ character in John 1:14 .

3:5–6 Trust in and rely confidently on the LORD . The verb “trust” is complemented by the verb “rely.” Trusting in God is a conscious dependence on God, much like relying on a tree for support. The command to acknowledge Him means to observe Him and get to know Him in the process of living. These are the vital elements of faith that should fill every area of life.

3:9 the first fruits of all your crops. God expects that out of the blessings we receive we should readily give. One aspect of worship is giving. These verses should not be taken as a formula for getting rich. They point to what is the proper response to God’s gifts to us, not a return we get for investing.

3:11–12 the discipline of the LORD . Discipline is the other side of God’s grace. We should cherish God’s correction in our lives, because God disciplines those he loves (Heb 2:7–10 ).

3:13–18 Happy. The Beatitudes of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount (Mt 5:3–12 ) work much the way these verses do. God is pleased with people who discover that wisdom is a priceless treasure.

3:19 by His wisdom has founded the earth. One of the central themes in Proverbs is the association of wisdom with creation (8:1–36 ).

3:21 let them not escape. This verse encourages the son to keep faith with wisdom. The intent is much like that of the Shema (Dt 6:4–9 ).

4:1–4 I was a son with my father. In Israel training in wisdom happened in the home. As his father had taught him, so the son now teaches his own sons, one generation instructing another. The call for parents to teach the things of God to their children is based on Deuteronomy 6:7 .

4:5–7 Get [skillful and godly] wisdom. Verses 5–9 present an impassioned plea from the father to his sons to acquire wisdom whatever the cost. The presentation follows a pattern: statement, restatement, embellishment. By making generous use of creative restatement, the ideas come through strongly.

4:9 garland of grace . . . crown of beauty and glory. These phrases emphasize the supreme value of wisdom. The person who holds wisdom in highest esteem and embraces it will be exalted and honored.

4:20–27 Watch over your heart with all diligence. This section demands constancy of heart and purpose, honesty in speech, steadiness of gaze, and a right goal in walk and life. Setting off on the path of wisdom is no casual thing.

5:1–6 the lips of an immoral woman drip honey. Chapter 5 returns to the theme of the immoral woman (2:16–19 ). This passage speaks strongly for marital fidelity against all pressure to the contrary.

5:5 Her feet go down to death. This verse warns us of the deadly effects of immorality. Fornication, adultery, and prostitution lead to personality decay, venereal disease, abortion, separation, and divorce.

5:8–10 Let your way [in life] be far from her. Some temptations should be avoided at all cost. A wise son knows this and will not go near an immoral woman. The apostle Paul's instruction to Timothy to flee youthful lusts (2Ti 2:22 ) teaches the same theme.

5:15 Drink waters from your own cistern. This image is a clear call to marital fidelity.

5:18 And rejoice in the wife of your youth. We are encouraged to find mutual joy and pleasure in the marriage bed. It is in fact blessed by God.

6:1 if you have become surety (guaranteed a debt or obligation) for your neighbor. This phrase refers to responsibility for someone else's debt as in cosigning a loan. This does not mean we should never be generous, only that we should not promise what we cannot deliver.

6:6 Go to the ant, O lazy one. This passage is a warning about laziness. A lazy person is a captive to leisure. He can learn all he needs to know by studying the work habits of the ant.

6:12 a wicked man. He is a troublemaker. Unlike the sluggard, whose only desire is to take a nap, the troublemaker cannot wait to cause more problems. He delights in creating dissension.

6:16 Indeed, seven are repulsive to Him. The use of numerical progression—six, indeed seven—in these proverbs is a rhetorical device that embellishes the poetry and serves as a memory aid. It gives the impression that there is more to be said about the topic. The word “repulsive” is the Bible’s strongest expression of hatred for wickedness.

6:23 Illumination of God’s Word— Illumination is the last of three important steps that God takes to communicate with us. The first step is revelation which occurred when God spoke to the authors of the Bible. The second step was inspiration, which is the process God used to guide them in correctly writing down His message. The third step provides understanding as men and women hear and see God’s message. It is a divine process whereby God causes the written revelation to be understood by the human heart.

Christians need this illumination because we are blinded by our fallen fleshly natures (1Co 2:14 ) and by Satan himself (2Co 4:3–4 ). The Holy Spirit is the one who illuminates us (Jn 14:26 ). We see this illumination process at work in Acts 2 when over 3,000 people respond to Peter’s message and become followers of Christ.

Christians also need this illumination on a day to day basis to help them fully grasp the marvelous message in God's Word. Paul tells us that the Holy Spirit will show these tremendous truths to us as we read the Scriptures (1Co 2:10; 2Co 4:6). Go to Theological Notes Index

6:30 if he steals To satisfy himself . . . hungry. This passage is not condoning theft. It merely contrasts theft with adultery, which never makes sense. For ancient Israelites, marital fidelity was a mark of one's fidelity to God.

7:1–5 as the apple of your eye. People should guard wise words as instinctively as they protect the pupil of the eye.

7:15 I came out to meet you. All the adulteress does is perverse. Here she presents an offering as a feast for the young man she plans to entrap. She overcomes her target's fear by assuring him that her husband will not come home and discover them together.

7:22 as one in stocks going to the correction. This passage uses several unflattering metaphors to describe how a young fool falls into immorality.

8:1 Does not wisdom call. Wisdom, in contrast to foolishness, wants to reach everyone and therefore broadcasts her message publicly, unlike the immoral woman, who uses privacy and deception to achieve her goals. Wisdom is open to all. Her location is at the place of decision, the place of authority, the place of beginnings. She speaks loudly, but only those who adjust their lives to God's truth actually enjoy the spoils of wisdom.

8:13 The [reverent] fear . . . of the LORD includes the hatred of evil. The offer of wisdom is held out only to those who fear God. Coming to wisdom requires coming to God, and coming to God means turning away from all that God hates—evil, pride, and arrogance.

8:15 By me kings reign And rulers. Power and authority require the use of wisdom.

8:30–31 as a master craftsman. With wisdom's skill, God created the universe. A proper study of the universe is a progressive study of God's wisdom. Her greatest joy comes in the finest of the work of God—the sons of men—that is, humankind.

9:1 seven pillars. The number seven represents completeness, as it often does in Semitic poetry. That is, it is not that there were precisely seven pillars so much as that the house of wisdom was solidly built and substantial in character.

9:2 mixed her wine. Wine was a staple in ancient Israel; but when a feast was special, a homemaker would add aromatic spices to the wine, enlivening the bouquet and improving the taste (SS 8:2). This idea sets up a contrast with the foolish woman. While wisdom is busy, attending to every detail like a gracious hostess, the foolish woman sits at the entrance of her house with very little to do (9:14).

9:4 Whoever is naive or inexperienced. Wisdom makes a point of inviting the naive, meaning those who have not yet made up their minds about their course in life. The person who comes to wisdom has nothing to lose but naiveté. Hebrews 5:14 speaks of a mature person as one who is able to eat and enjoy solid food, in contrast to the naive, who is able only to drink milk.

9:7 He who corrects and instructs a scoffer. This personality is thoroughly set against wisdom (1:22) and scoffs at the things of God (Ps 1:1). By contrast a wise man accepts correction and responds with gratitude to the one who points out his error.

9:13–18 The foolish woman is restless and noisy. This section is a parody of 9:1–6. Like personified wisdom, the woman of folly calls out an invitation. But she is brash, loud, undisciplined, and knows nothing (7:10–12). She cries out in the same words that wisdom has used, but she has no marvelous banquet for her guests, only shabby food, stolen and meager.

9:18 the dead are there. Fools cast away all restraint and express their freedom in direct defiance of heaven's moral law for the ordering of our conduct on earth. But they do not know that the end of such perverse behavior is death. The way of wisdom is to turn from such a disastrous course while there is time.

10:1 The proverbs of Solomon. This section focuses on the wise son in contrast with the foolish son. Son is used generically for son and daughter.

10:4 negligent and idle hand. Proverbs often links laziness with poverty, and hard work with riches.

10:7 But the name of the wicked. In biblical times a person's name was most significant. When a person's name was remembered by future generations for good, that person's life was believed to have been of great value. But when the memory of a name rotted away, it was as though that person had never lived.

10:9 walks in integrity. Many of the proverbs contrast two paths of life. This phrase means conforming to God's law as a course of life. Choosing crooked paths is willfully to disdain the guidance God so graciously provided.

10:12 Hatred . . . love. This verse describes interpersonal relationships, not salvation. When people respond in love to each other, they cover over the sins or offenses that would otherwise come between them.

10:13 But discipline and the rod are for the back of the one. Rod refers to punishment, in this case deserved. The phrase "lack of understanding" comes from the Hebrew idiom "lack heart." The one who "lacks heart" is contrasted with the one who is "wise in heart" (10:8 ).

10:14–15 store up and treasure knowledge. This set of verses contrasts the wise person's pursuit of knowledge with the empty talk of a fool. Wealth is like a fortress. In biblical times only walled cities had any defense against enemy armies.

10:16–17 The wages of the righteous . . . is [a worthwhile, meaningful] life. These verses present the doctrine of the two ways. The righteous are on the way of life but the wicked wander from it.

10:23 Engaging in evil is like sport. Sport here usually means "joyous laughter." Here the proverb uses the word in a completely negative sense. For the fool, wickedness is only a game. He makes up the rules as he goes along; for losing is only in getting caught. But a person who has understanding takes a longer-term perspective.

10:25 But the righteous has an everlasting foundation. The short-lived nature of the wicked is contrasted with the stability of the righteous. The foundation of righteousness is faith in God, much like the waters that nourish the tree of Psalm 1:3 .

10:28 hope . . . expectation. The righteous have something to look forward to; the wicked do not.

10:29 The way of the LORD is a stronghold to the upright. Different people see the way of the Lord differently. Those who are innocent see it as a shelter from the storm. Those who practice iniquity see it only as a source of condemnation and wrath. The viewer's perspective makes all the difference.

10:31–32 The mouth of the righteous flows with [skillful and godly] wisdom. These verses form another pair of sentences about true and false speech. This repetition with variation indicates the significance of truth and falsehood.

11:1 A false balance and dishonest business practices are extremely offensive to the LORD . Dealing fairly with one another is an outgrowth of the command to love one's neighbor as oneself (Lev 19:18 ), which in turn is an outgrowth of the central command given to Israel, to love God above all else (Dt 6:4–9 ). That is why dishonest scales are an abomination to God.

11:2 When pride comes. Many proverbs contrast the arrogant with the humble, as this one does. The Hebrew word for pride comes from a root that means "to boil up"; it refers to a raging arrogance or insolence.

11:10 When it goes well for the righteous. Truly righteous people bring justice to all the inhabitants of a city, and the city experiences true peace. Many of the psalm writers cried for vindication of the righteous and for a cessation of evil (Ps 69:22–28 ).

11:13 a gossip reveals secrets. A faithful friend conceals delicate matters that an unfaithful person reveals.

11:14 in the abundance of [wise and godly] counselors. In modern times, as in the past, leaders of nations need adequate counsel. We all need to seek advice from wise and trustworthy people.

11:17 The merciful and generous man benefits his soul. Throughout the Bible, God promises that good actions will return to you in benefits. Behavior that hurts others will hurt you as well.

11:19 attains life. Proverbs such as this remind us that the pursuit of righteousness is a matter of life and death.

11:22 ring of gold. A golden jewel would be ludicrous on a pig's snout. To the ancient Israelites, pigs were unclean and repellent. The immoral person is compared to such an animal, no matter what the outward appearance might be.

11:24–26 There is the one who [generously] scatters. These proverbs should shape our attitudes toward wealth: We should share it. Stinginess may lead to poverty. Generosity has the opposite effect. Selfishness is foolish because it only creates enemies and dishonors God.

11:31 much more. This proverb argues from a premise to a conclusion. Since the righteous will finally find their reward, it follows that the wicked, who are defiant toward God and in conflict with His works, will certainly receive judgment.

12:1 But he who hates reproof and correction is stupid. Literally "stupid as a cow."

12:4 A virtuous and excellent wife. A husband should rejoice in such a woman because her noble character brings him honor.

12:5–6 The thoughts and purposes of the [consistently] righteous. A person's thoughts are the foundation of his or her words and deeds. The words of wicked persons can be like a deadly ambush.

12:9 Better is he. This verse contrasts a person who is a "nobody" but has a servant with a person who makes a great display but does not even have food on the table. Pretension destroys those who indulge in it.

12:16 quickly known. Careless words can make a fool out of us, so we are wise to think before we speak. Whereas the wise man restrains his anger and turns it away, the fool constantly loses his temper (29:11 ).

12:18–19 But the tongue of the wise brings healing. Many proverbs praise people who speak carefully and truthfully. Speech reflects a person's character. The words of a righteous person soothe the listener.

12:22 Lying lips are extremely disgusting. This phrase conveys extreme hatred.

12:25 Anxiety in a man's heart weighs it down. Anxiety loses some of its force in the face of a positive, encouraging word. Barnabas is an example of an encourager in the early church (Ac 4:36 ).

12:26 The righteous man is a guide to his neighbor. Our friends help to determine who we will become, and an excellent example inspires us to copy.

12:27 The lazy man. Lazy people do work, they just don't always finish what they start. The cure for their laziness is diligence—to follow through to the end.

13:5 A righteous man hates lies. The person who hates lying does not merely feel bad about it; he avoids it like the plague.

13:7 rich, yet has nothing at all. The paradox of greed causing poverty, and of generosity causing wealth, is a recurring theme in Scripture (Mt 6:19–21 ). The point is not how much money you have, but what you do with it.

13:9 The light of the righteous [within him—grows brighter and] rejoices. For an ancient Israelite, an oil lamp would be the only source of light at night. Without it, a person had no way of seeing the path in front of him.

13:10 Through pride. It is self-centeredness and having to push one's own ideas that bring quarrels. The wise know when to speak and when to keep still.

13:11 Wealth obtained by fraud dwindles. This proverb describes the natural long-term consequences of cheating. People who compromise their honesty to get rich merely postpone the inevitable need to earn their keep. The day comes when their cheating catches up with them, but by then their honest colleagues have become far better at obtaining wealth.

13:14 fountain and source of life. In an arid land such as ancient Judah, a fountain provided water for oneself and for one's flocks. It was a necessity—a source of life. A fountain is also a picture for salvation (Isa 12:1–3 ).

13:15 Good understanding wins favor. Favor with God and other people—a good reputation is highly desirable because it ensures that you won't be alone in life. A good reputation was the first qualification listed by the apostles for deacons in the early church (Acts 6:3 ).

13:20 He who walks [as a companion] with wise men. Our selection of friends (12:26 ) is extremely important. Pressure from peers is much stronger than many people realize.

13:24 hates . . . loves. This is the first of several proverbs on parental discipline. A parent's loving discipline is modeled after God's loving correction (3:11–12 ).

14:1 wise woman builds her house. She develops a peaceful setting for family nurture.

14:2 fears the LORD. This phrase contrasts starkly with “despises Him.” Love for uprightness will naturally coincide with love and respect for the most upright One of all, God Himself. Love for perversity will likewise result in hatred for Him. Fear of the Lord as the beginning of wisdom is the central theme of Proverbs (1:7 ).

14:4 the manger is clean. A farmer has to put up with some messes in the barn if he wants the help of an ox. This is not an excuse to be slovenly, but an encouragement to work hard.

14:12 There is a way which seems right to a man. Only when it is too late does the deluded person discover that he is on the crowded highway to death. The implication is not that he was tricked, but that he relied too heavily on his own “wisdom” rather than turning in humility to God.

14:19 at the gates of the righteous. In an ancient walled city, the gate area would normally be the weakest section of the wall. The city engineers of ancient Canaan developed complex structures to fortify this point. Controlling the gate of a city meant controlling the city.

14:31 oppresses . . . honors. The theme of “as you treat people, so you treat God” is central to Scripture (Ex 22:22–24 ; Mt 25:31–46 ).

14:32 The wicked is overthrown through his wrongdoing. Some of the proverbs describe deliverance from death itself (11:4 ). The teaching of life after death is not a major teaching in the Old Testament, but neither is it altogether neglected.

14:34 Righteousness [moral and spiritual integrity and virtuous character] exalts a nation. Although each individual is responsible for his or her actions, the effects extend to the whole community.

15:1 A soft . . . answer turns away wrath. Often it is not so much what we say but the way we say it that prompts such varied responses as acceptance and anger. For Abigail's gentle words to David when he was angry, see 1 Samuel 25:12–34. Words can have either life-giving or death-producing results.

15:3 The eyes of the LORD. That they are in every place watching everything chills those who do evil and comforts those who submit to Him (Ecc 12:12 ).

[15:6 the house of the \[consistently\] righteous.](#) One house is a blessing and the other is ruinous; the reason for this lies in how the house was acquired and how it is being used. The house of the righteous contains great wealth because it is founded on wisdom and a proper response to God. On the other hand, the wicked never gain enough to suit them, and lose what they have because of their deceptive ways.

15:10 severe discipline. There is a consequence for those who forsake God's way. This discipline comes as a means of correction. Only the person who hates this correction will die.

15:11 How much more the hearts. This is a "how much more" proverb, which impresses on the reader the clarity with which the Lord sees people's hearts. The Hebrew word sheol, or "hell," connotes the fear of the unknown. The word actually means "the mysterious realm of death." Yet death is no mystery to the Lord. And if the mysterious realm of the dead is known to Him, then surely a person's heart is transparent to Him. This technique of arguing from the greater to the lesser appears in both Testaments.

15:12 A scoffer [unlike a wise man] resents. The scoffer (14:6) is used as a foil or comparison in Proverbs to expose more sharply the character of the wise. Whereas the sluggard is a comic figure in Proverbs, the scoffer is a villain. His basic problem is displayed in his response to correction. He does not learn from it nor does he seek it. The scoffer is adamant in his folly.

15:14 The mind of the intelligent and discerning. The person with an understanding heart, another description of the wise, is never satisfied with what he or she knows. The pursuit of wisdom and knowledge are lifelong occupations—never fully realized in this lifetime. But fools, not knowing the extent of their ignorance, continue to pursue folly.

15:18 A hot-tempered man stirs up strife. A hot-tempered person can stir up strife where there is none; but a person who has a slow fuse—who is slow to anger—soothes contention (15:1).

15:25 The LORD will tear down the house of the proud. God will bring about justice in the end. To the haughty, God will give a dose of humility. But for the widow, a completely defenseless person in ancient times, God will provide protection.

15:32 despises himself. The natural instinct for self-preservation is dangerous when it is time to listen to a necessary rebuke.

15:33 The [reverent] fear of the LORD . . . instruction. Knowledge alone does not make a person wiser; the fear of the Lord must accompany it. The same is true of honor.

16:1–2 The plans and reflections of the heart. These verses contrast human limitations with the sovereignty of God. Man can plan, dream, and hope, but the final outcome is from the Lord. Rather than “resign ourselves to fate,” we should trust in God.

16:3 Commit your works to the LORD. The verb “commit to” is from a word meaning “to roll.” The idea is to “roll your cares onto the Lord.” Trusting the Lord with our decisions frees us from preoccupation with our problems (3:5–6).

Dedication is the foundation of commitment. Without it the believer is unable to offer God anything else. Paul explains this dedication process in Romans 12:1–2. He emphasizes three things. First, it is our body which is to be dedicated as a living sacrifice to God. Second, we are to avoid being conformed to this world, but should strive to be transformed by the Word. Finally, by doing this we can discover God’s perfect will for our lives.

After the dedication of our bodies, what are we to commit? We are to commit our salvation to God (2Ti 1:12). We are to commit our works (Pr 16:3). Then our goals in life are to be given to Him (Job 5:8; Ps 37:5). It is difficult but vital to commit our suffering experiences to God (1Pe 4:19). Our Lord Jesus did this very thing when He was on earth (1Pe 2:23). Finally, in the hour of death, we can with confidence commit our very souls to God (Ps 31:5). Paul the Apostle assures us that any and all such commitments to the Lord will be accepted and honored (1Co 15:58).

16:6 By mercy and lovingkindness and truth. These words can also be translated “by genuine piety.” “Cleansed” probably alludes to a sacrificial offering, but not apart from a contrite heart.

16:10 A divine decision. This phrase refers to judicial decisions made by the king. Because the nation rested in the king’s hands, his first responsibility was to obey God (King Josiah’s reform of Israel, 2Ki 22). Even the king had to submit to the dictates of justice.

16:15 life . . . his favor. Successfully courting a powerful person’s favor is like seeing rain clouds in a dry land. The phrase about the light of the face in this proverb helps us understand Aaron’s benediction in Numbers 6:24–26.

16:17 The highway of the upright. This phrase is a metaphor for the way a person lives habitually. An upright person’s highway or habit is to depart from evil. He does not compromise; he consistently strives to do good.

16:24 Pleasant words are like a honeycomb. The Hebrew word for honeycomb is also used in Psalm 19:10–11 with regard to the Word of God. The Israelites saw honey as a healthy food as well as a sweetener. Any comparison to it would connote positive, healthful effects.

16:27–29 worthless . . . perverse . . . violent and exceedingly covetous man. These verses all begin in a similar way describing three different types of wicked people. The word “worthless” means a man of Belial; this person is a muckraker who uses bad information for evil purposes; he destroys people on purpose. The “perverse” person starts fights between friends. The “violent and exceedingly covetous man” uses his power of persuasion to recruit others to join in his attacks.

16:32 better and more honorable than the mighty. Even though one of the most favored persons in the ancient Middle East was the military hero, this proverb suggests that one who is “slow to anger” or who “rules and controls his own spirit” is a greater hero than a returning warrior.

16:33 The lot is cast into the lap. The use of lots in ancient Israel (16:10) could easily be confused with luck. But when a lot was cast as a means of determining God’s will, the people knew it did not fall indiscriminately. God exercises sovereignty over human affairs (16:4).

17:1 Better is a dry morsel. This expression means “very little” especially in comparison to feasting. But the feasting in this verse is tainted by contention. Feasting could also be part of a sacrifice to God, but even such a feast could be ruined by angry disputes between believers.

17:2 A wise servant. Reversals of fortune could happen if the wise servant was sufficiently skillful and the son and his brothers were undeserving. Much of Genesis describes the unexpected rise of a younger son over his older brother (Ge 25:23–34).

17:4 An evildoer listens closely to wicked lips. This proverb presents the “wicked doer” and the “liar” as a parody of the wise. As the righteous person listens with care to the instruction of a teacher, so the wicked person listens with care to the ruinous speech of the unrighteous.

17:7 Excellent speech. It is a contradiction in terms for a fool to speak well or for a prince to be a liar.

[17:12 a \[ferocious\] bear robbed of her cubs.](#) Nothing matches the rage of a mother bear who has been separated from her cubs; yet there is nothing in life more dangerous than the fool in the midst of his folly.

17:15 repulsive to the LORD. Since God is a God of justice, He detests those who pervert justice—both those who declare the innocent guilty and those who declare the guilty innocent.

[18:1 who \[willfully\] separates himself.](#) When a person is seeking his own desires, he separates himself from wisdom. His selfishness puts him “at odds” with sound understanding.

[18:2 A \[close-minded\] fool does not delight in understanding.](#) A compulsive talker never listens, only pausing to plan what he will say next. Every speech confirms what a fool he is.

18:8 The words of a whisperer. These words are like delicious sweets. Although they are fun to eat, they ruin the person’s health. Gossip is fun to listen to, but it damages the listener’s innermost parts.

18:10–11 The name of the LORD is a strong tower. The phrase, name of the Lord, is a way of speaking of God’s person. The righteous turn to God for security. Rich people, by contrast, tend to trust in their wealth.

18:12 the heart of a man is haughty. The Hebrew word for haughty, ordinarily negative, can also be used positively to mean courage and daring (2Ch 17:6). The path to “honor,” which the proud so covet, is “humility.”

18:14 The spirit of a man sustains him in sickness. This proverb affirms the value of coping skills. Sickness can be overcome, but there is no medicine for a broken spirit.

18:20 stomach . . . mouth. Inner satisfaction comes from true and good speech.

18:22 favor and approval from the LORD. Problems in marriage arise from breakdowns in communication or mutual respect, not from some flaw in marriage itself (12:4 ).

19:4 Wealth makes many friends. This proverb speaks of the effects of wealth and poverty on friendship. It does not describe how friends ought to behave, but how many friends actually do. Like a faithful spouse, a faithful friend is priceless (14:20 ).

19:8 He who keeps understanding will find good. Ultimately to “find good” means to find the Lord in His Word (16:20 ).

19:10 is not fitting. This phrase might also be rendered “is not a pretty sight” (17:7 ). For the wrong people to rule is an outrage.

19:12 roaring of a lion . . . dew on the grass. These metaphors are especially fitting when a monarch has all power. His rage may be violent and unpredictable, his pleasure gracious and restorative. A good king will display rage and spread favor for the right reasons.

[19:13 A foolish \(ungodly\) son . . . the contentions of a \[quarrelsome\] wife.](#) The family exists as the basic unit of a godly society. Two threats against the family are pictured in this proverb. One is the wayward son. The second is an emotionally unstable wife.

19:21 Many plans are in a man’s mind. A wise person commits his or her plans to the Lord (16:3 ). A person whose plans oppose the Lord (as in Ps 2:1–3 ) may actually become God’s enemy. But the person whose ways are from God will certainly succeed (16:1 ,9 ).

19:22 man is his loyalty and unfailing love. Unfailing love may also mean “beauty.” Loyalty is beautiful, whereas deception is a disfigurement of character (3:14 ; 31:18 ).

19:26–27 son. The desire for a good son—or daughter—is the subject of a significant portion of Proverbs (ch. 1–9 ). A child who is abusive to his parents shames them and violates God’s command (20:20 ; Ex 20:12 ; Dt 5:16 ). As an abusive son is shameful, so an obedient son is faithful.

20:1 Wine is a mocker. This chapter begins with a warning against the abuse of wine, or excessive drinking (see this theme more extensively in 23:29–35 ). A wise person takes the danger seriously.

20:5 draws it out. Motivation for behavior is complex. A gifted counselor is able to draw out from a person genuine feelings and motivations, just as someone draws water from a deep well.

20:9 Who can say. This proverb is a rhetorical question. Everyone sins, a theme that Paul addresses at length in Romans 3:10–23 . Anyone who claims never to sin is a liar (1Jn 1:8–9 ). But those who confess their sin obtain forgiveness (Ro 4:7 ).

20:11 by his acts. A pattern established early in life may continue to mark a person for his or her lifetime. Even at a very early age, a person’s moral character may be revealed.

20:13 sleep. While sleep is a gift from God, it can also be a matter of excess and laziness. Hard work is necessary to make a living; laziness leads only to poverty (6:6–9 ).

20:16 Take the clothes. Clothing could be taken as collateral for a debt (Dt 24:10–13 ). If someone assumes responsibility for the debt of an unknown stranger, he or she should be held accountable even to the point of taking his or her clothing as a pledge.

20:17 But afterward. The Scriptures do not say that there is no pleasure in sinning, only that the reward does not last (9:17–18 ).

20:20 Whoever curses. This proverb is about breaking the Fifth Commandment, “Honor (respect, obey, care for) your father and your mother” (Ex 20:12 ). The term for “curses” is based on a word that means “to treat lightly, to regard as insignificant.” The statement “His lamp [of life] will be extinguished in time of darkness,” is a symbol of eternal damnation.

20:25 It is holy. Several proverbs warn against making rash promises about holy things, then withdrawing the promises later (Ecc 5:1–7 ). It is better never to vow than to vow and then change one’s mind.

20:26 A wise king sifts out the wicked. This royal proverb presents discipline as a merciful act. To punish wickedness is entirely appropriate. When the wicked are separated and punished with the severity that their crimes demand, all of society benefits. Ideally, the king in Israel mirrored God's character.

20:30 Blows that wound cleanse away evil. Suffering cleanses. No one wants to be hurt, but God can bring good out of any evil and make us better through hardship.

21:1 The king's heart is like channels of water. A person can look at a river and think that it is following a random pattern, but the water is following the direction of God's hand. So is the king.

21:3 To do righteousness and justice. This proverb affirms, as do Psalm 40:6–8 ; Micah 6:8 ; and numerous other passages in the Bible, that righteous living is more important than sacrifice (1Sa 15:22 ).

21:6 Acquiring treasures by a lying tongue. If you have to lie to gain your "treasure," you are ultimately choosing death to your dreams. There is no stability in anything gained by a lie.

21:9 a corner of the housetop. Ancient Israelite roofs were flat and could be used as a deck or terrace. On occasion people would build a temporary shelter on a part of the roof. Here, the harried husband finds he prefers to live on the housetop rather than below with the nagging words of his wife.

21:10 The soul of the wicked desires evil. Wicked persons typically refuse to think of anyone but themselves.

21:15 When justice is done, it is a joy. Justice is not a heavy obligation that weighs a person down. For the righteous, promoting justice is a joy.

21:16 the assembly of the dead. The term dead is a frightful one, meaning "depths" (9:18 ). Death in these verses may speak of physical death rather than spiritual death (as is the case in James 1 ).

21:21 life, righteousness, and honor. It is possible that these three ideas go together to mean "a more abundant life." The pursuit of righteousness is its own reward. But added rewards are found in fullness of life, achieving righteousness, and receiving honor. All these things are gifts from the Lord (15:9 ).

21:28 A false witness will perish. A large number of proverbs focus on bearing false witness (19:28 ). The problem with a false witness is that his lies pervert justice for others.

22:2 The LORD is the Maker of them all. This sentence repeats the theme of riches (v. 1 ). God makes both the rich and the poor. This means that those who favor the rich over the poor (Jas 2 ) have not only missed the point of creation, they have insulted the Creator (14:31 ).

22:4 reward of humility . . . and the [reverent, worshipful] fear of the LORD . The writer of this proverb makes humility synonymous with the fear of the Lord. True humility begins with a proper attitude toward God. In such a spirit of submission to God, true fear of God is exhibited.

22:6 Train up a child. This verse, like the other proverbs, contains a wise statement that is usually true. Who your child turns out to be is a reflection of your parenting. As God has taught elsewhere in His Word, parents are to teach their children the way of the Lord. Not only are they to teach it purposefully, but they are to do it constantly—when they talk and sit and walk and lie down and get up (Dt 6:7–8 ). If children see their parents speaking kindly, being forgiving and gracious, gentle and understanding, children will want these character attributes too. But even more important, if the parents teach that they depend upon God to build kindly habits in themselves, children will know that it is to the Lord that one turns to for help in every part of life. Training children undoubtedly involves everything from wiping feet and closing doors to saying "please" and "thank you" and "I am sorry." But the most important training that a child receives is the continual teaching and daily example of their parents' dependence on the Lord.

22:10 the scoffer. This kind of person should be expelled from the community because his influence is harmful to everyone. The wise know that the scoffer is not a laughing matter, because he is laughing at holy things, at God Himself.

22:12 The eyes of the LORD. God is the final arbiter of knowledge and justice. The eyes of human beings are simply not trustworthy.

22:13 There is a lion outside. This proverb about lazy people pokes fun at how the lazy invent all sorts of excuses for avoiding work and risk.

22:17–24:22 Proverbs Concerning Various Situations— Verse 17 marks a new section of Proverbs. Three elements distinguish this section: (1) the change from one-verse units to multiple-verse units; (2) section headings that are embedded in the text; and (3) the affinity of this section for ancient Egyptian wisdom texts. Go to Theological Notes Index

22:17–21 Listen carefully. These introductory words call the reader to pay attention and to prepare to learn about and worship God. The advice emphasizes strongly that a person's trust must be in the Lord.

22:28 Do not move the ancient landmark. The ancient Israelites regarded respect for the posted landmark as more than a question of private property. They saw it as a basic part of civil life. People must feel a certain sense of public trust and fairness for society to function.

23:4–5 Do not weary yourself [with the overwhelming desire] to gain wealth. These verses call for moderation in work. Although the proverbs discourage laziness (22:13), they also discourage any overworking whose purpose is greater wealth.

23:13–14 If you swat him with a reed-like rod. This language was designed to motivate overly permissive parents, who were afraid of damaging children with any kind of discipline, or of making rules and enforcing them. There is no call here for abuse. Loving discipline does not destroy rebellious children; it does them a big favor.

23:15 if your heart is wise. Wisdom is an outgrowth of a proper response to discipline. That wisdom in turn is immediately discernible to the father and brings joy that must be expressed.

23:21 For the heavy drinker and the glutton. These kinds of people have no self-control, and this fact plagues them. Hebrew culture gave a prominent place to eating and drinking, but it had little tolerance for drunkenness and gluttony.

23:29–35 Who has woe? Along with Isaiah's celebrated description of debauchery (Isa 19:11–15), this section is one of the sharpest attacks on drunkenness in the Bible (vv. 19–21). The satire is razor sharp and the imagery vivid.

24:6 The Will of God— Common sense tells us that God often works through circumstances and through wise counsel to reveal His will for us. A number of biblical examples illustrate this principle:

God directed Abraham to substitute a ram, whose horns had become entangled in a thicket, for the life of Isaac (Ge 22:13).

God arranged for Pharaoh's daughter to be bathing in the river Nile at the exact time the baby Moses floated by in an ark of bulrushes (Ex 2:1–10).

Paul's young nephew happened to overhear a plot to kill his uncle. He then reported it to the authorities who saved Paul's life (Ac 23:11–35).

In light of the above, the Christian should ask himself, "Is the Lord showing me something through these circumstances?" We can also take great comfort in Paul's reminder to the Romans that God causes all things to "work together [as a plan] for good for those who love God, to those who are called according to His plan and purpose" (Ro 8:28). Go to Theological Notes Index

24:21–22 fear the LORD and the king. This proverb relates most fully to the Davidic kings, who were God's regents on earth; one way the ancient Israelites could show respect for God was to respect the king.

25:1 These are also the proverbs of Solomon. After the first collection of proverbs from Solomon (10:1–22:16) and proverbs from foreign sources (22:17–24:22; 24:23–34) comes a collection of proverbs attributed to Solomon, but which were not compiled until the time of Hezekiah. The following observations can be made: (1) The wisdom tradition concerning Solomon was prodigious; (2) Israel's interest in wisdom was particularly centered in times of relative peace; (3) Hezekiah's involvement in this activity was a mark of the strength of his rule and the sense he had of restoring Solomon's glory.

25:6 Do not be boastfully ambitious and claim honor. Knowing your place is a recurring theme in the Bible. It is humiliating to be told to remove yourself from a seat of honor. Jesus spoke of the same need for deference (Lk 14:11 ).

25:7 Whom your eyes have seen. This phrase reflects the custom in the ancient world of never looking directly in the eyes of a superior until told to do so (Isa 6:5 ).

25:15 By patience and a calm spirit a ruler may be persuaded. In this passage the general rule that a gentle answer turns away wrath is applied to a particular and most difficult situation.

25:21–22 coals of fire. The words of Jesus in Matthew 5:43–48 have direct ties to these verses. They speak of God's judgment (Ps 120:4 ; 140:10 ); the idea is that an act of kindness to your enemy may cause him or her to feel ashamed. This is just one way to overcome evil with good (Ro 12:20 ).

26:4–5 according to his folly. Some people have called the two proverbs here contradictory, but that is not necessarily true. The phrase appears twice as a play on words with two shades of meaning. On the one hand, it means "avoid the temptation to stoop to his level"; that is do not use his methods, "Otherwise you . . . will be like him." On the other hand, it means "avoid the temptation to ignore him altogether"; that is, respond in some way, or else he will become wise in his own eyes and his folly will get worse.

26:23 clay vessel covered with the silver dross. The meaning of this proverb is similar to Jesus' remarks to His enemies that they were like whitewashed tombs (Mt 23:27 ). No amount of painting on the outside changes the value of the rotten interior.

26:24–26 revealed openly before the assembly. A person who hates says one thing but stores up anger within. He may find that his hatred hurts him, when in his life there is so much falsehood that no one believes him no matter how gracious and truthful he might be at times.

27:7 to the hungry soul. Those who are full do not appreciate what they have, while to those who are hungry, anything tastes good.

27:17 iron sharpens iron. This may also be translated as applying to the will; "let iron sharpen iron, and so let a person sharpen his friend." The idea is that people grow from interaction with one another.

28:4–5 Those who set aside the law. When a person abandons God's law, he or she loses all sense of right and praise the wicked (Ro 1:28–32 ). Since true justice is from God, the ungodly have trouble understanding it. This is why the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom (1:7 ).

28:7 a companion of gluttons. One way of breaking God's law is to be a companion of the gluttonous (23:20–21 ). This is why Jesus' enemies charged Him with associating with gluttons and winebibbers. Such accusations were attacks on His faithfulness to God (Mt 11:19 ).

28:8 interest and usury. Profit gained by charging interest or high "profit margins" is unjust. God will help the poor eventually at their exploiters expense.

28:14 Blessed and favored by God is the man. This is a repeat of Psalm 1:1 about a person who is in awe of God. The person who never thinks of God faces calamity.

28:23 He who [appropriately] reprimands a [wise] man. Constructive criticism has more value than flattery, which aims only to win people's affection.

28:25–26 An arrogant and greedy man. One of the main causes of strife is pride; trust in God leads to blessing.

29:5 spreading a net. Flattery is a lie. If you flatter your neighbor you are making a trap of some kind for him. God never lies. He always tells the truth and so should we.

29:13 The poor man and the oppressor. God is responsible for giving life to both. Jesus attested that God causes rain to fall on the just and the unjust (Mt 5:45 ).

29:18 Where there is no vision. The Hebrew word for vision speaks of a revelatory word from God. Without God's revelation of the law, the people flounder. True happiness is discovered within the constraints of revelation, in the counsel of the Savior.

29:23 A man's pride and sense of self-importance will bring him down. Pride, inordinate self-esteem, causes others to lose respect for the conceited egotist. In contrast to this, humility draws honor from others. However, pride takes many forms and is not always the adornment of just the conceited egotist.

29:26 But justice for man comes from the LORD . God controls human affairs. Therefore it makes more sense to seek the Lord first before stooping to seek the favor of human rulers.

30:1 The words of Agur. This verse starts an entirely new section of Proverbs. Like Lemuel (31:1–9 ), Agur was a non-Hebrew contributor to the Book of Proverbs. He came to faith in the God of Israel in a foreign land.

30:4 What is His name. This verse gives the riddle that perplexed Agur. The questions all culminate in the last two lines. The Old Testament would answer that "His name" is the Lord God, but did not have a name for His Son. This riddle was to remain unsolved until Jesus answered it for Nicodemus (Jn 3:13 ). These verses form one of the most straightforward messianic texts in the Bible.

30:19 maid. This term could also read virgin or young woman in this context.

30:20 This is the way. This verse contrasts with the way of verse 19 ; this way is awful whereas the former is wonderful. The adulterous woman regards her illicit sexual relations without remorse.

30:24–28 four things that are small on the earth. This numerical proverb speaks of four creatures that are small in size but amazing in behavior. Each of these small creatures has a behavioral trait from which wise people can learn.

30:32–33 put your hand on your mouth. This phrase means "stop it." The idea is if you are in the middle of making trouble and suddenly realize your foolishness, stop right then before things get worse.

31:1 The words of King Lemuel. This verse begins a new section of material from a non-Israelite source.

31:4–5 Otherwise they drink and forget the law. In this passage the consumption of strong drink is linked to injustice.

31:10 An excellent woman. Proverbs 31:10–31 is an acrostic poem; each verse begins with a successive letter to the Hebrew alphabet. As the Book of Proverbs begins with a Prologue (1:1–7 ), which gives the goals of wisdom in general terms, so now it concludes with this Epilogue, which presents them in a case study.

31:20–22 to the poor. The excellent woman works not to get rich, but to give to the poor. She can be concerned for others because she has provided for her own family.

31:26 the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. This attribute of kindness in a woman is valued far above physical charm in God's sight. Peter describes real beauty as a product of the heart and not the combination of certain physical features (1Pe 3:1–5 ).

31:30–31 Charm and grace. Charm and grace, like beauty, can deceive us about the true nature of someone's character. But if a woman fears the Lord, that is trustworthy and more worthy of praise than physical comeliness.

Ecclesiastes

- AUTHOR: The author calls himself “the son of David, king in Jerusalem” in 1:1 . Solomonic authorship is the standard Christian position, although some scholars, along with the Talmud, believe the work was later edited during the time of Hezekiah or possibly Ezra. The proverbs in this book are similar to those in the Book of Proverbs (Ecc 7 ; 10 ). According to 12:9 , Qoheleth collected and arranged many proverbs, perhaps referring to the two Solomonic collections in Proverbs.
- TIMES: c. 935 BC
- KEY VERSE: Ecc 2:24
- THEME: Ecclesiastes is a Greek word that is usually translated “the preacher” or “the teacher.” The book was likely written late in Solomon’s life, when he could see that the glorious era of his kingdom was beginning to decline. He had it all, power, prestige, pleasure, but none of that provides ultimate satisfaction. That fulfillment comes only through a relationship with God and obedience to His word. It is important to note that the arguments of the book are more thematic than linear. The same topics are addressed in different ways at different points within the work.

Ecclesiastes 1

The Futility of All Endeavors

<sup>1</sup> THE WORDS of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem. ‡

“Vanity of vanities! All [that is done without God’s guidance] is vanity [futile, meaningless—a wisp of smoke, a vapor that vanishes, merely chasing the wind].”  [Rom 8:20 ]

<sup>3</sup> What advantage does man have from all his work ‡
Which he does under the sun (while earthbound)?

<sup>4</sup> One generation goes and another generation comes, ‡
But the earth remains forever.  [Ps 119:90 ]

<sup>5</sup> Also, the sun rises and the sun sets; ‡
And hurries to the place where it rises again.

<sup>6</sup> The wind blows toward the south, ‡
Then circles toward the north;
The wind circles and swirls endlessly,
And on its circular course the wind returns.  [John 3:8 ]

<sup>7</sup> All the rivers flow into the sea, ‡
Yet the sea is not full.
To the place where the rivers flow,

There they flow again.

<sup>8</sup> All things are wearisome and all words are frail; ‡
Man cannot express it.

The eye is not satisfied with seeing,
Nor is the ear filled with hearing.  [Prov 27:20 ]

<sup>9</sup> That which has been is that which will be [again], ‡
And that which has been done is that which will be done again.

So there is nothing new under the sun.

<sup>10</sup> Is there anything of which it can be said, “See this, it is new”?

It has already existed for [the vast] ages [of time recorded or unrecorded]

Which were before us.

<sup>11</sup> There is no remembrance of earlier things,
Nor also of the later things that are to come;
There will be for them no remembrance
By generations who will come after them.

The Futility of Wisdom

<sup>13</sup>-And I set my mind to seek and explore by [man's] wisdom all [human activity] that has been done under heaven. It is a miserable business and a burdensome task which God has given the sons of men with which to be busy and distressed. ‡

<sup>14</sup>-I have seen all the works which have been done under the sun, and behold, all is vanity, a futile grasping and chasing after the wind.

<sup>15</sup> What is crooked cannot be straightened and what is defective and lacking cannot be counted. ‡

<sup>16</sup> I spoke with my heart, saying, “Behold, I have acquired great [human] wisdom and experience, more than all who were over Jerusalem before me; and my mind has observed a wealth of [moral] wisdom and [scientific] knowledge.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> And I set my mind to know [practical] wisdom and to discern [the character of] madness and folly [in which men seem to find satisfaction]; I realized that this too is a futile grasping and chasing after the wind.  [1 Thess 5:21 ] ‡

The Futility of Pleasure and Possessions

<sup>1</sup> I SAID to myself, “Come now, I will test you with pleasure and gratification; so enjoy yourself and have a good time.” But behold, this too was vanity (futility, meaninglessness).  [Luke 12:19 , 20 ] ‡

<sup>2</sup>—I said of laughter, “It is madness,” and of pleasure, “What does it accomplish?”

<sup>3</sup> I explored with my mind how to gratify myself with wine while [at the same time] having my mind remain steady and guide me wisely; and how to take control of foolishness, until I could see what was good for the sons of men to do under heaven all the days of their lives. ‡

<sup>4</sup> I made great works: I built houses for myself; I planted vineyards for myself;

<sup>5</sup> I made gardens and orchards for myself and I planted in them all kinds of fruit trees;

<sup>6</sup> I made pools of water for myself from which to water the forest and make the trees bud.

<sup>7</sup> I bought male and female slaves and had slaves born in my house. I also possessed herds and flocks larger than any who preceded me in Jerusalem.

<sup>8</sup> Also, I collected for myself silver and gold and the treasure of kings and provinces. I provided for myself male singers and female singers, and the delights and pleasures of men—many concubines.  [1 Kin 9:28 ; 10:10 , 14 , 21 ]
‡

<sup>9</sup> So I became great and excelled more than all who preceded me in Jerusalem. My wisdom also remained with me.

<sup>10</sup> Whatever my eyes looked at with desire I did not refuse them. I did not withhold from my heart any pleasure, for my heart was pleased because of all my labor; and this was my reward for all my labor. ‡

<sup>11</sup> Then I considered all which my hands had done and labored to do, and behold, all was vanity and chasing after the wind and there was no profit (nothing of lasting value) under the sun.  [Matt 16:26 ] ‡

Wisdom Excels Folly

<sup>12</sup> So I turned to consider [secular] wisdom, madness, and folly; for what will the man do who succeeds the king? Nothing except what has already been done. ‡

<sup>13</sup> Then I saw that [even secular] wisdom [that brings sorrow] is better than [the pleasures of] folly and self-indulgence as light excels darkness.

<sup>14</sup> The wise man’s eyes are in his head, but the fool walks in darkness; and yet I know that [in the end] one fate happens to them both.  [Prov 17:24 ] ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then I said to myself, “As it happens to the fool, so death will also happen to me. What use is it then for me to be extremely wise?” Then I said in my heart, “This too is vanity (meaningless).”

<sup>16</sup> For there is no [more] lasting remembrance of the wise man than of the fool, since in the days to come all will be long forgotten. And how does the wise man die? Even as the fool!

<sup>17</sup> So I hated life, for the work which had been done under the sun caused me only great sorrow; because all is futility and chasing after the wind.

The Futility of Labor

<sup>18</sup> So I hated all the fruit (gain) of my labor for which I had labored under the sun, because I must leave it to the man who will succeed me.  [Ps 49:10 ] ‡

<sup>19</sup> And who knows whether he will be a wise man or a fool? Yet he will have control over all the fruit of my labor for which I have labored by acting wisely under the sun. This too is vanity (futility, self-conceit).

<sup>20</sup> So I turned aside and let my heart despair over all the fruit of my labor for which I had labored under the sun.

<sup>21</sup> For there is a man who has labored with wisdom and knowledge and skill, yet gives his legacy to one who has not labored for it. This too is vanity and a great evil.

<sup>22</sup> For what does a man get from all his labor and from the striving and sorrow of his heart with which he labors under the sun? ‡

<sup>25</sup> For who can eat and who can have enjoyment without Him?

<sup>26</sup> For to the person who pleases Him God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner He gives the work of gathering and collecting so that he may give to one who pleases God. This too is vanity and chasing after the wind. ‡

Ecclesiastes 3

A Time for Everything

<sup>1</sup> THERE IS a season (a time appointed) for everything and a time for every delight and event or purpose under heaven—‡

<sup>2</sup> A time to be born and a time to die; ‡

A time to plant and a time to uproot what is planted.  [Heb 9:27 ]

<sup>3</sup> A time to kill and a time to heal;

A time to tear down and a time to build up.

<sup>4</sup> A time to weep and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn and a time to dance.

<sup>5</sup> A time to throw away stones and a time to gather stones; ‡

A time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing.

<sup>6</sup> A time to search and a time to give up as lost;

A time to keep and a time to throw away.

<sup>7</sup> A time to tear apart and a time to sew together; ‡

A time to keep silent and a time to speak.  [Amos 5:13 ]

<sup>8</sup> A time to love and a time to hate; ‡

A time for war and a time for peace.  [Luke 14:26 ]

<sup>9</sup> What profit is there for the worker from that in which he labors? ‡

<sup>10</sup> I have seen the task which God has given to the sons of men with which to occupy themselves. ‡

God Set Eternity in the Heart of Man

<sup>11</sup> He has made everything beautiful and appropriate in its time. He has also planted eternity [a sense of divine purpose] in the human heart [a mysterious longing which nothing under the sun can satisfy, except God]—yet man cannot find out (comprehend, grasp) what God has done (His overall plan) from the beginning to the end. ‡

<sup>12</sup> I know that there is nothing better for them than to rejoice and to do good as long as they live;

<sup>13</sup> and also that every man should eat and drink and see and enjoy the good of all his labor—it is the gift of God. ‡

<sup>14</sup> I know that whatever God does, it endures forever; nothing can be added to it nor can anything be taken from it, for God does it so that men will fear and worship Him [with awe-filled reverence, knowing that He is God].  [Ps 19:9 ; James 1:17 ] ‡

<sup>15</sup> That which is has already been, and that which will be has already been, for God seeks what has passed by [so that history repeats itself]. ‡

16 Moreover, I have seen under the sun that in the place of justice there is wickedness, and in the place of righteousness there is wickedness. ‡

17 I said to myself, “God will judge both the righteous and the wicked,” for there is a time [appointed] for every matter and for every deed. ‡

18 I said to myself regarding the sons of men, “God is surely testing them in order for them to see that [by themselves, without God] they are [only] animals.”

19 For the [earthly] fate of the sons of men and the fate of animals is the same. As one dies, so dies the other; indeed, they all have the same breath and there is no preeminence or advantage for man [in and of himself] over an animal, for all is vanity. ‡

20 All go to the same place. All came from the dust and all return to the dust. ‡

21 Who knows if the spirit of man ascends upward and the spirit of the animal descends downward to the earth? ‡

22 So I have seen that there is nothing better than that a man should be happy in his own works and activities, for that is his portion (share). For who will bring him [back] to see what will happen after he is gone? ‡

Ecclesiastes 4

The Evils of Oppression

1 THEN I looked again and considered all the acts of oppression that were being practiced under the sun. And behold I saw the tears of the oppressed and they had no one to comfort them; and on the side of their oppressors was power, but they had no one to comfort them. ‡

2 So I congratulated and thought more fortunate are those who are already dead than the living who are still living. ‡

3 But better off than either of them is the one who has not yet been born, who has not seen the evil deeds that are done under the sun. ‡

4 I have seen that every [effort in] labor and every skill in work comes from man’s rivalry with his neighbor. This too is vanity (futility, false pride) and chasing after the wind.

5 The fool folds his hands [together] and consumes his own flesh [destroying himself by idleness and apathy]. ‡

<sup>6</sup> One hand full of rest and patience is better than two fists full of labor and chasing after the wind. ‡

<sup>8</sup>-There was a certain man—without a dependent, having neither a child nor a brother, yet there was no end to all his labor. Indeed, his eyes were not satisfied with riches and he never asked, “For whom do I labor and deprive myself of pleasure?” This too is vanity (a wisp of smoke, self-conceit); yes, it is a painful effort and an unhappy task.  [Prov 27:20 ; 1 John 2:16 ] ‡

<sup>9</sup>-Two are better than one because they have a more satisfying return for their labor;

<sup>10</sup> for if either of them falls, the one will lift up his companion. But woe to him who is alone when he falls and does not have another to lift him up.

<sup>11</sup> Again, if two lie down together, then they keep warm; but how can one be warm alone?

<sup>12</sup> And though one can overpower him who is alone, two can resist him. A cord of three strands is not quickly broken.

<sup>13</sup> A poor yet wise youth is better than an old and foolish king who no longer knows how to receive instruction and counsel (friendly reproof, warning)—

<sup>14</sup> for the poor youth has [used his wisdom and] come out of prison to become king, even though he was born poor in his kingdom.

<sup>15</sup> I have seen all the living under the sun join with the second youth (the king’s acknowledged successor) who replaces him.

<sup>16</sup> There is no end to all the people; to all who were before them. Yet those who come later will not be happy with him. Surely this also is vanity (emptiness) and chasing after the wind.

Your Attitude Toward God

<sup>1</sup> GUARD YOUR steps and focus on what you are doing as you go to the house of God and draw near to listen rather than to offer the [careless or irreverent] sacrifice of fools; for they are too ignorant to know they are doing evil.  [Gen 35:1–4 ; Ex 3:5 ] ‡

<sup>2</sup> Do not be hasty with your mouth [speaking careless words or vows] or impulsive in thought to bring up a matter before God. For God is in heaven and you are on earth; therefore let your words be few.‡

<sup>5</sup> It is better that you should not vow than that you should vow and not pay.  [Prov 20:25; Acts 5:4 ]‡

<sup>6</sup> Do not allow your speech to cause you to sin, and do not say before the messenger (priest) of God that it was a mistake. Why should God be angry because of your voice (words) and destroy the work of your hands?  [Mal 2:7 ]‡

<sup>7</sup>—For in a multitude of dreams and in a flood of words there is worthlessness. Rather [reverently] fear God [and worship Him with awe-filled respect, knowing who He is].‡

<sup>8</sup> If you see the oppression of the poor and the denial of justice and righteousness in the province, do not be shocked at the sight [of corruption]; for a higher official watches over another official, and there are higher ones over them [looking out for one another].‡

<sup>9</sup> After all, a king who cultivates the field is an advantage to the land.

The Folly of Riches

<sup>10</sup> He who loves money will not be satisfied with money, nor he who loves abundance with its gain. This too is vanity (emptiness).

<sup>11</sup> When good things increase, those who consume them increase. So what advantage is there to their owners except to see them with their eyes?

<sup>12</sup> The sleep of a working man is sweet, whether he eats little or much; but the full stomach (greed) of the rich [who hungers for even more] will not let him sleep.

<sup>13</sup> There is a grievous evil which I have seen under the sun: riches being kept and hoarded by their owner to his own misery.‡

<sup>14</sup> For when those riches are lost in bad investments and he becomes the father of a son, then there is nothing in his hand [for the support of the child].

<sup>15</sup> As he came naked from his mother's womb, so he will return as he came; and he will take away nothing from all his labor that he can carry in his hand.  [Job 1:21; 1 Tim 6:7 ]‡

<sup>16</sup> This also is a grievous evil—exactly as he was born, so he shall die. So what advantage has he who labors for the wind?  [1 Tim 6:6 ] ‡

<sup>17</sup> All of his life he also eats in darkness [cheerlessly, without sweetness and light], with great frustration, sickness, and anger. ‡

<sup>19</sup> Also, every man to whom God has given riches and possessions, He has also given the power and ability to enjoy them and to receive [this as] his [allotted] portion and to rejoice in his labor—this is the gift of God [to him]. ‡

<sup>20</sup> For he will not often consider the [troubled] days of his life, because God keeps him occupied and focused on the joy of his heart [and the tranquility of God indwells him].

Ecclesiastes 6

The Futility of Life

<sup>2</sup>-a man to whom God has given riches and wealth and honor, so that he lacks nothing of all that he desires, yet God has not given him the power or capacity to enjoy them [all those things which are gifts from God], but a stranger [in whom he has no interest succeeds him and] enjoys them. This is vanity and it is a [cause of] great distress.  [Luke 12:20 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> If a man fathers a hundred children and lives many years, however many they may be, but his soul is not satisfied with good things and he is not respected and is not given a proper burial [he is not laid to rest in the sepulcher of his fathers], then I say, “Better the miscarriage than he,  [Job 3:16 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> for the miscarriage comes in futility (in vain) and passes into obscurity; and its name is covered in obscurity.

<sup>5</sup> “It has not seen the sun nor had any knowledge; yet it has more rest and is better off than he.

<sup>6</sup> “Even if the other man lives a thousand years twice over and yet has seen no good and experienced no enjoyment—do not both go to one place [the grave]?”

<sup>8</sup> For what advantage has the wise man over the fool [for being worldly-wise is not the secret to happiness]? What advantage has the poor man who has learned how to walk [publicly] among the living [with men's eyes on him; for being poor is not the secret to happiness either]?

<sup>9</sup> What the eyes see [enjoying what is available] is better than [craving] what the soul desires. This too is futility and chasing after the wind.

<sup>10</sup> Whatever exists has already been named [long ago], and it is known what [a frail being] man is; for he cannot dispute with Him who is mightier than he. ‡

<sup>11</sup> For there are many other words that increase futility. What then is the advantage for a man?

12. For who [limited by human wisdom] knows what is good for man during his lifetime, during the few days of his futile life? He spends them like a shadow [staying busy, but achieving nothing of lasting value]. For who can tell a man what will happen after him [to his work, his treasure, his plans] under the sun [after his life is over]? ‡

Ecclesiastes 7

Wisdom and Folly Contrasted

<sup>1</sup> A GOOD name is better than precious perfume, ‡

And the day of one's death better than the day of one's birth.

2 It is better to go to the house of mourning

Than to go to the house of feasting,

For that [day of death] is the end of every man,

And the living will take it to heart and solemnly ponder its meaning.

3 Sorrow is better than laughter, ‡

For when a face is sad (deep in thought) the heart may be happy [because it is growing in wisdom].  [2 Cor 7:10 ]

4 The heart of the wise [learns when it] is in the house of mourning,

But the heart of fools is [senseless] in the house of pleasure.

5 It is better to listen to the rebuke of the wise man and pursue wisdom ‡

Than for one to listen to the song of fools and pursue stupidity.

<sup>6</sup> For like the crackling of [burning] thorn bushes under a pot, ‡
So is the laughter of the fool;
And this too is vanity (futility).

<sup>7</sup> For oppression makes a wise man foolish,‡
And a bribe corrupts the [good judgment of the] heart.

<sup>8</sup> The end of a matter is better than its beginning; ‡
Patience of spirit is better than haughtiness of spirit (pride).

<sup>9</sup>. Do not be eager in your heart to be angry, ‡
For anger dwells in the heart of fools.  [James 1:19, 20 ]

<sup>10</sup> Do not say, “Why were the old days better than these?”
For it is not from wisdom that you ask about this.

<sup>11</sup> Wisdom along with an inheritance is good ‡
And an [excellent] advantage for those who see the sun.

<sup>12</sup> For wisdom is a protection even as money is a protection,
But the [excellent] advantage of knowledge is that wisdom shields and preserves the lives of its possessors.

<sup>13</sup>. Consider the work of God: ‡
Who can make straight what He has bent?

<sup>14</sup> In the day of prosperity be joyful, ‡
But in the day of adversity consider that God has made the one as well as the other,
So that man will not find out anything that will be after him.

<sup>16</sup>. Do not be excessively righteous [like those given to self-conceit], and do not be overly wise (pretentious)—why should you bring yourself to ruin? ‡

<sup>17</sup> Do not be excessively or willfully wicked and do not be a fool. Why should you die before your time? ‡

<sup>18</sup> It is good that you take hold of one thing (righteousness) and also not let go of the other (wisdom); for the one who fears and worships God [with awe-filled reverence] will come forth with both of them.

<sup>19</sup> Wisdom strengthens the wise man more than ten rulers who are in a city.
 [Ps 127:1 ; 2 Tim 3:15 ] ‡

20Indeed, there is not a righteous man on earth who always does good and who never sins.  [Is 53:6; Rom 3:23 ] ‡

21 Also, do not take seriously everything that is said, so that you will not hear your servant cursing you,

22 for you also know that you too have cursed others many times.

23 I have tested all this with wisdom. I said, “I will be wise [independently of God],” but true wisdom was far from me. ‡

24 Whatever has been is far off, deeply remote and exceedingly mysterious. Who can discover it [for it is beyond the grasp of man]?  [Job 28:12–28; 1 Cor 2:9–16 ] ‡

25 I turned around and directed my heart to know, to investigate and to seek [skillful and godly] wisdom and the reason for things, and to know that wickedness is folly and that foolishness is madness [leading to stupidity and recklessness]. ‡

26 And I discovered that [of all irrational sins none has been so destructive in beguiling one away from God as immoral women for] more bitter than death is the woman whose heart is [composed of] snares and nets, and whose hands are chains. Whoever pleases God will escape from her, but the sinner will be taken captive by her [evil]. ‡

27 “Behold, I have discovered this,” says the Preacher, “while adding one thing to another to find an explanation, ‡

28 which I am still seeking but have not found. I have found one man among a thousand [who pleases God], but I have not found [such] a woman among all these [a thousand in my harem].  [1 Kin 11:3 ] ‡

29“Behold, I have found only this [as a reason]: God made man upright and uncorrupted, but they [both men and women] have sought out many devices [for evil].” ‡

Ecclesiastes 8

Obey Rulers

1WHO IS like the wise man? ‡

And who knows the interpretation of a matter?

A man’s wisdom illumines his face,

And causes his stern face to beam.

2 I counsel you to keep the command of the king because of the oath before

God [by which you swore loyalty to him].  [2 Sam 21:7 ] ‡

And who will say to him, “What are you doing?”

<sup>5</sup> Whoever keeps and observes a royal command will experience neither trouble nor misery;

For a wise heart will know the proper time and [appropriate] procedure.

<sup>6</sup> For there is a proper time and [appropriate] procedure for every delight, ‡

Though mankind’s misery and trouble lies heavily upon him [who rebels against the king].

<sup>7</sup> For no one knows what will happen; ‡

So who can tell him how and when it will happen?

<sup>8</sup>. There is no man who has power and authority over the wind to restrain the wind, ‡

Nor does he have authority over the day of death;

There is no discharge [from service] during time of war,

And evil will not rescue those who [actively seek to] practice
it.

<sup>9</sup> All this I have seen while applying my mind to every deed that is done under the sun. There is a time in which one man has exercised power over others to their detriment.

<sup>10</sup> So then, I have seen the wicked buried, those who used to go in and out of the holy place [but did not thereby escape their doom], and they are [praised in spite of their evil and] soon forgotten in the city where they did such things. This too is futility (vanity, emptiness).

<sup>11</sup> Because the sentence against an evil act is not executed quickly, the hearts of the sons of men are fully set to do evil. ‡

<sup>12</sup> Though a sinner does evil a hundred times and his life [seemingly] is prolonged [in spite of his wickedness], still I know that it will be well with those who [reverently] fear God, who fear and worship Him openly [realizing His omnipresence and His power].  [Ps 37:11, 18, 19; Is 3:10, 11; Matt 25:34 ] ‡

<sup>13</sup> But it will not be well for the evil man, nor will he lengthen his days like a shadow, because he does not fear God.  [Matt 25:41 ]

<sup>14</sup> There is a meaningless and futile thing which is done on the earth: that is, there are righteous men whose gain is as though they were evil, and evil men whose gain is as though they were righteous. I say that this too is futility (meaningless, vain). ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then I commended pleasure and enjoyment, because a man [without God] has no better thing under the sun than to eat and to drink and to be merry, for this will stand by him in his toil through the days of his life which God has given him under the sun. ‡

<sup>16</sup> When I applied my mind to know wisdom and to see the activities [of mankind] that take place upon the earth—how some men seem to sleep neither day nor night—

<sup>17</sup> and I saw all the work of God, I concluded that man cannot discover the work that is done under the sun. Even though man may labor in seeking, he will not discover; and [more than that], though a wise man thinks and claims he knows, he will not be able to find it out.  [Deut 29:29; Rom 11:33 ] ‡

Ecclesiastes 9

Men Are in the Hand of God

<sup>1</sup> FOR I have taken all this to heart, exploring and examining it all, how the righteous (those in right standing with God) and the wise and their deeds are in the hands of God. No man knows whether it will be love or hatred; anything awaits him. ‡

<sup>2</sup> It is the same for all. There is one fate for the righteous and for the wicked; for the good, for the clean and for the unclean; for the man who offers sacrifices and for the one who does not sacrifice. As the good man is, so is the sinner; as he who swears an oath is, so is he who is afraid to swear an oath. ‡

<sup>3</sup> This evil is in all that is done under the sun, that one fate comes to all. Also, the hearts of the sons of men are full of evil, and madness is in their hearts while they live, and afterwards they go to the dead.

<sup>4</sup> [There is no exemption,] but whoever is joined with all the living, has hope; surely a live dog is better than a dead lion.

<sup>5</sup> For the living know that they will die; but the dead know nothing, and they no longer have a reward [here], for the memory of them is forgotten. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Indeed their love, their hatred and their zeal have already perished, and they will no longer have a share [in this age] in anything that is done under the sun.

<sup>7</sup> Go your way, eat your bread with joy and drink your wine with a cheerful heart [if you are righteous, wise, and in the hands of God]; for God has already approved and accepted your works. ‡

<sup>8</sup> Let your clothes always be white [with purity], and do not let the oil [of gladness] be lacking on your head.

<sup>9</sup> Live joyfully with the wife whom you love all the days of your fleeting life which He has given you under the sun—all the days of vanity and futility. For this is your reward in life and in your work in which you have labored under the sun. ‡

Whatever Your Hand Finds to Do

<sup>10</sup> Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might; for there is no activity or planning or knowledge or wisdom in Sheol (the nether world, the place of the dead) where you are going.

<sup>11</sup> I again saw under the sun that the race is not to the swift and the battle is not to the strong, and neither is bread to the wise nor riches to those of intelligence and understanding nor favor to men of ability; but time and chance overtake them all.  [Ps 33:16–19; Rom 9:16 ] ‡

<sup>13</sup> This [illustration of] wisdom I have also seen under the sun, and great it was to me:

<sup>14</sup> There was a little city with few men in it and a great king came against it and besieged it and built great battlements against it. ‡

<sup>15</sup> But there was found in it a poor wise man, and by his wisdom he rescued the city. Yet no man [seriously] remembered that poor man.

<sup>16</sup> But I say that wisdom is better than strength, though the poor man's wisdom is despised and his words are not heeded. ‡

<sup>17</sup> The words of wise men heard in quietness are better than the shouting of one who rules among fools.

<sup>18</sup> Wisdom is better than weapons of war, but one sinner destroys much good. ‡

Ecclesiastes 10

A Little Foolishness

<sup>1</sup> DEAD FLIES make the oil of the perfumer give off a foul odor; so a little foolishness [in one who is esteemed] outweighs wisdom and honor.

<sup>6</sup> folly is set in many exalted places and in great dignity while the rich sit in humble places. ‡

<sup>9</sup> He who quarries stones may be hurt with them, and he who splits logs may be endangered by them.  [Prov 26:27. ]

<sup>10</sup>-If the axe is dull and he does not sharpen its edge, then he must exert more strength; but wisdom [to sharpen the axe] helps him succeed [with less effort].

<sup>11</sup> If the serpent bites before being charmed, then there is no profit for the charmer. ‡

<sup>12</sup> The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious and win him favor, but the lips of a fool consume him; ‡

<sup>14</sup> Yet the fool multiplies words, though no man knows what will happen, and who can tell him what will come after he is gone? ‡

<sup>15</sup> The labor of a fool so wearies him [because he is ignorant] that he does not even know how to go to a city.

<sup>16</sup> Woe to you, O land, when your king is a child and when your [incompetent] officials and princes feast in the morning. ‡

<sup>17</sup>-Blessed [prosperous and admired] are you, O land, when your king is a man of noble birth, and your princes and officials feast at the proper time—for strength and not for drunkenness.  [Is 32:8] ‡

<sup>18</sup> Through laziness the rafters [of state affairs] decay and the roof sags, and through idleness [the roof of] the house leaks.

<sup>19</sup> The officials make a feast for enjoyment [instead of repairing what is broken], and serve wine to make life merry, and money is the answer to everything. ‡

<sup>20</sup> Moreover, do not curse the king, even in your bedroom, and in your sleeping rooms do not curse the rich, for a bird of the air will carry the sound and a winged creature will make the matter known.  [Ex 22:28] ‡

Ecclesiastes 11

Cast Your Bread on the Waters

<sup>2</sup> Give a portion to seven, or even [divide it] to eight, for you do not know what misfortune may occur on the earth. ‡

<sup>3</sup> If the clouds are full [of rain], they empty themselves on the earth; and if a tree falls toward the south or toward the north, in the place where the tree falls, there it lies.

<sup>4</sup> He who watches the wind [waiting for all conditions to be perfect] will not sow [seed], and he who looks at the clouds will not reap [a harvest].

<sup>5</sup> Just as you do not know the way and path of the wind or how the bones are formed in the womb of a pregnant woman, even so you do not know the activity of God who makes all things. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Sow your seed in the morning and do not be idle with your hands in the evening, for you do not know whether morning or evening planting will succeed, whether this or that, or whether both alike will be good.

<sup>7</sup> The light is sweet and pleasant, and it is good for the eyes to see the sun. ‡

<sup>8</sup> Yes, if a man should live many years, let him rejoice in them all; yet let him remember the days of darkness, for they will be many. All that is to come will be futility.

<sup>9</sup> Rejoice, young man, in your childhood, and let your heart be pleasant in the days of your young manhood. And walk in the ways of your heart and in the desires of your eyes, but know that God will bring you into judgment for all these things. ‡

<sup>10</sup> Therefore, remove sorrow and anger from your heart and put away pain from your body, for childhood and the prime of life are fleeting.  [2 Cor 7:1 ; 2 Tim 2:22 ] ‡

Ecclesiastes 12

Remember God in Your Youth

<sup>1</sup> REMEMBER [THOUGHTFULLY] also your Creator in the days of your youth [for you are not your own, but His], before the evil days come or the years draw near when you will say [of physical pleasures], “I have no enjoyment and delight in them”;  [2 Sam 19:35 ] ‡

<sup>2</sup> before the sun and the light, and the moon and the stars are darkened [by impaired vision], and the clouds [of depression] return after the rain [of tears];

<sup>3</sup> in the day when the keepers of the house (hands, arms) tremble, and the strong men (feet, knees) bow themselves, and the grinders (molar teeth) cease because they are few, and those (eyes) who look through the windows grow dim;

<sup>4</sup> when the doors (lips) are shut in the streets and the sound of the grinding [of the teeth] is low, and one rises at the sound of a bird and the crowing of a rooster, and all the daughters of music (voice, ears) sing softly. ‡

<sup>5</sup> Furthermore, they are afraid of a high place and of dangers on the road; the almond tree (hair) blossoms [white], and the grasshopper (a little thing) is a burden, and the caperberry (desire, appetite) fails. For man goes to his eternal home and the mourners go about the streets and market places.  [Job 17:13 ] ‡

<sup>7</sup> then the dust [out of which God made man’s body] will return to the earth as it was, and the spirit will return to God who gave it. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Vanity of vanities,” says the Preacher. “All [that is done without God’s guidance] is vanity (futility)."  [Eccl 1:2 ; Rom 8:20 ] ‡

Purpose of the Preacher

<sup>9</sup> Furthermore, because the Preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge; and he pondered and searched out and arranged many proverbs. ‡

<sup>10</sup> The Preacher sought to find delightful words, even to write correctly words of truth.

<sup>11</sup>-The words of the wise are like [prodding] goads, and these collected sayings are [firmly fixed in the mind] like well-driven nails; they are given by one Shepherd.  [Ezek 37:24 ]

<sup>12</sup> But beyond this my son, [about going further than the words given by one Shepherd], be warned: the writing of many books is endless [so do not believe everything you read], and excessive study and devotion to books is wearying to the body. ‡

<sup>13</sup> When all has been heard, the end of the matter is: fear God [worship Him with awe-filled reverence, knowing that He is almighty God] and keep His commandments, for this applies to every person. ‡

<sup>14</sup> For God will bring every act to judgment, every hidden and secret thing, whether it is good or evil.  [Matt 12:36 ; Acts 17:30, 31 ; Rom 2:16 ; 1 Cor 4:5 ‡

Annotations for Ecclesiastes

1:1 the Preacher. This word denotes a function or a profession. It literally means “one who assembles or gathers people together.” Thus the word refers to Solomon as a person who convened an assembly of the wise in order to explore in a formal manner the meaning of life.

1:2 Vanity of vanities. This phrase translates the Hebrew superlative, familiar from such phrases as “Song of Songs” and “holy of holies.” Here it might express “the ultimate absurdity” or “utter emptiness.” The word vanity means “breath” or “vapor” and thus speaks of life as “quickly passing.” Life is like a vapor; indeed, it is like the thinnest of vapors. Wherever we read the word vanity in Ecclesiastes, we should think not of what is “meaningless,” but of what is “quickly passing” (v. 14 ; 6:12 ). This is one of the key terms in the Book of Ecclesiastes, for it is found 38 times here, but only 34 times throughout the rest of the Old Testament. The teaching of the Preacher is to realize that life is a fleeting thing that needs to be savored and enjoyed as a gift from God.

1:4 One generation. This term suggests both the human actors and the natural phenomena as well. With the verb “goes” we have the first of a series of antitheses in Ecclesiastes. the earth remains forever. Only God is eternal and everlasting in the fullest sense. But compared to the lives of humankind, the earth abides with little change.

1:13 under heaven. This is a synonymous expression for “under the sun” (vv. 3 ,9 ); it refers to life as it is lived by people on earth.

1:14 futile grasping and chasing after the wind. This phrase does not occur in the Hebrew Bible outside of Ecclesiastes. Seven of its nine occurrences (v. 14 ; 2:11 ,17 ,26 ; 4:4 ,6 ; 6:9 ) follow “vanity” statements. The phrase explains the nature of life according to the Preacher. Life is real, but quickly passing; any attempt to slow it is futile.

2:1 Come now, I will test you with pleasure and gratification. The Preacher uses a literary device of conversing with himself as a way of describing his thought processes. have a good time. A new test is proposed, following the test of wisdom. It is the test of “joy.”

2:2 It is madness. Solomon labels the lighter side of pleasure and joy as sheer madness, but even the weightier aspects of laughter cause Solomon to ask if anything substantial is really achieved. As Solomon writes in Proverbs 14:13 , “Even in laughter the heart may be in pain, and the end of joy may be grief.”

2:10 my eyes looked at with desire. Solomon had limitless ability to fulfill any and all of his desires.

2:11 behold, all was vanity. At the end of his grand quest for possessions and experiences, Solomon concluded that it was “vanity” or a “vapor,” a striving after the wind. That is, even with all he had done and experienced, there was still a sense that nothing lasting or enduring had been achieved.

2:17 So I hated life. Such hatred of life is astonishing since the one who finds wisdom also finds life, according to Proverbs 3:16 . But the Preacher’s dissatisfaction was related to the quickly passing nature of everything (1:2 ), including the good things.

2:21 This too is vanity and a great evil. The term evil often has a sense of moral evil; here, however it may mean “calamity” or “ruin.” There is a sense of sadness that runs through this section. Nothing that we gain in this life can be carried on into the life to come.

2:24 eat and drink. The Preacher concludes that all good is located only in God. This phrase marks one of the central affirmations of the book (3:12 ; 3:22 ; 8:15 ; 9:7 ); in the midst of a world of trouble, a believer is able to seize the moment in joy from God. Only God supplies the key to the meaning of life.

Without Him, genuine meaning, satisfaction, and enjoyment in life are ultimately elusive.

2:26 God gives wisdom, knowledge, and joy. One of the words used most frequently in Ecclesiastes to describe God's relationship to individuals is a verb "to give." It appears 11 times with God as the subject. Joy is God's gift to the man who is good in His sight. God has designed us so that true joy is possible only through Him.

3:1–15 There is a season (a time appointed) for everything. Some regard the Book of Ecclesiastes as describing life apart from God. But clearly this text describes life that is lived in relationship with God. Through these words, the Preacher is not saying that everything has an opportune time according to which one should choose one action or the other. Rather, he teaches that all events are in the hand of God, who makes everything happen in the time He judges appropriate.

3:5 A time to throw away stones. In times of peace, stones were cleared from the fields allowing for cultivation. In wartime, the rocks were thrown on the fields to make them unusable (2Ki 3:19, 25).

3:7 A time to tear apart and a time to sew together. When bad news came, it was customary to rip one's garments to show grief (2Sa 13:31). When the problem passed, it was just as well to sew the garment back together.

3:9 What profit is there. This is the same question posed in 1:3. The answer here is that all of life unfolds at the appointment of God. All the toiling of man cannot change the time, circumstances, and control of events that God has reserved for Himself.

3:11 planted eternity [a sense of divine purpose] in the human heart. This phrase refers to a deep-seated, compulsive drive to transcend our mortality by knowing the meaning and destiny of the world. Because we are made in the image of God, we have an inborn inquisitiveness about eternal realities. We can find peace only when we come to know our eternal Creator. Even then, we know God only in part (1Co 13:12).

3:12–13 nothing better . . . to rejoice. As in 2:24, the advice of the Preacher is to seize the day in the joy of God. Biblical faith is a call for joy, even when we live in a wicked world and under terrible stress; this is because we find true joy in the living God.

3:16–17 I have seen . . . the place of justice there is wickedness. It was outrageous that in the very establishments where people should expect justice, they could find only wickedness. The Preacher warns the wicked judges that God, the final Judge, will come to rectify all wrong doing and bring true justice.

3:20 All go to the same place. Both humans and beasts die and go to the grave. But this is not the end for human beings—they will face eternal life or death. People and animals differ; their bodies go back to the dust from which they came, but the human spirit is immortal.

4:1 they had no one to comfort them. So much pain can come to the downtrodden that they may even despair of life (1Ki 19:4). Only when the oppressed go into the house of God will they gain perspective (5:1–6; Ps 73:17).

4:3 who has not yet been born. So powerfully wrong and so lonely is the suffering of the oppressed, that Solomon, with a good deal of poetic license similar to Job 3:3–10, argues that nonexistence could be preferred over existence.

4:8 his eyes were not satisfied. Man is in love with what is vanishing. The antidote for covetousness is to replace sinful desire for increase in wealth, with a strong passion for doing the will of God (1Jn 2:17).

4:9–12 Two are better than one. Throughout this section there is an emphasis on the obvious benefits of companions. The intimacy and sharing of life brings relief for the problem of isolation and loneliness. A companion can offer assistance, comfort, and defense—a threefold chord.

5:1 Guard your steps. This means behave yourself. The idea of righteous behavior is rephrased at the end of the section in the words: “fear God” (5:7 ).

5:4–5 When you make a vow or a pledge to God. One should not attempt to bribe God with a hasty vow. The first part of this verse is almost identical to Deuteronomy 23:21 . See the later example of the lie of Ananias and Sapphira (Ac 5:1–11 ).

5:7 fear God. This is a central theme of the Book of Ecclesiastes. It does not mean to be afraid of God (Ex 20:2 ). It means to have reverence, awe, and wonder in response to His glory.

5:10 will not be satisfied. Desire always outruns possessions, no matter how vast acquisitions may grow.

5:15 As he came naked. The maxim that “you can’t take it with you” is affirmed here (2:21 ).

5:19 this is the gift of God. God has separated the gift of enjoying something from the gift of the object itself so that we might be driven back to the Giver.

6:2 God has not given him the power. Prosperity without the divine gift of enjoyment amounts to nothing (5:19 ).

6:6 do not both go to one place. That one place is the grave (3:20 ). If a long life terminates in death with no prospect of anything else, will that life have been worthwhile? Long life without knowing God and without the power to enjoy it is indeed frustrating and useless.

6:12 like a shadow. This phrase is a confirmation of the meaning of the Hebrew word translated vanity. Life passes away quickly, like a vapor. what will happen after him. The implied answer is that only God knows what will happen to us after death. Rather than imply that nothing exists beyond the grave, this book teaches that each person’s life will be reviewed by God after death.

7:2–4 house of mourning. We may learn more about the meaning of life in the house of mourning than in the house of pleasure .

7:9 For anger dwells in the heart of fools. Anger is a destructive flood, working all kinds of havoc in our lives. It often leads to protracted and bitter strife (Pr 30:33 ). It disrupts and disunites families (1Sa 20:30 ) and may lead to murder (Ge 4:4–5 ; 49:6 ).

7:13 straight what He has bent. The bent that needs straightening is the presence of afflictions and adversities in life. Both prosperity and adversity come from the hand of God. For prosperity give thanks, but in adversity reflect on the goodness and the comprehensiveness of the plan of God.

7:15 there is a righteous man. There are inequities in life that will always be a mystery (3:16–4:3 ; 8:14 ).

7:16–18 Do not be excessively righteous. Few verses in Ecclesiastes are more susceptible to incorrect interpretation than these. This one is not the so-called golden mean that advises: “Don’t be too holy and don’t be too wicked; sin to a moderate degree.” The Preacher was warning instead about pseudo-religiosity and showy forms of worship as well as self-righteousness and judgmental legalism.

7:20 Individual Sin— The depravity of man is the one Christian doctrine that is verifiable. In Romans 3:23 , Paul echoes this when he says, “all have sinned and continually fall short of the glory of God.” All we have to do is watch the news or pick up a paper and we are forced to deal with this reality. Each individual man, woman, and child needs the righteousness of God. Without God’s righteousness no one can ever enter or stand in God’s presence. We all need new life in Christ because we are all sinners. Go to Theological Notes Index

7:24 Who can discover it. The theme of wisdom’s inaccessibility also appears in Job 28 . The answer to this search for wisdom is that God can find wisdom (Job 28:23–28 ).

7:29 God made man upright and uncorrupted. God created men to do right. They have preferred to search out their own path.

8:1 man’s wisdom illumines his face, And causes his stern face to beam. This idiom is an image of a person who is stable. Out of the depths of experience and understanding, that person is able to enjoy life and build up others.

8:8 no man who has power and authority over the wind to restrain the wind. The word for wind is also translated spirit. In this context it could mean “life force” (3:19). God is in charge.

8:15 no better thing under the sun than to eat and to drink and to be merry. In contrast to the search for the meaning of all things is the contentment that a wise, loving God gives to those who will receive His gifts. Here is one of the central themes of Ecclesiastes. The Preacher marks the end of the third major section of his book with this refrain. The wicked person (the fool) decides that the best thing to do is “to eat and to drink and to be merry” with no thought given to the living God. But the righteous person (the wise) can enjoy life while thinking of God and His good gifts.

9:1 love or hatred. Sometimes in Hebrew two opposites together are a way of saying “everything.” Love and hate are best viewed as words for God’s favor and disfavor.

9:5 the dead know nothing. This is not a flat denial of any hope beyond the grave. The point of view is limited to what can be known strictly from the human point of view, “under the sun.”

9:8 Let your clothes always be white. It was difficult in ancient times to keep white clothing clean (see analogy in Isa 1:18). White clothing and ointments—oil—were symbols of joy and purity.

9:11 not to the swift . . . to the strong . . . wise . . . understanding . . . men of ability. We would like to think that the best always win, that the deserving are always rewarded. But our experience shows that these expectations are not always realized. These five assets were enjoyed by individuals. But while some planned and counted on their assets, God in the end determined their lot.

9:14–18 There was a little city. Here is a parable about how an unstoppable military operation against a small city was prevented by the wisdom of one poor but wise man. The conclusion is that wisdom is preferable to strength, and should be heeded.

10:1 Dead flies make the oil of the perfumer . . . foul odor. Just as one fly can ruin a whole batch of ointment, so an ounce of folly will spoil a pound of wisdom.

10:2 A wise man’s heart turns him toward the right. In ancient thought, the right hand was the place of honor and favor, while the left hand was the reverse.

10:10 If the axe is dull. The wise person will sharpen the axe. A person of limited training will have to work harder, as though with a dull axe, than someone wiser whose tools are maintained.

10:17 Blessed [prosperous and admired] are you, O land. Useful nobility expresses itself in a sense of responsibility and deference to social order. This verse is an argument for propriety.

11:1 Cast your bread on the surface of the waters. Verses 1–6 emphasize the element of risk and uncertainty in commercial and agricultural enterprises. Thus if the preceding proverbs in chapter 10 deal with royalty and leaders, these in verses 1–6 deal with common people. Men and women must venture forth judiciously if they are ever to realize a gain, even though there is always a certain amount of risk.

11:2 to seven, or even [divide it] to eight. This urges us to be generous to as many as possible—and then some.

11:4 will not sow . . . will not reap. The person who is so cautious that he must wait for the ideal time before he makes a move is doomed to fail.

11:9 walk in the ways of your heart. This verse is not an invitation to live sinfully in sensual pleasure (as Nu 15:39 describes). Instead, it urges young people to enjoy themselves completely while not forgetting that God will review the quality of their life (3:17; 12:14).

12:1–8 Remember [thoughtfully] also your Creator. Most interpreters have argued that this poem is an allegory of old age.

12:2 before the sun and the light, and the moon and the stars are darkened. The person is losing his sight.

12:4 sound of the grinding [of the teeth] is low. A depiction of toothless old age when eating only soft foods makes little or no noise.

12:11 The words of the wise are like [prodding] goads. Just as an ox goad prods an animal in the right direction, so will the words of this book, when they are properly understood. well-driven nails. The nails or “pegs” referred to here are the same as in 2 Chronicles 3:9 and Jeremiah 10:4. These are hooks in tents where families hung the clothes and pots needed for everyday life. Here they refer to mental hooks giving stability and perspective to life.

12:13 keep His commandments. The commandments of the law are in view here. Jesus summed them up as to “love the Lord your God” and “your neighbor as yourself” (Mt 22:34-40). We are whole or complete only when we fear God and obey His commandments. What profit is there in living? If we follow what this book has said, we will have a relationship with God and find life in Him.

The Song of Solomon

- ▶ AUTHOR: According to 1 Kings 4:32, Solomon wrote 1,005 songs, but this eulogy of love stood out among them as the “song of songs.” Tradition strongly favors Solomon as the author of this book. Solomon is specifically mentioned seven times, and he is identified as the groom. There is also evidence in the book of incredible royal luxury and expensive imported goods, things that characterized Solomon’s reign.
- ▶ TIMES: c. 965 BC
- ▶ KEY VERSE: SS 7:10
- ▶ THEME: Song of Solomon, or Song of Songs as it is sometimes known, is a one of kind love poem that concentrates on elements of the physical attraction between the sexes. It is possible that the Shulammite maiden was Abishag, who attended to David in his last days. Like Jesus’ presence at a wedding, Song of Songs is an indication of God’s blessing on the physical union of man and woman. God created us for each other, and we should delight in physical intimacy within the context of marriage that God has sanctioned for us.

Song of Solomon 1

The Young Shulammite Bride and Jerusalem's Daughters

<sup>1</sup> THE SONG of Songs [the best of songs], which is Solomon's. [1 Kin 4:32] ‡

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>2</sup>“May he kiss me with the kisses of his mouth!” [Solomon arrives, she turns to him, saying,] ‡

“For your love is better than wine.

<sup>3</sup>“The aroma of your oils is fragrant and pleasing;
Your name is perfume poured out;
Therefore the maidens love you.

<sup>4</sup> “Draw me away with you and let us run together!” ‡
Let the king bring me into his chambers.”

(The Chorus)

“ We will rejoice and be glad in you;
We will remember and extol your love more [sweet and fragrant] than wine.
Rightly do they love you.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>5</sup>“I am deeply tanned but lovely,
O daughters of Jerusalem,
[I am dark] like the tents of [the Bedouins of] Kedar,
Like the [beautiful] curtains of Solomon.

<sup>6</sup> “Do not gaze at me because I am deeply tanned,
[I have worked in] the sun; it has left its mark on me.
My mother's sons were angry with me;
They made me keeper of the vineyards,
But my own vineyard (my complexion) I have not kept.”

<sup>7</sup>“Tell me, O you whom my soul loves,
Where do you pasture your flock,
Where do you make it lie down at noon?

For why should I be like one who is veiled Beside the flocks of your companions?”  [Ps 23:1, 2 ]

Solomon, the Lover, Speaks

(The Bridegroom)

8 “If you do not know [where your lover is], ‡
O you fairest among women,
Run along, follow the tracks of the flock,
And pasture your young goats
By the tents of the shepherds.

9 “To me, my love, you are like ‡
My [favorite] mare among the chariots of Pharaoh.
10 “Your cheeks are lovely with ornaments, ‡
Your neck with strings of jewels.”

(The Chorus)

11 “We will make for you chains and ornaments of gold, [Studded] with beads of silver.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

12 “While the king was at his table,
My perfume (Solomon) sent forth [his] fragrance [surrounding me].

13 “My beloved is to me like a pouch of myrrh
Which lies all night between my breasts.

14 “My beloved is to me a cluster of henna flowers
In the [fragrant] vineyards of Engedi.”

(The Bridegroom)

15 “Behold, how beautiful you are, my darling, ‡ Behold, how beautiful you are!
Your eyes are dove’s eyes.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>16</sup> “Behold, how fair and handsome you are, my beloved;
And so delightful!

Our arbor is green and luxuriant.

<sup>17</sup> “The beams of our houses are cedars,
Our rafters and panels are cypresses.

Song of Solomon 2

The Bride's Admiration

<sup>1</sup> “I AM the rose [of the plain] of Sharon,
The lily of the valleys [that grows in deep places].”

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>2</sup> “Like the lily among the thorns,
So are you, my darling, among the maidens.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>3</sup> “Like an apple tree [rare and welcome] among the trees of the forest, ‡

So is my beloved among the young men!
In his shade I took great delight and sat down,
And his fruit was sweet and delicious to my palate.

<sup>4</sup> “He has brought me to his banqueting place,
And his banner over me is love [waving overhead to protect and comfort me].

<sup>5</sup> “Sustain me with raisin cakes,
Refresh me with apples,
Because I am sick with love.

<sup>6</sup> “Let his left hand be under my head ‡
And his right hand embrace me.”  [Deut 33:27; Matt 28:20 ]

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>7</sup> “I command that you take an oath, O daughters of Jerusalem, ‡

By the gazelles or by the does of the field [which run free],
That you do not rouse nor awaken my love

Until she pleases.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>8</sup>“Listen! My beloved!
Behold, he comes,
Climbing on the mountains,
Leaping and running on the hills!  [John 10:27 ]

<sup>9</sup> “My beloved is like a gazelle or a young stag. ‡
Behold, he is standing behind our wall,
He is looking through the windows,
He is gazing through the lattice.

<sup>10</sup> “My beloved speaks and says to me, ‡
‘Arise, my love, my fair one,
And come away.

<sup>11</sup> ‘For behold, the winter is past,
The rain is over and gone.

<sup>12</sup> ‘The flowers appear on the earth once again;
The time for singing has come,
And the voice of the turtledove is heard in our land.

<sup>13</sup> ‘The fig tree has budded and ripens her figs, ‡
And the vines are in blossom and give forth their fragrance.
Arise, my love, my fair one,
And come away [to climb the rocky steps of the hillside].’ ”

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>14</sup> “O my dove, [here] in the clefts in the rock, ‡
In the sheltered and secret place of the steep pathway,
Let me see your face,
Let me hear your voice;
For your voice is sweet,
And your face is lovely.”

(The Chorus)

<sup>15</sup> “Catch the foxes for us, ‡
The little foxes that spoil and ruin the vineyards [of love], While our vineyards are in blossom.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>16</sup> “My beloved is mine and I am his; ‡
He pastures his flock among the lilies.  [Matt 10:32; Acts 4:12 ] <sup>17</sup> “Until the cool of the day when the shadows flee away, ‡
Return quickly, my beloved, and be like a gazelle
Or a young stag on the mountains of Bether [which separate us].”

Song of Solomon 3

The Bride’s Troubled Dream

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>1</sup>“ON MY bed night after night [I dreamed that] I sought the one ‡
Whom my soul loves;
I sought him but did not find him.  [Is 26:9 ]
<sup>2</sup> “ I said ‘So I must arise now and go out into the city;
Into the streets and into the squares [places I do not know]
I must seek him whom my soul loves.’
I sought him but I did not find him.
<sup>3</sup>“The watchmen who go around the city found me, ‡
And I said , ‘Have you seen him whom my soul loves?’
<sup>4</sup>“Scarcely had I passed them
When I found him whom my soul loves.
I held on to him and would not let him go
Until I had brought him to my mother’s house,
And into the chamber of her who conceived me.”  [Rom 8:35 ;
1 Pet 2:25. ]

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>5</sup> “I command that you take an oath, O daughters of Jerusalem, ‡
By the gazelles or by the does of the field,
That you do not rouse nor awaken my love
Until she pleases.”

Solomon's Wedding Day

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>6</sup> “What is this coming up from the wilderness ‡
Like [stately] pillars of smoke
Perfumed with myrrh and frankincense,
With all the fragrant powders of the merchant?”

(The Chorus)

<sup>7</sup> “Behold, it is the couch (palanquin) of Solomon;
Sixty mighty men around it,
Of the mighty men of Israel.
<sup>8</sup> “All of them handle the sword,
All expert in war;
Each man has his sword at his thigh,
Guarding against the terrors of the night.
<sup>9</sup> “King Solomon has made for himself a palanquin
From the [cedar] wood of Lebanon.
<sup>10</sup> “He made its posts of silver,
Its back of gold,
Its seat of purple cloth,
The interior lovingly and intricately wrought
By the daughters of Jerusalem.
<sup>11</sup> “Go forth, O daughters of Zion,
And gaze on King Solomon wearing the crown
With which his mother [Bathsheba] has crowned him
On the day of his wedding,
On the day of his gladness of heart.”

Song of Solomon 4

Solomon's Love Expressed

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>1</sup> “HOW FAIR and beautiful you are, my darling, ‡
How very beautiful!

Your eyes behind your veil are like those of a dove;
Your hair is like [the shimmering black fleece of] a flock of [Arabian] goats
That have descended from Mount Gilead [beyond the Jordan].

<sup>2</sup>“Your teeth are like a flock of newly shorn ewes ‡
Which have come up from washing,
All of which bear twins,
And not one among them has lost her young.

<sup>3</sup> “Your lips are like a ribbon of scarlet, ‡
And your mouth is lovely.

Your temples are like a slice of the pomegranate
Behind your veil.

<sup>4</sup> “Your neck is like the tower of David, ‡
Built with rows of [glistening] stones,
Whereon hang a thousand shields,
All of them shields of warriors.

<sup>5</sup> “Your two breasts are like two fawns, ‡
Twins of a gazelle
Which feed among the lilies.

<sup>6</sup> “Until the day breaks ‡
And the shadows flee away,
[In my thoughts] I will go my way to the mountain of myrrh
And to the hill of frankincense.

<sup>7</sup> “O my love, you are altogether beautiful and fair. ‡
There is no flaw nor blemish in you!  [John 14:18; Eph 5:27 ]

<sup>8</sup> “Come away with me from Lebanon, my [promised] bride, ‡
May you come with me from Lebanon.
Journey down from the top of Amana,
From the summit of Senir and Hermon,
From the dens of lions,

From the mountains of leopards.  [2 Cor 11:2, 3 ]

<sup>9</sup>—“You have ravished my heart and given me courage, my sister, my [promised] bride;
You have ravished my heart and given me courage with a single glance of your eyes,
With one jewel of your necklace.

<sup>10</sup> “How beautiful is your love, my sister, my [promised] bride! ‡

How much better is your love than wine,
And the fragrance of your oils
Than all kinds of balsam and spices.  [John 15:9; Rom 8:35 ]

<sup>11</sup> “Your lips, my [promised] bride, drip honey [as the honeycomb]; ‡

Honey and milk are under your tongue,
And the fragrance of your garments is like the fragrance of Lebanon.

<sup>12</sup> “A garden enclosed is my sister, my [promised] bride—
A rock garden locked, a spring sealed up.

[A paradise] with precious fruits, henna with fragrant plants,  [John 15:5; Eph 5:9 ]

<sup>14</sup> Fragrant plants and saffron, calamus and cinnamon,
With all trees of frankincense,
Myrrh and aloes, along with all the finest spices.

<sup>15</sup> “ You are a fountain in a garden, ‡
A well of fresh and living water,
And streams flowing from Lebanon.”  [John 4:10; 7:37, 38 ]

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>16</sup> “Awake, O north wind, ‡
And come, south wind [blow softly upon my garden];
Make my garden breathe out fragrance, [for the one in whom my soul delights],
Let its spices flow forth.
Let my beloved come into his garden
And eat its choicest fruits.”

Song of Solomon 5

The Torment of Separation

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>1</sup> “I HAVE come into my garden, my sister, my [promised] bride; ‡

I have gathered my myrrh along with my balsam and spice [from your sweet words].
I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey;
I have drunk my wine with my milk.
Eat, friends;
Drink and drink deeply, O lovers.”  [John 16:33.]

(The Shulammite Bride)

2 “I was asleep, but my heart was awake. ‡
A voice [in my dream]! My beloved was knocking:
‘Open to me, my sister, my darling,
My dove, my perfect one!
For my head is drenched with the [heavy night] dew;
My hair [is covered] with the dampness of the night.’  [Job 11:13–15 ]

3 “I had taken off my dress,
How can I put it on again?
I had washed my feet,
How could I get them dirty again?  [Is 32:9; Heb 3:15 ]

4 “My beloved extended his hand through the opening [of the door],

And my feelings were aroused for him.

5 “I arose to open for my beloved;
And my hands dripped with myrrh,
And my fingers with liquid [sweet-scented] myrrh,
On the handles of the bolt.

6 “I opened for my beloved, ‡
But my beloved had turned away and was gone.
My heart went out to him when he spoke.
I searched for him, but I could not find him;
I called him, but he did not answer me.

7 “The watchmen who make the rounds in the city found me. ‡
They struck me, they wounded me;
The guardsmen of the walls took my shawl from me.

8—“I command that you take an oath, O daughters of Jerusalem,
If you find my beloved,

As to what you tell him—[Say that] I am sick from love [sick from being without him].”  [Ps 63:1.]

(The Chorus)

<sup>9</sup> “What is your beloved more than another beloved,‡
O most beautiful among women?
What is your beloved more than another beloved,
That you should so command us to take an oath?”  [John 10:26.]

Admiration by the Bride

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>10</sup> “My beloved is exquisitely handsome and ruddy, Outstanding among ten thousand.  [Ps 45:2; John 1:14.]

<sup>11</sup> “His head is like [precious] gold, pure gold;
His hair is [curly] like clusters of dates
And black as a raven.

<sup>12</sup> “His eyes are like doves ‡
Beside streams of water,
Bathed in milk
And reposed in their setting.

<sup>13</sup> “His cheeks are like a bed of balsam,
Banks of sweet, fragrant herbs.
His lips are lilies
Dripping sweet-scented myrrh.

<sup>14</sup> “His hands are rods of gold
Set with beryl;
His abdomen is a figure of carved ivory
Inlaid with sapphires.

<sup>15</sup> “His legs are [strong and steady] pillars of alabaster
Set upon pedestals of fine gold.
His appearance is like Lebanon,
Stately and choice as the cedars.

<sup>16</sup> “His mouth is full of sweetness;
Yes, he is altogether lovely and desirable.

This is my beloved and this is my friend,
O daughters of Jerusalem.”  [Ps 92:15 ; Col 1:15.]

Song of Solomon 6

Mutual Delight in Each Other

(The Chorus)

<sup>1</sup>“WHERE HAS your beloved gone, ‡
O most beautiful among women?
Where is your beloved hiding himself,
That we may seek him with you?”

(The Shulammite Bride)

<sup>2</sup> “My beloved has gone down to his garden,
To the beds of balsam,
To feed his flock in the gardens
And gather lilies.

He who feeds his flock among the lilies.”

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>4</sup> “You are as beautiful as Tirzah, my darling, ‡
As lovely as Jerusalem,
As majestic as an army with banners!

<sup>5</sup> “Turn your [flashing] eyes away from me, ‡
For they have confused and overcome me;
Your hair is like [the shimmering black fleece of] a flock of [Arabian] goats

That have descended from Mount Gilead.

<sup>6</sup> “Your teeth are like a flock of ewes ‡
Which have come up from their washing,
All of which bear twins,
And not one among them has lost her young.

<sup>7</sup> “Your temples are like a slice of the pomegranate ‡
Behind your veil.

<sup>8</sup>“There are sixty queens and eighty concubines,
And maidens without number;
<sup>9</sup> But my dove, my perfect one, stands alone [above them all];
She is her mother’s only daughter;
She is the pure child of the one who bore her.
The maidens saw her and called her blessed and happy,
The queens and the concubines also, and they praised her,
    saying,  [Col 2:8 , 9 ]

<sup>10</sup> ‘Who is this that looks down like the dawn, ‡
Fair and beautiful as the full moon,
Clear and pure as the sun,
As majestic as an army with banners?’
<sup>11</sup> “I went down to the orchard of nut trees ‡
To see the flowers of the valley,
To see whether the grapevine had budded
And the pomegranates were in flower.
<sup>12</sup> “Before I was aware [of what was happening], my desire had brought me
Into the area of the princes of my people [the king’s retinue].”

(The Chorus)

13“Return, return, O Shulammite; Return, return, that we may gaze at you.”

(The Bridegroom)

“ Why should you gaze at the Shulammite,
As at the dance of the two armies?

Song of Solomon 7

Admiration by the Bridegroom

1“HOW BEAUTIFUL are your feet in sandals, ‡
O prince’s daughter!
The curves of your hips are like jewels,
The work of the hands of an artist.
<sup>2</sup> “Your navel is a round goblet

Which never lacks mixed wine.
Your belly is like a heap of wheat
Surrounded with lilies.

<sup>3</sup> “Your two breasts are like two fawns,‡
The twins of a gazelle.

<sup>4</sup> “Your neck is like a tower of ivory,‡
Your eyes the [sparkling] pools of Heshbon
By the gate of Bath-rabbim.

Your nose is like the tower of Lebanon
Which looks toward Damascus.

<sup>5</sup> “Your head crowns you like Mount Carmel,
And the flowing hair of your head like purple threads;
I, the king, am held captive by your tresses.

<sup>6</sup> “How beautiful and how delightful you are,
My love, with all your delights!

<sup>7</sup> “Your stature is like that of a palm tree
And your breasts like its clusters [of dates].

<sup>8</sup> “I said, ‘I will climb the palm tree;
I will grasp its branches.
Let your breasts be like clusters of the grapevine,
And the fragrance of your breath like apples,

<sup>9</sup> ‘And your kisses like the best wine!’ ”

(The Shulammite Bride)

“It goes down smoothly and sweetly for my beloved,
Gliding gently over his lips while he sleeps.

The Union of Love

<sup>10</sup> “I am my beloved’s,‡
And his desire is for me. [John 10:28.]

<sup>11</sup> “Come, my beloved, let us go out into the country,
Let us spend the night in the villages. [Luke 14:33.]

<sup>12</sup> “Let us go out early to the vineyards;‡
Let us see whether the vine has budded
And its blossoms have opened,
And whether the pomegranates have flowered.

There I will give you my love.
13.“The mandrakes give forth fragrance,‡
And over our doors are all [kinds of] choice fruits,
Both new and old,
Which I have saved up for you, my beloved.

Song of Solomon 8

The Lovers Speak

<sup>1</sup> “OH, THAT you were like a brother to me,
Who nursed at the breasts of my mother.
If I found you out of doors, I would kiss you;
No one would blame me or despise me, either.  [Ps 143:6 ]
<sup>2</sup> “I would lead you and bring you ‡
Into the house of my mother, who used to instruct me;
I would give you spiced wine to drink from the juice of my pomegranates.
3.“Let his left hand be under my head ‡
And his right hand embrace me.”  [Ex 19:4 ; Deut 33:27 ]

(The Bridegroom)

<sup>4</sup> “I command you to take an oath, O daughters of Jerusalem,‡
That you do not rouse nor awaken my love
Until she pleases.”

(The Chorus)

<sup>5</sup> “Who is this coming up from the wilderness ‡ Leaning upon her beloved?”

(The Shulammite Bride)

“ U nder the apple tree I awakened you [to my love];
There your mother was in labor with you,
There she was in labor and gave you birth.

6.“Put me like a seal on your heart, ‡
Like a seal on your arm;
For love is as strong as death,

Jealousy is as severe and cruel as Sheol (the place of the dead).
Its flashes are flashes of fire,
[A most vehement flame] the very flame of the LORD!  [Deut 4:24 ; Is 49:16 ; 1 Cor 10:22 ]

7“Many waters cannot quench love,‡
Nor can rivers drown it.
If a man would offer all the riches of his house for love,
It would be utterly scorned and despised.”

(The Chorus)

8 “We have a little sister‡
And she has no breasts.
What shall we do for our sister
On the day when she is spoken for [in marriage]?
9 “If she is a wall (discreet, womanly),
We will build on her a turret (dowry) of silver;
But if she is a door (bold, flirtatious),
We will enclose her with planks of cedar.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

10 “I was a wall, and my breasts were like the towers.
Then I became in the king’s eyes
As one [to be respected and allowed] to find peace.
11 “Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon;‡
He entrusted the vineyard to caretakers;
Each one was to bring him a thousand shekels of silver for its fruit.
12 “My very own vineyard is at my disposal;
The thousand [shekels of silver] are for you, O Solomon,
And two hundred are for those who tend the fruit.”

(The Bridegroom)

13 “O you who sit in the gardens,‡
My companions are listening for your voice—
Let me hear it.”

(The Shulammite Bride)

14 “Hurry, my beloved and come quickly,‡
Like a gazelle or a young stag [taking me home]
On the mountains of spices.”

Annotations for Song of Solomon

1:1 Song of Songs. Like the superlative expressions “holy of holies” or “King of kings,” song of songs means “the loveliest of songs.” There are two principal speakers in this book, the woman (the Shulammite) and the man (Solomon).

1:2 For your love is better than wine. The Hebrew noun used here means sexual love, as it clearly does in Ezekiel 16:8. This is the Hebrew word that most approximates the Greek word eros. In the Song of Solomon, this plural word (a mark of intensity) speaks of divinely blessed lovemaking.

1:3 aroma of your oils is fragrant and pleasing. It was customary in biblical times to rub the body with fragrant oils after a bath in preparation for a festive occasion (Ru 3:3).

1:5 I am deeply tanned but lovely. The Shulammite compares her dark coloring acquired from long hours working in the vineyards (v. 6) with the lighter complexion of the city maidens. The point here is her class and station in life. Unlike the young women of the court in Jerusalem who had been raised in comfort and conditions of ease, this woman had worked as a field hand in the sun. She knows her beauty is not diminished by her more rugged manner of living.

1:7 O you whom my soul loves. Here the woman mentally addresses Solomon, her husband. She pictures him as the shepherd of Israel.

1:8 Run along, follow the tracks of the flock. It would be better if she returned to the borders of Lebanon and the life of the farm rather than live alone and anxious in Solomon’s palace. The point of this verse is that one should always count the cost of marriage to a particular person before the marriage.

1:13 My beloved is to me like a pouch of myrrh. This verse refers to an oriental custom for a woman to wear a small bag of myrrh, a perfumed ointment, around her neck at night. All the next day a lovely fragrance would linger about her.

1:17 The beams of our houses are cedars. As the Shulammite lies on their wedding bed (v. 16), she observes the marvelous cedar beams above her head. The opulence of Solomon’s personal and public buildings in Jerusalem is well documented (1Ki 7:1-12).

2:3 Like an apple tree. Raisin cakes (v. 5) and apples are symbols for sexual passion in ancient love songs.

2:4 to his banqueting place. The literal meaning of the phrase is “the house of wine,” used because of the role that wine plays not only in feasting, but especially in weddings in biblical cultures (1:2). In the Bible, wine is a symbol of joy (Ps 104:15).

2:8 Leaping and running on the hills. This is the young bride’s imaginative way of recalling the joy she experienced at her husband’s arrival.

2:11-13 the winter is past. By this Solomon means that the time of joy has come; it is the summer of their love. Solomon may have come at a time of great beauty in the fields and forests where the young woman lived; he uses the beauty of creation to describe the ripeness of time for their love.

2:15 Catch the foxes. The Shulammite’s brothers called on Solomon to catch them the foxes. Many times they had seen little foxes creep into the vineyards they tended and destroy the roots by gnawing on them.

3:1 On my bed. This is a dream that took place before they were married. The young woman was becoming concerned about what she would be getting into in the royal marriage.

3:3 Have you seen him. Her frantic search for her beloved is initially unsuccessful.

3:4 whom my soul loves. At last she finds him and in her dream takes him to her mother's house. The worry of his absence is intolerable to her; she wants him to move back with her to her familiar home and lifestyle.

3:7 Behold, it is the couch. This was a sedan chair with poles projecting from the front and back so that a person could be carried by several bearers (vv. 9–10 ). The Shulammite was being carried to the wedding and to her groom on Solomon's own couch.

4:1 How fair and beautiful. Solomon lavishly praises his bride's great beauty. He uses verbal symbols of loveliness to paint a picture of the breathtaking charm of the Shulammite. Dove's eyes are a picture of purity, innocence, and beauty. The king compared the movement of her flowing hair to the graceful movement of a flock of goats in their descent down from Mount Gilead.

4:2–5 teeth . . . lips . . . neck . . . breasts. The king rhapsodizes of the perfection of her physical features. Her beauty is exquisite.

4:9 my sister, my [promised] bride. This strange pairing of words was based on the idea that in marriage a couple became "related." The woman was dignified as a member of the king's family.

4:11 lips . . . Honey and milk. The sweetness of his bride's kisses are like food to him (5:1 ; compare 1:2 ).

4:12 A garden enclosed . . . a spring sealed up. Solomon evokes thoughts of refreshment and delight. His use of the words "locked" and "sealed" indicate, in a poetic manner, his wife's virginity on their wedding night. This was the treasure she brought to him, and which she charged the other young women in the court to maintain for their wedding nights as well (2:7 ).

4:16 Let my beloved come into his garden. The bride is now ready to accept her lover for the first time to her "garden." She calls on the wind to blow through. That is, she is ready to make love to her husband for the first time.

5:1 I have drunk my wine with my milk. At the conclusion of their lovemaking, the groom speaks of his complete satisfaction in his beautiful bride.

5:2–7 I was asleep. These words begin a section (vv. 2–8 ) that most likely is another dream sequence (3:1–5 ). The bride dreams that her lover is coming to her, but she has already washed, removed her robe, and gotten into bed (v. 3 ). She finally goes to the door to let him in, but he is gone. Her sorrow at this drives her into the city to search for him.

5:8–9 O daughters of Jerusalem. She asks for help in her search, but the daughters question what is so special about the one for whom she seeks.

6:1 That we may seek him with you. The chorus members now join in the search. In the dream sequence, we suspect that the chorus is well aware of his location. It is only the bride who needs to discover his whereabouts.

6:3 I am my beloved's and my beloved is mine. These words are an inversion of the words of 2:16 ; compare also 7:10 . He who feeds his flock among the lilies. With these words the bride comes to terms with the reality that, as much as she and the king are in love, he still has other responsibilities and so does she. His work as king makes him the shepherd of his people, yet his love for her does not necessarily diminish because of his devotion to his work.

6:8–9 sixty . . . eighty. This use of numbers is a rhetorical device to emphasize that the bride alone is Solomon's love.

6:13 Return, return, O Shulammite. The chorus calls the bride back from her daydreams and reminds her that she is Solomon's queen.

7:1 The curves of your hips. The Hebrew wording suggests not only her form but also the fluid motion of her dance (6:13 ).

7:7–8 like that of a palm tree. This is a sexual image that has its basis in the pollination of palm trees. To fertilize a female palm tree, the gardener climbs the male tree and takes some of its flowers. Then he climbs the female tree and ties the pollen-bearing flowers among its branches.

7:13 The mandrakes. The yellow fruit of the mandrake was small, sweet-tasting, and fragrant. It was considered a love potion (Ge 30:16 ).

8:3 left . . . right. The repetition of 2:6–7 punctuates both the joy of sexual intimacy with marriage and the warnings against sexual activity before marriage.

8:6 like a seal. This is a symbol of possession or ownership. The Shulammite wants the king to feel a total ownership of her in his heart. She is committed only to him; and she wants him to be completely committed to her. As long as she resides in his heart, she feels secure.

8:7 quench . . . scorned and despised. The point of this verse is that true love cannot be destroyed or purchased.

8:10 I was a wall . . . towers. The woman explains that she has been virtuous in youth and that she will remain faithful in her adulthood.

8:14 mountains of spices. That is, she wants him to return to her loving embrace (1:13 ).

The Book of

Isaiah

- AUTHOR: Although there is much argument regarding the unity of the work, most scholars acknowledge Isaiah as the author of this book. He was from a distinguished Jewish family and his education is evident in his impressive vocabulary and style. The New Testament writers, John, Paul, Matthew, and Luke as well as Jesus himself all quote from the Book of Isaiah and credit him with its authorship. This great poet was uncompromising, sincere, and compassionate. Isaiah maintained close contact with the royal court, but his exhortations against alliances with foreign powers were not always well received.
- TIMES: c. 740–680 BC
- KEY VERSES: Isa 9:6–7
- THEME: Because of the length of the book and Isaiah's interactions with the politics of the time, we probably get a better picture of Isaiah's ministry than we do of any of the other prophets. It also contains more of the well-known, classic prophecy texts than any other book. One commentator calls Isaiah the "Romans" of the Old Testament, as in Isaiah we get a broad perspective on how and why God is working in history. Both God's holiness and grace come clearly into perspective through a careful study of this book.

Rebellion of God's People

<sup>2</sup> Hear, O heavens, and listen, O earth; ‡
For the LORD has spoken:
“I have reared and brought up sons,
But they have rebelled against Me and have broken away.
<sup>3</sup> “The ox [instinctively] knows its owner, ‡
And the donkey its master’s feeding trough,
But Israel does not know [Me as LORD],
My people do not understand.”

<sup>4</sup> Ah, sinful nation, ‡
A people loaded down with wickedness [with sin, with injustice, with wrongdoing],
Offspring of evildoers,
Sons who behave corruptly!
They have abandoned (rejected) the LORD,
They have despised the Holy One of Israel [provoking Him to anger],
They have turned away from Him.

<sup>5</sup> Why should you be stricken and punished again [since no change results from it]? ‡

You [only] continue to rebel.
The whole head is sick
And the whole heart is faint and sick.
<sup>6</sup> From the sole of the foot even to the head
There is nothing healthy in the nation’s body,
Only bruises, welts, and raw wounds,
Not pressed out or bandaged,

Nor softened with oil [as a remedy].

<sup>7</sup> Your land lies desolate [because of your disobedience], ‡
Your cities are burned with fire,
Your fields—strangers are devouring them in your very presence;

It is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.

<sup>8</sup> The Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem) is left like a [deserted] shelter in a vineyard, ‡
Like a watchman’s hut in a cucumber field, like a besieged city [isolated, surrounded by devastation].

<sup>9</sup>. If the LORD of hosts ‡
Had not left us a few survivors,
We would be like Sodom,
We would be like Gomorrah.  [Gen 19:24, 25; Rom 9:29 ]

God Has Had Enough

<sup>10</sup> Hear the word of the LORD [rulers of Jerusalem], ‡
You rulers of [another] Sodom,
Listen to the law and instruction of our God,
You people of [another] Gomorrah.

<sup>11</sup> “What are your multiplied sacrifices to Me [without your repentance]?” ‡

Says the LORD.

“I have had enough of [your] burnt offerings of rams
And the fat of well-fed cattle [without your obedience];
And I take no pleasure in the blood of bulls or lambs or goats [offered without repentance].

<sup>12</sup> “When you come to appear before Me, ‡
Who requires this of you, this trampling of My [temple] courts [by your sinful feet]?

<sup>13</sup> “Do not bring worthless offerings again, ‡
[Your] incense is repulsive to Me;
[Your] New Moon and Sabbath [observances], the calling of assemblies—

I cannot endure wickedness [your sin, your injustice, your wrongdoing] and [the squalor of] the festive assembly.

<sup>14</sup> “I hate [the hypocrisy of] your New Moon festivals and your appointed feasts.‡

They have become a burden to Me;
I am weary of bearing them.

<sup>15</sup> “So when you spread out your hands [in prayer, pleading for My help],‡

I will hide My eyes from you;
Yes, even though you offer many prayers,
I will not be listening.
Your hands are full of blood!

<sup>16</sup> “Wash yourselves, make yourselves clean;‡

Get your evil deeds out of My sight.

Stop doing evil,

<sup>17</sup> Learn to do good.

Seek justice,

Rebuke the ruthless,

Defend the fatherless,

Plead for the [rights of the] widow [in court].

“Let Us Reason”

18 “Come now, and let us reason together,”‡

Says the LORD.

“Though your sins are like scarlet,

They shall be as white as snow;

Though they are red like crimson,

They shall be like wool.

<sup>19</sup> “If you are willing and obedient,

You shall eat the best of the land;

20 But if you refuse and rebel,‡

You shall be devoured by the sword.”

For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

Zion Corrupted, to Be Redeemed

<sup>21</sup> How the faithful city has become a prostitute [idolatrous, despicable], ‡

She who was full of justice!
Right standing with God once lodged in her,
But now murderers.
<sup>22</sup> Your silver has turned to lead, ‡
Your wine is diluted with water.
<sup>23</sup> Your rulers are rebels ‡
And companions of thieves;
Everyone loves bribes
And chases after gifts.
They do not defend the fatherless,
Nor does the widow's cause come before them [instead they delay or turn a deaf ear].

<sup>24</sup> Therefore the Lord GOD of hosts, ‡
The Mighty One of Israel, declares:
“Ah, I will be freed of My adversaries
And avenge Myself on My enemies.
<sup>25</sup> “And I will turn My hand against you, ‡
And will [thoroughly] purge away your dross as with lye
And remove all your tin (impurity).
<sup>26</sup> “Then I will restore your judges as at the first, ‡
And your counselors as at the beginning;
Afterward you will be called the city of righteousness,
The faithful city.”

<sup>27</sup> Zion will be redeemed with justice
And her repentant ones with righteousness.
<sup>28</sup> But rebels and sinners will be crushed and destroyed together, ‡
And those who abandon (turn away from) the LORD will be consumed (perish).
<sup>29</sup> For you will be ashamed [of the degradation] of the oaks in which you took [idolatrous] pleasure, ‡
And you will be ashamed of the gardens [of passion] which you have chosen [for pagan worship].
<sup>30</sup> For you will be like an oak whose leaf withers and dies
And like a garden that has no water.

<sup>31</sup> The strong man will become tinder,‡
And his work a spark.
So both will burn together
And there will be none to quench them.

Isaiah 2

God's Universal Reign

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD [from God] which Isaiah son of Amoz saw [in a vision] concerning [the nation of] Judah and [its capital city] Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> Now it will come to pass that ‡
In the last days
The mountain of the house of the LORD
Will be [firmly] established as the highest of the mountains,
And will be exalted above the hills;
And all the nations will stream to it.

<sup>3</sup> And many peoples shall come and say, ‡
“Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
To the house (temple) of the God of Jacob;
That He may teach us His ways
And that we may walk in His paths.”
For the law will go out from Zion
And the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

<sup>4</sup> And He will judge between the nations, ‡
And will mediate [disputes] for many peoples;
And they will beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation will not lift up the sword against nation,
And never again will they learn war.  [Mic 4:1–3 ]

<sup>5</sup> O house of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of the LORD. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Most certainly [LORD] You have abandoned your people, the house of Jacob, ‡
Because they are filled with influences from the east,
And they are soothsayers [who foretell] like the Philistines;

Also they strike bargains with the children of foreigners
(pagans).  [Deut 18:9–12 ]

<sup>7</sup>Their land has also been filled with silver and gold ‡
And there is no end to their treasures;
Their land has also been filled with horses
And there is no end to their chariots.  [Deut 17:14–17 ]

<sup>8</sup>Their land has also been filled with idols; ‡
They worship the work of their hands,
That which their own fingers have made.

<sup>9</sup> So the common man has been humbled [before idols]
And the man of importance has been degraded,
Therefore do not forgive them [O LORD].

<sup>10</sup> Go among the rocks and hide in the dust ‡
From the terror of the LORD and from the splendor of His majesty.

<sup>11</sup> The proud look of man will be degraded ‡
And the arrogance of men will be humbled,
And the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.

A Day of Reckoning Coming

<sup>12</sup> For the LORD of hosts will have a day of reckoning
Against all who are proud and arrogant
And against all who are lifted up,
That they may be degraded.  [Zeph 2:3 ; Mal 4:1 ]

<sup>13</sup> And the wrath of God will be against all the cedars of Lebanon [west of the Jordan] that are high and lifted up, ‡

Against all the oaks of Bashan [east of the Jordan],

<sup>14</sup> Against all the high mountains, ‡

Against all the hills that are lifted up,

<sup>15</sup> Against every high tower,

<sup>16</sup> Against all the ships of Tarshish ‡

And against all the beautiful craft.

<sup>17</sup> Then the pride of man will be humbled ‡

And the arrogance of men will be degraded;

The LORD alone shall be exalted in that day,

<sup>18</sup> And the idols will completely vanish (be abolished).

<sup>19</sup> They [the stricken, deprived of all in which they had trusted] will go into the caves of the rocks ‡

And into the holes of the ground [fleeing]

From the terror and dread of the LORD

And from the splendor of His majesty,

When He arises to terrify the earth.  [Luke 23:30 ]

<sup>20</sup> In that day men will throw away to the moles and to the bats

Their idols of silver and their idols of gold,

Which they made for themselves [as objects] to worship,

<sup>21</sup> To go into the caverns of the rocks and into the clefts of the [ragged] cliffs [as they flee] ‡

From the terror and dread of the LORD and the splendor of His majesty,

When He arises to terrify the earth.

<sup>22</sup> Stop regarding man, whose breath [of life] is in his nostrils [for so little time]; ‡

For why should he be esteemed?

Isaiah 3

God Will Remove the Leaders

<sup>1</sup> LISTEN CAREFULLY, the Lord GOD of hosts is removing from Jerusalem and from Judah ‡

Both supply and support, the whole supply of bread

And the whole supply of water;

<sup>2</sup> The brave man and the warrior [He is also removing], ‡
The judge and the prophet,

The diviner and the elder,

<sup>3</sup> The captain of fifty and the man of honor,
The counselor and the expert artisan,
And the skillful enchanter.

<sup>4</sup>. And I will make mere boys their princes, ‡
And capricious (impulsive, unpredictable) children will rule over them.

<sup>5</sup> And the people will be oppressed,

Each one by another, and each one by his neighbor;
The boy will be arrogant and insolent toward the elder
And the vulgar (common) toward the honorable [person of rank].

<sup>6</sup> When a man takes hold of his brother in the house of his father, saying,

“You have a robe, you shall be our judge and ruler,
And this pile of ruins will be under your control,”

<sup>7</sup> He will protest on that day, saying,

“I will not be a governor;
For in my house there is neither bread nor clothing;
You should not make me a judge and ruler of the people.”

<sup>8</sup>. For Jerusalem has stumbled and Judah has fallen, ‡

Because their words and their actions are against the LORD,
To rebel against His glorious presence and defiantly provoke Him.

<sup>9</sup> Their partiality testifies against them, ‡

They display their sin like Sodom;
They do not even hide it.

Woe (judgment is coming) to them!

For they have brought evil on themselves [as a reward].

<sup>10</sup> Say to the righteous that it will go well with them, ‡

For they will eat the fruit of their [righteous] actions.

<sup>11</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to the wicked! It shall go badly with him, ‡

For what his hand has done shall be done to him.

<sup>12</sup> O My people! Children are their oppressors, ‡

And women rule over them.

O My people! Your leaders lead you astray

And confuse (destroy, swallow up) the direction of your paths.

God Will Judge

<sup>13</sup> The LORD rises to contend, ‡
And stands to judge the people.

“For it is you who have devoured the vineyard [with your oppression, you have robbed the people and ruined the country];

The plunder of the poor is in your houses.

<sup>15</sup> “What do you mean by crushing My people ‡

And grinding the face of the poor?”

Declares the Lord GOD of hosts.

Judah's Women Denounced

<sup>16</sup> Moreover, the LORD said, “Because the daughters of Zion are proud

And walk with outstretched necks and seductive (flirtatious, alluring) eyes,

And trip along with mincing steps and an affected gait

And walk with jingling anklets on their feet,

<sup>17</sup> Therefore the Lord will afflict the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion with scabs [making them bald], ‡

And the LORD will expose their foreheads (send them into captivity).”

<sup>18</sup> In that day the Lord will take away the beauty of their anklets, [braided] caps, crescent [head] ornaments, ‡

<sup>24</sup> Now it will come to pass that instead of the sweet fragrance of spices there will be [the stench of] rottenness; ‡

Instead of a belt, a rope;

Instead of well-set hair, baldness;

Instead of fine clothes, a robe of sackcloth;

And branding [of captives by the scorching heat] instead of beauty.

<sup>25</sup> Your men will fall by the sword
And your mighty men in battle.
<sup>26</sup> And Jerusalem's gates will lament (cry out in grief) and mourn [as those who wail for the dead]; ‡
And she, being ruined and desolate, will sit upon the ground.

Isaiah 4

A Remnant Prepared

<sup>1</sup> AND IN that day seven women will take hold of one man, saying, “We will eat our own food and wear [and provide] our own clothes; only let us be called by your name; take away our shame [of being unmarried].” ‡

<sup>2</sup>-In that day the Branch of the LORD will be splendid and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be excellent and lovely to those of Israel who have survived.  [Jer 23:5; 33:15; Zech 3:8; 6:12. ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> It will come to pass that he who is left in Zion and remains in Jerusalem will be called holy (set apart for God)—everyone who is recorded for [eternal] life in Jerusalem.  [Joel 3:17; Phil 4:3. ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> When the Lord has washed away the [moral] filth of the daughters of Zion and has cleansed the bloodstains of Jerusalem from her midst, by the spirit of judgment and by the spirit of burning, ‡

<sup>5</sup> then the LORD will create over the entire site of Mount Zion and over her assemblies, a cloud by day, smoke, and the brightness of a flaming fire by night; for over all the glory and brilliance will be a canopy [a defense, a covering of His divine love and protection]. ‡

<sup>6</sup> And there will be a pavilion for shade from the heat by day, and a refuge and a shelter from the storm and the rain. ‡

Isaiah 5

Parable of the Vineyard

<sup>1</sup> NOW LET me sing for my greatly Beloved [LORD] ‡
A song of my Beloved about His vineyard (His chosen people).
My greatly Beloved had a vineyard on a very fertile slope

(the promised land, Canaan).  [Song 6:3; Matt 21:33–40 ]

<sup>2</sup> He dug it all around and cleared away its stones, ‡
And planted it with the choicest vine (the people of Judah).
And He built a tower in the center of it;
And also hewed out a wine vat in it.
Then He expected it to produce [the choicest] grapes,
But it produced only worthless ones.

<sup>3</sup> “And now, says the LORD , O inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, ‡
Judge between Me and My vineyard (My people).

<sup>4</sup> “What more could have been done for My vineyard that I have not done in it?
When I expected it to produce good grapes, why did it yield worthless ones?

<sup>5</sup> “So now let me tell you what I am going to do to My vineyard: ‡
I will take away its thorn-hedge, and it will be burned up;
I will break down its stone wall and it will be trampled down
[by enemies].

<sup>6</sup> “I will turn it into a wasteland;
It will not be pruned or cultivated,
But briars and thorns will come up.
I will also command the clouds not to rain on it.”

<sup>7</sup> For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house (nation)
of Israel
And the men of Judah are His delightful planting [which He loves].
So He looked for justice, but in fact, [He saw] bloodshed and lawlessness;
[He looked] for righteousness, but in fact, [He heard] a cry of distress and oppression.

Woes for the Wicked

<sup>8</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who join house to house and join field to field [to increase their holdings by depriving others], ‡

Until there is no more room [for others],
So that you have to live alone in the midst of the land!

<sup>9</sup> In my ears the LORD of hosts said, “Be assured that many houses will become desolate, ‡

Even great and beautiful ones will be unoccupied.

<sup>10</sup> “For ten acres of vineyard will yield [only] one bath of wine, ‡

And a homer (six bushels) of seed will produce [only] one ephah of grain.”

<sup>11</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who rise early in the morning to pursue intoxicating drink, ‡

Who stay up late in the night till wine inflames them!

<sup>12</sup> They have lyre and harp, tambourine and flute, and wine at their feasts; ‡

But they do not regard nor even pay attention to the deeds of the LORD, Nor do they consider the work of His hands.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore My people go into exile because they lack knowledge [of God]; ‡

And their honorable men are famished,

And their common people are parched with thirst.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore Sheol (the realm of the dead) has increased its appetite and opened its mouth beyond measure;

And Jerusalem’s splendor, her multitude, her [boisterous] uproar and her [drunken] revelers descend into it.

<sup>15</sup> So the common man will be bowed down and the man of importance degraded, ‡

And the eyes of the proud (arrogant) will be degraded.

<sup>16</sup> But the LORD of hosts will be exalted in justice,

And God, the Holy One, will show Himself holy in righteousness [through His righteous judgments].

<sup>17</sup> Then the lambs will graze [among the ruins] as in their own pasture, ‡

And strangers will eat in the desolate places of the [exiled] wealthy.

<sup>18</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who drag along wickedness with cords of falsehood,

And sin as if with cart ropes [towing their own punishment];

<sup>19</sup> Who say, “Let Him move speedily, let Him expedite His work [His promised vengeance], so that we may see it; ‡

And let the purpose of the Holy One of Israel approach
And come to pass, so that we may know it!”

<sup>20</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who call evil good, and good evil;

Who substitute darkness for light and light for darkness;
Who substitute bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter!

<sup>21</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who are wise in their own eyes ‡

And clever and shrewd in their own sight!

<sup>22</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who are heroes at drinking wine

And men of strength in mixing intoxicating drinks,

<sup>23</sup> Who justify the wicked and acquit the guilty for a bribe, ‡
And take away the rights of those who are in the right!

<sup>24</sup> Therefore, as the tongue of fire consumes the stubble [from straw] ‡

And the dry grass collapses into the flame,
So their root will become like rot and their blossom blow away like fine dust;

Because they have rejected the law of the LORD of hosts
And despised and discarded the word of the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>25</sup> Therefore the anger of the LORD has burned against His people, ‡

And He has stretched out His hand against them and has struck them down.

And the mountains trembled, and their dead bodies lay like rubbish in the middle of the streets.

In spite of all this God’s anger is not turned away,
But His hand is still stretched out [in judgment].

<sup>26</sup> He will lift up a flag to [call] the distant nations [to bring His judgment on Judah], ‡

And will whistle for them from the ends of the earth;
And indeed, they will come with great speed swiftly.

<sup>27</sup> No one among them is weary or stumbles,‡
No one slumbers or sleeps;

Nor is the belt at their waist undone [as if unprepared for action],

Nor is the strap of their sandal broken.

Their horses' hoofs seem like flint and their chariot wheels like a whirlwind.

<sup>29</sup> Their roaring is like a lioness, they roar like young lions;
They growl and seize their prey
And carry it off and there is no one to save it.

<sup>30</sup> And in that day they will roar against them (Judah) like the roaring of the sea. ‡

And if one looks to the land, in fact, there is darkness and distress;

Even the light will be darkened by its clouds.

Isaiah 6

Isaiah's Vision

“Holy, Holy, Holy is the LORD of hosts;
The whole earth is filled with His glory.”

<sup>4</sup> And the foundations of the thresholds trembled at the voice of him who called out, and the temple was filling with smoke.

<sup>5</sup> Then I said,

“Woe is me! For I am ruined,
Because I am a man of [ceremonially] unclean lips,
And I live among a people of unclean lips;
For my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.”

<sup>6</sup> Then one of the seraphim flew to me with a burning coal in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with tongs. ‡

<sup>7</sup> He touched my mouth with it and said, “Listen carefully, this has touched your lips; your wickedness [your sin, your injustice, your wrongdoing] is taken away and your sin atoned for and forgiven.” ‡

Isaiah’s Commission

<sup>8</sup> Then I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, “Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us?” Then I said, “Here am I. Send me!” ‡

<sup>9</sup> And He said, “Go, and tell this people:

‘Keep on listening, but do not understand;
Keep on looking, but do not comprehend.’

<sup>10</sup> “Make the heart of this people insensitive, ‡

Their ears dull,
And their eyes dim,
Otherwise they might see with their eyes,
Hear with their ears,
Understand with their hearts,
And return and be healed.”

<sup>11</sup> Then I said, “Lord, how long?” And He answered, ‡ “Until cities are devastated and without inhabitant,

And houses are without people
And the land is utterly desolate,

<sup>12</sup> The LORD has removed [His] people far away, ‡
And there are many deserted places in the midst of the land.

<sup>13</sup> “And though a tenth [of the people] remain in the land, ‡

It will again be subject to destruction [consumed and burned],
Like a massive terebinth tree or like an oak
Whose stump remains when it is chopped down.
The holy seed [the elect remnant] is its stump [the substance of Israel].”

Isaiah 7

War against Jerusalem

<sup>1</sup> NOW IT came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin king of Aram (Syria) and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up to Jerusalem to wage war against it, but they could not conquer it.

<sup>2</sup> When the house of David (Judah) was told, “Aram is allied with Ephraim (Israel),” the hearts of Ahaz and his people trembled as the trees of the forest tremble in the wind.

<sup>3</sup>-Then the LORD said to Isaiah, “Go out to meet Ahaz [king of Judah], you and your son Shear-jashub, at the end of the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, on the highway to the Fuller’s Field;

<sup>4</sup> and say to him, ‘Take care and be calm, do not fear and be weak-hearted because of these two stumps of smoldering logs, on account of the fierce anger of [King] Rezin and Aram and of the son of Remaliah (Pekah, usurper of the throne of Israel).

<sup>5</sup> ‘Because Aram, along with Ephraim (Israel) and the son of Remaliah, have planned evil against you (Judah), saying,

<sup>6</sup> “Let us go up against Judah and terrorize it; and let us breach its wall and tear it apart [each of us taking a portion] and set up the son of Tabeel over it as its [puppet] king,”

<sup>7</sup> for this is what the Lord GOD says, “It shall not stand nor shall it happen.

<sup>8</sup> “For the head (capital) of Aram is Damascus and the head of Damascus is [King] Rezin (now within sixty-five years Ephraim will be broken to pieces and will no longer be a people). ‡

<sup>9</sup> “And the head (capital) of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah’s son [King Pekah]. If you will not believe [and trust in God and His message], be assured that you will not be established.” ’ ” ‡

The Child Immanuel

<sup>10</sup> Then the LORD spoke again to [King] Ahaz, saying,

<sup>11</sup> “Ask a sign for yourself from the LORD your God [one that will convince you that God has spoken and will keep His word]; make your request as deep as Sheol or as high as heaven.” ‡

<sup>12</sup> But Ahaz said, “I will not ask, nor will I test the LORD!”

<sup>13</sup> Then Isaiah said, “Hear then, O house of David! Is it too small a thing for you to try the patience of men, but will you try the patience of my God as well?

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore the Lord Himself will give you a sign: Listen carefully, the virgin will conceive and give birth to a son, and she will call his name Immanuel (God with us).  [Is 9:6; Jer 31:22; Mic 5:3–5; Matt 1:22, 23 ] ‡ <sup>15</sup> “He will eat curds and honey when he knows enough to refuse evil and choose good.

<sup>16</sup> “For before the child will know enough to refuse evil and choose good, the land (Canaan) whose two kings you dread will be deserted [both Ephraim and Aram].  [Is 7:2 ] ‡

Trials to Come for Judah

<sup>17</sup> “The LORD will bring on you, on your people, and on your father’s house such days as have not come since the day that Ephraim (the ten northern tribes) separated from Judah—[He will call for] the king of Assyria.” ‡

<sup>18</sup> In that day the LORD will whistle for the fly that is in the mouth of the rivers and canals of Egypt and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria. ‡

<sup>19</sup> These [armies, like flies and bees] will all come and settle on the steep and rugged ravines and in the clefts of the rocks, and on all the thorn bushes and in all the watering places. ‡

<sup>20</sup> In that day [when foreign armies swarm the land] the Lord will shave with a razor, hired from the regions beyond the Euphrates (that is, with the king of Assyria), [that razor will shave] the head and the hair of the legs; and it will also remove the beard [leaving Judah stripped, shamed and scorned].  [2 Kin 16:7, 8; 18:13–16 ] ‡

<sup>21</sup> Now in that day [because of the poverty caused by the invaders] a man will keep alive only a young milk cow and two sheep;

<sup>22</sup> and because of the abundance of milk produced he will eat curds, for everyone that is left in the land will eat [only] curds and [wild] honey.

<sup>23</sup> And it will come to pass in that day, in every place where there used to be a thousand vines, worth a thousand silver shekels, there will be briars and thorns. ‡

<sup>24</sup> People will come there [to hunt] with arrows and with bows because all the land will be briars and thorns.

<sup>25</sup> As for all the hills which used to be cultivated with the pick and the hoe, you will no longer go there for fear of briars and thorns; but they will become a place where oxen are pastured and where sheep tread.

Isaiah 8

Damascus and Samaria Fall

<sup>1</sup> THEN THE LORD said to me, “Take for yourself a large tablet [for public display] and write on it in ordinary characters: Belonging to Maher-shalal-hash-baz. ‡

<sup>2</sup>—“And I will get faithful witnesses to attest [to this prophecy] for me, Uriah the priest and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.” ‡

<sup>3</sup>—So I approached [my wife] the prophetess, and she conceived and gave birth to a son. Then the LORD said to me, “Name him Maher-shalal-hash-baz [to remind the people of the prophecy];

<sup>4</sup>—for before the boy knows how to say, ‘My father’ or ‘My mother,’ the riches of Damascus (Aram’s capital) and the spoil of Samaria (Israel’s capital) will be carried away by the king of Assyria.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> Again the LORD spoke to me, saying,

And rejoice in Rezin [the king of Aram] and Remaliah’s son [Pekah the king of Israel], <sup>7</sup> Now therefore, listen carefully, the Lord is about to bring on them the waters of the [Euphrates] River, strong and abundant—

The king of Assyria and all his glory;

And it will rise over all its channels and canals and go far beyond its banks.  [Is 7:17 ]

<sup>8</sup>—“Then it will sweep on into Judah; it will overflow and pass through [the hills], ‡

Reaching even to the neck [of which Jerusalem is the head],
And its outstretched wings (the armies of Assyria) will fill the width of Your land, O Immanuel.  [Num 14:9 ; Ps 46:7
]

A Believing Remnant

<sup>9</sup> “Be broken [in pieces], O peoples, and be shattered! ‡
Listen, all you [our enemies from the] far countries.
Prepare yourselves [for war], and be shattered;
Prepare yourselves [for war], and be shattered.

<sup>10</sup> “Take counsel together [against Judah], but it will come to nothing; ‡
Speak the word, but it will not stand,
For God is with us (Immanuel).”

<sup>11</sup> For in this way the LORD spoke to me with His strong hand [upon me] and instructed me not to walk in the way of this people [behaving as they do], saying,

<sup>12</sup> “You are not to say, ‘It is a conspiracy!’ ‡
In regard to all that this people call a conspiracy,
And you are not to fear what they fear nor be in dread of it.
<sup>13</sup> “It is the LORD of hosts whom you are to regard as holy and awesome. ‡
He shall be your [source of] fear,
He shall be your [source of] dread [not man].

<sup>14</sup> “Then He shall be a sanctuary [a sacred, indestructible shelter for those who fear and trust Him]; ‡
But to both the houses of Israel [both the northern and southern kingdoms—Israel and Judah, He will be] a stone on which to stumble and a rock on which to trip,
A trap and a snare for the inhabitants of Jerusalem.  [Is 28:6 ;
Rom 9:33 ; 1 Pet 2:6–8 ]

<sup>15</sup> “Many [among them] will stumble over them; ‡
Then they will fall and be broken,
They will even be snared and trapped.”

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law and the teaching among my (Isaiah's) disciples.

17 And I will wait for the LORD who is hiding His face from the house of Jacob; and I will look eagerly for Him. ‡

18 Listen carefully, I and the children whom the LORD has given me are for signs and wonders [that will occur] in Israel from the LORD of hosts, who dwells on Mount Zion. ‡

19 When the people [instead of trusting God] say to you, "Consult the mediums [who try to talk to the dead] and the soothsayers who chirp and whisper and mutter," should not a people consult their God? Should they consult the dead on behalf of the living? ‡

20 [Direct those people] to the law and to the testimony! If their teachings are not in accord with this word, it is because they have no dawn. ‡

21 They [who consult mediums and soothsayers] will pass through the land deeply distressed and hungry, and when they are hungry, they will become enraged and will curse their king and their God as they look upward. ‡

22 Then they will look to the earth, they will see only distress and darkness, the gloom of anguish; and they will be driven away into darkness and overwhelming night. ‡

Isaiah 9

Birth and Reign of the Prince of Peace

1 BUT THERE will be no more gloom for her who was in anguish [for with judgment comes the promise of salvation]. In earlier times He treated the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali with contempt, but later on He will make them honored [by the presence of the Messiah], by the way of the sea, on the other side of Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles. ‡

2 The people who walk in [spiritual] darkness ‡
Will see a great Light;
Those who live in the dark land,
The Light will shine on them.  [Is 42:6; Matt 4:15, 16. ]
3 You [O God] will increase the nation, ‡
You will multiply their joy;
They will rejoice before You

Like the joy and jubilation of the harvest,
As men rejoice when they divide the spoil [of victory].

<sup>4</sup> For You will break the yoke of Israel's burden and the staff (goad) on their shoulders, ‡

The rod of their oppressor, as at the battle of Midian.  [Judg 7:8–22 ]

<sup>5</sup> For every boot of the marching warrior in the battle tumult, ‡
And [every soldier's] garment rolled in blood, will be used for burning, fuel for the fire.

<sup>6</sup> For to us a Child shall be born, to us a Son shall be given; ‡
And the government shall be upon His shoulder,
And His name shall be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty
God,

Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.  [Is 25:1 ; 40:9–11 ; Matt 28:18 ; Luke 2:11 ]

<sup>7</sup> There shall be no end to the increase of His government and of peace, ‡

[He shall rule] on the throne of David and over his kingdom,
To establish it and to uphold it with justice and righteousness
From that time forward and forevermore.

The zeal of the LORD of hosts will accomplish this.  [Dan 2:44 ; 1 Cor 15:25–28 ; Heb 1:8 ]

God's Anger with Israel's Arrogance

<sup>8</sup> The Lord sends a word (message) against Jacob,
And it falls on Israel [the ten northern tribes, the kingdom of Ephraim].

<sup>9</sup> And all the people know it,
That is, Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria [its capital],
Who say in pride and arrogance of heart:

<sup>10</sup> “The bricks have fallen down,
But we will rebuild [all the better] with ashlar (hewed stones);

The sycamores have been cut down,
But we will replace them with [expensive] cedars.”

<sup>11</sup> Therefore the LORD raises against Ephraim adversaries from Rezin [king of Aram]

And spurs their enemies on,

<sup>12</sup> The Arameans on the east and the Philistines on the west; ‡
And they devour Israel with gaping jaws.
In spite of all this, God's anger does not turn away
But His hand is still stretched out [in judgment].

<sup>13</sup> Yet the people do not turn back [in repentance] to Him who struck them, ‡

Nor do they seek the LORD of hosts [as their most essential need].

<sup>14</sup> Therefore the LORD cuts off head and tail [the highest and the lowest] from Israel, ‡

Both [the high] palm branch and [the low] bulrush in one day.

<sup>15</sup> The elderly and honorable man, he is the head;
And the prophet who teaches lies, he is the tail.

<sup>16</sup> For those who lead this people are causing them to go astray;
‡

And those who are led [astray] by them are swallowed up.

<sup>17</sup> Therefore the Lord does not rejoice over their young men, ‡ Nor does He have compassion on their fatherless or their widows;

For every one of them is godless and an evildoer,
And every mouth is speaking foolishness.

In spite of all this, God's anger does not turn away
But His hand is still stretched out [in judgment].

<sup>18</sup> For wickedness burns like a fire; ‡

It consumes briars and thorns,
It even sets the forest thickets ablaze;
And it swirls upward in a column of smoke.

<sup>19</sup> By the wrath of the LORD of hosts the land is burned up, ‡
And the people are like fuel for the fire;
No man spares his brother.

<sup>20</sup> They slice off [in discord] what is on the right hand but are still hungry, ‡

And they eat what is on the left hand but they are not satisfied;
Each eats the flesh of his own arm.

<sup>21</sup> [The tribe of] Manasseh devours [the tribe of his brother]

Ephraim, and Ephraim Manasseh,‡
And together they are against Judah (the southern kingdom, the house of David).
In s spite of all this, God's anger does not turn away
But His hand is still stretched out [in judgment].

Isaiah 10

Assyria Is God's Instrument

<sup>1</sup> WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to those [judges] who issue evil statutes,‡
And to those [magistrates] who constantly record unjust and oppressive decisions,
<sup>2</sup> So as to deprive the needy of justice
And rob the poor of My people of rightful claims,
So that widows may be their spoil
And that they may plunder the fatherless.
<sup>3</sup> Now what will you do in the day of [God's] punishment,‡
And in the storm of devastation which will come from far away?
To whom will you flee for help?
And where will you leave your wealth [for safekeeping]?
<sup>4</sup> Nothing remains but to crouch among the captives‡
Or fall [dead] among the slain [on the battlefield].
In s spite of all this, God's anger does not turn away,
But His hand is still stretched out [in judgment].

<sup>5</sup> Woe to Assyria, the rod of My anger [against Israel],‡
The staff in whose hand is My indignation and fury [against Israel's disobedience]!
<sup>6</sup> I send Assyria against a godless nation‡
And commission it against the people of My wrath
To take the spoil and to seize the plunder,
And to trample them down like mud in the streets.
<sup>7</sup> Yet it is not Assyria's intention [to do My will],‡
Nor does it plan so in its heart,
But instead it is its purpose to destroy

And to cut off many nations.

<sup>8</sup> For Assyria says, “Are not my princes all kings? ‡

9 “Is not Calno [conquered] like Carchemish [on the Euphrates]? ‡

Is not Hamath [subdued] like Arpad [her neighbor]?

Is not Samaria [in Israel] like Damascus [in Aram]?

10 “As my hand has reached to the kingdoms of the idols, Whose carved images were greater and more feared than those of Jerusalem and Samaria,

<sup>11</sup> Shall I not do to Jerusalem and her images

Just as I have done to Samaria and her idols?” [declares Assyria].

<sup>12</sup> So when the Lord has completed all His work [of judgment] on Mount Zion and on Jerusalem, He will say, “I will punish the fruit [the thoughts, the declarations, and the actions] of the arrogant heart of the king of Assyria and the haughtiness of his pride.” ‡

<sup>13</sup> For the Assyrian king has said, ‡

“I have done this by the power of my [own] hand and by my wisdom,

For I have understanding and skill.

I have removed the boundaries of the peoples

And have plundered their treasures;

Like a bull I have brought down those who sat on thrones.

<sup>14</sup> “My hand has found the wealth of the people like a nest, ‡

And as one gathers eggs that are abandoned, so I have gathered all the earth;

And there was not one that flapped its wing, or that opened its beak and chirped.”

15 Is the axe able to lift itself over the one who chops with it? ‡

Is the saw able to magnify itself over the one who wields it?

That would be like a club moving those who lift it,

Or like a staff raising him who is not [made of] wood [like itself]!

16 Therefore the Lord, the GOD of hosts, will send a wasting disease among the stout warriors of Assyria;

And under his glory a fire will be kindled like a burning flame.

<sup>17</sup> And the Light of Israel will become a fire and His Holy One a flame, ‡

And it will burn and devour Assyria's thorns and briars in a single day.  [2 Kin 19:35–37 ; Is 31:8, 9 ; 37:36 ]

<sup>18</sup> The Lord will consume the glory of Assyria's forest and of its fruitful garden, both soul and body, ‡

And it will be as when a sick man wastes away.

<sup>19</sup> And the remaining trees of Assyria's forest will be so few in number

That a child could write them down.

A Remnant Will Return

<sup>20</sup> Now in that day the remnant of Israel, and those of the house of Jacob who have escaped, will never again rely on the one who struck them, but will truly rely on the LORD, the Holy One of Israel. ‡

<sup>21</sup> A remnant will return, a remnant of Jacob, to the mighty God.

<sup>22</sup> For though your people, O Israel, may be as the sand of the sea, ‡

Only a remnant within them will return;

The destruction is determined [it is decided and destined for completion], overflowing with justice (righteous punishment).  [Rom 9:27, 28 ]

<sup>23</sup> For the Lord, the GOD of hosts, will execute a complete destruction, one that is decreed, in the midst of all the land. ‡

<sup>24</sup> Therefore, the Lord GOD of hosts says this, "O My people who dwell in Zion, do not be afraid of the Assyrian who strikes you with a rod and lifts up his staff against you, as [the king of] Egypt did.  [Ex 5 ] ‡

<sup>25</sup> "For yet a very little while and My indignation [against you] will be fulfilled and My anger will be directed toward the destruction of the Assyrian." ‡

<sup>26</sup> The LORD of hosts will brandish a whip against them like the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb; and His staff will be over the [Red] Sea and

He will lift it up the way He did in [the flight from] Egypt.  [Ex 14:26–31; Judg 7:24, 25 ] ‡

<sup>27</sup> So it will be in that day, that the burden of the Assyrian will be removed from your shoulders and his yoke from your neck. The yoke will be broken because of the fat.  [Deut 32:15 ] ‡

28. The Assyrian has come against Aiath [in Judah],
He has passed through Migron [with his army];
At Michmash he stored his equipment.

29 They have gone through the pass, saying, ‡
“Geba will be our lodging place for the night.”
Ramah trembles, and Gibeah [the city] of Saul has fled.

30 Cry aloud with your voice [in consternation], O Daughter of Gallim! ‡

Pay attention, Laishah! Answer her, Anathoth!

31 Madmenah has fled; ‡
The inhabitants of Gebim have fled [with their belongings] to safety.

32 Yet today the Assyrian will halt at Nob [the city of priests]; ‡
He shakes his fist at the mountain of the Daughter of Zion, at the hill of Jerusalem.

33 Listen carefully, the Lord, the GOD of hosts, will lop off the [beautiful] boughs with terrifying force; ‡
The tall in stature will be cut down
And the lofty will be abased and humiliated.

34 He will cut down the thickets of the forest with an iron axe,
And Lebanon (the Assyrian) will fall by the Mighty One.  [Gen 49:24; Is 9:6 ]

Isaiah 11

Righteous Reign of the Branch

1. THEN A Shoot (the Messiah) will spring from the stock of Jesse [David's father], ‡
And a Branch from his roots will bear fruit.  [Is 4:2; Matt 2:23 ]

; Rev 5:5; 22:16]

2. And the Spirit of the LORD will rest on Him—‡
The Spirit of wisdom and understanding,
The Spirit of counsel and strength,
The Spirit of knowledge and of the [reverential and obedient] fear of the LORD—

3 And He will delight in the fear of the LORD,
And He will not judge by what His eyes see,
Nor make decisions by what His ears hear;

4. But with righteousness and justice He will judge the poor, ‡
And decide with fairness for the downtrodden of the earth;
And He shall strike the earth with the rod of His mouth,
And with the breath of His lips He shall slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness will be the belt around His loins,
And faithfulness the belt around His waist.

6. And the wolf will dwell with the lamb, ‡
And the leopard will lie down with the young goat,
And the calf and the young lion and the fatted steer together;
And a little child will lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear will graze [together],
Their young will lie down together,
And the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the nursing child will [safely] play over the hole of the cobra,
And the weaned child will put his hand on the viper's den
[and not be hurt].

9 They will not hurt or destroy in all My holy mountain, ‡
For the earth will be full of the knowledge of the LORD
As the waters cover the sea.

10. Then in that day ‡
The nations will make supplications to the Root of Jesse
Who will stand as a signal for the peoples;
And His resting place will be glorious. [John 12:32.]

The Restored Remnant

<sup>11</sup>Then it will happen on that day that the Lord ‡
Will again acquire with His hand a second time
The remnant of His people, who will remain,
From Assyria, from [Lower] Egypt, from Pathros, from Cush
(Ethiopia), from Elam [in Persia], from Shinar
[Babylonia], from Hamath [in Aram],
And from the coastlands bordering the [Mediterranean] Sea. [
Jer 23:5–8.]

<sup>12</sup>And He will lift up a signal for the nations ‡
And assemble the outcasts of Israel,
And will gather the dispersed of Judah
From the four corners of the earth.

<sup>13</sup>Then the jealousy of Ephraim will depart, ‡
And those who harass Judah will be cut off;
Ephraim will not be jealous of Judah,
And Judah will not harass Ephraim.

<sup>14</sup>Ephraim and Judah will [unite and] swoop down on the slopes of the Philistines toward the west; ‡ Together they will plunder the sons (Arabs) of the east.
They will possess Edom and Moab,
And the sons of Ammon will be subject to them.

<sup>15</sup>And the LORD will utterly destroy ‡
The tongue of the Sea of Egypt;
And with His scorching wind
He will wave His hand over the River;
He will strike and divide it into seven channels
And make [it possible for] people [to] walk over in sandals.

<sup>16</sup>And there will be a highway from Assyria ‡
For the remnant of His people who will be left,
Just as there was for Israel
In the day when they came up out of the land of Egypt.

Isaiah 12

Thanksgiving Expressed

<sup>1</sup>AND ON that day you will say, ‡
“I will give thanks to You, O LORD;

For though You were angry with me,
Your anger has turned away,
And You comfort me.

<sup>2</sup>“Behold, God, my salvation! ‡
I will trust and not be afraid,
For the LORD GOD is my strength and song;
Yes, He has become my salvation.”

<sup>3</sup>Therefore with joy you will draw water ‡
From the springs of salvation.

<sup>4</sup> And in that day you will say, ‡
“Give thanks to the LORD, call on His name [in prayer].
Make His deeds known among the peoples [of the earth];
Proclaim [to them] that His name is exalted!”

<sup>5</sup> Sing praises to the LORD, for He has done excellent and glorious things; ‡

Let this be known throughout the earth.

<sup>6</sup> Rejoice and shout for joy, O inhabitant of Zion, ‡
For great in your midst is the Holy One of Israel.

Isaiah 13

Prophecies about Babylon

<sup>1</sup> THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Babylon which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw [in a prophetic vision]: ‡

<sup>2</sup> Lift up a signal banner on the bare mountain, ‡
Summon them [the Medes and Persians] with a loud voice, Wave the [beckoning] hand so that they may enter the doorways of the [Babylonian] nobles.

<sup>3</sup> I [the LORD] have commanded My consecrated ones, ‡
I have even called My great warriors,
My proudly exulting ones [the Medes and the Persians who triumph for My honor]—

To execute My anger.

<sup>4</sup> A sound of tumult on the mountains,
Like that of many people!

A sound of the uproar of the kingdoms,
Of nations gathered together!
The LORD of hosts is mustering an army for battle.
<sup>5</sup> They are coming from a distant country,
From the end of heaven [the farthest horizon]—
The LORD and the weapons of His indignation—
To destroy the whole land.  [Ps 19:4–6; Is 5:26 ]

Judgment on the Day of the LORD

<sup>6</sup> Wail, for the day of the LORD is at hand! ‡
It will come as destruction from the Almighty (All Sufficient
One—Invincible God)!  [Gen 17:1 ]

<sup>7</sup> Therefore all hands will fall limp,
And every man's heart will melt.
<sup>8</sup> They [of Babylon] will be shocked and terrified, ‡
Pains and anguish will grip them;
They will be in pain like a woman in childbirth.
They will stare aghast and horrified at one another,
Their faces aflame [from the effects of the unprecedented warfare].

<sup>9</sup> Listen carefully, the day of the LORD is coming, ‡
Cruel, with wrath and raging anger,
To make the land a horror [of devastation];
And He shall exterminate its sinners from it.  [Is 2:10–22; Rev 19:11–21 ]

<sup>10</sup> For the stars of heaven and their constellations ‡
Will not flash with their light;
The sun will be dark when it rises,
And the moon will not shed its light.

<sup>11</sup> In this way I will punish the world for its evil ‡
And the wicked for their wickedness [their sin, their injustice, their wrongdoing];

I will also put an end to the arrogance of the proud
And will abase the arrogance of the tyrant.

<sup>12</sup> I will make mortal man more rare than fine gold,
And mankind [scarcer] than the pure gold of Ophir.

<sup>13</sup> Therefore I will make the heavens tremble; ‡

And the earth will be shaken from its place
At the wrath of the LORD of hosts
In the day of His burning anger.

<sup>14</sup> And like the hunted gazelle,‡
Or like sheep that no man gathers,
Each [foreign resident] will turn [and go back] to his own people,

And each one flee to his own land.

<sup>15</sup> Anyone who is found will be pierced through,
And anyone who is captured will fall by the sword.

<sup>16</sup> Their children also will be smashed to pieces‡
Before their eyes;
Their houses will be looted
And their wives ravished.

Babylon Will Fall to the Medes

<sup>17</sup> Listen carefully, I will put the Medes [in motion] against them,‡
Who have no regard for silver and do not delight in gold [and therefore cannot be bribed].

<sup>18</sup> Their bows will cut down the young men [of Babylon];
They will take no pity on the fruit of the womb,
Their eyes will not look with compassion on the children.

<sup>19</sup> And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldeans' pride,‡
Will be like Sodom and Gomorrah when God overthrew
them.

<sup>20</sup> Babylon will never be inhabited or lived in from generation to generation;‡
Nor will the Arab pitch his tent there,

Nor will the shepherds let their sheep lie down there.

<sup>21</sup> But desert creatures will lie down there,‡
And their houses will be full of owls;
Ostriches also will live there, and wild goats will dance there.

<sup>22</sup> Hyenas will howl in their castles,‡
And jackals in their luxurious palaces.
Babylon's time has nearly come,

And her days will not be prolonged.

Isaiah 14

Israel's Taunt

<sup>1</sup> FOR THE LORD will have compassion on Jacob (the captives in Babylon) and will again choose Israel, and will settle them in their own land. Foreigners (Gentiles) will join them [as proselytes] and will attach themselves to the house of Jacob (Israel). [Esth 8:17] ‡

<sup>2</sup> The peoples will take them along and bring them to their own place (Judea), and the house of Israel will possess them as an inheritance in the land of the LORD as male and female servants; and they will take captive those whose captives they have been, and they will rule over their [former] oppressors. [Ezra 1] ‡

<sup>3</sup> And it will be in the day when the LORD gives you rest from your pain and turmoil and from the harsh service in which you have been enslaved,

<sup>4</sup> that you will take up this taunt against the king of Babylon, and say, ‡

“How the oppressor has ceased [his insolence],
And how the fury has ceased!

<sup>5</sup> “The LORD has broken the staff of the wicked, ‡
The scepter of the [tyrant] rulers

<sup>6</sup> Which used to strike the peoples in anger with incessant blows,

Which subdued and ruled the nations in wrath with unrelenting persecution.

<sup>7</sup> “The whole earth is at rest and is quiet;
They break into shouts of joy.

<sup>8</sup>. “Even the cypress trees rejoice over you [kings of Babylon], even the cedars of Lebanon, saying, ‡

‘Since you were laid low, no woodcutter comes up against us.’

<sup>9</sup>. “Sheol below is excited about you to meet you when you come [you tyrant of Babylon]; ‡

It stirs up the spirits of the dead [to greet you], all the leaders of the earth;

It raises all the kings of the nations from their thrones [in astonishment at your fall].

<sup>10</sup> “All of them will respond [tauntingly] and say to you,
‘You have become as weak as we are.
You have become like us.

<sup>11</sup> ‘Your pomp and magnificence have been brought down to Sheol,

Along with the music of your harps;
The maggots [which prey on the dead] are spread out under you [as a bed]

And worms are your covering [Babylonian rulers].’

<sup>12</sup> “How you have fallen from heaven, ‡

O star of the morning [light-bringer], son of the dawn!

You have been cut down to the ground,

You who have weakened the nations [king of Babylon]!

<sup>13</sup> “But you said in your heart, ‡

‘I will ascend to heaven;

I will raise my throne above the stars of God;

I will sit on the mount of assembly

In the remote parts of the north.

<sup>14</sup> “I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; ‡

I will make myself like the Most High.’

<sup>15</sup> “But [in fact] you will be brought down to Sheol, ‡

To the remote recesses of the pit (the region of the dead).

<sup>16</sup> “Those who see you will gaze at you,

They will consider you, saying,

‘Is this the man who made the earth tremble,

Who shook kingdoms,

<sup>17</sup> Who made the world like a wilderness

And overthrew its cities,

Who did not permit his prisoners to return home?’

<sup>18</sup> “All the kings of the nations, all of them lie [dead] in glorious array,

Each one in his own sepulcher.

<sup>19</sup> “But you [king of Babylon] have been cast out of your tomb (denied burial)

Like a rejected branch,

Clothed with the slain who are pierced by the sword,

Who go down to the stones of the pit [into which carcasses are thrown],

Like a dead body trampled [underfoot].

<sup>20</sup> “You will not be united with them in burial,‡

Because you have destroyed your land,

You have slain your people.

May the descendants of evildoers never be named!

<sup>21</sup> “Prepare a slaughtering place for his sons‡

Because of the wickedness [the sin, the injustice, the wrongdoing] of their fathers.

They must not rise and take possession of the earth,

And fill the face of the world with cities.”

<sup>22</sup> “I will rise up against them,” says the LORD of hosts, “and will cut off from Babylon name and survivors, and son and grandson,” declares the LORD.‡

<sup>23</sup> “I will also make Babylon a possession of the hedgehog and of swamps of water, and I will sweep it away with the broom of destruction,” declares the LORD of hosts.‡

Judgment on Assyria

<sup>24</sup> The LORD of hosts has sworn [an oath], saying, “Just as I have intended, so it has certainly happened, and just as I have planned, so it will stand—

<sup>25</sup> to break the Assyrian in My land, and on My mountains I will trample him underfoot. Then the Assyrian’s yoke will be removed from them (the people of Judah) and his burden removed from their shoulder.‡

<sup>26</sup> “This is the plan [of God] decided for the whole earth [regarded as conquered and put under tribute by Assyria]; and this is the hand [of God] that is stretched out over all the nations.

<sup>27</sup> “For the LORD of hosts has decided and planned, and who can annul it? His hand is stretched out, and who can turn it back?”‡

Judgment on Philistia

<sup>28</sup> In the year that King Ahaz [of Judah] died this [mournful, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) came:‡

29 “Do not rejoice, O Philistia, any of you,‡
Because the rod [of Judah] that struck you is broken;
For out of the serpent’s root will come a viper [King
Hezekiah of Judah],
And its offspring will be a flying serpent.  [2 Kin 18:1, 3, 8. ] <sup>30</sup> “The firstborn of the helpless [of Judah] will feed [on My meadows],
And the needy will lie down in safety;
But I will kill your root with famine,
And your survivors will be put to death.
31 “Howl, O gate; cry, O city!
Melt away, O Philistia, all of you;
For smoke comes out of the north,
And there is no straggler in his ranks and no one stands detached [in Hezekiah’s battalions].
<sup>32</sup> “Then what answer will one give the messengers of the [Philistine] nation? ‡
That the LORD has founded Zion,
And the afflicted of His people will seek and find refuge in it.”

Isaiah 15

Judgment on Moab

1 THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Moab: ‡

Because in a night Ar of Moab is devastated and ruined;
Because in a night Kir of Moab is devastated and ruined.
2 They have gone up to the temple and to Dibon, to the high places to weep. ‡
Moab wails over Nebo and over Medeba; Everyone’s head is shaved, and every beard is cut off [in mourning].  [Jer 48:37. ]
<sup>3</sup> In their streets they have wrapped themselves with sackcloth;
On their [flat] housetops and in their open squares
Everyone is wailing, dissolved in tears.

<sup>4</sup> Heshbon and Elealeh [cities claimed by Moab] cry out;
Their voice is heard as far as Jahaz.
Therefore the armed men of Moab cry out;
Moab's soul trembles within him.

<sup>5</sup>. My heart cries out for Moab; ‡
His fugitives are [fleeing] as far as Zoar and Eglath-shelishiyah.
For they go up the ascent of Luhith weeping;
For on the road to Horonaim they raise a cry of distress over their destruction.  [Jer 48:5 ]

<sup>6</sup> For the waters of Nimrim are desolate. ‡
Indeed the grass is withered, the new growth dies;
There is no green thing.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore the abundance which they have acquired and stored
away
They carry off over the Brook of the Willows.

<sup>8</sup> For the cry of distress has echoed around the territory of Moab;
The wailing goes as far as Eglaim and the mournful cry to Beer-elim.

<sup>9</sup>. For the waters of Dimon are full of blood; ‡
Yet I will bring even more woes on Dimon—
A lion upon those of Moab who escape and upon the remnant of the land.

Isaiah 16

Prophecy of Moab's Devastation

<sup>1</sup> SEND LAMBS to the ruler of the land [you Moabites], ‡ From Sela [that is, Petra in Edom] through the wilderness to the mountain of the Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem).  [2 Kin 3:4, 5. ]

<sup>2</sup> For like wandering birds or scattered nestlings, ‡
The daughters of Moab will be at the fords of the [river] Arnon.

<sup>3</sup> [Say to the ruler] “Give us advice, make a decision [for Moab, king of Judah];

Cast your shadow [over us] like night in the midst of noon;
Hide the outcasts, do not betray the fugitive [to his pursuer].

<sup>4</sup> “Let our outcasts of Moab live among you;
Be a [sheltered] hiding place to them from the destroyer.”
For the extortioner has come to an end, destruction has ceased,

Oppressors [who trample men] have completely disappeared
from the land,

<sup>5</sup> A throne will be established in lovingkindness, ‡
And One will sit on it in faithfulness in the tent (dynasty, family) of David;
Judging and seeking justice
And being prompt to do righteousness.  [Ps 96:13; Jer 48:47 ]

<sup>6</sup> We have heard of the pride of Moab, an excessive pride— ‡
Even of his arrogance, his conceit, his rage,
His untruthful boasting.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore Moab will wail for Moab; everyone will wail. ‡
You will mourn for the raisin cakes of Kir-hareseth,
As those who are utterly stricken and discouraged.

<sup>8</sup> For the fields of Heshbon have languished and withered, and the vines of Sibmah as well; ‡
The lords of the nations have trampled down [Moab’s] choice vine branches,
Which reached as far as Jazer and wandered into the wilderness;
Its tendrils stretched out, they passed over [the shores of] the [Dead] Sea.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore I (Isaiah) will weep bitterly for Jazer, for the vines of Sibmah. ‡

I will drench you with my tears, O Heshbon and Elealeh;
For the war-cry [of the enemy] has fallen on your summer fruits and your harvest.

<sup>10</sup> Gladness and joy are taken away from the fruitful field; ‡
In the vineyards there will be no singing or joyful sound;
No treader treads out wine in the presses,
For I (God) put an end to the joyful shouting.

<sup>11</sup> Therefore my heart sounds like a harp [in mournful compassion] for Moab,‡

And my inner being mourns for Kir-hareseth.
12. So it will come to pass when Moab presents himself,‡
When he wearis himself [worshiping] on his high place [of idolatry]
And comes to his sanctuary [of Chemosh, god of Moab] to pray,
That he will not prevail.  [Jer 48:13. ]

13 This is the word which the LORD spoke earlier concerning Moab [when Moab's pride and resistance to God were first known].

14. But now the LORD speaks, saying, "Within three years, as the years of a hired man [who will not serve longer than the agreed time], the glory of Moab will be degraded along with all the great population, and the remnant [that survives] will be very small and of no account." ‡

Isaiah 17

Prophecy about Damascus

1 THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Damascus [capital of Aram (Syria), and Israel's defense against Assyria].‡

"Listen carefully, Damascus will cease to be a city
And will become a fallen ruin.

2 "The cities of Aroer [east of the Jordan] are deserted;‡
They will be [only a refuge] for flocks to lie down in,
And there will be no one to make them afraid.

3. "The fortified city will disappear from Ephraim,‡
And the kingdom from Damascus
And the remnant of Aram (Syria);
They will be like the [departed] glory of [her ally] the children of Israel,"
Declares the LORD of hosts.

4 "Now in that day the [former] glory of Jacob [Israel—his might, his population, his prosperity] will fade,‡
And the fatness of his flesh will become lean.

5.“And it will be like the reaper gathering the standing grain,‡
As his arm harvests the ears of grain;
Yes, it will be like one gleaning ears of grain
In the [fertile] Valley of Rephaim.

6.“Yet gleanings will be left in the land [of Israel] like the shaking of the olive tree,‡
Two or three olives on the topmost branch,
Four or five on the [outermost] branches of the fruitful tree,”
Declares the LORD, the God of Israel.

7 In that day man will have regard for his Maker,‡
And his eyes will regard the Holy One of Israel [with awe-inspired reverence].

8 And he will not have regard for the [idolatrous] altars, the work of his hands,
Nor will he look to that which his fingers have made, Neither the Asherim (symbols of the goddess Asherah) nor the incense altars.

9 In that day the strong cities of Aram and Israel will be like deserted places in the forest,
Or like branches which they abandoned before the children of Israel;

And the land will be a desolation.

10.Because you [Judah] have forgotten the God of your salvation‡
And have not remembered the Rock of your Stronghold—
Therefore you plant lovely plants
And set the grounds with vine slips of a strange god, 11.In the day that you plant it you carefully fence it in,
And in the morning you bring your seed to blossom;
Yet [promising as it is] the harvest will be a heap [of ruins that passes away]
In the day of sickness and incurable pain.

12.Oh, the uproar of many peoples‡
Who roar like the roaring of the seas,
And the noise of nations
Who roar like the rumbling of mighty waters!

13 The nations roar on like the roaring of many waters,‡

But God will rebuke them and they will flee far away,
And be chased like chaff on the mountains before the wind,
Or like whirling dust before the storm.

<sup>14</sup>At evening time, now look, sudden terror!
Before morning the Assyrians are no more.
This is the portion (fate) of those who plunder us,
And the lot of those who pillage us.

Isaiah 18

Message to Ethiopia

<sup>1</sup>-WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to the land of whirring wings ‡

Which is beyond the rivers of Cush (Ethiopia),
<sup>2</sup> Which sends ambassadors by the sea, ‡
Even in vessels of papyrus on the surface of the waters.
Go, swift messengers, to a nation [of people] tall and smooth (clean shaven),
To a people feared far and wide,
A powerful and oppressive nation
Whose land the rivers divide.
<sup>3</sup> All you inhabitants of the world, you who dwell on the earth, ‡
When a banner is raised on the mountains, you will see it!
When a trumpet is blown, you will hear it!

<sup>4</sup> For this is what the LORD has said to me,

“I will be quiet and I will look on from My dwelling place,
Like shimmering heat above the sunshine,
Like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.”

<sup>5</sup>.For before the harvest, when the blossom is over
And the flower becomes a ripening grape,
He will cut off the sprigs [without buds] with pruning knives,
And [He will] remove and cut away the spreading branches.
<sup>6</sup> They (warriors) will be left together for the mountain birds of prey,

And for the beasts of the earth;
And the birds of prey will [spend the] summer feeding on them,
And all the beasts of the earth will spend harvest time on them.

2. At that time a gift of homage will be brought to the LORD of hosts ‡

From a people tall and smooth (clean shaven),
From a people feared far and wide,
A powerful and oppressive nation,
Whose land the rivers divide—
To the place [of worship] of the name of the LORD of hosts, to Mount Zion [in Jerusalem].  [Deut 12:5; 2 Chr 32:23; Is 16:1; 45:14; Zeph 3:10 ]

Isaiah 19

Message to Egypt

Listen carefully, the LORD is riding on a swift cloud and is about to come to Egypt;

The idols of Egypt will tremble at His presence,
And the heart of the Egyptians will melt within them.

2. “So I will provoke Egyptians against Egyptians; ‡

And they will fight, each one against his brother and each one against his neighbor,

City against city, kingdom against kingdom.

3. “Then the spirit of the Egyptians will become exhausted within them and emptied out; ‡

And I will confuse their strategy,

So that they will consult the idols and the spirits of the dead,
And mediums and soothsayers.

4 “And I will hand over the Egyptians to a hard and cruel master, ‡

And a mighty king will rule over them,” declares the Lord

GOD of hosts.

<sup>5</sup> The waters from the sea will dry up,‡
And the river will be parched and dry.

<sup>6</sup> The canals will become foul-smelling,‡
The streams of Egypt will thin out and dry up,
The reeds and the rushes will rot away.

<sup>7</sup> The meadows by the Nile, by the edge of the Nile,
And all the sown fields of the Nile
Will become dry, be blown away, and be no more.

<sup>8</sup> The fishermen will lament (cry out in grief),
And all those who cast a hook into the Nile will mourn,
And those who spread nets upon the waters will languish.

<sup>9</sup> Moreover, those who make linen from combed flax‡
And those who weave white cloth will be ashamed.

<sup>10</sup> [Those who are] the pillars and foundations of Egypt will be crushed;

And all those who work for wages will be grieved in soul.

<sup>11</sup> The princes of Zoan are complete fools;‡
The counsel of the Pharaoh's wisest advisors has become stupid.

How can you say to Pharaoh,
“I am a son of the wise, a son of ancient kings?”

<sup>12</sup> Where then are your wise men?‡
Please let them tell you,
And let them understand what the LORD of hosts
Has purposed against Egypt [if they can].

<sup>13</sup> The princes of Zoan have acted like fools,‡
The princes of Memphis are deluded [and entertain false hope];

Those who are the cornerstone of her tribes
Have led Egypt astray.

<sup>14</sup> The LORD has mixed a spirit of distortion within her;‡
Her leaders have caused Egypt to stagger in all that she does,
As a drunken man staggers in his vomit.

<sup>15</sup> There will be no work for Egypt‡
Which head or tail, [high] palm branch or [low] bulrush, may do.

<sup>16</sup> In that day the Egyptians will become like [helpless] women, and they will tremble and be frightened because of the waving of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which He is going to wave over them. ‡

<sup>17</sup> The land of Judah [Assyria's ally] will become a terror to the Egyptians; everyone to whom Judah is mentioned will be in dread of it, because of the purpose of the LORD of hosts which He is planning against Egypt.

<sup>18</sup> In that day five cities in the land of Egypt will speak the language of [the Hebrews of] Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD of hosts. One [of them] will be called the City of Destruction. ‡

<sup>19</sup> In that day there will be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a memorial stone to the LORD near its border. ‡

<sup>20</sup> It will become a sign and a witness to the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt; for they will cry to the LORD because of oppressors, and He will send them a Savior, a [Great] Defender, and He will rescue them.  [Judg 2:18; 3:9, 15] ‡

<sup>21</sup> And so the LORD will make Himself known to Egypt, and the Egyptians will know [heed, honor, and cherish] the LORD in that day. They will even worship with sacrifices [of animals] and offerings [of produce]; they will make a vow to the LORD and fulfill it. ‡

<sup>22</sup> The LORD will strike Egypt, striking but healing it; so they will return to the LORD, and He will respond to them and heal them.

<sup>23</sup> In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrians will come into Egypt and the Egyptians into Assyria; and the Egyptians will worship and serve [the LORD] with the Assyrians. ‡

<sup>24</sup> In that day Israel will be the third party with Egypt and with Assyria [in a Messianic league], a blessing in the midst of the earth,

<sup>25</sup> whom the LORD of hosts has blessed, saying, “Blessed is Egypt My people, and Assyria the work of My hands, and Israel My heritage.” ‡

Prophecy about Egypt and Cush (Ancient Ethiopia)

<sup>2</sup>-at that time the LORD spoke through Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying,

“Go, untie the sackcloth from your hips and take your sandals off your feet.” And he did so, walking around stripped [to his loincloth] and barefoot.  [Mic 1:8 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> And the LORD said, “Even as My servant Isaiah has walked stripped and barefoot for three years as a sign and forewarning concerning Egypt and Cush (Ethiopia), ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Then they will be dismayed and ashamed because of Cush their hope and Egypt their boast. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “So the inhabitants of this coastland [the Israelites and their neighbors] will say in that day, ‘Look what has happened to those in whom we hoped and trusted and to whom we fled for help to be spared from the king of Assyria! But we, how will we escape [captivity and exile]?’ ”

God Commands That Babylon Be Taken

<sup>1</sup> THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning the Desert of the Sea (the seasonally flooded plains just south of Babylon): ‡

As windstorms in the Negev (the South) sweep through,
So it (God’s judgment) comes from the desert, from [the hostile armies of] a terrifying land.

<sup>2</sup> A harsh vision has been shown to me; ‡
The treacherous one deals treacherously, and the destroyer destroys.

Go up, Elam! Lay siege, Media!
All the groaning [caused by Babylon’s ruthless oppressions] I
[the LORD] have brought to an end.  [Is 11:11; 13:17 ]

<sup>3</sup> Therefore [continues Isaiah] my loins are filled with anguish; ‡

Pains have seized me like the pains of a woman in childbirth;
I am so bent and bewildered that I cannot hear, I am so terrified that I cannot see.

<sup>4</sup> My mind reels, horror overwhelms me; ‡

The twilight I longed for has been turned into fear and trembling for me.  [Dan 5:1–4. ]

<sup>5</sup> They set the table [for the doomed banquet], they spread out the cloth, they eat, they drink; ‡ “Rise up, captains [of Belshazzar’s court], oil your shields [for battle, for your enemy is at the gates]!”

<sup>6</sup> This is what the Lord says to me,

“Go, station the lookout, let him report what he sees.
<sup>7</sup> “When he sees a chariot, horsemen in pairs, ‡
A train of donkeys and a train of camels,
Let him pay attention and listen closely, very closely.”

<sup>8</sup> And the lookout called like a lion, ‡

“O Lord, I stand continually on the watchtower by day,
And I am stationed every night at my guard post.

<sup>9</sup> “Now look! Here comes a troop of riders, horsemen in pairs.” ‡

And one said, “Fallen, fallen is Babylon;
And all the carved images of her gods are shattered on the ground.”

<sup>10</sup> O my threshed people [Judah, who must be judged and trampled down by Babylon], my afflicted of the threshing floor. ‡

What I have heard from the LORD of hosts,
The God of Israel, I have [joyfully] announced to you [that Babylon is to fall].

Oracles about Edom and Arabia

<sup>11</sup>—The [mournful, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Dumah (Edom): ‡

Someone keeps calling to me from Seir (Edom), “Watchman, what is left of the night [of Assyrian oppression]?
Watchman, what is left of the night? [How long until morning?]”

<sup>12</sup> The watchman says,
“The morning comes [only briefly], but also [comes] the night [of Babylonian oppression].
If you would ask [of me then], ask [again, if Edom really wishes to know];
Come back again.”

13—The [mournful, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Arabia: ‡

In the thickets of Arabia you must spend the night, Caravans of Dedanites.

<sup>14</sup> Bring water for the thirsty [Dedanites],
O inhabitants of the land of Tema [in Arabia];
Meet the fugitive with bread.

<sup>15</sup> For they have fled from the swords,
From the drawn sword, from the bent bow
And from the press of battle and grief of war.

<sup>16</sup> For the Lord has said this to me, “Within a year, according to the years of a hired man [who will work no longer than was agreed], all the splendor of [the tribe of] Kedar will end; ‡

<sup>17</sup> and the remainder of the number of archers, the mighty men of the sons of Kedar, will be few; for the LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken.”

Isaiah 22

The Valley of Vision

<sup>1</sup> THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning the Valley of Vision:

What is the matter with you now, that you have all gone up to the housetops,

<sup>2</sup> You [Jerusalem] who were full of noise, ‡
A tumultuous city, a joyous and exuberant city;
Your slain were not slain [in a glorious death] with the sword,

Nor did they die in battle.

<sup>3</sup> All your leaders have fled together [with your king],
And have been captured without the bow [which they had thrown away];

All of you who were found were taken captive together,
Though they had fled far away.

<sup>4</sup> Therefore I say, “Look away from me; ‡
Let me weep bitterly.

Do not try to comfort me over the destruction of the daughter of my people.”

<sup>5</sup> For the Lord GOD of hosts has a day of panic and of tumult, of trampling, of confusion ‡

In the Valley of Vision,
A [day of] breaking down walls
And a crying [for help] to the mountain.

<sup>6</sup> Elam took up the quiver ‡
With the chariots, infantry and horsemen;
And Kir uncovered the shield.

<sup>7</sup> And it came to pass that your choicest valleys were full of chariots,
And the horsemen took their fixed positions [in an offensive array] at the gate [of Jerusalem].  [2 Chr 32; Is 36 ]

<sup>8</sup> Then God removed the [protective] covering of Judah; ‡
And in that day you looked to the weapons of the House of the Forest (Solomon’s armory).  [1 Kin 7:2; 10:17, 21
]

<sup>9</sup> You saw that the breaches ‡
In the wall of the City of David [the citadel of Zion] were many;
You collected [within the city’s walls] the waters of the Lower Pool (Siloam).

<sup>10</sup> Then you counted the houses of Jerusalem
And you tore down the houses [to get materials] to fortify the city wall [by extending it].

<sup>11</sup> You also made a reservoir between the two walls ‡
For the waters of the Old Pool,
But you did not look to its Maker,
Nor did you recognize Him who planned it long ago.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore in that day the Lord GOD of hosts called you to weeping, to mourning,‡

To shaving the head and to wearing sackcloth [in humiliation].

<sup>13</sup> Instead, there is joy and jubilation,‡

Killing of oxen and slaughtering of sheep,

Eating meat and drinking wine, saying,

“Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we may die.”

<sup>14</sup> But the LORD of hosts revealed Himself in my ears,‡

“This sin absolutely will not be forgiven you

Until you die,” says the Lord GOD of hosts.

To Shebna, who is in charge of the royal household [but is building himself a tomb worthy of a king, and say to him],

<sup>16</sup> ‘What business do you have here? ‡

And whom do you have here,

That you have hewn out a tomb here for yourself,

You who hew a sepulcher on the height,

You who carve a resting place for yourself in the rock?

<sup>17</sup> ‘Listen carefully, the LORD is about to hurl you away violently, O man; ‡

And He is about to grasp you firmly

<sup>18</sup> And roll you up tightly like a ball

And toss you into a vast country;

There you will die

And there your splendid chariots will be,

You shame of your master’s house.’

<sup>19</sup> “I will depose you from your office,

And you will be pulled down from your position [of importance].

<sup>20</sup> “Then it will come to pass in that day ‡

That I will summon My servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah.

<sup>21</sup> “And I will clothe him with your tunic [of distinction]

And tie your sash securely around him.

I will entrust him with your authority;

He will become a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem and to the house of Judah.

<sup>22</sup> “Then I will set on his shoulder the key of the house of David; ‡

When he opens no one will shut,
When he shuts no one will open.

<sup>23</sup> “I will drive him like a peg in a firm place, ‡
And he will become a throne of honor and glory to his father’s house.

<sup>24</sup> “So they will hang on him all the honor and glory [the complete responsibility] of his father’s house, offspring and issue [of the family, high and low], all the least of the articles, from the bowls to all the jars.

<sup>25</sup> “In that day,” declares the LORD of hosts, “the peg (Eliakim) that was driven into the firm place will give way; it will even break off and fall, and the burden hanging on it will be cut off, for the LORD has spoken.”

Isaiah 23

The Fall of Tyre

<sup>1</sup> THE [MOURNFUL, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning Tyre: ‡

Wail, O ships of Tarshish,
For Tyre is destroyed, without house, without harbor;
It is reported to them from the land of Cyprus (Kittim).

<sup>2</sup> Be silent, you inhabitants of the coastland,
You merchants of Sidon;
Your messengers crossed the sea

<sup>3</sup> And they were on great waters. ‡
The grain of the Shihor, the harvest of the Nile River, was Tyre’s revenue;

And she was the market of nations.

<sup>4</sup> Be ashamed, O Sidon [mother-city of Tyre, now like a widow bereaved of her children];

For the sea speaks, the stronghold of the sea, saying,
“I have neither labored nor given birth [to children];

I have neither brought up young men nor reared virgins.”

They will be in agony at the report about Tyre.

<sup>6</sup> Cross over to Tarshish [to seek safety as exiles];

Wail, O inhabitants of the coastland [of Tyre].

<sup>7</sup> Is this your jubilant city, ‡

Whose origin dates back to antiquity,

Whose feet used to carry her [far away] to colonize distant places?

<sup>8</sup> Who has planned this against Tyre, the bestower of crowns, ‡
Whose merchants were princes, whose traders were the honored of the earth?

<sup>9</sup> The LORD of hosts has planned it, to defile the pride of all beauty,

To bring into contempt and humiliation all the honored of the earth.

<sup>10</sup> Overflow your land like [the overflow of] the Nile, O Daughter of Tarshish;

There is no more restraint [on you to make you pay tribute to Tyre].

<sup>11</sup> He has stretched out His hand over the sea,

He has shaken the kingdoms;

The LORD has given a command concerning Canaan to destroy her strongholds and her fortresses [like Tyre and Sidon].

<sup>12</sup> He has said, “You shall never again exult [in triumph], O crushed Virgin Daughter of Sidon. ‡ Arise, cross over to Cyprus; even there you will find no rest.”

For your stronghold [of Tyre] is destroyed.

<sup>15</sup> Now in that day Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years, like the days of one king. At the end of seventy years it will happen to Tyre as in the prostitute's song:

<sup>16</sup> Take a harp, walk around the city,
O forgotten prostitute;
Play the strings skillfully, sing many songs,
That you may be remembered.

<sup>17</sup> It will come to pass at the end of seventy years that the LORD will remember Tyre. Then she will return to her prostitute's wages and will play the [role of a] prostitute [by trading] with all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. ‡

<sup>18</sup> But her commercial gain and her prostitute's wages will be dedicated to the LORD; it will not be treasured or stored up, but her commercial gain will become sufficient food and stately clothing for those who dwell (minister) in the presence of the LORD. ‡

Isaiah 24

Judgment on the Earth

<sup>1</sup> BEHOLD, THE LORD lays waste to the earth, devastates it, twists and distorts its face and scatters its inhabitants.

<sup>2</sup> And the people will be like the priest, the servant like his master, the maid like her mistress, the buyer like the seller, the lender like the borrower, the creditor like the debtor [as God's impartial judgment of sin comes on all]. ‡

<sup>3</sup> The earth will be completely laid waste and utterly pillaged, for the LORD has spoken this word.

<sup>4</sup> The earth dries up and crumbles away, the world dries out and crumbles away, the exalted of the people of the earth fade away.

<sup>5</sup>—The earth also is polluted by its inhabitants, because they have transgressed laws, violated statutes, and broken the everlasting covenant. [Gen 9:1-17; Deut 29:20.] ‡

<sup>6</sup> Therefore, a curse devours the earth, and those who live on it suffer the punishment of their guilt. Therefore, the inhabitants of the earth are burned [under the curse of God's wrath], and few people are left. [Rom 1:20.] ‡

<sup>7</sup> The new wine mourns, ‡

The vine decays;
All the merry-hearted sigh and groan.

<sup>8</sup> The mirth of the timbrels (tambourines) ceases, ‡
The noise of those who rejoice ends,
The joy of the harp ceases.

<sup>9</sup> They do not drink wine with a song;
Strong drink is bitter to those who drink it.

<sup>10</sup> The city of chaos is broken down;
Every house is shut up so that no one may enter.

<sup>11</sup> There is an outcry in the streets concerning the wine;
All jubilation is darkened,
The joy of the earth is banished.

<sup>12</sup> Horrible desolation is left in the city,
And the gate is battered into ruins.

<sup>13</sup> For so it will be in the midst of the earth among the peoples, ‡
As the shaking of an olive tree,
As the gleanings when the grape harvest is over [and only a little of the fruit remains].

<sup>14</sup> They [who have escaped and remain] raise their voices, they shout for joy;
They rejoice from the [Mediterranean] Sea in the majesty of the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Therefore honor and glorify the LORD in the east [in the region of light], ‡
The name of the LORD, the God of Israel [honor His name],
In the coastlands and islands of the [Mediterranean] Sea.

<sup>16</sup> From the ends of the earth we hear songs, “Glory and honor to the Righteous One,” ‡
But I say, “I waste away, I waste away. Woe to me!
The treacherous deal treacherously,
Indeed, the treacherous deal very treacherously.”

<sup>17</sup> Terror and pit [of destruction] and snare ‡
Confront you, O inhabitant of the earth.

<sup>18</sup> Then it will be that he who flees at the sound of terror will fall into the pit, ‡
And he who comes up out of the pit will be caught in the snare;

For the windows of heaven are opened, and the foundations of the earth tremble.

<sup>19</sup> The earth is broken completely apart, ‡

The earth is split apart,
The earth is shaken violently.

<sup>20</sup> The earth reels back and forth like a drunkard ‡

And sways like a shack;
Its transgression lies heavily upon it,
And it will fall and not rise again.

<sup>21</sup> So it will happen in that day ‡

That the LORD will visit and punish the host (fallen angels) of heaven on high,

And the kings of the earth on the earth.  [1 Cor 15:25; Eph 3:10; 6:12 ]

<sup>22</sup> They will be gathered together

As prisoners [are gathered] in a dungeon;
They will be shut up in prison,

And after many days they will be visited and punished.  [Zech 9:11, 12; 2 Pet 2:4; Jude 6 ]

<sup>23</sup> Then the full moon will be embarrassed and the sun ashamed, ‡

For the LORD of hosts will reign on Mount Zion and in Jerusalem,

And His glory and brilliance will shine before His elders.

Isaiah 25

Song of Praise for God's Favor

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, You are my God; ‡

I will exalt You, I will praise and give thanks to Your name;

For You have done miraculous things,

Plans formed long, long ago, [fulfilled] with perfect faithfulness.

<sup>2</sup> For You have made a city into a heap [of trash], ‡

A fortified city into a ruin;

A palace of foreigners is no longer a city,

It will never be rebuilt.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore a strong people will honor You; ‡
Cities of terrible and violent nations will fear You.

<sup>4</sup> For You have been a stronghold for the helpless, ‡
A stronghold for the poor in his distress,
A shelter from the storm, a shade from the heat;
For the breath of tyrants
Is like a rainstorm against a wall.

<sup>5</sup> Like heat in a dry land, You will subdue the noise of foreigners [rejoicing over their enemies];
Like heat in the shadow of a cloud, the song of the tyrants is silenced.

<sup>6</sup> On this mountain [Zion] the LORD of hosts will prepare a lavish banquet for all peoples [to welcome His reign on earth], ‡
A banquet of aged wines—choice pieces [flavored] with marrow,
Of refined, aged wines.

<sup>7</sup> And on this mountain He will destroy the covering that is [cast] over all peoples, ‡
And the veil [of death] that is woven and spread over all the nations.

<sup>8</sup> He will swallow up death [and abolish it] for all time. ‡
And the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from all faces,
And He will take away the disgrace of His people from all the earth;

For the LORD has spoken.  [1 Cor 15:26, 54; 2 Tim 1:10 ]

<sup>9</sup> It will be said in that day, ‡ “Indeed, this is our God for whom we have waited that He would save us.

This is the LORD for whom we have waited;
Let us shout for joy and rejoice in His salvation.”

<sup>10</sup> For the hand of the LORD will rest on this mountain [Zion],
And Moab will be trampled down in his place
As straw is trampled down in the [filthy] water of a manure pile.

<sup>11</sup> And Moab will spread out his hands in the middle of the filth

As a swimmer spreads out his hands to swim,
But the Lord will humiliate his pride in spite of the [skillful] movements of his hands.

<sup>12</sup> The high fortifications of your walls He will bring down, ‡
Lay low, and cast to the ground, to the dust.

Isaiah 26

Song of Trust in God's Protection

<sup>1</sup> IN THAT day this song will be sung in the land of Judah: ‡
“We have a strong city;
He sets up salvation as walls and ramparts.

<sup>2</sup> “Open the gates, that the righteous nation may enter, ‡
The one that remains faithful and trustworthy.

<sup>3</sup> “You will keep in perfect and constant peace the one whose mind is steadfast [that is, committed and focused on
You—in both inclination and character],
Because he trusts and takes refuge in You [with hope and confident expectation].

<sup>4</sup> “Trust [confidently] in the LORD forever [He is your fortress, your shield, your banner], ‡
For the LORD GOD is an everlasting Rock [the Rock of Ages].

<sup>5</sup> “For He has thrown down the [arrogant] ones who dwell on high, the lofty and inaccessible city; ‡
He lays it low, He lays it low to the ground, He hurls it to the dust.

<sup>6</sup> “The foot will trample it,
Even the feet of the suffering, and the steps of the helpless.”

<sup>7</sup> The way of the righteous [those in right-standing with God —living in moral and spiritual integrity] is smooth and level; ‡

O Upright One, make a level path for the just and righteous.

<sup>8</sup> Indeed, in the path of Your judgments, O LORD, ‡
We have waited expectantly for You;

Your name, even Your memory, is the desire and deep longing of our souls.

<sup>9</sup> In the night my soul longs for You [O LORD], ‡
Indeed, my spirit within me seeks You diligently;
For [only] when Your judgments are experienced on the earth
Will the inhabitants of the world learn righteousness.

<sup>10</sup> Though the wicked is shown compassion and favor, ‡
He does not learn righteousness;
In the land of uprightness he deals unjustly,
And refuses to see the majesty of the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> Though Your hand is lifted up [to strike], O LORD, the wicked do not see it. ‡

Let them see Your zeal for Your people and be put to shame;
Indeed, let the fire reserved for Your enemies consume them.

<sup>12</sup> LORD, You will establish peace for us,
Since You have also performed for us all that we have done.

<sup>13</sup> O LORD our God, other masters besides You have ruled over us; ‡

But through You alone we confess Your name.

<sup>14</sup> The [wicked] dead will not live [again], the spirits of the dead will not rise and return;

Therefore You have punished and destroyed them,
And You have wiped out every memory of them [every trace of them].

<sup>15</sup> You have increased the nation, O LORD;
You have increased the nation, You are glorified;
You have extended all the borders of the land.

<sup>16</sup> O LORD, they sought You in distress; ‡
They managed only a prayerful whisper
When Your discipline was upon them.

<sup>17</sup> As a woman with child approaches the time to give birth, ‡
She is in pain and struggles and cries out in her labor,
So we were before You, O LORD.

<sup>18</sup> We have been with child, we have twisted and struggled in labor; ‡

We gave birth, as it seems, only to wind.
We could not accomplish salvation for the earth,

Nor were inhabitants of the world born.
19 Your dead will live; ‡
Their dead bodies will rise.
You who lie in the dust, awake and shout for joy!
For your dew is a dew of [celestial] light [heavenly,
supernatural],
And the earth will give birth to the spirits of the dead.  [Ezek
37:11 , 12 ]

20 Come, my people, enter your chambers ‡
And shut your doors behind you;
Hide for a little while
Until the [LORD's] wrath is past.
21 Listen carefully, the LORD is about to come out of His [heavenly] place ‡
To punish the inhabitants of the earth for their wickedness [their sin, their injustice, their wrongdoing];
The earth will reveal the [innocent] blood shed upon her
And will no longer cover her slain.

The Deliverance of Israel

1 IN THAT day the Lord will punish Leviathan the fleeing serpent ‡
With His fierce and great and mighty sword [rescuing Israel from her enemy],
Even Leviathan the twisted serpent;
And He will kill the dragon who lives in the sea.
2 In that day [it will be said of the redeemed nation of Israel], ‡
“A vineyard of wine, sing in praise of it!
3 “I, the LORD, am its Keeper; ‡
I water it every moment.
So that no one will harm it,
I guard it night and day.
4 “I have no wrath. ‡
Should anyone give Me briars and thorns in battle,

I would step on them, I would set them all on fire.

<sup>5</sup> “Or let him (Israel) cling to My strength and rely on My protection [My stronghold], ‡

Let him make peace with Me,
Let him make peace with Me.”

<sup>6</sup> In the generations to come Jacob will take root; ‡

Israel will blossom and sprout,
And they will fill the surface of the world with fruit.  [Hos 14:1–6; Rom 11:12. ]

<sup>7</sup> Like the striking by Him who has struck them, has He struck them?

Or like the slaughter of His slain, have they been slain?

<sup>8</sup> You contended with them by exile, by driving them away [from Canaan]; ‡

He has expelled them with His fierce wind on the day of the east wind.

<sup>9</sup> Therefore through this the wickedness [the sin, the injustice, the wrongdoing] of Jacob (Israel) will be atoned for and forgiven;

And this will be the full price [that God requires] for taking away his sin:

When Israel makes all the stones of the [pagan] altars like crushed chalk stones;

When the Asherim and the incense altars will not stand.

<sup>10</sup> For the fortified city is isolated, ‡

A settlement deserted and abandoned like the desert;

There the calf will graze,

And there it will lie down and feed on its branches.

<sup>11</sup> When its branches are dry, they are broken off; ‡

The women come and make a fire with them.

For they are not a people of understanding,

Therefore He who made them will not have compassion on them,

And He who created them will not be gracious to them.

12—In that day the LORD will thresh [out His grain] from the flowing stream of the River [Euphrates] to the Brook of Egypt, and you will be gathered up one by one, O sons of Israel.

<sup>13</sup> It will come to pass in that day that a great trumpet will be blown, and those who were lost and perishing in the land of Assyria and who were scattered in the land of Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain at Jerusalem.  [Zech 14:16; Matt 24:31; Rev 11:15 ] ‡

Isaiah 28

Ephraim's Captivity Predicted

<sup>1</sup>-WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to [Samaria] the splendid crown of the drunkards of Ephraim, ‡

And to the fading flower of its glorious beauty,
Which is at the head of the rich valley
Of those who are overcome with wine!

<sup>2</sup> Listen carefully, the Lord has a strong and mighty agent [the Assyrian]; ‡

Like a tempest of hail, a disastrous storm,
Like a tempest of mighty overflowing waters,
He has cast it down to the earth with His hand.

<sup>3</sup> The splendid crown of the drunkards of Ephraim is trampled by [the foreigners'] feet. ‡

Which is at the head of the rich valley,
Will be like the early fig before the summer,
Which one sees,
And as soon as it is in his hand
He [greedily] swallows it [and so will the Assyrians rapidly devour Samaria, Israel's capital].

<sup>5</sup>In that day the LORD of hosts will become a magnificent crown

And a glorious diadem to the [converted] remnant of His people,

<sup>6</sup> A spirit of justice for him who sits in judgment [administering the law],

A strength to those who drive back the battle at the gate.

<sup>7</sup> But even these reel with wine and stagger from strong drink:

The priest and the prophet reel with strong drink;
They are confused by wine, they stagger from strong drink;
They reel while seeing visions,
They stagger when pronouncing judgment.
<sup>8</sup> For all the tables are full of filthy vomit, so that there is no place [that is clean.]

<sup>9</sup> They say “To whom would He teach knowledge? ‡
And to whom would He explain the message?
Those just weaned from milk?
Those just taken from the breast?
<sup>10</sup> “For He says ,
‘Precept upon precept, precept upon precept,
Rule upon rule, rule upon rule,
Here a little, there a little.’ ”
<sup>11</sup> Indeed, the LORD will teach this people [in a more humiliating way] ‡
By [men with] stammering lips and a foreign tongue, <sup>12</sup> He who said to them, “This is the place of quiet, give rest to the weary,”
And, “This is the resting place,” yet they would not listen.
<sup>13</sup> Therefore the word of the LORD to them will be [merely monotonous repetitions]:
“Precept upon precept, precept upon precept,
Rule upon rule, rule upon rule,
Here a little, there a little.”
That they may go and stumble backward, and be broken, ensnared, and taken captive.

Judah Is Warned

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, hear the word of the LORD, you arrogant men Who rule this people who are in Jerusalem!
<sup>15</sup> Because you have said, “We have made a covenant with death, ‡
And with Sheol (the place of the dead) we have made an agreement,
When the overwhelming scourge passes by, it will not reach

us,
For we have made lies our refuge and we have concealed ourselves in deception.”

16 Therefore the Lord GOD says this, ‡

“Listen carefully, I am laying in Zion a Stone, a tested Stone,
A precious Cornerstone for the [secure] foundation, firmly placed.

He who believes [who trusts in, relies on, and adheres to that Stone] will not be disturbed or give way [in sudden panic].  [Ps 118:22; Matt 21:42; Acts 4:11; Rom 9:33;
Eph 2:20; 1 Pet 2:4–6 ]

17 “I will make justice the measuring line ‡

And righteousness the mason’s level;
Then hail will sweep away the refuge of lies
And waters will flood over the secret [hiding] place.

18 “Your covenant with death will be annulled, And your agreement with Sheol (the place of the dead) will not stand;

When the overwhelming scourge passes through,
Then you will become its trampling ground.

19 “As often as it passes through, it will seize you;
For morning after morning it will pass through, by day and by night,

And it will be sheer terror to understand what it means.”

20. For the bed is too short to stretch out on,
And the blanket is too narrow to wrap around oneself [and likewise all their preparations are inadequate].

21 For the LORD will rise up as at Mount Perazim, ‡
He will be stirred up as in the Valley of Gibeon,
To do His work, His unusual and incredible work,
And to accomplish His work, His extraordinary work.  [2 Sam 5:20; 1 Chr 14:16 ]

22 Now do not carry on as scoffers, ‡
Or the bands which bind you will be made stronger;
For I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts [a decree]
Of decisive destruction on all the earth.

<sup>23</sup> Listen and hear my voice;
Listen carefully and hear my words.

<sup>24</sup> Does the farmer plow all day to plant seed?
Does he continually dig furrows and harrow his ground [after it is prepared]?

<sup>25</sup> When he has leveled its surface,
Does he not sow [the seed of] dill and scatter cumin,
And plant wheat in rows,
And barley in its [intended] place and rye within its border?

<sup>26</sup> For his God instructs [him correctly] and teaches him properly.

Nor is a cartwheel rolled over cumin;
But dill is beaten out with a staff, and cumin with a rod.

<sup>28</sup> Bread grain is crushed fine,
Indeed, the farmer does not continue to thresh it forever.
Because the wheel of his cart and his horses eventually damage it,
He does not thresh it longer.

<sup>29</sup> This also comes from the LORD of hosts, ‡
Who has made His counsel wonderful and His wisdom great.

Isaiah 29

Jerusalem Is Warned

<sup>1</sup> WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David [once] camped! ‡
Add yet another year; let the feasts run their course [but only one year more].

<sup>2</sup> Then I will harass Ariel,
And she will be a city of mourning and lamenting (crying out in grief)
Yet she will be like an Ariel [an altar hearth] to Me.

<sup>3</sup> I will camp against you and encircle you,
And I will hem you in with siege works,
And I will raise fortifications against you.

<sup>4</sup> Then you [Jerusalem] will be brought low, ‡

You will speak from the earth,
And from the dust where you lie face down
Your muffled words will come.
Your voice will also be like that of a spirit from the earth [like one produced by a medium],
And your speech will whisper and squeak from the dust.

<sup>5</sup> But the multitude of your enemies [that assault you] will become like fine dust,‡

And the multitude of the tyrants like the chaff which blows
away;

And it will happen in an instant, suddenly [that your enemy is destroyed].

<sup>6</sup> You will be punished by the LORD of hosts with thunder and earthquake and great noise,‡

With whirlwind and tempest and the flame of a consuming fire.

<sup>7</sup> And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel
(Jerusalem),‡

Even all who fight against her and her stronghold, and who distress her,

Will be like a dream, a vision of the night.

<sup>8</sup> It will be as when a hungry man dreams‡

That he is eating,

But when he awakens, his hunger is not satisfied;

Or as when a thirsty man dreams

That he is drinking,

But when he awakens, in fact, he is faint

And his thirst is not quenched.

So will the multitude of all the nations be

Who fight against Mount Zion.

<sup>9</sup> Stop and take some time and wonder [at this prophecy],‡ Blind yourselves and be blinded [at its fulfillment by your spiritual incompetence].

They are drunk, but not from wine;

They stagger, but not from strong drink.

<sup>10</sup> For the LORD has poured over you a spirit of deep sleep.‡

He has closed your eyes, [you who are] the prophets;
And He has covered your heads, [you who are] the seers.

<sup>11</sup> The entire vision [of all these things] will be to you like the words of a scroll that is sealed, which they give to one who can read, saying, “Read this, please,” he shall say, “I cannot, for it is sealed.” ‡

<sup>12</sup> Then the book will be given to the one who cannot read, saying, “Read this, please.” And he will say, “I cannot read.”

<sup>13</sup> Then the Lord said, ‡

“Because this nation approaches [Me only] with their words
And honors Me [only] with their lip service,
But they remove their hearts far from Me,
And their reverence for Me is a tradition that is learned by rote [without any regard for its meaning],

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, listen carefully, I will again do marvelous and amazing things with this people, wonderful and astonishing things; ‡

And the wisdom of their wise men will perish,
And the understanding of their discerning men will be hidden.”

<sup>15</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to those who [try to] deeply hide their plans from the LORD, ‡

Whose deeds are done in a dark place,
And who say, “Who sees us?” or “Who knows us?”

<sup>16</sup> You turn things upside down [with your perversity]! ‡

Shall the potter be considered equal with the clay,
That the thing that is made would say to its maker, “He did not make me”;

Or the thing that is formed say to him who formed it, “He has no understanding”?

Blessing after Discipline

<sup>17</sup> Is it not yet a very little while ‡
Until Lebanon will be turned into a fertile field,
And the fertile field regarded as a forest?

<sup>18</sup> On that day the deaf will hear the words of a book,‡
And out of their gloom and darkness the eyes of the blind will see [the words of the book].

<sup>19</sup> The afflicted also will increase their joy in the LORD,‡
And the needy of mankind will rejoice and celebrate in the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>20</sup> For the tyrant will come to an end and the scorner will be finished,‡

Indeed all who are intent on doing evil will be cut off—

<sup>21</sup> Those who cause a person to be condemned with a [false] word,‡

And lay a trap for him who upholds justice at the [city] gate,
And defraud the one in the right with meaningless arguments.

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, the LORD, who redeemed Abraham [from paganism] says this, concerning the house of Jacob (Israel):‡

“Jacob will not be ashamed, nor will his face turn pale [with disappointment because of his children’s degenerate behavior];

<sup>23</sup> For when he sees his children, the work of My hands, in his midst,‡

They will sanctify My Name;

They will sanctify the Holy One of Jacob

And will stand in awe and reverent fear of the God of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> “Those who err in mind will know the truth,‡

And those who criticize and murmur discontentedly will accept instruction.

Isaiah 30

Judah Warned against Egyptian Alliance

<sup>1</sup> “WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to the rebellious children,” declares the LORD,‡

“Who carry out a plan, but not Mine,
And make an alliance [by pouring out a libation], but not of My Spirit,

In order to add sin to sin;

<sup>2</sup> Who proceed down to Egypt ‡

Without consulting Me,

To take refuge in the stronghold of Pharaoh

And to take shelter in the shadow of Egypt!

<sup>3</sup> “Therefore the safety and protection of Pharaoh will be your shame ‡

And the refuge in the shadow of Egypt, your humiliation and disgrace.

<sup>4</sup> “For his princes are at Zoan ‡

And his ambassadors arrive at Hanes [in Egypt].

<sup>5</sup> “All will be ashamed because of a people (the Egyptians) who cannot benefit them, ‡

Who are not a help or benefit, but a shame and also a disgrace.”

<sup>6</sup> A [mournful, inspired] oracle (a burden to be carried) concerning the beasts of the Negev (the South): ‡

Through a land of trouble and anguish,

From where come lioness and lion, viper and [fiery] flying serpent,

They carry their riches on the shoulders of young donkeys

And their treasures on the humps of camels,

To a people (Egyptians) who cannot benefit them.

<sup>7</sup> For Egypt’s help is worthless and good for nothing. ‡

Therefore, I have called her

“Rahab Who Has Been Exterminated.”

<sup>8</sup> Now, go, write it on a tablet before them ‡

And inscribe it on a scroll,

So that it may serve in the time to come

As a witness [against them] forevermore.

<sup>9</sup> For this is a rebellious people, lying sons, ‡

Sons who refuse to listen to

The law and instruction of the LORD;

<sup>10</sup> Who say to the seers, “You must not see visions from God”; ‡

And to the prophets, “You must not prophesy to us what is right!

Speak to us pleasant things and smooth words,
Prophesy [deceitful] illusions [that we will enjoy].

<sup>11</sup> “Get out of the [true] way, turn aside from the path [of God], Stop bothering us with the Holy One of Israel.”

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, the Holy One of Israel says this,

“Because you have refused and rejected this word [of Mine]
And have put your trust in oppression and guile, and have relied on them,

<sup>13</sup> Therefore this wickedness [this sin, this injustice, this wrongdoing] will be to you ‡

Like a crack [in a wall] about to fall,

A bulge in a high wall,

Whose collapse comes suddenly in an instant,

<sup>14</sup> “Whose collapse is like the smashing of a potter’s jar, ‡

Crushed so savagely

that there cannot be found among its pieces a potsherd [large enough]

To take [coals of] fire from a fireplace,

Or to scoop water from a cistern.”

<sup>15</sup> For the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel has said this, ‡

“In returning [to Me] and rest you shall be saved,
In quietness and confident trust is your strength.”

But you were not willing,

<sup>16</sup> And you said, “No! We will flee on horses!”

Therefore you will flee [from your enemies]!

And [you said], “We will ride on swift horses!”

Therefore those who pursue you shall be swift.

<sup>17</sup> A thousand of you will flee at the threat of one man; ‡

You will flee at the threat of five,

Until you are left like a flag on the top of a mountain,

And like a signal on a hill.

God Is Gracious and Just

<sup>18</sup> Therefore the LORD waits [expectantly] and longs to be gracious to you, ‡

And therefore He waits on high to have compassion on you.

For the LORD is a God of justice;

Blessed (happy, fortunate) are all those who long for Him
[since He will never fail them]. [John 14:3, 27.; 2 Cor 12:9; Heb 12:2; 1 John 3:16; Rev 3:5.]

<sup>19</sup> O people in Zion, inhabitant in Jerusalem, you will weep no longer. He will most certainly be gracious to you at the sound of your cry for help; when He hears it, He will answer you. ‡

<sup>20</sup> Though the Lord gives you the bread of adversity and the water of oppression, yet your Teacher will no longer hide Himself, but your eyes will [constantly] see your Teacher. ‡

<sup>22</sup> And you will defile your carved images overlaid with silver, and your cast images plated with gold. You will scatter them like a bloodstained cloth, and will say to them, “Be gone!” ‡

<sup>23</sup> Then He will give you rain for the seed with which you sow the ground, and bread [grain] from the produce of the ground, and it will be rich and plentiful. In that day your livestock will graze in large and roomy pastures. ‡

<sup>24</sup> Also the oxen and the young donkeys that work the ground will eat salted fodder, which has been winnowed with shovel and pitchfork.

<sup>25</sup> On every lofty mountain and on every high hill there will be streams of water on the day of the great slaughter (the day of the LORD), when the towers fall [and all His enemies are destroyed]. ‡

<sup>26</sup> The light of the full moon will be like the light of the sun, and the light of the sun will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven days [concentrated in one], in the day the LORD binds up the fracture of His people and heals the wound He has inflicted [because of their sins]. ‡

<sup>27</sup> Now look, the name of the LORD comes from far away,
Burning with His anger, and heavy with smoke;
His lips are full of indignation,
And His tongue is like a consuming fire.

<sup>28</sup> His breath is like an overflowing river, ‡

Which reaches to the neck,
To sift the nations back and forth in a sieve [of disaster],
And to put in the jaws of the peoples the bridle which leads to ruin.

<sup>29</sup> You will have a song as in the night when a holy feast is kept, ‡

And joy of heart as when one marches [in procession] with a flute,

To go to the [temple on the] mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.

<sup>30</sup> And the LORD will make His majestic voice heard, ‡

And show the descending of His arm [striking] in [His] fierce anger,

And in the flame of a devouring fire,

In the crashing sound of heavy rain, cloudburst, and hailstones.

<sup>31</sup> For at the voice of the LORD the Assyrians will be terrified, ‡

<sup>32</sup> And every blow of the rod of punishment, ‡

Which the LORD will lay on them,

Will be to the music of Israel's tambourines and lyres;

And in battles, brandishing weapons, He will fight Assyria.

<sup>33</sup> For Topheth [in Hinnom] has long been ready; ‡

Indeed, it has been prepared for the [Assyrian] king.

He has made it deep and wide,

A pit of fire with plenty of wood;

The breath of the LORD, like a river of brimstone (blazing sulfur), kindles and fans it.  [Jer 7:31, 32; Matt 5:22 ; 25:41 ]

Isaiah 31

Look Not to Egypt but to God

<sup>1</sup>-WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to those who go down to Egypt for help, ‡

Who rely on horses

And trust in chariots because they are many,

And in horsemen because they are very strong,
But they do not look to the Holy One of Israel, nor seek and consult the LORD!

<sup>2</sup> Yet He is also wise and will bring disaster, ‡

And does not retract His words,
But will arise against the house of evildoers
And against the helpers of those who do evil.

<sup>3</sup> Now the Egyptians are men and not God,
And their horses are flesh and not spirit;
And the LORD will stretch out His hand,
And he (Egypt) who helps will stumble,
And he (Judah) who is helped will fall,
And all of them will perish together.

<sup>4</sup> For so the LORD says to me, ‡

“As the lion or the young lion growls over his prey,
And though a large group of shepherds is called out against him

He will not be terrified at their voice nor cringe at their noise,
So the LORD of hosts will come down to wage war on Mount Zion and on its hill.”

<sup>5</sup> Like flying birds, so will the LORD of hosts protect Jerusalem; ‡

He will protect and save it,
He will pass over and rescue it.

<sup>6</sup> Return to Him from whom you have so deeply defected, O sons of Israel.

<sup>7</sup> For in that day every man will reject and throw away his idols of silver and his idols of gold [in disgust], which your own hands have sinfully made for
you. ‡

And a sword not of man will devour him.
And he will flee from the sword [of God],
And his young men will become forced labor.

<sup>9</sup> “His rock [his stronghold] will pass away because of panic, ‡
And his princes will be terrified at the [sight of the battle] standard,”

Declares the LORD, whose fire is in Zion and whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

Isaiah 32

The Glorious Future

- <sup>1</sup>BEHOLD, A King will reign in righteousness,‡
And princes will rule with justice.
<sup>2</sup> Each [one of them] will be like a hiding place from the wind
‡
And a shelter from the storm,
Like streams of water in a dry land,
Like the shade of a huge rock in a parched and weary land [to those who turn to them].
<sup>3</sup> Then the eyes of those who see will not be blinded,‡
And the ears of those who hear will listen attentively.
<sup>4</sup> The heart (mind) of those who act impulsively will discern the truth,
And the tongue of the stammerers will hurry to speak clearly.
<sup>5</sup> The fool (the good-for-nothing) will no longer be called noble,
Nor the rogue said to be generous.
<sup>6</sup> For the fool speaks nonsense,
And his heart (mind) plans wickedness:
To practice ungodliness and to speak error concerning the
LORD,
To keep the craving of the hungry unsatisfied
And to deprive the thirsty of drink.
<sup>7</sup> As for the rogue, his weapons are evil;
He conceives wicked plans
To ruin the poor with lies,
Even when the plea of the needy one is just and right.
<sup>8</sup> But the noble man conceives noble and magnificent things;
And he stands by what is noble and magnificent.
<sup>9</sup>Rise up, you women who are carefree,‡

And hear my voice,
You confident and unsuspecting daughters!
Listen to what I am saying.
<sup>10</sup> In little more than a year
You will tremble [with anxiety], you unsuspecting and complacent women;
For the vintage has ended,
And the harvest will not come.
<sup>11</sup> Tremble, you women who are carefree;
Tremble with fear, you complacent ones!
Strip, undress and wear sackcloth on your waist [in grief], <sup>12</sup> Beat your breasts [in mourning] for the beautiful fields, for the fruitful vine,
<sup>13</sup> For the land of my people growing over with thorns and briars—‡
Yes, [mourn] for all the houses of joy in the joyous city.
<sup>14</sup> For the palace has been abandoned, the populated city deserted; ‡
The hill [of the city] and the watchtower have become caves [for wild animals] forever,
A delight for wild donkeys, a pasture for flocks,
<sup>15</sup> Until the Spirit is poured out upon us from on high, ‡
And the wilderness becomes a fertile field,
And the fertile field is valued as a forest. [Ps 104:30; Ezek 36:26, 27; 39:29; Zech 12:10]
<sup>16</sup> Then justice will dwell in the wilderness,
And righteousness will live in the fertile field.
<sup>17</sup> And the effect of righteousness will be peace, ‡
And the result of righteousness will be quietness and confident trust forever.
<sup>18</sup> Then my people will live in a peaceful surrounding,
And in secure dwellings and in undisturbed resting places.
<sup>19</sup> But it will hail, when the forest comes down, ‡
And the [capital] city will fall in utter humiliation.
<sup>20</sup> Blessed (happy, fortunate) are you who cast your seed upon all waters [when the river overflows its banks and irrigates the land], ‡
You who allow the ox and the donkey to roam freely.

Isaiah 33

The Judgment of God

<sup>1</sup> WOE (JUDGMENT is coming) to you, O destroyer, ‡
You who were not destroyed,
And he who is treacherous, while others did not deal treacherously with him.
As soon as you finish destroying, you will be destroyed;
As soon as you stop dealing treacherously, others will deal treacherously with you.

<sup>2</sup> O LORD, be gracious to us; we have waited [expectantly] for You. ‡
Be the arm of Your servants every morning [that is, their strength and their defense],
Our salvation also in the time of trouble.

<sup>3</sup> At the sound of the tumult, the peoples flee;
At the lifting up of Yourself nations scatter.

Jerusalem] as the caterpillar gathers;
As locusts swarming so people swarm on it.

<sup>5</sup> The LORD is exalted, for He dwells on high; ‡
He has filled Zion with justice and righteousness.

<sup>6</sup> And He will be the security and stability of your times,
A treasure of salvation, wisdom and knowledge;
The fear of the LORD is your treasure.

<sup>7</sup> Now look, their brave men shout outside; ‡
The ambassadors [seeking a treaty] of peace weep bitterly.

<sup>8</sup> The highways are deserted, the traveler has ceased [to appear]. ‡
The enemy has broken the covenant, he has rejected the cities,
He has no regard for [any] man.

<sup>9</sup> The land mourns and dries out, ‡
Lebanon is shamed and [its lush foliage] withers;
Sharon is like a desert plain,
And Bashan and [Mount] Carmel shake off their leaves.

<sup>10</sup> "Now I will arise," says the LORD. ‡
"Now I will be exalted; now I will be lifted up."

<sup>11</sup> “You have conceived dried grass, you will give birth to stubble; ‡

My breath is a fire that will consume you.

<sup>12</sup> “The peoples will be burned to lime, ‡

Like thorns cut down which are burned in the fire.

<sup>13</sup> “You who are far away, hear what I have done; ‡

And you who are near, acknowledge My might.”

<sup>14</sup> The sinners in Zion are terrified;

Trembling has seized the godless.

[They cry] “Who among us can live with the consuming fire?

Who among us can live with everlasting burning?”

<sup>15</sup> He who walks righteously and speaks with integrity, ‡

Who rejects gain from fraud and from oppression,

Who shakes his hand free from the taking of bribes,

Who stops his ears from hearing about bloodshed

And shuts his eyes to avoid looking upon evil;

<sup>16</sup> He will dwell on the heights,

His place of defense will be the fortress of rocks,

His bread will be given him;

His water will be permanent.

<sup>17</sup> Your eyes will see the King in His beauty;

They will see a far-distant land.

<sup>18</sup> Your mind will meditate on the terror [asking]: ‡

“Where is he who counts?

Where is he who weighs [the tribute]?

Where is he who counts the towers?”

<sup>19</sup> You will no longer see the fierce and insolent people, ‡

A people of unintelligible speech which no one comprehends,

Of a strange and stammering tongue which no one understands.

<sup>20</sup> Look upon Zion, the city of our appointed feasts and observances; ‡

Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a undisturbed settlement,

A tent which will not be taken down;

Not one of its stakes will ever be pulled up,

Nor any of its ropes be severed.

<sup>21</sup> But there the mighty and magnificent LORD will be for us
A place of broad rivers and streams,
Where no oar-driven boat will go,
And on which no mighty and stately ship will pass.

<sup>22</sup> For the LORD is our Judge, ‡
The LORD is our Ruler,
The LORD is our King;
He will save us.  [Is 2:3, 4; 11:4; 32:1; James 4:12 ]

<sup>23</sup> Your ship's ropes (tackle) hang loose;
They cannot hold the base of their mast firmly,
Nor spread out the sail.

Then an abundance of spoil and plunder will be divided;
Even the lame will take the plunder.

<sup>24</sup> And no inhabitant [of Zion] will say, "I am sick"; ‡
The people who dwell there will be forgiven their wickedness [their sin, their injustice, their wrongdoing].

Isaiah 34

God's Wrath against Nations

<sup>1</sup> COME NEAR, you nations, to hear; and listen, O peoples! ‡
Let the earth and all that is in it hear, and the world and all that comes forth from it.

<sup>2</sup> For the LORD is angry at all the nations,
And His wrath is against all their armies;
He has utterly doomed them,
He has given them over to slaughter.

<sup>3</sup> So their slain will be thrown out, ‡
And the stench of their corpses will rise,
And the mountains will flow with their blood.

<sup>4</sup> All the host of heaven will be dissolved, ‡
And the skies will be rolled up like a scroll;
All their hosts [the stars and the planets] will also wither
away

As a leaf withers from the vine,
And as a fig withers from the fig tree.  [Rev 6:13, 14 ]

<sup>5</sup> For My sword is satiated [with blood] in heaven; ‡
Indeed, it will come down for judgment on Edom
And on the people whom I have doomed for destruction. [
Obad 8–21 ]

<sup>6</sup> The sword of the LORD is filled with blood [from sacrifices], ‡

It drips with fat, with the blood of lambs and goats,
With the fat of the kidneys of rams.

For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah (Edom's capital city)
And a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

<sup>7</sup> Wild oxen will also fall with them
And the young bulls with the strong bulls;
And their land will be soaked with blood,
And their dust made greasy with fat.

<sup>8</sup> For the LORD has a day of vengeance, ‡
A year of retribution for the cause of Zion.

<sup>9</sup> The streams [of Edom] will be turned into pitch, ‡

And its dust into brimstone,

And its land will become burning pitch.

<sup>10</sup> The burning will not be quenched night or day; ‡

Its smoke will go up forever.

From generation to generation it will lie in ruins;

No one will ever again pass through it.  [Rev 19:3 ]

<sup>11</sup> But the pelican and the porcupine will take possession of it;

‡

The owl and the raven will dwell in it.

And He will stretch over it (Edom) the measuring line of desolation

And the plumb line of emptiness.

<sup>12</sup> Its nobles—there is no one there

Whom they may proclaim king—

And all its princes will be nothing.

<sup>13</sup> Thorns will come up in its fortified palaces, ‡

Nettles and brambles in its fortified cities;

It will be a haunt for jackals,

An abode for ostriches.

<sup>14</sup> The creatures of the desert will encounter jackals

And the hairy goat will call to its kind;

Indeed, Lilith (night demon) will settle there

And find herself a place of rest.

<sup>15</sup> There the arrow snake will make her nest and lay her eggs,

And hatch them and gather her young under her protection;

Indeed, the birds of prey will be gathered there [to breed],

Every one with its own kind.

<sup>16</sup> Seek from the book of the LORD, and read: ‡

Not one of these [creatures] will be missing;

None will lack its mate.

For His mouth has commanded,

And His Spirit has gathered them.

<sup>17</sup> The LORD has cast the lot for them,

And His hand has divided and apportioned Edom to the wild beasts by measuring-line.

They will possess it forever;

From generation to generation they will dwell in it.

Isaiah 35

Zion's Joyful Future

<sup>1</sup> THE WILDERNESS and the dry land will be glad; ‡
The Arabah (desert) will shout in exultation and blossom
Like the autumn crocus.

<sup>2</sup> It will blossom abundantly ‡
And rejoice with joy and singing.
The glory of Lebanon will be given to it,
The majesty of [Mount] Carmel and [the plain] of Sharon.
They will see the glory of the LORD,
The majesty and splendor of our God.

<sup>3</sup> Encourage the exhausted, and make staggering knees firm. [
Heb 12:12] ‡

<sup>4</sup> Say to those with an anxious and panic-stricken heart, “Be strong, fear not!
Indeed, your God will come with vengeance [for the ungodly];
The retribution of God will come,
But He will save you.”

<sup>5</sup> Then the eyes of the blind will be opened ‡
And the ears of the deaf will be unstopped.

<sup>6</sup> Then the lame will leap like a deer, ‡
And the tongue of the mute will shout for joy.
For waters will break forth in the wilderness
And streams in the desert. [Matt 11:5]

<sup>7</sup> And the burning sand (mirage) will become a pool [of water]
‡
And the thirsty ground springs of water;
In the haunt of jackals, where they lay resting,
Grass becomes reeds and rushes.

<sup>8</sup> A highway will be there, and a roadway; ‡
And it will be called the Holy Way.
The unclean will not travel on it,
But it will be for those who walk on the way [the redeemed];

And fools will not wander on it .

<sup>9</sup> No lion will be there, ‡

Nor will any predatory animal come up on it;
They will not be found there.

But the redeemed will walk there .

<sup>10</sup> And the ransomed of the LORD will return ‡

And come to Zion with shouts of jubilation,
And everlasting joy will be upon their heads;
They will find joy and gladness,
And sorrow and sighing will flee away.

Isaiah 36

Sennacherib Invades Judah

<sup>1</sup> NOW IN the fourteenth year of King Hezekiah, Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the fortified cities of Judah and conquered them.
[2 Kin 18:13 , 17–37 ; 2 Chr 32:9–19] ‡

<sup>3</sup> Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was in charge of the [royal] household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recording historian, came out to [meet] him.

<sup>4</sup> Then the Rabshakeh said to them, “Say to Hezekiah, ‘This is what the great king, the king of Assyria says, “What is [the reason for] this confidence that you have? ‡

<sup>5</sup> “I say, ‘Your plan and strength for the war are only empty words.’ Now in whom do you trust and on whom do you rely, that you have rebelled against me? [2 Kin 18:7] ”

<sup>6</sup> “Listen carefully, you rely on the staff of this broken reed, Egypt, which will pierce the hand of any man who leans on it. So is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who rely on him. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “But if you say to me, ‘We trust in and rely on the LORD our God,’ is it not He whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah has taken away, saying to Judah and to Jerusalem, ‘You shall worship before this altar’? [2 Kin 18:4 ,

5 ]

8. “So now, exchange pledges with my master the king of Assyria and I will give you two thousand horses, if you are able on your part to put riders on them.

9 “How then can you repulse [the attack of] a single commander of the least of my master’s servants, and rely on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10. “Moreover, is it without the LORD that I have now come up against this land to destroy it? The LORD said to me, ‘Go up against this land and destroy it.’ ” ” ”

11. Then Eliakim and Shebna and Joah said to the Rabshakeh, “Please, speak to your servants in Aramaic, because we understand it; and do not speak to us in Judean (Hebrew) in the hearing of the people who are [stationed] on the wall.”

12 But the Rabshakeh said, “Has my master sent me to speak these words only to your master and to you, and not to the men sitting on the wall, doomed to eat their own dung and drink their own urine with you?”

13 Then the Rabshakeh stood and called out with a loud voice in Judean (Hebrew): “Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 “This is what the king says, ‘Do not let Hezekiah deceive you, for he will not be able to rescue you;

15 nor let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, “The LORD will most certainly rescue us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”

16 ‘Do not listen to Hezekiah,’ for this is what the king of Assyria says, ‘Make peace with me and come out to me, and each one of you will eat from his own vine and each from his own fig tree and each [one of you] drink from the water of his own cistern, †

17 until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 ‘Beware that Hezekiah does not mislead you by saying, “The LORD will rescue us.” Has any one of the gods of the nations [ever] rescued his land from the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 ‘Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad [in Aram]? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? And when have they rescued Samaria from my hand?

20 ‘Who among all the gods of these lands have rescued their land from my hand, that [you should think that] the LORD would rescue Jerusalem from my hand?’ ”

21 But they kept silent and did not say a word to him in reply, for King Hezekiah's command was, "Do not answer him."

22 Then Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, who was in charge of the household, and Shebna the scribe and Joah the son of Asaph, the recording historian, came to Hezekiah with their clothes torn [in grief], and told him the words of the Rabshakeh [the Assyrian commander].

Isaiah 37

Hezekiah Seeks Isaiah's Help

1 AND WHEN King Hezekiah heard this, he tore his clothes and covered himself with sackcloth and went into the house of the LORD. [2 Kin 19:1–13] ‡

2 Then he sent Eliakim, who was in charge of the [royal] household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests, covered with sackcloth, to Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz.

3 They said to him, "This is what Hezekiah says, 'This day is a day of distress, rebuke and disgrace; for children have come to birth, and there is no strength to deliver them.'

4 'It may be that the LORD your God will hear the words of the Rabshakeh [the commander], whom his master the king of Assyria has sent to taunt and defy the living God, and will avenge the words which the LORD your God has heard. Therefore, offer a prayer for the remnant [of His people] that is left.' "

5 So the servants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 Isaiah said to them, "You shall say the following to your master: 'This is what the LORD says, "Do not be afraid because of the words that you have heard, with which the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed Me.'

7 "Listen carefully, I will put a spirit in him so that he will hear a rumor and return to his own land. And I will make him fall by the sword in his own land." , "

8 So the Rabshakeh returned and found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah [a fortified city of Judah], for he had heard that the king had left Lachish.

9 And Sennacherib king of Assyria, heard them say concerning Tirhakah king of Cush (Ethiopia), "He has come out to fight against you." And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 “You shall say to Hezekiah king of Judah, ‘Do not let your God in whom you trust deceive you, saying, “Jerusalem will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.”’

11 ‘Listen carefully, you have heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands, utterly destroying them. So will you be rescued?’

12 ‘Did the gods of the nations which my fathers destroyed rescue them—Gozan, Haran [of Mesopotamia], Rezeph, and the sons of Eden who were in Telassar?’

13 ‘Where is the king of Hamath, the king of Arpad [of northern Syria], the king of the city of Sepharvaim, [the king of] Hena, or [the king of] Ivvah?’ ”‡

Hezekiah’s Prayer in the Temple

14 Then Hezekiah took the letter from the hand of the messengers and read it, and he went up to the house of the LORD and spread it out before the LORD. [2 Kin 19:14–19.]

15 And Hezekiah prayed to the LORD saying,

16 “O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, who is enthroned above the cherubim, You are the God, You alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth.

17 “Incline Your ear, O LORD, and hear; open Your eyes, O LORD, and see; and hear all the words of Sennacherib that he has sent to taunt and defy the living God.”‡

18 “It is true, O LORD, that the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the countries and their lands,

19 and have cast the gods [of those peoples] into the fire, for they were not gods but the work of men’s hands, wood and stone. Therefore they have destroyed them.

20 “Now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand so that all the kingdoms of the earth may know and fully realize that You alone, LORD, are God.”

God Answers through Isaiah

21 Then Isaiah son of Amoz sent word to Hezekiah, saying, “For the LORD, the God of Israel says this, ‘Because you have prayed to Me about Sennacherib king of Assyria, [2 Kin 19:20–37; 2 Chr 32:20, 21.]

<sup>22</sup> this is the word that the LORD has spoken against him:

“She has shown contempt for you and mocked you,
The Virgin Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem);
She has shaken her head behind you,
The Daughter of Jerusalem!

<sup>23</sup> “Whom have you taunted and blasphemed?
And against whom have you raised your voice
And haughtily lifted up your eyes?
Against the Holy One of Israel!

<sup>24</sup> “Through your servants you have taunted and defied the Lord,
And you have said, ‘With my many chariots I have gone up to the heights of the mountains,
To the remotest parts of Lebanon.
I cut down its tallest cedars and its choicest cypress trees;
And I will go to its remotest height, its most luxuriant and thickest forest.

<sup>25</sup> ‘I dug wells and drank [foreign] waters,
And with the sole of my feet I dried up
All the canals [of the Nile] of Egypt.’

<sup>26</sup> “Have you not heard [says the God of Israel]
That I did it long ago,
That I planned it in ancient times?
Now I have brought it to pass,
That you [king of Assyria] would [be My instrument to] turn fortified cities into ruinous heaps.

<sup>27</sup> “Therefore their inhabitants had little power,
They were terrorized and shamed;
They were like the grass of the field and the green vegetation,
Like grass on the housetops and like a field [of grain] scorched before it is grown.

<sup>28</sup> “But I know your sitting down
And your going out and your coming in [every detail of your life],
And your raging against Me.

<sup>29</sup> “Because your raging against Me ‡
And your arrogance has come up to My ears,

I will put My hook in your nose
And My bridle in your mouth,
And I will turn you back by the way you came.

<sup>30</sup> “This shall be the sign [of these things] to you [Hezekiah]: you are to eat this year what grows of itself, and in the second year that which springs from the same, and in the third year you are to sow and harvest, and plant vineyards and eat their fruit.

<sup>31</sup> “The surviving remnant of the house of Judah will again take root downward and bear fruit upward.

<sup>32</sup> “For out of Jerusalem will come a remnant and from Mount Zion a band of survivors. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will do this.” ’ ‡

<sup>33</sup> “Therefore, the LORD says this concerning the king of Assyria, ‘He will not come into this city or shoot an arrow there, or come before it with shield, or raise an assault ramp against it.

<sup>34</sup> ‘By the way that he came, by the same way he will return, and he will not come into this city,’ declares the LORD.

<sup>35</sup> ‘For I will defend this city to save it, for My own sake and for the sake of My servant David.’ ” ‡

Assyrians Destroyed

<sup>36</sup> And the angel of the LORD went out and struck 185,000 in the camp of the Assyrians; and when the [surviving] men got up early the next morning, they saw all the dead.  [2 Kin 19:35 ] ‡

<sup>38</sup> It came to pass as he was worshiping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons killed him with the sword; and they escaped into the land of Ararat [in Armenia]. And Esarhaddon his son became king in his place.

Isaiah 38

Hezekiah Healed

of death. And Isaiah the prophet, the son of Amoz, came to him and said, “For the LORD says this, ‘Set your house in order and prepare a will, for you shall die; you will not live.’ ” [2 Kin 20:1–11 ; 2 Chr 32:24–26 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> and said, “Please, O LORD, just remember how I have walked before You in faithfulness and truth, and with a whole heart [absolutely devoted to You], and have done what is good in Your sight.” And Hezekiah wept greatly. ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to Isaiah, saying,

<sup>5</sup> “Go and say to Hezekiah, ‘For the LORD, the God of David your father says this, “I have heard your prayer, I have seen your tears; listen carefully, I will add fifteen years to your life.

<sup>6</sup> “I will rescue you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city [Jerusalem].” ’ ‡

<sup>7</sup> “This shall be the sign to you from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that He has spoken: ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Listen carefully, I will turn the shadow on the stairway [denoting the time of day] ten steps backward, the shadow on the stairway (sundial) of Ahaz.” And the sunlight went ten steps backward on the stairway where it had [previously] gone down.

<sup>9</sup> This is the writing of Hezekiah king of Judah after he had been sick and had recovered from his illness:

<sup>10</sup> I said, “In mid-life
I am to go through the gates of Sheol (the place of the dead),
I am to be summoned, deprived of the remainder of my years.”

<sup>11</sup> I said, “I will not see the LORD ‡
The LORD in the land of the living;
I will no longer see man among the inhabitants of the world.

<sup>12</sup> “My dwelling (body) is pulled up and removed from me like a shepherd’s tent; ‡
I have rolled up my life as a weaver [rolls up the finished web].

He cuts me free from the warp [of the loom];
From day to night You bring me to an end.

<sup>13</sup> “I lay down until morning.
Like a lion, so He breaks all my bones;
From day until night You bring me to an end.

<sup>14</sup> “Like a swallow, like a crane, so I chirp; ‡

I coo like a dove.
My eyes look wistfully upward;
O Lord, I am oppressed, take my side and be my security.

<sup>15</sup> “What shall I say? ‡
For He has spoken to me, and He Himself has done it;
I will wander aimlessly all my years because of the bitterness of my soul.

<sup>16</sup> “O Lord, by these things men live,
And in all these is the life of my spirit;
Restore me to health and let me live!

<sup>17</sup> “Indeed, it was for my own well-being that I had such bitterness;
But You have loved back my life from the pit of nothingness (destruction),

For You have cast all my sins behind Your back.

<sup>18</sup> “For Sheol cannot praise or thank You, ‡ Death cannot praise You and rejoice in You;
Those who go down to the pit cannot hope for Your faithfulness.

<sup>19</sup> “It is the living who give praise and thanks to You, as I do today; ‡

A father tells his sons about Your faithfulness.

<sup>20</sup> “The LORD is ready to save me;
Therefore we will play my songs on stringed instruments
All the days of our lives at the house of the LORD.”

<sup>21</sup> Now Isaiah had said, “Have them take a cake of figs and rub it [as an ointment] on the inflamed spot, that he may recover.” ‡

<sup>22</sup>-Hezekiah also had said, “What is the sign that I will go up to the house of the LORD?” ‡

Isaiah 39

Hezekiah Shows His Treasures

<sup>1</sup> AT THAT time Merodach-baladan son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent [messengers with] letters and a present to Hezekiah, for he had heard that he had been sick and had recovered. [2 Kin 20:12–19] ‡

2—Hezekiah was pleased and showed them his treasure house—the silver, the gold, the spices, the precious oil, his entire armory and everything that was found in his treasuries. There was nothing in his house nor in all his area of dominion that Hezekiah did not show them. ‡

3 Then Isaiah the prophet came to King Hezekiah and asked, “What did these men say? From where have they come to you?” And Hezekiah said, “They came to me from a far country, from Babylon.”

4 Then Isaiah said, “What have they seen in your house?” And Hezekiah answered, “They have seen everything that is in my house; there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shown them.”

5 Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, “Hear the word of the LORD of hosts,

6 ‘Listen carefully, the days are coming when everything that is in your house and everything that your predecessors have stored up until this day will be carried to Babylon; nothing will be left,’ says the LORD. ‡

7 ‘And some of your own sons (descendants) who will come from you, whom you will father, will be taken away, and they will become officials in the palace of the king of Babylon.’ ”

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, “The word of the LORD which you have spoken is good.” For he thought, “There will be peace and faithfulness [to God’s promises to us] in my days.” ‡

The Greatness of God

1.“COMFORT, O comfort My people,” says your God.

2.“Speak tenderly to Jerusalem, ‡

And call out to her, that her time of compulsory service in warfare is finished,

That her wickedness has been taken away [since her punishment is sufficient],

That she has received from the LORD’s hand Double [punishment] for all her sins.”

3.A voice of one is calling out, ‡

“Clear the way for the LORD in the wilderness [remove the obstacles];

Make straight and smooth in the desert a highway for our God.

And every mountain and hill be made low;
And let the rough ground become a plain,
And the rugged places a broad valley.

<sup>5</sup> “And the glory and majesty and splendor of the LORD will be revealed,

And all humanity shall see it together;
For the mouth of the LORD has spoken it.”  [Luke 3:5, 6 ]

<sup>6</sup> A voice says, “Call out [prophesy].”‡

Then he answered, “What shall I call out?”

[The voice answered:] All humanity is [as frail as] grass, and all that makes it attractive [its charm, its loveliness] is [momentary] like the flower of the field.

<sup>7</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades,
When the breath of the LORD blows upon it;
Most certainly [all] the people are [like] grass.

<sup>8</sup> The grass withers, the flower fades,‡
But the word of our God stands forever.  [James 1:10, 11 ;
1 Pet 1:24, 25. ]

<sup>9</sup> O Zion, herald of good news,
Get up on a high mountain.
O Jerusalem, herald of good news,
Lift up your voice with strength,
Lift it up, do not fear;
Say to the cities of Judah,
“Here is your God!”  [Acts 10:36 ; Rom 10:15 ]

<sup>10</sup> Listen carefully, the Lord GOD will come with might,‡
And His arm will rule for Him.

Most certainly His reward is with Him,
And His restitution accompanies Him.  [Rev 22:7, 12 ]

<sup>11</sup> He will protect His flock like a shepherd,‡
He will gather the lambs in His arm,
He will carry them in His bosom;
He will gently and carefully lead those nursing their young.

<sup>12</sup> Who has measured the waters in the hollow of His hand,‡

And marked off the heavens with a span [of the hand],
And calculated the dust of the earth with a measure,
And weighed the mountains in a balance
And the hills in a pair of scales?

<sup>13</sup> Who has directed the Spirit of the LORD, ‡
Or has taught Him as His counselor?  [Rom 11:34 ]

<sup>14</sup> With whom did He consult and who enlightened Him?
Who taught Him the path of justice and taught Him knowledge

And informed Him of the way of understanding?

<sup>15</sup>. In fact, the nations are like a drop from a bucket,
And are regarded as a speck of dust on the scales;
Now look, He lifts up the islands like fine dust.

<sup>16</sup> And [the forests of] Lebanon cannot supply sufficient fuel to start a fire,

Nor are its wild beasts enough for a burnt offering [worthy of the LORD].

<sup>17</sup> All the nations are as nothing before Him, ‡

They are regarded by Him as less than nothing and meaningless.

<sup>18</sup> To whom then will you liken God? ‡

Or with what likeness will you compare Him?  [Acts 17:29 ]

<sup>19</sup> As for the cast image (idol), a metalworker casts it, ‡
A goldsmith overlays it with gold
And a silversmith casts its silver chains.

<sup>20</sup> He who is too impoverished for such an offering [to give to his god] ‡

Chooses a tree that will not rot;
He seeks out for himself a skillful craftsman
To [carve and] set up an idol that will not totter.

<sup>21</sup> Do you [who worship idols] not know? Have you not heard? ‡

Has it not been told to you from the beginning?
Have you not understood from the foundations of the earth
[the omnipotence of God and the stupidity of bowing to idols]?  [Rom 1:20 , 21 ]

<sup>22</sup> It is He who sits above the circle of the earth, ‡
And its inhabitants are like grasshoppers;
[It is He] who stretches out the heavens like a veil
And spreads them out like a tent to dwell in.

<sup>23</sup> It is He who reduces dignitaries to nothing, ‡
Who makes the judges (rulers) of the earth meaningless (useless).

<sup>24</sup> Scarcely have they been planted,
Scarcely have they been sown,
Scarcely has their stock taken root in the earth,
But He merely blows on them, and they wither,
And a strong wind carries them away like stubble.

<sup>25</sup> “To whom then will you compare Me ‡
That I would be his equal?” says the Holy One.

<sup>26</sup> Lift up your eyes on high ‡
And see who has created these heavenly bodies,
The One who brings out their host by number,
He calls them all by name;
Because of the greatness of His might and the strength of His power,
Not one is missing.

<sup>27</sup> Why, O Jacob, do you say, and declare, O Israel,
“My way is hidden from the LORD,
And the justice due me escapes the notice of my God”?

<sup>28</sup> Do you not know? Have you not heard? ‡
The Everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth

Does not become tired or grow weary;
There is no searching of His understanding.

<sup>29</sup> He gives strength to the weary,
And to him who has no might He increases power.  [2 Cor 12:9 ]

<sup>30</sup> Even youths grow weary and tired,
And vigorous young men stumble badly,

<sup>31</sup> But those who wait for the LORD [who expect, look for,
and hope in Him] ‡

Will gain new strength and renew their power;

They will lift up their wings [and rise up close to God] like eagles [rising toward the sun];
They will run and not become weary,
They will walk and not grow tired.  [Heb 12:1–3.]

Isaiah 41

Israel Encouraged

<sup>1</sup> “LISTEN TO me in silence, you islands and coastlands, ‡
And let the nations gain their strength;
Let them come near, then let them speak;
Let us come together for judgment [and decide the issue between us concerning the enemy from the east].

<sup>2</sup> “Who has stirred up and put into action one from the east
[the king of Persia, Cyrus the Great] ‡

Whom He calls in righteousness to His service and whom victory meets at every step?

The LORD turns nations over to him
And subdues kings.

He makes them like dust with his sword,
Like wind-driven chaff with his bow.  [Ezra 1:2. ]

<sup>3</sup> “He (Cyrus) pursues them and passes along safely,
By a way his feet had not traveled before.

<sup>4</sup> “Who has performed and done this, ‡
Calling forth [and guiding the destinies of] the generations [of the nations] from the beginning?

‘I, the LORD—the first, and with the last [existing before history began, the ever-present, unchanging God]—I am He.’ ”

<sup>5</sup> The islands and coastlands have seen and they fear;
The ends of the earth tremble;
They have drawn near and have come.

<sup>6</sup> They each help his neighbor ‡
And say to his brother [as he fashions his idols], “Be of good courage!”

<sup>7</sup> So the craftsman encourages the goldsmith, ‡

And he who smooths metal with the smith's hammer encourages him who beats the anvil,

Saying of the soldering (welding), "That is good";

And he fastens the idol with nails,

So that it will not totter nor be moved.

<sup>8</sup> "But you, Israel, My servant, ‡

Jacob whom I have chosen,

The offspring of Abraham My friend,  [Heb 2:16 ; James 2:23 ]

<sup>9</sup> You whom I [the LORD] have taken from the ends of the earth,

And called from its remotest parts

And said to you, 'You are My servant,

I have chosen you and have not rejected you [even though you are exiled].

<sup>10</sup> 'Do not fear [anything], for I am with you; ‡

Do not be afraid, for I am your God.

I will strengthen you, be assured I will help you;

I will certainly take hold of you with My righteous right hand
[a hand of justice, of power, of victory, of salvation].'

 [Acts 18:10 ]

<sup>11</sup> "Indeed, all those who are angry with you will be put to shame and humiliated; ‡

Those who strive against you will be as nothing and will perish.

<sup>12</sup> "You shall search for those who quarrel with you, but will not find them;

They who war against you will be as nothing, as nothing at all.

<sup>13</sup> "For I the LORD your God keep hold of your right hand; [I am the Lord],

Who says to you, 'Do not fear, I will help you.'

<sup>14</sup>. "Do not fear, you worm Jacob, you men of Israel;

I will help you," declares the LORD, "and your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>15</sup> "In fact, I have made of you a new, sharp threshing implement with sharp edges; ‡

You will thresh the mountains and crush them,

And make the hills like chaff.

16 “You will winnow them, and the wind will carry them away,‡

And a high wind will scatter them;
But you will rejoice in the LORD,
You will glory in the Holy One of Israel.

17 “The poor and needy are seeking water, but there is none;
Their tongues are parched with thirst.

I, the LORD, will answer them Myself;
I, the God of Israel, will not neglect them.

18 “I will open rivers on the barren heights‡

And springs in the midst of the valleys;
I will make the wilderness a reed-pool of water
And the dry land springs of water.

19 “I will put the cedar in the wilderness,
The acacia, the myrtle and the olive tree;
I will place the juniper in the desert
Together with the box tree and the cypress,

20 So that they may see and know,‡
And consider and understand together,
That the hand of the LORD has done this,
That the Holy One of Israel has created it.

21 “Present your case [for idols made by men’s hands],” says the LORD.

“Produce your evidence [of divinity],”
Says the king of Jacob.

22 Let them bring forward [their evidence] and tell us what is going to happen.‡

Regarding the former events, tell what they were,
That we may consider them and know their outcome;
Or announce to us the things that are going to come.

23 Tell us the things that are to come afterward,‡
That we may know that you are gods;
Indeed, you should do something good or do evil, that we may be afraid and fear [you] together [as we observe the miracle].

<sup>24</sup> Hear this! You [idols] are less than nothing,‡
And your work is worthless;
The worshiper who chooses you [as a god] is repulsive. [
1 Cor 8:4.]

<sup>25</sup> “I have stirred up and put into action one from the north [the king of Persia, Cyrus the Great], and he has come;‡
From the rising of the sun he will call on My Name [in prayer].
And he will trample on [the Babylonian] officials as on mortar,
Even as a potter treads clay.” [2 Chr 36:23; Ezra 1:1–3.]

<sup>26</sup> Who [among the idols] has declared this from the beginning, so that we could know?‡
Or from earlier times, so that we could say, “ He is [unquestionably] right!”?

In fact, there was no one who declared it,
Indeed, there was no one who proclaimed it;
There was no one at all who heard you speak [for you pagan gods are speechless].

<sup>27</sup> “I was first to say to Zion, ‘Listen carefully, here they are [the Jews who will be restored to their own land].’‡
And to Jerusalem, ‘I will provide a messenger (Isaiah) to bring the good news [that Cyrus will be stirred up and put into action to save them].’ [Is 40:9; 52:7.]

<sup>28</sup> “But when I look [on the pagan prophets and priests], there is no one [who could predict these events],‡
And there is no counselor among them,
Who, if I ask, can give an answer.
<sup>29</sup> “In fact, all of these [pagan prophets and priests] are false;‡
Their works are worthless,
Their cast images are [merely] wind and emptiness.

Isaiah 42

God’s Promise concerning His Servant

<sup>1</sup> “BEHOLD, MY Servant, whom I uphold;

My Chosen One in whom My soul delights.
I have put My Spirit upon Him;
He will bring forth justice to the nations.  [Matt 3:16, 17 ]
<sup>2</sup> “He will not call out or shout aloud,
Nor make His voice heard in the street.
<sup>3</sup> “A broken reed He will not break [off]
And a dimly burning wick He will not extinguish [He will not harm those who are weak and suffering];
He will faithfully bring forth justice.  [Matt 12:17–21 ]
<sup>4</sup> “He will not be disheartened or crushed [in spirit]; ‡
[He will persevere] until He has established justice on the earth;
And the coastlands will wait expectantly for His law.”  [Rom 8:22–25 ]

<sup>5</sup> This is what God the LORD says, ‡

He who created the heavens and stretched them out,
Who spread out the earth and its produce,
Who gives breath to the people on it
And spirit to those who walk on it, <sup>6</sup> “I am the LORD, I have called You (the Messiah) in righteousness [for a righteous purpose], ‡
I will also take You by the hand and keep watch over You,
And I will appoint You as a covenant to the people [Israel],
As a light to the nations (Gentiles),
<sup>7</sup> To open the eyes of the blind, ‡
To bring out prisoners from the dungeon
And those who sit in darkness from the prison.  [Matt 12:18–21 ]

<sup>8</sup> “I am the LORD, that is My Name; ‡
My glory I will not give to another,
Nor My praise to carved idols.
<sup>9</sup> “Indeed, the former things have come to pass,
Now I declare new things;
Before they spring forth I proclaim them to you.”

<sup>10</sup> Sing to the LORD a new song, ‡

*Sing His praise from the end of the earth!
You who go down to the sea, and all that is in it,
You islands and coastlands, and those who inhabit them [sing
His praise]!*

<sup>11</sup> Let the wilderness and its cities lift up their voices,
The villages where Kedar lives.

Let the inhabitants of Sela shout for joy,
Let them shout joyfully from the tops of the mountains.

<sup>12</sup> Let them give glory to the LORD
And declare His praise in the islands and coastlands.

<sup>13</sup> The LORD will go forth like a warrior, ‡
He will stir up His zeal like a man of war;
He will shout out, yes, He will raise a war cry.
He will prevail [mightily] against His enemies.

The Blindness of the People

<sup>14</sup> “I [the LORD] have been silent for a long time,
I have been still and restrained Myself.
Now I will moan like a woman in labor,
I will both gasp and pant.

<sup>15</sup> “I will lay waste the mountains and hills
And wither all their vegetation;
I will turn the rivers into coastlands
And dry up the ponds.

<sup>16</sup> “I will lead the blind by a way they do not know;
I will guide them in paths that they do not know.
I will make darkness into light before them
And rugged places into plains.
These things I will do [for them],
And I will not leave them abandoned or undone.”

<sup>17</sup>. Those who trust in carved idols will be turned back, ‡
And utterly put to shame,
Who say to cast images,
“You are our gods.”

<sup>18</sup>. Hear, you deaf!
And look, you blind, that you may see.

<sup>19</sup> Who is blind but My servant [Israel], ‡
Or deaf like My messenger whom I send?
Who is blind like the one who is at peace with Me [in a covenant relationship],
Or so blind as the servant of the LORD?
<sup>20</sup> You have seen many things, but you do not observe them; ‡
Your ears are open, but no one hears.
<sup>21</sup> The LORD was pleased for His righteousness' sake
To make the law great and prove to be glorious.
<sup>22</sup> But this is a people despoiled and plundered;
All of them are trapped in holes,
Or are hidden away in prisons.
They have become a prey with no one to rescue them,
And a spoil, with no one to say, "Give them back!"  [Luke 19:41–44 ]

<sup>23</sup> Who among you will listen to this?
Who will listen and pay attention in the time to come?
<sup>24</sup> Who gave up Jacob [the kingdom of Judah] for spoil, and
[the kingdom of] Israel to the plunderers?
Was it not the LORD, He against whom we [of Judah] have sinned,
And in whose ways they [of Israel] were unwilling to walk,
And whose law and teaching they did not obey?
<sup>25</sup> Therefore He poured out on Israel the heat of His anger ‡
And the fierceness of battle;
And engulfed him in fire,
Yet he did not recognize [the lesson of repentance which the Assyrian conquest was intended to teach];
It burned him, but he did not take it to heart.

Isaiah 43

Israel Redeemed

<sup>1</sup>BUT NOW, this is what the LORD, your Creator says, O
Jacob, ‡
And He who formed you, O Israel,

“Do not fear, for I have redeemed you [from captivity];
I have called you by name; you are Mine!

<sup>2</sup> “When you pass through the waters, I will be with you;‡
And through the rivers, they will not overwhelm you.
When you walk through fire, you will not be scorched,
Nor will the flame burn you.

<sup>3</sup> “For I am the LORD your God,‡
The Holy One of Israel, your Savior;
I have given Egypt [to the Babylonians] as your ransom, Cush (ancient Ethiopia) and Seba [its province] in exchange for you.

<sup>4</sup> “Because you are precious in My sight,
You are honored and I love you,
I will give other men in return for you and other peoples in exchange for your life.

<sup>5</sup> “Do not fear, for I am with you;‡
I will bring your offspring from the east [where they are scattered],

And gather you from the west.  [Acts 18:10 ]

<sup>6</sup> “I will say to the north, ‘Give them up!’
And to the south, ‘Do not hold them back.’
Bring My sons from far way
And My daughters from the ends of the earth,
<sup>7</sup> Everyone who is called by My Name,‡
Whom I have created for My glory, Whom I have formed, even whom I have made.”

Israel Is God’s Witness

<sup>8</sup> Bring out the people who are blind, even though they have eyes,‡

And the deaf, even though they have ears.

<sup>9</sup> All the nations have gathered together‡
So that the peoples may be assembled.
Who among them (the idolaters) can predict this [that Judah would return from captivity]

And proclaim to us the former events?

Let them provide their witnesses so that they may be justified,

Or let them hear and say [in acknowledgement], “It is the truth.”  [Ps 123:3, 4 ]

<sup>10</sup> “You are My witnesses,” declares the LORD, ‡
“And My servant whom I have chosen,
That you may know and believe Me
And understand that I am He.
Before Me there was no God formed,
And there will be none after Me.

<sup>11</sup> “I, [only] I, am the LORD, ‡
And there is no Savior besides Me.

<sup>12</sup> “I have declared [the future] and saved [the nation] and proclaimed [that I am God], ‡
And there was no strange (alien) god among you; Therefore you are My witnesses [among the pagans],” declares the LORD,
“That I am God.

<sup>13</sup> “Even from eternity I am He, ‡
And there is no one who can rescue from My hand;
I act, and who can revoke or reverse it?”

Babylon to Be Destroyed

14 This is what the LORD your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel says,

“For your sake I have sent [one] to Babylon,
And I will bring down all of them as fugitives,
Even the Chaldeans [who reign in Babylon], into the ships over which they rejoiced.

<sup>15</sup> “I am the LORD, your Holy One,
The Creator of Israel, your King.”

<sup>16</sup> This is what the LORD says, ‡

He who makes a way through the sea
And a path through the mighty waters,
<sup>17</sup> He who brings out the chariot and the horse, ‡
The army and the mighty warrior,

(They will lie down together, they will not rise again;
They have been extinguished, they have been put out like a lamp's wick):

<sup>18</sup> “Do not remember the former things,‡

Or ponder the things of the past.

<sup>19</sup> “Listen carefully, I am about to do a new thing,‡

Now it will spring forth;

Will you not be aware of it?

I will even put a road in the wilderness,

Rivers in the desert.

<sup>20</sup> “The beasts of the field will honor Me,‡

Jackals and ostriches,

Because I have given waters in the wilderness

And rivers in the desert,

To give drink to My people, My chosen.  [Is 41:17, 18; 48:21

]

Will make known My praise.

The Shortcomings of Israel

<sup>22</sup> “Yet you have not called on Me [in prayer and worship], O Jacob; ‡

But you have grown weary of Me, O Israel.

<sup>23</sup> “You have not brought Me your sheep or goats for your burnt offerings,‡

Nor honored Me with your sacrifices.

I have not burdened you with offerings,

Nor wearied you with [demands for offerings of] incense.

<sup>24</sup> “You have not bought Me sweet cane with money,‡

Nor have you filled Me with the fat of your sacrifices;

But you have burdened Me with your sins,

You have wearied Me with your wickedness.

<sup>25</sup> “I, only I, am He who wipes out your transgressions for My own sake,‡

And I will not remember your sins.

<sup>26</sup> “Remind Me [of your merits with a thorough report], let us plead and argue our case together;

State your position, that you may be proved right.
<sup>27</sup> “Your first father [Jacob] sinned, And your spokesmen [the priests and the prophets—your mediators] have transgressed against Me.
<sup>28</sup> “So I will profane the officials of the sanctuary, ‡
And I will consign Jacob to destruction and [I will subject]
Israel to defamation and abuse.

Isaiah 44

The Blessings of Israel

<sup>1</sup> “BUT NOW listen, O Jacob, My servant, ‡
And Israel, whom I have chosen:
<sup>2</sup> This is what the LORD who made you ‡
And formed you from the womb, who will help you says, ‘Fear not, O Jacob My servant;
And Jeshurun (Israel, the upright one) whom I have chosen. [
Deut 32:15; 33:5, 26.]

<sup>3</sup> ‘For I will pour out water on him who is thirsty, ‡
And streams on the dry ground;
I will pour out My Spirit on your offspring
And My blessing on your descendants; [Is 32:15; 35:6, 7;
Joel 2:28; John 7:37–39.]

<sup>4</sup> And they will spring up among the grass
Like willows by the streams of water.’
<sup>5</sup> “One will say, ‘I am the LORD’s’;
And another will name himself after Jacob;
And another will write on his hand, ‘I am the LORD’s,’
And be called by the [honorable] name of Israel.

<sup>6</sup> “For the LORD, the King of Israel and his Redeemer, the LORD of hosts says this, ‡

‘I am the First and I am the Last;
And there is no God besides Me. [Rev 1:17; 2:8; 22:13.]
<sup>7</sup> ‘Who is like Me? Let him proclaim it and declare it; ‡

Yes, let him confront Me,
Since I established the people of antiquity.
And let them [those supposed gods] tell those people [who foolishly follow them] the things to come
And the events that are going to take place.

8. ‘Do not tremble nor be afraid [of the violent upheavals to come]; ‡

Have I not long ago proclaimed it to you and declared it?
And you are My witnesses.
Is there a God besides Me?
There is no other Rock;
I know of none.’ ”

The Folly of Idolatry

9—All who make carved idols are nothing. Their precious objects are worthless [to them], and their own witnesses (worshippers) fail to see or know, so that they will be put to shame. ‡

10 Who has made a god or cast an idol which is profitable for nothing? ‡

11 In fact, all his companions will be put to shame, for the craftsmen themselves are mere men. Let them all assemble, let them stand up, let them be terrified, let them together be put to shame. ‡

12 The ironsmith shapes iron and uses a chisel and works it over the coals. He forms the [idol’s] core with hammers and works it with his strong arm. He also becomes hungry and his strength fails; he drinks no water and grows tired. ‡

13 The carpenter stretches out a measuring line, he marks out the shape [of the idol] with red chalk; he works it with planes and outlines it with the compass; and he makes it like the form of a man, like the beauty of man, that it may sit in a house.

14 He cuts cedars for himself, and takes a cypress or an oak and lets it grow strong for himself among the trees of the forest. He plants a fir, and the rain nourishes it.

15 Then it becomes fuel for a man to burn, so he takes one of them and warms himself; he also kindles a fire to bake bread. He also makes a god [from the same wood] and worships it. He makes it into a carved idol [with his own hands] and falls down and worships it!

16 He burns half of the wood in the fire; over this half he [cooks and] eats meat, he roasts meat and is satisfied. Also he warms himself and says, “Aha! I am warm, I have seen the fire.”

<sup>17</sup> But from what is left of the wood he makes a god, his carved idol. He falls down before it, he worships it and prays to it and says, “Save me, for you are my god.”

<sup>18</sup> They do not know, nor do they understand, for God has muddied their eyes so that they cannot see, and their hearts (minds) as well so that they cannot understand. ‡

<sup>19</sup> No one remembers, nor has knowledge and understanding [enough] to say [to himself], “I have burned half of this log in the fire, and also baked bread on its coals and have roasted meat and eaten it. Then I make the rest of it into an repulsive thing [to God]; I bow down [to worship] before a block of wood!” ‡

<sup>20</sup> That kind of man (the idolater) feeds on ashes [and is satisfied with ashes]! A deceived mind has led him astray, so that he cannot save himself, or ask, “Is this thing [that I am holding] in my right hand not a lie?” ‡

God Forgives and Redeems

<sup>21</sup> “Remember [the foolishness of] these things, O Jacob ‡
And Israel, for you are My servant!
I formed you, you are My servant;
O Israel, you will not be forgotten by Me.

<sup>22</sup> “I have wiped out your transgressions like a thick cloud ‡
And your sins like a heavy mist.
Return to Me, for I have redeemed you.”

<sup>23</sup> Shout for joy, O heavens, for the LORD has done it! ‡
Shout in triumph, you depths of the earth;
Break forth into jubilant rejoicing, you mountains,
O forest, and every tree in it!
For the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
And He shows His glory in Israel.

<sup>24</sup> For the LORD, your Redeemer, and He who formed you from the womb says this, ‡

“I am the LORD, Maker of all things,
Who alone stretches out the heavens,

Who spreads out the earth by Myself,
<sup>25</sup>Frustrating the signs and confounding the omens of boasters (false prophets), ‡
Making fools out of fortune-tellers,
Counteracting the wise
And making their knowledge ridiculous,  [1 Cor 1:20 ]
<sup>26</sup>Confirming the word of His servant ‡
And carrying out the plan of His messengers.
It is I who says of Jerusalem, ‘She shall [again] be inhabited!’
And of the cities of Judah, ‘They shall [again] be built.’
And I will raise up and restore her ruins.
<sup>27</sup>“ It is I who says to the deep, ‘Be dried up!’ ‡
And I will make your rivers dry.
<sup>28</sup>“ It is I who says of Cyrus, ‘He is My shepherd (ruler), ‡
And he will carry out all that I desire—’
Saying of Jerusalem, ‘She shall [again] be built,’
And of the temple, ‘Your foundation shall [again] be laid.’ ”

God Uses Cyrus

<sup>1</sup> THIS IS what the LORD says to His anointed, to Cyrus [king of Persia], ‡
Whose right hand I have held
To subdue nations before him,
And I will ungird the loins of kings [disarming them];
To open doors before him so that gates will not be shut:
<sup>2</sup>“I will go before you and level the mountains; ‡
I will shatter the doors of bronze and cut through the bars of iron.
<sup>3</sup>“I will give you the treasures of darkness [the hoarded treasures] ‡
And the hidden riches of secret places,
So that you may know that it is I,
The LORD, the God of Israel, who calls you (Cyrus the Great) by your name.
<sup>4</sup>“For the sake of Jacob My servant, ‡

And of Israel My chosen,
I have also called you by your name;
I have given you an honorable name
Though you have not known Me.

<sup>5</sup> “I am the LORD, and there is no one else; ‡
There is no God except Me.

I will embrace and arm you, though you have not known Me,

<sup>6</sup> That people may know from the rising to the setting of the sun [the world over] ‡

That there is no one except Me.

I am the LORD, and there is no other,

<sup>7</sup> The One forming light and creating darkness, ‡

Causing peace and creating disaster;

I am the LORD who does all these things.

God's Supreme Power

<sup>8</sup> “Rain down, O heavens, from above, ‡

Let the clouds pour down righteousness [all the blessings of God];

Let the earth open up, let salvation bear fruit,

And righteousness spring up with it;

I, the LORD, have created it.

<sup>9</sup> “Woe (judgment is coming) to him who quarrels with his Maker— ‡

A [worthless] piece of broken pottery among other broken pieces [equally worthless]!

Shall the clay say to the potter, ‘What are you doing?’

Or does the thing say, ‘He has no hands’?  [Rom 9:20 ]

<sup>10</sup> “Woe (judgment is coming) to him who says to a father,
‘What are you fathering?’

Or to a woman, ‘With what are you in labor?’ ”

<sup>11</sup> For the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and its Maker says this, ‡

“Ask Me about the things to come concerning My sons,
And give Me orders concerning the work of My hands.

<sup>12</sup> “I made the earth and created man upon it. ‡

My hands, stretched out the heavens,
And I commanded all their host.

<sup>13</sup> “I have stirred up Cyrus and put him into action in righteousness [to accomplish My purpose] ‡

And I will make all his ways smooth;
He will build My city and let My exiles go,
Without any payment or reward,” says the LORD of hosts.

<sup>14</sup> For this is what the LORD says, ‡

“The products of Egypt and the merchandise of Cush (ancient Ethiopia)

And the Sabeans, men of stature,
Will come over to you and they will be yours;
They will walk behind you, in chains [of subjection to you] they will come over,
And they will bow down before you;
They will make supplication to you, [humbly and earnestly]
saying,

‘Most certainly God is with you, and there is no other,
No other God [besides Him].’ ”  [1 Cor 14:25 ]

<sup>15</sup> Truly, You are a God who hides Himself, ‡
O God of Israel, Savior!

<sup>16</sup> They will be put to shame and also humiliated, all of them; ‡
They who make idols will go away together in humiliation.

<sup>17</sup> Israel has been saved by the LORD ‡
With an everlasting salvation;
You will not be put to shame or humiliated for all eternity.  [Heb 5:9 ]

<sup>18</sup> For the LORD, who created the heavens (He is God, who formed the earth and made it; He established it and did not create it to be a wasteland, but formed it to be inhabited) says this, ‡

“I am the LORD, and there is no one else.

<sup>19</sup> “I have not spoken in secret, ‡
In a corner of a land of darkness;

I did not say to the descendants of Jacob,
‘Seek Me in vain [with no benefit for yourselves].’
I, the LORD, speak righteousness [the truth—trustworthy, a straightforward correlation between deeds and words],
Declaring things that are upright.  [John 18:20 ]

20 “Assemble yourselves and come; ‡
Come together, you survivors of the nations!
They are ignorant,
Who carry around their wooden idols [in religious processions or into battle]
And keep on praying to a god that cannot save them.
21 “Declare and present your defense of idols; ‡
Indeed, let them consult together.
Who announced this [rise of Cyrus and his conquests] long before it happened?
Who declared it long ago?
Was it not I, the LORD?
And there is no other God besides Me,
A [consistently and uncompromisingly] just and righteous God and a Savior;
There is none except Me.
22 “Turn to Me and be saved, all the ends of the earth; ‡
For I am God, and there is no other.
23. “I have sworn [an oath] by Myself, ‡
The word is gone out of My mouth in righteousness
And shall not return,
That to Me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear
[allegiance].  [Rom 14:11 ; Phil 2:10 , 11 ; Heb 6:13 ]
24. “It shall be said of Me, ‘Only in the LORD are righteousness and strength.’ ‡
To Him people will come,
And all who were angry at Him will be put to shame.  [1 Cor 1:30 , 31 ]
25 “In the LORD all the offspring of Israel ‡
Will be justified (declared free of guilt) and will glory [in God].”

Isaiah 46

Babylon's Idols and the True God

<sup>1</sup> BEL HAS bowed down, Nebo stoops over; ‡
Their idols are on the beasts [of burden] and on the cattle.
Your burdens [of idols] are loaded [on them],
Burdens on the weary animals .

<sup>2</sup> They stooped over, they have bowed down together; ‡
They could not rescue the burden [of their own idols],
But have themselves gone into captivity.

<sup>3</sup> “Listen to Me,” [says the LORD], “O house of Jacob, ‡
And all the remnant of the house of Israel,
You who have been carried by Me from your birth
And have been carried [in My arms] from the womb,

<sup>4</sup> Even to your old age I am He, ‡
And even to your advanced old age I will carry you!
I have made you, and I will carry you;
Be assured I will carry you and I will save you .

<sup>5</sup> “To whom would you liken Me ‡
And make Me equal and compare Me,
That we may be alike?  [Is 40:18–20 ]

<sup>6</sup> “Those who lavish gold from the bag ‡
And weigh out silver on the scales
Hire a goldsmith, and he makes it into a god;
They bow down, indeed they worship it.

<sup>7</sup> “They lift it on their shoulders [in religious processions or into battle] and carry it; ‡
They set it in its place and there it remains standing.
It cannot move from its place.
Even if one cries to it [for help], the idol cannot answer;
It cannot save him from his distress.

<sup>8</sup> “Remember this, and take courage;
Take it to heart, you rebellious and disloyal people.

<sup>9</sup> “Remember [carefully] the former things [which I did] from ages past; ‡

For I am God, and there is no one else;
I am God, and there is no one like Me,
<sup>10</sup> Declaring the end and the result from the beginning, ‡
And from ancient times the things which have not [yet] been done,
Saying, ‘My purpose will be established,
And I will do all that pleases Me and fulfills My purpose,’ <sup>11</sup> Calling a bird of prey from the east, ‡
From a far country, the man (Cyrus) of My purpose.
Truly I have spoken; truly I will bring it to pass.
I have planned it, be assured I will do it.

<sup>12</sup> “Listen to Me, you stiff-necked people, ‡
You who are far from righteousness (right standing with God).
<sup>13</sup> “I bring near My righteousness [in the salvation of Israel], it is not far away; ‡
And My salvation will not delay.
And I will grant salvation in Zion,
And My glory for Israel.

Isaiah 47

Lament for Babylon

<sup>1</sup> “COME DOWN and sit in the dust, ‡
O virgin daughter of Babylon;
Sit on the ground [in abject humiliation]; there is no throne for
you,
O daughter of the Chaldeans,
For you will no longer be called tender and delicate.
<sup>2</sup> “Take millstones [as a female slave does] and grind meal; ‡
Remove your veil, strip off the skirt, Uncover the leg, cross the rivers [at the command of your captors].
<sup>3</sup> “Your nakedness will be uncovered, ‡
Your shame will also be exposed;

I will take vengeance and will spare no man.”

<sup>4</sup> Our Redeemer [will do all this], the LORD of hosts is His name,‡

The Holy One of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> “Sit in silence, and go into darkness,‡

O daughter of the Chaldeans;

For you will no longer be called

The queen of kingdoms.

<sup>6</sup> “I was angry with My people,‡

I profaned [Judah] My inheritance

And gave them into your hand [Babylon].

You showed them no mercy;

You made your yoke very heavy on the aged.

<sup>7</sup> “And you said, ‘I shall be a queen forevermore.’‡

You did not consider these things,

Nor did you [seriously] remember the [ultimate] outcome of such conduct.

<sup>8</sup> “Now, then, hear this, you who live a luxuriant life,‡

You who dwell safely and securely,

Who say in your heart (mind),

‘I am [the queen], and there is no one besides me.

I shall not sit as a widow,

Nor know the loss of children.’

<sup>9</sup> “But these two things shall come to you abruptly, in one day:

‡

Loss of children and widowhood.

They will come on you in full measure

In spite of your many [claims of power through your] sorceries,

In spite of the great power of your enchantments. [Rev 18:7., 8.]

<sup>10</sup> “For you [Babylon] have trusted and felt confident in your wickedness; you have said,‡

‘No one sees me.’

Your wisdom and your knowledge have led you astray,

And you have said in your heart (mind),

‘I am, and there is no one besides me.’

<sup>11</sup> “Therefore disaster will come on you; ‡
You will not know how to make it disappear [with your magic].
And disaster will fall on you
For which you cannot atone [with all your offerings to your gods];
And destruction about which you do not know
Will come on you suddenly.

<sup>12</sup> “Persist, then, [Babylon] in your enchantments
And your many sorceries
With which you have labored from your youth;
Perhaps you will be able to profit [from them],
Perhaps you may prevail and cause trembling.
<sup>13</sup> “You are wearied by your many counsels. ‡
Just let the astrologers,
The stargazers,
Those who predict by the new moons [each month]
Stand up and save you from the things that will come upon you [Babylon].
<sup>14</sup> “In fact, they are like stubble; ‡
Fire burns them.
They cannot save themselves from the power of the flame [much less save the nation],
There is no blazing coal for warming
Nor fire before which to sit!
<sup>15</sup> “This is how they have become to you, those [astrologers and sorcerers] with whom you have labored, ‡
Those who have done business with you from your youth;
Each has wandered in his own way.
There is no one to save you.

Isaiah 48

Israel’s Obstinacy

<sup>1</sup> “HEAR THIS, O house of Jacob, you who are called by the name of Israel ‡

And who come from the seed of Judah,
You who swear [allegiance] by the name of the LORD
And invoke the God of Israel,
But not in truth (sincerity) nor in righteousness [with moral and spiritual integrity].

holy city ‡

And depend on the God of Israel;
The LORD of hosts is His name.

<sup>3</sup> “I have declared the former things [which happened to Israel] in times past; ‡

They went forth from My mouth and I proclaimed them;
Suddenly I acted, and they came to pass.

<sup>4</sup> “Because I know that you are obstinate, ‡
And your neck is an iron tendon
And your brow is bronze [both unyielding],
<sup>5</sup> I have declared them to you long ago; ‡

Before they came to pass I announced them to you,
So that you could not say, ‘My idol has done them,
And my carved image and my cast image have commanded
them.’

<sup>6</sup> “You have heard [these things foretold]; look at all this [that has been fulfilled].

And you, will you not declare it?

I proclaim to you [specific] new things from this time,
Even hidden things which you have not known.

<sup>7</sup> “They are created now [called into being by the prophetic word] and not long ago;

And before today you have not heard of them,
So that you will not say, ‘Oh yes! I knew them.’

<sup>8</sup> “You have not heard, you have not known; ‡
Even from long ago your ear has not been open.

For I [the LORD] knew that you [Israel] would act very treacherously;

You have been called a transgressor and a rebel from birth.

<sup>9</sup> “For the sake of My Name I refrain from My wrath, ‡
And for My praise I restrain Myself from you,
So that I do not cut you off.

<sup>10</sup> “Indeed, I have refined you, but not as silver; ‡
I have tested and chosen you in the furnace of affliction.
<sup>11</sup> “For My own sake, for My own sake, I will do it [I refrain and do not completely destroy you]; ‡
For how can My Name be defiled and profaned [as it would if My chosen people were completely destroyed]?
And I will not give My glory to another [by permitting the worshipers of idols to triumph over you].

End of Captivity Promised

<sup>12</sup> “Listen to Me, O Jacob, and Israel, whom I called;
I am He, I am the First, I am the Last.  [Is 41:4 ]
<sup>13</sup> “My hand founded and established the earth, ‡
And My right hand spread out the heavens;
When I call to them, they stand together [in obedience to carry out My decrees].
<sup>14</sup> “Assemble, all of you, and listen! ‡ Who among them [the idols and Chaldean astrologers] has declared these things?
The LORD loves him (Cyrus of Persia); he will do His pleasure and purpose against Babylon,
And his arm will be against the Chaldeans [who reign in Babylon].
<sup>15</sup> “I, even I, have spoken; indeed, I have called Cyrus;
I have brought him, and will make his way successful.
<sup>16</sup> “Come near to Me, listen to this: ‡
From the beginning I have not spoken in secret,
From the time that it happened, I was there.
And now the Lord GOD has sent Me, and His [Holy] Spirit.”

<sup>17</sup> This is what the LORD, your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel says, ‡

“I am the LORD your God, who teaches you to profit (benefit),
Who leads you in the way that you should go.
<sup>18</sup> “Oh, that you had paid attention to My commandments! ‡
Then your peace and prosperity would have been like a

[flowing] river,
And your righteousness [the holiness and purity of the nation] like the [abundant] waves of the sea.
<sup>19</sup> “Your offspring would have been like the sand,‡
And your descendants [in number] like the grains of sand;
Their name would never be cut off or destroyed from My presence.”  [Gen 13:16 ; Jer 33:22 ; Luke 19:42 ]

    there]!‡
Declare with a voice of jubilation, proclaim this,
Send it out to the end of the earth;
Say, “The LORD has redeemed His servant Jacob.”
<sup>21</sup> They did not thirst when He led them through the deserts.‡
He made the waters flow out of the rock for them;
He split the rock and the waters flowed.
<sup>22</sup> “There is no peace for the wicked,” says the LORD.‡

Isaiah 49

Salvation Reaches to the End of the Earth

<sup>1</sup>.LISTEN TO Me, O islands and coastlands,‡
And pay attention, you peoples from far away.
The LORD has called Me from the womb;
From the body of My mother He has named Me.
<sup>2</sup>.He has made My mouth like a sharp sword,‡
In the shadow of His hand He has kept Me hidden;
And He has made Me a sharpened arrow,
In His quiver He has hidden Me.
<sup>3</sup> And [the LORD] said to Me, “You are My Servant, Israel,‡
In Whom I will show My glory.”  [Gen 32:28 ; Deut 7:6 ; 26:18
    , 19 ; Eph 1:4–6 ]
<sup>4</sup> Then I said, “I have labored in vain,‡
I have spent My strength for nothing and vanity (pride, uselessness);
However My justice is with the LORD,
And My reward is with My God.”

5. And now says the LORD, who formed Me from the womb to be His Servant,‡

To bring Jacob back to Him and that Israel might be gathered to Him,

—For I am honored in the eyes of the LORD,
And My God is My strength—

6. He says, “It is too trivial a thing that You should be My Servant‡

To raise up the tribes of Jacob and to restore the survivors of Israel;

I will also make You a light to the nations
That My salvation may reach to the end of the earth.”

7 This is what the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, Israel’s Holy One says,‡

To the thoroughly despised One,
To the One hated by the nation
To the Servant of rulers,
“Kings will see and arise,
Princes shall also bow down,
Because of the LORD who is faithful, the Holy One of Israel who has chosen You.”

8 This is what the LORD says,‡

“In a favorable time I have answered You,
And in a day of salvation I have helped You;
And I will keep watch over You and give You for a covenant of the people,
To restore the land [from its present state of ruin] and to apportion and give as inheritances the deserted hereditary lands, [2 Cor 6:2.]

9. Saying to those who are bound and captured, ‘Go forth,’‡
And to those who are in [spiritual] darkness, ‘Show yourselves [come into the light of the Savior].’

They will feed along the roads [on which they travel],
And their pastures will be on all the bare heights.

10 “They will not hunger or thirst,‡

Nor will the scorching heat or sun strike them down;
For He who has compassion on them will lead them,

And He will guide them to springs of water.  [Rev 7:16, 17 ]

<sup>11</sup> “And I will make all My mountains a roadway,‡

And My highways will be raised.

<sup>12</sup> “In fact, these will come from far away;‡

And, lo, these shall come from the north and from the west,

And these from the land of Aswan (southern Egypt).”

And break forth into singing, O mountains!

For the LORD has comforted His people

And will have compassion on His afflicted.

Promise to Zion

14-But Zion (Jerusalem in captivity) said, “The LORD has abandoned me,‡

And my Lord has forgotten me.”

15-[The LORD answered] “Can a woman forget her nursing child‡

And have no compassion on the son of her womb?

Even these may forget, but I will not forget you.

<sup>16</sup> “Indeed, I have inscribed [a picture of] you on the palms of My hands;‡

Your city walls [Zion] are continually before Me.

<sup>17</sup> “Your builders hurry;‡

Your destroyers and devastators

Will go away from you.

‡

All these gather together and they come to you [to rebuild you].

As I live,” declares the LORD,

“You [Zion] will indeed clothe yourself with all of them as jewels and tie them on as a bride.

<sup>19</sup> “For your ruins and desolate places and your land [once the scene] of destruction—‡

Certainly now [in the coming years] will be too cramped for the inhabitants,

And those who once engulfed you will be far away.

20 “The children of your bereavement [those born in captivity] will yet say in your ears, ‡

‘The place is too cramped for me’;
Make room for me that I may live here .

21 “Then [Zion], you will say in your heart,
‘Who has borne me these children,
Since I have been bereaved of my children
And am barren, an exile and a wanderer?
And who has reared these?
Indeed, I was left alone;
From where then did these children come?’ ”

22 This is what the Lord GOD says, ‡

“Listen carefully, I will lift up My hand to the [Gentile]
nations

And set up My banner to the peoples;
And they will bring your sons in the fold of their garments,
And your daughters will be carried on their shoulders.

23 “Kings will be your attendants, ‡
And their princesses your nurses.
They will bow down to you with their faces to the earth
And lick the dust of your feet;
And you shall know [with an understanding based on personal experience] that I am the LORD;
For they shall not be put to shame who wait and hope expectantly for Me.

24 “Can the spoils of war be taken from the mighty man, ‡
Or the captives of a tyrant be rescued?”

25 Indeed, this is what the LORD says,

“Even the captives of the mighty man will be taken away,
And the tyrant’s spoils of war will be rescued;
For I will contend with your opponent,
And I will save your children.

26 “I will make those who oppress you consume their own flesh [in mutually destructive wars] ‡

And they will become drunk with their own blood as with sweet wine;
And all mankind will know [with a knowledge grounded in personal experience] that I, the LORD, am your Savior
And your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.”

Isaiah 50

God Helps His Servant

1. THE LORD declares this; ‡
“Where is the certificate of divorce
By which I have sent your mother away, [O Israel]?
Or to which one of My creditors did I sell you [as slaves]?
In fact, You were sold for your wickedness [your sin, your injustice, your wrongdoing],
And for your transgressions your mother was sent away.
2. “Why, when I came, was there no man [to greet Me]? ‡
When I called, why was there no one to answer?
Is My hand really so short that it cannot redeem [My servants]?
Or have I no power to rescue?
Listen carefully, with My rebuke I dry up the sea,
I make the rivers into a desert;
Their fish stink because there is no water
And die of thirst.
3 “I clothe the heavens with the blackness [of storm clouds] ‡
And make sackcloth [of mourning] their clothing.”

4. The Lord GOD has given Me [His Servant] the tongue of disciples [as One who is taught], ‡
That I may know how to sustain the weary with a word.
He awakens Me morning by morning,
He awakens My ear to listen as a disciple [as One who is taught].
5 The Lord GOD has opened My ear, ‡
And I have not been rebellious

Nor have I turned back.

<sup>6</sup>I turned My back to those who strike Me, ‡
And My cheeks to those who pluck out the beard;
I did not hide My face from insults and spitting.  [Matt 26:67; 27:30; John 19:1 ]

<sup>7</sup>For the Lord GOD helps Me, ‡
Therefore, I have not been ashamed or humiliated.
Therefore, I have made My face like flint,
And I know that I shall not be put to shame.  [Luke 9:51; Is 52:13; 53:10–12 ]

<sup>8</sup>He who declares Me in the right is near; ‡
Who will [dare to] contend with Me?
Let us stand up to each other;
Who is My adversary?

Let him approach Me.  [Rom 8:33–35; 1 Tim 3:16 ]

<sup>9</sup>In fact, the Lord GOD helps Me; ‡
Who is he who condemns Me [as guilty]?
Indeed, they will all wear out like a garment;
The moth will eat them.  [Heb 1:11, 12 ]

<sup>10</sup>Who is among you who fears the LORD, ‡
Who obeys the voice of His Servant,
Yet who walks in darkness and has no light?
Let him trust and be confident in the name of the LORD and let him rely on his God.

<sup>11</sup>Listen carefully, all you who kindle your own fire [devising your own man-made plan of salvation], ‡
Who surround yourselves with torches,
Walk by the light of your [self-made] fire
And among the torches that you have set ablaze.
But this you will have from My hand:
You will lie down in [a place of] torment.  [Is 66:24 ]

Isaiah 51

Israel Exhorted

<sup>1</sup> “LISTEN TO Me, you who pursue righteousness (right standing with God), ‡

Who seek and inquire of the LORD:
Look to the rock from which you were cut
And to the excavation of the quarry from which you were dug.

<sup>2</sup> “Look to Abraham your father ‡
And to Sarah who gave birth to you in pain;
For I called him when he was but one,
Then I blessed him and made him many.”

<sup>3</sup> For the LORD will comfort Zion [in her captivity]; ‡
He will comfort all her ruins.
And He will make her wilderness like Eden,
And her desert like the garden of the LORD;
Joy and gladness will be found in her,
Thanksgiving and the voice of a melody.

<sup>4</sup> “Listen carefully to Me [says the LORD], O My people, ‡
And hear Me, O My nation;
For a [divine] law will go forth from Me,
And I will quickly establish My justice as a light to the peoples.

forth, ‡
And My arms will judge the peoples;
The islands and coastlands will wait for Me,
And they will wait with hope and confident expectation for My arm.

<sup>6</sup> “Lift up your eyes to the heavens, ‡
Then look to the earth beneath;
For the heavens will be torn to pieces and vanish like smoke,
And the earth will wear out like a garment
And its inhabitants will die in like manner.
But My salvation will be forever,
And My righteousness (justice) [and faithfully fulfilled promise] will not be broken.  [Matt 24:35; Heb 1:11;
2 Pet 3:10 ]

<sup>7</sup> “Listen to Me, you who know righteousness (right standing with God), ‡
The people in whose heart is My law and instruction;

Do not fear the reproach and taunting of man,
Nor be distressed at their reviling.

<sup>8</sup> “For the moth will eat them like a garment, ‡
And the worm will eat them like wool.
But My righteousness and justice [faithfully promised] will exist forever,
And My salvation to all generations.”

<sup>9</sup> Awake, awake, put on strength and might, O arm of the

Awake as in the ancient days, as in the generations of long ago.

Was it not You who cut Rahab (Egypt) in pieces,
Who pierced the dragon [of Egypt]?  [Is 30:7 ]

<sup>10</sup> Was it not You who dried up the [Red] Sea, ‡
The waters of the great deep,
Who made the depths of the sea a pathway
For the redeemed to cross over?

<sup>11</sup> So the redeemed of the LORD will return ‡
And come with joyful shouting to Zion;
Everlasting joy will be on their heads.
They will obtain gladness and joy,
And sorrow and sighing will flee away.  [Rev 7:17; 21:1, 4 ]

<sup>12</sup> “I, even I, am He who comforts you. ‡
Who are you that you are afraid of man who dies
And of a son of man who is made [as destructible] as grass, <sup>13</sup> That you have forgotten the LORD your Maker, ‡
Who stretched out the heavens
And laid the foundations of the earth,
That you continually tremble with fear all day long because of the rage of the oppressor,
As he takes aim to destroy?
And where is the rage of the oppressor?

14 The [captive] exile will soon be set free, and will not die in the dungeon, nor will his food be lacking. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “For I am the LORD your God, who stirs up the sea so that its waves roar—the LORD of hosts is His name. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “I have put My words in your mouth and have covered you with the shadow of My hand, to establish the [renewed] heavens and lay the foundations of the [renewed] earth, and to say to Zion (Jerusalem), ‘You are My people.’ ”  [Is 65:17; 66:22; Rev 21:1 ] ‡

You who have drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of His wrath,

You who have drunk the cup of staggering and intoxication to the dregs [leaving only sediment].

<sup>18</sup> There is no one to guide her among all the sons she has borne,

Nor is there anyone to take her by the hand among all the sons she has reared.

<sup>19</sup> These two tragedies have befallen you; ‡

Who will show sympathy for you and mourn with you?

The desolation and destruction [on the land and city], famine and sword [on the inhabitants];

How shall I comfort you?

<sup>20</sup> Your sons have fainted; ‡

They lie helpless at the head of every street,

Like an antelope in a net,

Full [from drinking] of the wrath of the LORD,

The rebuke of your God.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, now hear this, you who are afflicted, ‡

Who are drunk, but not with wine [but overwhelmed by the wrath of God].

<sup>22</sup> So says your Lord, the LORD, who is also your God ‡

Who pleads the cause of His people,

“Listen carefully, I have taken from your hand the cup of staggering and intoxication,

The cup of My wrath;

You shall never drink it again.

<sup>23</sup> “I will put it into the hands of your tormentors, ‡

Who have said to you, ‘Lie down so that we may walk over

you.'

You have even made your back like the ground
And like the street for those who walk over it."

Isaiah 52

Cheer for Downtrodden Zion

<sup>1</sup> AWAKE, AWAKE, ‡
Put on your strength, O Zion;
Put on your beautiful garments,
O Jerusalem, the holy city;
For the uncircumcised and the unclean
Will no longer come into you.  [Rev 21:27 ]
<sup>2</sup> Shake yourself from the dust, arise, ‡
O captive Jerusalem;
Rid yourself of the chains around your neck,
O captive Daughter of Zion.

<sup>3</sup> For the LORD says this, "You were sold for nothing and you will be redeemed, but not with money." ‡

<sup>4</sup> For the Lord GOD says this, "My people went down at the first into Egypt to live there; and [many years later Sennacherib] the Assyrian oppressed them without cause. ‡

<sup>5</sup> "But now, what do I have here," declares the LORD, "seeing that My people have been taken away without reason? Those who rule over them howl [with taunting and mockery of salvation]," declares the LORD, "and My name is continually blasphemed all day long.  [Rom 2:24 ] ‡

<sup>6</sup> "Therefore My people shall know My Name and what it means. Therefore in that day I am the One who is speaking, 'Here I am.' "  [Ex 3:13., 14. ]

<sup>7</sup> How beautiful and delightful on the mountains ‡
Are the feet of him who brings good news,
Who announces peace,
Who brings good news of good [things],
Who announces salvation,
Who says to Zion, "Your God reigns!"  [Acts 10:36.; Rom 10:15; Eph 6:14–16. ]

<sup>8</sup> Listen! Your watchmen lift up their voices, Together they shout for joy;
For they will see face to face
The return of the LORD to Zion.

<sup>9</sup> Break forth, shout joyfully together,
You ruins of Jerusalem;
For the LORD has comforted His people,
He has redeemed Jerusalem.

<sup>10</sup> The LORD has bared His holy arm (His infinite power) ‡
Before the eyes of all the nations [revealing Himself as the One by Whom Israel is redeemed from captivity],
That all the ends of the earth may see
The salvation of our God.  [Luke 2:29–32; 3:6 ]

<sup>11</sup> Depart, depart, go out from there (the lands of exile), ‡
Touch no unclean thing;
Go out of the midst of her (Babylon), purify yourselves,
You who carry the articles of the LORD [on your journey from there].  [2 Cor 6:16, 17 ]

<sup>12</sup> For you will not go out in a hurry [as when you left Egypt],
‡
Nor will you go in flight [fleeing, as you did from the Egyptians];
For the LORD will go before you,
And the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

The Exalted Servant

<sup>13</sup> Indeed, My Servant (the Messiah) will act wisely and prosper; ‡

He will be raised and lifted up and greatly exalted.

<sup>14</sup> Just as many were astonished and appalled at you, My people, ‡

So His appearance was marred more than any man
And His form [marred] more than the sons of men.

<sup>15</sup> So He will sprinkle many nations [with His blood, providing salvation], ‡

Kings will shut their mouths because of Him;

For what they had not been told they will see,
And what they had not heard they will understand.  [Rom 15:21 ]

Isaiah 53

The Suffering Servant

1. WHO HAS believed [confidently trusted in, relied on, and adhered to] our message [of salvation]?  [Is 52:7, 10 ] ‡

And to whom [if not us] has the arm and infinite power of the LORD been revealed?  [John 12:38–41; Rom 10:16 ]
Quotations from and References to Isaiah 53 in the New Testament

2. For He [the Servant of God] grew up before Him like a tender shoot (plant),

And like a root out of dry ground;
He has no stately form or majestic splendor
That we would look at Him,
Nor [handsome] appearance that we would be attracted to Him.

3. He was despised and rejected by men, ‡

A Man of sorrows and pain and acquainted with grief;
And like One from whom men hide their faces
He was despised, and we did not appreciate His worth or esteem Him.

4. But [in fact] He has borne our griefs, ‡

And He has carried our sorrows and pains;
Yet we [ignorantly] assumed that He was stricken,
Struck down by God and degraded and humiliated [by Him].  [Matt 8:17 ]

5 But He was wounded for our transgressions, ‡

He was crushed for our wickedness [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing];

The punishment [required] for our well-being fell on Him,
And by His stripes (wounds) we are healed.

6 All of us like sheep have gone astray,

We have turned, each one, to his own way;

But the LORD has caused the wickedness of us all [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing]

To fall on Him [instead of us].  [1 Pet 2:24 , 25 ]

<sup>7</sup> He was oppressed and He was afflicted, ‡
Yet He did not open His mouth [to complain or defend Himself];

Like a lamb that is led to the slaughter,
And like a sheep that is silent before her shearers,
So He did not open His mouth.

<sup>8</sup> After oppression and judgment He was taken away; ‡
And as for His generation [His contemporaries], who [among them] concerned himself with the fact That He was cut off from the land of the living [by His death]
For the transgression of my people, to whom the stroke [of death] was due?

<sup>9</sup> His grave was assigned with the wicked,‡
But He was with a rich man in His death,
Because He had done no violence,
Nor was there any deceit in His mouth.  [Matt 27:57–60 ; 1 Pet 2:22 , 23 ]

<sup>10</sup> Yet the LORD was willing ‡
To crush Him, causing Him to suffer;
If He would give Himself as a guilt offering [an atonement for sin],
He shall see His [spiritual] offspring,
He shall prolong His days,
And the will (good pleasure) of the LORD shall succeed and prosper in His hand.

<sup>11</sup> As a result of the anguish of His soul, ‡
He shall see it and be satisfied;
By His knowledge [of what He has accomplished] the Righteous One,
My Servant, shall justify the many [making them righteous—upright before God, in right standing with Him],
For He shall bear [the responsibility for] their sins.

<sup>12</sup> Therefore, I will divide and give Him a portion with the great [kings and rulers], ‡

And He shall divide the spoils with the mighty,
Because He [willingly] poured out His life to death,
And was counted among the transgressors;
Yet He Himself bore and took away the sin of many,
And interceded [with the Father] for the transgressors.  [Luke 22:37 ]

Isaiah 54

The Fertility of Zion

<sup>1</sup> “SHOUT FOR joy, O barren one, she who has not given birth; ‡

Break forth into joyful shouting and rejoice, she who has not gone into labor [with child]!

For the [spiritual] sons of the desolate one will be more numerous

Than the sons of the married woman,” says the LORD.  [Gal 4:27 ]

<sup>2</sup> “Enlarge the site of your tent [to make room for more children]; ‡

Stretch out the curtains of your dwellings, do not spare them;
Lengthen your tent ropes

And make your pegs (stakes) firm [in the ground].

<sup>3</sup> “For you will spread out to the right and to the left; ‡

And your descendants will take possession of nations
And will inhabit deserted cities.

<sup>4</sup> “Do not fear, for you will not be put to shame,

And do not feel humiliated or ashamed, for you will not be disgraced.

For you will forget the shame of your youth,

And you will no longer remember the disgrace of your widowhood.

<sup>5</sup> “For your husband is your Maker, ‡

The LORD of hosts is His name;

And your Redeemer is the Holy One of Israel,

Who is called the God of the whole earth.

<sup>6</sup> “For the LORD has called you, ‡
Like a wife who has been abandoned, grieved in spirit,
And like a wife [married] in her youth when she is [later] rejected and scorned,”

Says your God.

<sup>7</sup> “For a brief moment I abandoned you, ‡
But with great compassion and mercy I will gather you [to Myself again].

<sup>8</sup> “In an outburst of wrath ‡
I hid My face from you for a moment,
But with everlasting kindness I will have compassion on
    you,”

Says the LORD your Redeemer.

<sup>9</sup> “For this is like the waters of Noah to Me, ‡
As I swore [an oath] that the waters of Noah
Would not flood the earth again;
In the same way I have sworn that I will not be angry with you

Nor will I rebuke you.

<sup>10</sup> “For the mountains may be removed and the hills may shake, ‡

But My lovingkindness will not be removed from you,
Nor will My covenant of peace be shaken,”
Says the LORD who has compassion on you.

<sup>11</sup> “O you afflicted [city], storm-tossed, and not comforted, ‡
Listen carefully, I will set your [precious] stones in mortar,
And lay your foundations with sapphires.

<sup>12</sup> “And I will make your battlements of rubies,
And your gates of [shining] beryl stones,
And all your [barrier] walls of precious stones.  [Rev 21:19–21 ]

<sup>13</sup> “And all your [spiritual] sons will be disciples [of the LORD], ‡
And great will be the well-being of your sons.  [John 6:45 ]

<sup>14</sup> “You will be firmly established in righteousness:
You will be far from [even the thought of] oppression, for you will not fear,

And from terror, for it will not come near you.
<sup>15</sup> “If anyone fiercely attacks you it will not be from Me.
Whoever attacks you will fall because of you.
<sup>16</sup> “Listen carefully, I have created the smith who blows on the fire of coals
And who produces a weapon for its purpose;
And I have created the destroyer to inflict ruin.
<sup>17</sup> “No weapon that is formed against you will succeed; ‡
And every tongue that rises against you in judgment you will condemn.
This [peace, righteousness, security, and triumph over opposition] is the heritage of the servants of the
LORD,
And this is their vindication from Me,” says the LORD.

Isaiah 55

The Free Offer of Mercy

<sup>1</sup> “EVERYONE WHO thirsts, come to the waters; ‡
And you who have no money come, buy grain and eat.
Come, buy wine and milk
Without money and without cost [simply accept it as a gift from God].  [Rev 21:6, 7; 22:17 ]

<sup>2</sup> “Why do you spend money for that which is not bread,
And your earnings for what does not satisfy?
Listen carefully to Me, and eat what is good,
And let your soul delight in abundance.  [Jer 31:12–14 ]

<sup>3</sup> “Incline your ear [to listen] and come to Me; ‡
Hear, so that your soul may live;
And I will make an everlasting covenant with you,
According to the faithful mercies [promised and] shown to David.  [2 Sam 7:8–16; Acts 13:34; Heb 13:20 ]

<sup>4</sup> “Listen carefully, I have appointed him [David, representing the Messiah] to be a witness to the nations [regarding salvation], ‡
A leader and commander to the peoples.

<sup>5</sup> “In fact, you [Israel] will call a nation that you do not know,‡
And a nation that does not know you will run to you,
Because of the LORD your God, even the Holy One of Israel;
For He has glorified you.”

<sup>6</sup> Seek the LORD while He may be found; ‡
Call on Him [for salvation] while He is near.

<sup>7</sup> Let the wicked leave (behind) his way ‡
And the unrighteous man his thoughts;
And let him return to the LORD,
And He will have compassion (mercy) on him,
And to our God,
For He will abundantly pardon.

<sup>8</sup> “For My thoughts are not your thoughts,‡
Nor are your ways My ways,” declares the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> “For as the heavens are higher than the earth,‡
So are My ways higher than your ways
And My thoughts higher than your thoughts.

<sup>10</sup> “For as the rain and snow come down from heaven,‡
And do not return there without watering the earth,
Making it bear and sprout,
And providing seed to the sower and bread to the eater, [
2 Cor 9:10]

<sup>11</sup> So will My word be which goes out of My mouth;‡
It will not return to Me void (useless, without result),
Without accomplishing what I desire,
And without succeeding in the matter for which I sent it.

<sup>12</sup> “For you will go out [from exile] with joy ‡
And be led forth [by the LORD Himself] with peace;
The mountains and the hills will break forth into shouts of joy before you,

And all the trees of the field will clap their hands.

<sup>13</sup> “Instead of the thorn bush the cypress tree will grow,‡
And instead of the nettle the myrtle tree will grow;
And it will be a memorial to the LORD,
For an everlasting sign [of His mercy] which will not be cut off.”

Isaiah 56

Rewards for Obedience to God

<sup>1</sup> THIS IS what the LORD says, ‡
“Maintain justice and do righteousness,
For My salvation is soon to come,
And My righteousness and justice is soon to be revealed.  [Is 62:1, 11; Matt 3:2; Luke 21:31; Rom 13:11, 12 ]

<sup>2</sup> “Blessed (happy, fortunate) is the man who does this, ‡
And the son of man who takes hold of it,
Who keeps the Sabbath without profaning it,
And keeps his hand from doing any evil.”

<sup>3</sup> Do not let the foreigner who has joined himself to the LORD say, ‡
“The LORD will most certainly separate me from His people.”
And do not let the eunuch say, “Look, I am a dry tree.”

<sup>4</sup> This is what the LORD says,

“To the eunuchs who keep My Sabbaths
And choose what pleases Me,
And hold firmly to My covenant, <sup>5</sup> To them I will give in My house and within My walls a memorial, ‡
And a name better than that of sons and daughters;
I will give them an everlasting name which will not be cut off.

<sup>6</sup> “Also the foreigners who join themselves to the LORD,
To minister to Him, and to love the name of the LORD,
To be His servants, everyone who keeps the Sabbath without profaning it
And holds fast to My covenant [by conscientious obedience];
<sup>7</sup> All these I will bring to My holy mountain ‡
And make them joyful in My house of prayer.
Their burnt offerings and their sacrifices will be accepted on

My altar;
For My house will be called a house of prayer for all the peoples.”
<sup>8</sup> The Lord GOD, who gathers the dispersed of Israel, declares: ‡
“I will gather yet others to them (Israel), to those [already] gathered.”

<sup>9</sup>. All you beasts of the field, ‡
All you beasts (hostile nations) in the forest,
Come to eat.
<sup>10</sup> Israel’s watchmen are blind, ‡
They are all without knowledge.
They are all mute dogs, they cannot bark;
Panting, lying down, they love to slumber.
<sup>11</sup>. And the dogs are greedy; they never have enough. ‡
They are shepherds who have no understanding;
They have all turned to their own way,
Each one to his unlawful gain, without exception.
<sup>12</sup> “Come,” [they say,] “let us get wine, and let us fill ourselves with strong drink; ‡
And tomorrow will be like today, very great indeed.”

Isaiah 57

Evil Leaders Rebuked

<sup>1</sup> THE RIGHTEOUS man perishes [at the hand of evil], and no one takes it to heart; ‡
Faithful and devout men are taken away, while no one understands
That the righteous person is taken away [to be spared] from disaster and evil.
<sup>2</sup> He enters into peace [through death]; ‡
They rest in their beds (graves),
Each one who walked uprightly [following God’s will, living with integrity].
<sup>3</sup> “But come here, you sons of a sorceress [raised in deception and superstition], ‡

Offspring of an adulterer and a prostitute.

<sup>4</sup> “Of whom do you make fun?

Against whom do you open wide your mouth

And stick out your tongue?

Are you not children of rebellion (sin),

Offspring of deceit,

<sup>5</sup> Who inflame yourselves [with lust in pagan rites] among the oaks (terebinth trees), ‡

Under every green and leafy tree,

Who slaughter the children [in sacrifice] in the ravines

Under the clefts of the rocks?

<sup>6</sup> “Among the smooth stones of the ravine

Is your portion, they (the idols) are your lot;

Even to them you have poured out a drink offering,

You have offered a grain offering.

Should I be quiet concerning these things [leaving them unpunished—bearing them with patience]?

<sup>7</sup> “Upon a high and lofty mountain ‡

You have [openly and shamelessly] made your [idolatrous and adulterous] bed;

Even there you went up to offer sacrifice [to idols, in spiritual unfaithfulness to Me].

<sup>8</sup> “Behind the door and the doorpost ‡

You have set up your [pagan] symbol;

Indeed, far removed from Me, you have uncovered yourself,

And have gone up and made your bed wide.

And you have made a [new] agreement for yourself with the adulterers,

You have loved their bed,

You have looked [with passion] on their manhood.  [Deut 6:5, 6, 9; 11:18, 20 ]

<sup>9</sup> “You have gone to the king [of a pagan land] with oil ‡

And increased your perfumes;

You have sent your messengers a great distance

And made them go down to Sheol (the realm of the dead).

<sup>10</sup> “You were wearied by the length of your road, ‡

Yet you did not say, ‘It is no use.’

You found renewed strength,
Therefore you did not grow weak.

11 “About whom were you worried and fearful ‡
That you lied and did not remember Me,
Nor give Me a thought?
Was I not silent even for a long time
And [as a result] you do not fear Me?
12.“I will declare your [hypocritical] righteousness and your deeds,
But they will not benefit you.
13 “When you cry out [for help], let your [ridiculous] collection of idols save you.
But the wind will carry them all away,
A [mere] breath will take them.
But he who takes refuge in Me will possess the land [Judea]
And will inherit My holy mountain.”  [Ps 37:9, 11; 69:35, 36;
Is 49:8; Matt 5:5; Heb 12:22 ]

14.And it will be said, ‡
“Build up, build up, clear the way.
Remove the stumbling block out of the way [of the spiritual return] of My people.”

15 For the high and exalted One ‡
He who inhabits eternity, Whose name is Holy says this,
“I dwell on the high and holy place,
But also with the contrite and humble in spirit
In order to revive the spirit of the humble
And to revive the heart of the contrite [overcome with sorrow for sin].  [Matt 5:3 ]

16.“For I will not contend forever, ‡
Nor will I always be angry;
For [if I did stay angry] the spirit [of man] would grow weak before Me,
And the breath of those whom I have created.
17 “Because of the wickedness of his unjust gain I was angry and struck him; ‡
I hid My face and was angry,

And he went on turning away and backsliding, in the way of his [own willful] heart.

I will lead him [also] and will restore comfort to him and to those who mourn for him,  [Is 61:1 , 2 ; 66:10 ]

<sup>19</sup> As I create the praise of his lips, ‡ Peace, peace, to him who is far away [both Jew and Gentile] and to him who is near!”

Says the LORD;

“And I will heal him [making his lips blossom anew with thankful praise].”  [Acts 2:39 ; Eph 2:13–17 , 18 ; Heb 13:15 ]

<sup>20</sup> But the wicked are like the tossing sea, ‡
For it cannot be quiet,
And its waters toss up mire and mud.

<sup>21</sup> “There is no peace,” says my God, “for the wicked.” ‡

Observances of Fasts

<sup>1</sup> “CRY ALOUD, do not hold back;
Lift up your voice like a trumpet,
And declare to My people their transgression
And to the house of Jacob their sins.

<sup>2</sup> “Yet they seek Me day by day and delight [superficially] to know My ways,
As [if they were in reality] a nation that has done righteousness
And has not abandoned (turned away from) the ordinance of their God.

They ask of Me righteous judgments,
They delight in the nearness of God.

<sup>3</sup> ‘Why have we fasted,’ they say, ‘and You do not see it? ‡
Why have we humbled ourselves and You do not notice?’
Hear this [O Israel], on the day of your fast [when you should be grieving for your sins] you find something you desire [to do],

And you force your hired servants to work [instead of stopping all work, as the law teaches].  [Lev 16:29 ]

<sup>4</sup> “The facts are that you fast only for strife and brawling and to strike with the fist of wickedness. ‡

You do not fast as you do today to make your voice heard on high.

<sup>5</sup> “Is a fast such as this what I have chosen, a day for a man to humble himself [with sorrow in his soul]? ‡

Is it only to bow down his head like a reed

And to make sackcloth and ashes as a bed [pretending to have a repentant heart]?

Do you call this a fast and a day pleasing to the LORD?

<sup>6</sup> “[Rather] is this not the fast which I choose, ‡

To undo the bonds of wickedness,

To tear to pieces the ropes of the yoke,

To let the oppressed go free

And break apart every [enslaving] yoke?  [Acts 8:23 ]

<sup>7</sup> “Is it not to divide your bread with the hungry ‡

And bring the homeless poor into the house;

When you see the naked, that you cover him,

And not to hide yourself from [the needs of] your own flesh and blood?

<sup>8</sup> “Then your light will break out like the dawn, ‡

And your healing (restoration, new life) will quickly spring forth;

Your righteousness will go before you [leading you to peace and prosperity],

The glory of the LORD will be your rear guard.  [Ex 14:19 , 20 ; Is 52:12 ]

<sup>9</sup> “Then you will call, and the LORD will answer; ‡

You will cry for help, and He will say, ‘Here I am.’

If you take away from your midst the yoke [of oppression],

The finger pointed in scorn [toward the oppressed or the godly], and [every form of] wicked (sinful, unjust) speech,  [Ex 3:14 ]

<sup>10</sup> And if you offer yourself to [assist] the hungry

And satisfy the need of the afflicted,

Then your light will rise in darkness

And your gloom will become like midday.

<sup>11</sup> “And the LORD will continually guide you,
And satisfy your soul in scorched and dry places,
And give strength to your bones;
And you will be like a watered garden,
And like a spring of water whose waters do not fail.

<sup>12</sup> “And your people will rebuild the ancient ruins; ‡
You will raise up and restore the age-old foundations [of buildings that have been laid waste];
You will be called Repairer of the Breach,
Restorer of Streets with Dwellings.

Keeping the Sabbath

<sup>13</sup> “If you turn back your foot from [unnecessary travel on] the Sabbath, ‡

From doing your own pleasure on My holy day,
And call the Sabbath a [spiritual] delight, and the holy day of the LORD honorable,
And honor it, not going your own way
Or engaging in your own pleasure
Or speaking your own [idle] words,

<sup>14</sup> Then you will take pleasure in the LORD, ‡
And I will make you ride on the high places of the earth,
And I will feed you with the [promised] heritage of Jacob your father;

For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.”  [Gen 27:28, 29;
28:13–15]

Isaiah 59

Separation from God

<sup>1</sup> BEHOLD, THE LORD’s hand is not so short ‡
That it cannot save,
Nor His ear so impaired
That it cannot hear.

<sup>2</sup>.But your wickedness has separated you from your God,

And your sins have hidden His face from you so that He does not hear.

<sup>3</sup> For your hands are defiled with blood ‡

And your fingers with wickedness [with sin, with injustice, with wrongdoing];

Your lips have spoken lies,

Your tongue mutters wickedness.

<sup>4</sup> No one sues righteously [but for the sake of doing injury to others—to take some undue advantage], and no one pleads [his case] in truth; [but rather] ‡

They trust in empty arguments and speak lies;

They conceive trouble and bring forth injustice.

<sup>5</sup>. They hatch vipers' eggs and weave the spider's webs;

He who eats of their eggs dies,

And from an egg which is crushed a viper breaks out.

<sup>6</sup> Their webs will not serve as clothing, ‡

Nor will they cover themselves with what they make;

Their works are works of wickedness [of sin, of injustice, of wrongdoing],

And the act of violence is in their hands.

<sup>7</sup>. Their feet run to evil, ‡

And they rush to shed innocent blood.

Their thoughts are thoughts of wickedness [of sin, of injustice, of wrongdoing];

Devastation and destruction are in their highways.

<sup>8</sup> They do not know the way of peace, ‡

And there is no justice in their tracks.

They have made them into crooked paths;

Whoever walks on them does not know peace.  [Rom 3:15–18

]

A Confession of Wickedness

<sup>9</sup>. Therefore justice is far from us, ‡

And righteousness does not overtake us.

We [expectantly] hope for light, but only see darkness;

We hope for gleam of light, but we walk in darkness and gloom.

<sup>10</sup> We grope for a wall like the blind, ‡

We grope like those who have no eyes.
We stumble at midday as in the twilight;
Among those who are healthy we are like dead men.

<sup>11</sup> We all groan and growl like bears, ‡
And coo sadly like doves;
We hope for justice, but there is none,
For salvation, but it is far from us.

<sup>12</sup> For our transgressions are multiplied before You [O LORD],
And our sins testify against us;
For our transgressions are with us,
And we know and recognize our wickedness [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing]:

<sup>13</sup> Rebelling against and denying the LORD, ‡
Turning away from [following] our God,
Speaking oppression and revolt,
Conceiving and muttering from the heart lying words.

<sup>14</sup> Justice is pushed back,
And righteous behavior stands far away;
For truth has fallen in the city square,
And integrity cannot enter.

<sup>15</sup> Yes, truth is missing;
And he who turns away from evil makes himself a prey.
Now the LORD saw it,
And it displeased Him that there was no justice.

<sup>16</sup> He saw that there was no man, ‡
And was amazed that there was no one to intercede [on behalf of truth and right];
Therefore His own arm brought salvation to Him,
And His own righteousness sustained Him. [Is 53:11; Col 2:9;
1 John 2:1, 2]

<sup>17</sup> For He [the LORD] put on righteousness like a coat of armor, ‡
And salvation like a helmet on His head;
He put on garments of vengeance for clothing
And covered Himself with zeal [and great love for His people] as a cloak. [Eph 6:14, 17; 1 Thess 5:8]

<sup>18</sup> As their deeds deserve, so He will repay: ‡

Wrath to His adversaries, retribution to His enemies;
To the islands and coastlands He will repay.

<sup>19</sup> So they will fear the name of the LORD from the west ‡
And His glory from the rising of the sun.
For He will come in like a narrow, rushing stream Which the breath of the LORD drives [overwhelming the enemy].  [Matt 8:11; Luke 13:29 ]

<sup>20</sup> “A Redeemer (Messiah) will come to Zion, ‡
And to those in Jacob (Israel) who turn from transgression (sin),” declares the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> “As for Me, this is My covenant with them,” says the LORD: “My Spirit which is upon you [writing the law of God on the heart], and My words which I have put in your mouth shall not depart from your mouth, nor from the mouths of your [true, spiritual] children, nor from the mouth of your children’s children,” says the LORD, “from now and forever.”  [Jer 31:33; Rom 11:26, 27; Gal 3:29; Heb 12:22–24. ] ‡

Isaiah 60

A Glorified Zion

<sup>1</sup> “ARISE [from spiritual depression to a new life], shine [be radiant with the glory and brilliance of the LORD]; for your light has come, ‡

And the glory and brilliance of the LORD has risen upon you.
 [Zech 8:23 ]

<sup>2</sup> “For in fact, darkness will cover the earth
And deep darkness will cover the peoples;
But the LORD will rise upon you [Jerusalem]
And His glory and brilliance will be seen on you.  [Is 60:19–22
; Mal 4:2; Rev 21:2, 3. ]

<sup>3</sup> “Nations will come to your light, ‡
And kings to the brightness of your rising.  [Is 2:2, 3.; Jer 3:17

They all gather together, they come to you.

Your sons will come from far away,
And your daughters will be looked after at their side.

5 “Then you will see and be radiant, ‡
And your heart will tremble [with joy] and rejoice Because the abundant wealth of the seas will be brought to
you,

The wealth of the nations will come to you.  [Ps 119:32 ]

6 “A multitude of camels [from the eastern trading tribes] will cover you [Jerusalem], ‡

The young camels of Midian and Ephah;
All those from Sheba [who once came to trade] will come Bringing gold and frankincense
And proclaiming the praises of the LORD.  [Matt 2:11 ]

7 “All the flocks of Kedar will be gathered to you [as the eastern pastoral tribes join the trading tribes], ‡

The rams of Nebaioth will serve you;
They will go up with acceptance [as sacrifices] on My altar,
And I will glorify the house of My honor and splendor.

8 “Who are these who fly like a cloud
And like doves to their windows?

9.“The islands and coastlands will confidently wait for Me; ‡
And the ships of Tarshish will come first,
To bring your sons from far away,
Their silver and gold with them,
For the name of the LORD your God,
For the Holy One of Israel because He has glorified you.

10 “Foreigners will build up your walls, ‡
And their kings will serve you;
For in My [righteous] wrath I struck you,
But in My favor and grace I have had compassion on you.

11 “Your gates will be open continually; ‡
They shall not be shut day or night,
So that people may bring to you the wealth of the nations—
With their kings led in procession.  [Rev 21:24–27 ]

12.“For the nation or the kingdom which will not serve you [Jerusalem] shall perish, ‡
And the nations [that refuse to serve] shall be utterly ruined.

13 “The glory of Lebanon will come to you, ‡
The cypress, the juniper, and the cedar together,
To beautify the place of My sanctuary;
And I will honor and make the place of My feet glorious.

14 “The sons of those who oppressed you will come bowing down to you [in submission], ‡
And all those who despised you and treated you disrespectfully will bow down at the soles of your feet,
And they will call you the City of the LORD,
The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.  [Rev 3:9 ]

15 “Whereas you [Jerusalem] have been abandoned and hated
With no one passing through,
I will make you an object of pride forever,
A joy from generation to generation.

16 “You will suck the milk of the [Gentile] nations ‡
And suck the breast (abundance) of kings;
Then you will recognize and know that I, the LORD, am your Savior

And your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.

17 “Instead of bronze I will bring gold,
And instead of iron I will bring silver,
And instead of wood, bronze,
And instead of stones, iron.

And [instead of the tyranny of the present] I will appoint peace as your officers,
And righteousness your rulers.

18.“Violence will not be heard again in your land, ‡
Nor devastation or destruction within your borders;
But you will call your walls Salvation, and your gates Praise [to God].

19.“The sun will no longer be your light by day, ‡
Nor shall the bright glow of the moon give light to you,
But the LORD will be an everlasting light for you;
And your God will be your glory and splendor.  [Jer 9:23 , 24 ;
Rev 21:23 ]

20 “Your sun will no longer set, ‡

Nor will your moon wane;
For the LORD will be your everlasting light,
And the days of your mourning will be over.

<sup>21</sup> “Then all your people will be [uncompromisingly and consistently] righteous; ‡
They will possess the land forever,
The branch of My planting,
The work of My hands,
That I may be glorified.

<sup>22</sup> “The smallest one will become a thousand (a clan), ‡
And the least one a mighty nation.
I, the LORD, will quicken it in its [appointed] time.”

Isaiah 61

Exaltation of the Afflicted

<sup>1</sup>. THE SPIRIT of the Lord GOD is upon me, ‡
Because the LORD has anointed and commissioned me
To bring good news to the humble and afflicted;
He has sent me to bind up [the wounds of] the brokenhearted,
To proclaim release [from confinement and condemnation] to the [physical and spiritual] captives
And freedom to prisoners,  [Rom 10:15. ]
<sup>2</sup>. To proclaim the favorable year of the LORD, ‡
And the day of vengeance and retribution of our God,
To comfort all who mourn,  [Matt 11:2–6; Luke 4:18, 19; 7:22 ]
<sup>3</sup> To grant to those who mourn in Zion the following: ‡
To give them a turban instead of dust [on their heads, a sign of mourning],
The oil of joy instead of mourning,
The garment [expressive] of praise instead of a disheartened spirit.
So they will be called the trees of righteousness [strong and magnificent, distinguished for integrity, justice, and right standing with God],
The planting of the LORD, that He may be glorified.

<sup>4</sup> Then they will rebuild the ancient ruins, ‡
They will raise up and restore the former desolations;
And they will renew the ruined cities,
The desolations (deserted settlements) of many generations.

<sup>5</sup> Strangers will stand and feed your flocks, ‡
And foreigners will be your farmers and your vinedressers.

<sup>6</sup> But you shall be called the priests of the LORD; ‡
People will speak of you as the ministers of our God.
You will eat the wealth of nations,
And you will boast of their riches.  [Ex 19:6; 1 Pet 2:5; Rev 1:6; 5:10; 20:6 ]

<sup>7</sup> Instead of your [former] shame you will have a double portion; ‡
And instead of humiliation your people will shout for joy over their portion.
Therefore in their land they will possess double [what they had forfeited];
Everlasting joy will be theirs.

<sup>8</sup> For I, the LORD, love justice; ‡
I hate robbery with a burnt offering.
And I will faithfully reward them,
And make an everlasting covenant with them.

<sup>9</sup> Then their offspring will be known among the nations, ‡
And their descendants among the peoples.
All who see them [in their prosperity] will recognize and acknowledge them
That they are the people whom the LORD has blessed.

10. I will rejoice greatly in the LORD, ‡
My soul will exult in my God;
For He has clothed me with garments of salvation,
He has covered me with a robe of righteousness,
As a bridegroom puts on a turban,
And as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.

<sup>11</sup> For as the earth brings forth its sprouts, ‡
And as a garden causes what is sown in it to spring up,
So the Lord GOD will [most certainly] cause righteousness and justice and praise

To spring up before all the nations [through the power of His word].

Isaiah 62

Zion's Glory and New Name

<sup>1</sup> FOR ZION'S sake I (Isaiah) will not be silent,
And for Jerusalem's sake I will not keep quiet,
Until her righteousness and vindication go forth as brightness,
And her salvation goes forth like a burning torch.

And all kings [will see] your glory;
And you will be called by a new name
Which the mouth of the LORD will designate.  [Rev 2:17 ]

<sup>3</sup> You will also be [considered] a crown of glory and splendor in the hand of the LORD, ‡

And a royal diadem [exceedingly beautiful] in the hand of your God.

<sup>4</sup>—It will no longer be said of you [Judah], “Azubah (Abandoned),” ‡

Nor will it any longer be said of your land, “Shemamah (Desolate);

But you will be called, “Hephzibah (My Delight is in Her),”
And your land, “Married”;

For the LORD delights in you,
And to Him your land will be married [owned and protected by
the LORD].

<sup>5</sup> For as a young man marries a virgin [O Jerusalem], ‡
So your sons will marry you;
And as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride,
So your God will rejoice over you.

<sup>6</sup> On your walls, O Jerusalem, I have appointed and stationed watchmen (prophets),
Who will never keep silent day or night;
You who profess the LORD, take no rest for yourselves,

<sup>7</sup> And give Him no rest [from your prayers] until He establishes Jerusalem ‡

And makes her a praise on the earth.

“I will never again give your grain as food for your enemies, Nor will [the invading] foreigners drink your new wine for which you have labored.”

<sup>9</sup> But they who have harvested it will eat it and praise the LORD, ‡

And they who have gathered it will drink it [at the feasts celebrated] in the courtyards of My sanctuary.

<sup>10</sup> Go through, go through the gates, ‡

Clear the way for the people;

Build up, build up the highway,

Remove the stones, lift up a banner over the peoples.

Say to the Daughter of Zion, “Look now, your salvation is coming [in the LORD];

Indeed, His reward is with Him, and His restitution accompanies Him.”  [Is 40:10 ]

<sup>12</sup> And they will call them “The Holy People, ‡

The Redeemed of the LORD”;

And you will be called “Sought Out, A City Not Deserted.”

Isaiah 63

God’s Vengeance on the Nations

<sup>1</sup> WHO IS this who comes from Edom,

With crimson-stained garments from Bozrah [in Edom],

This One (the Messiah) who is majestic in His apparel,

Marching in the greatness of His might?

“It is I, [the One] who speaks in righteousness [proclaiming vindication], mighty to save.”

<sup>2</sup> Why is Your apparel red, ‡

And Your garments like the one who treads in the wine press?

<sup>3</sup> “I have trodden the wine trough alone,‡

And of the peoples there was no one with Me.

I also trod them in My anger

And trampled them in My wrath;

And their lifeblood is sprinkled on My garments,

And I stained all My clothes.

And My year of redemption [of those who put their trust in Me—the year of My redeemed] has come.

And I was amazed and appalled that there was no one to uphold [truth and right].

So My own arm brought salvation to Me,

And My wrath sustained Me.

<sup>6</sup> “I trampled the peoples in My anger

And made them drunk with [the cup of] My wrath,

And I spilled their lifeblood on the earth.”

God’s Ancient Mercies Recalled

<sup>7</sup> I will tell of the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praiseworthy deeds of the LORD,

According to all that the LORD has done for us,

And His great goodness toward the house of Israel,

Which He has shown them according to His compassion

And according to the abundance of His lovingkindnesses.

<sup>8</sup> For He said, “Be assured, they are My people, Sons who will not be faithless.”

So He became their Savior [in all their distresses].

<sup>9</sup> In all their distress He was distressed,‡

And the angel of His presence saved them,

In His love and in His compassion He redeemed them;

And He lifted them up and carried them all the days of old. [

[Ex 23:20–23 ; 33:14 , 15 ; Deut 1:31 ; 32:10–12 \]](#)

<sup>10</sup> But they rebelled‡

And grieved His Holy Spirit;

Therefore He changed into their enemy,
And He fought against them.

<sup>11</sup>-Then His people remembered the days of old, of Moses
[and they said], ‡

Where is He who brought our fathers up out of the [Red] Sea, with the shepherds of His flock [Moses and Aaron]?

Where is He who put His Holy Spirit in their midst,

right hand of Moses, ‡

Dividing the waters before them to make for Himself an everlasting name,

<sup>13</sup> Who led them through the depths [of the Red Sea], ‡

Like a horse in the wilderness, [so that] they did not stumble?

<sup>14</sup> Like the cattle that go down into the valley [to find better pasture and rest], ‡

The Spirit of the LORD gave them rest.

So You led Your people [O LORD]

To make for Yourself a beautiful and glorious name [preparing the way for the acknowledgment of Your name by all nations].

“You Are Our Father”

<sup>15</sup> Look down from heaven and see from Your lofty dwelling place, holy and glorious. ‡

Where are Your zeal and Your mighty acts [Your miracles which you did for Your people]?

The stirring of Your heart and Your compassion are restrained and withheld from me.

<sup>16</sup> For [most certainly] You are our Father, even though Abraham [our ancestor] does not know us ‡

And Israel does not acknowledge us.

You, O LORD, are [still] our Father,
Our Redeemer from everlasting is Your name.

<sup>17</sup> O LORD, why do You cause us to stray from Your ways ‡
And harden our heart from fearing You [with reverence and awe]?

Return for Your servants’ sake, the tribes of Your heritage.

<sup>18</sup> Your holy people possessed Your sanctuary for [only] a little while; ‡

Our adversaries have trampled it down.

<sup>19</sup> We have become like those over whom You have never ruled,

Like those who were not called by Your name.

Isaiah 64

Prayer for Mercy and Help

<sup>1</sup> OH, THAT You would tear open the heavens and come down, ‡

That the mountains might quake at Your presence—

<sup>2</sup> As [sure as] fire kindles the brushwood, as fire causes water to boil—

To make Your name known to Your adversaries,

That the nations may tremble at Your presence!

<sup>3</sup> When You did awesome and amazing things which we did not expect, ‡

You came down [at Sinai]; the mountains quaked at Your presence.

<sup>4</sup> For from days of old no one has heard, nor has ear perceived, ‡

Nor has the eye seen a God besides You,

Who works and acts in behalf of the one who [gladly] waits for Him.

<sup>5</sup> You meet him who rejoices in doing that which is morally right, ‡

Who remembers You in Your ways.

Indeed, You were angry, for we sinned;

We have long continued in our sins [prolonging Your anger].

And shall we be saved [under such circumstances]?

<sup>6</sup> For we all have become like one who is [ceremonially] unclean [like a leper], ‡

And all our deeds of righteousness are like filthy rags;

We all wither and decay like a leaf,

And our wickedness [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing], like the wind, takes us away [carrying us far from God's favor, toward destruction].  [Lev 13:45, 46 ]

<sup>7</sup> There is no one who calls on Your name,
Who awakens and causes himself to take hold of You;
For You have hidden Your face from us
And have handed us over to the [consuming and destructive] power of our wickedness [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing].  [Rom 1:21–24 ]

<sup>8</sup> Yet, O LORD, You are our Father; ‡
We are the clay, and You our Potter,
And we all are the work of Your hand.

Do not remember our wickedness [our sin, our injustice, our wrongdoing] forever.

Now look, consider, for we are all Your people.

<sup>10</sup> Your holy cities have become a wilderness, ‡
Zion has become a wilderness,
Jerusalem a desolation.

<sup>11</sup> Our holy and beautiful house [the temple built by Solomon], ‡

Where our fathers praised You,
Has been burned by fire;
And all our precious objects are in ruins.

<sup>12</sup> Considering these [tragedies], will You restrain Yourself, O LORD [and not help us]? ‡

Will You keep silent and humiliate and oppress us beyond measure?

Isaiah 65

A Rebellious People

<sup>1</sup> “I LET Myself be sought by those who did not ask for Me; ‡
I let Myself be found by those who did not seek Me.
I said, ‘Here am I, here am I,’
To the nation [Israel] which did not call on My Name.  [Ex 3:14; Is 58:9 ]

<sup>2</sup> “I have spread out My hands all the day long to a rebellious and stubborn people,‡

Who walk in the way that is not good, [following] after their own thoughts and intentions,

<sup>3</sup> The people who continually provoke Me to My face,‡

Sacrificing [to idols] in gardens and making offerings with incense on bricks [instead of at the designated altar];

<sup>4</sup> Who sit among the graves [trying to conjure up evil spirits] and spend the night in the secret places [where spirits are thought to dwell];‡

Who eat swine’s flesh,

And their pots hold the broth of unclean meat;

<sup>5</sup> Who say, ‘Keep to yourself, do not come near me,‡

For I am too holy for you [and you might defile me]!’

These [people] are smoke in My nostrils,

A fire that burns all the day.

<sup>6</sup> “Indeed, it is written before Me,‡

I will not keep silent, but I will repay;

I will even repay it [directly] into their arms,

<sup>7</sup> Both your own wickedness and the wickedness of your fathers,” says the LORD.‡ “Since they too have made offerings with incense on the mountains

And scorned and taunted Me on the hills,

I therefore will measure [punishment for] their former work [directly] into their arms.”

<sup>8</sup> This is what the LORD says,‡

“As the new wine is found in the cluster,

And one says, ‘Do not destroy it, for there is a blessing and benefit in it,’

So I will do for the sake of My servants

In order not to destroy all of them.

<sup>9</sup> “I will bring forth descendants from Jacob,‡

And an heir of My mountains from Judah;

Even My chosen ones shall inherit it,

And My servants will live there.

10 “And [the plain of] Sharon will be a place for flocks to graze,‡

And the Valley of Achor a resting place for herds,
For My people who seek Me [who long for Me and require
My presence in their lives].

11 “But you who abandon (turn away from) the LORD,‡

Who forget and ignore My holy mountain (Zion),
Who set a table for Gad [the Babylonian god of fortune],

And who fill a jug of mixed wine for Meni [the god of fate],

12 I will destine you for the sword, [says the LORD],‡

And all of you will bow down to the slaughter,

Because when I called, you did not answer;

When I spoke, you did not listen or obey.

But you did [what was] evil in My sight

And chose that in which I did not delight.”

13 Therefore, the Lord GOD says this,

“Listen carefully, My servants will eat, but you will be hungry;

Indeed, My servants will drink, but you will be thirsty;

Indeed, My servants will rejoice, but you will be put to shame.

14 “Indeed, My servants will shout for joy from a happy heart,‡

But you will cry out with a heavy heart,

And you shall wail and howl from a broken spirit.

15 “And you will leave your name behind to My chosen ones [who will use it] as a curse,‡

And the Lord GOD will put you to death,

But He will call His servants by another name [a much greater name, just as the name Israel was greater than the name Jacob].  [Gen 32:28 ; Jer 29:22 ]

16 “Because he who blesses himself on the earth‡

Will bless himself by the God of truth and faithfulness;

And he who swears [an oath] on the earth

Will swear by the God of truth and faithfulness;

Because the former troubles are forgotten,

And because they are hidden from My sight.  [2 Cor 1:20 ; Rev

3:14]

New Heavens and a New Earth

17 “Behold, I am creating new heavens and a new earth; ‡
And the former things [of life] will not be remembered or come to mind.  [Is 66:22 ; 2 Pet 3:13 ; Rev 21:1 ] 18 “But be glad and rejoice forever over what I create;

Behold, I am creating Jerusalem to be a source of rejoicing
And her people a joy.

19 “I will also rejoice in Jerusalem and be glad in My people; ‡
And there will no longer be heard in her
The voice of weeping and the sound of crying.

20 “No longer shall there be in it an infant who lives only a few days, ‡

Or an old man who does not finish his days;
For the youth who dies at the age of a hundred,
And the one who does not reach the age of a hundred
Will be thought of as accursed.

21 “They will build houses and live in them;
They will plant vineyards and eat the fruit.

22 “They will not build and another occupy; ‡
They will not plant and another eat [the fruit].
For as the lifetime of a tree, so will be the days of My people,
And My chosen [people] will fully enjoy [and long make use of] the work of their hands.

23 “They will not labor in vain, ‡
Or bear children for disaster;
For they are the descendants of those blessed by the LORD,
And their offspring with them.

24 “It shall also come to pass that before they call, I will answer; and while they are still speaking, I will hear.  [Is 30:19 ; 58:9 ; Matt 6:8 ] ‡

25 “The wolf and the lamb will graze together, and the lion will eat straw like the ox [there will no longer be predator and prey]; and dust will be the serpent’s food. They will do no evil or harm in all My holy mountain (Zion),” says the LORD. ‡

Isaiah 66

Heaven Is God's Throne

<sup>1</sup> THIS IS what the LORD says, ‡

“Heaven is My throne and the earth is My footstool.
Where, then, is a house that you could build for Me?
And where will My resting place be?  [Acts 17:24 ]

<sup>2</sup> “For all these things My hand has made, ‡
So all these things came into being [by and for Me],” declares
the LORD.

“But to this one I will look [graciously],
To him who is humble and contrite in spirit, and who [reverently] trembles at My word and honors My commands.  [John 4:24 ]

Hypocrisy Rebuked

<sup>3</sup> “He who kills an ox [for pagan sacrifice] is [as guilty] as one who kills a man; ‡

He who sacrifices a lamb, as one who breaks a dog’s neck;
He who offers a grain offering, as one who offers swine’s blood;

He who offers incense, as one who blesses an idol.
Such people have chosen their own ways,
And their soul delights in their repulsive acts;

<sup>4</sup> So I will choose their punishments, ‡
And will bring the things they dread upon them
Because I called, but no one answered;
I spoke, but they did not listen or obey.
But they did evil in My sight
And chose that in which I did not delight.”

<sup>5</sup> Hear the word of the LORD, you who tremble [with awe-filled reverence] at His word: ‡

“Your brothers who hate you, who exclude you for My Name’s sake,
Have said, ‘Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy.'

But they will be put to shame.

6 "The sound of an uproar from the city! A voice from the temple!

The voice of the LORD, providing retribution to His enemies.

7 "Before she (Zion) was in labor, she gave birth;
Before her labor pain came, she gave birth to a boy.

8 "Who has heard of such a thing? Who has seen such things?
Can a land be born in one day?
Or can a nation be brought forth in a moment?
As soon as Zion was in labor, she also brought forth her sons.
9 "Shall I bring to the moment of birth and not give delivery?"
says the LORD.

"Or shall I who gives delivery shut the womb?" says your God.

Joy in Jerusalem's Future

10 "Rejoice with Jerusalem and be glad for her, all you who love her;

Rejoice greatly with her, all you who mourn over her,

11 That you may nurse and be satisfied with her comforting breasts,

That you may drink deeply and be delighted with her bountiful bosom."

12 For the LORD says this, "Behold, I extend peace to her (Jerusalem) like a river,‡

And the glory of the nations like an overflowing stream;

And you will be nursed, you will be carried on her hip and [playfully] rocked on her knees.

13 "As one whom his mother comforts, so I will comfort you;
And you will be comforted in Jerusalem."

14 When you see this, your heart will rejoice; ‡

Your bones will flourish like new grass.

And the [powerful] hand of the LORD will be revealed to His servants,

But His indignation will be toward His enemies.

<sup>15</sup> For indeed, the LORD will come in fire ‡
And His chariots will be like the stormy wind,
To render His anger with rage,
And His rebuke with flames of fire.

<sup>16</sup> For the LORD will execute judgment by fire ‡
And by His sword on all mankind,
And those slain by the LORD will be many.

<sup>17</sup> “Those who [vainly attempt to] sanctify and cleanse themselves to go to the gardens [to sacrifice to idols], ‡
Following after one in the center,
Who eat swine’s flesh, detestable things and mice,
Will come to an end together,” says the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> “For I know their works and their thoughts. The time is coming to gather all nations and languages, and they will come and see My glory.

<sup>19</sup> “I will set up a [miraculous] sign among them, and from them I will send survivors to the nations: Tarshish, Pul (Put), Lud, Meshech, Tubal and Javan, to the distant islands and coastlands that have not heard of My fame nor seen
My glory. And they will declare and proclaim My glory among the nations. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “Then they shall bring all your countrymen (children of Israel) from all the nations as a grain offering to the LORD—on horses, in chariots, in litters, on mules and on camels—to My holy mountain Jerusalem,” says the LORD, “just as the sons of Israel bring their grain offering in a clean vessel to the house of the LORD. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “I will also take some of them as priests and Levites,” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “For just as the new heavens and the new earth Which I make will remain and endure before Me,” declares the
LORD,

“So your offspring and your name will remain and endure.

<sup>23</sup> “And it shall be that from New Moon to New Moon ‡
And from Sabbath to Sabbath,
All mankind will come to bow down and worship before Me,”
says the LORD.

<sup>24</sup> “Then they will go forth and look ‡
Upon the dead bodies of the [rebellious] men
Who have transgressed against Me;
For their worm (maggot) will not die,

And their fire will not go out;
And they will be an abhorrence to all mankind.”

Annotations for Isaiah

1:1 Isaiah the son of Amoz. God sent His message through Isaiah to Judah, the people of the Southern Kingdom—specifically to their magistrates, priests, and prophets in Jerusalem. The nation had been divided into two parts: Judah (the Southern Kingdom) and Israel (the Northern Kingdom). While Isaiah's message was primarily for the Southern Kingdom, it was also for the Northern Kingdom. The entire nation was heading down a path of sin and idolatry that would end in destruction. Isaiah lived to see the nation of Assyria take the Northern Kingdom into captivity in 722 BC. The record of Isaiah's visions contains the revelations that God gave during the reigns of Uzziah (792–740 BC), Jotham (752–736 BC), Ahaz (736–720 BC), and Hezekiah (729–699 BC). God never changes, and this revelation is still relevant for His people today.

1:9 LORD of hosts. Isaiah describes God as ruler over all powers in heaven and earth through His command of His angelic armies. a few survivors. Though God punished His sinful people, he always preserved a remnant, or survivor (Ge 22:16–17 ; Ex 34:6–7 ; Mic 7:19–20 ; Ro 9:29 ; 11:15 ). Sodom . . . Gomorrah. These two cities were regarded as the epitome of sinfulness. It was a scathing condemnation to say that Jerusalem had become like those cities.

1:18–20 The Message of the Prophets— These verses contain the essence of the prophet's message to Israel, which is also meant for us today. We need to recognize the reality of our condition. We are a stiffnecked and rebellious people, who would rather do what we want, when we want. Even today, we want the benefits of God's grace without accepting any accountability to God.

Just as in the days of Isaiah, God's people attempt to replace obedience with ceremony. We ignore God's commands to care for the destitute, and we lose sight of God's requirements for justice and righteousness. Each of us stands before God dirty and bloody, saying we are still His people, when we are clearly not ready to fellowship with a holy God. We need to be cleaned up first.

Our God is a redeeming God who knows how to deal with sin. Although there is no rebellion that goes beyond His reach, the remedy has to be His. The first step in obedience is repentance—turning away from the direction we are going in order to see God. Go to Theological Notes Index

1:18 reason together. This term means “to come to a legal decision.” It is not an invitation to negotiate or compromise. The people were to come to an agreement with God concerning the enormous gravity of their sin. God was not declaring His people innocent of wickedness, but He was prepared to pardon their sins if they would repent and turn to Him.

1:20 has spoken. The verb “has spoken” indicates finality (contrast the verb “says” in v. 18 ). God had graciously extended His offer of mercy over a significant period of time, but this was the only offer that He made. They could not “cut another deal” with Him (40:5 ; 55:11 ).

1:27 redeemed. The Hebrew word for “redeemed” means “ransomed” or “freed” from another's ownership through the payment of a price. repentant ones. Zion's penitents, those who turned their backs on idolatry and injustice, found freedom from sin and judgment.

1:29 oaks . . . gardens. The oak, or terebinth, was a sacred tree, and the gardens with sacred groves for fertility rites were part of idol worship, which the people had chosen instead of worshiping only the Living God.

2:2 In the last days. The last days refer to the conditions in Christ's (the Messiah's) future kingdom. At the time of the writing of the Book of Isaiah, no one had a clear idea of what the coming of the Messiah would mean. They believed that, under His rule, earthly kingdoms and authorities would vanish, and everything would at last be the way God originally planned before the fall (Ge 3:1–22 ). But they did not yet have an understanding of Christ dying on the cross for the sins of the whole world, or of the church age. Isaiah was looking forward to what Christians are still looking forward to—what we call the second coming, or return of Christ (Ac 1:11 ; Rev 21–22 ).

2:4 never again will they learn war. The Old Testament term for “peace” meant soundness or completeness. Just as man can never be truly at peace apart from his Creator, so a nation of sinful humanity cannot truly achieve peace apart from God. Men or nations will be rebellious, self-centered, and at odds with each other unless their harmony with God is restored. This can only happen when, person by person, peace is provided by the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ. To look forward to the day when there will be this peace for the whole world is to understand the magnitude of God’s promise in this passage.

2:6 You have abandoned. This was a present condition—but not a permanent condition—for the Israelites. God’s covenant with Israel had always been based on their obedience, and the Israelites (or house of Jacob) were finally going to experience the results of their disobedience (Dt 27–30 ). filled with influences from the east . . . soothsayers. Copying other religions and participating in the occult practices of peoples of Canaan were strictly forbidden (Dt 18:9–14 ). Whoever did these things was detestable to the Lord.

2:7 filled with silver and gold . . . filled with horses. The king was not to multiply horses, wives, or gold and silver for himself, for this would cause his heart to turn away from the Lord (Dt 17:14–17 ).

2:8 filled with idols. Idolatry was forbidden in the Ten Commandments (Ex 20:4 ; Dt 13 ), and it was a flagrant rebellion against the Lord who had rescued them from the land of Egypt and redeemed them from slavery. It was a seduction to unfaithfulness and was to be punished with death.

2:19 the caves of the rocks . . . From the terror and dread of the LORD . Men will want to hide from the Lord whom they have not been willing to obey (Rev 6:15–17 ).

3:4 boys . . . children. The rulers would be incompetent and inexperienced.

3:8 against the LORD . Prior to entering Canaan, Moses had the blessings and the curses of the law of God recited to the people, warning of the serious consequences of unbelief. Unfaithfulness would result in captivity, worldwide dispersion, and aimless wandering among the Gentile nations (Dt 28 ). Joshua gave the same warning after bringing them into the land (Jos 24 ). Both warnings went unheeded. From a historical perspective, it is easy to be appalled at the people’s heedlessness. They ignored specific and direct commands, apparently knowing well that they were courting disaster. But, if we as believers examine ourselves carefully, we might be appalled at our own unfaithfulness in certain areas. God’s directives are always there for a reason, and unfaithfulness, even in little things, causes a rift in our relationship with God.

3:16 daughters of Zion. The plural “daughters” suggests the women of the city as well as a personification of Jerusalem. The list of finery (vv. 18–23 ), whether applied figuratively to the city of Jerusalem or to specific women, indicated a preoccupation with frivolity and wealth.

4:1 take away our shame. It was considered a sign of inadequacy to have no children.

4:2 In that day. Isaiah is speaking of the future revelation of the glory of the Lord on earth (2:2–4 ). the Branch of the LORD . Jesus Christ is the fruitful Branch (Jer 23:5 ; Zec 3:8 ). The reign of Jesus, the King of Creation, will be marked by plenty. The earth will be released from its curse, producing all that God intended it to produce in the beginning.

5:4 What more could have been done for My vineyard. This is a rhetorical question. There was nothing more that God could or should have done to bring forth good fruit from His vineyard. The failure was on the part of the people, not God (Jn 15:1 ).

5:6 briars and thorns. Briars and thorns symbolize the anarchy that will take over the land after the exile (3:4–5 ). not to rain. As God promised in His covenant on Mount Sinai, sufficient rainfall would come to the people who were faithful to His commands, but the rain would be withheld if the people were rebellious (Dt 28:12 ,23–24 ).

5:14 Sheol. This word is used for the grave or the place where the body goes after death. Its meaning is not precise, but this word is sometimes translated “hell” where the context considers the “grave” in a negative sense.

5:18 falsehood. A falsehood is a lie. Those who “drag along wickedness with cords of falsehood” are those who are dragging sin behind them with ropes of lies. Essentially, these lies are the various ways people have of justifying sin. They are not ashamed of their sin, but are quite openly attached to it, carrying it wherever they go. Of course, the big lie is the lie that sin does not matter, that judgment will not come. The truth is that the fruits of sin always catch up with us, and, unless we make peace with God through Christ, the judgment for sin will follow.

6:1 King Uzziah died. King Uzziah died in 740 BC, signaling the end of an age. He is described as a good king (2Ch 26:1–15), but in his pride he was unfaithful to God (2Ch 26:16–23), and he died a leper. He was succeeded by his son Jotham, who did right, and then by wicked Ahaz (7:1). The relative prosperity of the first half of the eighth century was replaced by the Syro-Ephraimite wars and the Assyrian campaigns into Israel.

6:3 Holy, Holy, Holy. To say the word “holy” twice in Hebrew is to describe someone as “most holy.” To say the word three times intensifies the idea to the highest level. The whole earth is filled with His glory. We know that the glory of God transcends the universe, yet this phrase emphasizes God’s closeness to His creation—His involvement with the earth and its people.

We know that our greatest failing is not only realizing who God is but what His character is like. This is particularly true in the case of God’s holiness. To be holy means “to be set apart.” God is set apart from the power, practice, and presence of sin, and is set apart to absolute righteousness and goodness. There is no sin in God and God can have nothing to do with sin. If we are to approach God, we must do so on God’s terms. We must be made holy by God’s action in Christ.

Most of our lives are so caught up in the mundane that we don’t understand and experience God’s holiness as we should. There is little appreciation or understanding of the sacred “otherness” of God. We have too often reduced Him to only friend and advisor. We do so at our own peril; for it is that sacred “otherness” that brings us to our knees. That is where the relationship needs to begin. Isaiah received God’s call in that position. He recognized God’s holiness and his own uncleanness and the need for God to purify him before he would be fit to serve as a prophet.

The experience of coming to understand God’s holiness is simultaneously humbling, challenging, and exhilarating. We touch the fullness of our potential as we are touched and purified by God in Christ’s sacrifice for us.

6:6 burning coal . . . from the altar. Brought face to face with the holiness of the Lord, Isaiah was stunned by his own uncleanness. Without taking any action on his own, Isaiah was offered forgiveness and cleansing. This was a unique event, especially for Isaiah, but not the last time that the Lord reached out to man to offer forgiveness and cleansing. Salvation through Christ is a gift, not received through works (Eph 2:8–9).

6:10 heart . . . insensitive. Isaiah’s call was to a very discouraging ministry. They were “padded” with self-satisfaction so they could not feel the prick of the Lord’s words. The more Isaiah proclaimed the Word of God, the less response he received from the people. In truth, the call of God was for faithfulness to God, to His word, and to the call itself.

6:13 tenth. A “tenth” is one of Isaiah’s expressions for the “remnant.”

7:1 it came to pass. The next five chapters contain a series of prophecies related specifically to the Syro-Ephraimite wars—the invasion of Judah by Rezin and Pekah (2Ki 16). These prophecies aimed to call Judah back to faith in God.

7:2 house of David. The king was descended from David and was referred to as “from the house of David.” Ephraim. The word Ephraim represents the Northern Kingdom of Israel.

7:3 Shear-jashub. The name of Isaiah’s son meant “a remnant will return.” This name referred to a coming exile and the salvation of the remaining faithful, although all of those events occurred long after Isaiah's lifetime.

7:4 son of Remaliah. The son of Remaliah is Pekah, king of Israel.

7:6 son of Tabeel. Tabeel means "good for nothing." Syria and Israel wanted to place an incompetent puppet king over Judah.

7:12 not ask, nor will I test. In the mouth of the wicked Ahaz, these words rang hollow. Ahaz was continually testing the Lord's patience by his disobedience.

7:14 Immanuel. The Christian church traditionally has seen this verse as a prophecy of the Christ child, in whose incarnation God became present in physical form with mankind. The name "Immanuel" means "God with us." Christ, as a descendant of the house of David, fulfills the requirements of the sign and reinforces Isaiah's message that the nation's destiny does not rest with a foreign people, but with the God of Sinai.

7:15 curds and honey. Curds, or "butter," and honey contrast with "bread and wine" from cultivated lands and symbolically represent the Judean's simple diet after the Assyrian invasion. Thus, the Child, similar to Isaiah's son Shear-jashub (v. 3), would be identified with the remnant.

7:16 For before. Similar prophecies were spoken of the child's birth and Isaiah's other son, Maher-shalal-hash-baz (8:3). Israel and Syria would be destroyed before the child and Isaiah's son would reach maturity (see 8:4, where Syria is referred to as Damascus and Israel as Samaria). It is not uncommon for biblical prophecies to have one level of fulfillment in the immediate future and a final fulfillment many years later in the person and work of the Savior, Jesus. Thus, the birth of Isaiah's son could have been a sign to King Ahaz. However, this would have been an early fulfillment, not the ultimate fulfillment. It was the coming of Jesus, God's only Son, which was the complete fulfillment.

7:20 shave with a razor. This was a symbol of humiliation.

8:2 Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah. This was not the Zechariah who wrote the Book of Zechariah.

8:3 the prophetess. Isaiah's wife was a prophetess in her own right. It is possible that this was a new wife, following the death of the mother of Shear-jashub (7:3). Maher-shalal-hash-baz. The child's name means "Speed the Spoil, Hasten the Booty."

8:4 spoil of Samaria . . . king of Assyria. This was a specific prediction of the fall of Samaria to the Assyrians in 722 BC. This prophecy must have been written shortly before that time, as the fulfillment would come before the new child would be able to speak.

8:8 O Immanuel. Isaiah bestowed on Judah the name of the promised Child, Immanuel, which means "God with us" (7:14), because it would be preserved only because God was with that nation.

8:14 a stone on which to stumble and a rock on which to trip. God is a stone of stumbling for unbelievers (Ps 118:22 ; Lk 20:17–18 ; Ro 9:33 ; 1Pe 2:6–8).

8:16 testimony . . . law. The testimony refers to a legal transaction. The law refers to God's instruction revealed through Isaiah. Isaiah's disciples put his prophecies in the form of a legal transaction, probably to prove their authenticity when they were fulfilled (see vv. 1–2; compare Jer 28:9 ; 32:12–14).

8:18 children. Isaiah's name means "Jehovah has saved," and his two sons' names speak of the impending judgment of God (7:3 ; 8:3). They were symbols of God's intentions for the nation.

8:19 Consult the mediums [who try to talk to the dead] and the soothsayers. This indicates that the people were involved in necromancy, the practice of conjuring up the spirits of the dead in order to influence events. This practice, as well as the use of any mediums or spiritists, was strictly forbidden (Dt 18:9–14).

9:1 with contempt. The ancient tribal allotments of Zebulun and Naphtali (Jos 19:10–16 ,32–39), which included Galilee, were the first to feel the brunt of the Assyrian invasions (2Ki 15:29). the way of the sea, on the other side of Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles. These three phrases indicate administrative districts of the Assyrian conqueror Tiglath-Pileser III as a result of the three campaigns he waged in the west around 733 BC. The city of Capernaum is “by the way of the sea” (Galilee) in the region of Zebulun and Naphtali. This is where Jesus began his ministry, in fulfillment of the prophecy of Isaiah 9:1–2 (Mt 4:15–16 ).

9:2 Will see a great Light. The light stands for God’s blessings, presence, and revelation, fulfilled in Jesus who came in the flesh (Mt 4:15–16 ). The coming of Jesus revealed the mercy and grace of God in the same way that the rising sun reveals the nature of the land it shines upon. All history is labeled from that definitive moment: before the Light, or after the Light (Jn 1:9 ).

9:6–7 a Child. In this triumphant song Isaiah rejoices as though the promised Child of the house of David has already been born. The Child’s birthright involves authority and rule, while His character is depicted with descriptive names. As “Wonderful Counselor,” He represents the sum of wisdom and knowledge, and His divinity is established clearly by the title “Mighty God.” The Fatherhood of the Messiah is eternal, which again demonstrates His identity with God (Jo 10:30 ). Finally, as the “Prince of Peace” He brings peace into the world by His atoning death on the cross, paying the price of human sin and reconciling us to God. The line of David will be the human line for the source of these blessings (2Sa 7:8–16 ; Lk 1:32–33 ), and the divine nature of the Messiah will guarantee their permanence.

9:7 The Son of God— In Luke 24:25–27 Jesus goes to great lengths to help two of his disciples understand what the Jewish Scriptures (the Old Testament) said about Him. Throughout the Old Testament there are numerous passages that point towards Jesus Christ in several ways. This prophecy in Isaiah is one of the most important of these passages. Here He is spoken of as a son before He became a man (See also Gal 4:4 ). Micah prophesies His birth, but also states that His “goings forth (appearances) are from long ago, from ancient days” (Mic 5:2 ). John says that He existed “in the beginning” before anything was created (Jn 1:1–3 ).

Even before He was born of Mary, He appeared to men in the Old Testament as the “angel of the Lord.” It is clear that this angel is no ordinary angel because He is identified as God (Ex 3:2 ). He pardons sin (Ex 23:20–21 ), and He is worshiped (Jos 5:13–15 ). While these passages do not say that this member of the Godhead was the preincarnate Christ, we may conclude that they are the same person since their work is the same.

While Christ occasionally appeared to men in the Old Testament, He took on a physical, human body when He was conceived in Mary’s womb. This incomparable event of God’s becoming man in Jesus Christ is called the incarnation. This miracle was prophesied hundreds of years previously (7:14 ) and was fulfilled historically when Christ was born (Lk 2:7 ). Thus Christ, the sinless God-man, was qualified to become our Redeemer (2Co 5:21 ).

As a man, Christ experienced the normal physical, mental, social, and spiritual growth as others did (Lk 2:52 ). He suffered pain, hunger, thirst, fatigue, temptation, pleasure, rest, and even lack of knowledge (Mk 13:32 ). Because of His complete humanity He can be sympathetic and compassionate toward us (Heb 4:15 ).

While Christ was fully man He was also fully God, as these facts indicate: He is called God (Jn 1:1 ; Heb 1:8 ); He did works that only God could do, such as forgive sins (Mk 2:7 ) and create (Col 1:16 ); He had attributes that only God could have, such as truth (Jn 14:6 ) and omniscience (Jn 2:24–25 ); and He claimed equality with God (Jn 10:30 ).

The question may be raised as to whether Christ lost anything of deity when He became a man (Php 2:6–8 ). While there is an inscrutable mystery involved in this unparalleled act of condescension, one can be certain that He lost none of God’s attributes, because He was still God (Jn 20:28 ). He is fully God and fully man united in one person forever. Even now, at the right hand of God, He is the God-man (1Ti 2:5 ). The great condescension of the Son of God in becoming a man, serves eternally as a perfect model of humility and self-giving love (Php 2:8 ). Go to Theological Notes Index

9:8 word (message) against Jacob. The message was a judgment against the Northern Kingdom. The Lord would destroy it and its capital, Samaria.

10:1 Woe. Woe is a chilling word when spoken by God (5:8–23 ; 10:5 ). The leaders who make laws that affect a community for good or evil bear a fearful responsibility before God, whether they acknowledge it or not.

10:3 from far away. The Assyrians were the devastation that came from afar.

10:5 Woe to Assyria. Though God uses sinners as instruments of His will (7:17 ; 13:5 ), they will still be held accountable for their own wickedness. In this, God shows that He is just in all His ways (Hab 1:3 ).

10:6 a godless nation. The godless nation is Judah (vv. 11–12 ).

10:9 Calno . . . Damascus. This is a list of cities that had already fallen to Assyria.

10:10 idols . . . images. The Assyrians had conquered the nations who had false gods. Surely, they believed, they would also have an easy time against “Jerusalem and her images.” Only the Living God was to be worshiped by the Israelites, but they had repeatedly broken that command (Ex 20:4–6 ; Jdg 2:19 ).

10:15 Is the axe able to lift itself. The axe was the Assyrian army. They were an instrument in the hands of God.

10:16 stout warriors. The stout warriors who come under judgment are the Assyrians.

10:20 remnant. The Hebrew word used here for “remnant” is different than the word used in 1:9 . The difference may be considered slight; it is the difference between those who were left, or remained (10:20 ,22 ), and those who survived (1:9 ).

10:22 as the sand of the sea, Only a remnant. Most of the people of the Northern Kingdom were carried off into captivity. But some Israelites made their way to Judah and became part of the Southern Kingdom. These people and their descendants would act as a remnant by preserving the names of the northern tribes among the people of God.

10:28–32 Aiath . . . Jerusalem. These verses depict Isaiah’s vision of the king of Assyria’s relentless march south over difficult terrain from Aiath (or Ai), which was ten miles north of Jerusalem on a point overlooking the city. The cities as listed in these verses are closer and closer to the capital at Jerusalem.

10:32 He. “He” refers to Assyria, the enemy.

10:33–34 boughs . . . thickets. The boughs and the thickets are the Assyrian leaders and the Assyrian army. The point is that God will bring judgment on the instruments He used to judge Israel.

11:1 a Shoot (the Messiah) will spring from the stock of Jesse. Jesse was King David’s father (1Sa 16:10–13 ). As David inaugurated a kingdom of righteousness and peace, the new David—the “rod” or “root” (53:2 ) from David’s line—will establish an incomparably greater kingdom. The words “rod” and “root” are messianic terms. They are figurative words for the great descendant of the household of David, the Seed of the woman promised in Genesis 3:15 , Jesus Christ Himself (Mt 1:17 ).

11:2 Spirit. As in the case of David (1Sa 16:13 ), the Messiah would be empowered by the Holy Spirit (4:4 ; 42:1 ; 48:16 ; 59:21 ; 61:1 ; Lk 3:22 ), who was the Agent for establishing God’s kingdom (Ge 1:1–2 ; Jdg 3:10 ; 6:34 ; 1Sa 10:6 ). wisdom and understanding. The Messiah will be the ideal king. He will embody the administrative skill to govern with righteousness and justice far more than even Solomon (1Ki 3:9 ), who asked for those gifts when he became king. counsel. The Holy Spirit’s “counsel” is not advice, but authoritative plans and decisions. fear of the LORD . The Messiah would demonstrate in all His life the correct response to God; He would honor and obey Him (Ex 20:20 ).

11:4 judge. In this context, judge does not mean to bring people to account, but to act on their behalf. As the Judge of His people, God sentences the wicked and offers protection and defense for the innocent and oppressed. rod of His mouth . . . breath of His lips. This concept is repeated in Revelation 19:15 , when the Lord Jesus returns with power and great glory.

11:6–9 wolf will dwell with the lamb . . . will not hurt or destroy. This picture of cruel beasts regenerated with a new nature that makes them protect their natural prey portrays a reign of peace and security. This can only be realized in the return of the Messiah to establish the kingdom of God (65:17–25 ; Rev 21:1–8 ).

11:10 the peoples. The revelation of the Messiah is for people of all nations.

11:11 a second time. The “second time” may refer to the remnant coming back to the land in 538 BC, in contrast to the first exodus from Egypt. Beyond that, it could also refer to the remnant’s coming to Christ in the present age (Ro 11:5 ) or to its future return to Christ (Ro 11:11–27 ; Rev 7:4–8 ).

12:1 on that day. The day refers to the day that the Lord rescues His people, whether it was the return of the remnant or the future return of Christ as portrayed in the Book of Revelation.

12:2 my strength and song. This psalm of redemption is based on the first psalm of redemption in Exodus (Ex 15:2 ; Ps 118:14 ).

12:3 springs of salvation. In an arid land, the provision of wells and springs was regarded as a divine gift. Hebrew poets often associate water with salvation (Ex 17:1–7 ).

13:1 oracle . . . which Isaiah . . . saw. The Book of Isaiah takes a major turn at chapter 13 , which continues through chapter 27 . The focus in this extended section is first on the Lord’s judgments against the nations, through chapter 23 , followed by an end-time prophecy in chapters 24–27 . Babylon. Babylon was the crown jewel of the Assyrian Empire. This burden may refer to its destruction around 689 BC when Sennacherib quelled a rebellion there. Yet the Lord’s overthrow of Babylon, the “glory of kingdoms” (v. 19 ), symbolizes His triumph over the world (v. 11 ). Babylon is the epitome of religion and culture in the ancient Middle East. Thus the burden is indirectly against all nations, especially Assyria (14:24–27 ). Peter uses the term Babylon symbolically in the New Testament (1Pe 5:13 ), as does John (Rev 14:8 ; 18:2 ,10–21 ).

13:6 the day of the Lord. This designated “day” refers to a time of unusual activity of God in the lives of people, for judgment or for mercy. is at hand. The basic idea of this term is not that of approaching a fixed date, but that the day of the Lord is about to burst into one’s world. The day of the Lord is imminent—able to happen at any time—not because people have almost reached it as a destination, but because it may burst in upon people without further warning.

13:21–22 owls . . . jackals. With the exception of the goat, all of the animals mentioned in these verses are unclean. This image created a clear message to the people of Israel of a place that was desolate and unfit to inhabit.

14:4 Babylon. Babylon is often used in Scripture for Satan’s kingdom. This passage can be read with a double point of view. One, as if it were talking about an unnamed political king; and two, as a reference to and description of Satan’s career. Both views are sobering and worth taking note of.

14:8 the cypress trees rejoice. The trees will no longer be cut down to construct machines of war.

14:9 Sheol below is excited. The commotion in the “grave” when the king of Babylon (or Satan; see Rev 20:1–3 ) arrives contrasts sharply with the rest on earth when he is gone (v. Z ).

14:12 fallen from heaven. This is a figure of speech meaning cast down from an exalted political position. Jesus said, “And you, Capernaum, will not be exalted to heaven, will you? You will descend to Hades (the realm of the dead)” (Lk 10:15 ); and, apparently with the same meaning, “I watched Satan fall from heaven like [a flash of] lightning” (Lk 10:18 ). The “son of the morning,” called Lucifer or Day Star in Hebrew, is the planet Venus. The poetic language of this verse describes the aspiration of this brightest star to climb to the zenith of the heavens and its extinction before the rising sun. This is an apt summary of the failed goal of Satan (or the king of Babylon, v. 4 ), who wanted to grasp universal and eternal domination (Eze 28:14–16 ; Rev 12:12–13 ; 20:2 ).

14:14 I will make myself like the Most High. This is the most outrageous of the arrogant desires of Satan (or of this unnamed king). He wanted to surpass the Most High, a term for the Lord that is often used in connection with the nations of the world (Ps 87:5 ; 91:1 ; 92:1 ). This statement strongly speaks of Satan (v. 12 ), who purposes to work against God in every possible way. Satan's sin is centered in pride, the desire to be in submission to no one, not even God (1Ti 3:6 ). Ezekiel saw Satan's work in the king of Tyre (Eze 28 ), and Isaiah sees the parallel between the character and goals of Satan and this unnamed Babylonian king.

14:28 Ahaz. King Ahaz died in 720 BC.

14:29 rod. The rod is probably a metaphor for the Assyrian king (10:5 ).

14:31 gate. The gate of a walled city was its weakest point. When the gate fell, the city could be taken. out of the north. The Assyrian army would come from the north.

15:1 Moab. For the origin of the people of Moab, see the story of Lot and his daughters in Genesis 19:30–38 (also Nu 22–25 ; Dt 1:5 ).

15:2 high places. High places were sites of pagan worship (16:12 ).

15:5 heart cries out. Isaiah does not rejoice in the downfall of Moab. He knew that the judgment from God was righteous, and he remembered that Moab had been a treacherous enemy to his nation, yet his heart cried out in pity. It is the mark of God's people that they do not rejoice in the downfall of the wicked, even though they may be glad to be free from oppression.

15:9 Dimon. The term Dimon sounds like “blood” in Hebrew. lion. Fleeing from one tragedy after another in their flight southward, the refugees turned to Judah in the west for asylum (16:1–5 ). A remnant would survive in Moab, as would be the case with Israel (1:9 ; 6:13 ; 10:20 ; 11:16 )—but not with Assyria (14:22 ) and Philistia (14:30 ).

16:5 A throne will be established. Moab's salvation ultimately lies in the coming one, Jesus the Messiah, whose throne will be established (9:1–7 ; 11:1–5 ; Am 9:11–12 ; Ac 15:16–17 ).

16:6 pride. In the end, it was the pride and the haughtiness and the wrath of Moab that brought the nation into judgment. The pride of Moab is not the honest pride in a difficult task well done, but the pride of a haughty, disdainful people who considered themselves above remonstrance. The third element of Moab's downfall, wrath, is closely linked with pride. A people who consider themselves the center of interest and importance lose their natural inhibition. They feel free to indulge in wrath because they are convinced that whatever they do is right.

16:8 vine. The vine refers to Moab.

16:9 Heshbon and Elealeh. These cities were among the principal settlements in ancient Moab (15:4 ).

16:12 high place . . . sanctuary. As long as people worship false gods, they will be doomed to pain, judgment, and recurring trouble (15:2–4 ). Even when the people weary of the false gods and try to pray to the one true God, they will not be able to communicate with Him because they have not repented and renounced the false gods.

16:14 Within three years. A former prophecy against Moab (15:2 ) would be realized within three years, perhaps referring to the quelling of a rebellion against Sargon in 715 BC. However, a remnant would remain (15:9 ). Moab had far more hope for salvation than did either Babylon or Philistia.

17:3 fortified city. This city may be Samaria, the capital city. Ephraim. Ephraim designates northern Israel.

17:5 Rephaim. The word “Rephaim” is the Hebrew word for “shades” or “ghosts.” The “Valley of Rephaim” is the valley of Death.

17:10 forgotten. Forgetting God is letting the truth of God fade by ignoring Him. In the end, such neglect is unbelief, refusing to believe in God and refusing to believe His Word. The safe caring place, the Refuge from storms, is forgotten. God becomes like a friend whom you never visit any more or think much about and finally do not remember at all. This slippery slope takes us far from the Rock of our refuge, the God of our Salvation.

17:11 bring your seed to blossom. This phrase may allude to the ancient practice of force-blooming potted plants and allowing them to die. Pagans believed that this reenactment of the life cycle would secure fertile fields. But even after performing this rite, the harvest would be in ruin. Just as the choice vines of the Lord's vineyard disappointed Him (5:1–7), so His errant people would find their harvest hopes shattered.

17:12 many peoples. The many peoples are the nations that plunder Israel (v. 14).

17:14 Before morning. Sennacherib's army would be destroyed between evening time and morning (37:36–38). us. Isaiah identified himself with his plundered people.

18:1 Cush. Also called Ethiopia in the Bible, Cush was at the southern end of Isaiah's world. A Cushite dynasty took over Egypt in 715 BC and probably sent ambassadors to Jerusalem.

18:5 before the harvest . . . cut off. This is another example of a bad harvest (17:10–11).

18:7 place [of worship] of the name. Note how closely the Lord identifies with Mount Zion. This was the one place for the true worship of God.

19:2 Egyptians against Egyptians. The political anarchy of the Egyptians has religious roots: their many gods failed them.

19:3 spirit of the Egyptians. The principal key for understanding the world of ancient Egypt is the concept of order, or ma'at. When the spirit of the Egyptians was demoralized, they lost their sense of order and purpose. This would completely confuse and disarm any aggression and would cause economic and political upheaval.

19:13 Memphis. Memphis was Egypt's ancient capital.

19:19–21 Worship—The prophets spoke of the future when the Gentile nations would come to know God and worship Him. Egypt is one of these nations for which there is a future mercy. The Egyptians will swear allegiance to the true God, institute extensive public worship of God, and become equal partners in the community of believers. This is a remarkable promise from our God, and one that is worth remembering in troubling political times. Go to Theological Notes Index

19:25 My people . . . the work of My hands. Historically, Egypt and Assyria were enemies. When they change and turn to the Lord (symbolic of all converted Gentiles), they will be healed (v. 22) and blessed by God.

20:2 sackcloth. Isaiah replaced the garb of spiritual mourning with the signs of being exiled into captivity.

20:3 three years. Three years means “involving three years,” a minimum of 14 months, but possibly more.

20:6 inhabitants of this coastland. Coastland in this context could mean coast, country, or island. It probably refers to the nations, including Judah, bordering on the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea, who looked to Egypt to save them from Assyria.

21:2 Elam . . . Media. Elam, a major part of Persia, and Media were allied in 700 BC. Perhaps as a part of the Assyrian army (5:26), they helped to bring about the fall of Babylon in 689 BC, since they certainly did so in 539 BC (11:11; 13:17).

21:4 mind reels. Isaiah saw that even a longed-for event can have terrible consequences in its wake. The judgment of God on Babylon would not be easy to witness.

21:7 donkeys . . . camels. The Persians, who overthrew Babylon in 539 BC, used donkeys and camels in their army.

21:11 Watchman. The watchman was the night patrol who kept watch on the city. The metaphor refers to the prophet Isaiah, who, as a guard on the walls, could see the dawn—the light of salvation—in the east before the others.

21:13 Caravans of Dedanites. The Dedanites may refer to the refugees (v. 15) from Dedan, which was about 90 miles southeast of Tema (v. 14).

22:11 reservoir between the two walls. The defense of the city depended upon the availability of water within its walls. Hezekiah addressed this need by digging a tunnel beneath the city, connecting the lower pool in Jerusalem's southwestern valley with the old pool, the source of water in the eastern valley.

22:25 peg . . . be cut off. Even the firmly reliable Eliakim could not sustain the burden of government. Only Immanuel could do that (9:6–7).

23:1 Tyre. Tyre was besieged several times over a period of about 400 years before it was finally laid waste by Alexander the Great in 332 BC.

23:6 Tarshish. Tarshish is Tartessus in Spain and represents the most distant place to the ancient Israelites.

23:15 seventy years. Seventy years symbolizes a full measure of time, a lifetime.

23:18 her prostitute's wages . . . dedicated to the LORD. This was not a violation of God's command (Dt 23:18) which forbade bringing a harlot's pay (v. 17) to the temple. Tyre's destruction was part of the Lord's war against the unrighteous. The spoils would belong to Him as the Victor (Dt 2:35; Jos 6:17,19).

24:1–27:12 Behold, the LORD. The section describing the Lord's "burdens" against particular nations (chs. 13–23) is now placed in a larger framework that shows God's triumph over the entire earth for His elect. Chapter 24 focuses on God's overthrow of the corrupted earth; chapter 25 focuses on the responsive praise to His actions. Chapters 26 and 27 focus on God's efforts for His people.

24:4 The earth dries up. For a similar idea, see Romans 8:22.

24:5 laws . . . statutes . . . covenant. The usual language concerning a breach of the covenant is applied more generally to the wicked nations. Perhaps these words speak of that innate sense of right and wrong—the conscience—that God has given to all mankind, but which everyone violates (Ac 24:16; Ro 1:18–32).

24:14–16 raise their voices. Isaiah cannot join in the chorus of praise, because he, like Daniel (Da 7:28; 8:27), was too overwhelmed by the tragedy that was to come. It is impossible to tell whether the people who praised the Lord were faithful followers who had been oppressed by the treacherous leaders, or whether those who praised were the unfaithful leaders who were beginning to remember the Lord. There comes a time when the Lord does not wait any more, but He carries out the promised punishment for sinful behavior. Those who have trusted in Him will always find their souls secure, but that does not mean that they will not see dreadful sights or perhaps even be martyred for their faith.

24:21 that day. "That day" is the day that the Lord will finally judge the whole world (Rev 20:11–15).

25:5 tyrants. The use of the term "tyrants" two times in verses 3–5 emphasizes divine judgment on the nations represented.

25:8 wipe away tears. When the first earth passes away and the tabernacle of God is among men, finally the whole creation will be as it should be, and God will tenderly wipe away the tears of his people (Rev 7:17; 21:4).

26:3 peace. The result of a settled faith in God is "perfect peace." Faith in God is the only thing that brings inner peace to man. One must come to the point of recognizing his own utter sinfulness and his deep need of a redeemer before he can find peace. Only when one is at peace with God can he have peace with others. Only a mind settled in God can tolerate the changing circumstances of life.

26:8 waited. Waiting for—or on—the Lord is a waiting with expectation. Perhaps one could describe it as the difference between waiting for the arrival of an airplane with a loved one arriving, and the waiting one does at a traffic light. (For a similar idea, see 40:31 .)

26:18 gave birth . . . only to wind. Even the faithful followers of the Lord cannot bring new life to the earth. Only God can regenerate the world and its inhabitants. The new life can come only through Jesus Christ, whose coming was still in the future at the time of Isaiah's writing.

26:21 The earth will reveal the [innocent] blood. In that day of judgment, there will be no unsolved murders, no injustice that is unrevealed.

27:1 punish. The punishment in this verse links it with 26:21 ; this verse is the climax of the preceding section. Leviathan. This creature was used to poetically describe various evil forces over which God has ultimate control and victory (Job 3:8 ; Ps 74:14 ). Eventually the Leviathan (Job 41:1 ) became a symbol for Satan, who is “the dragon, that old serpent” (Rev 20:2 ).

27:2 vineyard. The vineyard is Israel (5:7 ; 27:6 ). The language of the vineyard is used frequently in Scripture. The good vines are planted or cared for by God and His servants. They are supposed to bear good fruit and be worthy of the care of the Master. Sometimes the fruit is bad, sometimes the servants are unfaithful, but the vines always belong to God (Mt 21:33–46 ; Mk 12:1–12 ; Lk 20:9–19 ).

27:3 I, the LORD, am its Keeper . . . water. The “keeper” of the vineyard contrasts with the one who will lay waste, and watering it “every moment” contrasts with no “rain” (5:6 ).

27:12 thresh . . . gathered. Beating and gathering are threshing terms where the grain is separated from the chaff. The grain is saved or “gathered,” and the chaff is thrown away. Threshing can be accomplished by beating the grain heads with flails or driving a cart over the grain to separate the grain from the stalks and husks. The grain is then gathered in baskets and tossed in the air, where the wind blows away the chaff and bits of straw, and the ripe grain falls back down into the basket.

28:1 crown of the drunkards. The crown on Ephraim's drunkards is part of a word picture (v. 3 ) contrasting the debasing actions of a drunkard with the crown of flowers, which was customary to wear at feasts. The incongruity of this image parallels God's view of the debauchery of the Israelites in the beautiful land He had given them.

28:5 glorious diadem. The crown of the Lord of Hosts, which is Himself, sits in true beauty on the remnant of His people. Unlike the fading beauty of the crown of flowers, the glorious crown will be a lasting beauty.

28:9 Those just weaned. A child was weaned between the ages of three and five, the time for elementary moral education, which is described in verse 10 .

28:13 stumble backward, and be broken, ensnared. In keeping with their drunken habits, the people would not be able to hear the teaching of the Lord.

28:14 arrogant. The arrogant, or scoffers, are worse than “fools.” Beyond choosing what is bad, they despise what is good (Ps 1:1 ).

28:16 precious Cornerstone. The apostles identified the cornerstone as Jesus Christ (1Pe 2:4–6 ).

28:20 bed . . . blanket. The word picture of the short bed and inadequate blanket is an illustration of the inadequacy of any security that is not based on a relationship with the Living God as He has outlined it in Scripture.

28:27 dill . . . threshing sledge. Dill cannot be threshed with a sledge. The cart and sledge are too large for such a fine seed as dill and cumin (27:12 ).

28:29 made His counsel wonderful. The wisdom that the farmer uses to tend his crops comes from God, the source of all good counsel.

29:1 Ariel. Ariel probably means “altar” (Eze 43:15–16 ). The destruction and bloodshed in Jerusalem would make the city appear like an altar. The repetition of the term Ariel indicates the Lord's sorrow over the state to which His city had fallen. where David [once] camped. David made Jerusalem his capital and planned the temple that Solomon later built in that city. These words show God's continuing love for His servant David.

29:7 like a dream. No city has suffered desolation and later been rebuilt like Jerusalem. One final time the fires of God's wrath will be allowed to burn on the City of Peace. God's eternal purpose will bring the city to its knees. Judgment is God's unwilling work. He never allows the fires of discipline to punish His own for no reason. When His disciplines have accomplished His task, peace is sure to follow.

29:17 Lebanon . . . fertile field. This is a statement of sharp changes. Lebanon was a land of forests. As valuable as a fertile field was, a forest was even more valuable in Israel and Judah, which did not have large stands of trees suitable for lumber. It would indicate some major economic and physical changes for Lebanon to become a field and for a fertile field to be as valuable as a forest.

29:19 needy . . . rejoice. God always notices the poor and commands His people to do likewise. The poor and the humble are particularly vulnerable to exploitation, and God in His justice does not forget this when He is dealing with disobedient leaders.

29:21 with a [false] word . . . lay a trap . . . meaningless arguments. The central issue in this passage is justice. The evil ones miscarry justice with "a word" or false testimony, "trap" through legal technicalities, and win cases with empty words or lies and clever arguments that obscure true justice.

30:1 Woe. This is the fourth woe. The rebellious children are Hezekiah's advisers. To the sin of injustice, they add the sin of devising plans independently of God.

30:4 Zoan . . . Hanes. Zoan, which was in the Delta, was the capital of Egypt at this time (19:11–13). Hanes was 50 miles south of Cairo.

30:15 confident trust. A quiet, patient trust in God provides more strength for a follower of God than any alliance with any other person or system. When danger threatens, it is difficult not to look for ways to use one's own strength. It is also difficult to maintain inward composure and not trust in external sources of help. Even if we cannot imagine how we can be helped, if we are trusting God, we can have confidence and therefore have peace that He will not forsake us in our hour of need. God may use our strength or the help of others, but, when we turn to God first, we can learn which resources, if any, are the ones He wants us to use. When God is first, then our decisions are wise.

30:23–24 give you rain. The promises that were part of the original Mosaic covenant were in force again. Blessing would extend from field to flock (Dt 28:11–12).

30:30 descending of His arm. The strong arm of God had delivered the Israelites from Egypt. Now His arm would descend in judgment (Ex 6:6).

30:33 Topheth. Topheth was a place where Judah made human sacrifices to the heathen god Molech. The prophet uses it as a picture of God's vengeance on the wicked. He is not picturing temporal punishment, but everlasting destruction. This punishment will be in a place that is "deep" or inescapable. Then Isaiah draws the picture of the punishment by fire in hell. Some claim that the fire is symbolic, but it should be remembered that the reality is always greater than the symbol. The bliss of the righteous cannot be fully comprehended, and neither can the terror that awaits the wicked.

31:1 Woe. The fifth woe reaffirms the fourth woe (30:1–33). It, too, was addressed to those who replace faith in the Lord with reliance on Egypt.

31:2 house of evildoers . . . helpers. This "house" refers to Judah, and their "helpers" refer to Egypt.

31:7 that day. "That day" refers to the day when God will judge the rebellious (24:21 ; 26:1). God had judged nations from time to time over the ages (Canaan, Egypt, Babylon, Israel, etc.), but the final day of judgment when everything will be made new is still in the future (Rev 20:11–15).

32:1 Behold. The fifth woe concludes with a prophecy about leadership and its effects. a King will reign in righteousness. The prophecy concerning this king is fulfilled in the Lord Jesus Christ (7:14 ; 9:1-7 ; 11:1-5 ; 28:16 ; Jn 10:11). princes. The princes are Jesus' shepherds (1Pe 5:2-4).

32:9-11 carefree. The word "carefree" has connotations of "trust," as one who has taken refuge, or who is secure and without care. These women were complacent, but it was a false security. sackcloth. Mourning women removed their clothing and wore sackcloth around their waists (Ge 37:34).

33:1 Woe. The sixth woe differs from the others in that it is addressed to Assyria, not to Judah. By focusing exclusively on Assyria's defeat and Judah's salvation, the prophecy magnifies Judah's exalted King.

33:3 lifting up of Yourself. This passage refers to an exaltation of the heavenly King (vv. 5 ,10 ) as He rises to demonstrate His glory and vindicate His justice.

33:4 spoil. The plunder, or "spoil," of God's war with His enemies belongs to the Lord, the true Victor (23:18 ; 34:2 ).

33:9 Sharon . . . Bashan. Sharon was on the western coastal plain, and Bashan was on the east side of the Jordan.

33:15 walks righteously. For a similar description of the person who can approach the Holy One, see Psalm 1:1-2 ; 15:2 ; Galatians 5:22-25 ; and Ephesians 5:1-2 .

33:17 far-distant land. The prophet's land was continually threatened by the Assyrian army. But, in prophetic vision, Isaiah saw a little picture of the beauty of heaven. In the mind of the believer, the trials of the present fade into insignificance if he only contemplates that glorious time when he will dwell in the presence of his King.

33:18 he who counts. The scribe who counted was the one who took tribute (2Ki 18:14 ).

33:19 people of unintelligible speech. For a similar idea concerning Israel's enemies, see Deuteronomy 28:49 .

33:22 the LORD is our Ruler. The Ruler is associated with other acts of mercy (Dt 6:1-3 ; Jn 1:14-18 ); the giving of the law was God's way to point out the correct path for the Israelites to follow. His commitment to set our feet on the right path is one of His acts of mercy.

34:4 host of heaven. The host of heaven here refers to pagan deities (24:21 ; 2Ki 17:16 ). skies will be rolled up like a scroll. The old cosmos will give way to the new (51:6 ; Mt 24:29 ; Rev 6:13-14 ; 21:1 ).

34:8 vengeance. The Lord has promised that He will one day right the wrongs suffered by His followers, but that vengeance is His, and His alone (Dt 32:35 ; Ro 12:19 ).

34:9 brimstone . . . burning pitch. Brimstone and burning pitch may be allusions to Sodom and Gomorrah (30:33 ; Ge 19:24 ; Eze 38:22 ).

35:1-2 rejoice. Isaiah 35 stands in contrast to Isaiah 34 . This chapter opens with the lilt of joy. The Arabah, or desert plain, shall blossom and break into bloom. Centuries before, Moses had warned of a day when the rain of this land would become "powder and dust" (Dt 28:24 ). That day came because Israel was disobedient to God. But, at the second coming of Christ (Rev 20:1-6 ), Israel will be restored spiritually, and with spiritual restoration comes physical blessing. When judgment is removed, great blessing follows. Restoration follows repentance, and restoration is accompanied by joy.

35:3 Encourage the exhausted. This phrase is cited in Hebrews 12:12 (Jos 1:6-7 , 9 ,18 ). We can reassure ourselves with the knowledge that our Savior is coming. In that day, justice will be restored.

35:5-6 eyes . . . ears . . . lame . . . tongue. This prophecy of healings was fulfilled by Jesus (Mt 12:22 ; Lk 4:18 ; 7:22 ), and it was this passage in Isaiah that Jesus referred to when He answered John the Baptist's disciples who asked if He was the Expected One. The reply was somewhat cryptic, but it was something that John would understand in prison, without requiring Jesus to expose Himself before it was time (Mt 11:27 ; Lk 7:22 ).

35:10 ransomed. Someone who is ransomed is someone who has had a price paid to set him free from captivity. This promise looked forward to the return of the political captives and, in a much fuller sense, to the salvation through Jesus Christ, who gave “His life as a ransom for many” (Mt 20:28 ; Mk 10:45 ; 1Ti 2:6 ).

36:1 fourteenth year. The fourteenth year of King Hezekiah’s sole reign was 701 BC. all. In his annals, Sennacherib mentions 46 cities that he attacked.

36:2 Rabshakeh. This was probably the title of one of Sennacherib’s officials (2Ki 18:17 ).

36:7 taken away. Hezekiah had destroyed the idolatrous high places and altars that his father Ahaz had built (2Ki 18:1–5 ; 2Ch 31:1–3 ).

36:8 riders. Micah referred to Jerusalem’s soldiers as merely “troops” (Mic 5:1 ) compared to the enormous international army of Assyria.

36:10 the LORD said to me. Ancient Middle Eastern conquerors liked to claim that the gods of their defeated enemies had joined their side (2Ch 35:21 ). These words about the Lord were no more than a boast.

36:11 Aramaic. Aramaic was the language of international diplomacy.

36:19 have they rescued Samaria. Like the Assyrian king (10:11 ), Rabshakeh assumed that different gods were worshiped in Samaria than in Jerusalem.

36:22 Shebna. Isaiah had earlier condemned Shebna for presumption (22:15–23 ). Apparently that was a warning which was heeded, for his attitude was of mourning, repentance, and humility at this time.

37:6 Do not be afraid. The Lord commonly reassured His servants with these words (7:4 ; 35:4 ; Ge 15:1 ; Jos 1:9 ). We have no reason to fear if our trust is in the all-powerful God (Heb 13:6 ).

37:10 You shall say. Blasphemous and malicious designs against God and His people should motivate us to rely completely on the Lord and earnestly seek His strength. The response of God’s people to blasphemers must never be incited by personal feelings, but by the desire that “all the kingdoms of the earth may know and fully realize that You alone, LORD, are God” (37:20 ).

37:21 the LORD, the God of Israel says this. Hezekiah’s plea for help against the Assyrian menace brought a word from the Lord. Hezekiah was assured that the Lord was in absolute charge, even to the extent that the Assyrian king’s activities were brought about through God’s own plan (37:26 ). Sennacherib’s forces fell before the mighty power of the angel of the Lord (37:36 ), as a witness to the truth of the Word of God that the king’s heart is turned by the hand of the Lord (Pr 21:1 ).

37:29 My hook in your nose. The Assyrians dragged prisoners away with a hook in the nose. The Lord’s judgment was coming, and soon the Assyrians would experience being pulled away where they did not want to go.

37:36 angel of the LORD . . . struck. This verse is the fulfillment of God’s promise to take vengeance on those who trouble His people (34:8 ).

37:38 Esarhaddon. Esarhaddon began his reign in 681 BC.

38:5 add fifteen years to your life. Hezekiah had no male heir at the time of his illness. Manasseh, the successor to his throne, was 12 when Hezekiah died (2Ki 20:21–21:1 ).

38:9 writing of Hezekiah. Scriptures attest to King Hezekiah’s interest in devotional literature. Apparently, he instructed his scribes to compile some of the proverbs of Solomon (Pr 25:1 ). He ordered the Levites to worship God with the psalms of David and Asaph (2Ch 29:30 ), and the song of praise (vv. 10–20 ) has some similarities with those psalms.

38:22 sign. Depending on one’s attitude, the request for a sign may express either unbelief (Mt 12:39 ; Jn 6:30 ) or faith (v. 7 ). The healing of a boil would be the sign that the Lord would save Hezekiah (vv. 20–21 ).

39:1 recovered. The miracle of the sundial (38:8 ) would have held special interest for the astronomy-minded Babylonians (2Ch 32:31 ).

39:2 showed them his treasure house. Hezekiah was flattered to receive the attention of the Babylonian delegation and wanted to show how important he was.

40:1–55:13 Comfort. This section is addressed to the Babylonian exiles in a prophetic manner. This book of comfort, written about 150 years before the time of Cyrus, promised the exiles from Judah that they would return to Jerusalem (40:1–2 ). The restoration after the exile pointed to the coming of the Lord’s kingdom. In Isaiah’s prophecy, this first taste of salvation merges with predictions of the full salvation that Jesus Christ would bring.

40:2–5 Preparing the Way— Biblical scholars think this passage was originally intended to encourage the Israelite exiles, which were looking forward to their return to Israel. The obstacles to getting back home included both a release from slavery and a journey of hundreds of miles on foot through hostile territory. There was also much to be apprehensive about when they arrived home. How were they ever going to be able to rebuild their communities when they were virtually penniless and without resources?

Experts also see this passage as being one of the key messianic prophecies. The image of verses 3–4 is that of the ancient Near Eastern practice of “rolling out the red carpet” for a visiting monarch. Mark makes use of these verses to describe the ministry of John the Baptist, as the prophet urges people to prepare for the coming of the Messiah.

Both applications point to the same concepts. God is saying, “Trust Me, I will make it right. I will make a way through the obstacles. No matter how large the obstacles, I will overcome them.” We should see these as some of the strongest words of comfort in the Bible. Go to Theological Notes Index

40:2 Jerusalem. In this case, Jerusalem represents the exiles. warfare. Warfare refers to Israel’s hard service in Babylon.

40:3 voice of one is calling out. John referred to this passage to explain who he was (Jn 1:23 ) as the forerunner of Christ.

40:5 glory . . . will be revealed. The glory of the Lord is revealed in the restoration of the captives, but in a fuller sense it is revealed in the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ (Lk 2:29–32 ; Jn 1:14 ).

40:9 good news. Good news from God to man can always be properly described as “gospel.” Here, the glad tidings are that the God who once delivered His captive people from bondage in Egypt is again at hand to rescue and protect His beleaguered Israelites. The assurance that God is with us (7:14 ; Jn 1:14 ) to save is at the heart of the Christian gospel (1Co 15:3–4 ), and it is always “good news,” even when it is something we have heard before.

40:12–31 God’s Sovereignty Over the Nations— God controls the destinies of rulers and politicians and public figures, no matter how much power they think they have. When times are rough, we wonder if God is really in charge. We wonder why He lets us get moved around by so many economic and political forces beyond our control. We sometimes wonder if He really even cares about what is going on in the world or our lives. If He really is in charge, does He know what He is doing?

The testimony of Isaiah is a resounding Yes! Nations may rise and fall. Rulers may come and go. God remains both Starter and Finisher. The circumstances that surround us are temporary conditions in the scheme of eternity. As God sustains the stars in heaven and the whole universe, He sustains our lives. We may not be able to say that easily every day, but if we keep coming back to Him, He will not disappoint us. Go to Theological Notes Index

40:12 span. A span is the width of an outstretched hand. This verse dramatically imposes images of the grandeur of God.

40:15 nations are like a drop from a bucket. Wicked nations have no power to thwart the purposes of God (Ps 2:1–6 ).

40:19–20 cast image. Many idols were made with wood, then overlaid with gold. The poor had to choose the best wood available and hope it was good enough. But of what value is the prayer of a poor man to a plain idol? What is the value of the rich to one covered with gold? To both questions, the answer is “none.”

40:26 who has created these heavenly bodies. The Babylonian gods were identified with the heavenly bodies. These words would have been comforting and encouraging to the Israelites who had learned to say no to Babylon and yes to the Lord.

40:27 justice due me escapes the notice of my God. The captives in their weariness may have complained that they were forgotten by God.

40:31 wait. To “wait” for the Lord entails confident expectation and active hope, never passive resignation.

41:2 one from the east. This refers to Cyrus, king of Persia (559–530 BC; see 46:11 ).

41:4 first . . . last. The Lord also refers to Himself as the first and last in Revelation 22:13 , when He is speaking to the apostle John of the things that will happen at the end of the age. This description speaks of His sovereignty over all time.

41:14 Redeemer. For Israel, the redeemer was the family protector of distressed relatives, who could avenge murder (Nu 35:19 ) and redeem indentured slaves (Lev 25:47–49 ). When the Lord is called the Redeemer, the title highlights His zeal to defend, protect, and purchase back His people (49:26 ).

41:16 winnow them. As threshed grain is tossed in the air or “winnowed” to separate the chaff, so the victorious people of God would be able to “blow away” their enemies.

41:21 Present your case. The Lord is addressing the idols in this passage. He is pointing out that only the Lord can tell the past or the future; He challenges the idols to prove themselves, but they cannot.

41:24 repulsive. If the Lord regards idol worshipers as repulsive, we should too.

41:25 from the north. The conquest of Media by Cyrus (550 BC) made him master of the territories north of Babylon. Cyrus did not personally know God (45:4 ), but he nevertheless called on God’s name when he released the exiles (2Ch 36:23 ; Ezr 1:1–4 ).

42:1 My Servant. The Lord formally presents His servant. This title is identified with Jesus Christ in the New Testament. This is the beginning of the first song of the Suffering Servant (vv. 1–13 ).

42:3 broken reed . . . dimly burning wick. The Servant will restore that which is broken; He will not break or snuff out the needy.

42:6 covenant. The Servant will institute a new covenant binding Israel to the Lord (49:8 ). The prophets refer to this new covenant as a “covenant of peace” (54:10 ; Eze 34:25 ); an “everlasting covenant” (which is also associated with the Davidic covenant, 55:3 ); a “new covenant” (Jer 31:31–34 ); and most often simply as covenant. people. The “people” refers to the Gentiles.

42:17 carved idols. Why is idolatry so terrible in God’s sight? Several reasons may be given. It displays a total ignorance of the true nature and being of the Creator. He is invisible, eternal, all-knowing, and all-present Spirit, without limitations. Idolatry usually reduces the concept of God to an ugly metal or wooden object, which is almost always perceived as evil and bloodthirsty, selfish and capricious. Finally, idolatry provides absolutely no indication of those characteristics closest to God’s heart—His love, mercy, grace, and holiness.

42:18–25 Hear, you deaf. This prophecy, justifying the exile as punishment, consists of two parts. First, the Lord addresses the fact that the people did not listen to Him.

42:24 sinned. The second part of the prophecy addresses the sin of the exiles, which was the reason for the punishment.

43:1 this is what the LORD, your Creator says. This statement emphasizes the authority of the words that will follow.

43:14 This is what the LORD . . . says. The same phrase (v. 1) is used to emphasize the ultimate source of this prophecy, God Himself. Redeemer. The Lord is described as Redeemer because He zealously defends, protects, and purchases back His people (41:14 ).

43:22 Yet you. After the splendid and glorious declarations of His faithfulness, the Lord addresses the unfaithfulness of His people.

43:25 for My own sake. The Lord chooses to save and forgive. This arises out of His own character (37:35 ; 42:21 ; 48:9 ,11 ).

44:2 Jeshurun. Jeshurun, meaning “upright one,” is a poetic word for the nation of Israel (Dt 32:15 ).

44:6 King of Israel. For background, read Psalm 99 , which begins by declaring, “The LORD reigns.”

44:8 you are My witnesses. The people of Israel had already witnessed great miracles on their behalf (43:10 ).

44:9–20 All who make carved idols. This passage skillfully displays the utter absurdity of trusting in idols. Idolatry is a source of shame (v. 11 ), and it is caused by a deceived heart (v. 20 ). This is a passage to remember and to come back to, for idolatry was a continual snare to the Israelites. We need to remember in our modern age that we are not immune to this sin; it is the Second Commandment, the reminder that nothing must come between us and our relationship to God.

44:22 wiped out. The idea of total forgiveness of sins is also found in 40:2 and 43:25 .

44:23 shows His glory. When He saves, the Lord demonstrates to the world His mercy and His power and His glory.

44:24 the LORD . . . says this. Because the Lord says it, it will come to pass.

44:25 fortune-tellers. This term refers to people who attempt to foretell the future through occult practices. They are often mentioned along with other practitioners of the occult—all of whom were forbidden in Israel (Dt 18:10–22 ). Fortune-tellers brought trouble on themselves, and on their nations as well (Dt 18:10 ; 2Ki 17:17–18 ; Mic 3:6–7 ).

44:28 Cyrus. Here, Isaiah mentions by name the king of Persia who would allow the Israelites to return to Jerusalem in 538 BC (Ezr 1:1–4 ). He was a chosen servant of God, even though he was not an Israelite. Isaiah’s prophecy was made more than 150 years before it was fulfilled.

45:3 treasures of darkness. These treasures are an allusion to the fabled wealth of Sardis captured by Cyrus in 546 BC. who calls you (Cyrus the Great) by your name. The Lord specifically named Cyrus and appointed his work before he became king, and even before he was born. Isaiah was ministering from approximately 740 to 701 BC, which was at least 150 years before Cyrus became prominent. The Lord picked out Cyrus, but He picked out each of us too, to do good works which He had planned beforehand for us to do (Eph 2:10 ).

45:8 have created it. In the Middle East, pagan people commonly believed that the fertility of the earth and maintenance of the social order depended on the king’s right relationship with a deity. Isaiah was proclaiming the Lord’s clear statement that it is the Lord alone who made the earth and blesses it with rain and with righteousness.

45:9 broken pieces. The ultimate act of insanity committed by the human soul is unfaithfulness. As the prophet Isaiah shows, how inconceivable and ridiculous it would be for a simple piece of pottery to lash out at the craftsman. And yet, that was what Israel had consistently done from the exodus of Egypt to the destruction of the second temple by Titus in 70 AD Jonah was a classic example of unfaithfulness. In the Book of Jonah, all nature spontaneously obeyed its Creator. The ocean churned, the fish appeared, the gourd grew, the worm ate, and the east wind blew at the command of God. The only object in that narrative that dared disobey was Jonah the prophet. What law of logic would allow a finite and sinful creature to brazenly speak out against the infinite and sovereign Creator of all things? (Compare Romans 9:20 .)

45:14 Will come over to you and they will be yours. The “you” and “yours” are both feminine singular, referring to the Daughter of Zion.

45:19 in secret . . . darkness. The diviners pronounced their mysterious and ambiguous oracles in secret and dark places. The Lord’s prophets proclaimed the truth openly to all who would listen.

[45:23 I have sworn \[an oath\] by Myself.](#) The Lord’s promise to Abraham was sworn by Himself (Ge 22:16 ; Heb 6:13 ), and whatever God promises will come to pass, for He cannot lie. The certainty of the Word of the Lord is emphasized strongly in the Book of Isaiah (40:8 ). to Me every knee shall bow. This promise will be fulfilled in Jesus Christ (Ro 14:11 ; 1Co 15:24–25 ; Php 2:10–11 ).

45:24–25 justified. God breaks the stranglehold of nations to secure the release of His people from captivity. In the same way, God also breaks the stranglehold of sin to release his people from spiritual bondage. He does so by pouring forth righteousness through the atoning sacrifice of Jesus Christ on the cross. This is the centerpiece of God’s salvation, which is worldwide in its scope. It is the only ground for acceptance by God, the only foundation for fellowship with God, and the only platform of service to God. Those who embrace it find that they are released from sin’s guilt and that they are also given strength to have victory over sin. No wonder this all evokes jubilant praise!

46:1 Bel . . . Nebo. Bel, meaning “Lord,” was a title of Marduk, Babylon’s chief deity. Nebo, Marduk’s son, was the god of fate, writing, and wisdom.

46:11 bird of prey from the east. The ravenous bird refers to Cyrus (41:2 ) and to the speed and power of his conquests.

47:2 grind meal. Grinding meal was usually a job for female slaves (Ex 11:5 ). Uncover the leg. This phrase suggests doing menial labor with overtones of the shame of indecent exposure. A woman who was doing heavy labor may have needed more freedom of movement than was possible without shortening her skirts.

47:3 nakedness. Nakedness indicates disgrace, impropriety, lack of dignity, and vulnerability (Ge 9:22–23 ).

47:6 You showed them no mercy. Babylon’s cruel abuse of Israel when the Lord had given them into Babylon’s “hand” would be avenged, as in the case of the Assyrians (10:1–19 ; 49:25 ). When God chooses to punish, He is never pleased with a bystander who cheers over the downfall of another.

47:10 trusted and felt confident in your wickedness. The selfish pride of the wicked is based in part on believing that there is not an all-knowing, all-seeing God in the universe.

47:12 Persist. The admonition to “persist” is facetious. The sorcerers and astrologers have nothing real to offer a person or nation that is having trouble.

48:5 declared them to you. God told His people of events that would come to pass in the future so that they would know that it was He, and He alone, who controlled history.

48:6 new things . . . hidden things. God did not tell His people all that the future would unfold. He knew that, if they had possessed such knowledge, they would have misused that knowledge to the detriment of God’s plan and themselves.

48:11 For My own sake. God’s acts of mercy are His own initiative, springing from the depths of His mercy (37:35 ; 42:21 ; 43:25 ).

48:12 Listen to Me. This section (vv. 12–22 ) is directed to all Israel and encourages the unrighteous to participate in the Lord’s redemption of the nation from Babylon.

[48:16 His \[Holy\] Spirit.](#) One of the works of the Holy Spirit is to empower believers and their message. Isaiah recognized this task of the Spirit of God. The prophet had delivered unbelievable prophecies in a time when Assyria reigned supreme, speaking of a day when Babylon would replace the Assyrians. He even named the Persian King Cyrus, who would rescue Judah from Babylon. Knowing that these things were hard to believe, he urged the people to listen. He appealed to them on the basis that the Lord had sent him “and his Spirit.” Isaiah’s message was not simply the message of a man, but the Word of the Holy Spirit, the teacher and director of God’s messengers.

48:20 Declare. By putting the command “declare” in the present tense, the future salvation is brought vividly into the present.

49:1–13 Listen. This second song of the Suffering Servant (42:1–13) consists of two parts: the Servant’s soliloquy (1–6) and the Lord’s oracles to Him (7–9). The song is followed by Isaiah’s elaboration (9–12), and it concludes with a hymn of praise.

49:2 mouth like a sharp sword. The truth is “sharp.” It cuts through lies and deception like a sharp sword (Eph 6:17 ; Heb 4:12 ; Rev 1:16 ; 19:15).

49:5 bring Jacob back. The political mission of Cyrus to bring Jacob back from Babylon (44:28 ; 45:13) foreshadows the spiritually redemptive mission of the Servant to free His people from their captivity to sin (42:7).

49:6 to the nations. The “nations” refers to those who are not Israel.

49:9 Go forth. This is an allusion to Isaiah’s command for the exiles to leave Babylon (48:20).

49:14 has abandoned me. The complaint that the Lord had forsaken Zion resembles that in 40:27–31. The Lord disciplined the Israelites briefly because of their sin (54:7 ; La 5:20–22), but the things that Isaiah was saying about captivity were still in the future. A message such as this would be good to remember in the days of captivity when it seemed that they were waiting a long time for the Lord to rescue them.

49:15 Can a woman forget. In the strongest of human ties, the tenderness of the mother for her precious and dependent child, the Lord draws a parallel picture of Himself. Even if the mother could forget, the Lord will never forget. Human parents often fail, but the Lord is the parent who never forgets how much His child needs Him.

49:20 too cramped. The complaint that the place is too small is in fact a cause for rejoicing (54:1–3 ; Zec 2:4–5), because it means that the Lord would cause His people to grow. This prophecy points to the return of the exiles to Jerusalem, for under Ezra and Nehemiah the exiles built a relatively small city (Ezr 2 ; Neh 7). Some view the ultimate fulfillment of this prophecy to be the gathering of the Lord’s people at the coming of Jesus’ kingdom.

49:22 lift up My hand to the [Gentile] nations. The return of the Israelites from all the nations, not only from Babylon, shows that the future salvation of all Israel is in view (Ro 11:26).

50:1 divorce. The Lord had put away Israel as a husband might put away a wife, but it was for only a short period of exile (54:5–7 ; 62:4) and not permanently. Permanent exile would have required a certificate of divorce (Dt 24:1–4). If the Lord had issued one, He could not have taken Israel back (Jer 3:1 ,8). No prophet suggested that God had completely broken His covenant; rather, they predicted God’s faithfulness to a remnant who would return (Mic 4:9–10). creditors. If the Lord had sold Israel to creditors (Ex 21:7 ; 2Ki 4:1 ; Neh 5:5), He would not have any authority over its destiny. But the Israelites sold themselves because of their own iniquities (42:23–25). Therefore God as their Redeemer could buy them back (41:14 ; 52:3). your mother. The mother is Jerusalem—more specifically, the inhabitants of the preceding generation that had gone into exile.

50:2 I came. God came to Israel at the time of the exile through the prophets whom He sent. Later God came to this earth through His Servant and Son, Jesus (41:9).

50:4 given Me [His Servant] the tongue of disciples. The third Servant song consists of a reflection by the Servant (4–9) and the prophet’s address to the believing and unbelieving Israel (10–11).

50:6 insults and spitting. This prophecy was fulfilled in the suffering of Jesus Christ (Mt 27:30 ).

50:7 face like flint. Setting one's face like a flint indicates determination in the face of opposition (Eze 3:8–9 ; Lk 9:51 ).

50:8 declares Me in the right. God's Servant fully anticipates vindication before the bar of God's justice. He was told to obey God perfectly, and He did. He was sent to suffer sacrificially, and He did. No prosecutor has a case against Him. In a stupendous development, God discloses that the sinners who identify themselves with the Servant may expect the same, although they are not righteous. Sin does carry the death penalty, but identification with the Servant brings exchange and substitution, in which the Servant takes the sinners' place. This makes the justification of sinners both possible and just. Their sins are transferred to Him, and He dies in their place. His shed blood removes their guilt, and they will be declared not guilty. His perfection makes them righteous, and they will be declared righteous. Every accuser will be silenced. Every attempt to have them convicted will be thrown out of court. God is just when He justifies those who belong to the Servant Savior (Ro 8:31–34 ).

50:11 kindle your own fire. Those who kindle a fire instead of the Light from God are those who are self-reliant. When the Light comes into the world, some will choose darkness (Jn 3:17–18 ).

51:14 exile . . . in the dungeon. The exile refers to those who were captive in Babylon. The meaning also extends to all who experience the darkness of sin and alienation from God (48:20 ; 49:9 ).

51:19 These two tragedies. The two tragedies are the desolation of the land and the destruction of the people.

51:21 drunk, but not with wine. The cause of drunkenness was not wine, but the "cup of trembling" (v. 22 ), the terror of God's judgment.

52:6 shall know My Name. The people are the redeemed exiles, as well as the people who believe in and follow the Servant (Messiah). Isaiah was speaking of a time beyond his own time, to people who were not yet born (1Pe 1:10–12 ). Jesus speaks strongly of this concept when He says, I "know [without any doubt those who are] My own and my own know Me" (Jn 10:11–18 ).

52:12 go before you . . . rear guard. This is an allusion to the pillar of cloud and fire that protected Israel in its flight from Egypt (Ex 13:21–22 ; 14:19–20 ).

52:13–53:12 Indeed. The fourth of the Servant songs, which form the central unit of chapters 40–66 , begins with the praise of the Father for the work of the Servant.

52:14 appearance was marred. This speaks of the physical punishment that the Servant, Jesus Christ, endured when he was bearing the sins of the world on the cross. He was cruelly beaten, even before He was crucified (Mt 27:27–31 ; Mk 15:16–20 ; Jn 19:1–3 ).

52:15 shut their mouths. The kings are silent in stunned respect.

53:1–12 The Suffering Servant— Along with Psalm 22 , this Scripture is understood to be one of the key prophetic Old Testament passages pointing to the saving work of Christ. This passage presents the whole idea of the “Suffering Servant,” which is one of the central concepts of Isaiah, and for many, Judaism. Christ’s fulfillment of this passage in His passion is remarkable. The New Testament writers point often to Isaiah 53 and how Christ fulfilled this prophecy (Mt 8:17 ; Lk 23:8–9 ; Jn 12:38 ; Ro 10:16 ; 1Pe 2:25 ). It is also the Scripture that Philip explained to the Ethiopian eunuch in Acts 8:32–33 .

In the Old Testament sacrificial system people offered animals to atone for sin (Lev 16). The Bible presents Christ as the ultimate sacrifice that died once and for all for the sins of the world (Heb 8–10). Our sins are forgiven and we become righteous through Christ’s great work on the cross (2Co 5:21). Go to Theological Notes Index

53:2 no stately form or majestic splendor. There was nothing in the Promised Servant’s appearance to mark His special calling.

53:3 despised and rejected. The Servant was not received joyfully by the people who needed Him so much (Mk 9:12 ). Man of sorrows. This phrase does not indicate that the Servant would be dour, but that He knew better than anyone the havoc that sin brings into human life, and, as the kindest of friends, He was sorry for the pain of His people.

53:4 borne our griefs. The Savior Jesus came to suffer and die for the sins of others (Mt 8:17 ; Heb 9:28 ; 1Pe 2:24 ). Griefs, pain and sorrows, and sickness refer to the consequences of sin.

53:7 He did not open His mouth. Jesus did not open His mouth to defend Himself or to answer the false charges made against Him (Mt 26:63 ; Mk 14:61 ; Lk 23:9 ; Jn 19:9 ).

53:10 the LORD was willing To crush Him. The Old Testament pointed to the doctrine of the atonement long before Jesus died for our sins (1Co 15:3 ). In fact, the atonement was part of God's eternal plan (Eph 1:4-7 ). The Father was pleased that His Son should die because it would cover up the sins of many and reconcile them to Himself. guilt offering. The guilt offering, or “trespass offering,” was the sacrifice of a ram to secure the Lord’s atonement for sin (Lev 5:6-7 , 15 ; 7:1 ; 14:12 ; 19:21 ). Here, the prophet Isaiah describes the Servant Jesus as a guilt offering. His [spiritual] offspring. If the Spirit of God dwells in us (Ro 8:9-11 ), and if we are led by the Spirit, then we are sons of God—His offspring (Ro 8:14 ).

54:1 has not gone into labor. The Israelites received a liberation (through the promised Cyrus for the Babylonian exiles, or through the Messiah, in the fullest sense) that they did not work for—it was God’s idea.

54:4 widowhood. The widowhood was the time without the working presence of God in the lives of the people of God, the time of exile. In the fullest sense, every sinner is a “widow” without God, who has the role of protector and provider.

54:11 foundations with sapphires. For a more detailed description of the New Jerusalem, see Revelation 21:18-21 . It will be a city of stunning beauty and grand proportions.

54:17 the servants of the LORD . Throughout the rest of Isaiah, the word “servants” refers to all saints, Jews and Gentiles (56:6-8 ; 63:17 ; 65:8-9 ,13-15 ; 66:14 ), the offspring of the Servant (Jesus).

55:4 witness. God’s fulfillment of the promises to the house of David, climaxing in the resurrection of Christ, serves as a witness to the nations (43:10 ,12 ; 44:8 ). It shows that He has fulfilled His prophecies and promises, and that He is who He says He is: the King of the universe.

55:6 while He may be found. Solomon warned his readers to remember their Creator in the days of their youth, when the evil days have not yet come (Ecc 12:1 ). The writer to the Hebrews admonishes his readers, “Today, if you will hear His voice, do not harden your hearts” (Ps 95:7-8 ; Heb 4:7 ). Responding to the call of God is not something to be put off. Hardened hearts become a habit, or evil days may impair our ability to think clearly. If the Lord is calling, respond to Him. We do not know how long we have to live. No one knows whether “this night” his soul may be required (Lk 12:20 ).

55:9 higher. The gulf existing between human and divine nature is expressed here in graphic terms. God functions at the level of pure holiness, and He is motivated by complete love and service to others. The corruption of human nature by sin introduces carnal elements that are totally unknown to the nature of God, and by contrast are base both in character and execution. It is only when we are born again that we can understand the things of the Spirit, the ways of God (Jn 3:9-21 ).

56:3 foreigner. In speaking of the foreigner who joined himself to the Lord, Isaiah was not speaking of the foreign wives that the returning exiles would have married (Ezr 9:1-4 ). Those foreign wives were considered a corrupting influence because they had not become followers of the Living God. The foreigners that Isaiah was prophesying about would be converted to worship the true Lord (44:5 ).

56:5 not be cut off. This phrase is an idiom for preserving one’s name through one’s offspring. The phrase links this passage with 55:13 .

56:9 beasts. The unclean, ravenous beasts summoned to attack the ungodly community are hostile nations (Jer 12:8-9 ; Eze 34:5 ,8 ).

56:11 dogs. The dog was not highly regarded in biblical culture, and to the Jews they were unclean. In Deuteronomy 23:18 , a “dog” is discussed in the context of a prostitute.

57:5 slaughter the children. Killing the children was associated with the worship of Molech and with demon worship (30:33 ; 2Ki 23:10 ; Ps 106:37-38 ; Jer 7:31 ).

57:12 your [hypocritical] righteousness. This phrase is stated in sarcasm or irony. The people had found a counterfeit life in idolatry and immorality that would only lead to death.

57:14 Build up. This verse is based on 40:1–4. The phrase “build up” resembles “every valley shall be raised.”

57:16 will not contend forever. God was addressing the human failure to keep His good laws, but humans will always fail. God knew this, so He created a way of salvation, a way to heal the problem of sin (v. 18). He knew that they needed to be radically rescued, for the law was powerless to save them (Ro 2:8).

58:2 delight [superficially] to know My ways . . . delight in the nearness of God. Unfortunately, one can really enjoy all the religious ritual without really wanting to know God. God can always tell the difference between the heart that is turned toward Him and the heart that is devoted to religious form.

58:6 To undo . . . To tear . . . free. Love is right at the top of the list in relating to God and to other people (1Jn 4:7–21). Once again, the Lord is defining true religion. It is always horizontal (directed toward other people) as well as vertical (directed toward God). If we love God, we will be just and merciful to other people (Mic 6:8 ; Jas 1:26–27).

59:2 The Effects of Sin— Sin, regardless of how serious, always has an effect—separation. Sin separates one from God. This separation from God is death. Adam was told that if he ate of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil he would die (Ge 3:3). Adam ate of the tree anyway and immediately died spiritually—his soul was separated from God—and he then began to die physically. The entrance of sin into the world brought with it death (Ro 5:12 ; 6:23). That man is a sinner is proven by the fact that he dies—where there is death, there is sin. Sin’s penalty, death, can be remedied by life—union with God. This is achieved by belief in Jesus, who died to pay the penalty of man’s sin (Ro 5:21). For one who believes in Jesus, the penalty of sin is broken. He will die physically but physical death for him is only the doorway into the presence of God.

Sin has an effect upon the believer, for it mars his fellowship with God. Sin in the believer’s life is a terrible thing and is not to be tolerated. While it is probable that the believer will sin, it is never necessary for him to do so (1Jn 2:1). Go to Theological Notes Index

59:5 vipers’ eggs. The viper is a poisonous snake (Ac 28:3–6).

59:7–8 feet run to evil. This passage is cited in Romans 3:15–17 to document the universal aspect of sin.

59:9 Therefore. “Therefore” links Israel’s repentance with the prophet’s reprimand. With the pronoun “us,” Isaiah identified himself with his people’s sins (Eze 9:6–7 ; Da 9:5 ).

59:16 no man. God’s salvation does not depend on humans (Eze 22:30 ).

59:17 righteousness like a coat of armor. This idea of the righteous warrior is repeated in Ephesians 6:13–17. Right standing with God is our protection, as surely as the warrior depends on the heavy body shield over his heart to protect him from the arrows of the enemy.

59:20 A Redeemer (Messiah) will come. The Redeemer comes in the person of Jesus Christ.

59:21 My Spirit. God promised that His Spirit and His Word would never be lost to His people. The covenant that He made with them affirms that the Word is firm and unshakable. It may not be performed immediately, but the hearers can be assured of its truth. He also promised that He would always be present with His people through the Spirit. This is a promise that continues to be comforting to the people of God, and it must have brought particular comfort to the people who lived in the “silent” years between the preaching of Malachi and the coming of John the Baptist.

59:21 Inspiration of God’s Word— The word inspiration occurs only once in the New Testament in 2 Timothy 3:16. Paul says there “All Scripture is God-breathed [given by divine inspiration].” God takes the initiative in communicating with us. Divine inspiration logically follows divine revelation. In revelation God speaks to man’s ear, while by inspiration He guides the pen to ensure that the imparted message is correctly written down. God’s intent is to give His people a right understanding of His revelation and a permanent record of His dealings with mankind. The authority of the Bible is from God Himself.

Bible authors understood that their writings were being guided by the Spirit of God, even as they wrote them. Peter said this was true of Old Testament authors (2Pe 1:20–21). He then stated his own letters were inspired by God (2Pe 3:1–2). Finally, he pointed out this was also true concerning Paul's writings (2Pe 3:15).

This means that the Bible is more than just the wise insights of men who desired to follow God. God worked in the thinking of the biblical writers so the message they wrote was also God's message. While the writings certainly display the individual characteristics of all of the different authors, there is also an overall divine influence that uniquely unifies the Bible as no other book. Go to Theological Notes Index

60:1 Arise [from spiritual depression to a new life], shine. This command is directed to Zion (v. 14), who is both the recipient of God's light and the reflector of it. It is difficult to imagine the world without the knowledge of Christ, yet each believer who remembers his life before he was born again can testify to the power of the light of the gospel. It is a great joy to come from the darkness of sin and doubt to the light of forgiveness and knowledge of Jesus Christ. What a joyful command, to "shine" for the Savior.

60:9 ships of Tarshish. The reference to the ships of Tarshish alludes to the wealth of King Solomon (2:16 ; 1Ki 10:22 ).

61:10 Christ's Righteousness— One of the most awesome requirements made upon men and women by God is that they be righteous, that is, conform to His ethical and moral standards (Ps 15:2 ; Mic 6:8 ). Since God is holy He cannot allow sinners into His presence (Isa 6:3–5 ). We sinners cannot save ourselves or make ourselves righteous. Only God's intervention can save us and make us righteous. God sent Christ, who never sinned, to die for our sins and thus satisfy His own wrath towards us and our sin. God, at the cross, treated Christ as though He had committed our sins even though He was righteous. On the other hand, when we believe in Christ, He treats us as though we were as righteous as Himself (2Co 5:21 ). It is as if God deposits in our spiritual account the very worth of Christ, much as though He were a banker adding an inexhaustible deposit to our bank account. Go to Theological Notes Index

60:12 not serve you [Jerusalem] shall perish. The nation and kingdom that does not serve Zion, where Christ now reigns (Ac 2:29–36 ), shall perish (Jn 3:18 ; Heb 2:3 ; 9:27 ; 10:27 ).

60:18 Salvation . . . Praise. Judging from the figurative language in verses 15–22 , especially verse 17 , God's Salvation and Israel's praise will be the city's defense (Zec 2:4–5 ).

60:19–20 no longer. These verses form the basis for the description of the New Jerusalem in the new heaven and earth (Rev 21:1 , 23 ; 22:5 ).

61:1 me. The "me" featured so prominently here is the same as the Servant in 42:1 ; 49:1 ; 50:4 ; 52:13 . The Servant is the Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ. This verse is the passage from Isaiah that Jesus read in the synagogue at the beginning of His ministry (Lk 4:16–21 ). When He finished reading it, He said, "Today this Scripture has been fulfilled in your hearing and in your presence."

61:2 day of vengeance. The day of God's vengeance is yet to come. This is the "day" that the Book of Revelation is talking about (Rev 11:14–19 ).

62:2 a new name. A new name, like new clothing, signified a new status (Ge 17:5 , 15 ; 32:28 ; Rev 2:17 ).

62:4 Hephzibah . . . "Married." The name "Hephzibah" means "my delight is in her"—in this case, it is the Lord's delight. Both of these names are symbolic, pointing to a time when Israel's relationship with the Lord is restored.

62:6 You who profess the LORD . The "watchmen," or prophets, were intercessors. They prayed that the Lord's promises would be fulfilled.

62:8 The LORD has sworn. When God made the promise to Abraham (Heb 6:13 ), He swore by Himself; so here He again swears in His own name. There is no greater name than the name of the Lord, and He cannot lie—this is the surest promise man can receive.

63:1 Edom. Edom epitomized Israel's enemies (Ps 137:7 ; La 4:21–22 ; Eze 25:12 ; 35:1–5 ; Ob 13–14). It was famous for its winemaking (v. 3). Bozrah. Bozrah was the chief town of Edom.

63:3 I. The pronoun “I” refers to Christ in Revelation 19:5.

63:11 put His Holy Spirit in their midst. This refers to the presence of the Holy Spirit on Moses and his helpers in the desert (Nu 11:17 ,25).

63:12 glorious arm. This verse refers to God dividing the Red Sea (Ex 15:6 ; 14:16 ,21 ; Ps 78:13). Isaiah is reminding his hearers of the mighty acts that God did in the past, as well as the things that He has promised to do in the future. Such perspective is often helpful when one is bearing difficult times in the present.

64:4 Nor has the eye seen. Paul cites this verse with some changes in 1 Corinthians 2:9.

64:10 wilderness . . . desolation. The prophetic picture of devastation of the land is probably referring to the time of the Babylonian invasion.

65:1 those who did not ask for Me. Paul saw his ministry to the Gentiles as a fulfillment of this promise (Ro 10:20–21).

65:10 Sharon . . . Valley of Achor. Sharon, on the coastal plain in the west, and the valley of Achor, near Jericho in the east, represent the whole land.

65:17 new heavens and a new earth. As God fashioned the existing heavens and earth, so He will fashion a new cosmos that will be ready for His presence and for the enjoyment of His people (Rev 21:4).

65:20 youth who dies at the age of a hundred. In the coming kingdom the life spans will be much greater. People will not be affected by disease and aging in the same way as in our present age. This time probably refers to the millennial kingdom (Rev 20:1–6).

65:25 wolf . . . lamb. This picture is also presented in 11:6–9. It is a picture of regenerated nature that will occur in the new heavens and new earth.

66:1 Where, then, is a house. No place on earth can accommodate the transcendent God. Even the temple built by Solomon, which was filled with the glory of the Lord (1Ki 8:11), did not really contain the Lord. He called it a “house for My Name” (1Ki 8:18).

66:3 as one who kills a man. This may refer to child sacrifice (57:5). one who breaks a dog's neck . . . offers swine's blood. The dog and the pig were both unclean animals; this may refer to a pagan practice.

66:6 sound of an uproar from the city . . . voice from the temple . . . enemies. Isaiah heard the sound of noise from the city and the temple, the Lord giving His enemies what they deserved. This prophecy may find its fulfillment at the Lord's second coming (66:17 ; 2Th 1:7–10).

66:16 fire . . . sword. The Divine Warrior comes with fire and sword (Lk 21:24 ; Rev 19:11–15). The word picture promises judgment and punishment.

66:23 All mankind will come to bow down and worship before Me. In the end, every person will bow to the Lord, whether they were followers of God or not. This idea is repeated in more detail in Romans 14:11 , 1 Corinthians 15:24–25 , Philippians 2:10 , and Revelation 15:4.

66:24 their fire will not go out. This verse is cited by Jesus in Mark 9:44 , 46 ,48 . The imagery is drawn from the valley of Hinnom that was Jerusalem's garbage dump, where unclean corpses decomposed and were burned. The final eternal punishment is the lake of fire (Rev 20:1–15). Although the Book of Isaiah depicts God's coming salvation, it closes with a strong statement of the judgment of the wicked.

The Book of Jeremiah

► AUTHOR: Jeremiah was the son of Hilkiah the priest and lived just over two miles north of Jerusalem. The book clearly states that Jeremiah is its author, and that he dictated all his prophecies to his secretary Baruch. A first copy of the work was destroyed by the king, after which Jeremiah produced a more complete edition (36–38). The only segment of this book not credited to Jeremiah is chapter 52. This supplement is almost identical to 2 Kings 24:18–25:30, and may have been added by Baruch. Daniel alludes to Jeremiah's prophecy of the seventy year captivity (25:11–14 ; 29:10 ; Da 9:2), and Jeremiah's authorship is also confirmed by Ecclesiasticus, Josephus, and the Talmud.

► KEY VERSES: Jer 7:23–24

► THEME: In the Book of Jeremiah we get an intimate picture of this prophet's life and thoughts. He was constantly rejected for speaking God's message, often lamenting to God. For this fact he is often called the weeping prophet. His ministry begins in 527 BC, during the reign of King Josiah, who brought about reform after finding the Book of Deuteronomy in the temple. By that time Judah was a weak kingdom that was subject to the major political forces of the day, which were Egypt and Babylon. While Josiah's reform was certainly a step in the right direction, many of the people didn't follow through on the implications of what the law taught. Jeremiah demonstrated God's perspective on the political upheaval going on throughout Judah in his day.

Jeremiah 1

Jeremiah's Call and Commission

<sup>3</sup> It came [to Jeremiah] also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, [continuing] until the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah, king of Judah, [and continuing] until the exile of [the people of] Jerusalem in the fifth month (July-August, 586 B.C.).  [2 Kin 25:8-11 ]‡

<sup>4</sup> Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>5</sup>—“Before I formed you in the womb I knew you [and approved of you as My chosen instrument],‡

And before you were born I consecrated you [to Myself as My own];

I have appointed you as a prophet to the nations.”  [Ex 33:12; Is 49:1, 5; Rom 8:29 ]

<sup>6</sup> Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! ‡

Behold, I do not know how to speak,

For I am [only] a young man.”  [Ex 4:10; 6:12, 30; 1 Kin 3:7 ]

<sup>7</sup> But the LORD said to me,‡

“Do not say, ‘I am [only] a young man,’

Because everywhere I send you, you shall go,

And whatever I command you, you shall speak.

<sup>8</sup>“Do not be afraid of them [or their hostile faces],‡

For I am with you [always] to protect you and deliver you,”
says the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD stretched out His hand and touched my mouth, and the LORD said to me,‡ “Behold (hear Me), I have put My words in your mouth.

<sup>10</sup>“See, I have appointed you this day over the nations and over the kingdoms,‡

To uproot and break down,
To destroy and to overthrow,
To build and to plant.”

The Almond Branch and Boiling Pot

11 The word of the LORD came to me, saying, “Jeremiah, what do you see?” And I said, “I see the branch of an almond tree.”

12 Then the LORD said to me, “You have seen well, for I am [actively] watching over My word to fulfill it.”

13 The word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying, “What do you see?” And I said, “I see a boiling pot, tilting away from the north [its mouth about to pour out on the south, on Judea].”‡

14 Then the LORD said to me, “Out of the north the evil [which the prophets foretold as the result of national sin] will reveal itself and spill out on all the people of the land.‡

15 “For, behold, I will call all the tribes of the kingdoms of the north,” says the LORD; “and they will come and each one will set his throne at the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all its surrounding walls, and against all the cities of Judah [as My judicial act, the consequence of Judah’s deliberate disobedience].‡

16 “I will speak My judgments against them for all the wickedness of those who have abandoned (rejected) Me, offered sacrifices or burned incense to other gods, and worshiped the [idolatrous] works of their own hands.‡

17 “But you [Jeremiah], gird up your loins [in preparation]! Get up and tell them all which I command you. Do not be distraught and break down at the sight of their [hostile] faces, or I will bewilder you before them and allow you to be overcome.‡

18 “Now behold, I have made you today like a fortified city and like an iron pillar and like bronze walls against the whole land—against the [successive] kings of Judah, against its leaders, against its priests, and against the people of the land [giving you divine strength which no hostile power can overcome].  [Is 50:7; 54:17; Jer 6:27; 15:20; Luke 21:15; Acts 6:10 ]‡

19 “They will fight against you, but they will not [ultimately] prevail over you, for I am with you [always] to protect you and deliver you,” says the LORD.‡

Jeremiah 2

Judah's Apostasy

“I remember [earnestly] the lovingkindness and devotion of your youth,

Your time of betrothal [like that of a bride during the early years in Egypt and again at Sinai],

When you followed Me in the wilderness,

Through a land not sown.

<sup>3</sup> “Israel was holy [something set apart from ordinary purposes, consecrated] to the LORD, ‡

The first fruits of His harvest [in which no outsider was allowed to share].

All who ate of it [injuring Israel] became guilty;

Evil came on them,” says the LORD.’ ”

<sup>4</sup> Hear the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

<sup>5</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡

“What injustice or unrighteousness did your fathers find in Me,

That they have wandered far from Me

And [habitually] walked after emptiness and futility and became empty?

<sup>6</sup> “They did not say, ‘Where is the LORD ‡

Who brought us up from the land of Egypt,

Who led us through the wilderness,

Through a land of deserts and of pits,

Through a land of drought and of the deep darkness [of the shadow of death],

Through a land that no man passed through

And where no man lived?”

<sup>7</sup> “I brought you into a plentiful land ‡

To eat its fruit and [enjoy] its good things.
But you came and defiled My land
And you made My inheritance repulsive.

8.“[Even] the priests did not say, ‘Where is the LORD?’ ‡
And those who deal with the law [given to Moses] did not know Me.

The rulers and shepherds also transgressed against Me,
And the prophets prophesied by [the authority and in the name of] Baal
And walked after [idolatrous] things that did not benefit
[them].

9 “Therefore I will still contend (struggle) with you [by bringing judgment on you],” says the LORD, ‡
“And I will contend with your children’s children.”

10 “For cross over to the coasts of Kittim (Cyprus) [to the west] and see,

Send also to Kedar (Arabia) [to the east] and carefully observe and consider

And see whether there has been such [a thing] as this!

11 “Has a nation [ever] changed gods ‡
Even though they were not gods [but merely man-made objects]?

But My people have exchanged their Glory (the true God)
For that [man-made idol] which does not benefit [them].

12 “Be appalled, O heavens, at this;
Be shocked and shudder with horror [at the behavior of the people],” says the LORD.

13 “For My people have committed two evils: ‡
They have abandoned (rejected) Me,
The fountain of living water,
And they have carved out their own cisterns,
Broken cisterns
That cannot hold water.

14 “Is Israel a servant? Is he a slave by birth? ‡
Why has he become a captive and a prey?

15 “The young lions have roared at him, ‡

They have made their voices heard and roared loudly.
And they have made his land a waste;
His cities have been destroyed and are burned ruins, without inhabitant.

16 “Moreover, the men of Memphis and Tahpanhes [as powerful enemies] ‡

Have shaved the crown of your head [to degrade you].

17 “Have you not brought this on yourself ‡

By abandoning (rejecting) the LORD your God
When He led you in the way?

18 “Now what are you doing by going to Egypt [in search of an ally], ‡

To drink the [muddy] waters of the Nile?

Or what are you doing by going to Assyria [in search of an ally],

To drink the [muddy] waters of the Euphrates?

19 “Your own wickedness will discipline you,
And your desertion of the faith will punish you.
Know therefore that it is an evil and bitter thing
For you to abandon (reject) the LORD your God,
And for you to be indifferent to Me and dismiss the [reverent] fear of Me,” says the Lord GOD of hosts.

20 “For long ago you broke your yoke [in deliberate disobedience] ‡

And tore off your bonds [of the law that I gave you];

You said, ‘I will not serve and obey You!’

For on every high hill

And under every green tree

You have lain down [in idolatrous worship] like a [compliant] prostitute.

21 “Yet I had planted you [O house of Israel as] a choice vine, ‡
A completely faithful seed.

How then have you turned against Me

Into degenerate shoots of a foreign and wild vine [alien to Me]?

22 “For though you wash yourself with lye
And use much soap,

The stain of your guilt is [still] before Me [and you are soiled and dirty]," says the Lord GOD.

<sup>23</sup> "How can you say, 'I am not defiled,‡
I have not gone after [man-made gods like] the Baals'?
Look at your way in the valley;
Know [without any doubt] what you have done!
You are a swift and restless young [female] camel [in the heat of her passion] running here and there,

<sup>24</sup> Or [you have the untamed and reckless nature of] a wild donkey accustomed to the wilderness,
That sniffs the wind in her passion [for the scent of a mate].
In her mating season who can restrain her?
No males seeking her need to weary themselves;
In her month they will find her [looking for them].

<sup>25</sup> "[Cease your mad running after idols to]‡
Keep your feet from becoming bare
And your throat from becoming dry;
But you said, 'It is hopeless!
For I have loved strangers and foreign gods,
And I will walk after them.'

<sup>26</sup> "As the thief is shamed when he is caught,
So the house of Israel is shamed—
They, their kings, their leaders,
Their priests, and their prophets—

<sup>27</sup> Who say to a tree, 'You are my father,'‡
And to a stone, 'You gave me birth.'
For they have turned their backs to Me,
And not their faces;
But in the time of their trouble they will say,
'Arise [O LORD] and save us.'

<sup>28</sup> "But where are your gods‡
Which you made for yourself?
Let them get up, if they can save you
In the time of your trouble!
For [as many as] the number of your cities
Are your gods, O Judah. [Why do not your many man-made idols run to help you?]

<sup>29</sup> “Why do you complain and contend with Me?
You have all rebelled (transgressed) against Me,” says the
LORD.

<sup>30</sup> “In vain I have punished your people [with the consequences of their disobedience]; ‡
They received no insight from correction [and refused to change].

Your [own] sword has devoured your prophets
Like a destroying lion.

<sup>31</sup> “O generation [that you are], consider and regard carefully the word of the LORD. ‡
Have I been a wilderness to Israel [like a land without food],
A land of thick and deep darkness [like a path without light]?
Why do My people say, ‘We [have broken loose and we] are free to roam [at will];
We will no longer come to You’?

<sup>32</sup> “Can a virgin forget [to wear] her ornaments, ‡
Or a bride her attire [that identifies her as a married woman]?
Yet My people have forgotten Me
Days without number.

<sup>33</sup> “How well you prepare your path
To seek and obtain [adulterous] love!
Even the most wicked of women
Have learned [indecent] ways from you.

<sup>34</sup> “Also on your skirts is found ‡
The lifeblood of the innocent poor;
You did not find them breaking in [a house].
But in spite of all these things [your disobedience, your love of idolatry, your lack of compassion]—

<sup>35</sup> Yet you keep saying, ‘I am innocent; ‡
Surely His anger has turned away from me.’
Behold (listen very carefully), I will bring you to judgment and will plead my case against you

Because you say, ‘I have not sinned.’

<sup>36</sup> “Why do you go around and wander so much ‡
Changing your way?
Also, you will be shamed by Egypt
As you were shamed by Assyria.

<sup>37</sup> “From Egypt also you will come away [as captives] ‡
With your hands on your head;
For the LORD has rejected those in whom you trust (confide),
And you will not be successful with them.”

Jeremiah 3

The Polluted Land

<sup>1</sup> THAT IS to say, “If a man divorces his wife ‡
And she goes [away] from him
And becomes another man’s [wife],
Will he return to her again? [Of course not!]
Will not that land [where such a thing happened] be completely desecrated?
But you [rebelled against Me and you] are a prostitute with many lovers;

Yet you turn to Me.” says the LORD.

<sup>2</sup> “Lift up your eyes to the barren heights and see; ‡
Where have you not been violated?
You sat by the road waiting [eagerly] for them [those man-made gods]
Like an Arab [tribesman who waits to attack] in the desert,
And you have desecrated the land
With your [vile] prostitution and your wickedness (disobedience to God).

<sup>3</sup> “Therefore the showers have been withheld, ‡
And there has been no spring rain.
Yet you have the forehead (appearance) of a prostitute;
You refuse to be ashamed.

<sup>4</sup> “Will you not just now call out to Me, ‡
‘My Father, you were the guide and companion of my youth?’
<sup>5</sup> ‘Will He be angry forever? ‡
Will He be indignant to the end?’
Behold, you have spoken,
And you have done all the evil things [you could],
And you have had your way and have carried out your wickedness.”

Faithless Israel

<sup>6</sup> Moreover, the LORD said to me in the days of Josiah the king [of Judah], “Have you seen what that faithless Israel has done—how she went up on every high hill and under every green tree, and there she was a prostitute? ‡

<sup>7</sup> “I thought, ‘After she has done all these things she will return to Me’; but she did not return, and her treacherous (faithless) sister Judah saw it. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “And I saw [that even though Judah knew] that for all the acts of adultery (idolatry) of faithless Israel, I [the LORD] had sent her away and given her a certificate of divorce, yet her treacherous sister Judah was not afraid; but she went and was a prostitute also [following after idols]. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “Yet in spite of all this her treacherous sister Judah did not return to Me with her whole heart, but rather in [blatant] deception [she merely pretended obedience to King Josiah’s reforms],” declares the LORD.  [2 Chr 34:33; Hos 7:13, 14] ‡

God Invites Repentance

<sup>11</sup> And the LORD said to me, “Faithless Israel has proved herself less guilty than treacherous Judah [a land of renegades]. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Go and proclaim these words toward the north [where the ten tribes have been taken as captives] and say, ‡

‘Return, faithless Israel,’ says the LORD;
‘I will not look on you in anger.
For I am gracious and merciful,’ says the LORD;
‘I will not be angry forever.

<sup>13</sup> ‘Only understand fully and acknowledge your wickedness and guilt, ‡

That you have rebelled (transgressed) against the LORD your God

And have scattered your favors among strangers under every green tree,

And you have not obeyed My voice,’ says the LORD.

<sup>14</sup> ‘Return, O faithless children [of the twelve tribes],’ says the LORD,‡

‘For I am a master and husband to you,
And I will take you [not as a nation, but individually]—one from a city and two from a [tribal] family—
And I will bring you to Zion.’  [Luke 15:20–22 ]

<sup>15</sup>“Then [in the final time] I will give you [spiritual] shepherds after My own heart, who will feed you with knowledge and [true] understanding.‡

<sup>16</sup>“It will be in those days when you have [repented and] multiplied and increased in the land,” says the LORD, “they will no longer say, ‘The ark of the covenant of the LORD.’ It will not come to mind, nor will they [seriously] remember it, nor will they miss it, nor will it be made again [for instead of the ark, which symbolized My presence, I will be present].  [Is 65:17; Rev 21:3, 22, 23 ]‡

<sup>17</sup>“At that time they will call Jerusalem ‘The Throne of the LORD,’ and all the nations will be gathered to it, to Jerusalem, for the name (renown) of the LORD; and they will not walk anymore after the stubbornness of their [own] evil heart.‡

<sup>18</sup>“In those days the house of Judah will walk with the house of Israel, and they will come together from the land of the north to the land that I gave your fathers as an inheritance.‡

<sup>19</sup>“Then I said,‡

‘How [gloriously and honorably] I would set you among My children

And give you a pleasant land—a wonderful heritage,

The most beautiful inheritance of the nations!’

And I said, ‘You shall call Me, My Father

And not turn away from following Me.’

<sup>20</sup>“Surely, as a wife treacherously (unfaithfully) leaves her husband,‡

So you have dealt treacherously with Me,

O house of Israel,” says the LORD.

<sup>21</sup>A voice is heard on the barren heights,‡

The weeping and pleading of the children of Israel,

Because they have lost their way,
They have [deliberately] forgotten the LORD their God.

<sup>22</sup> “Return, O faithless sons,” [says the LORD], ‡
“I will heal your unfaithfulness.”

[They answer] “Behold, we come to You,
For You are the LORD our God.

<sup>23</sup> “Truly, [the hope of salvation from] the hill [where idols are worshiped] is a deception, ‡
A tumult and noisy multitude on the mountains;
Truly in the LORD our God
Is the salvation of Israel.

<sup>24</sup> “But the shameful act [of idolatry] has consumed the labor of our fathers since our youth—their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Let us lie down in our shame, and let our dishonor and humiliation cover us; for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers; from our youth even to this day we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.” ‡

Jeremiah 4

Judah Threatened with Invasion

<sup>1</sup> “IF YOU will return, O Israel,” says the LORD, ‡
“If you will return to Me,
And if you will put away your detestable things and remove your man-made gods from My sight,
And not stray or waver,
<sup>2</sup> And if you swear [your oaths], ‘As the LORD lives,’ ‡
In truth, in justice, and in righteousness,
Then the nations will bless themselves in Him,
And in Him they will glory.”

<sup>3</sup> For this is what the LORD says to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem, ‡

“Plow your uncultivated ground [for a season],
And do not sow among thorns.

<sup>4</sup> “Circumcise (dedicate, sanctify) yourselves to the LORD ‡

And remove the foreskin [sins] of your heart,
Men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem,
Or else My wrath will go forth like fire [consuming all that gets in its way]
And burn and there will be no one to quench it,
Because of the evil of your acts.”

<sup>5</sup>Declare in Judah and proclaim in Jerusalem, and say, ‡ “Blow the trumpet in the land;

Cry aloud and say,
‘Assemble yourselves, and let us go
Into the fortified cities.’

<sup>6</sup> “Raise a banner toward Zion [to mark the way for those seeking safety inside Jerusalem’s walls]! ‡

Seek refuge, do not stand [immobile],
For I am bringing evil from the north (the army of Babylon),
And great destruction.

<sup>7</sup>“A lion has left his lair, ‡
And a destroyer of nations is on his way.
He has gone out from his place
To desolate your land;
Your cities will be in ruins
Without an inhabitant.

<sup>8</sup>“For this reason, put on sackcloth [for mourning], ‡ Lament (mourn with expressions of grief for the dead) and wail,

For the fierce anger of the LORD
Has not turned back from us.”

<sup>9</sup> “It shall come about in that day,” says the LORD, “that the heart and courage of the king will fail (be paralyzed), and also the heart of the princes;
the priests will be appalled and the prophets will be astounded and horrified.”

<sup>10</sup> Then I said, “Alas, Lord GOD! Surely You have completely deceived and misled this people and Jerusalem, [for the prophets represented You as] saying [to Your people], ‘You will have peace,’ but [in fact] a sword reaches to their throat.” ‡

<sup>11</sup> In that time it will be said to this people and to Jerusalem, “A scorching wind from the barren heights in the wilderness [comes at My command] against the daughter of My people—not [a wind] to winnow and not to cleanse [from chaff, as when threshing, but]‡

<sup>12</sup> a wind too strong and full for this comes at My word. Now I will also speak judgment against My people.”‡

<sup>13</sup>“Behold, the enemy comes up like clouds,‡
His chariots like the whirlwind;
His horses are swifter than eagles.
Woe (judgment is coming) to us, for we are ruined!”

<sup>14</sup> O Jerusalem, wash your heart from wickedness,‡
That you may be saved.
How long will your wicked and immoral thoughts Lodge within you?

<sup>15</sup>For a voice declares from Dan [far in the north],‡
And proclaims evil from Mount Ephraim.

<sup>16</sup> “Warn the [neighboring] nations now [that our enemy is coming]!

Announce to Jerusalem,
‘Besiegers are coming from a far country,
And they lift their voices and shout against the cities of Judah.

<sup>17</sup> ‘Like watchmen of a field they are against her on all sides,‡
Because she has rebelled against Me,’ says the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> “Your ways and your deeds‡
Have brought these things on you.
This is your tragedy and doom; how bitter,
How it has touched your heart!”

Lament over Judah’s Devastation

<sup>19</sup>My soul, my soul! I writhe in anguish and pain! Oh, the walls of my heart!‡

My heart is pounding and throbbing within me;
I cannot be silent,
For you have heard, O my soul,
The sound of the trumpet,
The alarm of war.

<sup>20</sup> News of one [terrible] disaster comes close after another,‡

For the whole land is devastated;
Suddenly my tents are spoiled and destroyed,
My [tent] curtains [ruined] in a moment.

<sup>21</sup> How long [O LORD] must I see the banner [marking the way for flight]
And hear the sound of the trumpet [urging the people to run for safety]?

<sup>22</sup> “For My people are stupid and foolish,” [says the LORD to Jeremiah]; ‡

“They do not know Me;
They are foolish children
And have no understanding.
They are shrewd [enough] to do evil,
But they do not know [how] to do good.”

<sup>23</sup> I looked at the earth [in my vision], and behold, it was [as at the time of creation] formless and void; ‡

And to the heavens, and they had no light.

<sup>24</sup> I looked at the mountains, and behold, they were trembling,
‡

And all the hills moved back and forth.

<sup>25</sup> I looked, and behold, there was no man, ‡

And all the birds of the air had fled.

<sup>26</sup> I looked, and behold, the fertile land was a wilderness,
And all its cities were pulled down
Before the [presence of the] LORD, before His fierce anger.

<sup>27</sup> Therefore says the LORD, ‡

“The whole land shall be a desolation,
Yet I will not cause total destruction.  [Jer 5:10 , 18 ; 30:11 ;
46:28 ]

<sup>28</sup> “For this reason the earth shall mourn ‡
And the heavens above shall become dark,
Because I have spoken, I have decided,
And I will not change my mind (relent), nor will I turn back from it.”

<sup>29</sup> Every city runs away at the sound of the horsemen and archers.

They go into the thickets and climb among the rocks;
Every city is deserted,
And no man lives in them.

<sup>30</sup> And you, O desolate one, what will you do? ‡
Though you clothe yourself in scarlet,
Though you adorn yourself with ornaments of gold,
Though you enlarge your eyes with paint,
You make yourself beautiful in vain.
Your lovers (allies) despise you;
They seek your life.

<sup>31</sup> For I heard a cry like a woman in labor, ‡
The anguish as of one giving birth to her first child,
The cry of the Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem), who gasps for breath,
Who stretches out her hands, saying, “Woe is me [my judgment comes]! I faint [in fear] before the murderers.”

Jeremiah 5

Jerusalem's Godlessness

<sup>1</sup> “ROAM BACK and forth through the streets of Jerusalem, ‡
And look now and take note.
And look in her open squares
To see if you can find a man [as Abraham sought in Sodom],
One who is just, who [has integrity and moral courage and] seeks truth (faithfulness);
Then I will pardon Jerusalem—[for the sake of one uncompromisingly righteous person].  [Gen 18:22–32
    ]

<sup>2</sup> “And though they say, ‘As the LORD lives,’ ‡ Surely they swear [their oaths] falsely.”

<sup>3</sup> O LORD, do not Your eyes look for truth? ‡
You [have seen their faithless heart and] have stricken them,
But they did not weaken;
You have consumed them,
But they refused to take correction or instruction.

They have made their faces harder than rock;
They have refused to repent and return to You.

<sup>4</sup> Then I said, “[Surely] these are only the poor (uneducated); ‡
They are [sinfully] foolish and have no [spiritual] understanding,

For they do not know the way of the LORD
Or the ordinance of their God [and the requirements of His just and righteous law].

<sup>5</sup> “I will go to the great [men] ‡

And speak to them,
For they [must] know the way of the LORD,
The ordinance of their God.”

But [I found the reverse to be true, that] they too had all alike broken the yoke [of God’s law]

And had burst the bonds [of obedience to Him].

<sup>6</sup> Therefore a lion from the forest will kill them, ‡

A wolf of the deserts will destroy them,

A leopard is watching their cities.

Everyone who goes out of them shall be torn in pieces,

Because their transgressions are many,

Their desertions of faith are countless.

<sup>7</sup> “Why should I [overlook these offenses and] forgive you? ‡

Your children have abandoned (rejected) Me

And sworn [their oaths] by those who are not gods.

When I had fed them until they were full [and bound them to Me by a promise],

They committed [spiritual] adultery,

Assembling in troops at the houses of prostitutes (idols).

<sup>8</sup> “They were like well-fed, lusty stallions, ‡

Each one neighing after his neighbor’s wife.

“Shall I not avenge Myself
On a nation such as this?”

<sup>10</sup> “Go up through the rows of Jerusalem’s vineyards and destroy [them], ‡

But do not completely destroy everything .
Strip away her branches and the tendrils [of her vines],
For they are not the LORD's.
<sup>11</sup> “For the house of Israel and the house of Judah ‡
Have dealt very treacherously (faithlessly) with Me,” declares
the LORD.
<sup>12</sup> They have lied about and denied the LORD ‡
By saying, “It is not He [who speaks through His prophets];
Misfortune and evil shall not come on us,
Nor will we see war or famine.
<sup>13</sup> “The prophets are like the wind [their prophecy will not come to pass],
And the word [of God] is not in them.
In this manner it will be done to them [as they prophesied, not to us].”

Judgment Proclaimed

<sup>14</sup> Therefore, thus says the LORD God of hosts, ‡ “Because you [people] have spoken this word,
Behold, I am making My words a fire in your mouth
[Jeremiah]
And this people wood, and My words will consume them.
<sup>15</sup> “Behold, I am bringing a nation against you from far away, O house of Israel,” says the LORD. ‡
“It is a mighty and enduring nation,
It is an ancient nation,
A nation whose language you do not know,
Whose words you do not comprehend.
<sup>16</sup> “Their quiver is [filled with the dead] like an open grave;
They are all mighty men [heroes of their nation].
<sup>17</sup> “They will consume your harvest and [eat up] your bread; ‡
They will consume your sons and your daughters;
They will consume your flocks and your herds;
They will consume your vines and your fig trees.
With the sword they will break down and demolish your fortified cities in which you trust.

18 “But even in those days,” says the LORD, “I will not totally destroy you.

‡

19 “It will come about when your people say, ‘Why has the LORD our God done all these things to us?’ then you shall answer them, ‘As you have abandoned (rejected) Me,’ [says the LORD,] ‘and have served strange and foreign gods in your land, so you will serve strangers in a land that is not yours.’ ‡

20 “Declare this in the house of Jacob

And proclaim it in Judah, saying:

21 ‘Now hear this, O foolish people without heart, ‡

Who have eyes but do not see,

Who have ears but do not hear.  [Is 6:9, 10; Matt 13:10–15; Mark 8:17, 18. ]

22 ‘Do you not fear Me?’ says the LORD. ‡

‘Do you not tremble [in awe] in My presence?

For I have placed the sand as a boundary for the sea,

An eternal decree and a perpetual barrier beyond which it cannot pass.

Though the waves [of the sea] toss and break, yet they cannot prevail [against the sand ordained to hold them back];

Though the waves and the billows roar, yet they cannot cross over [the barrier].

[Is not such a God to be feared?]

23 ‘But this people has a stubborn heart and a rebellious will [that draws them away from Me];

They have turned away and have gone [into idolatry].

24 ‘They do not say in their heart, ‡

“Let us now fear and worship the LORD our God [with profound awe and reverence],

Who gives rain in its season,

Both the autumn and the spring rain,

Who keeps for us

The appointed weeks of the harvest.”

25 ‘Your wickedness has turned these [blessings] away, ‡

And your sins have withheld good [harvests] from you.

26 ‘For wicked men are found among My people, ‡

They watch like fowlers who lie in wait;

They set a trap,
They catch men.

<sup>27</sup> ‘As a cage is full of birds,
So are their houses full of deceit and treachery;
Therefore they have become influential and rich.

<sup>28</sup> ‘They are fat and they are sleek (prosperous), ‡
They excel in acts of wickedness;
They do not plead the cause,
The cause of the orphan, so that they [the wicked] may prosper,

And they do not defend the rights of the poor.

<sup>29</sup> ‘Shall I not punish them [for these things]?’ says the

‘Shall I not avenge Myself
On such a nation as this?’

<sup>30</sup> “An appalling and horrible thing [bringing desolation and destruction] ‡

Has come to pass in the land:

<sup>31</sup> The prophets prophesy falsely, ‡
And the priests rule on their own authority;
And My people love [to have] it so!
But what will you do when the end comes?

Jeremiah 6

Destruction of Jerusalem Impending

<sup>1</sup> “RUN FOR safety, you children of Benjamin, ‡
Out of the midst of Jerusalem!
And blow a trumpet in Tekoa [in Judah]
And raise a signal-fire in Beth-haccherem [near Jerusalem];
For evil is looking down [with eager anticipation] from the north,
And great destruction.

<sup>2</sup> “I will destroy the Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem), the lovely and delicate one [so like a luxurious pasture].

<sup>3</sup> “Shepherds with their flocks will come against her; ‡

They will pitch their tents all around her;
They will pasture, each one in his place [eating up all her rich grasses].

<sup>4</sup> “[They shout], ‘Prepare for war against her; ‡
Arise, let us [take her by surprise and] attack her at noon.
But alas, the daylight pales,
The evening shadows grow long.
<sup>5</sup> ‘Arise, let us [awaken to] attack her at night
And destroy her [fortified] palaces!’ ”

<sup>6</sup> For the LORD of hosts has said,

“Cut down her trees
And build a siege [mound] against Jerusalem.
This is the city which must be punished;
There is nothing but oppression inside her [walls].
<sup>7</sup> “As a fountain springs up and pours out its fresh waters, ‡
So she [continually] pours out her fresh wickedness.
Violence and destruction are heard inside her [walls];
Sickness and wounds are always before Me.
<sup>8</sup> “Be wise and be warned, O Jerusalem, ‡
Or I will be alienated from you,
And make you a desolation,
An uninhabited land.”

<sup>9</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts,
“They will thoroughly gather like [fruit on] a vine what is left of Israel;
Pass your hand [over the vine] again and again [Babylon, tool of destruction] like a grape gatherer,
Over the branches [stripping the tendrils off the vine].”

<sup>10</sup> To whom shall I (Jeremiah) speak and give warning ‡
That they may hear?
Behold, their ears are closed [absolutely deaf to God]
And they cannot listen.
Behold, the word of the LORD has become a reprimand and an object of scorn to them;
They have no delight in it.  [Acts 7:1 ]

11. But I am full of the wrath (judgment) of the LORD; ‡
I am tired of restraining it.

“[I will] pour it out on the children in the street
And on the young men gathered together;
For both the husband and wife shall be taken,
The aged and the very old [though full of days they are not exempt from judgment].

12 “Their houses shall be turned over to others, ‡

Their fields and their wives together;
For I will stretch out My hand
Against the inhabitants of the land,” says the LORD.

13. “For from the least of them even to the greatest of them, ‡
Everyone is greedy for [unfair] gain;
And from the prophet even to the priest
Everyone deals deceitfully.

14 “They have treated superficially the [bloody] broken wound of My people, ‡

Saying, ‘Peace, peace,’
When there is no peace.

15. “Were they ashamed because they had committed disgusting and vile things? ‡

No, they were not at all ashamed;
They did not even know how to blush [at their idolatry].
Therefore they will fall among those who fall;
At the time that I punish them
They will be overthrown,” says the LORD.

16. Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Stand by the roads and look; ask for the ancient paths,
Where the good way is; then walk in it,
And you will find rest for your souls.

But they said, ‘We will not walk in it!’  [Matt 11:29 ]

17 “I have set watchmen (prophets) over you, ‡ Saying, ‘Listen and pay attention to the [warning] sound of the trumpet!’

But they said, ‘We will not listen.’

18 “Therefore hear, O [Gentile] nations,
And see, O congregation, what [vengeful act] is to be done to them.

<sup>19</sup> “Hear, O earth: behold, I am bringing disaster on this people,‡

The fruit of their schemes,

Because they have not listened and paid attention to My words,

And as for My law, they have rejected it also.

<sup>20</sup> “For what purpose does frankincense come to Me from Sheba‡

And the sweet cane from a distant land?

Your burnt offerings are not acceptable

And your sacrifices are not sweet and pleasing to Me.”

<sup>21</sup> Therefore, thus says the LORD,

“Behold, I am laying stumbling blocks before this people.

The fathers and the sons together

Will stumble against them;

The neighbor and his friend will perish.”

The Enemy from the North

<sup>22</sup> Thus says the LORD,‡

“Behold, a people is coming from the north country,

And a great nation shall be stirred up and put into action from the remote parts of the earth.

<sup>23</sup> “They seize bow and spear;‡

They are cruel and inhuman and have no mercy.

Their voice sounds like the roaring sea;

They ride [in formation] on horses,

Arrayed as a man for battle

Against you, O Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem)!”

<sup>24</sup> We have heard the report of it;‡

Our hands become limp and helpless.

Anguish has gripped us,

Pain like that of a woman in childbirth.

<sup>25</sup> Do not go out into the field

Nor walk on the road,

For the enemy is armed with the sword;
Terror is on every side.

<sup>26</sup>O daughter of my people [says Jeremiah], ‡
Clothe yourself in sackcloth and wallow in ashes;
Mourn [aloud] as for an only son,
A most bitter cry [of sorrow and regret],
For suddenly the destroyer will come upon us [on both prophet and people].

<sup>27</sup>“I [the LORD] have set you as an assayer [O Jeremiah] and as a tester [of the ore] of My people, ‡
That you may know and analyze their acts.”

<sup>28</sup> They are all the worst [kind] of [stiff-necked, godless] rebels, ‡

Going around spreading slander.

They are [not gold and silver ore, but] bronze and iron;
They are all corrupt.

<sup>29</sup>The bellows blow fiercely,
The lead is consumed by the fire;
In vain they continue refining,
But the wicked are not separated and removed.

<sup>30</sup> They call them rejected silver [only dross, without value], ‡
Because the LORD has rejected them.

Jeremiah 7

Message at the Temple Gate

<sup>3</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Change your ways and your behavior, and I will let you live in this place. ‡

<sup>4</sup>“Do not trust in the deceptive and lying words [of the false prophets who claim that Jerusalem will be protected by God because of the temple], saying, ‘This is the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the

5 “For if you thoroughly change your ways and your behavior, if you thoroughly and honestly practice justice between a man and his neighbor, ‡

6 if you do not oppress the transient and the foreigner, the orphan, or the widow, and do not shed innocent blood [by oppression and by unjust judicial murders] in Jerusalem, nor follow after other gods to your own ruin, ‡

7 then I will let you live in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers [to live in] forever and ever. ‡

8 “Behold, you are trusting in deceptive and useless words that bring no benefit. ‡

9 “Will you steal, murder, commit adultery, swear [oaths] falsely, offer sacrifices or burn incense to Baal, and follow after other gods that you have not known, ‡

10—and [then dare to] come and stand before Me in this house, which is called by My Name, and say, ‘We are protected and set free [by this act of religious ritual]!—only to go on with this wickedness and these disgusting and loathsome things? ‡

11.“Has this house, which is called by My Name, become a den of robbers in your eyes [a place of retreat for you between acts of violence]? Behold, I Myself have seen it,” says the LORD. ‡

12 “But go now to My place which was in Shiloh [in Ephraim], where I first set My Name, and see what I did to it because of the wickedness of My people Israel. [1 Sam 4:10–18.] ‡

13 “And now, because you have done all these things,” says the LORD, “and I spoke [persistently] to you, even rising up early and speaking, but you did not listen, and I called you but you did not answer, ‡

14 therefore, I will do to this house (the temple) which is called by My Name, in which you trust, and to the place which I gave you and your fathers, just as I did to Shiloh. ‡

15 “I will cast you out of My sight, as I have cast out all your brothers (relatives through Jacob), all the descendants of Ephraim. ‡

16.“Therefore, do not pray for this people [of Judah] or lift up a cry or entreaty for them or make intercession to Me, for I do not hear you. ‡

17 “Do you not see what they are doing in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18.“The children gather wood, the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough to make cakes for the queen of heaven; and they pour out drink offerings to other gods that they may offend and provoke Me to anger. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “Do they offend and provoke Me to anger?” says the LORD. “Is it not themselves [they offend], to their own shame?” ‡

<sup>20</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, My anger and My wrath will be poured out on this place, on man and beast, on the trees of the field and the fruit of the ground; and it will burn and [the fire will] not be quenched.”

<sup>21</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices and eat the meat. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “For in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, I did not speak to your fathers or command them concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “But this thing I did command them: ‘Listen to and obey My voice, and I will be your God, and you shall be My people; and you will walk in all the way which I command you, so that it may be well with you.’ ‡

<sup>24</sup> “But they did not obey Me or bend their ear [to hear Me], but followed the counsels and the stubbornness of their [own] evil heart (mind), and [they turned and] went backward instead of forward. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Since the day that your fathers came out of the land of Egypt until this day, I have [persistently] sent you all My servants the prophets, sending them daily, early [and late]. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “Yet they did not listen to Me and obey Me or bend their ear [to hear Me], but stiffened their neck; they did more evil and behaved worse than their fathers. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “You shall speak all these words to them, but they will not listen to you; and you shall [also] call to them, but they will not answer you. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “You shall say to them, ‘This is the nation that did not obey the voice of the LORD their God or accept correction and warning; truth and faithfulness have perished and have completely vanished from their mouths. ‡

And take up a mournful cry on the barren heights,
For the LORD has rejected and abandoned
The generation of His wrath.’

<sup>30</sup> “For the children of Judah have done evil in My sight,” says the LORD; “they have set their disgusting and shamefully vile things in the house which is called by My Name, to defile it. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “They have built the high places of Topheth, which is in the Valley of Ben-hinnom (son of Hinnom), to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire [to honor Molech, the fire god]—which I did not command, nor did it come into My heart (mind).  [Lev 18:21; Josh 15:8; 2 Kin 16:2, 3; 21:1, 6; I 30:33. ] ‡

<sup>32</sup> “Therefore, behold, the days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when it will no longer be called Topheth or the Valley of Ben-hinnom, but the Valley of the Slaughter, for [in bloody warfare] they will bury [the dead] in Topheth until there is no more room.  [Jer 19:6. ] ‡

<sup>33</sup> “And the dead bodies of this people will be food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth and no one will frighten them away. ‡

<sup>34</sup> “Then I will cause the voices of joy and gladness, and the voices of the bridegroom and the bride to vanish from the cities of Judah and from the streets of Jerusalem; for the land will become a ruin—a wasteland. ‡

Jeremiah 8

The Sin and Treachery of Judah

<sup>1</sup> “AT THAT time,” says the LORD, “they [the Babylonian army] will bring out from their graves the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of its princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

<sup>2</sup> “They will [carelessly scatter and] spread them out before the sun and the moon and all the host of heaven, which the dead have loved and which they have served, and which they have walked after and which they have sought, and which they have worshiped. They will not be gathered or be buried; they will be like dung on the face of the earth. ‡

<sup>3</sup> “And death will be chosen rather than life by all the remnant of those who remain of this evil family (nation), who remain in all the places to which I have driven them,” says the LORD of hosts. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Moreover [Jeremiah], you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Do men fall and not rise up again?

Does one turn away [from God] and not repent and return [to Him]? ”

<sup>5</sup> “Why then has this people of Jerusalem ‡
Turned away with a perpetual turning away [from Me]?
They hold tightly to deceit (idolatry);
They refuse to repent and return [to God].

<sup>6</sup> “I have listened and heard, ‡
But they have spoken what is not right;
No man repented of his wickedness,
Saying, ‘What have I done?’
Everyone turns to his [individual] course,
As the horse rushes like a torrent into battle.

<sup>7</sup> “Even the stork in the sky ‡
Knows her seasons [of migration],
And the turtledove, the swallow and the crane
Observe the time of their return.
But My people do not know
The law of the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> “How can you say, ‘We are wise, ‡
And the law of the LORD is with us [and we are learned in its language and teachings]’?
Behold, [the truth is that] the lying pen of the scribes
Has made the law into a lie [a mere code of ceremonial observances].  [Mark 7:13 ]

<sup>9</sup> “The wise men are shamed, ‡
They are dismayed and caught.
Behold, they have [manipulated and] rejected the [truth in the] word of the LORD,

And what kind of wisdom and insight do they have?

<sup>10</sup> “Therefore I will give their wives to others ‡
And their fields to new owners;
Because from the least even to the greatest
Everyone is greedy for [unjust] gain;
From the prophet even to the priest
Everyone practices deceit and deals in corruption.

<sup>11</sup> “For they have treated the brokenness of the daughter of My people superficially, ‡
Saying, ‘Peace, peace,’
When there is no peace.

<sup>12</sup> “Were they ashamed because of the extremely disgusting and shamefully vile things they had done? ‡

They were not at all ashamed,
And they did not know how to blush.
Therefore, they shall fall among those who fall;
At the time of their punishment they shall be overthrown,”
Says the LORD.  [Jer 6:12–15 ]

<sup>13</sup> “I will gather and snatch them away [utterly consuming them],” says the LORD. ‡

“There will be no grapes on the vine,
Nor figs on the fig tree,
And even the leaf will wither;
And the things that I have given them will pass away [by the hand of those whom I have appointed].” ’ ”  [Matt 21:18, 19 ]

<sup>14</sup> Why are we sitting still [the people wonder]? ‡
Assemble yourselves, and let us enter the fortified cities
And let us die there,
For the LORD our God has decreed our ruin
And given us bitter and poisonous water to drink,
Because we have sinned against the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> We waited for peace and salvation, but no good came, ‡
And for a time of healing, but behold, terror!

<sup>16</sup> The snorting of [Nebuchadnezzar’s] horses is heard from Dan [on Palestine’s northern border]. ‡
At the sound of the neighing of his strong stallions
The whole land quakes;
For they come and devour the land and all that is in it,
The city and those who live in it.

<sup>17</sup> “For behold, I am sending serpents among you, ‡
Vipers which cannot be charmed,
And they will bite you,” says the LORD.

<sup>18</sup> Oh, that I (Jeremiah) could find comfort from my sorrow [for my grief is beyond healing],

My heart is sick and faint within me!

<sup>19</sup> Behold, [hear the sound of] the cry of the daughter of my people from the distant land [of Babylon]: ‡ “Is not the LORD in Zion? Is not her King within her?”

[But the LORD answers] “Why have they provoked Me to anger with their carved images and with foreign idols?”
20“The harvest is past, the summer has ended and the gathering of fruit is over,
But we are not saved,” [comes the voice of the people again].
21 For the brokenness of the daughter of my people I (Jeremiah) am broken; ‡
I mourn, anxiety has gripped me.
22Is there no balm in Gilead? ‡
Is there no physician there?
Why then has not the [spiritual] health of the daughter of my people been restored?

Jeremiah 9

A Lament over Zion

1.OH THAT my head were waters ‡
And my eyes a fountain of tears,
That I might weep day and night
For the slain of the daughter of my people!
2 Oh that I had in the wilderness ‡
A lodging place (a mere shelter) for wayfaring men,
That I might leave my people
And go away from them!
For they are all adulterers [worshiping idols instead of the
LORD],
[They are] an assembly of treacherous men [of weak character, men without integrity].
3.“They bend their tongue like their bow; ‡
[Their] lies and not truth prevail and grow strong in the land;
For they proceed from evil to evil,
And they do not know and understand and acknowledge Me,”
says the LORD.
4.“Let everyone beware of his neighbor ‡

And do not trust any brother.
For every brother is a supplanter [like Jacob, a deceiver, ready to grab his brother's heel],
And every neighbor goes around as a slanderer. [Gen 25:26.]
<sup>5</sup> “Everyone deceives and mocks his neighbor
And does not speak the truth.
They have taught their tongue to speak lies;
They exhaust themselves with sin and cruelty.
<sup>6</sup> “Your dwelling is in the midst of deceit [oppression upon oppression and deceit upon deceit];
Through deceit they refuse to know (understand) Me,” says
the LORD.

<sup>7</sup> Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡

“Behold, I will refine them [through suffering] and test them;
For how else should I deal with the daughter of My people?
<sup>8</sup> “Their tongue is a murderous arrow; ‡
It speaks deceit;
With his mouth one speaks peace to his neighbor,
But in his heart he lays traps and waits in ambush for him.
<sup>9</sup> “Shall I not punish them for these things?” says the LORD. ‡
“Shall I not avenge Myself
On such a nation as this?

<sup>10</sup> “I will take up a weeping and wailing for the mountains, ‡
And a [funeral] dirge for the pastures of the wilderness, Because they are burned up and desolated so that no one passes through [them];
Nor can anyone hear the lowing of cattle.
Both the birds of the air and the beasts have fled; they are gone.

<sup>11</sup> “I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins, ‡
A haunt and dwelling place of jackals;
And I will make the cities of Judah a desolation, without inhabitant.”

<sup>12</sup> Who is the wise man who may understand this [without any doubt]? To whom has the mouth of the LORD spoken, so that he may declare it? Why is the land ruined, laid waste like a wilderness, so that no one passes through? ‡

13. The LORD said, “Because they have turned away from My law which I set before them, and have not listened to and obeyed My voice nor walked in accordance with it,

<sup>14</sup> but have walked stubbornly after their [own] heart and after the Baals, as their fathers taught them,” ‡

<sup>15</sup> therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “behold, I will feed them, this people, with wormwood and give them bitter and poisonous water to drink. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “I will [also] scatter them among nations that neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will send the sword after them until I have annihilated them.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡

“Consider and call for the mourning women to come;
Send for the wailing women to come.

18. “Let them hurry and take up a wailing for us, ‡
That our eyes may shed tears
And our eyelids flow with water.

<sup>19</sup> “For a sound of wailing is heard [coming] from Zion: ‡
‘How we are ruined!

We are greatly perplexed and utterly shamed,
Because we have left the land,
Because they have torn down our dwellings.’ ”

<sup>20</sup> Now hear the word of the LORD, O you women,
And let your ear hear the word of His mouth;
Teach your daughters a song of mourning,
And each one [teach] her neighbor a dirge.

21. For death has come up through our windows; ‡
It has entered our palaces,
Cutting off the children from the streets
And the young men from the town squares.

<sup>22</sup> Speak, “Thus says the LORD, ‡
‘The dead bodies of men will fall like dung on the open field,
And like sheaves [of grain] behind the reaper,
And no one will gather them.’ ” [Jer 8:2]

<sup>23</sup> Thus says the LORD, “Let not the one who is wise and skillful boast in his insight; let not the one who is mighty and powerful boast in his strength; let not the one who is rich boast in his [temporal satisfactions and earthly] abundance; ‡

<sup>24</sup> but let the one who boasts boast in this, that he understands and knows Me [and acknowledges Me and honors Me as God and recognizes without any doubt], that I am the LORD who practices lovingkindness, justice and righteousness on the earth, for in these things I delight,” says the LORD.  [1 Cor 1:31; 2 Cor 10:17] ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when I will punish all who are circumcised [physically] and yet uncircumcised [spiritually]—  [Rom 2:25–29] ‡

<sup>26</sup> Egypt and Judah, and Edom and the sons of Ammon, and Moab and all those who live in the desert who clip off the hair on their temples; for all these nations are uncircumcised (sinful, impure), and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in heart.” ‡

Jeremiah 10

A Satire on Idolatry

<sup>1</sup> HEAR THE word which the LORD speaks to you, O house of Israel.

<sup>2</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Do not learn the way of the [pagan] nations,
And do not be terrified and distressed by the signs of the heavens

Although the pagans are terrified by them;

<sup>3</sup> For the customs and decrees of the peoples are [mere] delusion [exercises in futility]; ‡

It is only wood which one cuts from the forest [to make a
god],

The work of the hands of the craftsman with the axe or cutting tool.

<sup>4</sup> “They adorn the idol with silver and with gold; ‡
They fasten it with hammers and nails
So that it will not fall apart.

<sup>5</sup> “They are like scarecrows in a cucumber field; ‡
They cannot speak;
They have to be carried,
Because they cannot walk!
Do not be afraid of them,
For they can do no harm or evil,
Nor can they do any good.”

<sup>6</sup> There is none like You, O LORD; ‡
You are great, and great is Your mighty and powerful name.
<sup>7</sup> Who would not fear You, O King of the nations? ‡
For it is appropriate and it is Your due!
For among all the wise men of the nations
And in all their kingdoms,
There is none like You.
<sup>8</sup> But they are altogether irrational and stupid and foolish ‡
In their discipline of delusion—their idol is [only] wood [it is ridiculous, empty and worthless]!
<sup>9</sup> Silver that has been beaten [into plates] is brought from Tarshish, ‡
And gold from Uphaz,
The work of the craftsman and of the hand of the goldsmith;
Violet and purple are their clothing;
They are all the work of skilled men.
<sup>10</sup> But the LORD is the true God and the God who is Truth; ‡
He is the living God and the everlasting King.
The earth quakes and shudders at His wrath,
And the nations are not able to endure His indignation.

<sup>11</sup> In this manner you shall say to them, “The gods that did not make the heavens and the earth will perish from the earth and from under the heavens.”
‡

He established the world by His wisdom
And by His understanding and skill He has stretched out the heavens.

<sup>13</sup> When He utters His voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens,‡

And He causes the clouds and the mist to ascend from the end of the earth;
He makes lightning for the rain,
And brings out the wind from His treasuries and from His storehouses.
<sup>14</sup> Every man has become [like a brute] irrational and stupid, without knowledge [of God];‡
Every goldsmith is shamed by his carved idols;
For his molten images are frauds and lies,
And there is no breath in them.
<sup>15</sup> They are worthless and devoid of promise, a work of delusion and mockery;
In their time of [trial and] punishment they will perish [without hope].
<sup>16</sup> The Portion of Jacob [the true God on whom Israel has a claim] is not like these;‡
For He is the Designer and Maker of all things,
And Israel is the tribe of His inheritance [and He will not fail
them]—
The LORD of hosts is His name.

<sup>17</sup> Gather up your bundle [of goods] from the ground,‡
You who live under siege.

<sup>18</sup> For thus says the LORD;‡

“Behold, I am slinging out at this time the people of this land,
And will cause them [great] distress,
That they may find it [to be as I have said].”

<sup>19</sup> “Woe to me because of my [spiritual] brokenness!” [says
Jeremiah, speaking for the nation.]‡

“My wound is incurable.”
But I said, “Surely this sickness and suffering and grief are mine,

And I must bear it.”

<sup>20</sup> My tent is destroyed,‡
And all my [tent] cords are broken;

My children have been taken from me [as captives] and are no more.

There is no one to stretch out my tent again
And to set up my [tent] curtains.

<sup>21</sup> For the shepherds [of the people] have become [like brutes,] irrational and stupid,

And have not searched for the LORD or asked about Him or realized their need for Him;

Therefore they have not been wise and have not prospered,
And all their flocks are scattered.

<sup>22</sup> The sound of a report! Behold, [the invader] comes—‡

A great commotion from the country of the north (Babylonia)

To make the cities of Judah
A desolation, a haunt and dwelling place of jackals.

It is not within [the limited ability of] man [even one at his best] to choose and direct his steps [in life].  [Ps 37:23; Prov 20:24 ]

<sup>24</sup> O LORD, correct me [along with Your people], but with mercy and in just measure—‡

Not in Your anger, or You will crush me and bring me to nothing.

<sup>25</sup> Pour out Your wrath on the nations that do not know nor recognize You ‡

And on the families that do not call Your name.

For they have devoured Jacob;

They have devoured him and consumed him

And made his land a desolate waste.

The Broken Covenant

<sup>2</sup> “Hear the words of this [solemn] covenant, and speak to the men of Judah and to the people of Jerusalem.

<sup>3</sup> “Say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, “Cursed is the man who does not heed the words of this covenant.”

<sup>4</sup> which I commanded your fathers at the time that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, ‘Listen to My voice and do according to all that I command you. So you shall be My people, and I will be your God.’

<sup>5</sup> that I may complete the oath which I swore to your fathers, to give them a land [of plenty] flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day.” Then I answered, “Amen (so be it), O LORD.”

<sup>6</sup> And the LORD said to me, “Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: ‘Hear the words of this [solemn] covenant and do them.’

<sup>7</sup> ‘For I solemnly warned your fathers at the time that I brought them up from the land of Egypt, even to this day, warning them persistently, saying, “Obey My voice.”’

<sup>8</sup> ‘Yet they did not obey or incline their ear [to listen to Me], but everyone walked in the stubborn way of his [own] evil heart. Therefore I brought on them all [the suffering threatened in] the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did not.’”

<sup>9</sup> Then the LORD said to me, “A conspiracy has been found among the men of Judah and among the people of Jerusalem.”

<sup>10</sup> “They have returned to the wickedness of their ancestors who refused to hear My words; they have followed other gods [in order] to serve them. The house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken My [solemn] covenant which I made with their fathers.”

<sup>11</sup> Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold I am bringing disaster and suffering on them which they will not be able to escape; though they cry to Me, I will not listen to them.”

<sup>12</sup> “Then the cities of Judah and the people of Jerusalem will go and cry to the [man-made] gods to whom they burn incense, but they cannot save them in the time of their disaster.”

<sup>13</sup> “For [as many as] the number of your cities are your gods, O Judah; and [as many as] the number of the streets of Jerusalem are the altars you have set up to the shameful thing, altars to burn incense to Baal.”

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore do not pray for this people, nor lift up a cry or prayer for them, for I shall not listen when they cry to Me in the time of their disaster.”

<sup>15</sup> “What right has My beloved [to be] in My house ‡
When she has done many vile things and acted treacherously [over and over again]?

Can vows and the meat of your sacrifices remove your wickedness from you and cancel the consequences of your sin,

So that you can [escape your judgment and] rejoice?”

<sup>16</sup> The LORD [acknowledged you once as worthy and] called your name, ‡

“A green olive tree, fair and beautiful in fruit and form”;
But with the roar of a great tempest
He has set fire to it,
And its branches are worthless.  [Ps 52:8 ; Jer 21:14 ]

<sup>17</sup> For the LORD of hosts, who planted you, has pronounced evil and horror against you because of the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done to provoke Me [to anger] by offering sacrifices and burning incense to Baal. ‡

Plots against Jeremiah

<sup>18</sup> Then the LORD gave me knowledge [of their plot], and I knew it;

So You [O LORD] revealed their deeds to me.

<sup>19</sup> But I was like a gentle and tame lamb brought to the slaughter; ‡

And I did not know that they had devised plots and schemes against me, saying,

“Let us destroy the tree with its fruit;
Let us cut him off from the land of the living,
That his name be remembered no longer.”

<sup>20</sup> But, O LORD of hosts, who judges righteously, ‡
Who tests the feelings and the heart (mind),
Let me see Your vengeance on them,
For to You I have committed my cause.

<sup>21</sup> Therefore thus says the LORD regarding the men of Anathoth, who seek your life, saying, “Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD, so that you will not die by our hand.” ‡

<sup>22</sup> Therefore, thus says the LORD of hosts, “Behold, I am about to punish them. Their young men will die by the sword, their sons and their daughters will die by famine;

<sup>23</sup> and there will be no remnant [of the conspirators] left, for I will bring disaster and horror on the men of Anathoth in the year of their punishment.” ‡

Jeremiah 12

Jeremiah's Prayer

<sup>1</sup> YOU, O LORD are [uncompromisingly] righteous and consistently just when I plead my case with You; ‡

Yet let me discuss issues of justice with You:

Why has the way of the wicked prospered?

Why are those who deal in treachery (deceit) at ease and thriving?

<sup>2</sup> You have planted them, they have also taken root; ‡

They grow, they have even produced fruit.

You are honored by their [hypocritical] lips

But [You are] far from their heart and mind.

<sup>3</sup> But You, O LORD, know me [and understand my devotion to You]; ‡

You see me;

And You examine the attitude of my heart toward You.

Drag out the faithless like sheep for the slaughter [O LORD]

And set them apart for the day of slaughter.

<sup>4</sup>. How long must the land mourn ‡

And the grass of the countryside wither?

Because of the wickedness and hypocrisy of those who live in it,

The beasts and the birds are consumed and are swept away [by the drought],

Because men [mocking me] have said, “He will not [live long enough to] see [what happens at] our final end.”

<sup>5</sup>. [The LORD rebukes Jeremiah for his impatience, saying] “If you have raced with men on foot and they have tired you out,‡

Then how can you compete with horses?
If you fall down in a land of peace [where you feel secure],
Then how will you do [among the lions] in the [flooded] thicket beside the Jordan?
<sup>6</sup> “For even your [tribal] brothers and the household of your father,‡
Even they have dealt treacherously (unfaithfully) with you;
Indeed they are [like a pack of hounds] howling after you.
Do not believe them, although they may say kind words and promise you good things.”

God’s Answer

<sup>7</sup> “I have abandoned My house,
I have given up My [precious] inheritance (Judah);
I have given the [dearly] beloved of My life
Into the hands of her enemies.
<sup>8</sup> “My inheritance has become to Me
Like a lion in the forest;
She has raised her voice and roared against Me;
So I have come to [treat her as if I] hate her.
<sup>9</sup> “Is My inheritance like a speckled bird of prey to Me [unlike the others]?‡
Are the birds of prey (enemies) surrounding her on every side?
Go, gather all the [wild] beasts of the field;
Bring them to devour [her]!
<sup>10</sup> “Many shepherds (invaders) have destroyed My vineyard (Judah),‡
They have trampled My field underfoot;
They have made My pleasant field
A desolate wilderness.
<sup>11</sup> “They have made it a wasteland,‡
Desolate, it mourns before Me;
The whole land has been made a wasteland,
Because no man takes it to heart.
<sup>12</sup> “Destroyers have come

On all the caravan roads in the desert,
For the sword of the LORD (Babylon) is devouring
From one end of the land even to the other;
No one has peace or a way of escape.

<sup>13</sup> “They have planted wheat but have reaped thorns; ‡
They have exhausted themselves but without profit.
So be ashamed of your harvest
Because of the fierce and raging anger of the LORD.”

<sup>14</sup> Thus says the LORD regarding all My evil neighbors (Gentile nations) who strike at the inheritance which I have granted to My people Israel, “Behold, I will uproot them from their land and I will uproot the house of Judah from among them. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “And it shall come about that after I have uprooted them, I will return and have compassion on them; and I will bring them back again, each one to his inheritance and each one to his land. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “And if these [neighboring nations] will diligently learn the ways of My people, to swear by My Name, saying, ‘As the LORD lives’—even as they taught My people to swear by Baal, then they will be built up among My people. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “But if [any nation] will not listen and obey, I will [completely] uproot and destroy that nation, says the LORD.” ‡

Jeremiah 13

The Ruined Waistband

<sup>1</sup> THUS THE LORD said to me, “Go and buy yourself a linen waistband and put it on your loins, but do not put it in water.”

<sup>2</sup> So I bought the waistband according to the word of the LORD and put it on my loins.

<sup>3</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me a second time, saying,

<sup>4</sup> “Get up and take the waistband that you have bought, which is [wrapped] around your loins, and go to the [river] Euphrates and hide it there in a crevice of the rock.”

<sup>5</sup> So I went and hid it by the Euphrates, as the LORD had commanded me.

<sup>6</sup> And after many days the LORD said to me, “Get up, go to the Euphrates and get the waistband which I commanded you to hide there.”

<sup>7</sup> Then I went to the Euphrates and dug, and I took the waistband from the place where I had hidden it. And behold, the waistband was decayed and ruined; it was completely worthless.

<sup>8</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>9</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘In this same way I shall destroy the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem.’ ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘These wicked and malevolent people, who refuse to listen to My words, who walk in the stubborn way of their heart and have followed other gods [which are nothing—just man-made carvings] to serve them and to worship them, let them be just like this waistband which is completely worthless. ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘For as the waistband clings to the body of a man, so I caused the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to cling to Me,’ says the LORD, ‘that they might be for Me a people, a name, a praise, and a glory; but they did not listen and obey.’ ‡

Captivity Threatened

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore you are to speak this word to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Every jar should be filled with wine.’ ’ The people will say to you, ‘Do we not already know that every jar should be filled with wine?’

<sup>13</sup> “Then say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I am about to fill with drunkenness all the people of this land, even the kings who sit on David’s throne, the priests, the prophets and all the people of Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “I will smash them one against another, both the fathers and the sons together,” says the LORD. “I shall destroy them [nothing will restrain Me]; I will not show pity nor be sorry nor have compassion.” ’ ” ‡

For the LORD has spoken [says Jeremiah].

<sup>16</sup> Give glory to the LORD your God, ‡

Before He brings darkness

And before your feet stumble

On the dark and shadowy mountains,

And while you are longing for light

He turns it into the shadow of death,

And makes it into thick darkness.

<sup>17</sup> But if you will not listen and obey, ‡
My soul will weep in secret for your pride;
My eyes will weep bitterly
And flow with tears,
Because the LORD's flock has been taken captive.

<sup>18</sup> Say to the king and the queen mother, ‡ “Humble yourselves and take a lowly seat,
For your beautiful crown [the crown of your glory]
Has come down from your head.”

<sup>19</sup> The cities of the South (the Negev) have been closed up,
And there is no one to open them;
All Judah has been carried into exile,
Completely carried away into exile.

<sup>20</sup> “Lift up your eyes and see ‡
Those coming from the north.
Where is the flock that was given to you [to shepherd],
Your beautiful flock?

<sup>21</sup> “What will you say [O Jerusalem] when the LORD appoints [foreign nations to rule] over you— ‡
Those former friends and allies whom you have encouraged [to be your companions]—

Will not pain seize you
Like [that of] a woman in childbirth?

<sup>22</sup> “And if you [wonder and] say in your heart, ‡
‘Why have these things happened to me?’
It is because of the greatness and nature of your sin
That your skirts have been pulled away [subjecting you to public disgrace]

And [like a barefoot slave] your heels have been wounded.

<sup>23</sup> “Can the Ethiopian change his skin
Or the leopard his spots?
Then you also can do good
Who are accustomed to evil and even trained to do it.
<sup>24</sup> “Therefore I will scatter you like drifting straw ‡
[Driven away] by the desert wind.

<sup>25</sup> “This is your destiny, the portion [of judgment] measured to you ‡

From Me,” says the LORD,
“Because you have forgotten Me
And trusted in [pagan] lies [the counterfeit gods, and the pretense of alliance].”

That your shame may be exposed [publicly].

<sup>27</sup> “I have seen your vile and detestable acts, ‡
Even your adulteries and your lustful neighborings [after idols],
And the lewdness of your prostitution
On the hills in the fields.
Woe (judgment is coming) to you, O Jerusalem!
How long will you remain unclean [by ignoring My precepts]?”

Jeremiah 14

Drought and a Prayer for Mercy

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the drought:

<sup>2</sup> “Judah mourns ‡
And her gates languish;
Her people sit on the ground in mourning clothes
And the cry of Jerusalem has gone up.

<sup>3</sup> “Their nobles have sent their servants for water; ‡
They have come to the cisterns and found no water.
They have returned with empty vessels;
They have been shamed and humiliated,
And they cover their heads.

<sup>4</sup> “The ground is cracked
Because there has been no rain on the land;
The farmers are distressed,
And they have covered their heads [in shame].

<sup>5</sup> “The doe in the field has given birth only to abandon her young
Because there is no grass.

<sup>6</sup> “And the wild donkeys stand on the barren heights; ‡
They pant for air like jackals,

Their eyesight fails
Because there is no grass.

“Act now [for us and] for Your name’s sake [so that the faithless may witness Your faithfulness]!

For our backslidings are countless;
We have sinned against You.

8.“O Hope of Israel, ‡

Her Savior in time of distress and trouble,
Why should You be like a sojourner (temporary resident) in the land

Or like a traveler who turns aside and spreads his tent to linger [only] for a night?

<sup>9</sup> “Why should You be [hesitant and inactive] like a man astounded and perplexed, ‡

Like a mighty man unable to save?
Yet You, O LORD, are among us,
And we are called by Your name;
Do not leave us!”

10.Thus says the LORD to this people [Judah], “In the manner and to the degree [already pointed out] they have loved to wander; they have not restrained their feet. Therefore the LORD does not accept them; He will now remember [in detail] their wickedness and punish them for their sins.” ‡

<sup>11</sup> So the LORD said to me, “Do not pray for good things for this people. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Though they fast, I will not hear their cry; and though they offer burnt offerings and grain offerings, I will not accept them [because they are done as obligations, and not as acts of loving obedience]. Instead I will consume them by the sword, by famine, and by pestilence.” ‡

False Prophets

13.But I said, “Alas, Lord GOD! Behold, the [false] prophets are telling them, ‘You will not see the sword nor will you have famine, but I [the LORD] will give you lasting peace in this place.’ ” ‡

<sup>14</sup> Then the LORD said to me, “The [counterfeit] prophets are prophesying lies in My Name. I have neither sent them nor authorized them nor spoken to them. They are prophesying to you made-up visions [pretending to call forth responses from handmade gods], a worthless divination and the deceit of their own mind. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “Therefore, thus says the LORD concerning the [false] prophets who are prophesying in My Name, although I did not send them—yet they keep saying, ‘Sword and famine shall not be in this land’: by sword and famine those prophets shall meet their end and be consumed. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “And the people to whom they are prophesying will be thrown out into the streets of Jerusalem, victims of famine and sword; and they will have no one to bury them—neither them, nor their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters. For I will pour out their [own] wickedness on them [and not only on the imposters posing as prophets, for the people could not have been deceived without their own consent]. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Therefore [Jeremiah] you will say this word to them, ‡
‘Let my eyes flow with tears night and day,
And let them never cease;
For the virgin daughter of my people has been crushed with a great blow,

With a very serious and severely infected wound.

<sup>18</sup> ‘If I go out into the field, ‡
Then I gaze on those slaughtered with the sword!
And if I enter the city,
Then I gaze on [those tormented with] the diseases of famine!
For both prophet and priest [who should have guided the people]
Go about [bewildered and exiled] in a land (Babylon) that they do not know or understand.’ ”

<sup>19</sup> Have You [O LORD] completely rejected Judah? ‡

Do You loathe Zion?

Why have You stricken us so that there is no healing for us?

We looked for peace and completeness, but nothing good came;

And [we hoped] for a time of healing, but behold, terror!

<sup>20</sup> We know and acknowledge, O LORD, ‡

Our wickedness and the iniquity of our fathers; for we have sinned against You.

21-Do not treat us with contempt and condemn us, for Your own name's sake; ‡

Do not disgrace Your glorious throne;

Remember [with consideration] and do not break Your [solemn] covenant with us.

22 Are there any among the idols of the nations who can send rain? ‡

Or can the heavens [of their own will] give showers?

Is it not You, O LORD our God?

Therefore we will wait and hope [confidently] in You,

For You are the one who has made all these things [the heavens and the rain].

Jeremiah 15

Judgment Must Come

1 THEN THE LORD said to me, “Even though Moses and Samuel were to stand before Me [interceding for them], My heart would still not be [turned with favor] toward this people [Judah]. Send them away from My presence and out of My sight and let them go! ‡

2“And it shall be that when they say to you, ‘Where should we go?’ then tell them, ‘Thus says the LORD: ‡

“Those [destined] for death, to death;
Those for the sword, to the sword;
Those for famine, to famine;
Those for captivity, to captivity.” ’

3 “I will appoint four kinds of destroyers over them,” says the LORD, “the sword to slay, the dogs to tear and drag away, and the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth to devour and to destroy. ‡

4 “I will make them an object of horror to all nations of the earth because of Manasseh [the despicable] son of Hezekiah, king of Judah, for the [evil and detestable] things which he did in Jerusalem.  [2 Kin 21:1-18 ] ‡

5 “For who will have pity on you, O Jerusalem,
Or who will mourn for you,

Or who will turn aside to ask about your welfare?

<sup>6</sup> “You have abandoned (rejected) Me,” says the LORD. ‡

“You keep going backward.

Therefore I shall stretch out My hand against you and destroy
you;

I am tired of delaying [your punishment]!

<sup>7</sup> “I will winnow (sort, separate) them with a winnowing fork
At the gates of the land;

I will deprive them of children, I will destroy My people;
They did not repent and turn from their [evil] ways.

<sup>8</sup> “I will make their widows more numerous before Me
Than the sand of the seas;

I will bring against them, against the mother of the young men,

A destroyer at noonday;

I will suddenly cause anguish and terror
To fall on her.

<sup>9</sup> “She who has borne seven [sons] languishes; ‡
She has breathed out her soul.

Her sun has set while it was still day;
She has been shamed and humiliated.

So I will hand over [the rest of] the survivors to the sword
Before their enemies,” says the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> Woe to me, my mother, that you have given birth to me ‡
To be a man of strife and a man of contention to all the earth!
I have not loaned, nor have men lent money to me,
Yet everyone curses me.  [Jer 1:18, 19 ]

<sup>11</sup> The LORD said, “Surely [it will go well for Judah’s obedient remnant for] I will set you free for good purposes; ‡

Surely [Jeremiah] I will [intercede for you with the enemy and I will] cause the enemy to plead with you [for help]

In a time of disaster and a time of distress.  [Jer 21:1, 2; 37:3;
42:2; Rom 8:28 ]

<sup>12</sup> “Can anyone crush iron,

The iron from the north, or bronze?

- <sup>13</sup> “Your [nation’s] riches and your treasures ‡
I will give as plunder without price [to the Babylonians],
Because of all your sins
And within all your territories.
- <sup>14</sup> “Then I will make your enemies bring [you along with] your possessions ‡
Into a land which you do not know [for there you will serve your conquerors];
For a fire has been kindled in My anger,
Which will burn upon you.”

Jeremiah’s Prayer and God’s Answer

- <sup>15</sup> O LORD, You know and understand; ‡ Remember me [thoughtfully], take notice of me, take vengeance for me on my persecutors.
Do not, in view of Your patience, take me away;
Know that for Your sake I endure [continual] rebuke and dishonor.
- <sup>16</sup> Your words were found and I ate them, ‡
And Your words became a joy to me and the delight of my heart;
For I have been called by Your name,
O LORD God of hosts.
- <sup>17</sup> I did not sit with the group of those who celebrate, ‡
Nor did I rejoice;
I sat alone because Your [powerful] hand was upon me,
For You had filled me with indignation [at their sin].
- <sup>18</sup> Why has my pain been perpetual ‡
And my wound incurable, refusing to be healed?
Will you indeed be to me like a deceptive brook
With water that is unreliable?
- <sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus says the LORD [to Jeremiah], ‡ “If you repent [and give up this mistaken attitude of despair and self-pity], then I will restore you [to a state of inner peace]

So that you may stand before Me [as My obedient representative];

And if you separate the precious from the worthless [examining yourself and cleansing your heart from unwarranted doubt concerning My faithfulness],

You will become My spokesman.

Let the people turn to you [and learn to value My values]—

But you, you must not turn to them [with regard for their idolatry and wickedness].

<sup>20</sup> “And I will make you to this people ‡

A fortified wall of bronze;

They will fight against you,

But they will not prevail over you,

For I am with you [always] to save you

And protect you,” says the LORD.

<sup>21</sup> “So I will rescue you out of the hand of the wicked,

And I will redeem you from the [grasping] palm of the terrible and ruthless [tyrant].”

Jeremiah 16

Distresses Foretold

<sup>3</sup> For thus says the LORD concerning the sons and daughters who are born in this place, and concerning the mothers who give birth to them, and the fathers who father them in this land:

<sup>4</sup> “They will die of deadly diseases. They will not be mourned or buried; they will be like dung on the surface of the ground and come to an end by sword and famine, and their dead bodies will be food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> For thus says the LORD, “Do not enter a house of mourning, nor go to lament (express grief) or bemoan [the dead], for I have taken My peace away from this people,” says the LORD, “even My lovingkindness and compassion. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “Both great men and small will die in this land; they will not be buried, nor will they be lamented (mourned over with expressions of grief in death), nor will anyone cut himself or shave his head for them [in mourning].‡

<sup>7</sup> “People will not offer food to the mourners, to comfort anyone [as they grieve] for the dead, nor give them a cup of consolation to drink for anyone’s father or mother.‡

<sup>8</sup> “And you [Jeremiah] shall not go into a house of feasting to sit with them to eat and drink.”

<sup>9</sup> For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will remove from this place, before your very eyes and in your time, the sound of joy and the shout of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride.‡

<sup>10</sup> “Now when you tell these people all these words and they ask you, ‘Why has the LORD decreed all this great tragedy against us? And what is our iniquity, what is the sin which we have committed against the LORD our God?’‡

<sup>11</sup> “Then you are to say to them, ‘It is because your fathers have abandoned (rejected) Me,’ says the LORD, ‘and have walked after other gods and have served them and bowed down to the handmade idols and have abandoned (rejected) Me and have not kept My law,‡

<sup>12</sup> and because you have done worse [things] than your fathers. Just look, every one of you walks in the stubbornness of his own evil heart, so that you do not listen [obediently] to Me.‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘Therefore I will hurl you out of this land [of Judah] into the land [of the Babylonians] which neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you will serve other gods day and night, for I will show you no compassion.’‡

God Will Restore Them

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when it will no longer be said, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the sons of Israel out of the land of Egypt,’‡

<sup>15</sup> but, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the sons of Israel from the land of the north and from all the countries to which He had driven them.’ And I will bring them back to their land which I gave to their fathers.‡

<sup>16</sup> “Behold (listen carefully), I will send for many fishermen,” says the LORD, “and they will fish for them; and afterward I will send for many hunters, and they will hunt them from every mountain and from every hill and out of the clefts of the rocks.‡

<sup>17</sup> “For My eyes are on all their ways; they are not hidden from My face, nor is their wickedness concealed from My eyes.‡

<sup>18</sup> “I will first doubly repay and punish them for their wickedness and their sin [before I return them to their land], because they have profaned My land; they have filled My inheritance with the carcasses of their detestable idols and with their abominations.”‡

<sup>19</sup> [Then said Jeremiah] “O LORD, my Strength and my Stronghold,‡

And my Refuge in the day of distress and need,

The nations will come to You

From the ends of the earth and say,

‘Our fathers have inherited nothing but lies and illusion,

[Worthless] things in which there is no benefit!’

<sup>20</sup> “Can a man make gods for himself?‡

Such [things] are not gods!

<sup>21</sup> “Therefore,” [says the LORD] “behold, I will make them know—‡

This time I will make them know

My power and My might;

And they will know and recognize [without any doubt] that My Name is the LORD.”

Jeremiah 17

The Deceitful Heart

<sup>1</sup> THE SIN of Judah is written down with an iron stylus;‡

With a diamond point it is engraved upon the tablet of their heart

And on the horns of their altars.

<sup>2</sup> As they remember their children,‡

So they remember [in detail] their [pagan] altars and their Asherim

Beside green trees on the high hills.

I will give [to the Babylonians, as the cost of your sin] your wealth and all your treasures as plunder,

And throughout your territory, your high places of sin.

<sup>4</sup> And you will, through your own fault, let go of your [grip on your] inheritance ‡

That I gave you;

And I will make you serve your enemies

In a land which you do not know;

For you have kindled a fire in My anger

Which will burn forever.

<sup>5</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Cursed is the man who trusts in and relies on mankind,

Making [weak, faulty human] flesh his strength,

And whose mind and heart turn away from the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> “For he will be like a shrub in the [parched] desert; ‡

And shall not see prosperity when it comes,

But shall live in the rocky places of the wilderness,

In an uninhabited salt land.

<sup>7</sup> “Blessed [with spiritual security] is the man who believes and trusts in and relies on the LORD ‡

And whose hope and confident expectation is the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> “For he will be [nourished] like a tree planted by the waters, ‡

That spreads out its roots by the river;

And will not fear the heat when it comes;

But its leaves will be green and moist.

And it will not be anxious and concerned in a year of drought

Nor stop bearing fruit.

<sup>9</sup> “The heart is deceitful above all things

And it is extremely sick;

Who can understand it fully and know its secret motives? [

Matt 13:15–17 ; Mark 7:21–23 ; Eph 4:20–24 ]

I test the heart,

To give to each man according to his ways,

According to the results of his deeds.

<sup>11</sup> “Like the partridge that hatches eggs which she has not laid,‡

So is he who makes a fortune in ways that are unjust.
It will be lost to him before his days are over,
And in the end he will be [nothing but] a fool.”

12. A glorious throne, set on high from the beginning,
Is the place of our sanctuary (the temple).

<sup>13</sup> O LORD, the hope of Israel,‡
All who abandon You will be shamed.
Those who turn away on earth will be written down, Because they have abandoned the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

<sup>14</sup> Heal me, O LORD, and I will be healed;‡
Save me and I will be saved,
For You are my praise.

<sup>15</sup> Behold, they keep saying to me,‡ “Where is the word of the LORD [that is, the disaster that you prophesied]?
Let it come now!”

<sup>16</sup> But as for me, I have not tried to escape from being a shepherd [walking] after You,‡
Nor have I longed for the woeful day [of judgment];
You know that, whatever I said
Was [spoken] in Your presence and was from You.

17. Do not be a terror to me;‡
You are my refuge and my hope in the day of disaster.

18. Let those who persecute me be shamed, but as for me, protect me from shame;‡
Let them lose courage, but let me be undaunted.
Bring on them a day of tragedy,
And destroy them with double destruction!

The Sabbath Must Be Kept

<sup>19</sup> Thus the LORD said to me, “Go and stand in the public gate, through which the kings of Judah come in and go out, and [stand] also in all the gates of Jerusalem;

<sup>20</sup> and say to them, ‘Listen to the word of the LORD, kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the people of Jerusalem who enter through these gates. ‡

21 ‘Thus says the LORD, “Pay attention for your own good, [and for the sake of your future] do not carry any load on the Sabbath day or bring anything in through the gates of Jerusalem. ‡

22 “You shall not carry a load out of your houses on the Sabbath day nor do any work, but keep the Sabbath day holy [by setting it apart as a day of worship], as I commanded your fathers. ‡

23 “Yet they would not listen and obey and control their behavior; but they were stiff-necked in order not to hear and take instruction. ‡

24 “But it will come about, if you listen diligently to Me,” says the LORD, “to bring no load in through the gates of this city on the Sabbath day, but keep the Sabbath day holy by doing no work on it,

25 then kings and princes who will sit on the throne of David will enter through the gates of this city, riding in chariots and on horses—the kings and their princes, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem; and this city will be inhabited and endure throughout the ages. ‡

26 “People will come from the cities of Judah and the places all around Jerusalem, from the land of Benjamin, from the lowland, from the hill country and from the South (the Negev), bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, grain offerings and incense, and bringing sacrifices of thanksgiving to the house of the LORD. ‡

27 “But if you will not listen to Me and keep the Sabbath day holy by not carrying a load as you come in the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle a fire in her gates that cannot be extinguished, and it will devour the palaces of Jerusalem.” ’ ” ‡

Jeremiah 18

The Potter and the Clay

1 THE WORD which came to Jeremiah from the LORD:

2 “Arise and go down to the potter’s house, and there I will make you hear My words.”

3 Then I went down to the potter’s house, and saw that he was working at the wheel.

4 But the vessel that he was making from clay was spoiled by the potter’s hand; so he made it over, reworking it and making it into another pot that seemed good to him.

<sup>5</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me:

<sup>6</sup> “O house of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter does?” says the LORD. “Look carefully, as the clay is in the potter’s hand, so are you in My hand, O house of Israel.” ‡

<sup>7</sup> “At one moment I might [suddenly] speak concerning a nation or kingdom, that I will uproot and break down and destroy; ‡

<sup>8</sup> if that nation against which I have spoken turns from its evil, I will relent and reverse My decision concerning the devastation that I intended to do. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Or at another time I might [suddenly] speak about a nation or kingdom that I will build up or establish;

<sup>10</sup> and if they do evil in My sight by not obeying My voice, then I will reverse My decision concerning the good with which I had promised to bless them.

<sup>11</sup> “Now then, say to the men of Judah and to the citizens of Jerusalem, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am shaping a disaster and working out a plan against you. Turn back, each of you from his evil way; correct your habits and change your actions for the better.”’ ‡

<sup>12</sup> “But they will say, ‘That is hopeless! For we are going to follow our own plans, and each of us will act in accordance with the stubbornness of his evil heart.’ ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD, ‡

‘Ask now among the nations,

Who has heard of such things?

The virgin Israel

Has done a very vile and horrible thing.

<sup>14</sup> ‘Will the snow of [Mount] Lebanon melt and vanish from its rocks [which tower above Israel]?
Will the cold, rushing waters of foreign lands [that flow down from the distant land] be dried up?

<sup>15</sup> ‘Yet My people have forgotten Me; ‡

They burn incense to worthless gods,

They have stumbled from their ways

From the ancient roads,

To walk in pathways,

Not on a highway,

<sup>16</sup> Making their land a desolation and a horror, ‡

*A thing to be hissed at perpetually;
Everyone who passes by will be astounded
And shake his head [in scorn].*
17. ‘I will scatter them like an east wind ‡
Before the enemy;
I will show them My back and not My face
In the day of their disaster [says the LORD].’ ”

18 Then [my enemies] said, “Come and let us work out schemes against Jeremiah. Surely the law is not going to be lost to the priest [as Jeremiah predicts], nor the counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come and let us strike him with our tongue [by making charges against him before the king], and let us ignore anything he says.” ‡

19. Pay attention to me, O LORD [and intercede];
Listen to what my adversaries are saying [and are plotting against me]—

20 Should good be repaid with evil? ‡
Yet they have dug a pit for me.
Remember [with compassion] that I stood before You
To speak good on their behalf,
To turn Your anger away from them.

21 Therefore, give their children over to the famine; ‡
Give them over to the power of the sword.
And let their wives become childless and widowed;
Let their men meet death [by virulent disease],
Their young men be struck down by the sword in battle.

22 Let an outcry be heard from their houses ‡
When You suddenly bring [a troop of] raiders upon them,
For they have dug a pit to capture me
And have hidden snares for my feet.

23 Yet You, O LORD, know ‡
All their deadly plotting against me;
Do not forgive their wickedness
Or blot out their sin from Your sight.
But let them be overthrown before You;
Deal with them in the time of Your anger.

Jeremiah 19

The Broken Jar

<sup>1</sup> THUS SAYS the LORD, “Go and buy a potter’s earthenware jar, and take some of the elders of the people and some of the senior priests

<sup>2</sup> and go out to the Valley of Ben-hinnom (son of Hinnom), which is near the entrance of the Potsherds Gate; and proclaim there the words that I tell you, ‡

<sup>3</sup> and say, ‘Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus says the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold (listen carefully), I am going to bring such disaster on this place that the ears of everyone who hears about it will tingle [in shock]. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Because the people [of Jerusalem] have abandoned (rejected) Me and have made this an alien and profaned place by burning sacrifices and incense in it to other gods, that neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah ever knew, and because they have filled this place with the blood of the innocent ‡

<sup>5</sup> and have built the high places of Baal to burn their sons in the fire as burnt offerings to Baal, which I never commanded or spoke of, nor did it ever enter My mind (heart); ‡

<sup>6</sup> therefore, listen very closely, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when this place shall no longer be called Topheth or the Valley of Ben-hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.  [Jer 7:31–32 ] ‡

<sup>7</sup> “I will pour out and nullify the counsel (plans) of [the men of] Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and I will make their people fall by the sword before their enemies and by the hand of those who seek their lives; and I will give their dead bodies as food for the birds of the air and for the beasts of the earth. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “I will make this city a desolation and an object of hissing; everyone who passes by it will be amazed and will hiss [in scorn] because of all its plagues and disasters. ‡

<sup>11</sup> and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “This is the way I will break this people and this city as one breaks a potter's vessel, so that it cannot be mended. They will bury [corpses] in Topheth until there is no more room left [in that place] to bury [the dead].‡ <sup>12</sup> "This I will do to this place," says the LORD, "and to its inhabitants; and I will even make this city like Topheth.

<sup>13</sup> "The houses of Jerusalem and the houses of the kings of Judah will be defiled like this place, Topheth, all the houses on whose rooftops incense has been burned to all the host of heaven (sun, moon, stars), and where drink offerings have been poured out to other gods." ' "  [Acts 7:42, 43. ]‡

<sup>14</sup> Then Jeremiah came from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy; and he stood in the court of the LORD's house and said to all the people:‡

<sup>15</sup> "Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, 'Behold, I am going to bring on this city and on all its towns, all the devastation that I have declared against it, because they have become stiff-necked and refused to hear and obey My words.' " ‡

Jeremiah 20

Pashhur Persecutes Jeremiah

<sup>1</sup> NOW PASHHUR the son of Immer, the priest, who was [also] chief officer in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things.‡

<sup>2</sup>-Then Pashhur beat Jeremiah the prophet and put him in the stocks that were at the upper Benjamin Gate by the house of the LORD.  [Jer 1:19; 15:15 ]

<sup>3</sup>-And the next day Pashhur brought Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then Jeremiah said to him, "The LORD does not call your name Pashhur, but Magor-missabib (terror on every side).

<sup>4</sup> "For thus says the LORD, 'Behold, I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends; they will fall by the sword of their enemies while you look on. And I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon; he will carry them away to Babylon as captives and will slaughter them with the sword.'

<sup>5</sup> 'Moreover, I will hand over all the riches of this city, all the result of its labor, all its precious things; even all the treasures of the kings of Judah I will hand over to their enemies, and they will plunder them, and take them away and carry them to Babylon. ‡

6 ‘And you, Pashhur, and all who live in your house will go into captivity; you will go to Babylon, and there you will die and be buried, you and all your friends to whom you have falsely prophesied.’ ” ‡

Jeremiah’s Complaint

7 [Jeremiah said,] O LORD, You have persuaded me and I was deceived; ‡

You are stronger than I and You have prevailed.
I am a laughingstock all day long;
Everyone mocks me.

8 For whenever I speak, I must shout out; ‡
I shout violence and destruction,
Because the word of the LORD has become to me
A reprimand and a mockery and has brought me insult all day long.

9 If I say, “I will not remember Him ‡
Or speak His name anymore,”
Then my heart becomes a burning fire
Shut up in my bones.
And I am weary of enduring and holding it in;

I cannot endure it [nor contain it any longer].

10 For I have heard the whispering and defaming words of many, ‡ “Terror on every side!

Denounce him! Let us denounce him!”
All my familiar and trusted friends,
[Those who are] watching for my fall, say,
“Perhaps he will be persuaded and deceived; then we will overcome him,

And take our revenge on him.”

11 But the LORD is with me as a dread champion [one to be greatly feared]; ‡

Therefore my persecutors will stumble and not overcome [me].

They will be completely shamed, for they have not acted wisely and have failed [in their schemes];

Their eternal dishonor will never be forgotten.

<sup>12</sup>But, O LORD of hosts, You who examine the righteous,‡
Who see the heart and the mind,
Let me see Your vengeance on them;
For to You I have committed my cause.
<sup>13</sup> Sing to the LORD! Praise the LORD!‡
For He has rescued the life of the needy one
From the hand of evildoers.

<sup>14</sup>Cursed be the day on which I was born;‡
Do not bless the day on which my mother gave birth to me!

<sup>15</sup> Cursed be the man who brought the news
To my father, saying,
“A son has been born to you!”
Making him very glad.

<sup>16</sup> And let that man be like the cities‡
Which the LORD overthrew without regret.

Let him hear an outcry in the morning
And a shout of alarm at noon;

<sup>17</sup> Because he did not kill me before my birth,‡
So that my mother might have been my grave,
And her womb always pregnant.

To see trouble and sorrow,
So that my days have been filled with shame?

Jeremiah 21

Jeremiah's Message for Zedekiah

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD which came to Jeremiah from the LORD when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur the son of Malchijah, and Zephaniah the priest the son of Maaseiah, saying,‡

<sup>2</sup>—“Please inquire of the LORD for us, because Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon is making war against us. Perhaps the LORD will deal [favorably] with us according to all His wonderful works and force him to withdraw from us.”‡

<sup>3</sup> Then Jeremiah said to them, “Say this to Zedekiah:

<sup>4</sup> ‘Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, “Behold, I will turn back and dull the edge of the weapons of war that are in your hands, [those] with which you fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldeans who are besieging you outside the walls; and I will bring them into the center of this city (Jerusalem).’‡

<sup>5</sup> “I Myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm in anger, in fury, and in great indignation and wrath.‡

<sup>6</sup> “I will also strike the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast; they will die of a great virulent disease.

<sup>7</sup> “Then afterward,” says the LORD, “I will hand over Zedekiah king of Judah and his servants and the people in this city who survive the virulent disease, the sword, and the famine, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemy, into the hand of those who seek their lives. And he will strike them with the edge of the sword; he will not spare them nor have mercy and compassion on them.”‡

<sup>8</sup> “And to this people you (Jeremiah) shall also say, ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I set before you the way of life and the way of death.‡

<sup>9</sup> “He who remains in this city [of Jerusalem] will die by the sword and by famine and by virulent disease. But he who goes outside and surrenders to the Chaldeans who are besieging you will live, and his life will be like a prize of war to him.‡

<sup>10</sup> “For I have set My face against this city to do harm and not good,” says the LORD. “It shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon and he will burn it with fire.”‡

<sup>11</sup> “And concerning the royal house of the king of Judah [you shall say], ‘Hear the word of the LORD,

<sup>12</sup> O house of David, thus says the LORD:‡

“Administer justice in the morning,
And rescue the one who has been robbed from the hand of his oppressor,
That My wrath will not roar up like fire
And burn so [hotly] that none can extinguish it,
Because of the evil of their deeds.

<sup>13</sup> “Understand this, I am against you, O inhabitant of the valley,‡

O rock of the plain,” says the LORD—
“You who say, ‘Who will come down against us?
Or who will enter into our dwelling places?’
<sup>14</sup> “But I will punish you in accordance with the [appropriate] consequences of your decisions and your actions,” says
the LORD. ‡
“I will kindle a fire in your forest,
And it will devour all that is around you.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 22

Warning of Jerusalem’s Fall

<sup>1</sup> THUS SAYS the LORD, “Go down to the house of the king of Judah and speak this word there:

<sup>2</sup>.‘Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, you who sit on the throne of David—you and your servants and your people who enter by these gates. ‡

<sup>3</sup>.‘Thus says the LORD, “Execute justice and righteousness, and rescue the one who has been robbed from the hand of his oppressor. And do no wrong; do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, or the widow, nor shed innocent blood in this place. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “For if you will indeed obey this word, then kings will enter through the gates of this palace, sitting in David’s place on his throne, riding in chariots and on horses, even the king himself and his servants and his people. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “But if you will not hear and obey these words, I swear [an oath] by Myself,” says the LORD, “that this house will become a desolation.” ’ ” ‡

<sup>6</sup>.For thus says the LORD in regard to the house of the king of Judah:

“You are [as valuable] to Me as [the green pastures of] Gilead
[east of the Jordan]
Or as the [plentiful] summit of Lebanon [west of the Jordan], Yet most certainly [if you will not listen to Me] I will make you a wilderness,
And uninhabited cities.

<sup>7</sup> “For I will prepare and appoint destroyers [to execute My judgments] against you, ‡
Each with his weapons;
And they will cut down your [palaces built of] choicest cedars

And throw them in the fire.

8 “Many nations will pass by this city; and each man will say to another, ‘Why has the LORD done this to this great city?’ ‡

9 “Then they will answer, ‘Because the people ignored and abandoned the [solemn] covenant with the LORD their God and worshiped other gods and served them.’ ” ‡

10 Do not weep for the dead or mourn for him; ‡
But weep bitterly for the one who goes away [into exile],
For he will never return
And see his native country [again].

11 For thus says the LORD in regard to Shallum (Jehoahaz) the [third] son of Josiah, king of Judah, who reigned instead of Josiah his father and who went from this place, “Shallum will not return here anymore; ‡

12 he will die in the place where they led him captive and not see this land again.

Messages about the Kings

13 “Woe (judgment is coming) to him who builds his house by [acts of] unrighteousness ‡

And his upper chambers by injustice,
Who uses his neighbor’s service without pay
And does not give him wages [for his work],

14 Who says, ‘I will build myself a spacious house
With large upper rooms,
And cut out its [wide] windows,
And panel it with cedar and paint it vermilion.’”

15 “Do you think that you become a king because you have much more cedar [in your palace than Solomon]? ‡

Did not your father [Josiah], as he ate and drank,
Do just and righteous acts [being upright and in right standing with God]? ”

Then all was well with him.

16 “He defended the cause of the afflicted and needy;

Then all was well.
Is that not what it means to know Me?”
Says the LORD.
<sup>17</sup> “But your eyes and your heart ‡
Are only intent on your own dishonest gain,
On shedding innocent blood,
On oppression and extortion and violence.”

18 Therefore thus says the LORD in regard to Jehoiakim the [second] son of Josiah, king of Judah, ‡

“The relatives will not lament (mourn over with expressions of grief) for him:
‘Alas, my brother!’ or, ‘Alas, sister,’ [how great our loss]!
The subjects will not lament for him:
‘Alas, master!’ or ‘Alas, majesty [how great was his glory]!’
<sup>19</sup> “He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey— ‡
Dragged off and thrown out beyond the gates of Jerusalem.
<sup>20</sup> “Go up [north] to Lebanon and cry out,
And raise your voice in [the hills of] Bashan [across the Jordan];
Cry out also from Abarim,
For all your lovers (allies) have been destroyed.  [Jer 27:6, 7 ]
<sup>21</sup> “I spoke to you in your [times of] prosperity, ‡
But you said, ‘I will not listen!’
This has been your attitude and practice from your youth;
You have not obeyed My voice.
22 “The wind [of adversity] will carry away all your shepherds (rulers, statesmen), ‡
And your lovers (allies) will go into exile.
Surely then you will be ashamed and humiliated and disgraced
Because of all your wickedness.
<sup>23</sup> “O inhabitant of [Jerusalem, whose palaces are made from the cedars of] Lebanon, ‡
You who nest in the cedars,
How you will groan and how miserable you will be when pains come on you,
Pain like a woman in childbirth!  [1 Kin 7:2 ]

24 “As I live,” says the LORD, “though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet [ring] on My right hand, yet would I pull you (Coniah) off. ‡

25 “And I will place you in the hand of those who seek your life and in the hand of those whom you fear, even into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and into the hand of the Chaldeans. ‡

26 “I will hurl you and the mother who gave you birth into another country where you were not born, and there you will die. ‡

27 “But as for the land to which they long to return, they will not return to it.

28 “Is this man [King] Coniah a despised, broken jar? ‡

Is he a vessel in which no one takes pleasure?

Why are he and his [royal] descendants hurled out
And cast into a land which they do not know or understand?

29 “O land, land, land, ‡

Hear the word of the LORD!

30 “Thus says the LORD, ‡

‘Write this man [Coniah] down as childless,
A man who will not prosper (succeed) in his lifetime;
For not one of his descendants will succeed
In sitting on the throne of David
Or ruling again in Judah.’ ”

Jeremiah 23

The Coming Messiah: the Righteous Branch

1 “WOE TO the shepherds (civil leaders, rulers) who are destroying and scattering the sheep of My pasture!” says the LORD. ‡

2 Therefore thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, in regard to the shepherds who care for and feed My people: “You have scattered My flock and driven them away, and have not attended to them; hear this, I am about to visit and attend to you for the evil of your deeds,” says the LORD. ‡

3 “Then I will gather the remnant of My flock out of all the countries to which I have driven them and bring them back to their folds and pastures; and they will be fruitful and multiply.‡

<sup>4</sup> “I will set up shepherds over them who will feed them. And they will not be afraid any longer, nor be terrified, nor will any be missing,” says the LORD.‡

5. “Behold (listen closely), the days are coming,” says the LORD,‡

“When I will raise up for David a righteous Branch;
And He will reign as King and act wisely
And will do [those things that accomplish] justice and righteousness in the land.

<sup>6</sup> “In His days Judah will be saved,‡

And Israel will dwell safely;
Now this is His name by which He will be called;
‘The LORD Our Righteousness.’  [Matt 1:21–23; Rom 3:22. ]

7. “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when they will no longer say, ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,’‡

<sup>8</sup> but [they will say], ‘As the LORD lives, who brought up and led back the descendants of the house of Israel from the north country and from all the countries to which I had driven them.’ Then they will live in their own land.”
 [Jer 16:14, 15 ]‡

False Prophets Denounced

9. Concerning the prophets:‡

My heart [says Jeremiah] is broken within me,
All my bones shake;
I have become like a drunken man,
A man whom wine has overcome,
Because of the LORD
And because of His holy words [declared against unfaithful leaders].

<sup>10</sup> For the land is full of adulterers (unfaithful to God);‡

The land mourns because of the curse [of God upon it].
The pastures of the wilderness have dried up.

The course of action [of the false prophets] is evil and they rush into wickedness;

And their power is not right.

<sup>11</sup> “For both [false] prophet and priest are ungodly (profane, polluted); ‡
Even in My house I have found their wickedness,” says the
LORD.

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore their way will be to them like slippery paths ‡
In the dark; they will be pushed and fall into them;
For I will bring disaster on them,
In the year of their punishment,” says the LORD.

<sup>13</sup> “And I have seen a foolish and an offensive thing in the prophets of Samaria: ‡
They prophesied by Baal and caused My people Israel to go astray.

<sup>14</sup> “Also I have seen a horrible thing in the prophets of Jerusalem: ‡
They commit adultery and walk in lies;
They encourage and strengthen the hands of evildoers,
So that no one has turned back from his wickedness.
All of them have become like Sodom to Me,
And her inhabitants like Gomorrah.

<sup>15</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts in regard to the prophets, ‡
'Behold, I am going to feed them [the bitterness of] wormwood
And make them drink the poisonous water [of gall],
For from the [counterfeit] prophets of Jerusalem
    Profaneness and ungodliness have spread into all the land.' ”

<sup>16</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡
“Do not listen to the words of the [false] prophets who prophesy to you.
They are teaching you worthless things and are leading you into futility;
They speak a vision of their own mind and imagination
And not [truth] from the mouth of the LORD.

<sup>17</sup> “They are continually saying to those who despise Me [and My word], ‡

‘The Lord has said, “You will have peace” ’;
And they say to everyone who walks after the stubbornness of his own heart,
‘No evil will come on you.’

<sup>18</sup> “But who [among them] has stood in the council of the LORD, ‡

That he would perceive and hear His word?
Who has marked His word [noticing and observing and paying attention to it] and has [actually] heard it?

<sup>19</sup> “Behold, the tempest of the LORD has gone forth in wrath,
‡

A whirling tempest;
It will whirl and burst on the heads of the wicked.

<sup>20</sup> “The anger of the LORD will not turn back ‡ Until He has set in motion and accomplished the thoughts and intentions of His heart;

In the last days you will clearly understand it.

<sup>21</sup> “I did not send [these counterfeit] prophets, ‡
Yet they ran;
I did not speak to them,
Yet they prophesied.

<sup>22</sup> “But if they had stood in My council, ‡
Then they would have caused My people to hear My words,
Then they would have turned My people from their evil way
And from the evil of their decisions and deeds.

<sup>23</sup> “Am I a God who is at hand,” says the LORD,
“And not a God far away?”

<sup>24</sup> “Can anyone hide himself in secret places ‡
So that I cannot see him?” says the LORD.
“Do I not fill heaven and earth?” says the LORD.

<sup>25</sup> “I have heard what the prophets have said who prophesy lies in My Name, saying, ‘I have dreamed, I have dreamed [visions when on my bed at night].’

<sup>26</sup> “How long [shall this state of affairs continue]? Is there anything in the hearts of the prophets who prophesy falsehood, even these prophets of the deception of their own heart,

<sup>27</sup> who think that they can make My people forget My Name by their [contrived] dreams which each one tells another, just as their fathers forgot My Name because of Baal? ‡

<sup>28</sup> “The prophet who has a dream may tell his dream; but he who has My word, let him speak My word faithfully. What has straw in common with wheat [for nourishment]?” says the LORD.

<sup>29</sup> “Is not My word like fire [that consumes all that cannot endure the test]?” says the LORD, “and like a hammer that breaks the [most stubborn] rock [in pieces]?

<sup>30</sup> “Therefore behold (hear this), I am against the [counterfeit] prophets,” says the LORD, “[I am descending on them with punishment, these prophets] who steal My words from one another [imitating the words of the true prophets]. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “Hear this, I am against the prophets,” says the LORD, “who use their [own deceitful] tongues and say, ‘Thus says the Lord.’

<sup>32</sup> “Hear this, I am against those who have prophesied false and made-up dreams,” says the LORD, “and have told them and have made My people err and go astray by their lies and by their reckless boasting; yet I did not send them or command them nor do they benefit and enhance [the life of] these people in the slightest way,” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>33</sup> “Now when this people or a prophet or a priest asks you [in jest], ‘What is the oracle of the LORD [the burden to be lifted up and carried]?’ Then you shall say to them, ‘What oracle [besides the one that declares you people to be the burden]!’ The LORD says, ‘I will unburden Myself and I will abandon you.’ ‡

<sup>34</sup> “And as for the prophet, the priest, or [any of] the people, whoever says, ‘The oracle of the LORD,’ [as if he knows God’s will], I will punish that man and his household.

<sup>35</sup> “[For the future, in speaking of the words of the LORD] thus each of you shall say to his neighbor and to his brother, ‘What has the LORD answered?’ or, ‘What has the LORD spoken?’

<sup>36</sup> “For you will no longer remember the oracle of the LORD, because every man’s own word will become the oracle, [for as they mockingly call all prophecies oracles, whether good or bad, so will it prove to be to them; God will take them at their own word]; and you have perverted the words [not of a lifeless idol, but] of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.

<sup>37</sup> “Thus you will [reverently] say to the prophet, ‘What has the LORD answered you?’ and, ‘What has the LORD spoken?’

<sup>38</sup>“For if you say, ‘The oracle of the LORD!’ surely thus says the LORD, ‘Because you said this word, “The oracle of the LORD!” when I have also sent to you, saying, “You shall not say, ‘The oracle of the LORD!’”’

<sup>39</sup>“Therefore behold, I, even I, will assuredly forget you and send you away from My presence, you and the city (Jerusalem) which I gave to you and to your fathers.”‡

<sup>40</sup>“And I will bring an everlasting disgrace on you and a perpetual humiliation (shame) which will not be forgotten.”‡

Jeremiah 24

Baskets of Figs and the Returnees

<sup>1</sup> AFTER NEBUCHADNEZZAR king of Babylon had taken Jeconiah [who was also called Coniah and Jehoiachin] the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, and the princes of Judah [along] with the craftsmen and smiths into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon, the LORD showed me [in a vision] two baskets of figs set before the temple of the LORD.‡

<sup>2</sup> One basket had very good figs, like the figs that are the first to ripen; but the other basket had very bad figs, so rotten that they could not be eaten.

<sup>3</sup> Then the LORD said to me, “What do you see, Jeremiah?” And I said, “Figs, the good figs, very good; and the bad figs, very bad, so rotten that they cannot be eaten.”

<sup>4</sup> Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>5</sup>“Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘Like these good figs, so I will regard as good the captives of Judah, whom I have sent from this place into the land of the Chaldeans.’

<sup>6</sup>‘For I will set My eyes on them for good, and I will bring them again to this land; and I will build them up and not overwhelm them, and I will plant them and not uproot them.’‡

<sup>7</sup>‘I will give them a heart to know Me, [understanding fully] that I am the LORD; and they will be My people, and I will be their God, for they will return to Me with their whole heart.’‡

<sup>8</sup>‘And as for the bad figs, which are so rotten that they cannot be eaten,’ surely thus says the LORD, ‘so I will abandon Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes, and the remnant of Jerusalem who remain in this land and those who live in the land of Egypt. ‡

<sup>9</sup> ‘I will make them a focus of ridicule and disappointment [tossed back and forth] among all the kingdoms of the earth, a [notorious] disgrace, a byword, a taunt and a curse in all places where I will scatter them. ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘I will send the sword, famine and virulent disease among them until they are consumed from the land which I gave to them and to their fathers.’ ”

Jeremiah 25

Prophecy of the Captivity

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that came to Jeremiah in regard to all the people of Judah in the fourth year of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah (that was the first year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon), ‡

<sup>2</sup> which Jeremiah the prophet spoke to all the people of Judah and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

<sup>3</sup> “For these twenty-three years—from the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah, even to this day—the word of the LORD has come to me and I have spoken to you over and over again, but you have not listened. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Although the LORD has persistently sent to you all His servants the prophets, you have not listened nor [even] inclined your ear to hear [His message], ‡

<sup>5</sup> saying, ‘Turn now everyone from his evil way and the evil of your actions [that you may not forfeit the right to] live in the land that the LORD has given to you and your forefathers forever and ever; ‡

<sup>6</sup> and do not go after other gods to serve them and to worship them, and do not provoke Me to anger with the work of your hands, and I will do you no harm.’

<sup>7</sup> “Yet you have not listened to Me,” says the LORD, “so that you have provoked Me to anger with the work (idols) of your hands to your own harm. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Because you have not obeyed My words,

<sup>9</sup> behold (hear this), I will send for all the families of the north,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will send for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, My servant [to enact My plan], and I will bring them against this land and against its inhabitants and against all these surrounding nations; and I will utterly destroy them and make them a horror and a hissing [that is, an object of warning and ridicule] and an everlasting desolation. ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘Moreover, I will take from them the voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones [grinding meal] and the light of the lamp [to light the night].  [Jer 7:34] ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘This whole land will be a waste and a horror, and these nations will serve the king of Babylon seventy years.  [2 Chr 36:20–23; Jer 4:27; 12:11, 12; Dan 9:2]’

Babylon Will Be Judged

<sup>12</sup> ‘Then when seventy years are completed, I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation, the land of the Chaldeans (Babylonia),’ says the LORD, ‘for their wickedness, and will make the land [of the Chaldeans] a perpetual waste.  [Jer 29:10] ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘I will bring on that land all My words which I have pronounced against it, all that is written in this book which Jeremiah has prophesied against all the nations.

<sup>14</sup> ‘(For many nations and great kings will make slaves of them, even the Chaldeans [who enslaved other nations]; and I will repay [all of] them according to their deeds and according to the work of their [own] hands.)’” ‡

<sup>15</sup> For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to me, “Take this cup of the wine of wrath from My hand and cause all the nations to whom I send you to drink it. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “They will drink and stagger and go mad because of the sword that I will send among them.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> Then I (Jeremiah) took the cup from the LORD’s hand and made all the nations to whom the LORD had sent me drink it:

<sup>18</sup> Jerusalem and the cities of Judah [being most guilty because their privileges were greatest], its kings and princes, to make them a horror, a ruin, a hissing and a curse, as it is to this day;  [1 Pet 4:17] ‡

and the coastlands across the [Mediterranean] Sea; ‡

clip off the side-growth of their hair;  [Lev 19:27; Jer 9:26 ] ‡

<sup>24</sup> all the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the foreign population who live in the desert; ‡

<sup>25</sup> all the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam (Persia), and all the kings of Media;

<sup>26</sup> all the kings of the north, far and near, one after another—and all the kingdoms of the world which are on the face of the earth. And the king of Sheshach (Babylon) shall drink after them. ‡

27.“Then you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Drink, be drunk, vomit, and fall to rise no more because of the sword which I will send among you.”’ ‡

<sup>28</sup> “And if they refuse to take the cup from your hand to drink, then you will say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, “You shall surely drink!

<sup>29</sup> “For behold, I am beginning to work disaster in the city which is called by My Name, and shall you go unpunished? You will not be exempt from punishment, for I am calling for a sword against all the inhabitants of the earth,” says the LORD of hosts.’  [Jer 7:10 ] ‡

30.“Therefore prophesy all these words against them and say to them: ‡

‘The LORD will roar from on high
And utter His voice from His holy dwelling;
He will roar mightily against His fold and pasture.
He will jubilantly shout like those who tread the grapes [in the wine press],
Against all the inhabitants of the earth.

31.‘A noise has come to the end of the earth, ‡
For the LORD has a controversy with and an indictment against the nations.

He is entering into judgment with all mankind;
As for the wicked, He has given them to the sword,’ says the
LORD.”

32 Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡

“Behold, evil is going forth

From nation to nation,
And a great whirling tempest is rising
From the remotest part of the earth.

<sup>33</sup> “And those slain by the LORD on that day will be from one end of the earth to the other end of the earth. They will not be lamented (mourned over with expressions of grief) or gathered or buried; they will be like dung on the ground.  [Jer 8:2 ; 16:4 ] ‡

<sup>34</sup> “Wail, you shepherds, and cry; ‡
And roll in ashes, you masters of the flock.
For the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions have come in full,
And you will fall and be broken into pieces like a choice vessel.

<sup>35</sup> “The shepherds will have no way to flee,
Nor the masters of the flock any [way of] escape.

<sup>36</sup> “A voice! The cry of the shepherds
And the wailing of the masters of the flock!
For the LORD is destroying their pasture,
<sup>37</sup> “And the peaceful folds are devastated and made silent
Because of the fierce anger of the LORD.

<sup>38</sup> “He has left His lair like the lion;
For their land has become a horror
Because of the fierceness of the oppressor
And because of the LORD’s fierce anger.”

Jeremiah 26

Cities of Judah Warned

<sup>1</sup> IN THE beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came from the LORD, saying,

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘Stand in the court of the LORD’s house [Jeremiah], and speak to all [the people of] the cities of Judah who have come to worship in the LORD’s house all the words that I have commanded you to speak to them. Do not omit a word! †

<sup>3</sup> ‘It may be that they will listen and everyone will turn from his wickedness, so that I may relent and reverse [My decision concerning] the disaster which I am planning to do to them because of their malevolent deeds.’ ‡

<sup>4</sup> “And you will say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD, “If you will not listen to Me and obey My law which I have set before you, †

<sup>5</sup> and listen and follow [carefully] the words of My servants the prophets, whom I have been sending to you repeatedly—though you have not listened — ‡

<sup>6</sup> then I will make this house [the temple] like Shiloh, and I will make this city [subject to] the curse of all nations of the earth [because it will be so vile in their sight].’ ’ ”  [1 Sam 4; Jer 7:12] ‡

A Plot to Murder Jeremiah

<sup>7</sup> The priests and the [false] prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.

<sup>8</sup> Now when Jeremiah finished proclaiming everything that the LORD had commanded him to speak to all the people, the priests and the [false] prophets and all the people seized him, saying, “You must die!

<sup>9</sup> “Why have you prophesied in the name of the LORD saying, ‘This house will be like Shiloh [after the ark of the LORD had been taken by our enemies] and this city [Jerusalem] will be desolate, without inhabitant?’ ” And all the people were gathered around Jeremiah in the [outer area of the] house of the LORD.

<sup>10</sup> When the princes (court officials) of Judah heard these things, they came up from the king's house to the house of the LORD and sat in the entrance of the New Gate of the house of the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> Then the priests and the [false] prophets said to the princes and to all the people, "This man is deserving of death, for he has prophesied against this city as you have heard with your own ears." ‡

<sup>12</sup> Then Jeremiah spoke to all the princes and to all the people, saying, "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that you have heard.

<sup>13</sup> "Therefore, now change your ways and your deeds and obey the voice of the LORD your God; then the LORD will relent and reverse His decision concerning the misfortune which He has pronounced against you. ‡

<sup>14</sup> "As for me, behold, I am in your hands; do with me as seems good and suitable to you. ‡

<sup>15</sup> "But know for certain that if you put me to death, you will bring innocent blood on yourselves and on this city and on its inhabitants, for in truth the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your hearing."

Jeremiah Is Spared

<sup>16</sup> Then the princes and all the people said to the priests and to the [false] prophets, "This man is not deserving of death, for he has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God."

<sup>17</sup> Then some of the elders of the land stood up and spoke to all the assembly of the people, saying, ‡

<sup>18</sup> "Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah; and he spoke to all the people of Judah, saying, 'Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡

"Zion will be plowed like a field,
And Jerusalem will become [heaps of] ruins,
And the mountain of the house [of the LORD]—Mount Moriah, on which stands the temple, shall become covered not with buildings, but] like a densely wooded height." '  [Mic 3:12. ]

<sup>19</sup> "Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put Micah to death? Did he not [reverently] fear the LORD and entreat the favor of the LORD? And did not the LORD relent and reverse His decision concerning the misfortune which He had pronounced against them? But [here] we are [thinking of] committing a great evil against ourselves.” ‡

<sup>20</sup> And there was also a man who prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah of Kiriath-jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land in words similar to all those of Jeremiah.

<sup>21</sup> And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put Uriah to death; but when Uriah heard of it, he was afraid and fled and escaped to Egypt.

<sup>22</sup> Then Jehoiakim the king sent men to Egypt: Elnathan the son of Achbor and certain [other] men with him [went] to Egypt.

<sup>23</sup> And they brought Uriah [God’s spokesman] from Egypt and led him to King Jehoiakim, who executed him with a sword and threw his dead body among the graves of the common people.

<sup>24</sup> But the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, so that he was not given into the hands of the people to put him to death. ‡

Jeremiah 27

The Nations to Submit to Nebuchadnezzar

<sup>3</sup> and send word to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of the sons of Ammon, to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Sidon by the messengers who come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.

<sup>4</sup> “Command them to go to their masters, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, you shall say this to your masters:

<sup>5</sup> “I have made the earth, the men and the animals that are on the face of the earth by My great power and by My outstretched arm, and I will give it to whomever pleases Me. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “Now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, My servant and instrument, and I have also given the wild animals of the field to serve him. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “All nations shall serve him and his son and his grandson until the [appointed] time [of punishment] for his own land comes; then many nations and great kings shall make him their servant. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “But any nation or kingdom that will not serve this same Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and put its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation I will punish,” says the LORD, “with the sword, with famine and with pestilence (virulent disease), until I have destroyed it by Nebuchadnezzar’s hand.

<sup>9</sup>—“And as for you, do not listen to your [counterfeit] prophets, your diviners, your dreams and dreamers, your soothsayers or your sorcerers, who say to you, ‘You will not serve the king of Babylon.’

<sup>10</sup> “For they prophesy a lie to you which will cause you to be removed far from your land; and I will drive you out and you will perish. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “But the nation which will bow its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him, that nation I will let remain on its own land,” says the LORD, “to cultivate it and live in it.” ’ ”

<sup>12</sup> I spoke to Zedekiah king of Judah in the same way, saying, “Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him and his people, and live! ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Why will you die, you and your people, by the sword, by famine and by virulent disease, as the LORD has spoken to any nation which will not serve the king of Babylon? ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Do not listen to and believe the words of the [false] prophets who are saying to you, ‘You will not serve the king of Babylon,’ for they prophesy a lie to you; ‡

<sup>15</sup> for I have not sent them,” says the LORD, “but they are prophesying falsely in My Name, in order that I may drive you out and that you may perish, you [together] with the [false] prophets who prophesy to you.”

<sup>16</sup> Then I said to the priests and to all these people, saying, “Thus says the LORD: Do not listen to the words of your [false] prophets who are prophesying to you, saying, ‘Behold, the articles of the LORD’s house will now shortly be brought back from Babylon’; for they are prophesying a lie to you. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Do not listen to them; serve the king of Babylon, and live! Why should this city become a ruin?

<sup>18</sup> “But if they are [true] prophets, and if the word of the LORD is [really spoken] by them, let them now entreat the LORD of hosts that the articles which are [still] left in the house of the LORD, in the house of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem may not go to Babylon.

<sup>20</sup> which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take when he carried Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon, along with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “Yes, thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the articles which remain in the house of the LORD, in the house of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem, <sup>22</sup> ‘They will be carried to Babylon and they will be there until the day that I visit them [with My favor],’ says the LORD. ‘Then I will bring them back and restore them to this place.’ ” ‡

Jeremiah 28

Hananiah's False Prophecy

<sup>1</sup> IN THE same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year and the fifth month, the [false] prophet Hananiah the son of Azzur, who was from Gibeon [one of the priests' cities], spoke [without godly authority] to me in the house of the LORD in the presence of the priests and all the people, saying: ‡

<sup>3</sup> ‘Within two years I am going to bring back to this place all the articles of the LORD's house, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place and carried to Babylon. ‡

<sup>4</sup> ‘And I will also bring back to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim, king of Judah, along with all the exiles from Judah who went to Babylon,’ says the LORD, ‘for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.’ ”  [Jer 22:10, 24–27; 52:34 ]

<sup>5</sup> Then the prophet Jeremiah spoke to the prophet Hananiah in the presence of the priests and all the people who stood in the house of the LORD,

<sup>6</sup> and the prophet Jeremiah said, “Amen! May the LORD do so; may the LORD confirm and fulfill your words which you have prophesied to bring back the articles of the LORD's house and all the captives, from Babylon to this place. ‡

7 “Nevertheless, listen now to this word which I am about to speak in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people!

8 “The prophets who were before me and before you from ancient times prophesied against many lands and against great kingdoms, of war and of disaster and of virulent disease.

9 “But as for the prophet who [on the contrary] prophesies of peace, when that prophet’s word comes to pass, [only] then will it be known that the LORD has truly sent him.” ‡

10 Then Hananiah the [false] prophet took the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and smashed it. ‡

11 Hananiah spoke in the presence of all the people, saying, “Thus says the LORD, ‘Even so within two full years I will break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all the nations.’ ” Then the prophet Jeremiah went his way. ‡

12 The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah [some time] after Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying,

13 “Go and tell Hananiah, ‘The LORD says this, “You have broken yokes of wood, but you have made in their place bars of iron.”’

14 ‘For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “I have put the iron yoke [of servitude] on the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and they will serve him. And I have even given him the beasts of the field.” ’ ”  [Jer 27:6, 7 ] ‡

15 Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, “Listen now, Hananiah, the LORD has not sent you, and you have made this people trust in a lie. ‡

16 “Therefore thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I am about to send you away from the face of the earth. This year you will die, because you have spoken and counseled rebellion against the LORD.’ ” ‡

17 So Hananiah the [false] prophet died [two months later], the same year, in the seventh month.

Message to the Exiles

1 NOW THESE are the words of the letter which Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem to the rest of the elders in exile and to the priests, the prophets and all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had taken into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon.

2—(This was after King Jeconiah and the queen mother, the eunuchs, the princes (court officials) of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen and the smiths had departed from Jerusalem.) ‡

<sup>3</sup> The letter was hand-carried by Elasar the son of Shaphan and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, saying,

4 “So says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, to all the captives whom I have sent into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon,

<sup>6</sup> ‘Take wives and have sons and daughters; take wives for your sons and give your daughters in marriage, that they may bear sons and daughters; multiply there and do not decrease [in number].

<sup>7</sup> ‘Seek peace and well-being for the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the LORD on its behalf; for in its peace (well-being) you will have peace.’ ‡

<sup>8</sup> “For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Do not let your [false] prophets who are among you and your diviners deceive you; pay no attention and attach no significance to the dreams which they dream or to yours ‡

<sup>9</sup> for they prophesy falsely to you in My Name. I have not sent them,’ says the LORD. ‡

10 “For thus says the LORD, ‘When seventy years [of exile] have been completed for Babylon, I will visit (inspect) you and keep My good promise to you, to bring you back to this place. ‡

11 ‘For I know the plans and thoughts that I have for you,’ says the LORD, ‘plans for peace and well-being and not for disaster to give you a future and a hope.

<sup>12</sup> ‘Then you will call on Me and you will come and pray to Me, and I will hear [your voice] and I will listen to you. ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘Then [with a deep longing] you will seek Me and require Me [as a vital necessity] and [you will] find Me when you search for Me with all your heart. [Deut 4:29, 30] ‡

14 ‘I will be found by you,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will restore your fortunes and I will [free you and] gather you from all the nations and from all the places where I have driven you,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will bring you back to the place from where I sent you into exile.’ ‡

<sup>15</sup> “Because you [who have remained in Jerusalem] have said, ‘The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon,’

<sup>16</sup> thus says the LORD concerning the king who sits on the throne of David, and concerning all the people who live in this city, your brothers (fellow people of Judah) who did not go with you into captivity—

<sup>17</sup> thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘Behold (listen very carefully), I am sending the sword, famine, and virulent disease (pestilence) on them, and I will make them like rotten figs that are so bad they cannot be eaten. ‡

<sup>18</sup> ‘I will pursue them with the sword, with famine and with virulent disease; and I will make them a terror (warning) to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, a horror, a hissing, and a disgrace among all the nations to which I have driven them, ‡

<sup>19</sup> because they have not listened to and honored My words,’ says the LORD, ‘which I sent to them again and again by My servants the prophets. Moreover, you [exiles] did not listen [either],’ says the LORD.  [Ezek 2:5, 7] ‡

<sup>20</sup> “Hear, therefore, the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

<sup>21</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning Ahab the son of Kolaiah and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying lies to you in My Name, ‘Behold, I will hand them over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will slaughter them before your eyes [yes, all the false prophets in Babylon whom you follow shall die]!  [Jer 29:15]’

<sup>22</sup> ‘Because of them, this curse shall be taken up and used by all the exiles from Judah who are in Babylon, saying, “May the LORD make you like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire, ‡

<sup>23</sup> because they have acted foolishly in Israel and have committed adultery with their neighbors’ wives and in My Name have spoken false and concocted words, which I did not command them. I am He who knows and I am a witness,’ says the LORD.” ‡

<sup>24</sup> Also you shall speak to Shemaiah of Nehelam [among the exiles in Babylon], saying,

<sup>25</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Because you have sent letters in your own name to all the people who are in Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, and to all the priests, saying, ‡

<sup>26</sup> ‘The LORD has made you [Zephaniah] priest instead of Jehoiada the [deputy] priest, to be the overseer in the house of the LORD over every madman who prophesies, to put him in the stocks and in the iron collar, ‡

<sup>27</sup> now therefore [continued the letter from Shemaiah in Babylon to Zephaniah in Jerusalem], why have you not rebuked Jeremiah of Anathoth, who prophesies to you?

<sup>28</sup> “For he has sent word to us in Babylon, saying, ‘This captivity [of yours] will be long; build houses and live in them and plant gardens and eat their fruit.’ ” ’ ” ‡

<sup>29</sup> Zephaniah the priest read this letter to Jeremiah the prophet.

<sup>30</sup> Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying,

<sup>31</sup> “Send [this message] to all the exiles, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD concerning Shemaiah of Nehelam, “Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, although I did not send him, and he has made you trust in a lie,”’” ‡

<sup>32</sup> therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am about to punish Shemaiah of Nehelam and his descendants. He will not have anyone [born] to live among this people, nor will he see the good that I am about to do to My people,” says the LORD, “because he has spoken and preached rebellion against the LORD.” ” ” ‡

Jeremiah 30

Freedom from Captivity Promised

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Write in a book all the words which I have spoken to you.

<sup>3</sup> ‘For behold (hear this), the days are coming,’ says the LORD, ‘when I will restore the fortunes of My people Israel and Judah,’ says the LORD, ‘and I will return them to the land that I gave to their forefathers and they will take possession of it.’ ” ‡

<sup>4</sup> Now these are the words the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah:

<sup>5</sup> “Thus says the LORD,

‘We have heard a terrified voice
Of panic and dread, and there is no peace.

<sup>6</sup> ‘Ask now, and see ‡
Whether a man can give birth [to a child].
Why then do I see every man
With his hands on his loins, as a woman in labor?

Why have all faces turned pale?
7 ‘Alas! for that day is great,‡
There is none like it;
It is the time of Jacob’s [unequaled] trouble,
But he will be saved from it.  [Matt 24:29, 30; Rev 7:14 ]

8. ‘It shall come about on that day,’ says the LORD of hosts, ‘that I will break the yoke off your neck and I will tear off your bonds and force apart your shackles; and strangers will no longer make slaves of the people [of Israel].

9 ‘But they shall serve the LORD their God and [the descendant of] David their King, whom I will raise up for them.  [Jer 23:5] ‡

10 ‘Fear not, O Jacob My servant,’ says the LORD, ‡
‘Nor be dismayed or downcast, O Israel;
For behold, I will save you from a distant land [of exile]
And your descendants from the land of their captivity.
Jacob will return and will be quiet and at ease,
And no one will make him afraid.

11 ‘For I am with you,’ says the LORD, ‘to save you; ‡
For I will destroy completely all the nations where I have scattered you,
But I will not destroy you completely.
But I will judge and discipline you fairly
And will by no means regard you as guiltless and leave you unpunished.’

12. “For thus says the LORD, ‡
‘Your wound is incurable
And your injury is beyond healing.

13. “There is no one to plead your cause; ‡
No [device to close and allow the] healing of your wound,
No recovery for you.

14. “All your lovers (allies) have forgotten you; ‡
They do not seek and long for you.
For I have injured you with the wound of an enemy,
With the punishment of a cruel and merciless foe,
Because your guilt is great

And your sins are glaring and innumerable.

<sup>15</sup> ‘Why do you cry out over your injury [since it is the natural result of your sin]? ‡

Your pain is incurable (deadly).

Because your guilt is great

And your sins are glaring and innumerable,

I have done these things to you.

<sup>16</sup> ‘Therefore all who devour you will be devoured; ‡

And all your adversaries, every one of them, will go into captivity.

And they who plunder you will become plunder,

And all who prey upon you I will give for prey.

<sup>17</sup> ‘For I will restore health to you ‡

And I will heal your wounds,’ says the LORD,

‘Because they have called you an outcast, saying:

“This is Zion; no one seeks her and no one cares for her.” ’

Restoration of Jacob

<sup>18</sup> ‘Thus says the LORD, ‡

‘Behold (hear this), I will restore the fortunes of the tents of Jacob

And have mercy on his dwelling places;

The city will be rebuilt on its [old, mound-like] ruin,

And the palace will stand on its rightful place.

<sup>19</sup> ‘From them (city, palace) will come [songs of] thanksgiving ‡

And the voices of those who dance and celebrate.

And I will multiply them and they will not be diminished [in number];

I will also honor them and they will not be insignificant.

<sup>20</sup> ‘Their children too will be as in former times, ‡

And their congregation will be established before Me;

And I will punish all their oppressors.

<sup>21</sup> ‘Their prince will be one of them, ‡

And their ruler will come forward from among them.

I will bring him near and he shall approach Me,

For who is he who would have the boldness and would dare

[on his own initiative] to risk his life to approach Me?’ says the LORD.

<sup>22</sup> ‘Then you shall be My people,‡
And I will be your God.’ ”  [Jer 7:23. ]

<sup>23</sup> Behold, the tempest of the LORD! ‡
Wrath has gone forth,
A sweeping and gathering tempest;
It will burst on the head of the wicked.

<sup>24</sup> The fierce (righteous) anger of the LORD will not turn back
‡
Until He has fulfilled and until He has accomplished
The intent of His heart (mind);
In the latter days you will understand this.

Jeremiah 31

Israel’s Mourning Turned to Joy

<sup>1</sup> “AT THAT time,” says the LORD, “I will be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be My people.” ‡

<sup>2</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡
“The people who survived the sword
Found grace in the wilderness [of exile]—
Israel (the Northern Kingdom), when it went to find its rest.”

<sup>3</sup> The LORD appeared to me (Israel) from ages past, saying, ‡
“I have loved you with an everlasting love; Therefore with lovingkindness I have drawn you and continued My faithfulness to you.  [Deut 7:8. ]

<sup>4</sup> “Again I will build you and you will be rebuilt,‡
O Virgin Israel!
You will again be adorned with your tambourines and timbrels
And go out to the dances of those who celebrate.  [Is 37:22;
Jer 18:13. ]

<sup>5</sup> “Again you will plant vineyards ‡
On the mountains of Samaria;
The planters will plant
And enjoy the [abundant] fruit [in peace].

6.“For there will be a day when the watchmen ‡
On the hills of Ephraim cry out, ‘Arise, and let us go up to Zion,
To the LORD our God.’ ”

<sup>7</sup> For thus says the LORD, ‡
“Sing aloud with gladness for Jacob,
And shout for the first and foremost of the nations [the chosen people, Israel];

Proclaim, give praise and say,
‘O LORD save Your people,
The remnant of Israel!’

<sup>8</sup> “Behold, I am bringing them from the north country, ‡
And I will gather them from the remote parts of the earth,
Among them [will be] the blind and the lame,
The woman with child and she who labors in childbirth,
together;

A great company, they will return here [to Jerusalem].

9.“They will come with weeping [in repentance and for joy], ‡
And by [their] prayer [for the future] I will lead them;
I will make them walk by streams of waters,
On a straight path in which they will not stumble,
For I am a Father to Israel,
And Ephraim (Israel) is My firstborn.”

<sup>10</sup> Hear the word of the LORD, O you nations, ‡
And declare it in the isles and coastlands far away,
And say, “He who scattered Israel will gather him
And will keep him as a shepherd keeps his flock.”

<sup>11</sup> For the LORD has ransomed Jacob ‡
And has redeemed him from the hand of him who was stronger than he.

12.“They will come and sing aloud and shout for joy on the height of Zion, ‡
And will be radiant [with joy] over the goodness of the
LORD—

For the grain, for the new wine, for the oil,
And for the young of the flock and the herd.

And their life will be like a watered garden,
And they shall never sorrow or languish again.

<sup>13</sup> “Then the virgin will rejoice in the dance,
And the young men and old, together,
For I will turn their mourning into joy
And will comfort them and make them rejoice after their sorrow.

<sup>14</sup> “I will fully satisfy the soul of the priests with abundance,
And My people will be satisfied with My goodness,” says the
LORD.

<sup>15</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡
“A voice is heard in Ramah,
Lamentation (songs of mourning) and bitter weeping.
Rachel (Israel) is weeping for her children;
She refuses to be comforted for her children,
Because they are gone.”  [Matt 2:18 ]

<sup>16</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Restrain your voice from weeping
And your eyes from tears,
For your work will be rewarded,” says the LORD;
“And your children will return from the enemy’s land.

<sup>17</sup> “There is [confident] hope for your future,” says the
LORD;

“Your children will come back to their own country.

<sup>18</sup> “I have surely heard Ephraim (Israel) moaning and grieving, ‡
‘You have chastised me, and I was chastised,
Like a bull unaccustomed to the yoke or an untrained calf;
Bring me back that I may be restored,
For You are the LORD my God.

<sup>19</sup> ‘After I turned away [from You], I repented; ‡
After I was instructed, I struck my thigh [in remorse];
I was ashamed and even humiliated
Because I carried the disgrace of my youth [as a nation].’

<sup>20</sup> “Is Ephraim My dear son? ‡
Is he a darling and beloved child?

For as often as I have spoken against him,
I certainly still remember him.
Therefore My affection is renewed and My heart longs for
him;
I will surely have mercy on him,” says the LORD.

21 “Place for yourself road signs [toward Canaan], ‡
Make for yourself guideposts;
Turn your thought and attention to the highway,
To the way by which you went [into exile].
Retrace your steps, O virgin of Israel,
Return to these your cities.

22 “How long will you hesitate [to return], ‡
O you faithless and renegade daughter?
For the LORD has created a new thing in the land [of Israel]:
A woman will encompass (tenderly love) a man.”

23 Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Once more they will speak these words in the land of Judah (the Southern Kingdom) and in her cities when I restore their fortunes and release them from exile, ‡

‘The LORD bless you, O habitation of justice and
righteousness,
O holy mountain!’

24 “And [the people of] Judah and all its cities will live there together—the farmer and they who wander about with flocks. ‡

25 “For I [fully] satisfy the weary soul, and I replenish every languishing and sorrowful person.”

26 At this I (Jeremiah) awoke and looked, and my [trancelike] sleep was sweet [in the assurance it gave] to me.

A New Covenant

27 “Behold (listen carefully), the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man and with the seed of beast. ‡

28 “It will be that as I have watched over them to uproot and to break down, to overthrow, destroy, and afflict with disaster, so I will watch over them to build and to plant [with good],” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “In those days they will not say again, ‡
‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
And the children’s teeth are set on edge.’  [Ezek 18:2 ]

<sup>30</sup> “But everyone will die [only] for his own wickedness; every man who eats sour grapes—his [own] teeth shall be set on edge. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “Behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel (the Northern Kingdom) and with the house of Judah (the Southern Kingdom),  [Luke 22:20 ; 1 Cor 11:25 ] ‡

<sup>32</sup> not like the covenant which I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, My covenant which they broke, although I was a husband to them,” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>33</sup> “But this is the covenant which I will make with the house of Israel after those days,” says the LORD, “I will put My law within them, and I will write it on their hearts; and I will be their God, and they will be My people. ‡

<sup>34</sup> “And each man will no longer teach his neighbor and his brother, saying, ‘Know the LORD,’ for they will all know Me [through personal experience], from the least of them to the greatest,” says the LORD. “For I will forgive their wickedness, and I will no longer remember their sin.”  [Heb 8:8–12 ; 10:16 , 17 ] ‡

<sup>35</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡
Who gives the sun for light by day
And the fixed order of the moon and of the stars for light by night,
Who stirs up the sea’s roaring billows or stills the waves when they roar;

The LORD of hosts is His name:

<sup>36</sup> “If this fixed order departs ‡
From before Me,” says the LORD,
“Then the descendants of Israel also will cease
From being a nation before Me forever.”

<sup>37</sup> Thus says the LORD, ‡

“If the heavens above can be measured

And the foundations of the earth searched out below,
Then I will also cast off and abandon all the descendants of Israel
For all that they have done,” says the LORD.

<sup>38</sup> “Behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when the city [of Jerusalem] will be rebuilt for the LORD from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate.” ‡

<sup>39</sup> “The measuring line will go out farther straight ahead to the hill Gareb; then it will turn to Goah.” ‡

<sup>40</sup> “And the whole valley (Hinnom) of the dead bodies and [the hill] of the ashes [long dumped there from the temple sacrifices], and all the fields as far as the brook Kidron, to the corner of the Horse Gate toward the east, shall be holy to the LORD. It (the city) will not be uprooted or overthrown anymore to the end of the age.”  [Zech 14:10, 11. ] ‡

Jeremiah 32

Jeremiah Imprisoned

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Now at that time the army of the king of Babylon was besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the guard, which was in the house of the king of Judah. ‡

<sup>3</sup> For Zedekiah [the last] king of Judah had locked him up, saying, “Why do you prophesy [disaster] and say, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it; ‡

<sup>4</sup> and Zedekiah king of Judah will not escape from the hand of the Chaldeans, but he will surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will speak with him face to face and see him eye to eye; ‡

<sup>5</sup> and he will lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and he will be there until I visit him [for evaluation and judgment],” says the LORD. “If you fight against the Chaldeans, you will not succeed” ??”  [Jer 21:3–7; 34:2–5; 37:17; 52:7–14. ] ‡

<sup>6</sup>—And Jeremiah [answered King Zedekiah and] said, “The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

coming to you, saying, “Buy my field that is in Anathoth, for you have the right of redemption to buy it [in accordance with the law].” ’ ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Then Hanamel my uncle’s son came to me in the court of the guard in accordance with the word of the LORD, and he said to me, ‘Please buy my field that is at Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin, for you have the right of inheritance and the redemption is yours; buy it for yourself.’ Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.

<sup>9</sup> “I bought the field that was at Anathoth from Hanamel my uncle’s son, and weighed out the money for him, seventeen shekels of silver. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “I signed the deed and sealed it, and called in witnesses, and weighed out the money on the scales.

<sup>11</sup> “So I took the deeds of the purchase, both the sealed copy containing the terms and conditions, and the unsealed copy;

<sup>12</sup> and I gave the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the sight of Hanamel my uncle’s son and in sight of the witnesses who signed the purchase deed, in the presence of all the Jews who were sitting in the court of the guard. ‡

<sup>14</sup> ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Take these deeds, both this purchase deed which is sealed and this unsealed deed, and put them in an earthen jar, that they may last a long time.”

<sup>15</sup> ‘For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Houses and fields and vineyards will again be purchased in this land.” ’ ‡

Jeremiah Prays and God Explains

<sup>16</sup> “Now when I had delivered the purchase deed to Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD, saying,

<sup>17</sup> ‘Ah Lord GOD! Behold, You have made the heavens and the earth by Your great power and by Your outstretched arm! There is nothing too difficult or too wonderful for You— ‡

<sup>18</sup> You who show lovingkindness to thousands, but repay the wickedness (sin, guilt) of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them [that is, calling the children to account for the sins of their fathers], O great and mighty God; the LORD of hosts is His name; ‡

<sup>19</sup> great [are You] in counsel and mighty in deed, whose eyes are open to all the ways of the sons of men, to reward or repay each one according to his ways and according to the fruit of his deeds; ‡

20 who set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, and even to this day [continues to do so] both in Israel and among mankind; and You have made a name for Yourself, as at this day. ‡

<sup>21</sup> ‘You brought Your people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs and wonders, with a strong hand and with an outstretched arm and with great terror; ‡

<sup>22</sup> and gave them this land, which You swore to their forefathers to give them, a land [of plenty] flowing with milk and honey. ‡

<sup>23</sup> ‘They entered and took possession of it, but they did not obey Your voice or walk in Your law; they have done nothing of all that You commanded them to do. Therefore You have caused all this disaster and suffering to come upon them. ‡

<sup>24</sup> ‘See the siege ramps [of mounded earth that the enemy has built against the walls]; they have come up to the city to capture it. And the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans [of Babylon] who fight against it, because of the sword, the famine and the virulent disease [that have overcome the people]. What You have spoken has come to pass, and behold, You see it. ‡

<sup>25</sup> ‘Yet, O Lord GOD, You said to me, “Buy the field with money and get witnesses,” even though the city is given into the hands of the Chaldeans.’ ” ‡

<sup>26</sup> Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying,

27 “Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh; is there anything too difficult for Me?” ‡

<sup>28</sup> Therefore thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am about to give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will take it. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “The Chaldeans who are fighting against this city will come in and set this city on fire and burn it, along with the houses on whose roofs incense has been offered to Baal and drink offerings have been poured out to other gods to provoke Me to anger.  [Jer 19:13 ] ‡

<sup>30</sup> “For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done only evil in My sight from their youth; for the children of Israel have been provoking Me to anger by the [idols that are the] work of their hands,” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “From the day that they built it [during the reign of Solomon], even to this day, this city has been such a provocation of My anger and My wrath, that I must remove it from My sight,  [1 Kin 11:1–13 ] ‡

<sup>32</sup> because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah which they have done to provoke Me to anger—they, their kings, their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>33</sup> “They have turned their back to Me and not their face; though I taught them repeatedly, yet they would not listen and receive instruction. ‡

<sup>34</sup> “But they put their detestable things (idols) in the house which is called by My Name, to defile it. ‡

<sup>35</sup> “They built the high places [for worship] of Baal in the Valley of Ben-hinnom (son of Hinnom) to make their sons and their daughters pass through the fire to [worship and honor] Molech—which I had not commanded them nor had it entered My mind that they should do this repulsive thing, to cause Judah to sin.  [Jer 7:30, 31 ] ‡

<sup>36</sup> “Now therefore thus says the LORD God of Israel concerning this city of which you say, ‘It is given into the hand of the king of Babylon by sword and by famine and by virulent disease.’ ‡

<sup>37</sup> “Behold, I will gather them out of all countries to which I have driven them in My anger, in My wrath and in great indignation; and I will bring them back to this place and make them live in safety. ‡

<sup>38</sup> “They will be My people, and I will be their God; ‡

<sup>39</sup> and I will give them one heart and one way, that they may [reverently] fear Me forever, for their own good and for the good of their children after them. ‡

<sup>40</sup> “I will make an everlasting covenant with them that I will do them good and not turn away from them; and I will put in their heart a fear and reverential awe of Me, so that they will not turn away from Me.  [Jer 31:31–34 ] ‡

<sup>41</sup> “I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will faithfully plant them in this land with all My heart and with all My soul. ‡

<sup>42</sup> “For thus says the LORD, ‘Just as I have brought all this great disaster on this people, so I am going to bring on them all the good that I am promising them. ‡

<sup>43</sup> ‘Fields will be bought in this land of which you say, “It is desolate, without man or animal; it is given into the hands of the Chaldeans.” ‡

<sup>44</sup> ‘People will buy fields for money, sign deeds, seal them, and call in witnesses in the land of Benjamin, in the places around Jerusalem, in the cities of Judah, in the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, and in the cities of the South (the Negev); for I will restore their fortunes and release them from exile,’ says the LORD.” ‡

Jeremiah 33

Restoration Promised

<sup>1</sup> THEN THE word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the second time, while he was still confined in the court of the guard, saying, ‡

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD who made the earth, the LORD who formed it to establish it—the LORD is His name, ‡

<sup>3</sup> ‘Call to Me and I will answer you, and tell you [and even show you] great and mighty things, [things which have been confined and hidden], which you do not know and understand and cannot distinguish.’ ‡

<sup>4</sup> “For thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city and the houses of the kings of Judah which are torn down to make a defense against the siege ramps and against the sword,  [Is 22:10; Jer 6:6 ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> ‘While they (the besieged Jews) are coming to fight against the Chaldeans and to fill the houses with the dead bodies of men whom I have slain in My anger and in My wrath, for I have hidden My face [in disgust] from this city because of all their wickedness. ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘Behold, [in the restored Jerusalem] I will bring to it health and healing, and I will heal them; and I will reveal to them an abundance of peace (prosperity, security, stability) and truth. ‡

<sup>7</sup> ‘I will restore the fortunes of Judah and the fortunes of Israel and will rebuild them as they were at first. ‡

<sup>8</sup> ‘I will cleanse them from all their wickedness (guilt) by which they have sinned against Me, and I will pardon (forgive) all their sins by which they rebelled against Me. ‡

<sup>9</sup> ‘Jerusalem will be to Me a name of joy, praise and glory before all the nations of the earth which will hear of all the good that I do for it, and they shall fear and tremble because of all the good and all the peace (prosperity, security, stability) that I provide for it.’ ‡

<sup>10</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘Yet again there will be heard in this place of which you say, “It is a [desolate] waste, without man and without animal”—even in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem that are desolate, without man and without inhabitant and without animal—‡

<sup>11</sup> the [sound of the] voice of joy and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and the voice of the bride, the [song-filled] voice of those who say, ‡

“Give praise and thanks to the LORD of hosts,
For the LORD is good;
For His [steadfast] lovingkindness (mercy) endures forever”;

and of those who bring a thank offering into the house of the LORD. For I will restore the fortunes of the land as they were at first,’ says the LORD.

<sup>12</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‘There will again be in this desolate place —[a place] without man or animal—and in all its cities, pastures for shepherds who rest their flocks. ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘In the cities of the hill country, in the cities of the lowland, in the cities of the South (the Negev), in the land of Benjamin, in the places around Jerusalem and in the cities of Judah, the flocks will again pass under the hand of the one who counts them,’ says the LORD. ‡

The Davidic Kingdom

<sup>14</sup> ‘Behold, the days are coming,’ says the LORD, ‘when I will fulfill the good word and promise which I have made regarding the house of Israel and the house of Judah. ‡

<sup>15</sup> ‘In those days and at that time I will cause a righteous Branch of David to spring forth; and He (the Messiah) shall execute justice and righteousness on the earth.  [Is 4:2; Jer 23:5; Zech 3:8; 6:12 ] ‡

<sup>16</sup> ‘In those days Judah will be saved and [the people of] Jerusalem will live in safety; and this is the name by which she will be called: the LORD Our Righteousness (Justice).’

<sup>17</sup> ‘For thus says the LORD, ‘David shall never lack a man (descendant) to sit on the throne of the house of Israel; ‡

<sup>18</sup> and the Levitical priests shall never lack a man (descendant) to offer burnt offerings before Me and to burn grain offerings and to prepare sacrifices all day long.’ ” ‡

<sup>20</sup> ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘If you can break My covenant for the day and My covenant for the night, so that day and night do not take place at their appointed times, ‡

<sup>21</sup> then My covenant may also be broken with David My servant so that he will not have a son to reign on his throne, and [My covenant may also be broken] with the Levitical priests, My ministers. ‡

<sup>22</sup> ‘As the host of [the stars of] heaven cannot be counted and the sand of the sea cannot be measured, so I will multiply the descendants of David My servant and the Levites who minister to Me.’ ” ‡

<sup>23</sup> And the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,

<sup>24</sup> “Have you not noticed what this people have spoken, saying, ‘The two families [Israel the northern kingdom, and Judah the southern kingdom] which the LORD chose, He has rejected’? Thus they despise My [chosen] people, no longer are they [considered] as a nation in their sight. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘If My covenant with day and night does not stand, and if I have not established the fixed patterns of heaven and earth, [the whole order of nature,] ‡

<sup>26</sup> then I would [also] reject the descendants of Jacob and David My servant, not taking from his descendants rulers over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. But I will restore their fortunes, and will have mercy on them.’ ”  [Gen 49:10] ‡

Jeremiah 34

A Prophecy against Zedekiah

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that came to Jeremiah from the LORD when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army, with all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his sovereignty and all the peoples, were fighting against Jerusalem and against all of its cities: ‡

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD God of Israel, ‘Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him: “Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I am giving this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he will set it on fire and burn it down. ‡

<sup>3</sup>-‘You will not escape from his hand, for you will definitely be captured and handed over to him; you will see the king of Babylon eye to eye, and he will speak with you face to face; and you will go to Babylon.’ ” ’ ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah! Thus says the LORD concerning you, ‘You will not die by the sword.

<sup>5</sup> ‘You will die in peace; and as spices were burned for [the memory and honor of] your fathers, the former kings who reigned before you, so shall a [ceremonial] burning be made for you; and people will lament (grieve) for you, saying, “Alas, lord (master)!” ’ For I have spoken the word,” says the LORD. ‡

Judah in Jerusalem

<sup>7</sup> when the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and against all the remaining cities of Judah, against Lachish and Azekah, for these were the [only] fortified cities among the cities of Judah. ‡

<sup>8</sup>-The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD after King Zedekiah had made a covenant (solemn pledge) with all the [Hebrew] people who were [slaves] in Jerusalem to proclaim liberty to them: ‡

<sup>9</sup> that every man should let his Hebrew slaves, male and female, go free, so that no one should make a slave of a Jew, his brother. ‡

<sup>10</sup> So all the princes and all the people who had entered into the covenant agreed that everyone would let his male servant and his female servant go free, and that no one would keep them in bondage any longer; they obeyed, and set them free.

<sup>11</sup> But afterward they backed out [of the covenant] and made the male servants and the female servants whom they had set free return [to them], and brought the male servants and the female servants again into servitude. ‡

<sup>12</sup>-Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

<sup>13</sup> “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘I made a covenant (solemn pledge) with your forefathers in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying,

<sup>14</sup> “At the end of seven years each of you shall set free his Hebrew brother who has sold himself [into servitude] or who has been sold to you and has served you six years, you shall release him from [serving] you; but your forefathers did not listen [submissively] to Me or obey Me.  [Deut 15:12] ‡

<sup>15</sup> “So then you recently turned and repented, doing what was right in My sight, each man proclaiming release [from servitude] to his countryman [who was his bond servant]; and you had made a covenant before Me in the house which is called by My Name. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “Yet you backed out [of the covenant] and profaned My Name, and each man took back his servants, male and female, whom had been set free in accordance with their desire, and you brought them into servitude [again] to be your male servants and your female servants.” ’ ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Therefore says the LORD, ‘You have not obeyed Me; you have not proclaimed liberty to your brother and your countryman. Behold (listen very carefully), I am proclaiming liberty to you—[liberty to be put] to the sword, [liberty] to [be ravaged by] the virulent disease, and [liberty] to [be decimated by] famine,’ says the LORD; ‘and I will make you a horror and a warning to all the kingdoms of the earth.‡

18 ‘The men who have violated My covenant, who have not kept the terms of the solemn pledge which they made before Me when they split the [sacrificial] calf in half, and then afterwards walked between its separated pieces [sealing their pledge to Me by placing a curse on themselves should they violate the covenant—those men I will make like the calf]!  [Gen 15:9, 10, 17. ]‡

19 ‘The princes of Judah, the princes of Jerusalem, the high officials, the priests, and all the people of the land who passed between the parts of the calf,

20 I will give into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their lives. And [like the body of the calf] their dead bodies will be food for the birds of the sky and the beasts of the earth.‡

21 ‘Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes I will place into the hand of their enemies and into the hand of those who seek their life, and into the hand of the army of the king of Babylon which has withdrawn from you.‡

22 ‘Behold, I am going to command [the Chaldeans who rule Babylon],’ says the LORD, ‘and I will bring them back to this city; and they will fight against it and take it and set it on fire. I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without inhabitant.’ ”‡

Jeremiah 35

The Rechabites' Obedience

1 THE WORD that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah:

2 “Go to the house of the Rechabites and speak to them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the [side] chambers; then give them [who are pledged not to drink wine] some wine to drink.”‡

3 So I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers and all his sons and the whole house of the Rechabites,

4 and I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan the son of Igdaiah, the man of God, which was near the chamber of the princes, above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum the doorkeeper.‡

5 Then I set before the men of the house of the Rechabites pitchers full of wine, and cups, and I said to them, “Drink wine.”

<sup>6</sup> But they said, “We will not drink wine, for Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, commanded us: ‘You shall not drink wine, neither you nor your sons, forever.’‡

<sup>7</sup> ‘Nor shall you build a house or sow seed or plant a vineyard or own one; but you shall live in tents all your days, that you may live many days in the land where you are sojourners (temporary residents).’‡

<sup>8</sup> “We have obeyed the words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, our father, in all that he commanded us, in all our days we have never drunk wine, nor have our wives, our sons, or our daughters, <sup>9</sup> nor have we built ourselves houses to live in; nor do we have vineyards or fields or seed.

<sup>10</sup> “We have lived only in tents, and have obeyed and done [everything] according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.

<sup>11</sup> “But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up against the land, we said, ‘Come and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans [who rule Babylon] and for fear of the army of the Arameans.’ So we have lived in Jerusalem.”

Judah Rebuked

<sup>12</sup> Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah, saying,

<sup>13</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Go and say to the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, “Will you not receive instruction by listening to My words and honoring them?” says the LORD.‡

<sup>14</sup> “The command which Jonadab the son of Rechab gave to his sons not to drink wine has been observed [as a custom for more than two hundred years]. To this day they do not drink wine, for they have obeyed their father’s command. But I have repeatedly spoken to you, yet you have not listened to Me.‡

<sup>15</sup> “I have also sent to you all My servants the prophets, sending them repeatedly, saying, ‘Let every one of you turn now from his evil way and alter your behavior, and do not follow other gods to worship and serve them; and then you will live in the land which I have given to you and to your forefathers. But you have not submitted or listened to Me.‡

<sup>16</sup> ‘Indeed, the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have observed the command of their father which he gave them, but this people has not listened to Me.’ ” ’

<sup>17</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold (hear this), I am bringing on Judah and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the disaster that I have pronounced against them, because I have spoken to them, but they have not listened, and I have called to them, but they have not answered.’ ” ‡

<sup>18</sup> Then Jeremiah said to the house of the Rechabites, “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Because you have obeyed the command of Jonadab your father and have kept all his commands and have done according to all that he commanded you,

<sup>19</sup> therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Jonadab the son of Rechab shall never fail to have a man (descendant) to stand before Me always.” ” ‡

Jeremiah 36

Jeremiah's Scroll Read in the Temple

<sup>1</sup> IN THE fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

<sup>2</sup> “Take a scroll [of parchment] and write on it all the words which I have spoken to you concerning Israel and Judah, and all the nations, from the day I [first] spoke to you in the days of [King] Josiah until this day. ‡

<sup>3</sup> “It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the disaster which I plan to bring on them, so that each one will turn from his evil way, that I may forgive their wickedness and their sin.”  [Jer 18:7–10 ; 26:3 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah, and Baruch wrote on the scroll of the book all the words which Jeremiah dictated, [words] which the LORD had spoken to him. ‡

<sup>5</sup> Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, “I am [in hiding, virtually] restrained; I cannot go into the house of the LORD.

<sup>6</sup> “So you go to the LORD’s house on a day of fasting and read from the scroll the words of the LORD to the people which you have written as I dictated. And also you shall read them to all the people of Judah who come from their cities. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “It may be that their supplication [for mercy] will come before the LORD, and everyone will turn from his evil way, for great is the anger and the wrath that the LORD has pronounced against this people.” ‡

<sup>8</sup>—Baruch the son of Neriah did everything that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading from [Jeremiah's scroll] the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.

<sup>9</sup> Now in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, in the ninth month, a fast was proclaimed before the LORD for all the people in Jerusalem and all the people who came to Jerusalem from the cities of Judah.

<sup>10</sup> Then Baruch read to all the people the words of Jeremiah from the scroll of the book in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the upper court, at the entry of the New Gate of the LORD's house. ‡

<sup>11</sup> When Micaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard all the words of the LORD from the scroll,

<sup>12</sup> he went down to the king's house, into the scribe's chamber; and behold, all the princes were sitting there: Elishama the scribe, Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, Elnathan the son of Achbor, Gemariah the son of Shaphan, Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the [other] princes.

<sup>13</sup> Then Micaiah declared to them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read from the scroll to all the people.

<sup>14</sup> Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to Baruch, saying, "Take in your hand the scroll from which you have read to the people and come [to us]." So Baruch the son of Neriah took the scroll in his hand and went to them.

<sup>15</sup> And they said to him, "Sit down now and read it to us." So Baruch read it to them.

<sup>16</sup> Now when they had heard all the words, they turned one to another in fear and said to Baruch, "We must surely report all these words to the king."

<sup>17</sup> And they asked Baruch, "Tell us now, how did you write all these words? At his (Jeremiah's) dictation?"

<sup>18</sup> Then Baruch answered them, "He dictated all these words to me, and I wrote them with ink on the scroll."

<sup>19</sup> Then the princes said to Baruch, "Go and hide, you and Jeremiah, and do not let anyone know where you are."

The Scroll Is Burned

<sup>20</sup> Then they went into the court to the king, but they [first] put the scroll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe; then they reported all the words to the king.

<sup>21</sup> So the king sent Jehudi to get the scroll, and he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the scribe. And Jehudi read it to the king and all the princes who stood beside the king.

<sup>22</sup> Now it was the ninth month, and the king was sitting in the winter house, with a fire burning there in the brazier before him. ‡

<sup>23</sup> And after Jehudi had read three or four columns [of the scroll], King Jehoiakim would cut off that portion with a scribe's knife and throw it into the fire that was in the brazier, until the [entire] scroll was consumed by the fire.

<sup>24</sup> Yet the king and all his servants who heard all these words were not afraid, nor did they tear their clothes. ‡

<sup>25</sup> Even though Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah pleaded with the king not to burn the scroll, he would not listen to them.

<sup>26</sup> And the king commanded Jerahmeel the king's son, Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel to seize Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet, but the LORD hid them.

The Scroll Is Replaced

<sup>27</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah after the king had burned the scroll containing the words which Baruch had written at the dictation of Jeremiah:

<sup>28</sup> “Take another scroll and write on it all the former words that were on the first scroll which Jehoiakim the king of Judah burned.

<sup>29</sup> “And concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah you shall say, ‘Thus says the LORD, ‘You have burned this scroll, saying, ‘Why have you written on it that the king of Babylon will certainly come and destroy this land, and will cut off man and beast from it?’ ”

<sup>30</sup> ‘Therefore thus says the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah, “He shall have no heir to sit on the throne of David, and his dead body shall be thrown out to the heat of the day and to the frost of the night. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “I will also punish him and his descendants and his servants for their wickedness, and I will bring on them and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and the men of Judah all the destruction that I have declared against them—but they would not listen.” ’ ”

<sup>32</sup> Then Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah, who wrote on it at the dictation of Jeremiah all the words of the scroll which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire; and many similar words were added to them.

Jeremiah Warns against Trust in Pharaoh

<sup>1</sup> NOW NEBUCHADNEZZAR king of Babylon made Zedekiah the son of Josiah king in the land of Judah so he reigned as king instead of Coniah (also called Jeconiah and Jehoiachin) the son of Jehoiakim. ‡

<sup>2</sup> But neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened to the words of the LORD which He spoke through the prophet Jeremiah. ‡

<sup>3</sup> Yet King Zedekiah sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah [along] with Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah, the priest, to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, “Please pray [now] to the LORD our God for us.” ‡

<sup>4</sup> Now Jeremiah was coming and going among the people, for they had not [yet] put him in prison.

<sup>5</sup> Meanwhile, Pharaoh’s army had set out from Egypt; and when the Chaldeans who were besieging Jerusalem heard the news about them, they withdrew from Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to the prophet Jeremiah:

<sup>7</sup> “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, ‘This is what you are to say to the king of Judah, who sent you to Me to inquire of Me: “Behold, Pharaoh’s army, which has come out to help you, will return to Egypt, to their own land. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “And the Chaldeans [of Babylon] will come again and fight against this city, and they will capture it and set it on fire.” ’ ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘Do not deceive yourselves, saying, “The Chaldeans will certainly stay away from us,” for they will not stay away.

<sup>10</sup> ‘For even if you had defeated the whole army of the Chaldeans who fight against you, and there remained only the wounded men among them, yet they would rise up, every man confined in his tent, and burn down this city with fire.’ ” ‡

Jeremiah Imprisoned

<sup>11</sup> Now it happened when the army of the Chaldeans departed from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's [approaching] army, ‡

<sup>12</sup> that Jeremiah left Jerusalem [during the withdrawal of the Chaldean invaders] to go to [Anathoth, his hometown, in] the land of Benjamin to take possession of [the title to] the land [which he had purchased] there among the people. [Jer 32:6–12]

<sup>13</sup> When he was at the Gate of Benjamin, a captain of the guard whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah the son of Hananiah was there; and he seized and arrested Jeremiah the prophet, saying, "You are deserting to join the Chaldeans [of Babylon]!"

<sup>14</sup> But Jeremiah said, "That is a lie! I am not deserting to join the Chaldeans." But the guard would not listen to him. So Irijah took Jeremiah and brought him to the princes (court officials).

<sup>15</sup> The princes were enraged with Jeremiah and beat him and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe—for they had made that the prison.
‡

<sup>16</sup> When Jeremiah had come into the vaulted cell in the dungeon and had remained there many days, ‡

<sup>17</sup> Zedekiah the king sent and brought him out; and in his palace the king secretly asked him, "Is there any word from the LORD?" And Jeremiah said, "There is!" Then he said, "You will be handed over to the king of Babylon."

<sup>18</sup> Moreover, Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, "In what way have I sinned against you, or against your servants, or against this people, that you have put me in prison?"

<sup>19</sup> "Where then are your prophets who prophesied to you, saying, 'The king of Babylon will not come against you or against this land?'

<sup>20</sup> "Therefore now, please listen, O my lord the king; please let my petition come before you and be acceptable and do not make me return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, that I may not die there."

<sup>21</sup> Then King Zedekiah commanded, and they committed Jeremiah to the court of the guardhouse, and a [round] loaf of bread from the bakers' street was given to him daily, until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained [imprisoned] in the court of the guardhouse. ‡

Jeremiah 38

Jeremiah Thrown into the Cistern

<sup>1</sup> NOW SHEPHATIAH the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashhur, and Jucal (also called Jehucal) the son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur the son of Malchijah heard the words that Jeremiah was speaking to all the people, saying, ‡

<sup>2</sup> “So says the LORD, ‘He who remains in this city will die by the sword, by famine, and by virulent disease (pestilence), but he who goes out to the Chaldeans [of Babylon] will live and have his [own] life as a reward and stay alive.’  [Jer 21:9 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> Therefore the princes (court officials) said to the king, “Please [we implore you] let this man [Jeremiah] be put to death; for [speaking] in this way he discourages and weakens [the will of] the soldiers who remain in this city and he discourages and weakens [the will of] all the people by speaking such words to them; for this man is not seeking the well-being of these people, but rather their harm.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then King Zedekiah [fearing the princes] said, “Listen, he is in your hand; for the king is in no position to do anything against you.”

<sup>6</sup> So they took Jeremiah and threw him into the cistern of Malchijah the king’s son, which was in the court of the guardhouse; and they let Jeremiah down [into the cistern] with ropes. Now there was no water in the cistern but only mud, and Jeremiah sank in the mud. ‡

<sup>8</sup> Ebed-melech went out of the king’s palace and spoke to the king, saying,

<sup>9</sup> “My lord the king, these men have acted wickedly in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet whom they have thrown into the cistern; and he will die [of hunger] where he is because of the famine, for there is no more bread in the city.”

<sup>11</sup> So Ebed-melech took the men with him and went into the palace of the king to a place under the storeroom and took from there old rags and worn-out clothes and let them down by ropes into the cistern to Jeremiah.

<sup>12</sup> Then Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said to Jeremiah, “Now put these old rags and worn-out clothes under your armpits, then place the ropes under the padding”; and Jeremiah did so.

<sup>13</sup> So they pulled Jeremiah up with the ropes and took him up out of the cistern; and Jeremiah remained in the court of the guardhouse. ‡

<sup>14</sup> Then King Zedekiah sent and had Jeremiah the prophet brought to him at the third entrance that is in the house of the LORD. And the king said to Jeremiah, “I am going to ask you something; hide nothing from me.”

<sup>15</sup> Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “If I tell you, will you not certainly put me to death? Even if I do give you advice, you will not listen to me.”

<sup>16</sup> But King Zedekiah swore secretly to Jeremiah, “As the LORD lives, who made our lives, be assured that I will not put you to death or put you into the hand of these men who are seeking your life.” ‡

Interview with Zedekiah

<sup>17</sup> Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, “Thus says the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘If you will go out and surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, then you will live and this city will not be burned with fire; and you and your household will live.’ ‡

<sup>18</sup> ‘But if you will not go out to the officers of the king of Babylon, then this city will be given into the hand of the Chaldeans [of Babylon] and they will set it on fire; and you yourself will not escape from their hand.’ ‡

<sup>19</sup> Then King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “I am afraid of the Jews [my former subjects] who have deserted to join the Chaldeans, for the enemy may put me into their hand and they will mock me and abuse me.” ‡

<sup>20</sup> But Jeremiah said, “They will not hand you over [to them]. Please obey [the voice of] the LORD [who speaks to you through me] in what I am saying to you. Then it will go well with you and you will live.

<sup>21</sup> “But if you keep refusing to go out and surrender to them, this is the word [and the vision] which the LORD has shown me:

<sup>22</sup> ‘Then behold, all the women who are left in the palace of the king of Judah will be brought out to the officers of the king of Babylon and those women will say [to you, King Zedekiah],

“Your close friends
Have prevailed against your better judgment and have overpowered and deceived you;
While your feet were sunk in the mire [of trouble],
They turned back.”

<sup>23</sup> ‘Also, all your wives and your children will be brought out to the Chaldeans; and you yourself will not escape from their hand, but you will be seized by the king of Babylon, and this city [Jerusalem] will be burned down with fire.’ ” ‡

<sup>24</sup> Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, “Let no man know about this conversation and you will not die.

<sup>25</sup> “But if the princes (court officials) hear that I have talked with you, and they come to you and say, ‘Tell us now what you said to the king and what he said to you; do not hide it from us and we will not execute you,’

<sup>26</sup> then you are to say to them, ‘I was presenting my [humble] petition and plea to the king so that he would not send me back to Jonathan’s house to die there.’ ” ‡

<sup>27</sup> Then all the princes (court officials) came to Jeremiah and asked him [just what King Zedekiah had anticipated they would ask], and he reported to them in accordance with all that the king had commanded. So they stopped questioning him, since the conversation [with the king] had not been overheard.

<sup>28</sup> So Jeremiah remained in the court of the guardhouse until the day that Jerusalem was captured [by the Chaldeans of Babylon]. ‡

Jeremiah 39

Jerusalem Captured

<sup>1</sup> NOW REGARDING the capture of Jerusalem: In the ninth year of [the reign of] Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and besieged it; [Jer 52:4–27] ‡

<sup>2</sup> and in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, they breached the wall and broke into the city.

<sup>3</sup> Then all the officials of the king of Babylon came in and sat in the Middle Gate [establishing both military control of the city and their authority to judge the captives]: Nergal-sar-ezer, Samgar-nebu, Sar-sekim the Rab-saris (chief of the eunuchs), and Nergal-sar-ezer the Rab-mag (chief of the magicians), with all the rest of the officials of the king of Babylon. ‡

<sup>4</sup> When Zedekiah the king of Judah and all the men of war saw them, they fled and escaped from the city at night by way of the king’s garden, through the gate between the two walls; and the king went out toward the Arabah (Jordan Valley). ‡

<sup>5</sup> But the Chaldean (Babylonian) army pursued them and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho. When they had seized him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon at Riblah in the [Aramean] land of Hamath, where he passed sentence on him. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Then at Riblah the king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; the king of Babylon also killed all the nobles of Judah.

<sup>7</sup> Moreover, he blinded Zedekiah and bound him with bronze shackles to take him to Babylon.  [Ezek 12:13. ] ‡

<sup>8</sup> The Chaldeans also burned down the king's palace and the houses of the people, and they broke down the walls of Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>9</sup> Then Nebuzaradan the [chief executioner and] captain of the bodyguard took the rest of the people who remained in the city, along with those who had deserted and surrendered to him, and the rest of the [so-called better class of] people who were left and carried them into exile in Babylon. ‡

Jeremiah Spared

<sup>11</sup> Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon gave orders concerning Jeremiah through Nebuzaradan the captain of the bodyguard, saying,

<sup>12</sup> "Take him and look after him; do nothing to harm him, but rather deal with him just as he asks of you."

<sup>13</sup> So Nebuzaradan the captain of the bodyguard sent word, along with Nebushazban the Rab-saris (chief of the high officials), and Nergal-sar-ezer the Rab-mag (chief of the magicians), and all the leading officers of the king of Babylon;

<sup>14</sup> they even sent and took Jeremiah out of the court of the guardhouse and entrusted him to Gedaliah [a prominent citizen], the son of Ahikam [who had once saved Jeremiah's life], the son of Shaphan, to take him home [with him to Mizpah]. So Jeremiah [was released and] lived among the people.  [Jer 26:24. ] ‡

<sup>15</sup> Now the word of the LORD had come to Jeremiah while he was [still] confined in the court of the guardhouse, saying,

<sup>16</sup> “Go and speak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I am about to bring My words [of judgment] against this city through disaster and not for good; and they will take place before you on that day.”’ ‡

<sup>17</sup> “But I will protect you [Ebed-melech] on that day,” says the LORD, “and you will not be handed over to the men of whom you are afraid.  [Jer 38:7–13 ]

<sup>18</sup> “For I will certainly rescue you; and you will not fall by the sword, but you will have your [own] life as a reward of battle, because you have placed your trust in Me,” says the LORD.’ ” ‡

Jeremiah 40

Jeremiah Remains in Judah

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD which came to Jeremiah from the LORD after Nebuzaradan the captain of the bodyguard had released him from Ramah, when he had taken him bound in chains among all the captives of Jerusalem and Judah who were being taken as exiles to Babylon. ‡

<sup>2</sup> And the captain of the bodyguard had taken Jeremiah and said to him, “The LORD your God promised this disaster on this place. ‡

<sup>3</sup> Now the LORD has brought it about and has done just as He promised. Because you [people of Judah] have sinned against the LORD and did not listen to and honor His voice, therefore this thing has happened to you. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “But now, listen carefully, [because of your innocence] I am freeing you today from the chains which are on your hands. If you would prefer to come with me to Babylon, come, and I will look after you [carefully]; but if you would prefer not to come with me to Babylon, then do not do so. Look, all the land is before you; go wherever it seems good and right (convenient) for you to go.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> While Jeremiah was still hesitating, the captain of the bodyguard said, “Go on back then to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has appointed [governor] over the cities of Judah, and stay with him among the people; or else go wherever it seems right for you to go.” So the captain of the bodyguard gave him an allowance of food and a gift and let him go. ‡

with him among the people who were left in the land. ‡

<sup>7</sup> Now when all the commanders of the forces that were [scattered] in the open country [of Judah] and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land [of Judah] and had put him in charge of the men, women, and children, those of the poorest of the land who had not been exiled to Babylon, ‡

<sup>8</sup> they went to Gedaliah at Mizpah—Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of the Maacathite, they and their men. ‡

<sup>9</sup> Then Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, swore to them and their men, saying, “Do not be afraid to serve the Chaldeans; stay in this land and serve the king of Babylon, that it may go well with you.

<sup>10</sup> “As for me, I am going to stay at Mizpah to stand [for you] before the Chaldeans who come to us [ministering to them and looking after the king’s interests]; but as for you, gather in wine, summer fruit and oil and store them in your utensils [designed for such purposes], and live in your cities that you have taken over.”

<sup>11</sup> Likewise, when all the Jews who were in Moab and among the people of Ammon and in Edom and who were in all the [other] countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant [of the people] in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan over them [as governor], <sup>12</sup> then all the Jews returned from all the places to which they had been driven and came back to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, and gathered a great abundance of wine and summer fruits.

<sup>13</sup> Moreover, Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces that were [scattered] in the open country came to Gedaliah at Mizpah

<sup>14</sup> and said to him, “Do you know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites has sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to take your life?” But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam did not believe them. ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then Johanan the son of Kareah spoke secretly to Gedaliah in Mizpah, saying, “Let me go and kill Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and not a man will know [who is responsible]. Why should he kill you and cause all the Jews who are gathered near you to be scattered and the remnant of Judah to perish?”

<sup>16</sup> But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said to Johanan the son of Kareah, “Do not do this thing, for you are lying about Ishmael.”

Jeremiah 41

Gedaliah Is Murdered

<sup>1</sup> NOW IN the seventh month Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, of the royal family [of David] and one of the princes of the king, came [at the instigation of the Ammonites] with ten men to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam in Mizpah. As they were eating a meal together there in Mizpah,‡

<sup>2</sup> Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and the ten men who were with him got up and struck down Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with the sword and killed the one whom the king of Babylon had appointed [governor] over the land. [2 Kin 25:25]‡

<sup>3</sup> Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were [at the banquet] with Gedaliah at Mizpah, in addition to the Chaldean soldiers who were there.

<sup>4</sup> Now it happened on the second day after the killing of Gedaliah, before anyone knew about it,

<sup>6</sup> Then Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping [false tears] as he went. As he met them, he said to them, “Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam!”

<sup>7</sup> Yet when they came into the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and the men who were with him slaughtered them and threw them into the cistern (underground water reservoir).

<sup>8</sup> But ten men who were among them said to Ishmael, “Do not kill us! We have stores of wheat and barley and oil and honey hidden in the field.” So he stopped and did not kill them along with their companions.

<sup>9</sup> Now the cistern into which Ishmael had thrown all the corpses of the men whom he had killed along with Gedaliah was the one which King Asa [of Judah] had made [about three hundred years earlier] on account of King Baasha of Israel [believing that Baasha would lay siege to Mizpah]. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with [the bodies of] those who were killed.‡

<sup>10</sup> Then Ishmael took captive all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah —even the king’s daughters (ladies of the court) and all the people who remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the bodyguard had put under the charge of Gedaliah the son of Ahikam. Ishmael the son of Nethaniah took them captive and crossed over [the Jordan] to [meet his allies] the Ammonites. ‡

Johanan Rescues the People

<sup>11</sup> But when Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces that were with him heard of the murderous behavior of Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, ‡

<sup>12</sup> they took all their men and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah and found him by the great pool in Gibeon. ‡

<sup>13</sup> Now when all the [captive] people who were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces that were with him, they were glad.

<sup>14</sup> So all the people whom Ishmael had taken captive from Mizpah turned around and came back, and joined Johanan the son of Kareah.

<sup>15</sup> But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men and went to join the Ammonites.

<sup>16</sup> Then Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces that were with him took from Mizpah all the people whom he had rescued from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, after Ishmael had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: the soldiers, the women, the children, and the high officials whom Johanan had brought back from Gibeon.

<sup>17</sup> And they went and stayed in Geruth [the lodging place of] Chimham, which is near Bethlehem, intending to go to Egypt ‡

<sup>18</sup> because of the Chaldeans; for they were afraid of them because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed [governor] over the land [and whose death the king might avenge]. ‡

Jeremiah 42

Warning against Going to Egypt

<sup>1</sup> THEN ALL the commanders of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah and Jezaniah (Azariah) the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least to the greatest approached ‡

<sup>2</sup> and said to Jeremiah the prophet, “Please let our petition be presented before you, and pray to the LORD your God for us, that is, for all this remnant [of the people of Judah]; for we were once many, but now [only] a few of us are left, as you see with your own eyes, [so please pray] ‡

<sup>3</sup> that the LORD your God may show us the way in which we should walk and the thing that we should do.” ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then Jeremiah the prophet said to them, “I have heard you. Now hear me, I will pray to the LORD your God in accordance with your words; and I will declare to you whatever message the LORD answers; I will keep nothing back from you.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then they said to Jeremiah, “May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we fail to act in accordance with all the things that the LORD your God sends you to tell us.” ‡

<sup>6</sup> “Whether it is pleasant or unpleasant, we will listen to and honor the voice of the LORD our God to whom we are sending you, so that it may go well with us when we listen to the voice of the LORD our God.” ‡

<sup>7</sup> Now after ten days [of prayer] had passed the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah.

<sup>8</sup> Then he called for Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces that were with him and all the people from the least to the greatest,

<sup>9</sup> and said to them, “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your petition before Him:

<sup>10</sup> ‘If you will indeed remain in this land, then I will build you up and not tear you down, and I will plant you and not uproot you; for I will relent and be satisfied concerning the disaster that I have inflicted on you [as discipline, and I will replace judgment with compassion].  [Jer 31:4, 28 ] ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you now fear [as if he were deity]; do not be afraid of him,’ says the LORD, ‘for [he is a mere man, but I am the living, omniscient God and] I am with you [always] to protect you and to deliver you from his hand.’ ‡

<sup>12</sup> ‘And I will show you compassion, so that he will have compassion on you and restore you to your own land.’ ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘But if you are going to say, “We will not stay in this land,” and [in so doing] do not listen to the voice of the LORD your God, ‡

<sup>14</sup> saying, “No, but we will go to the land of Egypt, where we will not see war or hear the sound of the [warrior’s] trumpet or hunger for bread, and we will stay there,”

<sup>15</sup>then in that case listen to the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “If you are really determined to go to Egypt and to reside there [temporarily],‡

<sup>16</sup> then the sword, of which you are afraid, will overtake you there in the land of Egypt; and the famine of which you are afraid will follow closely after you in Egypt, and you will die there.

<sup>17</sup> ‘So all the men who set their mind to go to Egypt to reside there [temporarily] will die by the sword, by famine and by virulent disease; none of them will remain or survive the disaster that I am going to bring on them.’ ”‡

<sup>18</sup> For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “As My anger and My wrath have been poured out on the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so My wrath will be poured out on you when you enter Egypt. You will become detested, an object of horror, a curse and a people scorned; and you will no longer see this place.”‡

<sup>19</sup> The LORD has spoken to you, O remnant of Judah, “Do not go into Egypt!” Know with certainty that I [Jeremiah] have warned you and testified to you this day‡

<sup>20</sup> that you have deceived yourselves; for you sent me to the LORD your God, saying, “Pray for us to the LORD our God; and whatever the LORD our God says, declare it to us and we will do it.”

<sup>21</sup> And so I have told you today, but you have not listened to the voice of the LORD your God, in anything that He has sent me to tell you.

<sup>22</sup> Now therefore know for certain that you will die by the sword, by famine, and by virulent disease in the land [of Egypt] where you wish to reside [temporarily].‡

Jeremiah 43

In Egypt Jeremiah Warns of Judgment

<sup>1</sup> NOW IT happened when Jeremiah, whom the LORD their God had sent, had finished telling all the people all the words of the LORD their God—that is, all these words—

<sup>2</sup> Azariah the son of Hoshaiah and Johanan the son of Kareah and all the proud and insolent men said to Jeremiah, “You are not telling the truth! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, ‘Do not go into Egypt to live there.’‡

<sup>3</sup> “But Baruch the son of Neriah is inciting you against us to hand us over to the Chaldeans, so they may [either] put us to death or exile us to Babylon.”

<sup>4</sup> So Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces and all the people disobeyed the voice of the LORD [which told them] to stay in the land of Judah.

<sup>5</sup> But Johanan the son of Kareah and all the commanders of the forces took all the remnant of Judah who had returned to live in the land of Judah from all the nations to which they had been driven—‡

<sup>6</sup> the men, women, and children, the king’s daughters (ladies of the court), and every person whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the bodyguard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan; he also took Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch the son of Neriah.‡

<sup>7</sup> So they entered the land of Egypt (for they did not obey the voice of the LORD) and they went in as far as Tahpanhes.‡

<sup>8</sup> Then came the word of the LORD to Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,

<sup>9</sup> “Take some large stones in your hands and hide them in the mortar in the brickwork [of the terrace] which is at the entrance of Pharaoh’s house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of some of the men of Judah;

<sup>10</sup>—and say to them, ‘Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Behold, I am going to send and get Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, My servant, and I am going to set his throne over these stones that I have hidden; and his [majestic, royal] canopy will be spread over them.  [Ezek 29:19, 20] ‡

<sup>11</sup> “He will also come and strike the land of Egypt, giving those who are [destined] for death, to death, and those who are [destined] for captivity, to captivity, and those who are [destined] for the sword, to the sword.‡

<sup>12</sup> “And [through him] I will set fire to the temples of the gods of Egypt, and he will burn them and take them (Egyptian idols) captive. He will wrap himself with the land of Egypt as a shepherd wraps himself with his garment, and he will go away from there safely.‡

<sup>13</sup> “Nebuchadnezzar will also break the images and shatter the obelisks of Heliopolis in the land of Egypt; and he will burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt.” ’ ”

Jeremiah 44

Conquest of Egypt Predicted

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews who were living in the land of Egypt—at Migdol, at Tahpanhes, at Memphis, and in the land of Pathros, saying, ‡

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘You have seen all the disaster that I have brought on Jerusalem and on all the cities of Judah; and see, this day they are desolated and no one lives in them ‡

<sup>3</sup> because of the wickedness which they committed, provoking Me to anger by continuing to burn sacrifices and incense to serve other gods that they had not known, neither they, nor you, nor your fathers. ‡

<sup>4</sup> ‘Yet I sent to you all My servants the prophets, again and again, saying, “Oh, do not do this shamefully vile thing which I hate.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> ‘But they did not listen or turn [obediently] from their wickedness, and stop burning sacrifices and incense to other gods.

<sup>6</sup> ‘Therefore My wrath and My anger were poured out and burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; so they have become a ruin and a desolation, as it is this day.

<sup>7</sup> ‘Therefore now thus says the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, “Why did you commit this great evil against yourselves [bringing disaster] that will cut off from you man and woman, child and infant, out of Judah, leaving yourselves without a remnant? ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Why do you [deliberately] provoke Me to anger with the works (idols) of your hands, burning sacrifices and incense to [make-believe] gods in the land of Egypt, where you [of your own accord] have come to live [as temporary residents], that you might be cut off and become a curse and a disgrace [an object of taunts] among all the nations of the earth? ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Have you forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, the wickedness of the kings of Judah, the wickedness of their wives [who served their foreign gods], your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives [who imitated the sin of the queens], which they committed in the land of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

<sup>10</sup> “They have not become apologetic [for their guilt and sin] even to this day; they have not feared [Me with reverence] nor walked in My law or My statutes, which I have set before you and before your fathers.” ’  [Jer 6:15; 26:4–6; 44:23] ‡

<sup>11</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold, I am going to set My face against you for woe—even to cut off (destroy) all Judah [from the land]. ‡

<sup>12</sup> ‘And I will take the remnant of Judah who have decided to go into the land of Egypt to live there [instead of surrendering to the Chaldeans as directed], and they will all fall and die in the land of Egypt; they will fall by the sword or perish by famine. From the least to the greatest, they will die by the sword or by famine; and they will become detestable, an object of horror, a curse, and a disgrace.‡

13 ‘For I will punish all the inhabitants of the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, with the sword, with famine, and with virulent disease;‡

<sup>14</sup> so none of the survivors from the remnant of Judah who have entered the land of Egypt to live there will survive, even though they lift up their souls in longing to return to the land of Judah, [the place] to which they long to return to live; none will return except a few refugees.’ ”‡

<sup>15</sup> Then all the men who knew that their wives were burning sacrifices to other gods, and all the women who were standing by, a large group, including all the people who were living in Pathros in the land of Egypt, answered Jeremiah, saying,

<sup>16</sup> “As for the word (message) that you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD, we are not going to listen to you.‡

<sup>17</sup> “But rather we will certainly perform every word of the vows we have made: to burn sacrifices to the queen of heaven (Ishtar) and to pour out drink offerings to her, just as we ourselves and our forefathers, our kings and our princes did in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem; for [then] we had plenty of food and were prosperous and saw no misfortune.‡

18 “But since we stopped burning sacrifices to the queen of heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have lacked everything and have been consumed by the sword and by famine.”

<sup>19</sup> And said the wives, “When we were burning sacrifices to the queen of heaven and were pouring out drink offerings to her, was it without [the knowledge and approval of] our husbands that we made cakes [in the shape of a star] to represent her and pour out drink offerings to her?”‡

Tragedy for the Jews

<sup>20</sup> Then Jeremiah said to all the people, to the men and to the women and to all the people who had given him that answer,

<sup>21</sup> “The smoking sacrifices (incense) that you burned in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem—you and your forefathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land—did not the LORD remember [in detail your idolatry] and did it not all come into His mind?

<sup>22</sup> “The LORD could no longer endure it, because of the evil of your acts and the repulsive acts which you have committed; because of them your land has become a ruin, an object of horror and a curse, without inhabitant, as it is this day.” ‡

<sup>23</sup> “Because you have burned sacrifices [to idols] and because you have sinned against the LORD and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD or walked in His law and in His statutes and in His testimonies, therefore this tragedy has fallen on you, as it has this day.” ‡

<sup>24</sup> Then Jeremiah said to all the people, including all the women, “Hear the word of the LORD, all [you of] Judah who are in the land of Egypt,” ‡

<sup>25</sup> thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, as follows: ‘You and your wives have both declared with your mouth and fulfilled it with your hand, saying, “We will certainly perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn sacrifices to the queen of heaven (Ishtar) and to pour out drink offerings to her.” Surely then confirm your vows and go ahead and perform your vows! [If you intend to defy all My warnings, proceed!]’ ‡

<sup>26</sup> “Therefore hear the word of the LORD, all [you people of] Judah who are living in the land of Egypt, ‘Behold, I have sworn [an oath] by My great Name,’ says the LORD, ‘that My Name shall never again be invoked by the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, “As the Lord GOD lives.”’ ‡

<sup>27</sup> ‘Behold, I am watching over them for harm and not for good; and all the men of Judah who are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by famine until they are all destroyed.’ ‡

<sup>28</sup> ‘Yet a small number [of My choosing] who escape the sword will return from the land of Egypt to the land of Judah; and all the remnant of Judah who have gone to the land of Egypt to reside there will know whose words will stand, Mine or theirs.’ ‡

<sup>29</sup> ‘And this will be the sign to you,’ says the LORD, ‘that I am going to punish you in this place, so that you may know that My words will surely stand against you for harm.’

<sup>30</sup> “Thus says the LORD, ‘Behold, I will give Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies and into the hand of those who seek his life, just as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who was his enemy and was seeking his life.’ ” ‡

Message to Baruch

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that Jeremiah the prophet spoke to Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the dictation of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, saying, ‡

<sup>2</sup> “Thus says the LORD, the God of Israel, to you, O Baruch:

<sup>3</sup> ‘You said, “Woe is me! For the LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am weary with my groaning and sighing and I find no rest.” ’

<sup>4</sup> “Say this to him, ‘The LORD speaks in this way, “Behold, what I have built I will break down, and that which I have planted I will uproot, that is, the whole land.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> ‘And do you seek great things for yourself? Do not seek them; for behold, I will bring disaster on all flesh,’ says the LORD, ‘but I will give your life to you [as your only reward and] as a prize of war wherever you go.’ ” ‡

Jeremiah 46

Defeat of Pharaoh Foretold

<sup>3</sup> “Line up the buckler (small shield) and [large] shield, ‡
And advance for battle!

<sup>4</sup> “Harness the horses,
And mount, you riders!
Take your stand with your helmets!
Polish the spears,
Put on the coats of mail!

<sup>5</sup> “Why have I seen it? ‡
They are terrified
And have turned back,
And their warriors are beaten down.
They take flight in haste

Without looking back;
Terror is on every side!"

Says the LORD.  [Ps 31:13; Jer 6:25; 20:3, 10; 49:29 ]

<sup>6</sup> Do not let the swift man run,‡
Nor the mighty man escape;
In the north by the river Euphrates
They have stumbled and fallen.

<sup>7</sup> Who is this that rises up like the Nile [River],‡
Like the rivers [in the delta of Egypt] whose waters surge about?

<sup>8</sup> Egypt rises like the Nile,
Even like the rivers whose waters surge about.
And He has said, "I will rise, I will cover that land;
I will certainly destroy the city and its inhabitants."

<sup>9</sup> Charge, you horses,‡
And drive like madmen, you chariots!

Let the warriors go forward:
Ethiopia and Put (Libya) who handle the shield,
And the Lydians who handle and bend the bow.

<sup>10</sup> For that day belongs to the Lord GOD of hosts,‡
A day of vengeance, that He may avenge Himself on His adversaries.

And the sword will devour and be satiated
And drink its fill of their blood;
For the Lord GOD of hosts has a sacrifice [like that of a great sin offering]

In the north country by the river Euphrates.

<sup>11</sup> Go up to Gilead and obtain [healing] balm,‡

O Virgin Daughter of Egypt!

In vain you use many medicines;
For you there is no healing or remedy.

<sup>12</sup> The nations have heard of your disgrace and shame,
And your cry [of distress] has filled the earth.
For warrior has stumbled against warrior,
And both of them have fallen together.

<sup>13</sup> The word that the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the coming of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to strike the land of Egypt: ‡

And proclaim in Memphis and in Tahpanhes;
Say, ‘Take your stand and get yourself ready,
For the sword has devoured those around you.’

<sup>15</sup> “Why have your strong ones been cut down?
They do not stand because the LORD drove them away.

<sup>16</sup> “He will make many stumble and fall;‡
Yes, they have fallen one on another.

Then they said, ‘Arise, and let us go back
To our own people and to the land of our birth,
Away from the sword of the oppressor.’

<sup>17</sup> “They cried there, ‘Pharaoh king of Egypt is destroyed and is merely a loud noise;

He has let the appointed time [of opportunity] pass by!’

<sup>18</sup> “As I live,” says the King,‡
Whose name is the LORD of hosts, “Surely like Tabor among the mountains
Or like Carmel by the sea,
So shall he [the great king of Babylon] come.

<sup>19</sup> “O you daughter who dwells in Egypt and you who dwell with her,‡

Prepare yourselves [with all you will need] to go into exile,
For Memphis will become desolate;
It will even be burned down and without inhabitant.

<sup>20</sup> “Egypt is a very pretty heifer,‡
But a horsefly (Babylonia) is coming [against her] out of the north!

<sup>21</sup> “Also her mercenaries in her army‡
Are like fattened calves,
For they too have turned back and have fled together;
They did not stand [their ground],
Because the day of their disaster has come upon them,
The time of their punishment.

<sup>22</sup> “The sound [of Egypt fleeing from the enemy] is like [the rustling of] an escaping serpent,‡

For her foes advance with a mighty army
And come against her like woodcutters with axes.

<sup>23</sup> “They have cut down her forest,” says the LORD;‡

“Certainly it will no longer be found,
Because they (the invaders) are more numerous than locusts
And cannot be counted.

<sup>24</sup> “The Daughter of Egypt has been shamed,‡ Given over to the power of the people of the north [the Chaldeans of Babylonia].”

25—The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, says, “Behold, I am going to punish Amon [chief god of the sacred city] of Thebes [the capital of Upper Egypt], and Pharaoh, and Egypt along with her gods and her kings—even Pharaoh and those who put their trust in him [as a shield against Babylon].‡

<sup>26</sup> “I will put them into the hand of those who seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and into the hand of his servants. Afterward Egypt will be inhabited as in the days of old,” says the LORD.‡

<sup>27</sup> “But as for you, do not fear, O My servant Jacob,‡
Nor be dismayed, O Israel!
For behold, I will save you from [your captivity in] a distant
land,
And your descendants from the land of their exile;
And Jacob will return and be quiet and secure,
And no one will make him afraid.

<sup>28</sup> “Do not fear, O Jacob My servant,” says the LORD,‡
“For I am with you.
For I will make a full and complete end of all the nations
To which I have driven you;
Yet I will not make a full end of you.
But I will discipline and correct you appropriately
And by no means will I declare you guiltless or leave you unpunished.”

Prophecy against Philistia

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines before Pharaoh attacked and conquered [the Philistine city of] Gaza. [Is 14:29–31 ; Ezek 25:15–17 ; Amos 1:6–8 ; Zeph 2:4–7 ; Zech 9:5–7]

] ‡

<sup>2</sup> Thus says the LORD: ‡

“Behold, waters are going to rise out of the north (Babylonia)
And become an overflowing stream
And overflow the land and all that is in it,
The city and those who live in it.
Then the people will cry out,
And all the inhabitants of the land [of Philistia] will wail.

<sup>3</sup>—“Because of the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of the war-horses [of the Babylonian king], ‡

The rattling of his chariots, and the rumbling of his wheels,
The fathers have not looked and turned back for their children,
So weak are their hands [with terror]

<sup>4</sup> Because of the day that is coming ‡
To destroy all the Philistines
And to cut off from Tyre and Sidon
Every ally who remains.

For the LORD is going to destroy the Philistines,
The remnant [still surviving] of the coastland of Caphtor. [

Amos 9:7.]

<sup>5</sup> “Baldness [as a sign of mourning] will come on Gaza; ‡
Ashkelon will be cut off and ruined.

O remnant of their valley,
How long will you gash yourselves [as a sign of mourning]?

<sup>6</sup>—“O you sword of the LORD, ‡
How long will it be before you are quiet?
Put yourself into your sheath;
Rest and be still.

<sup>7</sup> “How can His sword be quiet ‡
When the LORD has given it an order?
Against Ashkelon and against the [whole Philistine] seashore
There He has assigned it.”

Prophecy against Moab

<sup>1</sup> CONCERNING MOAB. ‡

Thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, “Woe (judgment is coming) to [the city of] Nebo, for it has been destroyed!

Kiriathaim has been shamed, it has been captured; Misgab [the high fortress] has been shamed, broken down and crushed.  [Is 15–16; 25:10–12; Ezek 25:8–11; Amos 2:1–3; Zeph 2:8–11 ]

<sup>2</sup> “The glory of Moab is no more; ‡

In Heshbon they planned evil against her,
Saying, ‘Come, let us cut her off from being a nation!’
You also, O [city of] Madmen, shall be silenced;
The sword will pursue you.

<sup>3</sup> “The sound of an outcry from Horonaim, ‘Desolation and great destruction!’

<sup>4</sup> “Moab is destroyed;
Her little ones have called out a cry of distress [to be heard as far as Zoar].

<sup>5</sup> “For the Ascent of Luhith ‡

Will be climbed by [successive groups of] fugitives with continual weeping;

For on the descent of Horonaim
They have heard the distress of the cry of destruction.

<sup>6</sup> “Run! Save your lives, ‡

That you may be like a juniper in the wilderness.

<sup>7</sup> “For because you have trusted in your works [your hand-made idols] and in your treasures [instead of in God], ‡

Even you yourself will be captured;
And Chemosh [your disgusting god cannot rescue you, but] will go away into exile [along with the fugitives]

Together with his priests and his princes.

<sup>8</sup> “And the destroyer will come upon every city; ‡

No city will escape.

The [Jordan] valley also will be ruined
And the plain will be devastated,
As the LORD has said.

<sup>9</sup> “Give a gravestone to Moab,

For she will fall into ruins;
Her cities (pastures, farms) will be desolate,
Without anyone to live in them.

<sup>10</sup> “Cursed is the one who does the work of the LORD negligently,‡
And cursed is the one who restrains his sword from blood [in executing the judgment of the LORD].

<sup>11</sup> “Moab has been at ease from his youth; ‡
He has also been undisturbed, and settled like wine on his dregs,
And he has not been emptied from one vessel to another,
Nor has he gone into exile.
Therefore his flavor remains in him,
And his scent has not changed.

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, “when I will send to Moab those who will tip him over and who will empty his vessels and break his [earthenware] jars in pieces.

<sup>13</sup> “And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh [his worthless, disgusting god], as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, their [misplaced] confidence. [1 Kin 12:28, 29] ‡

And valiant men in war?’

<sup>15</sup> “Moab has been made desolate and his cities have gone up [in smoke and flame]; ‡

And his chosen young men have gone down to the slaughter,”
Says the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

<sup>16</sup> “The destruction of Moab will come soon,
And his disaster hurries quickly.

<sup>17</sup> “Show sympathy for him, all you [nations] who are around him, ‡

And all you [distant nations] who know his name;
Say, ‘How has the mighty scepter [of national power] been broken,

And the splendid staff [of glory]!’

<sup>18</sup> “Come down from your glory, ‡

O Daughter living in Dibon,
And sit on the parched ground [among the thirsty]!
For the destroyer of Moab has advanced against you;
He has destroyed your strongholds.

<sup>19</sup> “O inhabitant of Aroer,‡
Stand by the road and keep watch!
Ask [of] him who flees and [ask of] her who escapes,
Saying, ‘What has happened?’

<sup>20</sup> “Moab is shamed, for she has been broken down and shattered.‡
Wail and cry out!
Tell by [the banks of] the Arnon
That Moab has been destroyed.

<sup>21</sup> “Judgment has come on [the land of] the plain—upon Holon, Jahzah, and against Mephaath,‡

near.‡

is shattered,” says the LORD.‡

<sup>26</sup> “Make him drunk, for he has become arrogant and magnified himself against the LORD [by denying Reuben’s occupation of the land the LORD had assigned him]. Moab also will wallow in his vomit, and he too shall become a laughingstock. [Num 22:1–7]‡

<sup>27</sup> “For was not Israel a laughingstock to you? Was he caught among thieves? For whenever you speak of him you shake your head in scorn.‡

<sup>28</sup> “You inhabitants of Moab,‡
Leave the cities and live among the rocks,
And be like the dove that makes her nest
In the walls of the yawning ravine.

<sup>29</sup> “We have heard of the [giddy] pride of Moab, the extremely proud one—‡
His haughtiness, his arrogance, his conceit, and his self-exaltation.

“But it is futile;
His idle boasts [in his deeds] have accomplished nothing.

<sup>31</sup> “Therefore I will wail over Moab,‡

And I will cry out for all Moab.

I will sigh and mourn over the men of Kir-heres (Kir-hareseth). [Is 15:1; 16:7, 11]

<sup>32</sup> “O vines of Sibmah, I will weep for you‡

More than the weeping of Jazer [over its ruins and wasted vineyards].

Your tendrils [of influence] stretched across the sea,
Reaching [even] to the sea of Jazer.

The destroyer has fallen

On your summer fruits and your [season's] crop of grapes.

<sup>33</sup> “So joy and gladness are taken away‡

From the fruitful field and from the land of Moab.

And I have made the wine cease from the wine presses;

No one treads the grapes with shouting.

Their shouting is not joyful shouting [but is instead, a battle cry].

<sup>34</sup> “From the outcry at Heshbon even to Elealeh, even to Jahaz they have raised their voice, from Zoar even to Horonaim and Eglath-shelishiyah; for even the waters of Nimrim will become desolations.‡

<sup>35</sup> “Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab,” says the LORD, “the one who ascends and offers sacrifice in the high place and the one who burns incense to his gods.‡

<sup>36</sup> “Therefore My heart moans and sighs for Moab like flutes, and My heart moans and sighs like flutes for the men of Kir-heres (Kir-hareseth); therefore [the remnant of] the abundant riches they gained has perished.‡

<sup>37</sup> “For every head is [shaven] bald and every beard cut off; there are cuts (slashes) on all the hands and sackcloth on the loins [all expressions of mourning]. [Is 15:2, 3]‡

<sup>38</sup> “On all the housetops of Moab and in its streets there is lamentation (expressions of grief for the dead) everywhere, for I have broken Moab like a vessel in which there is no pleasure,” says the LORD.‡

<sup>39</sup> “How it is broken down! How they have wailed! How Moab has turned his back in shame! So Moab will become a laughingstock and a [horrifying] terror to all who are around him.”

40 For thus says the LORD: ‡

“Behold, one (Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon) will fly swiftly like an eagle

And spread out his wings against Moab.  [Ezek 17:3. ]

41 “Kerioth [and the cities] has been taken ‡

And the strongholds seized;

And the hearts of the warriors of Moab in that day

Shall be like the heart of a woman in childbirth.

42 “Moab will be destroyed from being a nation (people) ‡

Because he has become arrogant and magnified himself against the LORD.

43 “Terror and pit and snare are before you, ‡

O inhabitant of Moab,” says the LORD.  [Is 24:7. ]

44 “The one who flees from the terror ‡

Will fall into the pit,

And the one who gets up out of the pit

Will be taken and caught in the trap;

For I shall bring upon it, even upon Moab,

The year of their punishment,” says the LORD.

45 “In the shadow of Heshbon ‡

The fugitives stand powerless [helpless and without strength],

For a fire has gone out from Heshbon,

A flame from the midst of Sihon;

It has destroyed the forehead of Moab

And the crowns of the heads of [the arrogant Moabites] the ones in tumult.

46 “Woe (judgment is coming) to you, O Moab! ‡

The people of [the pagan god called] Chemosh have perished;

For your sons have been taken away captive

And your daughters into captivity.

47 “Yet I will return the captives and restore the fortunes of Moab ‡

In the latter days,” says the LORD.

Thus far is the judgment on Moab.

Prophecy against Ammon

<sup>1</sup> CONCERNING THE sons (descendants) of Ammon. ‡

Thus says the LORD:

“Does Israel have no sons [to reclaim Gad from the Ammonites]?

Has he no heir?

Why then has Malcam taken possession of Gad

And [why do] his people live in the cities [of Gad]?

<sup>2</sup> “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, ‡

“When I will cause an alarm of war to be heard Against Rabbah of the Ammonites;

And it [along with the high ground on which it stands] will become a desolate heap,

And its villages will be set on fire.

Then will Israel take possession of his possessors,”

Says the LORD.  [Ezek 21:28–32 ; 25:1–7 , 11 ; Amos 1:13–15 ; Zeph 2:8–11 ]

Cry out, O daughters of Rabbah!

Wrap yourselves with sackcloth and lament (cry out in grief),

And rush back and forth inside the enclosures;

For Malcam [your powerless god] will go into exile

Together with his priests and his princes.

<sup>4</sup> “Why do you boast of your valleys? ‡

Your valley is flowing away,

[O Ammon] rebellious and faithless daughter

Who trusts in her treasures, saying,

‘Who will come against me?’

<sup>5</sup> “Behold, I am going to bring terror on you,”

Says the Lord GOD of hosts,

“From all who are around you;

And each of you will be driven out headlong,

And there will be no one to gather the fugitives together.

<sup>6</sup> “But afterward I will reverse ‡

The captivity of the children of Ammon and restore their fortunes,”

Says the LORD.

Prophecy against Edom

<sup>7</sup> Concerning Edom. ‡

Thus says the LORD of hosts,

“Is there no longer any wisdom in Teman?

Has good counsel vanished from the intelligent and prudent?

Has their wisdom decayed?  [Is 34; 63:1–6; Ezek 25:12–14; 35; Amos 1:11, 12; Obad 1–16; Mal 1:2–5 ]

<sup>8</sup> “Flee, turn back, dwell in the depths [of the desert to escape the judgment of Edom], ‡

O inhabitants of Dedan,

For I will bring the destruction of Esau (Edom) upon him

When I inspect and punish him.

<sup>9</sup> “If grape gatherers came to you, ‡

Would they not leave some uncleaned grapes [on the vines]?

If thieves came by night,

Would they not destroy [only] what is enough [for them]?

<sup>10</sup> “But I have stripped Esau (Edom) bare; ‡

I have uncovered his hiding places

And he cannot hide himself.

His descendants have been destroyed along with his brothers (relatives) and his neighbors;

And he is no more.

<sup>11</sup> “Leave your orphans behind; I will [do what is needed to] keep them alive.

And let [those who are] your widows trust and confide in Me.”

<sup>12</sup> For thus says the LORD, “Behold, those (Israel) who were not sentenced to drink the cup [of wrath] shall certainly drink it, and are you to remain unpunished? You will not be acquitted and go unpunished, but you will certainly drink [from the cup of wrath and judgment].  [Jer 25:28, 29 ] ‡

<sup>13</sup> “For I have sworn [an oath] by Myself,” says the LORD, “that Bozrah will become an object of horror, a reproach, a ruin, and a curse; and all its cities will become perpetual ruins.” ‡

<sup>14</sup> I have heard a report from the LORD, ‡

And a messenger has been sent to the nations, saying,

“Gather together and come against her,

And rise up for the battle.”

15 “For behold, [Edom] I have made you small among the nations

And despised among men.  [Ezek 35:9 ]

16 “As for Your terror,‡

The pride and arrogance of your heart have deceived you,
O you who live in the clefts of the rock (Sela also called Petra),

Who hold and occupy the height of the hill.

Though you make your nest as high as the eagle’s,
I will bring you down from there,” says the LORD.

17 “Edom will become an object of horror; everyone who goes by it will be astonished and shall hiss [scornfully] at all its plagues and disasters.‡

18 “As [it was] in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah with their neighboring cities,” says the LORD, “no man will live there, nor will a son of man dwell in it.‡

19 “See, one will come like a lion from the thicket of the Jordan against the enduring habitation [of Edom] and its watered pastures; for in an instant I will make him (Edom) run from his land. I will appoint over him the one whom I choose. For who is like Me, and who will summon Me [into court] and prosecute Me [for this]? Who is the [earthly] shepherd who can stand [defiantly] before Me?”‡

20 Therefore hear the plan of the LORD which He has devised against Edom, and [hear] what He has purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: surely they will be dragged away, even the little ones of the flock; surely He will make their dwelling place desolate because of them.‡

21 The earth has quaked at the noise of their downfall. There is an outcry! The sound of its noise has been heard at the Red Sea.‡

22 Behold, He will mount up and fly swiftly like an eagle and spread His wings against [the city of] Bozrah; and in that day the heart of the mighty warriors of Edom will be like the heart of a woman in childbirth.  [Jer 48:41 ]‡

Prophecy against Damascus

23 Concerning Damascus [in Syria].‡

“Hamath and Arpad are perplexed and shamed,
For they have heard bad news;

They are disheartened;
Troubled and anxious like a [storm-tossed] sea
Which cannot be calmed.

<sup>24</sup> “Damascus has become helpless; ‡
She has turned away to flee,
Terror (panic) has seized her;
Anguish and distress have gripped her
Like a woman in childbirth.

<sup>25</sup> “Why has the renowned city not been deserted, ‡
The city of My joy!

<sup>26</sup> “Therefore, her young men will fall in her streets, ‡
And all her men of war will be destroyed in that day,” says the LORD of hosts. [Is 17:1–3; Amos 1:3–5; Zech 9:1
]

<sup>27</sup> “I will set fire to the wall of Damascus, ‡
And it will consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.”

Prophecy against Kedar and Hazor

<sup>28</sup> Concerning Kedar and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon defeated. Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Arise, go up against Kedar
And destroy the men of the east.

<sup>29</sup> “They (the Babylonians) will take away their tents and their flocks; ‡

They will carry off for themselves
Their tent curtains, all their goods and their camels,
And they will call out to one another, ‘Terror on every side!’ [
Ps 31:13; Jer 6:25; 20:3, 10; 46:5]

<sup>30</sup> “Flee, run far away! Dwell in the depths [of the desert], ‡
O inhabitants of Hazor,” says the LORD,
“For Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has planned a course of action against you
And devised a scheme against you.

<sup>31</sup> “Arise [Nebuchadnezzar], go up against a nation which is at ease, ‡

Which lives securely,” says the LORD,

“A nation which has neither gates nor bars;
They dwell apart and alone.

<sup>32</sup> “Their camels will become plunder,
And their herds of cattle a spoil;
And I will scatter to all the [four] winds those who cut the corners of their hair [as evidence of their idolatry],
And I will bring their disaster from every side,” says the LORD.  [Lev 19:27. ]

<sup>33</sup> “Hazor will become a haunt and dwelling place of jackals, ‡
A desolation forever;
No one will live there,
Nor will a son of man reside in it.”

Prophecy against Elam

<sup>35</sup> “Thus says the LORD of hosts, ‡
‘Behold (listen carefully), I am going to break the bow of Elam,
The finest [weapon] of their strength.

<sup>36</sup> ‘And I will bring upon Elam the four winds ‡
From the four corners of heaven;
And I will scatter them toward all those winds,
And there will be no nation
To which the outcasts of Elam will not go.

<sup>37</sup> ‘So I will cause Elam to be shattered (dismayed) before their enemies ‡

And before those who seek their lives;
And I will bring disaster on them,
Even My fierce anger,’ says the LORD.
‘And I will send the sword after them
Until I have consumed them.

<sup>38</sup> ‘Then I will set My throne [of judgment] in Elam ‡
And I will destroy from there the king and princes,’
Says the LORD.  [Neh 1:1; Esth 1:2; Dan 8:1, 2 ]

<sup>39</sup> ‘But it will be in the last days (the end of days) ‡

That I will reverse the captivity and restore the fortunes of Elam,’ ”
Says the LORD.

Jeremiah 50

Prophecy against Babylon

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD that the LORD spoke concerning Babylon and concerning the land of the Chaldeans through Jeremiah the prophet: [Is 13:1–14:23 ; 47 ; Hab 1:1 , 2] ‡

2.“Declare among the nations. ‡
Lift up a signal [to spread the news]—publish and proclaim it,
Do not conceal it; say,
‘Babylon has been taken,
Bel [the patron god] has been shamed, Marduk (Bel) has been shattered.
Babylon’s images have been shamed, her [worthless] idols have been thrown down.’

<sup>3</sup> “For out of the north a nation (Media) has come against her which will make her land desolate, and no one will live there. They have fled, they have gone away—both man and animal. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “In those days and at that time,” says the LORD, “the children of Israel will come, they and the children of Judah together; they will come up weeping [in repentance] as they come and seek the LORD their God [inquiring for and of Him]. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “They will ask the way to Zion, with their faces in that direction, saying, ‘Come, let us join ourselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that will not be forgotten.’ ‡

<sup>6</sup> “My people have become lost sheep; ‡
Their shepherds have led them astray.
They have made them turn aside [to the seductive places of idolatry] on the mountains.
They have gone along [from one sin to another] from mountain to hill;

They have forgotten their [own] resting place.  [Is 53:6 ; 1 Pet 2:25 ]

<sup>7</sup> “All who found them have devoured them; ‡
And their adversaries have said, ‘We are not guilty, Because they have sinned against the LORD [and are no longer holy to Him], their [true] habitation of righteousness and justice,

Even the LORD, the [confident] hope of their fathers.’

<sup>8</sup> “Wander away from the midst of Babylon ‡
And go out of the land of the Chaldeans;
Be like the male goats [who serve as leaders] at the head of the flocks.  [Jer 51:6 , 9 , 45 ; 2 Cor 6:17 ; Rev 18:4 ]

<sup>9</sup> “For behold, I will stir up and bring up against Babylon ‡
An assembly of great nations from the north country.
They will equip themselves and set up the battle lines against her;

From there she will be taken captive.

Their arrows will be like an expert warrior
Who will not return empty-handed.

<sup>10</sup> “Chaldea will become plunder; ‡
All who plunder her will be satisfied,” says the LORD.

11.“Though you are glad, though you rejoice, ‡
O you who plunder My heritage,
Though you are wanton and skip about like a heifer in the grass

And neigh like stallions,

<sup>12</sup> Your mother [Babylon] shall be greatly shamed;
She who gave you birth will be ashamed.
Behold, she will be the least of the nations,
A wilderness, a parched land and a desert.

<sup>13</sup> “Because of the wrath of the LORD she will not be inhabited ‡

But she will be completely desolate;
Everyone who goes by Babylon will be appalled
And will hiss (mock) at all her wounds and plagues.

<sup>14</sup> “Set yourselves in battle formation against Babylon on every side, ‡

All you archers.
Shoot at her! Do not spare the arrows,
For she has sinned against the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> “Raise the battle cry against her on every side! ‡
She has given her hand [in agreement] and has surrendered;
her pillars have fallen,
Her walls have been torn down.
For this is the vengeance of the LORD:
Take vengeance on her;
As she has done [to others], do to her.

<sup>16</sup> “Cut off the sower from Babylon ‡
And the one who handles the sickle at the time of harvest.
For fear of the sword of the oppressor
Everyone will return to his own people
And everyone will flee to his own land.

<sup>18</sup> “Therefore thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, ‘Behold, I will visit (inspect, examine) and punish the king of Babylon and his land, just as I visited and punished the king of Assyria.

<sup>19</sup> ‘And I will bring Israel [home] again to his pasture and he will graze on [the most fertile lands of] Carmel [in the west] and Bashan [in the east], and his soul will be satisfied on the hills of Ephraim and Gilead. ‡

<sup>20</sup> ‘In those days and at that time,’ says the LORD, ‘a search will be made for the wickedness of Israel, but there will be none and for the sins of Judah, but none will be found, for I will pardon those whom I leave as a remnant.’ [Is 1:9 ; 43:25 ; Jer 31:34 ; 33:8 ; Rom 9:27] ‡

Go up against it and against the people of Pekod (Punishment).

Kill and utterly destroy them,” says the LORD,
“And do everything that I have commanded you.”

<sup>22</sup> “The noise of battle is in the land, ‡
And [the noise of] great destruction.

<sup>23</sup> “How the hammer of the whole earth ‡

Is crushed and broken!

How Babylon has become

A horror [of desolation] among the nations!

<sup>24</sup> “I set a trap for you and you also were caught, O Babylon, ‡

And you did not know it;

You have been found and also seized

Because you have struggled against the LORD.”

<sup>25</sup> The LORD has opened His armory ‡

And has brought out [the nations who unknowingly are] the weapons of His indignation (wrath),

For it is a work of the Lord GOD of hosts

In the land of the Chaldeans.

<sup>26</sup> Come against her from the farthest border.

Open her storehouses;

Pile it up like heaps of rubbish.

Burn and destroy her completely;

Let nothing be left of her.

Let them go down to the slaughter!

Woe (judgment is coming) to the Chaldeans, for their day has come,

The time of their punishment.

<sup>28</sup> Listen to the voice of the refugees who flee and escape from the land of Babylon, ‡

Proclaiming in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God,

The vengeance [of the LORD against the Chaldeans] for [plundering and destroying] His temple.

<sup>29</sup> “Call together many [archers] against Babylon, ‡

All those who bend the bow.

Encamp against her on every side;

Let no one from there escape.

Repay her according to her actions;

Just as she has done, do to her.

For she has been proudly defiant and presumptuous against the LORD,

Against the Holy One of Israel.

30 “Therefore her young men will fall in her streets,‡
And all her soldiers will be destroyed on that day,” says the
LORD.

31 “Behold, I am against you, [O Babylon, you] arrogant one,
[you who are pride and presumption personified],”‡
Says the Lord GOD of hosts,
“For your day has come,
The time when I will punish you.

32 “The arrogant (proud) one will stumble and fall‡
With no one to raise him up;
And I will set fire to his cities
And it will devour all who are around him.”

33 Thus says the LORD of hosts,
“The children of Israel are oppressed,
And the children of Judah as well;
And all who took them captive have held them tightly,
They have refused to let them go.

34 “Their Redeemer is strong; the LORD of hosts is His name.‡

He will most certainly plead their case and defend their cause
So that He may bring rest to their land,
But turmoil to the inhabitants of Babylon.

35 “A sword against the Chaldeans,” says the LORD,‡
“And against the inhabitants of Babylon
And against her princes (officials, civic rulers) and against her wise men (astrologers, religious rulers)!

36 “A sword against the oracle priests (the babbling liars), and they will become fools!‡

A sword against her mighty warriors, and they will be shattered and destroyed!

37 “A sword against their horses and against their chariots‡
And against all the foreign troops that are in her midst,
And they will become [as weak and defenseless as] women!
A sword against her treasures, and they will be plundered!

38 “A drought on her waters, and they will dry up!‡
For it is a land of [worthless] idols,
And they are mad over fearsome idols [those objects of terror in which they foolishly trust].

39 “Therefore wild beasts of the desert will live there [in Babylon] with the jackals; ‡

The ostriches also will live there,

And it will never again be inhabited [with people]

Or lived in from generation to generation.  [Is 13:20–22 ]

40 “As when God overthrew Sodom ‡

And Gomorrah and their neighboring cities,” says the LORD,

“So no man will live there;

Nor shall any son of man live there.”  [Jer 49:18 ]

41 “Behold, a people is coming from the north, ‡

And a great nation and many kings

Will be stirring from the remote parts of the earth.

42 “They seize their bow and spear; ‡

They are cruel and have no compassion.

They sound like the roaring of the sea;

They ride on horses,

Every man equipped like a man [ready] for the battle Against you, O Daughter of Babylon.

43 “The king of Babylon has heard the report about them,

And his hands fall limp and helpless;

Anguish has seized him,

And agony like that of a woman in childbirth.

44 “See, one will come up like a lion from the thicket of the Jordan against the enduring habitation [of Babylon] and its watered pastures; for in an instant I will make Babylon run from his land. I will appoint over Babylon the one whom I choose. For who is like Me, and who will summon Me [into court] and prosecute Me [for this]? Who is the [earthly] shepherd who can stand [defiantly] before Me?”  [Jer 49:19 ] ‡

45 Therefore hear the plan of the LORD which He has devised against Babylon, and hear what He has purposed against [the inhabitants of the land of] the Chaldeans: surely they will be dragged away, [even] the little ones of the flock; surely He will make their habitation desolate because of them. ‡

46 At the shout, “Babylon has been seized!” the earth quakes, and an outcry is heard among the nations. ‡

Jeremiah 51

Babylon Judged for Sins against Israel

<sup>1</sup> THUS SAYS the LORD: ‡

“Behold, I am going to stir up and put into action [a fury] against Babylon

And against the [rebellious] people of Leb-kamai (Chaldea)
A destroying wind and hostile spirit;

<sup>2</sup> “And I will send foreigners to Babylon that they may winnow her ‡

And may devastate and empty her land;

For in the day of destruction

They will be against her on every side.

<sup>3</sup> “Do not let him (the Chaldean defender) who bends his bow bend it, ‡

Nor let him rise up in his coat of armor.

So do not spare her young men;

Devote her entire army to destruction.

<sup>4</sup> “They shall fall down dead in the land of the Chaldeans, ‡
And wounded in her streets.”

<sup>5</sup> For neither Israel nor Judah has been abandoned
By his God, the LORD of hosts,
Though their land is full of sin and guilt
Before the Holy One of Israel.

<sup>6</sup> Flee out of Babylon, ‡

Let every one of you save his life!

Do not be destroyed in her punishment,

For this is the time of the LORD’s vengeance;

He is going to pay her what she has earned.  [Jer 50:28; 2 Cor 6:17; Rev 18:4 ]

<sup>7</sup> Babylon has been a golden cup in the LORD’s hand, ‡ Intoxicating all the earth.

The nations drank her wine;

Therefore the nations have gone mad.  [Rev 14:8; 17:4 ]

<sup>8</sup> Babylon has suddenly fallen and is shattered! ‡

Wail for her [if you care to]!
Get balm for her [incurable] pain;
Perhaps she may be healed.  [Jer 25:15 ; Rev 14:8–10 ; 16:19 ;
18:2 , 3 ]

<sup>9</sup> We would have healed Babylon, but she was not to be healed. ‡

Abandon her and let each [captive] return to his own country,
For her guilt and judgment have reached to heaven
And are lifted up to the very skies.  [Gen 18:20 , 21 ]

<sup>10</sup> The LORD has brought about our vindication and has revealed the righteousness of our cause; ‡

Come and let us proclaim in Zion
The work of the LORD our God!

<sup>11</sup> Sharpen the arrows, take up the shields [and cover yourselves]! ‡

The LORD has stirred up the spirit of the kings of the Medes, Because His purpose concerning Babylon is to destroy it;
For that is the vengeance of the LORD, vengeance [on Babylon] for [plundering and destroying] His temple.

<sup>12</sup> Set up a signal on the walls of Babylon [to spread the news]; ‡

Post a strong blockade,
Station the guards,
Prepare the men for ambush!
For the LORD has both purposed and done
That which He spoke against the people of Babylon.

<sup>13</sup> [O Babylon] you who live by many waters, ‡

Rich in treasures,
Your end has come,
And the line measuring your life is cut.  [Rev 17:1–6 ]

<sup>14</sup> The LORD of hosts has sworn [an oath] by Himself, saying, ‡

“Surely I will fill you with men, as with [a swarm of] locusts [who strip the land clean],
And they will lift up a song and shout of victory over you.”

<sup>15</sup> He made the earth by His power; ‡

He established the world by His wisdom
And stretched out the heavens by His understanding.

<sup>16</sup> When He utters His voice, there is a tumult of waters in the heavens,‡

And He causes the clouds to ascend from the ends of the earth.

He makes lightnings for the rain
And brings out the wind from His storehouses.

<sup>17</sup> Every man has become stupid and brutelike, without knowledge [of God];‡

Every goldsmith is shamed by the cast images he has made;
For his molten idols are a lie,
And there is no breath [of life] or spirit in them.

<sup>18</sup> They are worthless (empty, false, futile), a work of delusion and worthy of derision;‡

In the time of their inspection and punishment they will perish.

<sup>19</sup> The Portion of Jacob [the true God of Israel] is not like these [handmade gods];‡

For He is the Maker of all and the One who formed and fashioned all things,

And Israel is the tribe of His inheritance—
The LORD of hosts is His name. [Jer 10:12–16]

<sup>20</sup> “You [Cyrus of Persia, soon to conquer Babylon] are My battle-axe and weapon of war—‡

For with you I shatter nations,
With you I destroy kingdoms.

<sup>21</sup> “With you I shatter the horse and his rider,
With you I shatter the chariot and its driver,

<sup>22</sup> With you I shatter man and woman,‡
With you I shatter old man and youth,

With you I shatter young man and virgin,

<sup>23</sup> With you I shatter the shepherd and his flock,
With you I shatter the farmer and his yoke of oxen,
And with you I shatter governors and commanders.

<sup>24</sup> “And I will [completely] repay Babylon and all the people of Chaldea for all the evil that they have done in Zion—before your very eyes [I will do it],”
says the LORD.‡

<sup>25</sup> “Behold, I am against you,‡
O destroying mountain [conqueror of nations],
Who destroys the whole earth,” declares the LORD,
“I will stretch out My hand against you,
And roll you down from the [rugged] cliffs,
And will make you a burnt mountain (extinct volcano).

<sup>26</sup> “They will not take from you [even] a stone for a cornerstone‡
Nor any rock for a foundation,
But you will be desolate forever,” says the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> Lift up a signal in the land [to spread the news]!‡
Blow the trumpet among the nations!
Dedicate the nations [for war] against her;
Call against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashkenaz.
Appoint a marshal against her;
Cause the horses to come up like bristly locusts [with their wings not yet released from their cases].

<sup>28</sup> Prepare and dedicate the nations for war against her—‡
The kings of Media,
With their governors and commanders,
And every land of their dominion.

<sup>29</sup> The land trembles and writhes [in pain and sorrow],‡
For the purposes of the LORD against Babylon stand,
To make the land of Babylon
A desolation without inhabitants.

<sup>30</sup> The mighty warriors of Babylon have ceased to fight;‡
They remain in their strongholds.
Their strength and power have failed;
They are becoming [weak and helpless] like women.
Their dwelling places are set on fire;
The bars on her gates are broken.

<sup>31</sup> One courier runs to meet another,‡
And one messenger to meet another,
To tell the king of Babylon
That his city has been captured from end to end;
<sup>32</sup> And that the fords [across the Euphrates] have been blocked and [the ferries] seized, ‡

And they have set the [great] marshes on fire,
And the men of war are terrified.

<sup>33</sup> For thus says the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel: ‡

“The Daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor
At the time it is being trampled and prepared;
Yet in a little while the time of harvest will come for her.”

<sup>34</sup> “Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has devoured me, he has crushed me, ‡

He has set me down like an empty vessel.
Like a monster he has swallowed me up,
He has filled his belly with my delicacies;
He has spit me out and washed me away.

<sup>35</sup> “May the violence done to me and to my flesh and blood be upon Babylon,”

The inhabitant of Zion will say;
And, “May my blood be upon the inhabitants of Chaldea,” Jerusalem will say.

<sup>36</sup> Therefore thus says the LORD, ‡

“Behold, I will plead your case
And take full vengeance for you;
I will dry up her sea and great reservoir
And make her fountain dry.

<sup>37</sup> “Babylon will become a heap [of ruins], a haunt and dwelling place of jackals, ‡

An object of horror (an astonishing desolation) and a hissing [of scorn and amazement], without inhabitants.

<sup>38</sup> “They (the Chaldean lords) will be roaring together [before their sudden capture] like young lions [roaring over their prey],

They (the princes) will be growling like lions’ cubs.

<sup>39</sup> “When they are inflamed [with wine and lust during their drinking bouts], I will prepare them a feast [of My wrath] ‡

And make them drunk, that they may rejoice
And may sleep a perpetual sleep
And not wake up,” declares the LORD.

<sup>40</sup> “I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter,
Like rams together with male goats.

<sup>41</sup> “How Sheshak (Babylon) has been captured, ‡
And the praise of the whole earth been seized!
How Babylon has become an astonishing desolation and an object of horror among the nations!

<sup>42</sup> “The sea has come up over Babylon; ‡
She has been engulfed with its tumultuous waves.

<sup>43</sup> “Her cities have become an astonishing desolation and an object of horror, ‡
A parched land and a desert,
A land in which no one lives,
And through which no son of man passes.

<sup>44</sup> “I will punish and judge Bel [the handmade god] in Babylon ‡
And take out of his mouth what he has swallowed up [the stolen sacred articles and the captives of Judah and elsewhere].

The nations will no longer flow to him.
Yes, the wall of Babylon has fallen down!

<sup>45</sup> “Come out of her midst, My people, ‡
And each of you [escape and] save yourself
From the fierce anger of the LORD.  [Jer 50:8; 2 Cor 6:17;
Rev 18:4 ]

<sup>46</sup> “Now beware so that you do not lose heart, ‡
And so that you are not afraid at the rumor that will be heard in the land—
For the rumor shall come one year,
And after that another rumor in another year,
And violence shall be in the land,
Ruler against ruler—

<sup>47</sup> “Therefore behold (listen carefully), the days are coming ‡
When I will judge and punish the idols of Babylon;
Her whole land will be perplexed and shamed,

And all her slain will fall in her midst.

48 “Then heaven and earth and all that is in them ‡
Will shout and sing for joy over Babylon,
For the destroyers will come against her from the north,”
Says the LORD.  [Is 44:23 ; Jer 51:11 ; Rev 12:12 ; 18:20 ]

49 Indeed Babylon is to fall for the slain of Israel,
As also for Babylon the slain of all the earth have fallen.

50 You who have escaped the sword, ‡
Go away! Do not stay!
Remember the LORD from far away,
And let [desolate] Jerusalem come into your mind.
51 We are perplexed and ashamed, for we have heard reproach; ‡
Disgrace has covered our faces,
For foreigners [from Babylon] have come Into the [most] sacred parts of the sanctuary of the LORD [even those places forbidden to all but the appointed priest].

52 “Therefore behold, the days are coming,” says the LORD, ‡
“When I will judge and punish the idols [of Babylon],
And throughout her land the mortally wounded will groan.”

53 “Though Babylon should ascend to the heavens, ‡
And though she should fortify her lofty stronghold,
Yet destroyers will come on her from Me,” says the LORD.

54 The sound of an outcry [comes] from Babylon, ‡
And [the sound] of great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans!

55 For the LORD is going to destroy Babylon and make her a ruin,
And He will still her great voice [that hums with city life].
And the waves [of her conquerors] roar like great waters,
The noise of their voices is raised up [like the marching of an army].

56 For the destroyer is coming against her, against Babylon; ‡
And her mighty warriors will be captured,
Their bows are shattered;

For the LORD is a God of [just] restitution;
He will fully repay.

<sup>57</sup> “I will make her princes and her wise men drunk,‡
Her governors and her commanders and her mighty warriors;
They will sleep a perpetual sleep and not wake up,”
Says the King—the LORD of hosts is His name.

<sup>58</sup> Thus says the LORD of hosts,‡

“The broad wall of Babylon will be completely overthrown and the foundations razed
And her high gates will be set on fire;
The peoples will labor in vain,
And the nations become exhausted [only] for fire [that will destroy their work].” [Hab 2:13.]

<sup>59</sup> The message which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the grandson of Mahseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. Now this Seraiah was chief chamberlain or quartermaster [and brother of Baruch].

<sup>60</sup> So Jeremiah wrote in a single scroll all the disaster which would come on Babylon, [that is] all these words which have been written concerning Babylon.

<sup>61</sup> Then Jeremiah said to Seraiah, “When you come to Babylon, see to it that you read all these words aloud,

<sup>62</sup> and say, ‘You, O LORD, have promised concerning this place to cut it off and destroy it, so that there shall be nothing living in it, neither man nor animal, but it will be perpetually desolate.’‡

<sup>63</sup> “And as soon as you finish reading this scroll, you shall tie a stone to it and throw it into the middle of the Euphrates.‡

<sup>64</sup> “Then say, ‘In the same way Babylon will sink down and not rise because of the disaster that I will bring on her; and the Babylonians will become [hopelessly] exhausted.’ ” Thus the words of Jeremiah are completed. [Rev 18:21.]‡

Jeremiah 52

The Fall of Jerusalem

<sup>2</sup> He did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD like all that Jehoiakim had done.

<sup>3</sup> For all this came about in Jerusalem and Judah because of the anger of the LORD, and [in the end] He cast them from His presence. And Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.

<sup>4</sup> Now it came about in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, on the tenth day, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem; and they camped against it and built moveable towers and siege mounds all around it.  [Jer 39:1–10 ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> So the city was besieged until the eleventh year of King Zedekiah.  [2 Chr 36:11–13 ]

<sup>6</sup> In the fourth month, on the ninth day of the month, the famine was so severe in the city that there was no food for the people of the land.

<sup>7</sup> Then the city was broken into, and all the soldiers fled. They left the city at night [as Ezekiel prophesied] passing through the gate between the two walls by the king's garden, though the Chaldeans were all around the city. They fled by way of the Arabah (the Jordan Valley).  [Ezek 12:12 ]

<sup>8</sup> But the army of the Chaldeans pursued the king and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho; and his entire army was scattered from him.

<sup>9</sup> Then they seized the king and brought him to the king of Babylon at Riblah in the [Syrian] land of Hamath [on the northern border of Israel], where he pronounced sentence on him. ‡

<sup>10</sup> The king of Babylon killed the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes; he also killed all the princes of Judah at Riblah. ‡

<sup>11</sup> Then the king of Babylon blinded Zedekiah, bound him with bronze shackles and took him to Babylon and there he put him in prison [in a mill] until the day of his death.  [Ezek 12:13 ]

<sup>12</sup> Now in the fifth month, on the tenth day, which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, Nebuzaradan captain of the guard, who served the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>13</sup> He burned down the house of the LORD and the king's palace and all the houses of Jerusalem; every great house or important structure he set on fire.

<sup>14</sup> So all the army of the Chaldeans who were with the captain of the guard broke down all the walls around Jerusalem.

<sup>15</sup> Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took away into exile some of the poorest of the people, those who were left in the city [at the time it was captured], along with those who deserted to join the king of Babylon [during the siege] and the rest of the artisans. ‡

<sup>17</sup> Now the Chaldeans broke into pieces the pillars of bronze which belonged to the house of the LORD, and the bronze pedestals [which supported the ten basins] and the [enormous] bronze Sea, which were in the house of the LORD, and carried all the bronze to Babylon. ‡

<sup>18</sup> They also took away the pots [for carrying away ashes] and the shovels and the snuffers and the bowls and the spoons and all the bronze articles used in the temple service. ‡

<sup>19</sup> The captain of the guard also took away the [small] bowls and the firepans and the basins and the pots and the lampstands and the incense cups and the bowls for the drink offerings—whatever was made of fine gold and whatever was made of fine silver.

<sup>20</sup> The two pillars, the one [enormous] Sea (basin), and the twelve bronze bulls under the Sea, and the stands, which King Solomon had made for the house of the LORD—the bronze of all these things was beyond weighing. ‡

<sup>21</sup> Concerning the pillars, the height of each pillar was eighteen cubits (twenty-seven feet), and a line [an ornamental molding] of twelve cubits (eighteen feet) went around its circumference; it was four fingers thick, and [the pillar was] hollow. ‡

<sup>22</sup> A capital of bronze was on [top of] it. The height of each capital was five cubits (seven and one-half feet), with a lattice-work and pomegranates around it, all of bronze. The second pillar also, with its pomegranates, was similar to these.

<sup>23</sup> There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; and a hundred pomegranates were on the lattice-work all around. ‡

<sup>24</sup> Then the captain of the guard took [as prisoners] Seraiah the chief priest and Zephaniah the second priest and the three doorkeepers. ‡

<sup>25</sup> He also took out of the city one official who was overseer of the soldiers, and seven of the king's advisers who were found in the city, and the scribe of the commander of the army who mustered the people of the land, and sixty men who were still in the city.

<sup>26</sup> Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them and brought them to the king of Babylon at Riblah.

<sup>27</sup> Then the king of Babylon struck them down and put them to death at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Judah was led away into exile from its own land.

<sup>30</sup> in the twenty-third year of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the [Babylonian] guard took captive 745 Jewish people; there were 4,600 persons in all.

<sup>31</sup> Now it came about in the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin [also called Coniah and Jeconiah] king of Judah, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-fifth of the month, Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the first year of his reign, showed favor to Jehoiachin king of Judah and brought him out of prison.  [2 Kin 25:27–30 ] ‡

1:1 Jeremiah. The name probably means either “the Lord exalts” or “the Lord establishes.”

1:4 Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying. This was a standard way of introducing a divine oracle at the beginning of a prophetic book. Jeremiah did not speak out of his own imagination. He spoke as God revealed His word and will.

1:5 Before I formed you in the womb I knew you. Jeremiah was keenly aware that the call of God in his life had been determined by God from before his conception. As God’s word became a reality in his life, the prophet understood that God knew him and had called him to proclaim a critical message at a crucial point in the history of the nation. The word “knew” refers to an intimate knowledge that comes from relationship and personal commitment.

1:8 For I am with you [always] to protect you and deliver you. Twice in his call (v. 19 ), God reassured Jeremiah of His presence and protection. In moments of personal crisis, Jeremiah prays these words back to God (20:11 ).

1:9 I have put My words in your mouth. This verse gives us an understanding of the dual nature of Scripture. The message is the Lord’s; its expression is accomplished through His servants the prophets (Heb 1:1 ).

1:10 I have appointed you this day over the nations. The nations were instruments in God’s purpose of revealing Himself. The Lord would use Babylon to punish Judah, and then He would use the Persians to punish Babylon.

1:11 I see the branch of an almond tree. God confirmed His call to Jeremiah with two visions. The first vision involved an almond tree, which blossoms when other trees are still dormant. The almond tree served as a harbinger of spring, as though it “watched over” the beginning of the season. In a similar fashion, God was “watching over” His word, ready to bring judgment on Israel.

1:13 I see a boiling pot, tilting away from the north. This is the second vision God used to confirm Jeremiah’s call. Judgment was coming from the north.

1:17 But you [Jeremiah], gird up your loins. This means tuck your robe into your belt so you can run, or prepare yourself (1Sa 2:4 ).

1:18 I have made you today like a fortified city. This military language indicates that God would fight for Jeremiah. His defense system could not be battered down or tunneled under by men and armies.

2:1–3 Your time of betrothal. Chapter 2 is presented in the form of a covenant lawsuit, an indictment brought by God against His people. Jeremiah challenged the people of Judah to remember God.

2:5 walked after emptiness and futility and became empty. People who serve idols, which are as vapor, become like that vapor themselves.

2:8 priests . . . rulers and shepherds . . . prophets. Those who should have known God most intimately did not know Him at all. The rulers transgressed against God and His covenant. The prophets prophesied in the name of Baal rather than God.

2:13 carved out their own cisterns, Broken cisterns. The people could have chosen a “fountain of living waters.” Instead they chose broken cisterns that would have been useless for sustaining life.

2:15 The young lions. Assyria laid waste to Israel and Judah during several invasions between 734 and 701 BC.

2:16 the men of Memphis and Tahpanhes. Egypt forced Judah into a vassal relationship.

2:19 desertion of the faith. Israel had turned in every direction for help except to the true source of safety and security.

2:23–25 You are a swift and restless young [female] camel. The image is that of a camel who is in heat, vividly portraying Israel's lust for foreign gods.

2:32 Yet My people have forgotten Me. In the ancient world, those women who were not slaves normally possessed a variety of rings, bracelets, and ornaments made from gold, silver, or bronze. Many of these were exquisite in appearance and were frequently inlaid with semiprecious stones. Ornaments of this kind were commonly part of the wedding finery of a bride. The nation Israel, however, which was God's bride, had behaved in a completely unnatural fashion by presuming to forget the God to whom the people were so intimately bound by the Sinai covenant. In forgetting their God for so long a time they had actually rejected Him and His claims upon them, a prospect which Jeremiah found almost impossible to believe.

3:1 If a man divorces his wife. Deuteronomy 24:1–4 forbids a man to remarry his divorced wife if she has remarried and been divorced in the meantime. The implication is that the woman has been defiled by the second marriage. After forsaking God, Israel had taken many other lovers, that is, the nation worshiped many other gods. Yet the Lord in His mercy still extended His loving hand to His unfaithful bride.

3:3 showers . . . spring rain. There were two types of rain that fell in Israel in the spring from March to early April. These were vital for the fields and crops.

3:6 in the days of Josiah the king. The reign of Josiah (640–609 BC) followed the idolatrous reigns of Manasseh (697–642 BC) and Amon (642–640 BC).

3:8 the acts of adultery (idolatry) of faithless Israel. Because of Israel's adultery, the Lord presented her with a certificate of divorce based on Dt 24:1–4. As a consequence, in 722 BC Israel was taken captive by Assyria, and Samaria was destroyed. Judah looked on but did not learn from Israel's example.

3:15 I will give you [spiritual] shepherds. Throughout the Bible God provides shepherds for His people to watch over them, guide them, care for them, and lead them. From Moses in the Old Testament to Jesus in the New, God provides faithful, devoted leaders after His own heart.

3:16 when you have [repented and] multiplied and increased. God ordained that His shepherds would lead Israel through a time of blessing, increase in numbers, and material prosperity.

3:19 And give you a pleasant land. The possession of the land was always dependent on the covenant faithfulness of Israel to their God. The Lord's desire has always been to bless His people.

3:23 tumult and noisy multitude on the mountains. The mountains were centers of idol worship and thus were strongholds of falsehood. True salvation or deliverance could be found only in the true God of Israel.

4:2 As the LORD lives. This phrase was regularly used in oaths. When spoken by those faithful to the covenant, it should have been a sign of truth, judgment, and righteousness.

Failure to be willing to owe God their faithfulness and worship brought terrible consequences to Israel, the Northern Kingdom, and then to Judah and resulted in failure of the nations to be converted as well. Because Israel would not give glory to God, the rest of the world could not.

4:4 Circumcise (dedicate, sanctify) yourselves to the LORD . Circumcision was a sign of the covenant relationship between Israel and God (Ge 17:10–14 ). The intent of God was always that the outward symbol should be a sign of a reality of total devotion to Him (Dt 10:12–21 ).

4:5 Blow the trumpet in the land. Jeremiah announced the judgment of Judah and Jerusalem with the alarming sound of a trumpet, literally a shofar made of a ram's horn. This was the instrument used to sound the alarm when an enemy attacked a city.

4:7 left his lair. Destruction would come as a terrible surprise, like a lion hiding and then pouncing on its prey. The desolation of the land and the deportation of the people would be the result.

4:8 For this reason, put on sackcloth. This material was a rough-textured fabric that was worn as a sign of mourning or distress (6:21 ).

4:13 Behold, the enemy comes up like clouds. Judah had become the foe of God, and He would use the nation's international foes to discipline the nation. The imagery of clouds and chariots like a whirlwind portrays the thoroughness and swiftness of God's judgment.

4:15 Dan . . . Mount Ephraim. Dan was the most northern tribe of Israel. Ephraim was the southernmost region of the Northern Kingdom of Israel. The message is that just as Israel had been subjugated, Judah was also in danger.

4:19 My soul, my soul. Soul here means bowels or belly, a reference to the internal organs. In ancient Middle Eastern thought, the internal organs were the seat of emotions and feelings. The phrase describes Jeremiah's anguish over the destruction of Jerusalem.

4:23 it was [as at the time of creation] formless and void. This Hebrew phrase is the same one used in Genesis 1:2 to describe the chaos before the ordering of the cosmos. no light. The prophets spoke of darkness as part of God's judgment on the world. Here the lack of light describes the disastrous effects of sin on creation, particularly on the land of Judah.

4:24 they were trembling. The symbols of stability and of strength would be shaken as by an earthquake. Birds would disappear as Hosea had proclaimed (Hos 4:3 ). In Genesis 1 , the creation of the birds of the heavens depicts the fulfillment of the creative process. In Jeremiah and Hosea, the removal of the birds symbolizes the reversal of creation.

4:28 the heavens above shall become dark. The dark skies are associated with God's judgment.

5:1 if you can find a man [as Abraham sought in Sodom], One who is just. Similar to Abraham's plea that Sodom be saved on account of the few faithful people among its inhabitants (Ge 18:16–33 ), so Jeremiah summoned the people to search the city of Jerusalem for one just and righteous person.

5:3 But they refused to take correction or instruction. The Hebrew term translated correction means "chastisement" or "discipline." In the Prophets, it generally refers to God's attempt to teach His children faithfulness by means of discipline or punishment (7:28 ). But despite the words of Jeremiah and other prophets, Israel refused "correction" and continued down the path of self-destruction.

5:5 broken the yoke. Jeremiah paints a picture of Judah as oxen that are wandering aimlessly through the field, guided by their own desires. They are exposed to the elements and the wild animals of the forest and desert.

5:7 They committed [spiritual] adultery. The prophets generally refer to cultic prostitution as adultery. Such immoral behavior violated covenant law (Ex 20:14 ) and set in motion the curses of the covenant.

5:9 Shall I not punish them [for these things]? The Hebrew word translated punish (9:9 ), literally meaning "to visit," can be used of the visitation of God in mercy (Ps 65:9 ) or in wrath. Here it clearly refers to wrath.

5:13 The prophets are like the wind. False prophets like Hananiah (28:11 ) had foretold a time of peace and deliverance from the domination and destructiveness of their enemies. But their word was like an empty breeze. The very sword they denied would seal their fate.

5:17 They will consume. The word consume is used four times in this verse to paint an image of the enemy as consuming field, flock, and fortifications.

5:20 house of Jacob. Even after the Northern Kingdom had been destroyed, the prophets still spoke of Israel. There was not a complete destruction of the northern tribes, as is commonly thought.

5:26–28 wicked men. Those responsible for the welfare of the whole populace had abused their positions by exploiting the lesser elements of Israelite society. The picture presented is one of birds, or the poor, being ensnared by great men who were building wealth at the expense of orphans and the needy (Dt 10:18 ).

5:31 prophets . . . priests. The deterioration of the leadership of the land reached the very people who were supposed to be the mainstays of righteousness among the people. Both offices had succumbed to the temptation of abusing their power, rejecting their responsible roles as messengers and servants of God.

6:4–5 Prepare for war against her. Prepare can also be translated “make holy.” It refers to ritual sanctification performed in preparation for battle. The words are overheard in the camps of the enemies who are about to come against Jerusalem. Sorcerers and diviners were called upon to perform sacrifices to determine the will of the gods and assure a successful outcome in battle.

6:6 Cut down her trees And build a siege [mound]. A siege mound was a ramp of wood, stone, and sand that sloped toward the wall of a city. Armored siege machines could go up the ramp and attack the city walls.

6:7 Violence and destruction. Jerusalem had once been a city that had peace, justice, and righteousness. Under the siege of the Babylonians in 588–586 BC conditions were unspeakable (see the Book of Lamentations ).

6:11 I am full of the wrath (judgment) of the LORD . Jeremiah’s own emotions reveal his identification with God’s feelings about Judah. The prophet was both angry and weary with the entire nation, both young and old.

6:13 Everyone is greedy for [unfair] gain. The accusation of covetousness suggests monetary gain by means of deception and fraud. Even those called to guide the nation in its covenant relationship had defrauded God and man.

6:15 They did not even know how to blush. The people had lost all sense of what was right before God.

6:16–17 ancient paths. This phrase probably refers to the Sinai covenant and the Book of Deuteronomy, as Jeremiah called the people back to former days of steadfast devotion.

6:20 Your burnt offerings are not acceptable. There is a common misconception that in the Old Testament, prior to the cross, God was primarily interested in outward and formal religious rites, such as circumcision, Sabbath-day observance, and animal sacrifices. Nothing could be more removed from the truth. In both Testaments, God is basically concerned with the attitudes of the heart (Dt 10:6 ).

6:26 and wallow in ashes. This action symbolically expressed sorrow and despair.

6:27 I [the LORD] have set you as an assayer. Jeremiah would act as the nation’s assayer, the one who tests or evaluates quality or purity.

6:29–30 In vain they continue refining. Jeremiah assesses Judah as a refiner purifies silver, using lead to remove impurities (9:7 ). The lead is consumed, so the dross in the silver ore cannot be purged. This results in the refiner discarding the ore because it is so impure that the smelting process is not worth the energy it takes. Similarly God rejects those whose wickedness cannot be refined.

7:2 Stand in the gate. The parallel in 26:2 suggests the proclamation was made in the outer court of the temple, where Jeremiah would have been guaranteed a large audience.

7:4 Do not trust in the deceptive and lying words. Trust conveys the sense of security and confidence that the people had in their holy place. They believed that since God had chosen Jerusalem as His dwelling, had promised that a Davidic king would remain on the throne forever, and had delivered the city from attack in the days of Hezekiah and Isaiah, He would never allow the city or the temple to be destroyed. the temple of the LORD. The Israelites believed that the building guaranteed their security whether or not they obeyed the provisions of the covenant. This false hope was a lie (3:23 ; 7:9 ).

7:10 stand before Me. This means “to place (oneself) in submissive service to someone.” Entering the temple of God in such a manner, while worshiping other gods, was incomprehensible. Furthermore, for the people to think that they were secure enough to perform perverted abominations was the ultimate hypocrisy.

7:11 den of robbers. Like thieves hiding in a cave for safety, Judah attempted to hide behind the sanctuary of the temple for protection from the divine hand of judgment. But the Lord had seen the hypocrisy of Israel’s ways. Jesus quoted this verse when He cleansed the second temple (Mt 21:13 ).

7:16 do not pray for this people. God’s instruction to Jeremiah indicates the extreme depravity of Jerusalem’s inhabitants (11:14 ; 14:11 ). No manner of intercession was to be made on behalf of Judah. God would not hear Jeremiah’s appeals.

7:18 the queen of heaven. This is a reference to the goddess Ishtar, who was worshiped in open-air cultic centers throughout the eastern Mediterranean region and Mesopotamia. Worship of Ishtar involved the preparation of special cakes that bore the goddess’s image, as well as drink offerings (44:19 ). The family cooperation in the idolatrous worship of Ishtar stood in direct opposition to the covenant demands that a father instruct his children in the ways of the Lord (Dt 6:4–9 ).

7:21 Add your burnt offerings to your sacrifices. Because the people had missed the true meaning of the Lord’s worship, they could multiply their offerings as much as they liked and it would do them no good. The Lord cared for none of their sacrifices. To Him they were simply meat.

7:23 that it may be well with you. God required that His people obey His voice. Obedience would bring blessing. When the prophets lashed out against sacrifice, it was not against the sacrificial system as God had established it, but against the corruption of that system as the people practiced it. The same thing is found in the New Testament passages that seemingly speak against the law. Both the New Testament writers and the Hebrew prophets denounce the abuses of divine systems in human hands.

[7:26 bend their ear \[to hear Me\], but stiffened their neck.](#) These phrases suggest a cold rebuff to the will and work of God. Jeremiah, like Isaiah before him (Isa 6:9 ,10 ), was told that the people would not respond to his message.

7:29 Cut off your hair. This practice was a way of expressing mourning and grief. The act may also have symbolized that Judah had rejected the covenant relationship just as if they had broken a Nazirite vow, a sign of personal devotion that required the hair not to be cut (Nu 6:1–21 ).

7:33 dead bodies of this people. Unburied corpses left to the elements and animals were regarded as a horrible desecration in the ancient Middle East.

8:1–3 the sun and the moon and all the host of heaven. The gods and goddesses to whom Jerusalem looked for deliverance would stand over the people’s desecrated corpses, which are pictured here as dung. Those who survived the siege and attack as exiles and slaves would prefer death over life.

8:7 seasons. Whereas the birds follow their instincts to migrate, the people of Israel refused to follow God’s promptings to obey His covenant. Note that God still refers to the people of Judah as “my people” even though they continued to rebel against Him.

8:17 I am sending serpents among you. Judgment by means of poisonous snakes is described in Numbers 21:6 .

8:20 harvest is past, the summer has ended. This proverb reflects the sense of helplessness in the early fall. The harvest was meager and the oppression persisted. Even Jeremiah was deeply hurt—this translates a Hebrew word derived from the verb meaning “to break,” “to shatter”; in other words, the prophet’s spirit was broken over the fate of his people.

8:22 Is there no balm in Gilead? The region of Gilead was known for its balsam ointment (Ge 37:25 ).

There is no healing, physical or spiritual, for a people intent on rebelling against God.

9:1 my eyes a fountain of tears. Jeremiah, who is known as the “weeping prophet,” identified personally with the suffering of his people. Here he expresses his desire for a reserve of tears that would flow without stopping.

9:3 They bend their tongue like their bow. Once falseness takes hold in a community or nation, it seems to pervade every area of life. Such a condition is what Jeremiah describes here. There was falsity in every relation. There was a lack of fidelity and trust.

9:4 Let everyone beware of his neighbor. The personal affairs of the people were characterized by deceit, slander, and mistrust. Ethical standards had collapsed.

9:8 Their tongue is a murderous arrow. Jeremiah returns to the imagery of bow and arrow to depict Judah’s deceit (v. 3). The picture is of a person speaking peaceably to his neighbor while lying in wait to ambush him.

9:13 have not listened to and obeyed. The word “obey,” which comes from the Hebrew word meaning “to hear,” implies an active response to the hearing of God’s Word. Instead of walking according to God’s law, the people walked according to the dictates or stubbornness of their own hearts.

9:18 Let them hurry. There is urgency in summoning the skilled mourners to lead the people in tearful lament over the imminent destruction of Judah.

9:21 death has come. The Canaanite god of death, Mot, was believed to enter a household through an open window to bring adversity, destruction, and death.

9:24 lovingkindness, justice and righteousness on the earth. True knowledge of God resulting from an intimate relationship with Him will be demonstrated in a person’s character. God demands these attributes of his followers.

10:2 the way of the [pagan] nations. The Gentiles worshiped natural phenomena by means of handmade icons and symbolic imagery. the signs of the heavens. These were astral deities (8:1-3) worshiped in the days of Manasseh and reinstated following the death of Josiah and the collapse of his reforms.

10:6-7 There is none like You, O LORD . This phrase expresses one of the great teachings of the prophets—the incomparability of God. God is not simply better than other gods; He alone is the living God.

10:9 They are all the work of skilled men. No matter how skilled the idol makers were, the fabricated icons were lifeless, deteriorating, false gods who were no more powerful or wise than their makers.

10:10 the LORD is the true God. Jeremiah speaks of Israel’s God not only as living, but also as being the true God and the nation’s everlasting King. He thus governs His covenant people by principles of truth, and with a power that far surpasses the might of earthly kings. Whereas pagan gods cannot alter the course of nature in the slightest degree, even though their worshipers believed very much to the contrary, the God of Sinai is the Creator of nature. He can punish the wicked by storm, flood, earthquake, or pestilence, and strike terror into the hearts of all those who oppose Him.

10:12 God made the earth. Jeremiah emphasizes the creative power of God, drawing on the imagery of Job 38 and Psalm 8. Jeremiah was reminding the people of Judah that their God not only created the universe but also governs its ongoing life.

10:17 Gather up your bundle [of goods] from the ground. The Assyrian stone reliefs of Shalmaneser III depict captives transporting household goods on their heads as they go into exile in the eastern reaches of the empire. Soon, this would be the fate of the people of Judah.

10:19 Woe to me. Jeremiah personally identified with Judah and the destruction of Jerusalem. The injuries inflicted upon Judah were severe.

[11:2 Hear the words of this \[solemn\] covenant.](#) Jeremiah's message from the Lord here is strongly associated with the Book of Deuteronomy. The term "words" is the Hebrew name of the Book of Deuteronomy; it is also used to refer to the terms of the covenant. A covenant is a legal treaty or relationship between individuals, between nations, or—in the case of Israel—between a nation and its God. The covenant specified rights, obligations, and responsibilities of the parties entering into the agreement.

11:4 iron furnace. This terminology comes directly from Deuteronomy 4:20, which is set in a context of a warning against worshiping idols.

11:5 that I may complete the oath. The blessing of land, as promised to Abraham, was dependent upon the covenant loyalty of the people.

11:11 I am bringing disaster and suffering on them. Because the heart of the nation was evil, God would bring disaster upon the people. God's justice is inescapable when sin is intrinsic to one's character. Even if the people were to cry out in distress, God would not listen.

11:17 planted. This term recalls the theme of Jeremiah 2:21, the idea that God had established Israel as His choicest vine. However, here the context is the impending doom that would result from the evil done by the Lord's people.

11:20 Let me see Your vengeance on them. Jeremiah appealed for vindication to God as the one true righteous judge. "Heart" refers to the seat of intellect and will. "Vengeance" describes God's fury and anger against sin that demands punishment.

11:21–23 the men of Anathoth. These men insisted that Jeremiah not prophesy in the name of the Lord. If Jeremiah had yielded to their demand, he would have repudiated his calling, his person, and his God. The threat of death to Jeremiah was answered by punishment of the young men as well as their children. The prediction of death by famine was fulfilled when the city was besieged by the Babylonians in the days of Zedekiah.

12:4 How long must the land mourn. Jeremiah's question related to God's delay of judgment on the people of the land. "Land mourn . . . grass of the countryside wither . . . beasts and the birds are consumed" are phrases that are recurring themes in Jeremiah and other prophetic texts (4:28 ; 40:7 ; Zep 1:3). In spite of past chastisement, the people believed that God would not bring their country to an end.

12:5–6 If you have raced with men on foot. God's response to Jeremiah's question (v. 4) comes in the form of two metaphorical questions. The first metaphor of foot racing was designed to teach Jeremiah that the obstacles he faced in his hometown were meager compared to those he would encounter before the kings of Judah and Babylon (the horses). land of peace. This second metaphor was designed to remind the prophet of the impending turmoil he would have to endure in proclaiming the message of judgment to an unrepentant leadership. The relatively peaceful setting of Anathoth, with its minor opposition from treacherous family members, served to prepare Jeremiah to struggle against greater antagonists.

12:10–11 Many shepherds. This phrase refers to the foreign kings who had come as agents of God to judge Judah. The repetition of the word "desolate" describes the complete devastation of Judah (Isa 6:11). Because of sin, the land that once saw God's bounteous blessing would experience His devastating judgment.

12:15 after I have uprooted them. This verse offers a glimmer of hope in the middle of a prophecy of judgment. In the midst of His judgment, God would remember His covenant with Abraham. Eventually He would return and have compassion on His people.

12:16 swear by My Name. Only the everlasting love of God provides an answer to what God will do in a life that turns from an oath to a false god to an oath to serve the Lord. What unfathomable blessing can be ours from a God like this when we pledge our allegiance to Him. He asks our allegiance, and He asks us to truly learn the ways that He has established for His people.

13:1–5 linen waistband. This was an article of clothing that was like a short skirt or kilt worn by men. Jeremiah was not supposed to wash it.

13:6–7 it was completely worthless. Because Jeremiah's girdle was dirty and then was exposed to the elements, it was ruined and useless.

13:8–11 who refuse to listen to My words, who walk in the stubborn way of their heart and have followed other gods. As Jeremiah's waistband was ruined, so Judah's pride would be reduced to ruin. Pride describes the self-exalting conduct that characterized Israel in its love for idols. This pride is explained in a triplet of verbal phrases.

13:14 I will smash them one against another. The wine jars of God's wrath would be smashed and broken together, a picture of a devastated nation.

13:16 Give glory to the LORD your God. This means exalt and worship Him. The verse warns of the consequences of failing to glorify God. Four Hebrew synonyms for darkness are found in this verse, deepening the impression of divine displeasure meted out against God's people.

13:20 Those coming from the north. This phrase refers to Babylon.

13:23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin? The negative rhetorical question confirmed Judah's inability to change its own ways. The nation had reinforced its habit of doing evil (4:22) for so long that it did not know how to do good.

13:26–27 your skirts up over your face. This phrase meant public exposure (v. 22). Since Judah had lustfully sought adulterous relationships with foreign gods and goddesses, God would expose and bring to shame its actions.

14:2 mourns. This is a general word for grief over the dead. It describes the dark gloom of weeping and wailing.

14:8 Hope . . . Savior. Jeremiah pleaded with God on the basis of God's name and character. Instead of having an intimate relationship with Judah, God had become like a stranger or a traveler in the land, because the people worshiped other gods.

14:10 they have loved to wander. "Loved" describes voluntary desire. "Wander" describes a repetitive back and forth movement—in this case, of seeking every possible occasion for sin. Because no one displayed any restraint from sin, God could not violate His holy character and accept the people of Judah.

14:13 I [the Lord] will give you lasting peace. Jeremiah complained to the Lord about false prophets who were proclaiming a message of peace instead of war and pestilence. These pretentious prophets presumed upon God's mercy and promise of deliverance as demonstrated in the days of Hezekiah and Isaiah, when Jerusalem was miraculously rescued from the siege of Sennacherib's army.

14:21–22 for Your own name's sake. The people's plea for God's mercy was based on His character. Entreaties based on divine character and attributes are common in the Psalms. At stake was God's reputation and the blessing that would come to the people, but here the obligations of the people to the Lord are disregarded.

15:2 death . . . the sword . . . famine . . . captivity. These all would be the outcome of God's judgment. He would use foreign armies as instruments of judgment (14:11–12).

15:3–4 I will appoint four kinds of destroyers over them. The judgment of Judah is described. The imagery of dogs, birds, and beasts devouring human flesh vividly illustrates not only death, but desecration. The basis for this desecration is the defilement of Jerusalem that took place during the reign of Manasseh, when idolatry reigned in the temple courts and children were sacrificed to Molech (7:31).

15:7–8 I will winnow (sort, separate) them with a winnowing fork. Like wheat chaff that is scattered by the winnowing fork and the wind, the people of Judah would be dispersed. The population would be decimated. The further ravaging of the land is revealed in the numerous widows who would be left in the wake of the death of the men of Judah.

15:9 She who has borne seven. The blessing of seven sons was the ultimate hope for ancient mothers and fathers. But the utmost horror was to lose all seven in death, resulting in the loss of an heir.

15:10 everyone curses me. To curse someone in ancient Israel was to invoke condemnation on that person with a prescribed formula.

15:16 Your words were found and I ate them. Eating the words of the Lord means to internalize them and allow their meaning to become a reality in one's life.

15:17 I did not sit with the group of those who celebrate. Jeremiah's isolation was the result of his obedience to the word and calling of God.

15:18 With water that is unreliable. This simile is a vivid picture of the arid regions in the Middle East, where water is at a premium.

16:1–2 You shall not take a wife. In the case of Jeremiah, the prohibition against marriage was both a sign to the nation and a blight against his name among the people. Celibacy was abnormal; large families were indicative of God's blessing upon a household. Jeremiah faced life with God as his sole comfort and support.

16:10 Why has the LORD decreed. The trio of questions posed by the people indicates their lack of understanding of God's word. The people of Judah had missed the purpose for which they were chosen, to manifest to the world the nature and character of God by living as the people of God.

16:16 many fishermen . . . many hunters. These words refer to the Babylonian armies that would scour the land for Judah's rebels. Hunting and fishing imagery as a metaphor for deportation is also found in Ezekiel 12:3 and Amos 4:2.

16:19–20 Strength . . . Stronghold . . . Refuge. Jeremiah knew that his only place of safety was in God. The scope of Jeremiah's hope is universal. The Gentiles, among whom the people of Judah would be exiled, would come to the God of Israel in fulfillment of the promise of Genesis 12:1–3.

17:3 your high places of sin. Jerusalem and the other cities of Judah were demolished and plundered by the Babylonians. The remaining treasures of the temple of God were carried by Nebuchadnezzar's army to Babylon. Even the idolatrous cultic centers were destroyed (15:13–14).

17:4 let go of your [grip on your] inheritance. This phrase, when used in the context of land, usually refers to letting the land lie fallow during the sabbatical year (Ex 23:10–11). Judah's captivity would provide rest for the land from the idolatrous activities of its people.

17:5 Cursed is the man. One cannot trust in both God and humankind.

17:7 Blessed [with spiritual security] is the man who believes . . . on the LORD. The basic element in a life of faith is stability. Man depending upon his own strength is unstable. But faith in God brings stability.

17:11 Like the partridge that hatches eggs which she has not laid. The teaching of Jeremiah 17:1–10 is supported by a proverb based on the common belief that the partridge hatched eggs other than its own. When the young birds recognized that the partridge was not their mother, they would leave her. Similarly, a man who unjustly gains wealth will be abandoned by the wealth and then be known as a fool.

17:12–13 A glorious throne, set on high. This phrase refers to the temple in Jerusalem and the ark of the covenant, the symbol of God's presence and sovereignty over the nations.

17:17 Do not be a terror to me. This refers to physical, emotional, or mental horror.

17:18 Let those who persecute me be shamed. Jeremiah called for his persecutors to be ashamed and dismayed, to be dishonored and demoralized. The prophet also called upon the Lord to confirm the message of judgment in the day of doom and double destruction.

17:21–22 Pay attention for your own good. This same phrasing is used in Deuteronomy 4:15 in a warning against idolatry. The sanctity of the Sabbath was a most serious matter. The Sabbath stood as a sign of creation and the covenant relationship between God and Israel.

18:4–6 was spoiled by the potter's hand. The potter's vessel was spoiled and thus unsuitable for its intended purpose. The potter's remolding of the clay into an acceptable and unblemished work symbolized God's action in reforming Israel. The people had become marred and defiled and had to be reformed into a vessel fit to be identified with the Lord.

18:13–14 Who has heard of such things? Negative rhetorical questions show the absurdity of Israel's rebellion. snow of [Mount] Lebanon. This describes the Mount Hermon watershed that erupts in numerous springs, providing most of the water for the Jordan River. God's blessing was often demonstrated in the provision of water from rocks in arid regions (Ex 17:6 ).

18:15 burn incense to worthless gods. Foreign deities such as Baal and Asherah were represented by empty and ineffective cultic figurines.

18:17 like an east wind. This line refers to the scorching late-spring scirocco wind from the northern Arabian desert.

18:19–20 Yet they have dug a pit for me. Jeremiah reminded the Lord how he had interceded for the people and had asked God to turn away His wrath and judgment. But instead of showing their appreciation for Jeremiah's intervention, the people prepared his grave.

19:3 Hear the word of the LORD . This key word of the Deuteronomic code (Dt 6:4 ) calls for a decision regarding the content of the message. the ears . . . will tingle. This expression is used to refer to a harsh, ringing judgment announcement (1Sa 3:11 ).

19:4–5 the blood of the innocent. This phrase refers to the murderous act of child sacrifice (7:31 ). Human sacrifice was known among the Phoenicians, Moabites, and Canaanites. This abominable practice, performed in the name of religious worship, was explicitly forbidden in the covenant (Dt 12:31 ).

19:9 I will make them eat the flesh of their sons. The gruesome practice of cannibalism appears, recalling the words of Deuteronomy 28:53 . After years of siege resulting in severe famine, the people would resort to eating human flesh in order to survive. This prophecy was literally fulfilled in 586 BC when Nebuchadnezzar invaded Judah, and again in AD 70 when Titus destroyed Jerusalem.

20:1 Pashur . . . chief officer. A person in this position had to be a priest. He had oversight of the temple, the temple guards, entry into the courts, and so on. Jeremiah's proclamations against the city and the temple were of grave concern to Pashur because of the threat to the continuation of the cult in which he was involved.

20:2 upper Benjamin Gate. This portal provided access into the temple courtyards from the north, the direction of Benjamin's territory.

20:3–4 Magor-missabib. This means "terror on every side." As Pashur had been a terror to Jeremiah, so he would become a terror to himself, his family, and his associates.

20:6 Pashur, and all who live in your house. Pashur's whole family and his close associates, who had opposed Jeremiah, would be deported to Babylon because Pashur had prophesied lies. Pashur apparently had announced that Jerusalem would not suffer destruction.

20:7 You have persuaded me and I was deceived. A play on words is intended by using two forms of the same word, which means "to entice." Jeremiah claimed that the Lord had seduced him and that he had succumbed to the temptation.

20:8 the word of the LORD has become to me A reprimand and a mockery. Jeremiah had faithfully proclaimed the Lord's word of judgment and destruction, but the prophecy had not been fulfilled, thus opening the prophet up to criticism.

20:11 *the LORD is with me. In order for a prophet to endure the pain and suffering that goes with the job, he needs to be aware of God's presence, power and approval.

20:12 *who examine the righteous. God tests (6:27 ; 17:10) and judges the righteous, those who walk uprightly in His ways and truth.

20:14–15 *Cursed be the day. In ancient Israel, to curse God or one's parents was an offense punishable by death. Jeremiah avoided committing a capital offense by cursing his conception and birth, and hence his call from God.

21:2 *inquire of the LORD . This phrase means to seek His will.

21:5 *with an outstretched hand. Because the people of Judah had become God's enemies, God would fight against them. The divine instruments by which Israel had gained freedom from Egypt (Ex 15:6 ; Dt 6:21) and deliverance from their enemies would be used against them.

21:8–9 *way of life and the way of death. Death would come to those who attempted to survive the siege of Jerusalem; life was possible through surrender to the Chaldeans (Babylonians).

21:10 *For I have set My face. This phrase describes the fixed intention of God, which in this context was against Jerusalem. The result would be adversity rather than good.

21:13 *come down against us. Attacking armies generally approached Jerusalem from the north along an elevated ridge.

22:1 *Go . . . king of Judah . . . speak this word there. This is the first of three messages directed at specific kings of Judah. Shallum, the fourth son of Josiah, was placed on the throne by the people of Judah, but he was dethroned after three months by Pharaoh-necho. Shallum was imprisoned and taken captive to Egypt (2Ch 36:1–4). Eliakim (Jehoiakim), Shallum's brother, was placed on the throne as an Egyptian vassal. Necho maintained control of Palestine until Nebuchadnezzar defeated Egypt at the Battle of Carchemish in 605 BC. Shallum died without returning from Egypt, in fulfillment of Jeremiah's prophecy.

22:2 *who sit on the throne of David. Jeremiah's prophecy was addressed to three groups: the kings who are of David's lineage, the kings' servants, and "your people who enter by these gates." The last phrase may refer to the citizens in general or to personnel who regularly entered the palace gates.

22:3 *Execute justice and righteousness. For all practical purposes these two terms are synonymous. One could not have one without the other.

22:6–7 *Gilead . . . Lebanon. The territories were sources for timber for the royal palaces. These luxurious residences would be reduced to deserted wilderness and set ablaze if the kings disobeyed the covenant.

22:9 *worshiped other gods. The pagan nations would recognize that the destruction of Jerusalem was the result of Judah's violation of its covenant with God. The people of Judah had exchanged their God for alien deities, whom they worshiped and served.

22:13 *Who uses his neighbor's service without pay. The king was supposed to be the guardian of his people, but Jehoiakim enslaved his fellow Israelites to build his self-aggrandizing palaces.

22:18–19 *He shall be buried with the burial of a donkey. A king of such despicable character as Jehoiakim deserved no lament. Instead of proper funeral rights due a king, Jehoiakim would receive an ignoble burial, like an animal, alone and unlamented.

22:22–23 *The wind [of adversity] will carry away all your shepherds. The winds of adversity and invasion would carry off Judah's leaders and allies alike. The nation would be ashamed that it had entered into such futile associations.

22:24–27 *Coniah. This was another name for Jehoiachin. He succeeded his father in 598 BC under the threat of siege from Babylon as a result of Jehoiakim's rebellion. Jehoiachin reigned for three months until he and his family were exiled to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar (2Ki 24:6–16). Eventually Jehoiachin was released from prison after the death of Nebuchadnezzar.

23:3 I will gather the remnant. The kings of Israel had caused the dispersion of the nation; but the Lord would mercifully bring about the restoration of the remnant. This concept was a popular one with many of the prophets. (Isa 1:9 ; 10:20–23). The blessing of restoration and prosperity as a consequence of repentance is outlined in Deuteronomy 30:1–10.

23:5 a righteous Branch. Beginning with Isaiah 4:2 this term is used of the promised Messiah (33:15); Zec 3:8). This great king will reign with justice and righteousness. This ideal was founded on God's promise to David (2Sa 7:16).

23:7–8 the days are coming. The future restoration of Israel would exceed anything in the past; it would surpass even the first exodus, the deliverance from Egypt.

[23:9–10 My heart \[says Jeremiah\] is broken within me.](#) Jeremiah's dismay over the false prophets weakened him mentally and physically, so much so that he felt drunken from the inner turmoil.

[23:15 I am going to feed them \[the bitterness of\] wormwood.](#) This word refers to bitterness and death by poison. According to Deuteronomy 18:20, the consequence of false prophecy was death.

23:16 a vision of their own mind and imagination. Visions were commonly understood to be a means of receiving a message from God (or the gods). The term vision used here and in Jeremiah 14:14 is also found in Daniel 1:17 and 8:1; plus it is used in other prophetic books to describe a divine revelation (Isa 1:1 ; Mic 3:6).

23:19 the tempest of the LORD . This is a symbol of God's judgment (Isaa 29:6).

[23:21–22 I did not send \[these counterfeit\] prophets.](#) A true prophet must be sent by God with a word from God. A true prophet of God calls people to repentance of sin or evil and to renewed faith.

23:26 the deception of their own heart. The character of the false prophets was based on lies and deceit. Their deception was apparent because their goal was to draw the people into idolatry with their fanciful dreams, leading people to forget God and follow Baal (2:8).

23:28–29 What has straw in common with wheat. This poetic interlude compares dream and word. A dream is fleeting, like chaff in the wind. God's word has the force of fire and a hammer.

23:38–40 The oracle of the LORD . False prophets could not speak an oracle. The disgrace that resulted from the false prophets would last for an extended period of time: Its memory would endure forever (20:11 ).

24:4–7 Like these good figs. These are identified with the deported exiles, including Jeconiah's royal household, whom God set apart. God would bring back the captives, establish them in the land, and multiply their crops.

25:3 I have spoken to you over and over again. This phrase describes Jeremiah's diligence and persistence.

25:9 Nebuchadnezzar . . . My servant. This expression does not imply that the Babylonian monarch worshiped Israel's God, but simply that he was used by God to fulfill His purposes (as in the case of Cyrus, who is called the Lord's "anointed" in Isa 45:1 ).

25:16 drink and stagger and go mad. This triad sequence depicts the judgment process by which the sword of the Lord subdues those opposed to Him. The state of drunkenness was condemned in the Old Testament: to drink the cup and stagger was to display one's guilt (Nu 5:19–28 ).

25:18 to make them a horror, a ruin, a hissing and a curse. The list of nations that would be made to drink from the cup of the Lord's judgment begins with Judah and Jerusalem, which would be made a source of derision (19:8 ).

25:27–28 Drink, be drunk, vomit. These terms for progressive inebriation emphasize the extent of judgment that would flow from God's cup of wrath. Those who refused the cup would be forced to drink.

25:30 The LORD will roar from on high. Generally this phrase refers to God's abode on Mount Zion (Joel 3:16 ; Am 1:2 ).

25:31 A noise has come. This noise refers to a thunderous judgment resulting from God's "covenant lawsuit" against the nations. Though they had not received the law like Judah and Israel, the Gentiles would be judged because they were "wicked." The word "wicked" refers to the guilt associated with the breach of ethical standards, including violating the poor and needy and abusing the oppressed.

25:37 Because of the fierce anger of the LORD . Human anger is an emotion. God's anger is an aspect of the righteous administration of His laws—natural, moral, and spiritual.

26:2 Do not omit a word. Jeremiah was told to speak unsparingly with unwavering boldness.

26:3 It may be that they will listen. The introduction to the judgment oracle is expressed in conditional terms. If the people repented of evil, the Lord would relent from the calamity He was threatening to bring on them.

26:6 then I will make this house [the temple] like Shiloh. This city was not far from Jerusalem. The people could see the effects of its destruction by the Philistines in 1050 BC, a destruction that overtook it even though it was the first resting place of the ark of the covenant. Jeremiah uses Shiloh as an illustration of the coming judgment of Jerusalem even though the temple of God had been built there.

26:13 obey the voice of the LORD your God. Jeremiah gives the Lord's assurance that if we, like Judah, turn to obey Him, our future will be changed from punishment to blessing.

26:15 if you put me to death. Jeremiah defended himself and pointed to the potential sin of shedding innocent blood. He had already accused the leaders of Jerusalem of child sacrifices in the Hinnom valley (2:34 ; 19:4 ).

26:18 Micah of Moresheth. In the reign of Hezekiah, Micah had announced the impending destruction of Jerusalem by the Assyrians (Mic 3:12 ). Yet because of the repentance of Hezekiah and the inhabitants, the city was spared from the onslaught of the Assyrian army under Sennacherib (701 BC).

26:24 Ahikam the son of Shaphan. This man, along with his father, served as a scribe under Josiah when the Book of the Law was found in the temple (2Ki 22:8–14 ). Ahikam's brother Gemariah also opposed Jehoiakim's burning of Jeremiah's scroll (36:25 ). This faithful family was supportive of Jeremiah and was instrumental in saving his life.

27:2–3 bonds and yokes. These are wooden bars or beams that attach to a pair of oxen with leather bands. The symbolic act of wearing the yoke would communicate bondage, restraint, and enslavement.

27:7 All nations shall serve him and his son and his grandson. Following the death of Nebuchadnezzar in 562 BC, his heirs and successors retained control of Babylon for only 24 years. Babylon fell without a battle to Cyrus and the Persian armies in 539 BC, and later to Alexander the Great of Greece.

27:9–10 do not listen. The way kings summoned various prophet-diviners to give them direction is well known from the Book of Daniel (Da 2:2 ; 5:7 ). Besides prophets, there were diviners, like Balaam (Nu 22–24 ), who were prohibited from practicing their craft in Israel (Dt 18:9–14 ). The collective effort of these diviners to determine the fate of their nations failed. Like the false prophets of Judah, they heralded a message of rebellion and resistance against Babylon. Only Jeremiah stood for the truth. The Lord would punish Judah through Nebuchadnezzar.

27:21–22 concerning the articles. Jeremiah's message from the Lord is presented in detail. The remaining articles in the temple, as well as in the king's palace, would be carried to Babylon until the Lord restored His people. In the midst of a prophetic message against the false prophets, Jeremiah spoke a message of hope and restoration. Destruction was imminent, but God does not forget His people. He would restore the righteous remnant.

28:1–4 Hananiah the son of Azzur. This prophet believed that God's message for Judah was one of imminent deliverance—within two years—from servitude to the king of Babylon. Hananiah also prophesied the return of the holy vessels taken by Nebuchadnezzar from the temple. Furthermore, Hananiah espoused the popular belief that the kingship of Zedekiah was illegitimate and that God would restore Jeconiah (Jehoiachin) to the throne in Jerusalem.

28:7–9 of war and of disaster and of virulent disease. Hananiah's message of peace and prosperity ran contrary to the long tradition of the genuine Hebrew prophets. Amos, Hosea, Micah, Joel, and Nahum spoke words of judgment and destruction against the great kingdoms like Assyria and Egypt.

28:15–16 you have made this people trust in a lie. Hananiah had not been sent by God, but he had led the people astray with a lie. As a result, Hananiah would die that very year.

29:2 This was after. This parenthetical passage provides background from 2 Kings 24:12–16 concerning the deportation of Jeconiah (Jehoiachin) to Babylon in 597 BC. This method of eliminating leaders and leaving the peasant population to pay taxes to the kingdom was learned from the Assyrians and was designed to reduce the likelihood of rebellion.

29:4 to all the captives whom I have sent into exile. Jeremiah reminded the exiled community that ultimately it was God, not Nebuchadnezzar, who had caused them to be taken to Babylon.

29:10 When seventy years [of exile] have been completed. The concept of seventy years of Babylonian captivity is reiterated from Jeremiah 25:12. The number 70 symbolizes completion and fulfillment of God's sovereign plans for creation and human history. The completion of the years of the kingdom of Babylon would also be the completion of Judah's exile.

29:11 A Future and a Hope— This text comes from a letter from Jeremiah to the exiles from Judah who were living in Babylon (Jer 29:4–9). The exiles must have had a lot of questions about their situation before they heard from Jeremiah. Had God abandoned them forever? How could they serve God properly while under the domination of the nation of Babylon? When would the exile end? Would they ever see Jerusalem again? What was the plan?

The answer that Jeremiah wrote to them probably wasn't satisfactory for all. They still would have had questions. Many would have wanted more specific answers. They would have wanted to know how long they would be in Babylon. They would have asked if they could do anything to hasten their return. These are not unlike the questions we ask of God on a daily basis.

Perhaps the best way to describe the content of Jeremiah's letter is to say that he is pointing to the fact that all the specifics are wrapped up in their relationship with God. The promises are ultimate promises. If we seek Him, we will find Him. God Himself is our hope. Shouldn't knowing this give us all the direction we need? Isn't this what our faith is all about? On the basis of knowing what God has done and what he has promised to do, we will move ahead in trust. We may not see the path clearly, but we know He does lead and He is leading us. 29:14 I will be found by you. Those who seek God with a whole heart will find Him and experience His renewal. I will bring you back to the place. God was the captor, and He would restore His people from captivity.

29:21 Ahab the son of Kolaiah and concerning Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah. These two were the prophets spoken of in Jeremiah 29:15. They were accused by Jeremiah of a deplorable crime; prophesying the imminent collapse of Babylon and the restoration of the captives to Jerusalem. Such false prophecy urging rebellion against God was a capital offense (Dt 14:5–10). The prophetic punishment of Ahab and Zedekiah was death by command of Nebuchadnezzar.

30:2 Write in a book all the words. The oracles of Jeremiah were recorded by the scribe Baruch (ch. 36). "Book" refers to any type of writing medium, from a clay tablet to a parchment scroll. Jeremiah's oracles were recorded on a scroll (36:2).

30:6 hands on his loins. This phrase symbolizes the agony of God's people who had become like defenseless pregnant women in the midst of delivery before their enemies (4:31 ; 6:24 ).

30:8 It shall come about on that day. The day of the Lord was an ordained time of horror and distress for Israel and Judah, out of which the Lord would save them. Jeremiah expressed the hope of release from the bondage of the yoke of Babylon according to the Lord's timing (25:12 ) and not that of men (28:11 ).

30:12 Your wound is incurable. God's hand of judgment had brought serious harm to the nation, a mortal wound unless God intervened.

[30:13 No \[device to close and allow the\] healing of your wound.](#) This refers to the growth of new skin over an open wound.

30:14 All your lovers \(allies\) have forgotten you. Israel's lovers were the surrounding nations like Assyria, Egypt, Phoenicia, Ammon, and Edom, with whom it had made political and religious alliances. These nations had quickly forgotten Judah; they shrank back or were defeated by Nebuchadnezzar.

30:17 For I will restore health to you. Restoration and healing of Israel came in two forms: retribution against its enemies and healing of its wounds.

30:18 tents of Jacob . . . dwelling places . . . city . . . palace. These phrases emphasize God's work in rebuilding the homes and cities of His returning exiles, from the peasant population to the administration.

30:21 Their prince will be one of them. Israel's leaders would no longer be appointed by foreign kings, and foreign rulers would not preside over Israel's lands.

31:3 everlasting love . . . lovingkindness. These strong words are in parallel and point toward a love characterized by loyalty, a kind of covenant love. Out of His faithfulness to the covenants God established with Abraham and Moses, and out of His great love, God established the nation Israel for His glory and for hers. The Lord would also deliver His people from captivity and reestablish them by His love.

31:4 O Virgin Israel. Earlier in Jeremiah, this expression was used sadly in depicting the departure of Israel from faith in God (2:32 ; 14:17 ). Here the image is reversed. Israel is rebuilt in the manner of her former betrothal (2:2 ), having become again a virgin bride to God. go out to the dances of those who celebrate. A joyful celebration of marriage and festival throughout villages is in view here (v. 13 ).

31:6 watchmen. This time the watchman's purpose is not to warn the people about oncoming armies but to call them to come with joy to the holy city.

31:9 I am a Father to Israel. This text is one of the few cases in the Old Testament where the fatherhood of God is portrayed directly (Dt 32:6 ; Isa 63:16 ). Israel was familiar with the idea of God as Father, but it was not until the teaching of Jesus that the phrase took on the importance that we understand it to have in our lives today.

31:12 the goodness of the LORD . The blessings of the goodness of the Lord are bountiful crops, flocks, and vineyards (Ps 65 ).

31:14 I will fully satisfy the soul of the priests with abundance. The theme of joy is summarized in God's intention to fill the priests and the people with abundance. Jeremiah gave the people hope and comfort in facing the poverty and oppression of exile and captivity.

31:19 I struck my thigh. This indicates an outward demonstration of remorse over sin and change of life (Eze 21:12 ).

31:21 road signs . . . guideposts. These would point out the way to the people's homeland. More importantly, Israel was instructed to set its heart toward the way that is the path of faith in its God.

31:27 I will sow the house of Israel. God would plant and multiply the seed of man and animal in the land of Judah.

31:28 to build and to plant. These are the same terms used in Jeremiah's call (1:10 ).

31:31–34 The New Covenant— The New Covenant is called “new” in contrast to the covenant with Moses which is called “old” (Jer 31:32 ; Heb 8:6–13 ) because it actually accomplishes what the Mosaic Covenant could only point to, that is, the child of God living in a manner that is consistent with the character of God. Four provisions are made in this covenant: (1) Regeneration— God will put His law in their inward parts and write it in their hearts (31:33 ), (2) A national restoration— Yahweh will be their God and the nation will be His people (31:33 ), (3) Personal ministry of the Holy Spirit— they will all be taught individually by God (31:34 ), and (4) Full justification— their sins will be forgiven and completely removed (31:34 ). The New Covenant is made sure by the blood that Jesus shed on Calvary’s cross. The blood that guarantees to Israel its New Covenant also provides for the forgiveness of sins for the believers who comprise the church. Jesus’ payment for sin is more than adequate to pay for the sins of all who will believe in Him. Go to Theological Notes Index

31:32 the covenant which I made with their fathers. The old covenant demanded adherence to stipulations (Ex 19:1–23:33 ) which the people were unable to keep. Above all other commandments, the people were commanded to love and serve God and abandon all others (Dt 6:4–5 ). This they did not do. From the wilderness period (Ex 32:1–10 ; Nu 25:1–9 ) until the days of Manasseh, the history of Israel was permeated with idolatrous activity, only occasionally broken by periods of true faithfulness to God. The people seemed incapable of acting in sustained obedience to the covenant. husband. As Hosea was to Gomer, the Lord had been a faithful and devoted husband to Israel.

31:33 the covenant which I will make. The new covenant would be initiated by God Himself, assuring its effectiveness. after those days. This expression looks forward to the time of fulfillment of the new covenant, which found fruition in the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

31:34 each man will no longer teach. No longer would intermediaries like priests or prophets be needed to show the people how to know the Lord. Knowledge of God is a major theme of Jeremiah (2:8 ; 4:22 ; 5:4 ; 8:7 ). This knowledge is an intimate relationship with God evidenced by faith, obedience, and devotion.

31:36–37 If this fixed order departs. The foundation of the new covenant is as sure as the God who maintains creation. At the peak of Judah’s apostasy, shortly before the destruction of the nation by Babylon in divine judgment, the Lord emphatically reaffirmed His covenant relationship with the Jewish people in such strong terms that the promise was unbreakable, even by Him. When we observe the sun, moon, or stars in the sky, we should remember God’s promise to the Jewish people, even as God does.

32:6–8 that is in Anathoth. The Lord instructed Jeremiah to purchase a field in his hometown three miles north of Jerusalem.

32:13–15 earthen jar. Examples of storage jars that served as safety-deposit vessels have been excavated in Judah. The Dead Sea Scrolls were also stored in ceramic vessels, aiding their preservation for almost two thousand years. The illustrated message of the purchase was assurance and confirmation that restoration of the land was certain.

32:20–21 signs and wonders in the land of Egypt. The great historical demonstration of God’s loyal love was the exodus of Israel from Egypt. The miracles that accompanied the exodus made God known among the nations such as Moab (Nu 22–24 ).

32:27 the God of all flesh. God was Lord over Israel and Judah, and Lord over the nations (27:11 ), including mighty Babylon (25:15–26 ).

32:39 one heart and one way. Because the Lord had written on the heart of the people a new covenant (31:33 ), no longer would they worship other deities and turn to foreign nations for help. The word “way” is often used in Jeremiah to denote the character of a person’s life, whether evil (4:18 ) or good

(7:23 ).

32:40 everlasting covenant. This expression is also found in Isaiah 55:3 ; Ezekiel 16:60 ; 37:26 . In Ezekiel it is equated with a covenant of peace that God will establish with His people. This covenant will be everlasting, unlike the Sinai covenant which had been broken and ignored for so long.

33:1 while he was still confined. A chronological tie is made to 32:2 (588 BC). Jeremiah had been placed under palace court guard because of what his enemies regarded as “seditious speeches,” announcing the fall of Jerusalem and giving advice to Zedekiah to surrender to Nebuchadnezzar.

33:8 cleanse . . . pardon. Forgiveness is described with these two terms. The word “cleanse” describes ritual purification of what is physically or spiritually unclean or defiled, like Israel and Judah (2:23 ; 7:30 ). “Pardon” means “to forgive,” and in the Old Testament is used only with God as the subject as He forgives man. This fact helps us understand the reaction of the scribes when they heard Jesus forgiving sins (Mk 2:7 ).

33:13 flocks will again pass under. The term “flocks” is used to depict the Israelites as they returned from captivity into the fold of the holy city of Jerusalem.

33:16 will live in safety. Following the devastation of the Babylonian onslaught, Jerusalem would exist under divine protection.

33:17 David shall never lack. The Davidic covenant of divine succession is reiterated (2Sa 7:12–16 ). The Levitical priesthood would likewise be heirs to a divine succession in overseeing the sacrificial system in the Jerusalem temple. Jesus, as Priest and King, fulfills both offices in the New Covenant.

34:3 You will not escape from his hand. Though Zedekiah attempted to flee to Jericho, Nebuchadnezzar’s forces captured and brought him to Riblah for a face to face meeting with Nebuchadnezzar (32:3 ,4 ).

34:5 You will die in peace. Jeremiah proclaimed the destruction of Jerusalem and the death of its inhabitants by sword, pestilence, and famine. The particular implications for Zedekiah are outlined here. He would not be executed by the sword. According to 2 Kings 25:6–7 , his sons were killed before his eyes and then his eyes were put out before being taken to Babylon.

[34:8 Zedekiah had made a covenant \(solemn pledge\) with all the \[Hebrew\] people.](#) A legal agreement was made between Zedekiah and the people of Jerusalem during the Babylonian siege to release from bondage all Hebrew slaves.

34:12–14 Thus says the LORD . Jeremiah, a faithful steward of the word of God, began his attack against Judah’s leaders by recounting the teaching of the law on the matter of emancipating slaves (Ex 21:2–6 ; Dt 15:12–15 ). He reminded the people that their forefathers were slaves in Egypt, and that God had freed them from slavery and oppression.

[34:16 Yet you backed out \[of the covenant\] and profaned My Name.](#) When the princes of Judah emancipated their Hebrew slaves, it demonstrated their covenant faithfulness and devotion to God (v. 10 ). But when the righteous decision was reversed (v. 11 ), the name of God was profaned. The name of God sums up and represents His attributes, character, and work. That name had been defiled by the breach of covenant in the same way that the people had defiled the land with their idolatry (16:18 ).

35:2 the house of the Rechabites. This clan was a tightly knit group of descendants of the Kenites (Jdg 1:16 ; 1Ch 2:55 ). They lived as nomads, rejecting all forms of urban and agrarian life. They refused to drink wine or strong drink and would not cultivate vineyards. They also would not plant any other crops. They were invited by Jeremiah into one of the chambers surrounding the courtyard of the temple of God for a symbolic demonstration.

35:13–16 obeyed their father's command. The Rechabites held to the teaching of their forefather, while the Israelites continually rebelled against the teaching of God.

36:2 Take a scroll [of parchment] and write on it. The usual material for a scroll was parchment (a kind of leather), though Egyptian papyrus was also available. The contents of the scroll were the oracles dating from the days of Josiah, at the advent of Jeremiah's ministry (626 BC).

36:6 go . . . and read from the scroll. This scroll was to be read on a day of fasting, a time set aside by official declaration of the king or priests (v. 9 ) in a period of national crisis.

36:8 Baruch . . . did everything that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him. As a faithful disciple, Baruch read from the book of God's words in the temple of the Lord. This act closely parallels the reading of the Book of the Law in the temple after it was discovered there under Josiah.

36:20–24 cut off that portion with a scribe's knife. Jehoiakim showed no signs of fear or lamentation, unlike Josiah when the Book of the Law was read in his hearing (2Ki 22:11–13 ). Instead he cuts the scroll up and throws it into a fire.

36:29–31 Jehoiakim king of Judah. Indictment and judgment against Jehoiakim is pronounced. The indictment was declared because he destroyed the scroll of the Word of the Lord. First, the Davidic lineage would not continue through him. His son would rule for only three months before Nebuchadnezzar deported Jehoiachin to Babylon, where he died. Second, the king's body would be treated disgracefully after his death. As the king had cast the scroll into the fire, so his body would be cast from the royal palace. Third, the royal household would experience the destructive judgment that had been proclaimed in the words of the original scroll.

37:2 neither he nor his servants nor the people of the land listened. It is eminently possible and easy to reject God's message. As Zedekiah and all the people did, so can we deliberately refuse to heed the Lord, even when events have shown the truth of His message.

37:5 Pharaoh's army had set out from Egypt. In late spring or early summer 588 BC, Pharaoh Hophra led the Egyptian army into southern Palestine. The Babylonian forces withdrew their siege of Jerusalem to confront the Egyptians. Zedekiah hoped the Babylonians would be defeated, but his hopes proved to be in vain.

37:9 Do not deceive yourselves. To think that the brief respite caused by the Egyptian appearance in the southern coastal plain was proof of imminent deliverance, as the false prophets declared, was an exercise in self-deception and futile imagination.

37:14–16 I am not deserting to join the Chaldeans. Jeremiah denied the accusation of defection but to no avail. Irijah arrested the prophet and arraigned him before the court of princes. Prison space was lacking in Jerusalem due to the crowded conditions of the siege, so a prison had to be devised.

37:17–19 Zedekiah the king sent and brought him out. Fearing possible exposure and opposition from his courtiers, Zedekiah secretly summoned Jeremiah and asked of him a word from the Lord. He seems to have earnestly desired a word from God but could not come to grips with the reality and respond appropriately. Jeremiah appealed to Zedekiah's sense of justice and decency and asked to be released from prison. Zedekiah consented.

38:2–3 He who remains in this city. Verse 2 is almost an exact duplicate of 21:9 . Jeremiah said the choice was between life under the Babylonians and death among the ruins of Jerusalem. Such a statement was treasonous, as was the statement that Jerusalem must fall.

38:7 Ebed-melech. This man took special care to obtain rags for Jeremiah to cushion his armpits, preventing the ropes from cutting his skin. A foreigner, a once despised Cushite (from Egypt), cared more for the prophet of God than did the king and the princes of Jeremiah's own people.

38:17 Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah. Jeremiah repeated to the king the message recorded in Jeremiah 38:2–3 . Surrender would spare the life of the king, and the city's failure to surrender would bring death and destruction.

38:20–23 Then it will go well with you. Jeremiah tried to settle Zedekiah's fears and to resolve his moral and ethical dilemma by reassuring him that surrender would result in his personal safety. But if the king refused to surrender to Nebuchadnezzar, the word of judgment would fall. Women and children would be handed over to Nebuchadnezzar and Jerusalem would be destroyed.

39:1 king of Babylon and all his army came against Jerusalem and besieged it. The Babylonian siege began in December 589 BC and ended about 30 months later when the walls of Jerusalem were breached.

39:3–7 all the officials of the king of Babylon. When Zedekiah saw the Babylonian officers enter the gate on the north side of Jerusalem, he and his men left at night through another gate on the south side of the city. They were captured near Jericho and taken to Riblah to meet Nebuchadnezzar.

39:8–10 The Chaldeans also burned. In addition to the royal palace and homes of the inhabitants, Jeremiah 52:13 includes the "house of the LORD" among the buildings burned in Jerusalem. the poor people. Typically the Babylonians deported the upper classes, such as court officials, merchants, artisans, and craftsmen, and left behind peasants to work the fields.

39:18 you will have your [own] life as a reward of battle . . . your trust in Me. Ebed-melech experienced the power and grace of God in the deliverance of his life simply because he exercised faith.

40:2–3 the Lord has brought it about and has done just as He promised. Prophets whose words were deemed verified were generally treated well by peoples of the ancient Middle East.

40:4–5 I am freeing you today from the chains. Jeremiah was released from bondage and given three options: (1) to go with Nebuzaradan to Babylon and enjoy special treatment and protection there; (2) to remain in the care of Gedaliah, the district governor at Mizpah; (3) to live in the land as he chose.

40:7–10 the commanders of the forces. This phrase refers to the surviving Jewish commanders of the armies in the towns throughout Judah who had fled into the rugged hill country. Among the list of escaped leaders was Ishmael, a member of the royal family and a court officer (41:1 ).

40:11–12 the Jews. Those who had escaped the Babylonian onslaught into neighboring states returned home and began working the fields, vineyards, and orchards.

40:13–16 Johanan. This man led a group of leaders to Gedaliah to warn him of a plot by Ishmael. He even asked for permission to kill the plotter, Ishmael. Unfortunately, Gedaliah was far too trusting of Ishmael and didn't take the warning seriously enough.

41:11–12 they took all their men. After Ishmael assassinates Gedaliah, Johanan gathered forces to fight Ishmael's army at Gibeon. Then he started for Egypt and safety.

42:1–3 said to Jeremiah. The people asked Jeremiah to intercede with the Lord on their behalf.

42:4–6 I will pray. Jeremiah cautiously agreed to pray to God. He asked the people to agree to abide by the answer he received. The people responded with an oath of obedience, calling upon the Lord as witness.

42:15 really determined. This expression indicates the fixed intentions of the people. The announcement of judgment against the disobedient evacuees echoes Jeremiah's earlier pronouncements against Judah. The very thing they were trying to escape from would meet them in Egypt.

43:4–7 all the people disobeyed. Johanan led the migration to Egypt, against the direction of the Lord through Jeremiah.

43:10 these stones. These symbolized the strong foundation of Nebuchadnezzar's empire, the point from which he would spread his canopy.

44:8 provoke. This term indicates willful, stubborn rebellion against God, which roused His anger.

44:10 They have not become apologetic. The present generation of Jews had learned nothing from the past failures of the nation. The people were not broken in heart, only more stubborn.

44:13 I will punish all the inhabitants of the land of Egypt. The Jews in Egypt would suffer the same judgment as those in Jerusalem. Only a small remnant would survive to tell their story.

44:18 queen of heaven. The people reasoned that when they stopped worshiping the queen of heaven in the days of Josiah's reform, their king was killed and their land was overrun and destroyed.

44:24 including all the women. The focus here is on the stubbornness of the women who persisted in their idolatry. Nothing could make them abandon their vows to worship Ishtar.

44:26–27 by My great Name. The name of God reveals His quality and character in dealing with humankind.

44:28 all the remnant of Judah. A small remnant would survive and see the fulfillment of God's word as revealed through Jeremiah. Their own hopes of prosperity in Egypt would vanish, and the sign of God's work against them would be the fall of Pharaoh Hophra of Egypt. In 570 BC, Hophra was overthrown in a military coup by his own general, Amasis. Three years later he was executed in fulfillment of Jeremiah's prophecy.

45:2–3 to you, O Baruch. Jeremiah addressed Baruch in light of the scribe's sorrow. Baruch lamented his plight in the same manner that Jeremiah had done (15:10). He also suffered mental anguish and personal rejection from his people due to his association with Jeremiah (36:15–19).

46:1 concerning the [Gentile] nations. This verse introduces a collection of oracles. The text moves generally from the west—Egypt—to the east—Elam and Babylon. Scattered throughout the oracles are brief messages of the restoration of Israel and Judah. The main message of these oracles is the sovereignty of God over all the nations of the earth.

46:10–12 day belongs to the Lord GOD of hosts. This time the day is a day of vengeance in which Egypt is punished for the death of Josiah. The imagery of a devouring sword is also found in Jeremiah 2:30. Egypt's demise is pictured as a sacrificial feast. As there was no healing balm for sinful Judah, so now Egypt was mortally wounded, stumbling to its death.

46:15–17 Why have your strong ones been cut down? The fall of the gods before God in judgment is a prominent theme in the oracles against the nations (v. 25).

46:18 King . . . LORD of hosts. The term “hosts” can also be translated “armies.” God is the true and sovereign King over all the armies of heaven and earth.

46:25–26 with her gods and her kings. The gods and goddesses of Egypt were punished in the defeat of the people who worshiped them.

47:3 weak are their hands. This phrase means lacking courage. It describes the paralyzing terror felt by parents as they abandon their children in flight.

47:6–7 sword of the LORD . This image is used often to portray divine judgment (12:2 ; 46:10 ,14 ,16 ).

48:6–8 the wilderness. This tree ekes out its stunted growth in the wilderness, hiding in crevasses of rock. exile. Taking a deity captive was a well-known Middle Eastern custom. The national statue of the patron deity was seized, and it was believed that the captured god could no longer protect its people.

48:17 Show sympathy for him, all you [nations] who are around him. A note of sarcasm is communicated. The nations around Moab, like Judah, who was attacked by Moab's mercenaries, were called upon to lament Moab's destruction.

48:18 Come down from your glory. The haughty Moab was shamed by the destruction of its fortresses.

48:26–29 Make him drunk. Judgment is portrayed in the form of drunkenness to the point of vomiting, the result of Moab's mockery of Israel (25:15–29 ).

48:33 joy and gladness are taken away. The joy once heard echoing from the vineyards and winepresses had vanished before the horrifying sound of horses' hoofbeats and clashing weapons.

48:40–44 will fly swiftly like an eagle. The imagery is that of Babylon spreading its ravaging armies over Moab like an eagle spreading its wings. he has become arrogant and magnified himself. Moab's chief sin was pride, considering itself greater than the God of Israel. Its pride would be turned to fear and terror, and then the nation would be taken captive.

49:1–2 Malcam. This was the patron deity of the Ammonites and is pictured here as taking possession of the land formerly belonging to the Gadites, a process that began in the days of the judges.

49:9–11 grape gatherers. This imagery is derived from 6:9, but there was no real remnant left in Edom. The nation had been totally ravaged and stripped bare, with only women and children left alive to work the land.

49:17–19 an object of horror. Like Israel, Judah, Egypt, Moab, and Ammon, Edom would be destroyed and would become an object of derision. Like the lion that emerges from the thickets along the lower Jordan and seizes its prey, God would attack the Edomites through His appointed instrument.

49:30–33 Hazor will become a haunt and dwelling place of jackals. Nebuchadnezzar's destructive army would attack the tent villages of Kedar and Hazor. The oases would be left to the jackals for habitation (9:11 ; 10:22). The Bedouin peoples would be scattered afar, as if by the hot desert winds.

49:34–36 break the bow. The Elamites were famous for their skilled archers (Isa 22:6), who became an important part of the Persian army under Cyrus. four winds. This expression indicates the military might that the Lord musters against His enemies (Eze 37:9).

50:2–3 Bel [the patron god] has been shamed. Bel was a title like Baal, meaning "Lord," another name for Babylon's patron deity, Marduk. The oracle begins with a defamation of the gods of Babylon. The term translated "images" means animal droppings. The Hebrew prophets are openly contemptuous of idols and speak of them with ridicule.

50:11–13 O you who plunder My heritage. Babylon's plunder would be its punishment for gloating over Judah's demise and the abuse of God's heritage. Babylon would be "a wilderness." Defamation, drought, dehabitation, desolation, and derision was Babylon's destiny (18:16 ; 19:8 ; 49:17).

50:21–28 utterly destroy them. The tables would be turned on Babylon. The Lord God had launched His vengeful weapons upon the city through His anointed servant Cyrus (2Ch 36:22 , 23 ; Isa 45:1).

50:34 Their Redeemer is strong. One who secured the freedom of a kinsman, protecting family rights, was called a kinsmen redeemer. Here God, the Redeemer of Israel (Isa 47:4), offers to obtain the legal freedom of His people from captivity.

51:6–10 Babylon has been a golden cup. The imagery of Babylon's cup of fury from 25:15–19 is reversed. Here Babylon's cup is broken by the Lord. Get balm. As in the case of Judah (8:22), decadent Babylon was beyond healing and had to be abandoned. The destruction of Babylon was the vindication of the justice of God. Jeremiah's prediction (25:12–14) would be realized: Israel would be made righteous through God's work.

51:20–26 You . . . are My battle-axe. Babylon had been God's implement for judgment against the nations, and Judah in particular.

51:29–32 The mighty warriors of Babylon have ceased to fight. The Nabonidus Chronicle, an ancient text describing the fall of Babylon, reports that "Cyrus entered Babylon without a battle." By the time Cyrus reached Babylon, he had conquered all of Babylonia except for the capital city, cutting off roads and supply routes.

51:47–48 the days are coming. This expression usually introduces a message of divine intervention into history. I will judge and punish the idols of Babylon. The city was known for its thousands of idols of its numerous gods and goddesses. As the king claimed to conquer nations in the name of his patron deity, so the gods of the defeated would be punished along with their worshipers. The devastation of decadent Babylon would be no cause for mourning among the nations. Instead, the nations would sing joyfully of Babylon's fall.

52:13–16 He burned down the house of the LORD . The entire city of Jerusalem was burned, from the temple to the royal palace to the houses. The city walls were demolished. Leading citizens and some of the poor were deported under Nebuzaradan's command, leaving only a remnant of peasant farmers to work the fields, vineyards, and orchards.

52:31–34 Evil-merodach. Nebuchadnezzar's son became king next but only reigned for two years. Jehoiachin was released from prison during his reign and pardoned. He was provided with food and given a seat of honor in Babylon. This restoration was symbolic of the future restoration of Israel and Judah to their homeland.

The Lamentations
of Jeremiah

- AUTHOR: The universal consensus of early Jewish and Christian tradition attributes this book to Jeremiah. Even though the author is unnamed in the book, the superscription to Lamentations in the Septuagint states: “And it came to pass, after Israel had been carried away captive, and Jerusalem had become desolate, that Jeremiah sat weeping, and lamented with this lamentation over Jerusalem saying. . . .” The Talmud, as well as many other ancient sources, also supports this position.
- TIMES: c. 586 BC
- KEY VERSES: Lam 3:22–23
- THEME: A lament is a vehicle for working through sorrow. While grief is expressed in words, its resolution is in God and the hope He gives for the future. In a way, the lamentation process is one of coming to grips with all that God wants us to see about our present circumstances. For the people of Judah to lose a country meant not only the loss of the homeland, but the loss of God’s presence and power to sustain the people in that land. It is hard for people who have never experienced such loss to understand the depth of grief expressed in this book.

Lamentations 1

The Sorrows of Zion

<sup>1</sup>. HOW SOLITARY and lonely sits the city [Jerusalem] ‡

That was [once] full of people!

How like a widow she has become.

She who was great among the nations!

The princess among the provinces,

Has become a forced laborer!

<sup>2</sup>. She weeps bitterly in the night ‡

And her tears are [constantly] on her cheeks;

Among all her lovers (political allies)

She has no one to comfort her.

All her friends have dealt treacherously with her;

They have become her enemies.  [Jer 3:1; 4:30 ]

<sup>3</sup> Judah has gone into exile under affliction ‡

And under harsh servitude;

She dwells among the [pagan] nations,

But she has found no rest;

All her pursuers have overtaken her

In the midst of [her] distress.

<sup>4</sup>. The roads to Zion are in mourning

Because no one comes to the appointed feasts.

All her gates are desolate;

Her priests are groaning,

Her virgins are grieved and suffering,

And she suffers bitterly.

<sup>5</sup>. Her adversaries have become her masters, ‡

Her enemies prosper;

For the LORD has caused her grief

Because of the multitude of her transgressions;

Her young children have gone

Into captivity before the enemy.  [Jer 30:14, 15; 52:28; Dan

9:7-14 ]

<sup>6</sup> All her beauty and majesty

Have departed from the Daughter of Zion (Jerusalem).

Her princes have become like deer
That have found no pasture;
They have fled without strength
Before the pursuer.

<sup>7</sup>In the days of her affliction and homelessness
Jerusalem remembers all her precious things
That she had from the days of old,
When her people fell into the hand of the adversary,
And no one helped her,
The enemy saw her,
They mocked at her downfall.

<sup>8</sup> Jerusalem sinned greatly; ‡ Therefore she has become an unclean thing [and has been removed].

All who honored her [now] despise her
Because they have seen her nakedness;
Even she herself groans and turns [her face] away.

<sup>9</sup> Her (ceremonial) uncleanness was on her skirts; ‡
She did not [seriously] consider her future.

Therefore she has come down [from throne to slavery] in an astonishing manner;

She has no comforter.

“O LORD” [cries Jerusalem], “look at my affliction,
For the enemy has magnified himself [in triumph]!”

<sup>10</sup>The adversary has spread out his hand ‡
Over all her precious and desirable things;
For she has seen the [Gentile] nations enter her sanctuary (the Jerusalem temple)—

The ones whom You commanded
That they should not enter into Your congregation [not even in the outer courts].  [Deut 23:3; Jer 51:51; Ezek 44:7, 9 ]

<sup>11</sup> All her people groan, seeking bread; ‡
They have exchanged their desirable and precious things for food
To restore their lives.
“See, O LORD, and consider How despised and repulsive I have become!”

<sup>12</sup> “Is it nothing to you, all you who pass this way? ‡
Look and see if there is any pain like my pain
Which was severely dealt out to me,
Which the LORD has inflicted [on me] on the day of His fierce anger.

<sup>13</sup> “From on high He sent fire into my bones, ‡
And it prevailed over them.
He has spread a net for my feet;
He has turned me back.
He has made me desolate and hopelessly miserable,
Faint all the day long.

<sup>14</sup> “The yoke of my transgressions is bound; ‡
By His hand they are knit and woven together.
They have come upon my neck.
He has made my strength fail;
The Lord has put me into the hand
Of those against whom I cannot stand.  [Deut 28:48 ]

<sup>15</sup> “The Lord has rejected all the strong men ‡
In my midst;
He has proclaimed an established time against me
To crush my young men.
The Lord has trampled down as in a wine press
The Virgin Daughter of Judah.

<sup>16</sup> “I weep for these things; ‡
My eyes overflow with tears,
Because a comforter,
One who could restore my soul, is far away from me.
My children are desolate and perishing,
For the enemy has prevailed.”  [Lam 1:21 ]

<sup>17</sup> Zion stretches out her hands, ‡
But there is no comforter for her.
The LORD has commanded concerning Jacob
That his neighbors should be his enemies;
Jerusalem has become a filthy thing [an object of contempt] among them.

<sup>18</sup> “The LORD is righteous and just; ‡
For I have rebelled against His commandment (His word).
Hear now, all you peoples,

And look at my pain;
My virgins and my young men
Have gone into captivity.

<sup>19</sup> “I [Jerusalem] called to my lovers (political allies), but they deceived me. ‡

My priests and my elders perished in the city
While they looked for food to restore their strength.

<sup>20</sup> “See, O LORD, how distressed I am! ‡

My spirit is deeply disturbed;
My heart is overturned within me and cannot rest,
For I have been very rebellious.
In the street the sword kills and bereaves;
In the house there is [famine, disease and] death!

<sup>21</sup> “People have heard that I groan, ‡
That I have no comforter [in You].
All my enemies have heard of my desperation;
They are delighted [O LORD] that You have done it.
Oh, that You would bring the day [of judgment] which You have proclaimed
So that they will become like me.  [Is 14:5, 6; Jer 30:16 ]

<sup>22</sup> “Let all their wickedness come before You; ‡
And deal with them as You have dealt with me
Because of all my transgressions;
For my groans are many and my heart is faint.”

Lamentations 2

God's Anger over Israel

<sup>1</sup>—HOW THE Lord has covered the Daughter of Zion
(Jerusalem) ‡

With a cloud in His anger!
He has cast down from heaven to the earth
The glory and splendor of Israel
And has not remembered His footstool
In the day of His anger.

<sup>2</sup> The Lord has swallowed up; He has not spared ‡
All the country places of Jacob.

In His wrath He has thrown down
The strongholds of the Daughter of Judah (Jerusalem).
He has brought them down to the ground [in disgrace];
He has debased the kingdom and its princes.

<sup>3</sup> In fierce anger He has cut off and destroyed ‡
Every horn of Israel.

He has withdrawn His right hand
From the presence of the enemy.
And He has burned in Jacob like a flaming fire Consuming all around.

<sup>4</sup> He has bent His bow like an enemy; ‡
He has set His right hand like an adversary
And slain all that were delightful and pleasing to the eye;
In the tent of the Daughter of Zion
He has poured out His wrath like fire.

<sup>5</sup> The Lord has become like an enemy; ‡
He has swallowed up Israel.
He has swallowed up all its palaces;
He has destroyed its strongholds
And multiplied in the Daughter of Judah
Mourning and lamentation (expressions of grief).

<sup>6</sup> And He has violently broken down His temple like a [fragile] garden hedge; ‡
He has destroyed His appointed meeting place.
The LORD has caused the appointed feast and Sabbath
To be forgotten in Zion
And has despised and rejected the king and the priest
In the indignation of His anger.

He has abandoned His sanctuary.
He has given into the hand of the enemy
The walls of her palaces;
They have made a noise in the house of the LORD
As on a day of an appointed feast.

<sup>8</sup> The LORD determined to lay in ruins ‡
The [city] wall of the Daughter of Zion.
He has stretched out a line,
He has not stopped His hand from destroying.

He has caused the rampart and the wall to lament (mourn in grief);

They have languished together.

<sup>9</sup>Her gates have sunk into the ground; ‡

He has destroyed and broken her bars.

Her king and her princes are [exiled] among the nations;

The law is no more.

Also, her prophets no longer find

Vision from the LORD.

<sup>10</sup>The elders of the Daughter of Zion ‡

Sit on the ground keeping silent;

They have thrown dust on their heads,

They have covered themselves with sackcloth.

The virgins of Jerusalem

Have bowed their heads to the ground.

<sup>11</sup> My eyes fail because of tears [mourns Jeremiah], ‡

My spirit is deeply disturbed;

My heart is poured out on the earth [in grief]

Because of the destruction of the daughter of my people
[Jerusalem],

When little ones and infants faint

In the streets of the city.

<sup>12</sup> They cry to their mothers,

“Where is grain and wine?”

As they faint like a wounded man

In the streets of the city,

As their life [slips away and] is poured out

In their mothers’ arms.

<sup>13</sup> How shall I console you? ‡

To what shall I compare you,

O Daughter of Jerusalem?

With what shall I compare you, so that I may comfort you,

O Virgin Daughter of Zion?

For your ruin is as vast as the sea;

Who can heal you?  [Lam 1:12; Dan 9:12 ]

<sup>14</sup> Your prophets have seen (imagined) for you ‡

False and foolish visions;

And they have not exposed your wickedness

To restore you from captivity [by teaching you to repent],
But they have seen (imagined) and declared to you false and misleading oracles.

<sup>15</sup>All who pass along the way ‡
Clap their hands in derision at you;
They scoff and shake their heads
At the Daughter of Jerusalem, saying,
“Is this the city that was called
‘The perfection of beauty,
The joy of all the earth’?”

<sup>16</sup>All your enemies ‡
Have opened their mouths wide against you;
They [scornfully] hiss and gnash their teeth.
They say, “We have swallowed her up!
Certainly this is the day for which we waited;
We have reached it, we have seen it!”

<sup>17</sup>The LORD has done what He planned; ‡
He has accomplished His word
Which He commanded from days of old.
He has demolished without sparing,
And He has caused the enemy to rejoice over you;
He has exalted the power of your enemies.  [Lev 26:14–39; Deut 28:15–68 ]

<sup>18</sup>Their hearts cried out to the Lord. ‡
“O wall of the Daughter of Zion,
Let your tears run down like a river day and night;
Give yourself no relief,
Let your eyes have no rest.

<sup>19</sup>“Arise, cry aloud in the night, ‡
At the beginning of the night watches;
Pour out your heart like water
Before the presence of the Lord;
Lift up your hands to Him
For the life of your little ones
Who are faint from hunger
At the head of every street.”  [Ps 62:8 ]

<sup>20</sup>See, O LORD, and look! ‡
With whom have You dealt this way?

Should women eat their offspring,
The little ones who were born healthy and beautiful?
Should priest and prophet be killed
In the sanctuary of the Lord?
<sup>21</sup> The young and the old ‡
Lie on the ground in the streets;
My virgins and my young men
Have fallen by the sword.
You have killed them in the day of Your anger,
You have slaughtered, not sparing.
<sup>22</sup> You [LORD] called as in the day of an appointed feast ‡
My terrors (dangers) on every side;
And there was no one who escaped or survived
In the day of the LORD's anger.
Those I have cared for and brought up with tenderness,
My enemy annihilated them.

Lamentations 3

Jeremiah Shares Israel's Affliction

- <sup>1</sup> I AM [Jeremiah] the man who has seen affliction Because of the rod of His wrath.
- <sup>2</sup> He has led me and made me walk
In darkness and not in light.
- <sup>3</sup> Surely He has turned His hand against me Repeatedly all the day.
- <sup>4</sup> He has caused my flesh and my skin to waste away; ‡
He has shattered my bones.
- <sup>5</sup> He has besieged and surrounded me with bitterness and hardship.
- <sup>6</sup> He has made me live in dark places ‡
Like those who have long been dead.
- <sup>7</sup> He walled me in so that I cannot get out; ‡
He has weighted down my chain.
- <sup>8</sup> Even when I cry out and shout for help, ‡
He shuts out my prayer.
- <sup>9</sup> He has blocked my ways with cut stone;

He has made my paths crooked.

<sup>10</sup> He is to me like a bear lying in wait, ‡

And like a lion [hiding] in secret places.

<sup>11</sup> He has turned aside my ways and torn me in pieces; ‡

He has made me desolate.

<sup>12</sup> He has bent His bow ‡

And set me as a target for the arrow.

<sup>13</sup> He has caused the arrows of His quiver ‡

To enter my inner parts.

<sup>14</sup> I have become the [object of] ridicule to all my people, ‡

And [the subject of] their mocking song all the day.

<sup>15</sup> He has filled me with bitterness; ‡

He has made me drunk with wormwood (bitterness).

<sup>16</sup> He has broken my teeth with gravel; ‡

He has [covered me with ashes and] made me cower in the dust.

<sup>17</sup> My soul has been cast far away from peace;

I have forgotten happiness.

<sup>18</sup> So I say, “My strength has perished ‡

And so has my hope and expectation from the LORD.”

Hope of Relief in God’s Mercy

<sup>19</sup> Remember [O LORD] my affliction and my wandering, the wormwood and the gall (bitterness). ‡

<sup>20</sup> My soul continually remembers them

And is bowed down within me.

<sup>21</sup> But this I call to mind,

Therefore I have hope.

<sup>22</sup> It is because of the LORD’s lovingkindnesses that we are not consumed, ‡

Because His [tender] compassions never fail.  [Mal 3:6 ]

<sup>23</sup> They are new every morning; ‡

Great and beyond measure is Your faithfulness.  [Is 33:2 ]

<sup>24</sup> “The LORD is my portion and my inheritance,” says my soul; ‡

“Therefore I have hope in Him and wait expectantly for Him.”

 [Num 18:20 ]

<sup>25</sup> The LORD is good to those who wait [confidently] for Him,‡

To those who seek Him [on the authority of God's word].

<sup>26</sup> It is good that one waits quietly‡

For the salvation of the LORD.

<sup>27</sup> It is good for a man that he should bear‡

The yoke [of godly discipline] in his youth.

<sup>28</sup> Let him sit alone [in hope] and keep quiet,‡

Because God has laid it on him [for his benefit].  [Rom 8:28 ]

<sup>29</sup> Let him put his mouth in the dust [in recognition of his unworthiness];‡

There may yet be hope.  [Mic 7:17 ]

<sup>30</sup> Let him give his cheek to the one who strikes him;‡

Let him be filled with reproach.

<sup>32</sup> For if He causes grief,

Then He will have compassion

According to His abundant lovingkindness and tender mercy.

Or grieve the children of men.  [Ezek 18:23, 32; Hos 11:8; Heb 12:5–10; 2 Pet 3:9 ]

<sup>34</sup> To trample and crush under His feet

All the prisoners of the land,

<sup>35</sup> To deprive a man of justice

In the presence of the Most High,

<sup>36</sup> To defraud a man in his lawsuit—‡

The Lord does not approve of these things.

<sup>37</sup> Who is there who speaks and it comes to pass,‡

Unless the Lord has authorized and commanded it?

<sup>38</sup> Is it not from the mouth of the Most High‡

That both adversity (misfortune) and good (prosperity, happiness) proceed?

<sup>39</sup> Why should any living mortal, or any man,‡

Complain [of punishment] in view of his sins?

<sup>40</sup> Let us test and examine our ways,

And let us return to the LORD.

<sup>41</sup> Let us lift up our hearts and our hands [in prayer] ‡ Toward God in heaven;

<sup>42</sup> We have transgressed and rebelled, ‡
You have not pardoned.

<sup>43</sup> You have covered Yourself with anger
And pursued us;
You have slain [without pity] and have not spared.

<sup>44</sup>. You have covered Yourself with a cloud ‡
So that no prayer can pass through.

<sup>45</sup> You have made us scum and refuse ‡
Among the peoples (Gentile nations).

<sup>46</sup> All our enemies have gaped at us. ‡

<sup>47</sup> Panic and pitfall (traps, danger) have come on us, ‡
Devastation and destruction.

<sup>48</sup> My eyes overflow with streams of tears ‡
Because of the destruction of the daughter of my people
(Jerusalem).

<sup>49</sup> My eyes overflow unceasingly, ‡
Without stopping,

<sup>50</sup> Until the LORD looks down ‡
And sees from heaven.

<sup>51</sup> My eyes [see things that] bring pain to my soul
Because of all the daughters of my city.

<sup>52</sup>. Without cause my enemies ‡
Hunted me down like a bird;
<sup>53</sup> They silenced me in the pit ‡
And placed a stone over me.  [Jer 38. ]

<sup>54</sup> The waters ran down on my head; ‡
I said, “I am cut off (destroyed)!”

<sup>55</sup> I called on Your name, O LORD, ‡
Out of the lowest pit.  [Jer 38:6. ]

<sup>56</sup> You have heard my voice, ‡
“Do not hide Your ear from my prayer for relief,
From my cry for help.”

<sup>57</sup> You drew near on the day I called to You; ‡
You said, “Do not fear.”  [James 4:8. ]

<sup>58</sup> O Lord, You have pleaded my soul's cause [You have guided my way and protected me]; ‡

You have rescued and redeemed my life.

<sup>59</sup> O LORD, You have seen the wrong [done to me]; ‡

Judge my case.

<sup>60</sup> You have seen all their vengeance, ‡

All their schemes against me.

<sup>61</sup> You have heard their reproach, O LORD,

And all their schemes against me.

<sup>62</sup> The lips and whispering of my assailants

Are against me all day long.

I am their mocking song [the subject of their ridicule].  [Ps 139:2; Is 37:28 ]

<sup>64</sup> You will repay them, O LORD, ‡

According to the work of their hands.

<sup>65</sup> You will harden their hearts;

Your curse will be upon them.

<sup>66</sup> You will pursue them in anger and destroy them ‡

From under the heavens of the LORD.

Lamentations 4

Distress of the Siege Described

<sup>1</sup>. HOW DARK and dim the gold has become, ‡

How the pure gold has changed!

The sacred stones [of the temple] are poured out and scattered
At the head of every street.

<sup>2</sup> The [noble and] precious sons of Zion, ‡

[Once] worth their weight in fine gold,

How they are regarded [merely] as earthen jars,

The work of a potter's hands!  [Is 30:14; Jer 19:11; 2 Cor 4:7 ]

<sup>3</sup> Even the jackals offer the breast, ‡

They nurse their young;

But the daughter of my people has become cruel

Like ostriches in the wilderness [that desert their young].

<sup>4</sup> The tongue of the infant clings ‡
To the roof of its mouth because of thirst;
The little ones ask for food,
But no one gives it to them.

<sup>5</sup> Those who feasted on delicacies ‡
Are perishing in the streets;
Those reared in purple [as nobles]
Embrace ash heaps.

<sup>6</sup> For the [punishment of the] wickedness of the daughter of my people [Jerusalem] ‡
Is greater than the [punishment for the] sin of Sodom,
Which was overthrown in a moment,
And no hands were turned toward her [to offer help].  [Gen 19:25 ]

<sup>7</sup> Her princes were purer than snow,
They were whiter than milk [in appearance];
They were more ruddy in body than rubies,
Their polishing was like lapis lazuli (sapphire).

<sup>8</sup> Their appearance is [now] blacker than soot [because of the prolonged famine]; ‡
They are not recognized in the streets;
Their skin clings to their bones;
It is withered, and it has become [dry] like wood.

<sup>9</sup> Those killed with the sword
Are more fortunate than those killed with hunger;
For the hungry pine and ebb away,
For the lack of the fruits of the field.

<sup>10</sup> The hands of compassionate women ‡
Boiled their own children;
They became food for them
Because of the destruction of the daughter of my people [Judah].

<sup>11</sup> The LORD has fulfilled His wrath; ‡
He has poured out His fierce anger
And has kindled a fire in Zion
That has consumed her foundations.

<sup>12</sup> The kings of the earth did not believe,
Nor did any of the inhabitants of the earth,

That the adversary (oppressor) and enemy
Could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

<sup>13</sup> Because of the sins of her [counterfeit] prophets ‡
And the wickedness of her [unfaithful] priests,
Who have shed in her midst
The blood of the just and righteous;

<sup>14</sup> They wandered, blind, in the streets; ‡
They were defiled with blood
So that no one could touch their garments.

<sup>15</sup> People cried to them, “Go away! Unclean! ‡ Depart! Depart! Do not touch!”
So they fled, then they wandered [as fugitives];
People among the nations said,
“They shall not stay here any longer with us .”

<sup>16</sup> The presence of the LORD scattered them [among the

He will not continue to look after them.
They did not honor the priests;
They did not favor the elders.

<sup>17</sup> [And as for us,] yet our eyes failed, ‡
Looking in vain for help.
Watching [from the towers] we watched
For a nation that could not save.  [Ezek 29:16 ]

<sup>18</sup> The enemy hunted our steps, ‡
So that we could not walk in our streets;
Our end drew near,
Our days were finished
For our end had come.

<sup>19</sup> Our pursuers were swifter ‡
Than the eagles of the sky;
They pursued us on the mountains,
They waited in ambush for us in the wilderness.

<sup>20</sup> The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD [our king], ‡

Was captured in their snares,
He of whom we had said, “Under his shadow
We shall live among the nations.”

<sup>21</sup> Rejoice and be glad, O Daughter of Edom,

Who lives in the land of Uz.
But the cup [of the wine of God's wrath] will pass to you as well;
You will become drunk and make yourself naked.  [Jer 25:17 ]
<sup>22</sup> The punishment of your sin has been completed, O Daughter of Zion; ‡
The LORD will no longer send you into exile.
But He will punish your sin, O Daughter of Edom;
He will expose your sins.  [Ps 137:7 ]

Lamentations 5

A Prayer for Mercy

<sup>1</sup> O LORD, remember what has come upon us; ‡
Look, and see our reproach (national disgrace)!
<sup>2</sup> Our inheritance has been turned over to strangers, ‡
Our houses to foreigners.
<sup>3</sup> We have become orphans without a father;
Our mothers are like widows.
<sup>4</sup> We have to pay for our drinking water;
Our wood comes to us at a price.
<sup>5</sup> Our pursuers are at our necks; ‡
We are worn out, there is no rest for us.
<sup>6</sup> We have given the hand [as a pledge of fidelity and submission] to Egypt and Assyria to get enough bread. ‡
It is we who have carried their sin.  [Is 65:7 ; Jer 16:11 , 12 ;
31:29 ; Ezek 18:2–4 ]
<sup>8</sup> Servants rule over us;
There is no one to rescue us out of their hand.  [Neh 5:15 ]
<sup>9</sup> We get our bread at the risk of our lives
Because of the sword [of the Arabs] in the wilderness [who may attack if we go out to harvest the crop].
<sup>10</sup> Our skin is as hot as [the heat of] an oven
Because of the burning heat of [the fever of] famine.
<sup>11</sup> They ravished the women in Zion,

The virgins in the cities of Judah.

<sup>12</sup> Princes were hung by their hands;
Elders were not respected.

<sup>13</sup> Young men worked at the grinding mill,
And boys fell [staggering] under loads of wood.

<sup>14</sup> Elders are gone from the gate;
Young men from their music.

<sup>15</sup> The joy of our hearts has ended;
Our dancing has been turned into mourning.

<sup>16</sup> The crown has fallen from our head [our honor is covered with dust]! ‡

Woe to us, for we have sinned!

<sup>17</sup> Because of this our heart is faint, ‡
Because of these things our eyes are dim.

<sup>18</sup> As for Mount Zion, which lies desolate, Foxes and the jackals prowl over it.

<sup>19</sup> But You, O LORD, reign forever; ‡
Your throne endures from generation to [all] generations.

<sup>20</sup> Why do You forget us forever? ‡
Why do You forsake us so long?

<sup>21</sup> Return us to You, O LORD, so that we may be restored;
Renew our days as of old,

<sup>22</sup> Unless You have utterly rejected us
And are exceedingly angry with us.

Annotations for Lamentations

1:1 How. This exclamatory word is used frequently in laments and funeral songs. It expresses astonishment, sorrow, and dismay (2:1 ; 4:1 ).

1:2 Among all her lovers. Verse 19 describes Judah's sin of turning away from God and toward the gods of Canaan (Jer 3:1–6 ). Also, the sins of Judah often involved the sexual forms of pagan worship that characterized the Canaanite people.

1:4 The roads to Zion are in mourning. When the temple was built, Zion was used to describe the hill on which the temple was located. Later, the name came to stand for the whole city. The roads "mourned" because there would no longer be throngs of pilgrims traveling to Jerusalem to worship at the temple.

1:5 Her young children have gone Into captivity. God had warned Israel in Leviticus 26:41 that captivity in a foreign land would be the result of continued sinning.

1:7 In the days of her affliction and homelessness. The emphasis is on Jerusalem's utter helplessness as her enemies ridiculed her homelessness (v. 21 ).

1:10 the [Gentile] nations enter her sanctuary. Since God's people had not preserved the sanctuary of their hearts from pollution, they had no reason to be amazed when their enemies desecrated the earthly sanctuary. As a rule, Gentiles were forbidden to enter the congregation of the Lord.

1:13 He sent fire into my bones. Jerusalem's suffering is portrayed, using several metaphors: (1) fire from heaven, (2) a hunter's net spread to trap animals, (3) an animal yoke fastened about the head of a person, and (4) the crushing of grapes in a winepress. The purpose of Jerusalem's suffering was to bring about a turning or repentance.

1:15 The Virgin Daughter of Judah. Jerusalem (Judah) was supposed to be the chaste bride of God. Instead, she had become a polluted harlot because her people worshiped other gods than the God with whom they covenanted.

1:16 comforter. The real comforter of Judah is God. But because of Judah's sin, God would not come to their assistance.

1:21 All my enemies. Those who previously had been friends of Judah (v. 2 ) became Judah's enemies. bring the day. Several times the "day" of God's wrath is mentioned in the Book of Lamentations (2:1 ,21–22 ). The term is used to refer not only to the time of Jerusalem's fall in the past, but also to a future day when God would rectify all of the wrongs that the nations had committed against Israel and God.

2:1 His anger. This word is a firm expression of God's displeasure with wickedness and sin. Yet God's anger never shuts us off from His compassion (Ps 77:9 ).

2:3 withdrawn His right hand. Usually the right hand of God is understood as the instrument of help for God's people stretched out against their enemies (Ex 15:6 ; Ps 20:6 ). Here God's hand is withdrawn from the enemies, leaving the people of God at their mercy.

2:9 The law is no more. These words do not suggest the end of the law, but rather the ceasing of the work of the law in the lives of the people for their blessing (Dt 6:1–3 ).

2:10 They have thrown dust on their heads. This custom was a common sign of mourning in Israel and in other countries of the ancient world. virgins of Jerusalem. Their sadness was increased by the knowledge that this was not a time for marriage and family. Even though their lives had been spared, they had lost their futures.

2:15 shake their heads. This was a common expression of derision (Ps 22:7 ; 109:25 ; Jer 19:8 ). Losing face in the ancient Middle East was a terrible evil.

2:18 O wall. The wall of the people's hearts was more impenetrable than the wall of the city of Jerusalem (2:7–8 ).

2:19 Arise. The call is for people to awaken and scream for mercy from the Lord. Lift up your hands. This refers to a posture of prayer (1:17 ; Ps 134:2 ).

2:20 Should women eat their offspring. So desperate were the scenes of starvation in Jerusalem that women actually fought over whose deceased child would be eaten next.

3:4 my flesh and my skin to waste away. This imagery suggests the ebbing and wasting away of Jeremiah's life and that of the nation.

3:9 He has blocked my ways with cut stone. A common practice of the Assyrians was to wall up prisoners in extremely confined places and leave them to die.

3:15 drunk with wormwood. This was a bitter herb used to flavor some drinks.

3:16 He has broken my teeth with gravel. The people had sensed that they were so associated with dust and sackcloth—symbols of mourning—that it was as though they fed on dirt. The dust became gravel which broke the people's teeth.

3:22 Because His [tender] compassions never fail. This verse seems to contradict all that had been written up to this point (2:1–5 ). Yet the very fact that there was a prophet left to write these words and a remnant left to read them showed that not every person in Jerusalem had been consumed.

3:23 Great and beyond measure is Your faithfulness. Here is the heart of the Book of Lamentations. The comforting, compassionate character of God dominates the wreckage of every other institution and office. God remains “abounding in lovingkindness and truth” in every situation (Ex 34:6 ; Jn 1:14 ).

3:29 put his mouth in the dust. This expression is a figure of speech for conquest. The phrase pictures a captive lying face down with the conqueror's foot on his back.

3:44 with a cloud. So long as sin festered, God's wrath was a cloud or veil through which no prayer could penetrate—including the prayers of the people and the prayers of Jeremiah.

3:52–54 silenced me in the pit. Jeremiah speaks not only of his own experience of being cast into a pit (Jer 38:4–6 ), but also of his pain and grief over the wretched condition of his fellow countrymen. The pit is a metaphor for the grave or extreme danger (Ps 28:1 ; 40:2 ).

3:64–66 You will repay them. The request for divine vindication is an expression of a longing for God's righteousness and the success of His kingdom and His truth.

4:1–2 sacred stones [of the temple] are poured out. The Babylonian army looted the temple and overturned all its huge stones.

4:4 The tongue of the infant. The theme of thirsting and starving children is revisited (2:11–13 ).

4:10 compassionate women Boiled their own children. This verse describes the horrible effects of the long siege that were alluded to in 2:20 . This unimaginable horror could only have occurred in the most inhumane conditions of human suffering.

5:2–3 Our inheritance. The promised land had been a gift from the Lord to Abraham. This inheritance was a kind of “down payment” on the future reign of God that would include the restoration of His people to that land. God demonstrated that He owned all nations and that Israel was to be His instrument for blessing all the nations on the earth. Yet in their present condition, the people of Israel seemed to be the most helpless of all peoples.

5:10 Our skin is as hot as [the heat of] an oven. Disease would have been rampant during the siege.

5:16 The crown has fallen from our head. This phrase expresses the loss of Judah's position of honor.

5:17 our heart is faint . . . our eyes are dim. The normal zest for life was gone. Death would be better than a horrible existence during the siege of Jerusalem.

5:18 Foxes and the jackals prowl over it. The idea of wild animals roaming the holy city where the people of God once came in glad worship was the final indignity.

5:19 You, O LORD, reign forever. God's eternal rule and reign are a hope and support during the bleakest moments of suffering and despair (Ps 80:1 ; 103:19 ).

The Book of Ezekiel

- AUTHOR: There is strong evidence in favor of Ezekiel's authorship of this book. The first person singular is used throughout the book, indicating that it is the work of one person. This person is actually identified in 1:3 and 24:24 as Ezekiel. The unity and integrity of Ezekiel's prophetic record are supported and the style, language, and thematic development are consistent throughout the book. Like Jeremiah, Ezekiel was a priest who was called to be a prophet of the Lord. Ezekiel was privileged to receive a number of visions of the power and plan of God, and he was careful and artistic in his written presentation.
- TIMES: c. 592–570 BC
- KEY VERSES: Eze 36:33–35
- THEME: Ezekiel was an exilic prophet, meaning he prophesied to the exiles in Babylon. He was one of the 10,000 taken there by Nebuchadnezzar in 597 BC (2Ki 24:14 ). The book contains a series of prophetic messages, which represents a lifetime of ministry to the exiles in Babylon. Ezekiel sees himself as a watchman or lookout, compelled to warn people of coming danger and of the need for personal responsibility to an awesome, all-seeing, all-knowing God. The last half of the book is more concerned with encouraging the people to hope for God's promise of restoration back to the land of Israel. The restoration of the temple is a key element of chapters 40–48 .

The Vision of Four Figures

<sup>1</sup> NOW IT came about [when I was] in my thirtieth year [of life], on the fifth day of the fourth month, while I was among the exiles beside the River Chebar [in Babylonia], the heavens were opened and I saw visions of God. ‡

Dates in Ezekiel

<sup>2</sup> (On the fifth of the month, which was in the fifth year of King Jehoiachin's captivity,  [2 Kin 24:12–14 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup>-the word of the LORD came expressly to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the River Chebar; and the hand of the LORD came upon him there.)  [1 Kin 18:46 ; 2 Kin 3:15 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> As I looked, I saw a stormy wind coming out of the north, a great cloud with fire flashing continually from it; and a brightness was around it, and in its core [there was] something like glowing [amber-colored] metal in the midst of the fire. ‡

<sup>5</sup> Within it there were figures resembling four living beings. And this was their appearance: they had human form. ‡

<sup>8</sup> Under their wings on their four sides they had human hands. As for the faces and wings of the four of them, ‡

<sup>9</sup> their wings touched one another; their faces did not turn when they moved, each went straight forward. ‡

<sup>10</sup> Regarding the form and appearance of their faces: they [each] had the face of a man [in front], and each had the face of a lion on the right side, and the face of an ox on the left side; all four also had the face of an eagle [at the back of their heads].  [Rev 4:7 ] ‡

<sup>11</sup> Such were their faces. Their wings were stretched out upward; two [wings] of each one were touching another [the wings of the beings on either side of it], and [the remaining] two [wings of each being] were covering their bodies. ‡

<sup>12</sup> And each went straight forward; wherever the spirit was about to go, they would go, without turning as they went. ‡

<sup>13</sup> Among the living beings there was something that looked like burning coals of fire, like torches moving back and forth among the living beings. The fire was bright, and lightning was flashing from the fire. ‡

<sup>16</sup> Regarding the appearance of the wheels and their construction: they gleamed like chrysolite (beryl, olivine); and the four were made alike. Their appearance and construction were a wheel [set at a right angle] within a wheel. ‡

<sup>18</sup> Regarding their rims: they were so high that they were awesome and dreadful, and the rims of all four of them were full of eyes all around. ‡

<sup>19</sup> Whenever the living beings moved, the wheels moved with them; and when the living beings rose from the earth, the wheels rose also. ‡

<sup>20</sup> Wherever the spirit went, the beings went in that direction. And the wheels rose along with them; for the spirit or life of the living beings was in the wheels. ‡

<sup>21</sup> Whenever those went, these went; and whenever those came to a stop, these came to a stop; and whenever those rose from the earth, the wheels rose close beside them, for the spirit of the living beings was in the wheels. ‡

Vision of Divine Glory

<sup>23</sup> Under the expanse their wings were stretched out straight, one toward another. Every living being had two wings which covered its body on one side and on the other side.

<sup>24</sup> As they moved, I also heard the sound of their wings like the sound of great [rushing] waters, like the voice of the Almighty, the sound of tumult like the noise of an army camp. Whenever they came to a stop, they lowered their wings. ‡

<sup>25</sup> And there was a voice above the expanse that was over their heads; whenever they stopped, they lowered their wings.

26 Now above the expanse that was over their heads there was something resembling a throne, it appeared like [it was made of] sapphire or lapis lazuli; and [seated] on that which looked like a throne, high up, was a figure with the appearance of a man.  [Phil 2:5–8 ] ‡

27 Now upward, from that which appeared to be His waist, I saw something like glowing metal that looked like it was filled with fire all around it; and downward, from that which appeared to be His waist, I saw something like fire; and there was a brightness and a remarkable radiance [like a halo] around Him. ‡

28 As the appearance of the rainbow in the clouds on a rainy day, so was the appearance of the surrounding radiance. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory and brilliance of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell face downward and I heard a voice of One speaking.  [Rev 4:3 ] ‡

The Prophet's Call

1 THEN HE said to me, “Son of man, stand on your feet and I will speak to you.” ‡

2 Then as He spoke to me the Spirit entered me and set me on my feet; and I heard Him speaking to me. ‡

3 And He said to me, “I am sending you, son of man, to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people [in both the north and the south] that have rebelled against Me; they and their fathers have sinned and revolted against Me to this very day. ‡

4 “I am sending you to them who are stubborn and obstinate children, and you shall say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ ‡

5 “As for them, whether they listen or refuse [to listen]—for they are a rebellious house—yet they will know and be fully aware of the fact that there has been a prophet among them. ‡

6 “And you, son of man, neither fear them nor fear their words; though briars and thorns are all around you and you sit among scorpions, neither fear their words nor be dismayed at their presence, for they are a rebellious house. ‡

7 “But you shall speak My words to them whether they will listen or refuse [to listen], for they are [most] rebellious. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “As for you, son of man, listen to what I say to you; do not be rebellious like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I am giving you.” ‡

<sup>9</sup> Then I looked, and I saw a hand stretched out toward me; and behold, a scroll of a book was in it. ‡

<sup>10</sup> And He spread it before me, and it was written on the front and on the back, and written on it were [words of] lamentation (funeral songs) and mourning and woe.

Ezekiel 3

Ezekiel's Commission

<sup>1</sup> HE SAID to me, “Son of man, eat what you find [in this book]; eat this scroll, then go, speak to the house of Israel.” ‡

<sup>2</sup> So I opened my mouth, and He fed me the scroll.

<sup>3</sup> He said to me, “Son of man, eat this scroll that I am giving you and fill your stomach with it.” So I ate it, and it was as sweet as honey in my mouth. ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then He said to me, “Son of man, go to the house of Israel and speak My words to them.

<sup>5</sup> “For you are not being sent to a people of unintelligible speech or difficult language, but to the house of Israel,

<sup>6</sup> not to many peoples of unintelligible speech or difficult language, whose words you cannot understand. But I have sent you to them who should listen to you and pay attention to My message; ‡

<sup>7</sup> yet the house of Israel will not be willing to listen to you and obey you, since they are not willing to listen to Me and obey Me, for the entire house of Israel is stubborn and obstinate. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Behold, I have made your face as hard as their faces and your forehead as hard as their foreheads.

<sup>9</sup> “I have made your forehead like emery (diamond), harder than flint. Do not be afraid of them or be dismayed before them, though they are a rebellious house.”  [Is 50:7; Jer 1:18; 15:20; Mic 3:8 ] ‡

<sup>10</sup> Moreover, He said to me, “Son of man, receive into your heart all My words which I will speak to you and hear with your ears (listen closely).

<sup>11</sup> “Go to the [Jewish] exiles [in Babylon], to the children of your people, and speak to them, whether they listen or not, and tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

<sup>12</sup> Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard a great rushing sound behind me, “Blessed be the glory of the LORD in His place [above the expanse].” ‡

<sup>13</sup> And then I heard the sound of the wings of the living beings as they touched one another and [I heard] the sound of the wheels beside them, a great rushing sound.

<sup>14</sup> So the Spirit lifted me up and took me away, and I went embittered [by the sins of Israel] in the rage of my spirit; and the hand of the LORD was strong on me. ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then I came to the exiles who lived beside the River Chebar at Tel Abib. I sat there for seven days [in the place] where they were living, overwhelmed with astonishment [by my vision and the work before me]. ‡

<sup>16</sup> At the end of seven days the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>17</sup> “Son of man, I have appointed you as a watchman to the house of Israel; whenever you hear a word from My mouth, warn them from Me.  [Is 52:8 ; 56:10 ; 62:6 ; Jer 6:17 ] ‡

<sup>18</sup> “When I say to the wicked, ‘You will certainly die,’ and you do not warn him or speak out to tell him to turn from his wicked way to save his life, that same evil man will die in his sin, but you will be responsible for his blood. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “However, if you have warned the wicked and he does not turn from his wickedness or from his wicked way, he will die in his sin; but you have freed yourself [from responsibility]. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “Again, when a righteous man turns from his righteousness (right standing with God) and sins, and I place an obstacle before him, he will die; since you have not warned him, he will die in his sin, and the righteous deeds which he has done will not be remembered; but you will be responsible for his blood. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “However, if you have warned the righteous man not to sin and he does not sin, he will surely live because he took warning; also you have freed yourself [from responsibility].”

<sup>22</sup> The hand of the LORD was on me there, and He said to me, “Arise, go out to the plain, and I will speak to you.” ‡

<sup>23</sup> So I got up and went out to the plain; and behold, the glory and brilliance of the LORD was standing there, like the glory I had seen by the River Chebar, and I fell face downward. ‡

<sup>24</sup> Then the Spirit entered me and made me stand on my feet; He spoke and said to me, “Go, shut yourself up in your house. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “As for you, son of man, they will put ropes on you and bind you with them so that you cannot go out among them. ‡

26.“And I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you cannot talk and you cannot be a man who rebukes the people, for they are a rebellious house. ‡

27.“But when I speak with you, I will open your mouth and you will say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD.’ He who hears, let him hear; and he who refuses [to hear], let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house. ‡

Ezekiel 4

Siege of Jerusalem Predicted

1 “NOW YOU, son of man, take a brick, place it before you and inscribe on it [a diagram of] the city of Jerusalem.

2“Then lay siege against it, build a siege wall, raise a ramp against it; set up [enemy] camps and place battering rams all around it.

3“Further, take an iron plate and place it as an iron wall between you and the city, and set your face toward it so that it is under siege, and besiege it. This is a sign to the house of Israel. ‡

4 “Then lie down on your left side (toward the north) to bear [symbolically] the wickedness and punishment of the house of Israel. You shall bear their wickedness and punishment for the number of days that you lie on your side.

5 “For I have assigned you the years of their wickedness and punishment, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days [representing three hundred and ninety years]; in this way you shall bear [symbolically] the wickedness and punishment of the house of Israel. ‡

6 “When you have completed these [days for Israel], lie down again, but on your right side (toward the south), and you shall bear the wickedness and punishment of the house of Judah forty days. I have assigned you one day for each year.

7“Then you shall set your face toward the siege of Jerusalem with your arm bared and prophesy against it.

8“Now behold, I will put ropes on you so that you cannot turn from one side to the other until you have completed the days of your siege. ‡

Defiled Bread

<sup>9</sup> “But as for you, take wheat, barley, beans, lentils, millet, and spelt, and put them into one vessel and make them into bread for yourself. You shall eat it according to the number of the days that you lie on your side, three hundred and ninety days.

<sup>10</sup> “The food you eat each day shall be [measured] by weight, twenty shekels, to be eaten daily at a set time.

<sup>11</sup> “You shall drink water by measure also, the sixth part of a hin; you shall drink daily at a set time.

<sup>13</sup> Then the LORD said, “Thus the children of Israel will eat their bread unclean and defiled among the nations where I will banish them.”  [Hos 9:3 ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> But I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! Behold (hear me), I have never been defiled; for from my youth until now I have never eaten what died on its own or was torn by beasts, nor has any unclean meat ever entered my mouth.”  [Acts 10:14 ] ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then He said to me, “See, I will let you use cow’s dung instead of human dung over which you shall prepare your food.”

<sup>16</sup> Moreover, He said to me, “Son of man, behold (listen carefully), I am going to break the staff of bread [that supports life] in Jerusalem; and they shall eat bread [rationed] by weight and [eat it] with anxiety and fear, and drink water by measure and [drink it] in horror [of the impending starvation],  [Lev 26:26 ; Ps 105:16 ; Is 3:1 ] ‡

<sup>17</sup> because bread and water will be scarce; and they will look at one another in dismay and waste away [in punishment] for their wickedness. ‡

Jerusalem’s Desolation Foretold

<sup>1</sup> “AND YOU [Ezekiel], son of man, take a sharp sword and use it as a barber’s razor and shave your head and your beard. Then take scales for weighing and divide the hair [into three parts]. ‡

<sup>2</sup> “You shall burn one third with fire in the center of the city, when the days of the siege are completed. Then you shall take one third and strike it with the sword all around the city, and one third you shall scatter to the wind; and I will unsheathe a sword behind them. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Again take some hair and throw them into the fire and burn them in the fire; from it a fire will spread to all the house of Israel. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘This is Jerusalem; I have set her in the center of the nations, and countries are around her.

<sup>6</sup> ‘And she has rebelled against My ordinances more wickedly than the [pagan] nations and against My statutes more than the countries that are around her; for Israel has rejected My ordinances and has not walked in My statutes.’  [Rom 2:14, 15. ]

<sup>7</sup> “Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have more turmoil than the nations which surround you and have not walked in My statutes, nor kept My ordinances, nor observed the ordinances of the nations which surround you,’  [Deut 7:2-6; Josh 23:7; Judg 2:2. ] ‡

<sup>8</sup> therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I, I Myself, am against you, and I will execute judgments among you in the sight of the nations.

<sup>9</sup> ‘And because of all your abominations, I will do among you that which I have not done, and the like of which I will not do again.  [Lam 4:6; Dan 9:12; Amos 3:2. ] ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘Therefore, fathers will eat their sons among you, and sons will eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments on you and I will scatter to all the winds the remnant of you.  [Lev 26:33; Deut 28:64; Ezek 12:14; Zech 2:6. ] ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘So, as I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely, because you have defiled My sanctuary with all your detestable idols and with all your abominations, therefore I will also diminish you and withdraw, and My eye will have no pity and I will not spare [you]. ‡

<sup>12</sup> ‘One third of you will die of virulent disease or be consumed by famine among you; one third will fall by the sword around you; and one third I will scatter to all the winds, and I will unsheathe a sword behind them. ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘Thus My anger will come to an end and I will satisfy My wrath on them, and I will be appeased; then they will know [without any doubt] that I the LORD have spoken in My zeal when I have spent My wrath on them.  [Ezek 36:6; 38:19. ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> ‘Moreover, I will make you a desolation and a disgrace among the nations which surround you and in the sight of all who pass by.  [Lev 26:31, 32; Neh 2:17. ] ‡

<sup>15</sup> ‘So it will be a disgrace, a taunt, a warning and an object of horror to the [pagan] nations who surround you when I execute judgments against you in anger and in wrath and in raging reprimands—I, the LORD, have spoken. [

Deut 28:37 ; Ps 79:4 ; Jer 24:9 ] ‡

<sup>16</sup> ‘When I send against them the deadly arrows of hunger which were for the destruction of those whom I will send to destroy you, then I will increase the famine upon you and break your staff of bread. ‡

<sup>17</sup> ‘Further, I will send against you hunger and wild beasts, and they will bereave you of children; virulent disease and bloodshed also will pass through you, and I will bring the sword on you. I, the LORD, have spoken.’ ”
‡

Ezekiel 6

Idolatrous Worship Denounced

<sup>1</sup> AND THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>3</sup> and say, ‘You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD! Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and the hills, to the ravines and the valleys: “Behold, I Myself am going to bring a sword on you, and I will destroy your high places [of idolatrous worship], ‡

<sup>4</sup> and your altars will become deserted and your pillars for sun-worship will be smashed in pieces; and I will throw down your slain in front of your idols [that cannot bring them back to life].  [Lev 26:30] ‡

<sup>5</sup> “I will also lay the dead bodies of the children of Israel in front of their [Canaanite] idols; and I will scatter your bones all around your altars.

<sup>6</sup> “Everywhere you live, the cities will become waste and the high places will become deserted, so that your altars may bear their guilt and become deserted, your idols may be broken and destroyed, your incense altars [for sun-worship] may be cut down, and your works may be blotted out.

<sup>7</sup> “The slain will fall among you, then you shall know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Yet I will leave some of you alive [a remnant], for you will have some who escaped the sword among the nations when you are scattered throughout the countries. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Then those of you who escape will remember Me among the nations to which they will be exiled, how I have been broken by their lewdness and their adulterous hearts which have turned away from Me, and by their eyes which lust after their idols; and they will loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed, for all their repulsive acts. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD; I have not said in vain that I would bring this disaster [as punishment] on them.” ’

<sup>11</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Strike with your fist, stamp with your foot and say, “Alas, because of all the evil atrocities of the house of Israel, which will fall by sword, by famine, and by virulent disease! ‡

<sup>12</sup> “He who is far away will die of the virulent disease, and he who is near will fall by the sword, and he who remains and is besieged will die by the famine. Thus I will spend My wrath on them. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, when their slain are among their idols around their altars, on every high hill, on all the tops of the mountains, under every leafy tree and under every oak with thick branches, the places where they offered sweet incense and a soothing aroma to all their idols. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “And I will stretch out My hand against them and make the land a more desolate waste than the wilderness toward Diblah [the Moabite city], throughout all the places where they live; and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ’ ” ‡

Punishment for Wickedness Foretold

<sup>2</sup> “Also, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD to the land of Israel, ‘An end! The end is coming on the four corners of the land.  [Ezek 11:13; Amos 8:2 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> ‘Now the end is upon you, and I will send My anger against you and will judge you in accordance with your ways and I will bring [retribution for] all your abominations upon you.

<sup>4</sup> ‘For My eye will have no pity on you, nor will I spare you, but I will repay you for your evil ways, while your abominations are among you; and you will know (recognize, understand) [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.’ ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘A disaster is coming, [one so destructive and injurious, so sudden and violent, that it stands alone,] a unique disaster, look it is coming!

<sup>6</sup> ‘An end is coming; the end has come! It has awakened against you. Look, it has come!

<sup>7</sup> ‘Your doom has come to you, O inhabitant of the land; the time has come, the day is near—tumult rather than joyful shouting on the mountains. ‡

<sup>8</sup> ‘Now I will soon pour out My wrath on you and spend My anger against you, and I will judge you in accordance with your ways and will repay you [with punishment] for all your outrageous acts. ‡

<sup>9</sup> ‘My eye will show no pity nor will I spare [you]. I will repay you in accordance with your ways, while your abominations are in your midst; then you will know and understand that it is I, the LORD, who strikes you.

<sup>10</sup> ‘Behold, the day! Behold, it is coming! Your doom has gone forth, the rod has blossomed, arrogance has sprouted. ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘Violence has grown into a rod of wickedness; none of them (Israel) will remain, none of their people, none of their wealth, nor anything eminent among them. ‡

<sup>12</sup> ‘The time has come, the day has arrived. Let not the buyer rejoice nor the seller mourn, for wrath is against all their multitude [of people].

<sup>13</sup> ‘For the seller will not regain and return to what he sold, even were they yet alive; for the vision [of punishment] regarding all the multitude [of people] will not be turned back, nor will any one of them sustain his life because of his sin.

<sup>14</sup> ‘They have blown the trumpet and have made everything ready, but no one is going to the battle, for My wrath is against all their multitude [of people].

<sup>15</sup> ‘The sword is outside and virulent disease and famine are within. He who is in the field will die by the sword, and famine and disease will devour those in the city. ‡

<sup>16</sup> ‘Even when their survivors escape, they will be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them moaning, each over his [punishment for] sin.

<sup>17</sup> ‘All hands will hang limp and all knees will be as weak as water.  [Is 13:7 ; Jer 6:24 ; Ezek 21:7 ] ‡

<sup>18</sup> ‘They will also cover themselves with sackcloth; horror will overwhelm them, and shame will be on all faces and baldness on all their heads [as evidence of grief]. ‡

<sup>19</sup> ‘They will fling their silver into the streets and their gold will be [discarded] like something unclean; their silver and their gold shall not be able to save them in the day of the wrath of the LORD. These [things] cannot satisfy their soul nor fill their stomachs, for they have become their stumbling block and source of sin.  [Prov 11:4 ; Zeph 1:18 ] ‡

The Temple Profaned

<sup>20</sup> ‘As for the beauty of [gold for] ornaments, they turned it to pride and from it made the images of their repulsive things (idols) and of their vile things. Therefore I will make it an unclean thing to them. ‡

<sup>21</sup> ‘I will give it into the hands of strangers (Babylonians) as plunder and to the wicked of the earth as spoil, and they shall profane it.

<sup>22</sup> ‘I will also turn My face away from them, and they will desecrate My secret treasure (the Jerusalem temple); and robbers will enter [irreverently] into it (the Holy of Holies) and violate it.

<sup>23</sup> ‘Prepare the chain [for imprisonment], for the land is full of bloody crimes [murders committed under the pretense of civil justice] and the city is full of violence. ‡

<sup>24</sup> ‘Therefore, I will bring the worst of the [Gentile] nations, and they will take possession of their houses [those of the people of Judah]; I will also silence their pride, and their holy places will be profaned.

<sup>25</sup> ‘When anguish comes, they [of Judah] shall seek peace, but there will be none.

<sup>26</sup> ‘Disaster will come upon disaster and rumor will be heaped on rumor; they will seek a vision from a prophet, but the law and guidance will be lost from the priest and [wise] counsel [will cease] from the elders.  [Ps 74:9 ; Lam 2:9 ] ‡

<sup>27</sup> ‘The king [of Judah] will mourn and the prince (Zedekiah) will be clothed with [garments of] despair and anguish, and the hands of the people of the land shall tremble [in terror]. I will deal with them in accordance with their conduct, and by their judgments I will judge them. And they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.’ ”

Vision of Repulsive Acts in Jerusalem

<sup>1</sup> IT CAME about in the sixth year [of the captivity of King Jehoiachin], on the fifth day of the sixth month, as I sat in my house [near Babylon] with the elders of Judah sitting before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell on me there. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Then I looked, and behold, a likeness [of a man] with the appearance of fire; from His loins downward He was like fire, and from His loins upward He had the appearance of brightness, like gleaming metal (bronze). ‡

<sup>3</sup> He stretched out the form of a hand and took me by a lock of hair on my head; and the Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the entrance of the north gate of the inner courtyard, where the seat of the idol (image) of jealousy, which provokes to jealousy, was located .  [2 Kin 16:10–16; 21:4, 5. ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> And behold, the glory and brilliance of the God of Israel [who had loved and chosen them] was there, like the vision which I saw in the plain.  [Ezek 1:28; 3:22, 23. ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then He said to me, “Son of man, now raise your eyes toward the north.” So I looked toward the north, and behold, to the north of the altar gate was this idol (image) of jealousy at the entrance.

<sup>6</sup> Furthermore, He said to me, “Son of man, do you see what they are doing, the great repulsive acts which the house of Israel is committing here, to drive Me far away from My sanctuary? But you will again see greater repulsive acts.”

<sup>7</sup> Then He brought me to the entrance of the courtyard; and when I looked, behold, [there was] a hole in the wall.

<sup>8</sup> He said to me, “Son of man, now dig into the wall.” And when I had dug into the wall, behold, there was an entrance.

<sup>9</sup> And He said to me, “Go in and see the wicked, repulsive acts that they are committing here.”

<sup>10</sup> So I entered and looked, and saw every kind of creeping things and beasts and loathsome things, and all the idols of the house of Israel, carved all around on the wall.

<sup>11</sup> Standing before these [images] were seventy elders of the house of Israel, and among them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan [the scribe], each man with his censer in his hand and a thick and fragrant cloud of incense was rising [as they prayed to these gods].

<sup>12</sup> Then He said to me, “Son of man, do you see what the elders of the house of Israel do in the dark, each man in his [secret] room of carved images? For they say, ‘The LORD does not see us; the LORD has abandoned the land.’ ” ‡

<sup>13</sup> He also said to me, “Yet again you will see even greater repulsive acts which they are committing.”

<sup>14</sup> Then He brought me to the entrance of the north gate of the LORD’s house; and behold, women were sitting there weeping for Tammuz.

<sup>15</sup> He said to me, “Do you see this, son of man? Yet you will see still greater repulsive acts than these [that they are committing].”

<sup>16</sup> So He brought me to the inner court of the LORD’s house. And behold, at the entrance to the temple of the LORD, between the porch (vestibule, portico) and the [bronze] altar, were about twenty-five men with their backs to the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east; and they were bowing down toward the east and worshiping the sun. ‡

<sup>17</sup> He said to me, “Do you see this, son of man? Is it too slight a thing for the house of Judah to commit the repulsive acts which they have committed here, that they have filled the land with violence and repeatedly provoked Me to anger? And behold, they are putting the branch to their nose. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “Therefore, I indeed will deal in wrath. My eye will have no pity nor will I spare [them]; and though they cry loudly in My ears, yet I will not listen to them.”  [Prov 1:28; Is 1:15; Jer 11:11; 14:12; Mic 3:4; Zech 7:13. ] ‡

The Vision of Slaughter

<sup>2</sup> Behold, six men [angelic beings] came from the direction of the Upper Gate, which faces north, each with his battle-axe in his hand; and among them was a certain man clothed in linen, with a scribe’s writing case at his side. They entered and stood beside the bronze altar. ‡

<sup>3</sup> Then the [Shekinah] glory and brilliance of the God of Israel (the cloud) went up from the cherubim on which it had rested, to [stand above] the threshold of the [LORD’s] temple. And the LORD called to the man clothed with linen, who had the scribe’s writing case at his side. ‡

<sup>4</sup> The LORD said to him, “Go through the midst of the city, throughout all of Jerusalem, and put a mark on the foreheads of the men who sigh [in distress] and grieve over all the repulsive acts which are being committed in it.” ‡

5. But to the others I heard Him say, “Follow him [the man with the scribe’s writing case] throughout the city and strike; do not let your eyes have pity and do not spare [anyone]. ‡

6. “Utterly slay old men, young men, maidens, little children, and women; but do not touch or go near anyone on whom is the mark. Begin at My sanctuary.” So they began with the old men who were in front of the temple [who did not have the LORD’s mark on their foreheads].  [1 Pet 4:17 ] ‡

7 And He said to the executioners, “Defile the temple and fill its courtyards with the dead. Go out!” So they went out and struck down the people in the city.

8 As they were executing them and I alone was left, I fell face downward and cried out, “Alas, Lord GOD! Will You destroy all that is left of Israel [the whole remnant] by pouring out Your wrath and indignation on Jerusalem?” ‡

9. Then He said to me, “The wickedness (guilt) of the house of Israel and Judah is extremely great; the land is full of blood and the city is full of perversion and injustice; for they say, ‘The LORD has abandoned the land; the LORD does not see [what we are doing].’ ‡

10 “But as for Me, My eye will have no pity, nor will I spare, but I will bring their [wicked] conduct upon their [own] heads.” ‡

11 Then behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the scribe’s writing case at his side, reported, “I have done just as You have commanded me.”

Ezekiel 10

Vision of God’s Glory Departing from the Temple

1 THEN I looked, and behold, in the expanse (firmament) that was over the heads of the cherubim there appeared something [glorious and brilliant] above them looking like a [huge] sapphire stone, formed to resemble a throne. ‡

2 And the LORD spoke to the man (seventh angel) clothed in linen and said, “Go between the whirling wheels under the cherubim; fill your hands with coals of fire from between the cherubim and scatter them over the city.” And he entered as I watched.  [Rev 8:5 ] ‡

3. Now the cherubim were standing on the right side of the temple when the man entered; and a cloud [the Shekinah glory of God] filled the inner courtyard.

<sup>4</sup> Then the glory and brilliance of the LORD moved upward from the cherubim to [rest over] the threshold of the temple; and the temple was filled with the cloud and the courtyard was filled with the brightness of the LORD's glory.  [1 Kin 8:10, 11; Ezek 43:5 ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> And the sound of the wings of the cherubim was heard [even] as far as the outer courtyard, like the voice of God Almighty when He speaks.  [Ps 29:3, 4 ] ‡

<sup>6</sup> It came about when He commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, "Take fire from between the whirling wheels, from between the cherubim," the man entered and stood beside a wheel.

<sup>7</sup> Then a cherub stretched out his hand from between the cherubim to the fire that was between [the four of] them, and took some [of it] and put it into the hands of the man clothed in linen, who took it and departed.

<sup>9</sup> Then I looked and behold, [there were] four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub and another wheel beside each other cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was like a sparkling Tarshish stone (beryl). ‡

<sup>10</sup> As for their appearance, all four looked alike, as if one wheel were within another wheel.

<sup>11</sup> When they moved, they went in any of their four directions without turning as they went; but they followed in the direction which they faced, without turning as they went. ‡

<sup>12</sup> Their whole body, their backs, their hands, their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes all around, even the wheels belonging to all four of them.

<sup>13</sup> Regarding the wheels [attached to them], I heard them called, "the whirling (rolling, revolving) wheels."

<sup>14</sup> And each one had four faces: the first face was the face of the cherub, the second the face of a man, the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle. ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then the cherubim rose upward. They are the [same four] living beings [regarded as one] that I saw by the River Chebar [in Babylonia].  [Ezek 1:5 ] ‡

<sup>16</sup> Now when the cherubim moved, the wheels would go beside them; and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to rise from the earth, the wheels would remain beside them. ‡

<sup>17</sup> When the cherubim stood still, the wheels would stand still; and when they rose upward, the wheels would rise with them, for the spirit of the living beings was in these [wheels].  [Ezek 1:21 ] ‡

<sup>18</sup> Then the [Shekinah] glory of the LORD departed from the threshold of the temple and rested over the cherubim. ‡

<sup>19</sup> As I looked at them, the cherubim lifted up their wings and rose up from the earth, they departed with the wheels beside them; and they stood still at the entrance of the east gate of the house of the LORD, and the glory and brilliance of the God of Israel hovered over them. ‡

<sup>20</sup> These are the living beings that I saw beneath the God of Israel by the River Chebar; and I knew that they were cherubim. ‡

<sup>21</sup> Each one had four faces and each one had four wings, and beneath their wings was the form of human hands. ‡

<sup>22</sup> As for the likeness of their faces, they were the same faces whose appearance I had seen by the River Chebar. Each one went straight forward. ‡

Evil Rulers to Be Judged

<sup>1</sup> MOREOVER, THE Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the gate of the LORD's house, which faced eastward. And behold, at the entrance of the gate there were twenty-five men; and I saw among them Jaazaniah the son of Azzur and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Then the Spirit said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who devise evil and give wicked advice in this city,

<sup>3</sup>.who say, 'Is not the time near to build houses? This city is [secure just like] the pot and we are the meat [in it].' ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and He said to me, "Say, 'Thus says the LORD, 'This is what you think, house of Israel, for I know your thoughts. ‡

<sup>6</sup> "You have multiplied your slain in this city, and you have filled its streets with the corpses [of righteous men]." ‡

<sup>7</sup> 'Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, "Your dead whom you have laid in the midst of your city are the meat and this city is the pot; but I shall force you out of [the security of] it. ‡

<sup>8</sup> "You have feared the sword; so I will bring a sword upon you," says the Lord GOD.

<sup>9</sup> “And I will bring you out of the midst of the city and hand you over to strangers and execute judgment against you.” ‡

<sup>10</sup> “You will fall by the sword; I will judge and punish you [in front of your neighbors] at the border of [the land of] Israel; and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

<sup>11</sup> “This city will not be a pot for you, nor will you be meat [safe] in it, but I will judge you at the border of Israel.” ‡

<sup>12</sup> “And you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD; for you have not walked in My statutes nor have you executed My ordinances, but you have acted in accordance with the ordinances of the nations around you.” , ” ‡

<sup>13</sup> Now it came about while I was prophesying, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then I fell face downward and cried out loudly, “Alas, Lord GOD! Will You bring the remnant of Israel to a complete end?” ‡

Promise of Restoration

<sup>14</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>15</sup> “Son of man, your brothers, your relatives, your fellow exiles and the whole house of Israel, all of them, are those to whom the [present] inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, ‘Go far away from the LORD; this land has been given to us as a possession.’

<sup>16</sup> “Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Though I had removed Israel far away among the nations and though I had scattered them among the countries, yet I have been a sanctuary for them for a little while in the countries to which they had gone.” ’ ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Therefore say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will gather you from the peoples and assemble you out of the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give [back] to you the land of Israel.” ’ ‡

<sup>18</sup> “When they return there, they will remove from it all [traces of] its detestable things and all its repulsive things (remnants of paganism). ‡

<sup>19</sup> “And I will give them one heart [a new heart], and put a new spirit within them. I will take from them the heart of stone, and will give them a heart of flesh [that is responsive to My touch],  [Ezek 18:31; 36:26; 2 Cor 3:3 ] ‡

<sup>20</sup> that they may walk in My statutes and keep My ordinances and do them. Then they shall be My people, and I will be their God. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “But as for those whose heart longs for and follows after their detestable things and their repulsive things [associated with idolatry], on their own head I will repay [them in full for] their [vile] conduct,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>22</sup> Then the cherubim lifted up their wings with the wheels beside them, and the [Shekinah] glory of the God of Israel hovered over them. ‡

<sup>23</sup> Then the glory and brilliance of the LORD went up from the midst of the city and paused over the mountain, [the Mount of Olives] which is east of the city. ‡

<sup>24</sup> And the Spirit lifted me up and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God to the exiles in Chaldea (Babylonia). Then the vision that I had seen left me. ‡

<sup>25</sup> Then I told the exiles everything that the LORD had shown me.

Ezekiel 12

Ezekiel Prepares for Exile

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, you live among a rebellious house, who have eyes to see but do not see, who have ears to hear but do not hear; for they are a rebellious people.  [Mark 8:18 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> “Therefore, son of man, prepare your belongings for exile, and move into exile during the day when they will see you; even go into exile from your place to another place as they watch. Perhaps they will understand even though they are a rebellious people.

<sup>4</sup> “Bring your provisions and supplies out during the day as they watch, as provisions and supplies for [going into] exile. Then you shall go out at evening as they watch, as those going into exile.

<sup>6</sup> “As they look on, load the provisions and supplies on your shoulder and carry it out in the dark. You shall cover your face so that you cannot see the land, for I have set you as a sign to the house of Israel.” ‡

<sup>7</sup> I did as I had been commanded. I brought out my provisions and supplies during the day, like the provisions and supplies of an exile, and in the evening I dug through the wall with my hands. I brought out my provisions and supplies in the dark, carrying it on my shoulder as they watched.

<sup>8</sup> In the morning the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>9</sup> “Son of man, has not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, asked you,

‘What you are doing?’ ‡

<sup>10</sup> “Say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “This oracle (a burden to be carried) concerns the prince (Zedekiah) in Jerusalem as well as all the house of Israel who are there.”’ ‡

11 “Say, ‘I am a sign to you. As I have done, so it will be done to them; they will go into exile, into captivity.’ ‡

<sup>12</sup> “The prince who is among them will load his provisions and supplies on his shoulder in the dark and go out. They will dig a hole through the wall to go out. He will cover his face so that he cannot see the land with his eyes. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “I will also spread My net over him, and he will be caught in My snare. And I will bring him to Babylon, to the land of the Chaldeans; yet he will not see it, though he will die there.  [2 Kin 25:1–7; Jer 39:5; 52:7–11 ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> “I will scatter to every wind all who are around him, his helpers and all his troops; and I will draw out a sword after them. ‡

15 “So they will know and understand fully that I am the LORD when I scatter them among the nations and disperse them among the [pagan] countries. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “But I will leave a few [survivors] who will escape the sword, the famine, and the virulent disease, that they may confess all their repulsive (idolatrous) acts among the nations where they go, and may know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>18</sup> “Son of man, eat your bread with anxiety, and drink your water with trembling and with fear. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “Then say to the people of the land, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the land of Israel, “They will eat their bread with anxiety and drink their water with horror, because their land will be stripped and looted of its fullness because of the violence of all those who live in it. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “The cities that are inhabited will be in ruins and the land will be deserted; and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.”’”

<sup>21</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

22 “Son of man, what is this proverb that you have in the land of Israel, saying, ‘The days are long and every vision fails’? ‡

23 “Therefore tell them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “I will put an end to this proverb, and they will no longer use it as a proverb in Israel.” But say to them, ‘The days draw near as well as the fulfillment of every vision. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “For there will no longer be any false and empty vision or flattering divination within the house of Israel.” ‡

<sup>25</sup> “For I the LORD will speak, and whatever word I speak will be accomplished. It will no longer be delayed, for in your days, O rebellious house, I will speak the word and I will fulfill it,” says the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

<sup>26</sup> Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>27</sup> “Son of man, behold, the house of Israel is saying, ‘The vision that Ezekiel sees is for many years from now, and he prophesies of the times that are far off.’ ” ‡

<sup>28</sup> “Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “None of My words will be delayed any longer. Whatever word I speak will be fulfilled completely,” ’ ” says the Lord God. ‡

Ezekiel 13

False Prophets Condemned

<sup>5</sup> “You have not gone up into the gaps or breaches, nor built the wall around the house of Israel that it might stand in the battle on the day of the LORD. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “They have seen falsehood and lying divination, saying, ‘The LORD says,’ but the LORD has not sent them. Yet they hope and make men to hope for the confirmation of their word. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “Did you not see (make up) a false vision and speak a lying divination when you said, ‘The LORD declares,’ but it is not I who have spoken?” ’ ”

<sup>8</sup> Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you have spoken empty and delusive words and have seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you,” says the Lord God.

<sup>9</sup> “So My hand will be against the [counterfeit] prophets who see (make up) empty and delusive visions and who give lying prophecies. They will have no place in the [secret] council of My people, nor will they be recorded in the register of the house of Israel, nor will they enter into the land of Israel, that you may know [without any doubt] that I am the Lord GOD. ‡

10 “It is definitely because they have seduced My people, saying, ‘Peace,’ when there is no peace, and because when one builds a [flimsy] wall, behold, these [lying] prophets plaster it over with whitewash; ‡

<sup>11</sup> so tell those who plaster it with whitewash, that it will fall! A flooding rain [of judgment] will come, and you, O [great] hailstones, will fall; and a violent wind will tear the wall apart. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Behold, when the wall has fallen, will you not be asked, ‘Where is the coating with which you [prophets] plastered it?’ ”

<sup>13</sup> Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, “I will make a violent wind break out in My wrath, and there will be in My anger an overwhelming rain and great hailstones to destroy [that wall] in wrath.

<sup>14</sup> “So I will tear down the wall which you have plastered with whitewash and bring it down to the ground, so that its foundations will be exposed; when it falls, you will perish in its midst. And you shall know and understand fully that I am the LORD. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “Thus I will expend My wrath on the wall and on those who have plastered it with whitewash and I will say to you, ‘The wall is gone and its plasterers are gone,

<sup>16</sup> along with the [false] prophets of Israel who prophesy [deceitfully] to Jerusalem, and who see [false] visions of peace for her when there is no peace,’ says the Lord GOD. ‡

17 “Now you, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people who are prophesying out of [the wishful thinking of] their own mind (inspiration). Prophesy against them ‡

<sup>18</sup> and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Woe to the women who fasten magic (protective) charms on all wrists and make veils for the heads of those of every stature to capture [human] lives! Will you capture the lives of My people but keep your own? ‡

<sup>19</sup> “You have profaned Me among My people [in payment] for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, killing people who should not die and giving [a guarantee of] life to those who should not live, because of your lies to My people who pay attention to lies.” ’ ” ‡

<sup>20</sup> Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am against your magic bands [and veils] by which you hunt [human] lives as birds and I will tear them from your arms; and I will let the lives you hunt go free, even those lives whom you hunt as birds.

<sup>21</sup> “I will also tear off your [pagan] veils and rescue My people from your hands, and they will no longer be in your grip to be hunted and trapped. Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Because you disheartened the righteous with falsehood when I did not cause him grief, but have encouraged the wicked not to turn from his wicked way and preserve his life,” ‡

<sup>23</sup> therefore, you women will no longer see false visions or practice divinations, and I will rescue My people from your hand. Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

Ezekiel 14

Idolatrous Elders Condemned

<sup>1</sup> THEN CERTAIN of the elders of Israel came to me [seeking an oracle from God] and sat down before me. ‡

<sup>2</sup> And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>3</sup> “Son of man, these men have set up [and honored] their idols in their hearts and have put right before their faces the [vile] stumbling block of their wickedness and guilt; should I [permit Myself to] be consulted by them at all? ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Therefore speak to them and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Any man of the house of Israel who takes his idols [of rebellion] into his heart, and puts the [vile] stumbling block of his wickedness and guilt [images of silver and gold] before his face, and yet comes to the prophet [to ask of him], I the LORD will answer him, [but I will answer him] in accordance with the number of his idols,

<sup>5</sup> in order that I may take hold of the heart (mind) of the house of Israel who are all estranged from Me because of their idols.’’

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Repent and turn away from your idols and turn your faces away from all your disgusting and vile acts.

<sup>7</sup> “For anyone of the house of Israel or among the strangers who immigrate to Israel who separates himself from Me, taking his idols into his heart, and puts right before his face the [vile] stumbling block of his wickedness and guilt, and [then] comes to the prophet to ask of Me for himself, I the LORD will answer him Myself.

8 “I will set My face against that man [that hypocrite] and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from among My people; and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD. ‡

9 “But if the prophet [who speaks without My authority] is enticed to speak a word [of his own], it is I the LORD who have caused that prophet [to speak falsely to please the inquirer, thus allowing himself to be a party to the inquirer’s sin], and I will stretch out My hand against him and destroy him from among My people Israel. ‡

10 “They [both] will bear the punishment of their wickedness; the sin of the [counterfeit] prophet will be the same as the sin of the [hypocritical] inquirer,

11 so that the house of Israel may no longer drift away from Me and no longer defile themselves with all their transgressions, but they will be My people, and I will be their God,” says the Lord GOD.” ‡

The City Will Not Be Spared

12 The word of the LORD came [again] to me, saying,

13 “Son of man, if a land sins against Me by committing unfaithfulness, and I stretch out My hand against it and destroy its source of bread and send famine on it and cut off from it both man and animal, ‡

14 even if these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job were in that land, by their own righteousness (right standing with God) they could only save (deliver) themselves,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

15 “If I were to cause predatory beasts to pass through the land and they ravaged it and depopulated it of children, and it became desolate so that no one would pass through because of the predators, ‡

16 though these three men were in the land, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they could not save either their sons or their daughters. They alone would be saved, but the land would be desolate (ruined, deserted). ‡

17 “Or if I were to bring a sword on that land and say, ‘Let a sword go through the land and cut off man and animal from it,’ ‡

18 even though these three men were in the land, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they could not save either their sons or their daughters, but they alone would be saved. ‡

19 “Or if I should send a virulent disease into that land and pour out My wrath in blood on it to cut off man and animal from it, ‡

20 even though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in the land, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “they could not save either their son or their daughter; they would save only themselves by their righteousness [that is, their right-standing with God—their moral and spiritual integrity].” ‡

<sup>21</sup> For thus says the Lord GOD, “How much more when I send My four severe judgments against Jerusalem—sword, famine, predatory beasts, and virulent disease—to cut off man and animal from it!  [Lev 26:21–33 ] ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Yet, behold, survivors will be left in it [escaping the judgments], both sons and daughters. Listen carefully, they are going to come out to you [in Babylon] and you will see their [wicked] conduct and [despicable] actions; then you will be at peace in regard to the disaster which I have brought against Jerusalem for everything which I have brought on it [has been deserved]. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “Then they will reassure you [in regard to the appropriateness of the judgments] when you see their [heinous] conduct and actions, for you will know that I have not done without cause whatever I did to it,” declares the Lord GOD. ‡

Ezekiel 15

Jerusalem like a Useless Vine

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, how is the wood of the grapevine (Israel) better than any wood of a branch which is among the trees of the forest?  [Ps 80:8–13; Jer 2:21 ]

<sup>3</sup> “Can wood be taken from it to make any object? Or can men take a peg from it on which to hang any vessel?

<sup>4</sup> “If it has been thrown into the fire for fuel, and the fire has consumed both of its ends and the middle section has been charred, is it suitable or useful for anything? ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Notice this, even when it was complete, it was not useful and was not made into anything. How much less, after the fire has burned [part of] it and [the remainder of] it is charred, can it still be made into anything?

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Like the wood of the grapevine among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so have I given up the people of Jerusalem;

<sup>7</sup> and I set My face against them. Though they have come out of the fire, yet the fire will consume them. Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, when I set My face against them. ‡

<sup>8</sup> ‘I will make the land desolate (ruined, deserted), because they have acted unfaithfully [through their idolatry],’ says the Lord GOD.”

Ezekiel 16

God’s Grace to Unfaithful Jerusalem

<sup>1</sup> AGAIN THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>2</sup>.“Son of man, make Jerusalem understand [the heinous and vile nature of] her repulsive (idolatrous) acts ‡

<sup>3</sup>-and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD to Jerusalem (all of Israel), “Your [spiritual] origin and your birth are from the land of the Canaanite; your [spiritual] father was an Amorite and your [spiritual] mother a Hittite.  [Ezek 16:45; John 8:44 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup>“And as for your birth, on the day you were born your navel cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water for cleansing, nor were you rubbed with salt or even wrapped in cloths. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “No eye looked with pity on you to do any of these things for you, to have compassion on you; but you were thrown out in the open field, for you were loathed on the day that you were born.

<sup>6</sup>.“When I passed by you and saw you squirming in your [newborn] blood, I said to you while you were there in your blood, ‘Live!’ Yes, I said to you while you were there in your blood, ‘Live!’

<sup>7</sup>.“I made you (Israel) multiply like plants [which grow] in the field, and you grew up and became tall and you reached the age for [wearing] fine jewelry; your breasts were formed and your hair had grown, yet you were naked and bare. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Then I passed by you [again] and looked on you; behold, you were maturing and at the time for love, and I spread My skirt over you and covered your nakedness. Yes, I swore [an oath] to you and entered into a covenant with you,” says the Lord GOD, “and you became Mine.” ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Then I washed you with water; yes, I [thoroughly] washed away from you the [clinging] blood and anointed you with oil.

<sup>10</sup> “I also clothed you with embroidered cloth and put sandals of porpoise skin on your feet; and I wrapped you with fine linen and covered you with silk.

<sup>11</sup> “I adorned you with ornaments and I put bracelets on your wrists and a necklace around your neck.”‡

<sup>12</sup> “I also put a ring in your nostril and earrings in your ears and a beautiful crown on your head.

<sup>13</sup> “Thus you were adorned with gold and silver, and your dress was [made] of fine linen and silk and embroidered cloth. You ate fine flour and honey and oil; so you were extremely beautiful and you advanced and prospered into royalty.”‡

<sup>14</sup> “Then your fame went out among the nations on account of your beauty, for it was perfect because of My majesty and splendor which I bestowed on you,” says the Lord GOD.‡

<sup>15</sup> “But you trusted in and relied on your beauty and prostituted yourself [in idolatry and its debauched rituals] because of your fame, and you poured out your immoralities on every [willing] passer-by and your beauty was his [as you worshiped the idols of the Gentile nations].”‡

<sup>16</sup> “You took some of your clothes and made for yourself [decorated] high places and shrines of various colors and prostituted yourself on them—things which should never have come about and taken place.”‡

<sup>17</sup> “You also took your beautiful jewels and beautiful vessels made of My gold and My silver, which I had given you, and made for yourself images of men so that you could prostitute yourself with them;

<sup>18</sup> and you took your embroidered clothing and covered them, and offered My oil and My incense before them.

<sup>19</sup> “Also My bread which I gave you, [made from the] fine flour and oil and honey with which I fed you, you even offered it before idols [no better than cow dung] as a sweet and soothing aroma; so it happened,” says the Lord GOD.‡

<sup>20</sup> “Moreover, you took your sons and your daughters whom you had borne to Me, and you destroyed them as sacrifices [to your man-made gods]. Were your gross immoralities so small a matter?”‡

<sup>21</sup> “You slaughtered My children and offered them up to [worthless] idols, forcing them to pass through the [hideousness of the] fire.

<sup>22</sup> “And in all your repulsive acts and prostitutions (idolatrous immoralities) you did not [pause to] remember the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, squirming in your [newborn] blood.”‡

<sup>23</sup> “Then it came about after all your wickedness (‘Woe, woe to you!’ says the Lord GOD),

<sup>24</sup> that you built yourself an altar for prostitution and made yourself a high place [for ritual prostitution] in every square [of Jerusalem]. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “At the beginning of every street you built your high place and made your beauty repulsive; and you offered your body to every passer-by and multiplied your obscene immorality. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “You also prostituted yourself with the Egyptians, your lustful neighbors [by embracing their pagan rituals], and you multiplied your obscene immorality to provoke Me to anger. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “Behold now [listen very carefully], I have stretched out My hand against you, reduced your portion, and handed you over to the desire of those who hate you, the daughters of the Philistines, who are ashamed of your infamous behavior. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “You prostituted yourself with the Assyrians because you were not satisfied; you prostituted yourself with them and still were not satisfied.

<sup>29</sup> “Moreover, you increased your obscene immorality with the land of tradesmen, Chaldea (Babylonia), and yet even with this you were not satisfied.” ’ ” ‡

<sup>30</sup> “How weakened by longing and lust is your heart (mind),” says the Lord GOD, “while you do all these things, the actions of a bold and brazen prostitute.

<sup>31</sup> “When you built your shrine altar for prostitution at the beginning of every street and made your high place in every public square, you were not like a prostitute because you refused payment. ‡

<sup>32</sup> “You adulterous wife, who welcomes and receives strangers instead of her husband!

<sup>33</sup> “Men give gifts to all prostitutes, but you give your gifts to all your lovers, bribing the pagan nations to come to you [as allies] from every direction for your obscene immoralities. ‡

<sup>34</sup> “And you are different from other [unfaithful] women in your promiscuity, in that no one follows you to lure you into prostitution, and because you give money and no money is given you; in this way you are different.”

<sup>36</sup> Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because your lewdness was poured out and your nakedness uncovered through your obscene immoralities with your lovers (pagan allies), and with all your [repulsive] idols, and because of the blood of your sons that you gave to them, ‡

<sup>37</sup> therefore, listen, I will gather all your lovers (pagan allies) with whom you took pleasure, and all those whom you loved with all those whom you hated; I will even gather them against you from every direction and will expose your nakedness to them that they may see all your nakedness [making you, Israel, an object of loathing and of mockery, a spectacle among the nations]. ‡

<sup>38</sup> “And I [the Lord GOD] will judge you like women who commit adultery or shed blood are judged; and I will bring on you the blood of wrath and jealousy.  [Num 5:18.] ‡

<sup>39</sup> “I will also hand you over to your lovers, and they will tear down your shrines, demolish your high places, strip you of your clothing, take away your jewels, and they will leave you naked and bare. ‡

<sup>40</sup> “They will also incite a crowd against you and they will stone you and slaughter you with their swords. ‡

<sup>41</sup> “They will burn down your houses with fire and execute judgments on you in the sight of many women (Gentile nations). Then I will make you cease your prostitution, and you will no longer hire your lovers. ‡

<sup>42</sup> “So I will calm My wrath toward you and My jealousy [resulting from being denied what is rightfully and uniquely mine] will turn away from you; I will be pacified and no longer angry. ‡

<sup>43</sup> “Because you have not remembered the days of your youth but have enraged Me with all these things, therefore, I in turn will bring your conduct down on your own head,” says the Lord GOD, “so that you will not commit this lewdness on top of all your other repulsive acts. ‡

<sup>44</sup> “Behold, everyone who uses proverbs will use this proverb against you: ‘Like mother, like daughter.’

<sup>45</sup> “You are the daughter of your mother, who loathed her husband and her children. You are the sister of your sisters, who loathed their husbands and their children. Your [spiritual] mother was a Hittite and your [spiritual] father an Amorite. ‡

<sup>47</sup> “Yet you have not merely walked in their ways or behaved in accordance with their pagan practices; but, as if that were too little, you [soon] acted more corruptly in all your ways than they.  [Matt 11:20–24.] ‡

<sup>48</sup> “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “Sodom, your sister and her daughters have not done as you and your daughters have done. ‡

<sup>49</sup> “Behold, this was the sin of your sister Sodom: she and her daughters (outlying cities) had arrogance, abundant food, and careless ease, but she did not help the poor and needy. ‡

<sup>50</sup> “They were haughty and committed repulsive acts before Me; therefore I removed them when I saw it.  [Gen 13:13; 18:20; 19:5 ] ‡

<sup>51</sup> “Furthermore, Samaria did not commit half of your sins, but you have greatly increased your repulsive acts more than they. So you have made your [wicked] sisters [Samaria and Sodom] appear righteous and justified by [comparison to] all the disgusting things which you have done. ‡

<sup>52</sup> “Also bear your disgrace [as punishment], having made judgment favorable for your sisters, for [you virtually absolved them] because of your sins in which you behaved more repulsively than they; they are more in the right than you. Yes, be ashamed and bear your disgrace, for you made your [pagan] sisters seem righteous.

<sup>53</sup>—“Nevertheless, I will restore them [again] from their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters (outlying cities), the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, and along with them [I will restore you from] your own captivity [in the day of the Lord GOD],  [Is 1:9 ] ‡

<sup>54</sup> so that you [Judah] will bear your humiliation and disgrace, and be [thoroughly] ashamed for all [the wickedness] that you have done to console and comfort them. ‡

<sup>55</sup> “Your sisters, Sodom and her daughters and Samaria and her daughters will return to their former state; and you and your daughters will return to your former state.

<sup>56</sup> “For [the name of] your sister Sodom was not mentioned by you [except as a byword] in the day of your pride [when David ruled],

<sup>57</sup> before your [own] wickedness was uncovered. Now you have become an object of reproach and a byword for the daughters of Aram and of Edom and all who are around her, and for the daughters of the Philistines—those surrounding you who despise you. ‡

<sup>58</sup> “You have borne [the penalty of] your lewdness and your repulsive acts,” says the LORD. ‡

<sup>59</sup> Yes, thus says the Lord GOD, “I will also deal with you as you have done, you who have despised the oath by breaking the covenant. ‡

The Covenant Remembered

60 “Nevertheless, I will remember [with compassion] My covenant with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you.  [Ps 106:45 ] ‡

61 “Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed when you receive your sisters, both your older and your younger; I will give them to you as daughters, but not because of your covenant [with Me].  [John 10:16 ] ‡

62 “And I will establish My covenant with you, and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD,  [Hos 2:19, 20 ] ‡

63 so that you may remember [in detail] and be ashamed and never open your mouth again because of your humiliation, when I have forgiven you for all that you have done,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

Parable of Two Eagles and a Vine

1 NOW THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, ask a riddle and tell a parable to the house of Israel,

3 saying, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “A great eagle (Nebuchadnezzar) with great wings, long pinions and a rich plumage of many colors came to Lebanon (Jerusalem) and took away the top of the cedar (Judah). ‡

4 “He broke off the topmost of its young twigs (young King Jehoiachin) and carried it to a land of traders (Babylonia); he set it in a city of merchants (Babylon).

5 “He also took some of the seed of the land (Zedekiah, of the royal family) and planted it in fertile soil and a fruitful field; he placed it beside abundant waters and set it like a willow tree. ‡

6 “Then it sprouted and grew and became a low, spreading vine whose branches turned [in submission] toward him, but its roots remained under it. So it became a vine and yielded shoots and sent out branches. ‡

7 “There was [also] another great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and behold, this vine (Zedekiah) bent its roots toward him and sent out its branches toward him, away from the beds where it was planted, for him to water. ‡

8 “It was planted in good soil where water was plentiful for it to produce leaves and branches and to bear fruit, so that it might become a splendid vine.” ’

<sup>9</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Ask, “Will it thrive? Will he (Nebuchadnezzar) not uproot it and strip off its fruit so that all its sprouting leaves will wither? It will not take a strong arm or many people to uproot it [ending Israel’s national existence].  [2 Kin 25:1–7 ] ‡

<sup>10</sup> “Though it is planted, will it thrive and grow? Will it not completely wither when the east wind touches it? It will wither in the beds where it grew.” ”  [Hos 13:9–12, 15 ] ‡

Zedekiah’s Rebellion

<sup>11</sup> Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>12</sup> “Say now to the rebellious house, ‘Do you not know (realize) what these things mean?’ Tell them, ‘Hear this, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem and took its king [Jehoiachin] and its princes and brought them with him to Babylon.  [2 Kin 24:11–16 ] ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘And he took a member of the royal family [the king’s uncle, Zedekiah] and made a covenant with him, putting him under oath. He also took the important leaders of the land,  [2 Kin 24:17 ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> so that the kingdom would be in subjection, unable to restore itself and rise again, but that by keeping his covenant it might continue. ‡

<sup>15</sup> ‘But Zedekiah rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar by sending his ambassadors to Egypt so that they might give him horses and many troops. Will he succeed? Will he who does such things escape? Can he indeed break the covenant [with Babylon] and [still] escape? ‡

<sup>16</sup> ‘As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘surely in the country of the king (Nebuchadnezzar) who made Zedekiah [the vassal] king, whose oath he despised and whose covenant he broke, in Babylon Zedekiah shall die. ‡

<sup>18</sup> ‘Now Zedekiah dishonored the oath by breaking the covenant, and behold, he gave his hand and pledged his allegiance, yet did all these things; he shall not escape.’ ” ‡

<sup>19</sup> Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, “As I live, I will bring down on his own head My oath [made on My behalf by Nebuchadnezzar] which Zedekiah dishonored and My covenant which he broke.

<sup>20</sup> “I will spread My net over him, and he will be caught in My snare; and I will bring him to Babylon and will enter into judgment with him there for his treason which he has committed against Me. ‡

21 “All the choice men [from Judah] in all his troops will fall by the sword, and those that survive will be scattered to every wind; and you will know [without any doubt] that I the LORD have spoken.” ‡

22 Thus says the Lord GOD, “I Myself will take a twig from the lofty top of the cedar and will set it out; I will crop off from the topmost of its young twigs a tender one and I will plant it on a high and lofty mountain.  [Is 11:1, 10; 53:2; Jer 23:5; Zech 3:8 ] ‡

23 “I will plant it on the mountain heights of Israel, that it may grow boughs and bear fruit and be a noble and stately cedar. And birds of every kind will live under it; they will nest [securely] in the shade of its branches. ‡

24 “All the trees of the field will know that I the LORD bring down the tall tree, exalt the low tree, dry up the green tree, and make the dry tree flourish. I am the LORD; I have spoken, and I will fulfill it.” ‡

God Deals Justly with Individuals

1 THE WORD of the LORD came to me again, saying,

2 “What do you mean by using this proverb concerning the land of Israel, ‡

‘The fathers eat sour grapes [they sin],
But the children’s teeth are set on edge’?

3 “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “you are certainly not going to use this proverb [as an excuse] in Israel anymore.

4 “Behold (pay close attention), all souls are Mine; the soul of the father as well as the soul of the son is Mine. The soul who sins will die.  [Rom 6:23 ] ‡

5 “But if a man is righteous (keeps the law) and practices justice and righteousness,

6 and does not eat [at the pagan shrines] on the mountains or raise his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, or defile his neighbor’s wife or approach a woman during her [monthly] time of impurity— ‡

7 if a man does not oppress anyone, but restores to the debtor his pledge, does not commit robbery, but gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with clothing, ‡

<sup>8</sup> if he does not charge interest or take a percentage of increase [on what he lends in compassion], if he keeps his hand from sin and executes true justice between man and man, ‡

<sup>9</sup> if he walks in My statutes and [keeps] My ordinances so as to act with integrity; [then] he is [truly] righteous and shall certainly live,” says the Lord GOD.  [Ezek 20:11; Amos 5:4] ‡

<sup>10</sup> “If he is the father of a violent son who sheds blood, and who does any of these things to a brother ‡

<sup>11</sup> (though the father did not do any of these things), that is, the son even eats [the food set before idols] at the mountain shrines, and defiles his neighbor’s wife,

<sup>13</sup> and charges interest and takes [a percentage of] increase on what he has loaned; will he then live? He will not live! He has done all these disgusting things, he shall surely be put to death; his blood will be on his own head. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Now behold, if this [wicked] man has a son who has observed all the sins which his father committed, and considers [thoughtfully what he has observed] and does not do like his father:

<sup>15</sup> “He does not eat [food set before idols] at the mountain shrines or raise his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, or defile his neighbor’s wife, ‡

<sup>16</sup> or oppress anyone, or take anything in pledge, or commit robbery, but he gives his bread to the hungry and covers the naked with clothing,

<sup>17</sup> he keeps his hand from [oppressing] the poor, does not receive interest or increase [from the needy], but executes My ordinances and walks in My statutes; he shall not die for the sin (guilt) of his father; he shall certainly live.

<sup>19</sup> “Yet do you say, ‘Why should the son not bear the punishment for the father’s sin?’ When the son has practiced justice and righteousness and has kept all My statutes and has done them, he shall certainly live. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “The person who sins [is the one that] will die. The son will not bear the punishment for the sin of the father, nor will the father bear the punishment for the sin of the son; the righteousness of the righteous shall be on himself, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be on himself. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “But if the wicked man turns [away] from all his sins which he has committed and keeps all My statutes and practices justice and righteousness, he shall certainly live; he shall not die. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “All of his transgressions which he has committed will not be remembered against him; because of his righteousness which he has practiced [for his moral and spiritual integrity in every area and relationship], he will live. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked,” says the Lord GOD, “rather than that he should turn [away] from his [malevolent] acts and live? ‡

<sup>24</sup> “But when the righteous man turns away from his righteousness and commits sin and acts in accordance with all the repulsive things that the wicked man does, will he live? All of his righteous deeds which he has done will not be remembered because of the treachery that he has committed and for his sin which he has committed; for them he shall die. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “When a righteous man turns away from his righteousness, and commits sin and dies because of it, it is for his sin which he has committed that he dies. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “Again, when a wicked man turns away from his wickedness which he has committed and practices justice and righteousness, he will save his life. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “Because he considered and turned away from all the transgressions which he had committed, he shall certainly live; he shall not die. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “Yet the house of Israel says, ‘The way of the Lord is not right!’ O house of Israel, are My ways not right? Is it not your ways that are not right? ‡

<sup>30</sup> “Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, each one in accordance with his conduct,” says the Lord GOD. “Repent (change your way of thinking) and turn away from all your transgressions, so that sin may not become a stumbling block to you.  [Matt 3:2 ; Rev 2:5 ] ‡

<sup>31</sup> “Cast away from you all your transgressions which you have committed [against Me], and make yourselves a new heart and a new spirit! For why should you die, O house of Israel?  [Eph 4:22 , 23 ] ‡

<sup>32</sup> “For I have no pleasure in the death of anyone who dies,” says the Lord GOD. “Therefore, repent and live!” ‡

Dirge for the Princes of Israel

<sup>1</sup> “AS FOR you, take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for the princes of Israel ‡

‘What was your mother [Jerusalem and Judah]?

A lioness among lions!

She lay down among young lions,

She reared her cubs.

<sup>3</sup> ‘When she [the royal mother-city] brought up [Jehoahaz] one of her cubs, ‡

He became a [young] lion,

And he learned to catch and tear the prey;

He devoured men.  [2 Kin 23:30, 32 ]

<sup>4</sup> ‘The nations heard about him; ‡

He was captured in their pit,

And they brought him with hooks

To the land of Egypt.  [2 Chr 36:1, 4 ]

<sup>5</sup> ‘When she saw, as she waited, ‡

That her hope was lost,

She took another of her cubs

And made him a young lion.  [2 Kin 23:34; 24:1, 6 ]

<sup>6</sup> ‘And he moved among the lions; ‡

He became a young lion,

He learned to tear the prey;

He devoured men.

<sup>7</sup> ‘He destroyed their palaces

And he flattened their cities;

And the land and all who were in it were appalled

By the sound of his roaring.

<sup>8</sup> ‘Then the nations set against him (the king) ‡

On every side from the provinces,

And they spread their net over him;

He was captured in their pit.  [2 Kin 24:8–15. ]

<sup>9</sup> ‘They put him in a cage with hooks and chains ‡

And brought him to the king of Babylon;

They brought him in hunting nets

So that his voice would be heard no more
On the mountains of Israel.

<sup>10</sup> ‘Your mother [Jerusalem] was like a vine in your vineyard,‡
Planted by the waters;

It was fruitful and full of branches

Because of abundant water.  [2 Kin 24:17 ; Ezek 17:7 ]

<sup>11</sup> ‘And it had strong branches for the scepters of rulers,‡
And its height was raised above the thick branches and into the clouds

So that it was seen [easily] in its height with the mass of its branches.

<sup>12</sup> ‘But the vine was uprooted in [godly] wrath [by His representative]‡

And it was thrown down to the ground;

The east wind dried up its fruit.

Its strong branch was broken off

So that it withered;

The fire [of God’s judgment] consumed it.

<sup>13</sup> ‘And now it is transplanted in the wilderness,
In a dry and thirsty land [of Babylon].

<sup>14</sup> ‘And the fire [of Zedekiah’s rebellion] has gone out from its branch;‡

It has consumed the vine’s shoots and fruit,

So that it has in it no [longer a] strong branch

As a scepter to rule.’ ”

This is a dirge (funeral poem to be sung), and has become a dirge.

God’s Dealings with Israel Rehearsed

<sup>1</sup> IN THE seventh year, in the fifth month, on the tenth of the month [after the beginning of the exile in Babylon], certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD and sat down before me.  [Jer 25:11 ; 29:10 ]‡

<sup>2</sup> Then came the word of the LORD to me, saying,

<sup>3</sup> “Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Have you come to inquire of Me? As I live,” says the Lord

GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you.” ’ ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Will you judge them, son of man, will you judge them? Then make them know [accurately] and understand fully the repulsive acts of their fathers;  [Matt 23:29–33; Acts 7:51, 52] ‡

<sup>5</sup> and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “On the day when I chose Israel and lifted up My hand and swore to the descendants of the house of Jacob and made Myself known to them in the land of Egypt, when I swore to them, saying, I am the LORD your God, ‡

<sup>6</sup> on that day I swore to them to bring them out of the land of Egypt into a land that I had selected for them, [plentiful and] flowing with milk and honey, [a land] which is an ornament and a glory to all lands. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “Then I said to them, ‘Let every man throw away the detestable things on which he feasts his eyes, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt; I am the LORD your God.’ ‡

<sup>8</sup> “But they rebelled against Me and were not willing to listen to Me; they did not throw away the detestable things on which they feasted their eyes, nor did they give up the idols of Egypt. ‡

“ <sup>T</sup>hen I decided to pour out My wrath on them and finish My anger against them in the land of Egypt.

<sup>9</sup> “But I acted for My Name’s sake, that it would not be profaned in the sight of the [pagan] nations among whom they lived, in whose sight I made Myself known to them by bringing them out of the land of Egypt. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “So I made them leave the land of Egypt and brought them into the wilderness. ‡

11 “I gave them My statutes and explained My ordinances to them, which, if a man keeps, he will live. ‡

12 “Also I gave them My Sabbaths to be a sign between Me and them, that they might know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD who sanctifies them (separates and sets them apart). ‡

<sup>13</sup> “But the house of Israel rebelled against Me in the wilderness. They did not walk in My statutes and they despised and rejected My ordinances, which, if a man keeps, he will live; and they greatly profaned My Sabbaths. Then I decided to pour out My wrath on them in the wilderness, to annihilate them. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “But I acted for My Name’s sake, that it would not be profaned in the sight of the [pagan] nations in whose sight I had brought them out [of slavery]. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “I also swore to them in the wilderness that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, [a land of plenty] flowing with milk and honey, which is the ornament and glory of all lands, ‡

<sup>16</sup> because they rejected My ordinances, and as for My statutes, they did not walk in them; they even profaned My Sabbaths, for their heart continually went after their [worthless] idols. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Yet My eye [looked on them with compassion and] spared them instead of destroying them, and I did not annihilate them in the wilderness. ‡

<sup>19</sup> ‘I am the LORD your God; walk in My statutes and keep My ordinances and observe them. ‡

<sup>20</sup> ‘Sanctify My Sabbaths and keep them holy; and they shall be a sign between Me and you, that you may know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD your God.’ ‡

<sup>21</sup> “Yet the children rebelled against Me; they did not walk in My statutes, nor were they careful to observe My ordinances, which, if a man keeps, he will live; they profaned My Sabbaths. Then I decided to pour out My wrath on them and finish My anger against them in the wilderness. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Yet I withdrew My hand and acted for My Name’s sake, that it would not be profaned in the sight of the [pagan] nations in whose sight I had brought them out [of slavery]. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “Moreover, I swore to them in the wilderness that I would scatter them among the [Gentile] nations and disperse them among the countries, ‡

<sup>24</sup> because they had not observed My ordinances, but had [dishonored and] rejected My statutes and had profaned My Sabbaths, and set their eyes on the [man-made] idols of their fathers. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “[Therefore] I also gave them statutes that were not good and ordinances by which they could not live;  [Ps 81:12; Is 66:4; Rom 1:21–25, 28 ] ‡

<sup>26</sup> and I pronounced them unclean because of their offerings [to their idols], in that they made all their firstborn pass through the fire [as pagan sacrifices], so that I might make them desolate, in order that they might know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ’  [Lev 20:2–5 ] ‡

<sup>27</sup> “Therefore, son of man, speak to the house of Israel and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Again in this your fathers have blasphemed Me, in that they acted faithlessly and treacherously against Me. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “For when I had brought them into the land which I swore to give to them, they saw every high hill and every dark and leafy tree [as a place for idol worship], and there they offered their sacrifices and there they presented their offering that provoked My anger; there also they made their sweet-smelling aroma and there poured out their drink offerings. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “Then I said to them, ‘What is the high place to which you go?’ So the name of it is called Bamah (High Place) to this day.” ’

<sup>30</sup> “Therefore, say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Will you [exiles] defile yourselves in the same manner as your fathers? And will you prostitute yourselves before their loathsome and heinous things?

<sup>31</sup> “When you offer your gifts, when you make your sons pass through the fire, you are defiling yourselves with all your idols to this day. And shall I be asked by you [for an oracle], O house of Israel? As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will not be inquired of by you. ‡

<sup>32</sup> “What comes into your mind will never happen, when you say, ‘We will be like the [pagan] nations, like the tribes of the [Gentile] countries, serving [idols made of] wood and stone.’ ‡

God Will Restore Israel to Her Land

<sup>33</sup> “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “most certainly with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with wrath poured out, I shall be King over you. ‡

<sup>34</sup> “I will bring you out from the peoples and will gather you from the countries in which you are scattered, with a mighty hand and with an outstretched arm, and with wrath poured out;

<sup>35</sup> and I will bring you into the wilderness of the peoples, and there I will enter into judgment with you and contend with you face to face. ‡

<sup>36</sup> “As I entered into judgment with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so I will enter into judgment and contend with you,” says the Lord GOD.  [Num 11 ; Ps 106:15 ; 1 Cor 10:5–10 ] ‡

<sup>37</sup> “I will make you pass under the rod [as the shepherd does with his sheep when he counts them, and I will count you as Mine and constrain you] and bring you into the bond of the covenant [to which you are permanently bound].  [Lev 27:32 ] ‡

<sup>38</sup> “And I will separate from you the rebels and those who transgress against Me; I will bring them out of the land where they temporarily live, but they will not enter the land of Israel. Thus you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.  [Heb 4:2 , 3 ] ‡

<sup>39</sup> “As for you, O house of Israel,” thus says the Lord GOD, “Go, let everyone serve his idols; but later you shall most certainly listen to Me, and you shall no longer profane My holy name with your gifts and with your idols. ‡

<sup>40</sup> “For on My holy mountain, on the high mountain of Israel (Zion),” says the Lord GOD, “there the whole house of Israel, all of them in the land, shall serve Me. There I will [graciously] accept them, and there I will seek (require) your offerings and the choicest of your gifts, with all your holy and sacred things. ‡

<sup>41</sup> “I will accept you [graciously] as a pleasant and soothing aroma when I bring you out from the peoples and gather you from the lands in which you have been scattered; and I will prove Myself holy and manifest My holiness among you in the sight of the nations.  [Eph 5:2; Phil 4:18. ] ‡

<sup>42</sup> “And you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, when I bring you into the land of Israel, into the land which I swore to give to your fathers. ‡

<sup>43</sup> “There you will remember your ways and all your deeds with which you have defiled yourselves; and you will loathe yourselves in your own sight because of all your evil deeds which you have done. ‡

44 “And you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD when I have dealt with you for My Name’s sake, not in accordance with your evil ways nor with your corrupt conduct, O house of Israel,” says the Lord GOD.’ ‡

<sup>45</sup> Now the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

46 “Son of man, set your face toward Teman, and speak out against the south and prophesy against the forest land of the Negev (the South), ‡

<sup>47</sup> and say to the forest of the Negev, ‘Hear the word of the LORD: thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am about to kindle a fire in you, and it will devour every one of your green trees, as well as every one of your dry trees. The blazing flame will not be quenched and the whole surface from the south to the north will be burned by it. ‡

<sup>48</sup> “All flesh will see that I the LORD have kindled it; it will not be quenched.” ’ ”

<sup>49</sup> Then I said, “Ah, Lord GOD! They are saying of me, ‘Is he not [just] speaking in parables and making allegories?’ ”

Ezekiel 21

Parable of the Sword of the LORD

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, set your face toward Jerusalem, and direct your [prophetic] word against the sanctuaries; prophesy against the land of Israel ‡

<sup>3</sup> and say to the land of Israel, ‘Thus says the LORD, “Behold, I am against you and will draw My sword out of its sheath and I will cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked.” ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Because I will cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked, therefore My sword will go from its sheath against all flesh from south to north, ‡

<sup>5</sup> and all living will know [without any doubt] that I the LORD have drawn My sword out of its sheath; it will not be sheathed again.” ’ ‡

<sup>7</sup> “And when they say to you, ‘Why do you sigh and groan?’ you shall answer, ‘Because of the news that is coming; and every heart will melt and all hands will be frail, and every spirit will faint and all knees will be weak as water. Behold, it comes and it will happen,’ says the Lord GOD.” ‡

<sup>8</sup> Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>9</sup> “Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the LORD.’ Say, ‡

‘A sword, a sword [from Babylon] is sharpened
And also polished!

<sup>10</sup> ‘It is sharpened to make a slaughter,
Polished to flash and glimmer like lightning!’

Shall we then rejoice [when such a disaster approaches]? But it rejects and views with contempt the scepter of My son [Judah]. [Gen 49:9 , 10 ; 2 Sam 7:23 ]

<sup>11</sup> “The sword [of Babylon] is ready to be polished so that it may be handled and put to use; the sword is sharpened and polished to be put in the hand of the slayer (Nebuchadnezzar). ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Cry out and wail, son of man, for it is against My people; it is against all the princes of Israel. They are thrown to the sword along with My [terrified] people. Therefore strike your thigh and strike your chest [in grief]. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “For this sword has been tested [on others]; and what if it views with contempt the scepter [of Judah]? The scepter shall be no more [but shall be swept away],” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore, son of man, prophesy and strike your hands together; and let the sword be doubled the third time [in intensity], the sword for the slain. It is the sword for the great slaughter which surrounds them [so that no one can escape, even by hiding in their inner rooms]. ‡

<sup>15</sup> so that hearts may melt, and many will fall at their gates. I have given the glittering sword. Ah! It is made [to flash] like lightning; it is pointed and sharpened for slaughter. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “I will also strike My hands together, and I will cause My wrath to rest. I the LORD have spoken.” ‡

The Instrument of God’s Judgment

<sup>18</sup> The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>19</sup> “As for you, son of man, mark out two ways for the sword of the king of Babylon to come, both starting from the same land. And make a signpost; place it at the head of the way to the city.

<sup>20</sup> “You shall point out a way for the [Babylonian] sword to come to Rabbah [the capital] of the sons of Ammon, and to Judah into fortified Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “For the king of Babylon stands at the parting of the way, at the fork of the two ways, to use divination. He shakes the arrows, he consults the teraphim (household idols), he looks at the liver [of an animal for an omen].

<sup>23</sup> “It will seem like a false divination in their eyes, those who have sworn solemn oaths [of allegiance to Nebuchadnezzar]. But he will remind them of their guilt [by rebelling and violating their oath], that they may be caught. [2 Chr 36:10, 13; Ezek 17:15, 18–21] ‡

<sup>24</sup> “Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have caused your guilt to be remembered, in that your rebellion is uncovered, so that your sins appear in everything that you do—because you have come to mind, you will be seized with the hand [of the enemy].

<sup>25</sup> ‘And you, O dishonored and wicked one [Zedekiah], the prince of Israel, whose day has come, whose time of final punishment is here,’ ‡

26 thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Remove the turban and take off the crown; things shall not remain as they have been. Exalt that which is low and abase the high. ‡

27 ‘A ruin, a ruin, I will make it a ruin! It shall no longer exist until He comes whose right it is [to reign], and I will give it to Him.’  [Gen 49:10; Is 9:6, 7; 11:1–4; Dan 7:14; Luke 1:31–33 ] ‡

28 “And you, son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD concerning the sons of Ammon and concerning their reproach (disgrace),’ and say: ‘A sword, a sword is drawn for the slaughter; it is sharpened and polished to put an end [to everything], and to flash like lightning, ‡

29 while they (Ammonite prophets) see false visions [of peace] for you, while they divine lies [of escape] for you—to place you [of Ammon] on the headless bodies of the wicked who are slain, whose day has come, whose time of the final punishment is here. ‡

30 ‘Return the sword to its sheath. In the place where you were created, in the land of your origin (birth), I will judge you. ‡

31 ‘I will pour out My indignation on you [sons of Ammon]; I will blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and I will place you in the hand of brutal men, skilled in destruction. ‡

32 ‘You will be fuel for the fire; your blood will be in the midst of the land. You will not be remembered, for I the LORD have spoken.’ ”  [Jer 49:1–6; Ezek 25:1–7; Amos 1:13–15; Zeph 2:8–11 ] ‡

Ezekiel 22

The Sins of Israel

1 THEN THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “And you, son of man [Ezekiel], will you judge, will you judge the city of bloodshed? Then make her recognize all her repulsive acts. ‡

3 “You shall say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “A city that sheds blood in her midst, so that her time [of doom] will come, and makes idols to defile her, contrary to her interest!

4 “You have become guilty by the blood which you have shed, and you are defiled by the idols which you have made. Thus you have caused your day [of judgment and punishment] to approach and have arrived at [the completion of] your years; therefore, I have made you an object of scorn to the [pagan] nations and a thing to be mocked by all countries. ‡

5 “Those who are near and those who are far from you will mock you, you [infamous one] of ill repute, full of turmoil.

6 “Behold, the princes of Israel, every one according to his power, have been intending to shed blood in you. ‡

7 “In you they have treated father and mother lightly. They have oppressed the stranger among you; and in your presence they have wronged the fatherless and the widow. ‡

8 “You have despised and scorned My sacred things and have profaned My Sabbaths. ‡

9 “In you are men who slander for the purpose of shedding blood, and in your presence they have eaten [food offered to idols] at the mountain shrines; in your midst they have committed acts of lewdness. ‡

10 “In you men have uncovered their fathers’ nakedness [the nakedness of mother or stepmother]; in you they have violated women who are [set apart as ceremonially] unclean during their menstrual impurity [or after childbirth]. ‡

11 “In you one has committed a shameful act with his neighbor’s wife, another has lewdly defiled his daughter-in-law, and another has violated his sister, his father’s daughter. ‡

12 “In you they have accepted bribes to shed blood; you have taken [forbidden] interest and [a percentage of] profits, and you have injured your neighbors for gain by oppression and extortion, and you have forgotten Me,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

13 “Behold, therefore, I strike My hands [together] at your dishonest gain which you have acquired and at the bloodshed which is among you. ‡

14 “Can your heart (courage) endure, or can your hands be strong in the days that I will deal with you? I the LORD have spoken, and will act. ‡

15 “I will scatter you among the nations and disperse you through the countries, and I will destroy your filthiness. ‡

16 “You will defile yourself in the sight of the [Gentile] nations, and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ’ ” ‡

17 And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 “Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross (metallic waste) to Me. All of them are (useless) bronze, tin, iron, and lead in the furnace; they are the dross of silver. ‡

19 “Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have all become dross, therefore, behold, I will gather you [O Israel] into the midst of

Jerusalem.

<sup>20</sup> ‘As they gather silver and bronze and iron and lead and tin into the furnace to blow fire on it in order to melt it, so I will gather you in My anger and in My wrath, and I will put you there and melt you.

<sup>21</sup> ‘I will gather you and blow on you with the fire of My wrath, and you will be melted in the midst of it.

<sup>22</sup> ‘As silver is melted in the furnace, so will you be melted in the midst of it; and you will know [without any doubt] that I the LORD have poured out My wrath on you [O Israel].’ ”‡

<sup>23</sup> And the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>24</sup> “Son of man, say to her, ‘You [Israel] are a land that is not pronounced clean or rained on in the day of indignation.’ ”

<sup>25</sup> “There is a conspiracy of her [false] prophets in her midst, like a roaring lion tearing the prey. They have devoured [human] life; they have taken [in their greed] treasure and precious things; they have made many widows among her.‡

26 “Her priests have done violence to My law and have profaned My holy things. They have made no distinction between the holy (sacred) and the profane (secular), they have not taught [people] the difference between the unclean and the clean; and they hide their eyes from My Sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.‡

28 “Her prophets have smeared whitewash for them, seeing false visions and divining lies for them, saying, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD’—when the LORD has not spoken.‡

<sup>29</sup> “The people of the land have practiced oppression and extortion and have committed robbery; they have wronged the poor and needy and they have oppressed the stranger without justice.‡

30 “I searched for a man among them who would build up the wall and stand in the gap before Me for [the sake of] the land, that I would not destroy it, but I found no one [not even one].‡

<sup>31</sup> “Therefore I have poured out My indignation on them; I have consumed them with the fire of My wrath; I have repaid their way [by bringing it] upon their own heads,” says the Lord GOD.‡

Ezekiel 23

Oholah and Oholibah's Sin and Its Consequences

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, there were two women (Israel and Judah), the daughters of one mother (the united kingdom); ‡

<sup>3</sup> and they prostituted themselves in Egypt. From their youth they were grossly immoral; in that place their breasts were embraced and their virgin bosom was grasped. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “Their names were Oholah the elder and Oholibah her sister, and they became Mine and they gave birth to sons and daughters. And as for [the identity of] their names, Oholah is Samaria (capital city of Israel) and Oholibah is Jerusalem (capital city of Judah). ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Oholah played the prostitute while she was Mine; and she adored and lusted after her lovers (allies), the Assyrians, her neighbors, ‡

<sup>6</sup> who were clothed in purple, governors and officials, all of them attractive young men, horsemen riding on horses.

<sup>7</sup> “She bestowed [freely] her immoralities on them, the choicest men of Assyria, all of them; and with all whom she adored and lusted after, she defiled herself with their idols.

<sup>9</sup> “Therefore, I placed her in the hand of her lovers (allies), into the hand of the Assyrians whom she adored. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “They uncovered her nakedness; they took her sons and her daughters and they killed her with the sword. So she became notorious among women, and they executed judgments on her.

<sup>12</sup> “She lusted after the Assyrians—governors and officials, her neighbors, magnificently clothed, horsemen riding on horses, all of them desirable young men. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “I saw that she had defiled herself; they both behaved the same way.

of them looking like officers, like the Babylonian men whose native land was Chaldea.

<sup>16</sup> “When she saw [the sketches of] them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea. ‡

17 “The Babylonians came to her to the bed of love and they defiled her with their evil desire; and when she had been defiled by them, she (Jerusalem) broke the relationship and pushed them away from her in disgust. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “So she flaunted her acts of prostitution and exposed her nakedness; then I became disgusted with her [and turned away], as I had become disgusted with her sister [and turned away]. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “Yet she multiplied her depravities, remembering the days of her youth, when she was actively immoral in the land of Egypt. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “For she lusted after her lovers [there], whose flesh is like the flesh of donkeys and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

<sup>21</sup> “Thus you longed for the lewdness and vulgarity of your youth, when the Egyptians handled your bosom on account of the breasts of your youth.

<sup>22</sup> “Therefore, O Oholibah, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will stir up your lovers (allies) against you, from whom you turned away in disgust, and I will bring them against you from every side: ‡

<sup>23</sup> the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, desirable young men, governors and officials all of them, princes, officers and men of renown, all of them riding on horses. ‡

24 ‘They will come against you with weapons, chariots, and wagons, and with a company of people (infantry) who will array themselves against you on every side with large shield and small, and helmet; and I will commit the judgment and the punishment to them, and they will judge and punish you in accordance with their [pagan] customs.

<sup>25</sup> ‘I will set My jealous indignation against you [demanding what is rightfully and uniquely mine], and they will deal with you in fury. They will remove your nose and your ears, and your survivors will fall by the sword. They will take your sons and your daughters; and the survivors will be devoured by the fire.

<sup>26</sup> ‘They will also strip you (Judah) of your clothes and take away your beautiful jewels. ‡

<sup>27</sup> ‘Thus I will put an end to your lewdness and your prostitution brought from the land of Egypt, so that you will not lift up your eyes to them or remember Egypt [with longing] anymore.’ ‡

<sup>28</sup> “For thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will place you into the hands of those whom you hate, into the hands of those from whom you turned away in disgust. ‡

<sup>29</sup> ‘They will deal with you in hatred, take all your property, and leave you naked and bare. And the nakedness of your depravity will be uncovered, both your lewdness and your obscene practices. ‡

<sup>30</sup> ‘These things will be done to you because you have prostituted yourself with the [Gentile] nations, because you have defiled yourself with their idols. ‡

<sup>31</sup> ‘You have walked in the way of your sister (Samaria); therefore I will give her cup [of judgment] into your hand.’ ‡

<sup>32</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

‘You will drink your sister’s cup,
Which is deep and wide [and filled to the brim].
You shall be laughed at and derided;
It contains much [too much to endure].

<sup>33</sup> ‘You shall be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
With the cup of horror and desolation,
With the cup of your sister Samaria.

<sup>34</sup> ‘You will drink it and drain it, ‡
Then you will gnaw its fragments
And tear your breasts;

for I have spoken,’ says the Lord GOD.

<sup>35</sup> “Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because you have forgotten Me and cast Me behind your back, therefore bear now [the consequences of] your lewdness and prostitution.’ ” ‡

<sup>36</sup> Moreover, the LORD said to me, “Son of man, will you judge Oholah (Samaria, capital of Israel) and Oholibah (Jerusalem, capital of Judah)? Then inform them of their atrocities [the detestable and vile things they do]. ‡

<sup>37</sup> “For they have committed adultery, and blood is on their hands. They have committed adultery [against Me] with their idols and have even forced their sons, whom they bore to Me, to pass through the fire as [an offering of] food to them (idols). ‡

<sup>38</sup> “Moreover, they have done this to Me: they have defiled My sanctuary on the same day [of their idolatries] and have profaned My Sabbaths. ‡

<sup>39</sup> “For when they had killed their children [as offerings] to their idols, then they came the same day to My sanctuary to profane it [by daring to offer a sacrifice there also]. And behold, this they did within My house. ‡

40 “Furthermore, you have even sent a messenger for men to come from far away; and behold, they came—those for whom you bathed, painted your eyes, and decorated yourself with ornaments; ‡

41 and you sat on a splendid couch with a table arranged before it on which you had set My incense and My oil. ‡

42 “The sound of a carefree crowd was with her; and drunkards were brought from the wilderness with men of a common sort, who put bracelets on the hands of the women (both sisters) and beautiful crowns on their heads.

43 “Then I said concerning the one (Oholah) worn out by adulteries, ‘Will they now commit adultery with her when she is like this?’

44 “But they committed adultery with her as they would with a prostitute. So they went in to Oholah (Israel) and to Oholibah (Judah), the lewd women.

45 “And they, righteous men, will judge and condemn them with the judgment (punishment) of adulteresses and with the judgment of women who shed blood, because they are adulteresses and blood is on their hands. ‡

46 “For thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Bring up a horde (mob) against them and hand them over to terror and plunder. ‡

47 ‘And the horde will stone them with stones and cut them down with their swords; they will kill their sons and their daughters and burn down their houses with fire. ‡

48 ‘Thus I will make lewdness cease from the land, that all women may be admonished and taught not to commit immoral acts as you have done. ‡

49 ‘Thus your lewdness will be repaid to you, and you will suffer the penalty for your [sinful] idolatry; and you will know [without any doubt] that I am the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

Ezekiel 24

Parable of the Boiling Pot

1 AGAIN IN the ninth year [of King Jehoiachin’s captivity by Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon], in the tenth month, on the tenth [day] of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, record the name of the day, this very day. The king of Babylon has laid siege to Jerusalem this very day. ‡

3 “Speak a parable against the rebellious house [of Judah] and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡ “Put on a pot; put it on and also pour water into it;

<sup>4</sup> “Put in it the pieces [of meat],

Every good piece (the people of Jerusalem), the thigh and the shoulder;

Fill it with choice bones.

<sup>5</sup> “Take the choicest of the flock,

And also pile wood under the pot.

Make it boil vigorously

And boil its bones in the pot.”

<sup>6</sup> ‘Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“Woe (judgment is coming) to the bloody city,

To the pot in which there is rust

And whose rust has not gone out of it!

Take out of it piece by piece,

Without making any choice.

<sup>7</sup> “For her blood [that she has shed] remains in her midst; ‡

She put it on the bare rock;

She did not pour it on the ground

To cover it with dust.

<sup>8</sup> “That it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance, ‡

I have put her blood [guilt for her children sacrificed to Molech] on the bare rock,

That it may not be covered.”

<sup>9</sup> ‘Therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“Woe to the bloody city!

I will also make the pile [of wood] high.

<sup>10</sup> “Heap on wood, kindle the fire,

Boil the meat well [done]

And mix in the spices,

And let the bones be burned.

<sup>11</sup> “Then set the empty pot (Jerusalem) back on the coals ‡

So that it may be hot

And its bronze may glow

And its filthiness may be melted

And its rust (scum) may be consumed.

<sup>12</sup> “She has wearied Me with toil,
Yet her great rust has not left her;
Her thick rust and filth will not be burned away by fire [no matter how hot the flame].

<sup>13</sup> “In your filthiness are lewdness and outrage. ‡
Therefore I would have cleansed you,
Yet you were not [willing to be] cleansed,
You will not be cleansed from your filthiness again
Until I have satisfied My wrath against you.

<sup>14</sup> “I the LORD have spoken; it is coming and I will act. I will not relent, and I will not have compassion and I will not be sorry; in accordance with your ways and in accordance with your deeds I will judge and punish you,” says the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

Death of Ezekiel’s Wife Is a Sign

<sup>15</sup> Also the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>16</sup>“Son of man, listen carefully, I am about to take away from you the desire of your eyes [your wife] with a single stroke. Yet you shall not mourn and you shall not weep, and your tears shall not flow.

<sup>17</sup> “Sigh and groan in silence; do not mourn for the dead. Bind on your turban and put your sandals on your feet, and do not cover your mustache or eat the bread of [mourners furnished by other] men.” ‡

<sup>18</sup> So I spoke to the people in the morning, and in the evening my wife died. And the next morning I did as I was commanded.

<sup>19</sup> The people said to me, “These things that you are doing—tell us, what do they mean for us?” ‡

<sup>20</sup> Then I answered them, “The word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>21</sup>‘Speak to the house of Israel, “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will profane My sanctuary, the pride of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and the delight of your soul; and your sons and your daughters whom you have left behind [in Jerusalem] will fall by the sword. ‡

<sup>22</sup>‘You will do as I [Ezekiel] have done; you shall not cover your mustache nor eat the bread of [mourning brought to you by other] men. ‡

<sup>23</sup> ‘Your turbans will be on your heads and your sandals on your feet. You will not mourn or weep, but you will rot away in your sins and you will groan to one another.  [Lev 26:39] ‡

<sup>24</sup> ‘So Ezekiel will be a sign to you; in accordance with all that he has done you will do. And when this [destruction of the temple] comes, then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

<sup>25</sup> ‘As for you, son of man, on the day when I take their strength and their stronghold from them, their joy and their glory, the desire of their eyes and their heart’s [chief] delight (the temple), and I also take their sons and their daughters, ‡

<sup>26</sup> that on that day a survivor will come to you to let you hear [of the destruction of Jerusalem] with your [own] ears. ‡

<sup>27</sup> ‘On that day your mouth will be opened to him who escaped, and you will speak and no longer be mute. In this way you shall be a sign to them, and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.’ ” ‡

Judgment on Gentile Nations—Ammon

<sup>3</sup> “And say to the Ammonites, ‘Hear the word of the Lord GOD, for thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you said, ‘Aha!’ against My sanctuary when it was profaned and against the land of Israel when it was made desolate and against the house of Judah when they went into exile, ‡

<sup>4</sup>.therefore, behold, I am going to give you to the people of the East as a possession, and they will set their encampments among you and make their dwellings among you; they will eat your fruit and drink your milk.

<sup>5</sup> “I will make Rabbah [your chief city] a pasture for camels and [the cities of] the Ammonites a resting place for flocks [of sheep]. And you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘For thus says the Lord GOD, “Because you have clapped your hands and stamped your feet and rejoiced with all the contempt, and malice, and spite of your soul against the land of Israel, ‡

<sup>7</sup> therefore, behold, I have stretched out My hand against you and will hand you over as prey and spoil to the nations. And I will cut you off from the peoples and will cause you to perish from the countries; I will destroy you. Then you shall know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.”  [Jer 49:1–6 ;

Ezek 21:28–32 ; Amos 1:13–15 ; Zeph 2:8–11 ] ‡

Moab

<sup>8</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because Moab and Seir (Edom) say, ‘Behold, the house of Judah is like all the [pagan] nations,’ ‡

<sup>9</sup> therefore, behold, I will deprive the flank of Moab of its cities which are on its frontiers, the glory of the land, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon and Kiriathaim.

<sup>10</sup> “I will give it, along with the children of Ammon, to the people of the East as a possession, so that the children of Ammon will not be remembered among the nations [any longer]. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “Thus I will execute judgment and punishment on Moab, and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.”  [Is 15 , 16 ; Jer 48 ; Amos 2:1–3 ; Zeph 2:8–11 ]

Edom

<sup>12</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because Edom has acted against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and has greatly offended and has incurred grievous guilt by taking revenge on them,” ‡

<sup>13</sup> therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “I will also stretch out My hand against Edom and I will cut off and destroy man and beast. I will make it desolate; from Teman even to Dedan they will fall by the sword.

<sup>14</sup> “I will take My vengeance on Edom by the hand of My people Israel. Therefore, they will act in Edom in accordance with My anger and My wrath, and they will know and experience My vengeance,” says the Lord GOD.  [Is 34 ; Ezek 35 ; Amos 1:11 , 12 ; Obad] ‡

Philistia

<sup>15</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because the Philistines have acted revengefully and have taken vengeance [contemptuously] with malice in their hearts to destroy with everlasting hostility and hatred,” ‡

<sup>16</sup> therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will stretch out My hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethites and destroy the remnant of the seacoast. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “I will execute great vengeance on them with wrathful rebukes and chastisements and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD when I lay My vengeance on them.” ” ”  [Is 14:29–31; Jer 47; Amos 1:6–8; Zeph 2:4–7; Zech 9:5–7] ‡

Judgment on Tyre

<sup>1</sup> NOW IN the eleventh year, on the first [day] of the month [after the capture of King Jehoiachin], the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>2</sup>—“Son of man, because Tyre has said against Jerusalem, ‘Aha! The gateway of the people is broken; she is open to me. I will be filled, now that she is a desolate waste,’ ‡

<sup>3</sup> therefore, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I am against you, O Tyre, and I will cause many nations to come up against you, as the sea makes its waves crest.

<sup>4</sup> ‘They will destroy the walls of Tyre and break down her towers; and I will scrape her dust and debris from her and make her as bare as [the top of] a rock.
‡

<sup>5</sup> ‘Her island in the midst of the sea will become a dry place to spread nets, for I have spoken,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘and she will become a prey and a spoil for the nations. ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘Also Tyre’s daughters (towns, villages) on the mainland will be killed by the sword, and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.’ ” ‡

<sup>7</sup>—For thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will bring upon Tyre from the north Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, king of kings, with horses and chariots and with horsemen and a great army. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “He will kill your daughters on the mainland with the sword, and he shall make siege walls against you and build a siege ramp against you and raise [a roof of] large shields [as a defense] against you. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “He will direct the [shocking] blow of his battering rams against your walls, and he will tear down your towers with his crowbars.

<sup>10</sup> “Because of the great number of his horses, their dust will cover you; your walls [O Tyre] will shake from the noise of the horsemen and the wagons and the chariots when he enters your gates as men enter a city that is breached.

<sup>11</sup> “With the hoofs of his horses Nebuchadnezzar will trample all your streets; with the sword he will kill your people, and your strong pillars (obelisks) will fall to the ground.

<sup>12</sup> “Also they will take your riches as spoil and plunder your merchandise, and tear down your walls and your pleasant houses, and throw your stones and your timber and the debris [from your city] out in the water.

<sup>13</sup> “So I will silence your songs, and the sound of your lyres will no longer be heard. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “I will make you [Tyre] a bare rock; you will be a dry place on which to spread nets. You will never be rebuilt, for I the LORD have spoken,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>15</sup> Thus says the Lord GOD to Tyre, “Shall not the coastlands shake at the sound of your fall when the wounded groan, when the slaughter occurs in your midst? ‡

<sup>16</sup> “Then all the princes of the sea will go down from their thrones and remove their robes and take off their embroidered garments. They will clothe themselves with trembling; they will sit on the ground, tremble again and again, and be appalled at you. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “They will take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for you and say to you, ‡

‘How you have perished and vanished, O renowned city,
From the seas, O renowned city,
Which was mighty on the sea,
She and her inhabitants,
Who imposed her terror
On all who lived there!

<sup>18</sup> ‘Now the coastlands will tremble ‡
On the day of your fall;
Yes, the coastlands which are by the sea
Will be terrified at your departure.’ ”

<sup>19</sup> For thus says the Lord GOD, “When I make you a desolate city, like the cities which are not inhabited, when I bring up the deep over you and great waters cover you,

<sup>20</sup> then I will bring you down with those who descend into the pit (the place of the dead), to the people of old, and I will make you [Tyre] live in the depths of the earth, like the ancient ruins, with those who go down to the pit, so that you will not be inhabited; but I will set glory and splendor in the land of the living. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “I will bring terrors on you and you will be no more. Though you will be sought, yet you will never be found again,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

Ezekiel 27

Dirge for Tyre

<sup>2</sup> “Now you, son of man, take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for Tyre, ‡

<sup>3</sup> and say to Tyre, who lives at the entrance to the sea, merchant of the peoples to many coastlands, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“O Tyre, you have said, ‘I am perfect in beauty.’

<sup>4</sup> “Your borders are in the heart of the seas;
Your builders have perfected your beauty.

<sup>5</sup> “They have made all your planks of fir trees from Senir; ‡
They have taken a cedar from Lebanon to make a mast for you.

<sup>6</sup> “Of the oaks of Bashan they have made your oars; ‡
They have made your deck of boxwood from the coastlands of Cyprus, inlaid with ivory.

<sup>7</sup> “Your sail was of fine embroidered linen from Egypt
So that it became your distinguishing mark (insignia);
Your [ship’s] awning [which covered you] was blue and purple from the coasts of Elishah [of Asia Minor].

<sup>8</sup> “The inhabitants of Sidon and [the island] of Arvad were your oarsmen;
Your skilled and wise men, O Tyre, were with you; they were your pilots.

<sup>9</sup> “The elders of Gebal and its skilled and wise men were with you, repairing your leaks; ‡
All the ships of the sea with their mariners were with you to deal in your merchandise.

<sup>10</sup> “Persia and Lud and Put (Libya) were in your army as your men of war.

They hung the shield and the helmet on you; they gave you splendor.

<sup>11</sup> “The men of Arvad with your army were upon your walls, all around, and the Gammadim (men of valor) were in your towers. They hung their shields on your walls, all around; they perfected your beauty. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Tarshish [in Spain] was your customer and traded with you because of the abundance of your riches of all kinds; with silver, iron, tin, and lead they paid for your wares. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Javan (Greece), Tubal and Meshech (Asia Minor) traded with you; with the lives of men [taken as slaves] and vessels of bronze they paid for your merchandise. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “The men of Dedan were your traders. Many coastlands were your markets; ivory tusks and ebony they brought to you in payment or as gifts. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “Aram traded with you because of the abundance of the goods you made. They paid for your merchandise with emeralds, purple, embroidered work, fine linen, coral, and rubies.

<sup>17</sup> “Judah and the land of Israel, they were your traders; with the wheat of Minnith [in Ammon], cakes, honey, oil, and balm they paid for your goods. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “Damascus traded with you because of the abundance of your handiworks and the immense wealth of every kind, with the wine of Helbon [Aleppo] and the white wool [of Sachar in Syria].

<sup>19</sup> “Vedan and Javan traded with yarn from Uzal [in Arabia] for your wares; wrought iron, cassia, and sweet cane were among your merchandise.

<sup>21</sup> “Arabia and all the princes of Kedar, they were your customers for lambs, rams, and goats [favored by you]; for these they were your customers. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “The merchants of Sheba and Raamah [in Arabia], they traded with you; they paid for your wares with the choicest of all kinds of spices and all kinds of precious stones and gold. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “Haran and Canneh and Eden [in Mesopotamia], the merchants of Sheba [on the Euphrates], Asshur and Chilmad traded with you. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “They traded with you in choice fabrics and garments, in clothes of blue or violet and embroidered work, and in [treasures of] multi-colored damask and knotted carpets bound with tightly wound cords, which were among your merchandise.

<sup>25</sup> “The ships of Tarshish were the caravans for your merchandise, ‡

And you [Tyre] were replenished and very glorious [heavily laden with an imposing fleet]
In the heart of the seas.

26 “Your rowers have brought you ‡
Into great and deep waters;
The east wind has broken and shipwrecked you
In the heart of the seas.

27 “Your riches, your wares, your merchandise ‡
Your oarsmen and your pilots,
Your caulkers, your dealers in merchandise,
And all your men of war who are with you,
With all your company that is in your midst,
Will sink in the heart of the seas
On the day of your ruin.

28 “The pasture lands and the countryside will shake ‡
At the [piercing] sound of the [hopeless, wailing] cry of your pilots.

29 “All who handle the oar, ‡
The mariners and all the pilots of the sea
Will come down from their ships;
They will stand on the shore,

30 And they will make their voice heard [as they wail loudly] over you ‡
And they will cry bitterly.

They will throw dust on their heads;
They will wallow in ashes.

31 “And they will make themselves [completely] bald for you ‡
And wrap themselves in sackcloth;
And in bitterness of soul they will weep for you
With bitter mourning and wailing.

32 “In their wailing they will take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for you ‡
And sing a dirge for you:
‘Who is like Tyre,
Like her who is silent [destroyed] in the midst of the sea?
33 ‘When your wares went out to the sea, ‡
You met the desire, and the demand, and the necessities of many people;

You enriched the kings of the earth
With your abundant wealth and merchandise.
34 ‘Now you are shattered by the seas ‡
In the depths of the waters;
Your merchandise and all your crew
Have gone down with you.
35 ‘All the inhabitants of the coastlands ‡
Are aghast and appalled at you,
And their kings are horribly frightened and shudder;
Their faces twitch and pale.
36 ‘The merchants among the people hiss at you [with malicious joy]; ‡
You have become a horror and a source of terrors.
You will cease to be forever.’ ” ’ ”

Ezekiel 28

Tyre’s King Overthrown

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, say to the prince of Tyre, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡
“Because your heart is lifted up
And you have said and thought, ‘I am a god,
I sit in the seat of the gods
In the heart of the seas’;
Yet you are [only] a man [weak, feeble, made of earth] and not God,
Though you [imagine yourself to be more than mortal and] think your mind is as [wise as] the mind of God—<sup>3</sup> Behold, you are [imagining yourself] wiser than Daniel; ‡
There is no secret [you think] that is hidden from you;
<sup>4</sup> With your [own] wisdom and with your [own] understanding
You have acquired your riches and power
And have brought gold and silver into your treasuries;
<sup>5</sup> By your great wisdom and by your trade ‡

You have increased your riches and power,
And your heart is proud and arrogant because of your wealth;

<sup>6</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord GOD,

‘Because you have imagined your mind [to be]
Like the mind of God [having thoughts and plans like God Himself],  [Obad 3. ]

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, behold, I will bring strangers (Babylonians) upon you, ‡

The most ruthless and violent of the nations.
And they will draw their swords
Against the beauty of your wisdom [O Tyre]
And defile your splendor.

<sup>8</sup> ‘They will bring you down to the pit [of destruction],
And you will die the death of all those who die
In the heart of the seas.

<sup>9</sup> ‘Will you still say, “I am a god,” ‡
In the presence of him who kills you?
But you are [only] a man [made of earth] and not God,
In the hands of those who wound and profane you.

10 ‘You will die the death of the uncircumcised [barbarian] ‡
By the hand of strangers,
For I have spoken!’ says the Lord GOD.” ’ ”

<sup>11</sup> Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

12 “Son of man, take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for the king of Tyre and say to him, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“You had the full measure of perfection and the finishing touch [of completeness],

Full of wisdom and perfect in beauty.

<sup>13</sup> “You were in Eden, the garden of God; ‡

Every precious stone was your covering:

The ruby, the topaz, and the diamond;

The beryl, the onyx, and the jasper;

The lapis lazuli, the turquoise, and the emerald;

And the gold, the workmanship of your settings and your sockets,

Was in you.
They were prepared
On the day that you were created.  [Gen 3:14, 15; Is 14:12–15
; Matt 16:23 ]

14 “You were the anointed cherub who covers and protects,‡
And I placed you there.
You were on the holy mountain of God;
You walked in the midst of the stones of fire [sparkling jewels].  [Ex 24:10 ]

15 “You were blameless in your ways
From the day you were created
Until unrighteousness and evil were found in you.

16 “Through the abundance of your commerce‡
You were internally filled with lawlessness and violence,
And you sinned;
Therefore I have cast you out as a profane and unholy thing
From the mountain of God.
And I have destroyed you, O covering cherub,
From the midst of the stones of fire.

17 “Your heart was proud and arrogant because of your beauty;‡
You destroyed your wisdom for the sake of your splendor.
I cast you to the ground;
I lay you before kings,
That they might look at you.

18 “You profaned your sanctuaries
By the great quantity of your sins and the enormity of your guilt,
By the unrighteousness of your trade.
Therefore I have brought forth a fire from your midst;
It has consumed you,
And I have reduced you to ashes on the earth
In the sight of all who look at you.

19 “All the peoples (nations) who knew you‡
Are appalled at you;
You have come to a horrible and terrifying end
And will forever cease to be.” ’ ”  [Is 23; Joel 3:4–8; Amos

1:9, 10; Zech 9:3, 4]

Judgment of Sidon

<sup>20</sup> Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>21</sup> “Son of man, set your face toward Sidon, and prophesy against her ‡

“Behold, I am against you, O Sidon,
And I will show My glory and be glorified in your midst.
Then they will know [by personal experience] that I am the LORD when I bring judgment and punishment on her,
And I will manifest My holiness in her.

<sup>23</sup> “For I will send virulent disease to her ‡
And blood into her streets,
And the wounded will fall in her midst
By the sword upon her from every side,
And they shall know [without any doubt] that I am the
LORD.

<sup>24</sup> “And there will no longer be a briar or a painful thorn to prick the house of Israel from all those around them who treated them with contempt; then they will know [with clarity] that I am the Lord GOD.” ‡

Israel Regathered

<sup>25</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “When I gather the house of Israel from the nations among whom they are scattered, and I manifest my Holiness in them in the sight of the nations, then they will live in their own land which I gave to My servant Jacob. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “They shall live in it securely; and they will build houses, plant vineyards and live securely when I execute judgment on all those around them who despise them. Then they will know [with clarity and confidence] that I am the LORD their God.” ’ ” ‡

Judgment of Egypt

<sup>1</sup> IN THE tenth year [of the captivity of King Jehoiachin by the king of Babylon], in the tenth month, on the twelfth of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, set your face toward Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him and against all Egypt. ‡

“Behold, I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt,
The great monster that lies in the midst of his rivers, [Boastfully] declaring, ‘My Nile is my own, and I have made it for myself.’”

<sup>4</sup> “I will put hooks in your jaws ‡

And [I will] make the fish of your rivers stick to your scales.
And I will pull you up from the midst of your rivers,
And all the fish of your rivers will stick to your scales.

<sup>5</sup> “I will abandon you to the wilderness, you and all the fish of your rivers; ‡

You will fall on the open field; and you will not be gathered up or buried.

I have given you as food to the [wild] animals of the earth and the birds of the sky.”

<sup>6</sup> “And all the inhabitants of Egypt will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, ‡

Because they have been [only] a staff made of [fragile] reeds to the house of Israel.”

<sup>7</sup> “When they (Israel) grasped you (Egypt) by the hand, ‡

You broke and tore apart their hands;
When they leaned on you,
You broke and strained their backs.”

<sup>8</sup> “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I am going to bring a sword on you and cut off (destroy) both man and animal, ‡

<sup>9</sup> and the land of Egypt will be a desolation and a wasteland. And they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.

“Because you said, ‘The Nile is mine and I have made it,’ <sup>10</sup>behold (hear this), therefore, I am against you and against your rivers (the Nile, its tributaries), and I will make the land of Egypt a complete waste and a desolation, from [northern] Migdol to [southern] Syene, even as far as the border of Ethiopia (Cush). ‡

<sup>11</sup> “No man’s foot will pass through it, no animal’s foot will pass through it, and it will not be inhabited for forty years. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “So I will make the land of Egypt a desolation [plundered and ruined] among desolated lands; and her cities, among cities that are laid waste, will be desolate forty years. I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and [I will] disperse them through the lands.” ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘For thus says the Lord GOD, “At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations among whom they were scattered.  [Jer 46:25, 26 ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> “I will reverse the fortunes of Egypt [as I will that of Israel] and cause them to return to the land of Pathros, the land of their origin, and there they will be a lowly kingdom. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “It will be the lowliest of the kingdoms, and it will never again exalt itself above the nations; I will diminish the Egyptians so they will never again rule over the nations.

<sup>16</sup> “And Egypt will never again have the confidence of the house of Israel; their wickedness will be remembered whenever Israel looks toward them [for help]. Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the Lord GOD.” ’ ” ‡

<sup>17</sup> In the twenty-seventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon], in the first month, on the first of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>18</sup> “Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made his army work hard [at My command] against Tyre; every [soldier’s] head became bald and every shoulder was worn and peeled [from carrying loads of dirt and stones for siege works]. Yet he had no wages from Tyre [in proportion to the time and labor expended during the siege], either for himself or his army, for the work that he had done against it [for Me].” ‡

<sup>19</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I will give the land of Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. And he will carry off her wealth and capture her spoil and seize her plunder; and it shall be the wages for his army.

<sup>20</sup> “I have given him the land of Egypt for the hard work which he did [against Tyre], because they did it for Me,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

21“In that day I will make a horn sprout for the house of Israel, and I will open your mouth among them, and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD [when I renew their strength].” ‡

Ezekiel 30

Dirge for Egypt

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD,’ ‡

“Wail, ‘Alas for the day!’

<sup>3</sup> “For the day is near, ‡

Even the day of the LORD is near,

It will be a cloudy day;

A time of doom for the nations.

<sup>4</sup> “A sword will come upon Egypt, ‡

And anguish and trembling will be in Ethiopia (Cush),

When the slain fall in Egypt

And they [of Babylon] carry away her great mass of people and her riches

And her foundations are torn down.

<sup>5</sup> “Ethiopia (Cush), Put, Lud, all Arabia, Libya (Cub) and the people of the land of the covenant [the Jews who had taken refuge in Egypt] will fall with the Egyptians by the sword.” ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘Thus says the LORD, ‡

“Those who uphold and support Egypt will fall

And the pride of her power will come down;

From Migdol [in the north] to Syene [in the south]

They will fall within her by the sword,”

Says the Lord GOD.

<sup>7</sup> “And they will be desolate ‡

In the midst of countries that are desolated;

And her cities will be

Among cities that are devastated [by plunder and slavery].

<sup>8</sup> “And they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD,

When I have set a fire in Egypt
And all her helpers are shattered and destroyed.

<sup>9</sup> “On that day [swift] messengers will go from Me in ships to frighten the careless and unsuspecting Ethiopians, and there will be anguish and trembling in them as in the day of [judgment for] Egypt; for behold, it is coming!” ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“I will also make the great people of Egypt cease
By the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.

<sup>11</sup> “He and his people with him, ‡
The most violent and ruthless of the nations,
Will be brought in to destroy the land,
And they will draw their swords against Egypt
And fill the land with the slain.

<sup>12</sup> “And I will make the rivers [of the Nile delta] dry ‡
And sell the land into the hands of evil men;
I will make the land desolate
And all that is in it,
By the hand of strangers. I the LORD have spoken.”

<sup>13</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‡

“I will also destroy the idols
And I will put an end to the images in Memphis;
There will no longer be a prince of the land of Egypt.
And I will put fear in the land of Egypt.

<sup>14</sup> “I will make Pathros desolate, ‡
Set fire to Zoan
And execute judgments and punishments on Thebes.

<sup>15</sup> “I will pour out My wrath on Pelusium, ‡
The stronghold of Egypt,
And I will cut off (destroy) the population of Thebes.

<sup>16</sup> “I will set fire to Egypt; ‡
Pelusium will writhe in [great] anguish,
Thebes shall be torn open

And Memphis shall be in daily distress.

<sup>17</sup> “The young men of On (Aven) and of Pi-beseth
Will fall by the sword,

And the women [and children] will go into captivity.

<sup>18</sup> “In Tehaphnehes the day will be dark ‡

When I break the yoke bars and dominion of Egypt there.

Then the pride of her power will come to an end;

A cloud [of disasters] will cover her,

And her daughters will go into captivity.

<sup>19</sup> “In this way I will bring judgment and punishment on Egypt.

Then they shall know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ” ”

Victory for Babylon

<sup>20</sup> In the eleventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken to Babylon], in the first month, on the seventh of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>21</sup>“Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and behold, it has not been bound up to heal or wrapped with a bandage, so that it may be strong to hold and wield the sword. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt and will break his arms, both the strong one and the broken, and I will make the sword fall from his hand. ‡

<sup>23</sup> ‘I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations and will disperse them throughout the lands. ‡

<sup>24</sup> ‘I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put My sword in his hand; but I will break Pharaoh’s arms and he will groan before him (Nebuchadnezzar) with the groanings of a [mortally] wounded man.

<sup>25</sup> ‘But I will strengthen and hold up the arms of the king of Babylon and the arms of Pharaoh will fall down. Then the people [of Egypt] will know that I am the LORD, when I put My sword into the hand of the king of Babylon and he stretches it out against the land of Egypt. ‡

<sup>26</sup> ‘When I scatter the Egyptians among the nations and disperse them through the lands, then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.’ ” ‡

Pharaoh Warned of Assyria's Fate

<sup>1</sup> IN THE eleventh year [after King Jehoiachin was taken captive to Babylon], in the third month, on the first of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his hordes, ‡

‘Whom are you like in your greatness?

<sup>3</sup> ‘Behold (listen carefully), Assyria was a cedar in Lebanon ‡
With beautiful branches and with forest shade,
And of high stature,
With its top among the clouds.

<sup>4</sup> ‘The waters nourished it, the deep [underground waters] made it grow tall. ‡

Its rivers ran all around the place where it was planted, Sending out its streams to all the trees (other nations) of the field.

<sup>5</sup> ‘Therefore it towered higher than all the trees of the forest ‡
And its boughs multiplied and its branches grew long;
Because there was so much water they spread outward.

<sup>6</sup> ‘All the birds of the sky made their nests in its twigs, ‡
And under its branches all the animals of the field gave birth [to their young],

And all of the great nations lived under its shadow.

<sup>7</sup> ‘So it was beautiful in its greatness, in the length of its branches;
For its roots extended [downward] to great waters.

<sup>8</sup> ‘The cedars in the garden of God could not hide or rival it; ‡
The cypress trees did not have boughs like it,
And the plane trees did not have branches like it.
No tree in the garden of God was like it in its beauty.
<sup>9</sup> ‘I made it beautiful with the great mass of its branches,
So that all the trees of Eden which were in the garden of God were jealous of it (Assyria).

<sup>10</sup> ‘Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Because it is high in stature and has set its top among the thick boughs and the clouds, and its heart is proud of its height,  [2 Kin 18:31–35.] ‡

<sup>11</sup> I will hand it over to a mighty one and a mighty one of the nations; he will most certainly deal with it. I have driven it away in accordance with its wickedness.

<sup>12</sup> “Alien tyrants of the nations have cut it down and left it; its foliage has fallen on the mountains and in all the valleys and its branches have been broken in all the ravines of the land. And all the nations of the earth have come from under its shade and have left it.” ‡

<sup>13</sup> “All the birds of the sky will nest in its ruins, and all the animals of the field will rest on its fallen branches.” ‡

<sup>14</sup> so that none of the trees by the waters may exalt themselves because of their height, nor set their top among the clouds, nor their well-watered mighty ones stand [arrogantly] in their height. For they have all been handed over to death, to the earth beneath, among the sons of men, with those who go down to the pit (the grave).” ‡

<sup>15</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “On the day when Assyria went down to Sheol (the place of the dead) I caused mourning; I closed the deep [subterranean waters] over it and restrained its rivers. And the many waters [that contributed to its prosperity] were held back; and I made [the heart of] Lebanon mourn for it, and all the trees of the field wilted away because of it.

<sup>16</sup> “I made the nations quake at the sound of its fall when I cast it down to Sheol with those who descend into the pit; and all the well-watered trees of Eden, the choicest and the best of Lebanon, will be comforted in the earth beneath [at Assyria’s downfall].” ‡

<sup>17</sup> “They also went down to Sheol with it to those who were slain by the sword; those who were its strength lived under its shade among the nations.” ‡

<sup>18</sup> “Which among the trees of Eden do you equal in glory and in greatness [O Egypt]? Yet you [also] will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the earth beneath (nether world). You will lie among the uncircumcised (the barbaric, the boorish, the crude) with those who were slain by the sword. This is how it shall be with Pharaoh and all his hordes!” ’ says the Lord GOD.”  [Ezek 28:10 ; 32:19] ‡

Dirge for Pharaoh and Egypt

<sup>1</sup> IN THE twelfth year [after King Jehoiachin of Judah was taken into exile by the king of Babylon], in the twelfth month, on the first of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>2</sup>“Son of man, take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) over Pharaoh king of Egypt and say to him,‡

‘You have compared yourself to a young lion among the nations,
But you are like a monster in the seas;
You burst into your rivers
And disturbed and muddied the waters with your feet
And fouled their rivers [the source of their prosperity].’ ”

<sup>3</sup> Thus says the Lord GOD,‡

“I will spread out My net over you
With a company of many nations,
And they will bring you up in My net.

<sup>4</sup> “Then I will leave you (Egypt) on the land;‡
I will hurl you on the open field.
And I will make all the birds of the sky dwell on you,
And I will satisfy the animals of all the earth with you.

<sup>5</sup> “And I will scatter your flesh on the mountains‡
And fill the valleys with your debris [your corpses and their worms].

<sup>6</sup> “I will also water the land with your flowing blood
As far as the mountains,
And the ravines will be full of you.

<sup>7</sup> “And when I extinguish you,‡
I will cover the heavens [of Egypt] and darken their stars;
I will cover the sun with a cloud
And the moon will not give its light.

<sup>8</sup> “All the bright lights in the heavens
I will darken over you
And I will place darkness on your land,”
Says the Lord GOD.

<sup>9</sup> “I will also put fear into the hearts of many peoples when I bring your destruction [and captivity] among the nations, into countries which you have not known.

<sup>10</sup> “I will make many peoples appalled at you [at your judgment and your defeat], and their kings will be horribly afraid of you when I brandish My sword [of judgment] before them; they will tremble and shudder every moment, every man for his own life, on the day of your downfall.” ‡

<sup>11</sup> For thus says the Lord GOD, “The sword of the king of Babylon will come on you.” ‡

<sup>12</sup> “I will make your horde [of people] fall by the swords of the mighty—all of them are tyrants among the nations,” ‡

And they will devastate the pride and presumption of Egypt,
And all its hordes will be destroyed.

<sup>13</sup> “I will also destroy all its cattle from beside its great waters;
‡

And the foot of man will not muddy them anymore
Nor will the hoofs of the animals muddy them.

<sup>14</sup> “Then I will make their waters quiet and clear;
I will make their rivers run [slowly and smoothly] like oil,”
Says the Lord GOD.

<sup>15</sup> “When I make the land of Egypt desolate, ‡
And the country is stripped and deprived of all that which filled it,

When I strike all those who live in it,
Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the
LORD.

<sup>16</sup> “This is the dirge (funeral poem to be sung) and they shall sing it [for her].
The daughters of the nations shall sing it; for Egypt and for all her hordes they shall sing it,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>17</sup> In the twelfth year [after King Jehoiachin of Judah was taken into exile], on the fifteenth of the month, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>18</sup> “Son of man, wail over the hordes of Egypt and cast them down, both her and the daughters of the powerful and majestic nations, to the nether world
(the place of the dead), with those who go down to the pit; ‡

<sup>19</sup> ‘Whom [among them] do you surpass in beauty? ‡ Go down and make your bed with the uncircumcised (the barbaric, the boorish, the crude).’

<sup>20</sup> “They will fall among those who are slain by the sword. She (Egypt) is handed over to the sword; they have drawn her and all her hordes away [to judgment].

<sup>21</sup> “The strong among the mighty rulers will say of him (Pharaoh) and his allies from the midst of Sheol, ‘They have gone down [defeated]; they lie still, the uncircumcised, slain by the sword.’ ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Assyria is there with all her warriors; their graves are all around her. All of them are slain, fallen by the sword,

<sup>24</sup> “Elam [a conquest of Assyria] is there and all her hordes around her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, who have gone down uncircumcised to the lower parts of the earth, who made their terror spread in the land of the living and bore their shame and defeat with those who went down to the pit. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “They have made a bed for her among the slain with all her hordes. Her graves are around it; they are all uncircumcised (barbaric, boorish, crude), slain by the sword (for their terror had been spread in the land of the living), and they bore their disgrace with those who go down to the pit; they were laid among the slain.

<sup>26</sup> “Meshech, Tubal, and all their hordes are there; their graves surround them. All of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, for they spread their terror in the land of the living. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “Nor do they lie beside the fallen heroes of the uncircumcised, who went down to Sheol with their weapons of war, whose swords were laid [with honors] under their heads. The punishment for their sins rested on their bones, for the terror of these heroes was once in the land of the living. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “But you will be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised and you will lie [without honors] with those who are slain by the sword.

<sup>29</sup> “Edom is there also, her kings and all her princes, who for all their power and strength are laid with those who were slain by the sword; they will lie [in shame and defeat] with the uncircumcised and with those who go down to the pit. ‡

<sup>30</sup> “The princes of the north are there also, all of them, and all the Sidonians, who in spite of the terror resulting from their power, have gone down in shame with the slain. So they lay down uncircumcised with those slain by the sword and bore their disgrace with those who go down to the pit. ‡

31.“Pharaoh will see them, and he will be comforted for all his hordes slain by the sword—Pharaoh and all his army,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

32 “Though I instilled a terror of him in the land of the living, yet he will be made to lie down among the uncircumcised along with those slain by the sword, even Pharaoh and all his hordes,” says the Lord GOD.  [Is 19; Jer 46; Zech 14:18, 19 ]

The Watchman’s Duty

1 AND THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2—“Son of man, speak to the sons of your people [who are exiled in Babylon] and say to them, ‘If I bring a sword on a land, and the people of the land take one man from among them and make him their watchman, ‡

3 and he sees the sword coming on the land, and he blows the trumpet and warns the people,

4 then whoever hears the sound of the trumpet and does not take warning, and a sword comes and takes him away, his blood will be on his [own] head. ‡

5 ‘He heard the sound of the trumpet but did not take warning; his blood shall be on himself. But if he had taken warning, he would have saved his life.

6 ‘But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet and the people are not warned, and the sword comes and takes any one of them, he is taken away because of his corruption and sin; but I will require his blood from the watchman’s hand.’ ‡

7 “Now as for you, son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; so you shall hear a message from My mouth and give them a warning from Me. ‡

8 “When I say to the wicked, ‘O wicked man, you will certainly die,’ and you do not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man will die because of his sin; but I will require his blood from your hand.

9 “But if you on your part warn the wicked man to turn from his [evil] way and he does not turn from his [evil] way, he will die in his sin; but you have saved your life.

10 “Now as for you, son of man, say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus you have said, ‘Truly our transgressions and our sins are on us, and we are rotting away because of them; how then can we live?’’ ‡

11 “Say to them, ‘As I live,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘I take no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather that the wicked turn from his way and live. Turn back (change your way of thinking), turn back [in repentance] from your evil ways! For why should you die, O house of Israel?’ ‡

12—“And you, son of man, say to the sons of your people, ‘The righteousness of the righteous man will not save him in the day of his transgression; and as for the wickedness of the wicked, he will not stagger because of it in the day that he turns from his wickedness, whereas a righteous man will not be able to live because of his [previous acts of] righteousness on the day when he commits sin.’ ‡

13 “When I say to the righteous that he will most certainly live, and he trusts in his [previous acts of] righteousness [to save him] and commits injustice, none of his righteous deeds will be remembered; but he will die for his injustice that he committed. ‡

14 “But when I say to the wicked, ‘You will certainly die,’ and he turns from his sin and practices that which is just (fair) and right—‡

15 if a wicked man returns [what he took as] a pledge, pays back what he had taken by robbery, walks in the statutes which ensure life, without committing injustice, he will certainly live; he will not die. ‡

16 “None of his sins that he has committed will be remembered against him. He has practiced that which is just (fair) and right; he will most certainly live. ‡

17 “Yet your people [who are in exile in Babylon] say, ‘The way of the Lord is not right;’ but as for them, it is their own way that is not right. ‡

18 “When the righteous turns back from his righteousness and commits injustice, he will also die because of it. ‡

19 “But when a wicked man turns back from his wickedness and practices what is just (fair) and right, he will live because of it.

20 “Yet you say, ‘The way of the Lord is not right.’ O house of Israel, I will judge you, every one [of you] in accordance with his own ways!” ‡

Word of Jerusalem’s Capture

21 In the twelfth year of our exile [in Babylon], on the fifth of the tenth month, a survivor from Jerusalem came to me, saying, “The city has been captured.” ‡

<sup>22</sup> Now the hand of the LORD had been upon me in the evening, before the survivor came. And He opened my mouth at the time he came to me in the morning; so my mouth was opened [in readiness] and I was no longer mute. ‡

<sup>23</sup> Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>24</sup> “Son of man, those [back in Palestine] who inhabit these ruins in the land of Israel are saying, ‘Abraham was [only] one man and he took possession of the land, but we are many; the land has [most certainly] been given to us [to possess] as property.’ ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Therefore say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “You eat meat with the blood in it and raise your eyes to your idols and shed blood. Should you take possession of the land?  [Gen 9:4 ; Lev 3:17 ; 7:27 ; Acts 15:28 , 29 ] ‡

<sup>26</sup> “You rely on your sword [as your security]; you commit outrageous and disgraceful acts and each of you defiles his neighbor’s wife. Should you then take possession of the land?” ’ ‡

<sup>27</sup> “You shall say this to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “As I live, those who are in the ruins certainly will fall by the sword, and I will give whoever is in the open field to the [predatory] animals to be devoured, and those who are in strongholds and in caves will die of virulent diseases. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “And I will make the land [of Israel] a desolation and a ruin, and her pride in her power will be brought to an end; and the mountains of Israel will be so deserted that no one will pass through. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, when I make the land a desolation and a ruin because of all the atrocities which they have committed.” ’

<sup>30</sup> “But as for you, son of man, your people who talk about you by the walls and in the doorways of the houses say one to another, every one to his brother, ‘Come now and hear what the message is that comes from the LORD.’ ‡

<sup>31</sup> “They come to you as people come, and they sit before you as My people, and they hear your words, but they do not practice them; for with their mouth they express loving devotion, but their heart goes after their (unlawful) gain. ‡

<sup>32</sup> “Behold, you are to them like a love song by one who has a pleasant voice and plays well on a stringed instrument [merely to entertain them]; for they hear your words but do not practice them.

<sup>33</sup> “So when it comes to pass—as it most certainly will—then they will know [without any doubt] that a prophet has been among them.” ‡

Ezekiel 34

Prophecy against the Shepherds of Israel

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel. Prophesy and say to them, the [spiritual] shepherds, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Woe (judgment is coming) to the [spiritual] shepherds of Israel who have been feeding themselves! Should not the shepherds feed the flock? ¶

<sup>3</sup> “You eat the fat [the choicest of meat], and clothe yourselves with the wool, you slaughter the best of the livestock, but you do not feed the flock. ¶

<sup>4</sup> “You have not strengthened those who are weak, you have not healed the sick, you have not bandaged the crippled, you have not brought back those gone astray, you have not looked for the lost; but you have ruled them with force and violence. ¶

<sup>5</sup> “They were scattered because there was no shepherd, and when they were scattered they became food for all the predators of the field. ¶

<sup>6</sup> “My flock wandered through all the mountains and on every high hill; My flock was scattered over all the face of the earth and no one searched or sought them.” ”  [Matt 9:36 ]

<sup>7</sup> Therefore, you [spiritual] shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

<sup>8</sup> “As I live,” says the Lord GOD, “certainly because My flock has become prey, My flock has even become food for every predator of the field for lack of a shepherd, and My shepherds did not search for My flock, but rather the shepherds fed themselves and did not feed My flock; ¶

<sup>9</sup> therefore, you [spiritual] shepherds, hear the word of the LORD:

<sup>10</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am against the shepherds, and I will demand My flock from them and make them stop tending the flock, so that the shepherds cannot feed themselves anymore. I will rescue My flock from their mouth, so that they will not be food for them.” ” ¶

The Restoration of Israel

<sup>11</sup> For thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I Myself will search for My flock and seek them out.

<sup>12</sup> “As a shepherd cares for his sheep on the day that he is among his scattered flock, so I will care for My sheep; and I will rescue them from all the places to which they were scattered on a cloudy and gloomy day. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “I will bring them out from the nations and gather them from the countries and bring them to their own land; and I will feed them on the mountains of Israel, by the streams, and in all the inhabited places of the land. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “I will feed them in a good pasture, and their grazing ground will be on the mountain heights of Israel. There they will lie down on good grazing ground and feed in rich pasture on the mountains of Israel. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “I will feed My flock and I will let them lie down [to rest],” says the Lord GOD.

<sup>16</sup> “I will seek the lost, bring back the scattered, bandage the crippled, and strengthen the weak and the sick; but I will destroy the fat and the strong [who have become hard-hearted and perverse]. I will feed them with judgment and punishment.  [Luke 19:10. ] ‡

<sup>17</sup> “And as for you, My flock, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I judge between one sheep and another, between the rams and the male goats [between the righteous and the unrighteous]. ‡

<sup>18</sup> ‘Is it too little a thing for you that you [unrighteous ones who are well-fed] feed in the best pasture, yet you must trample down with your feet [of wickedness] the rest of your pastures? Or that you drink clear [still] water, yet you must muddy with your feet [of wickedness] the rest [of the water]?’

<sup>19</sup> ‘As for My flock (the righteous), they must feed on what you trample with your feet and drink what you muddy with your feet!’ ”

<sup>20</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord GOD to them, “Behold, I Myself will judge between the [well-fed] fat sheep and the lean sheep. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “Because you push with side and shoulder, and gore with your horns all those that have become weak and sick until you have scattered them away,

<sup>22</sup> therefore, I will rescue My flock, and they shall no longer be prey; and I will judge between one sheep [ungodly] and another [godly].

<sup>23</sup> “Then I will appoint over them one shepherd and he will feed them, [a ruler like] My servant David; he will feed them and be their shepherd.  [Ezek 37:24; John 10:14–18. ] ‡

<sup>24</sup> “And I the LORD will be their God, and My servant David will be a prince among them; I the LORD have spoken. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “I will make a covenant of peace with them and will eliminate the predatory animals from the land so that they may live securely in the wilderness and sleep [safely] in the woods.  [Ps 127:2; Is 11:6–9; John 14:27; 16:33. ] ‡

<sup>26</sup> “I will make them and the places around My hill (Jerusalem, Zion) a blessing. And I will make showers come down in their season; there will be [abundant] showers of blessing (divine favor). ‡

<sup>27</sup> “Also the tree of the field will yield its fruit and the earth will yield its produce; and My people will be secure on their land. Then they will know [with confidence] that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bars of their yoke and have rescued them from the hand of those who made them slaves. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “They will no longer be prey to the nations, and the predators of the earth will not devour them; but they will live safely, and no one will make them afraid [in the day of the Messiah’s reign].  [Is 60:21; 61:3. ] ‡

<sup>29</sup> “I will prepare for them a place renowned for planting [crops], and they will not again be victims of famine in the land, and they will not endure the insults of the nations any longer. ‡

<sup>30</sup> “Then they will know [with assurance] that I the LORD their God, am with them and that they, the house of Israel, are My people,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “As for you, My flock, the flock of My pasture, you are men, and I am your God,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

Ezekiel 35

Prophecy against Mount Seir

<sup>2</sup> “Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir (Edom), and prophesy against it ‡

“Behold, Mount Seir, I am against you,
And I will stretch out My hand against you
And make you completely desolate.

<sup>4</sup> “I will destroy your cities
And you will become a wasteland.

Then you shall know [without any doubt] that I am the
LORD.

<sup>5</sup> “Because you [descendants of Esau] have had an everlasting hatred [for

Jacob (Israel)] and you handed over the sons of Israel to the power of the sword at the time of their tragedy, at the time of their final punishment [the Babylonian conquest], [Ezek 25:12–14 ; 36:5] ‡

6—therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will hand you over to bloodshed, and bloodshed will pursue you since you have not hated bloodshed, bloodshed will pursue you.” ‡

7 “I will make Mount Seir (Edom) a ruin and a desolate wasteland and I will cut off from it the one who passes through it and the one who returns.” ‡

8 “I will fill its mountains with its slain; those killed by the sword will fall on your hills, and in your valleys, and in all your ravines.

9 “I will make you an everlasting desolation and your cities will not be inhabited. Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ‡

10 “Because you [descendants of Esau] have said, ‘These two nations [Israel and Judah] and these two lands shall be mine, and we will take possession of them,’ although the LORD was there,” ‡

11 therefore, as I live,” says the Lord GOD, “I will deal with you in accordance with the anger and envy you showed because of your hatred for them; and I will make Myself known among them [as Judge] when I judge and punish you.” ‡

12 “Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all your scornful speeches which you have spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, ‘They have been made a wasteland; they have been given to us as food.’” ‡

13 “So you have boasted and spoken arrogantly against Me, and have multiplied your words against Me; I have heard it.” ‡

14 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “While the whole earth rejoices, I will make you a wasteland.”’ ‡

15 “As you rejoiced over the inheritance of the house of Israel because it was desolate, so I will do to you; you will be a desolate waste, O Mount Seir, and all Edom, all of it. Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.”’ ‡

The Mountains of Israel to Be Blessed

1 “AND YOU, son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel and say, ‘You mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. ‡

<sup>2</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Because the enemy has said of you, ‘Aha!’ and, ‘The ancient heights have become our property,’ ‡

<sup>3</sup> therefore prophesy and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “For good reason they have made you a desolation, and they crushed you from every side so that you would become a possession of the rest of the nations and you have become the talk and the whispering of the people.”’ ‡

<sup>4</sup> ‘Therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD. Thus says the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the ravines and to the valleys, to the desolate ruins and to the deserted cities which have become prey and a mockery to the rest of the nations which surround you, ‡

<sup>5</sup> therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Most certainly in the fire of My jealousy (love for that which is Mine) I have spoken against the rest of the nations and against all Edom, who appropriated My land for themselves as a possession with wholehearted joy and with uttermost contempt, so that they might empty it out [and possess it] as prey.” ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel and say to the mountains and to the hills, to the ravines and to the valleys, “Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I have spoken in My jealousy (love for that which is Mine) and in My wrath because you have endured the [shameful] insults of the nations.’ ‡

<sup>7</sup> “Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, ‘I have lifted up My hand and sworn [an oath] that the nations that are around you will themselves endure their [shameful] insults. ‡

<sup>8</sup> ‘But you, O mountains of Israel, will put out your branches and bear your fruit to My people Israel; for they will soon come [home].

<sup>9</sup> ‘For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn to you [in favor], and you shall be cultivated and sown.

<sup>10</sup> ‘I will multiply people on you, all the house of Israel, [indeed] all of it; the cities shall be inhabited and the ruins will be rebuilt. ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘I will multiply on you man and animal; and they will increase and be fruitful. And I will cause you to be inhabited as you were formerly, and I will do better [things] for you than at your beginning. Then you will know [with great confidence] that I am the LORD. ‡

<sup>12</sup> ‘Yes, [O mountains of Israel] I will cause men—My people Israel—to walk on you and take possession of you, so that you will become their inheritance and never again bereave them of children.’ ‡

<sup>13</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Because they say to you, “You [O land] are a

devourer of people and have bereaved your nation of children,” ‡

<sup>14</sup> therefore you will no longer devour people, and no longer bereave your nation of children,’ says the Lord GOD.

<sup>15</sup> “I will not let you hear insults from the nations anymore, nor will you bear disgrace from the peoples any longer, nor will you cause your nation to stumble [through idolatry] any longer,” says the Lord GOD.’ ” ‡

<sup>16</sup> Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

<sup>17</sup> “Son of man, when the house of Israel was living in their own land, they defiled it by their [own] behavior and by their [idolatrous] actions. Their conduct before Me was like the uncleanness of a woman during her [physical] impurity. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “So I poured out My wrath on them for the blood which they had shed on the land and because they had defiled it with their idols. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “Also I scattered them among the nations and they were dispersed throughout the countries. I judged and punished them in accordance with their conduct and their [idolatrous] behavior. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “When they came to the nations wherever they went, they profaned My holy name, because it was said of them, ‘These are the people of the LORD; yet they have come out of His land.’ ‡

<sup>21</sup> “But I had concern for My holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the nations where they went. ‡

Israel to Be Renewed for His Name’s Sake

<sup>22</sup> “Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “It is not for your sake, O house of Israel, that I am about to act, but for My holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you went. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “I will vindicate the holiness of My great name which has been profaned among the nations, which you have profaned among them. Then the nations will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD,” says the Lord GOD, “when I prove Myself holy among you in their sight. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “For I will take you from the nations and gather you from all the countries and bring you into your own land. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “Then I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your uncleanness and from all your idols. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “Moreover, I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit within you, and I will remove the heart of stone from your flesh and give you a heart of flesh. ‡

27 “I will put my Spirit within you and cause you to walk in My statutes, and you will keep My ordinances and do them. ‡

28 “You will live in the land that I gave to your fathers; and you will be My people, and I will be your God. ‡

29 “I will also save you from all your uncleanness, and I will call for the grain and make it abundant, and I will not bring famine on you. ‡

30 “I will multiply the fruit of the tree and the produce of the field, so that you will not suffer again the disgrace of famine among the nations. ‡

31 “Then you will remember [clearly] your [own] evil ways and your deeds that were not good, and you will loathe yourselves in your own sight for your sins and for your outrageous atrocities. ‡

32 “I am not doing this for your sake,” says the Lord GOD. “Let that be known to you. Be ashamed and humiliated for your [wicked] ways, O house of Israel!” ‡

33 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “On the day that I cleanse you from all your sins I will also cause the cities [of Israel] to be inhabited, and the ruins will be rebuilt. ‡

34 “The desolate land will be cultivated instead of being a desolation in the sight of everyone who passes by.

35 “Then they will say, ‘This land that was deserted and desolate has become like the garden of Eden; and the waste, desolate, and ruined cities are fortified and inhabited.’ ‡

36 “Then the nations that are left around you will know that I the LORD have rebuilt the ruined places and planted that which was desolate. I the LORD have spoken, and will do it.” ‡

37 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “This too I will let the house of Israel ask Me to do for them: I will increase their people like a flock. ‡

38 “Like the flock for sacrifices, like the flock at Jerusalem during her appointed feasts, so will the desolate cities be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know [with confident assurance] that I am the LORD.” ’ ”

Ezekiel 37

Vision of the Valley of Dry Bones

<sup>1</sup> THE HAND of the LORD was upon me, and He brought me out in the Spirit of the LORD and set me down in the middle of the valley; and it was full of bones. ‡

<sup>2</sup> He caused me to pass all around them, and behold, there were very many [human bones] in the open valley; and lo, they were very dry.

<sup>3</sup> And He said to me, “Son of man, can these bones live?” And I answered, “O Lord GOD, You know.” [1 Cor 15:35.] ‡

<sup>4</sup> Again He said to me, “Prophesy to these bones and say to them, ‘O dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.’” [John 5:28.]

<sup>5</sup> “Thus says the Lord GOD to these bones, ‘Behold, I will make breath enter you so that you may come to life.’ ‡

<sup>6</sup> ‘I will put sinews on you, make flesh grow back on you, cover you with skin, and I will put breath in you so that you may come alive; and you will know that I am the LORD.’ ” ‡

<sup>7</sup> So I prophesied as I was commanded; and as I prophesied, there was a [thundering] noise, and behold, a rattling; and the bones came together, bone to its bone.

<sup>8</sup> And I looked, and behold, there were sinews on the bones, and flesh grew and skin covered them; but there was no breath in them.

<sup>9</sup> Then He said to me, “Prophesy to the breath, son of man, and say to the breath, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe on these slain, that they may live.”’ ” ‡

<sup>10</sup> So I prophesied as He commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they came to life and stood up on their feet, an exceedingly great army. [Rev 11:11.] ‡

The Vision Explained

<sup>11</sup> Then He said to me, “Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. Behold, they say, ‘Our bones are dried up and our hope is lost. We are completely cut off.’ ” ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Therefore prophesy and say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I will open your graves and make you come up out of your graves, My people; and I will bring you [back home] to the land of Israel.’ ” [Hos 13:14.] ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Then you will know [with confidence] that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves and made you come up out of your graves, My people.

<sup>14</sup> “I will put My Spirit in you and you will come to life, and I will place you in your own land. Then you will know that I the LORD have spoken, and fulfilled it,” says the LORD.” ”‡

Reunion of Judah and Israel

<sup>15</sup> The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

<sup>16</sup> “And you, son of man, take a stick and write on it, ‘For Judah and for the children of Israel, his companions’; then take another stick and write on it, ‘For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim and all the house of Israel, his companions.’‡

<sup>17</sup> Then join them together into one stick, so that they may become one in your hand.‡

<sup>18</sup> “When your people say to you, ‘Will you not tell us what you mean by these?’‡

<sup>19</sup> say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am going to take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel, his companions; and I will join the stick of Judah with it and make them one stick, and they will be one in My hand.” ’‡

<sup>20</sup> “The sticks on which you write shall be in your hand before their eyes.‡

<sup>21</sup> “Say to them, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am going to take the children of Israel from among the nations where they have gone, and I will gather them from every side and bring them into their own land;‡

<sup>22</sup> and I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel; and one king will be king over all of them; and they will no longer be two nations, and will no longer be divided into two kingdoms.  [Jer 50:4 ]‡

<sup>23</sup> “They will no longer defile themselves with their idols, or with their detestable things, or with any of their transgressions; but I will save them from all their transgressions in which they have sinned, and I will cleanse them. So they will be My people, and I will be their God.‡

The Davidic Kingdom

<sup>24</sup> “My servant David will be king over them, and they all will have one shepherd. They will also walk in My ordinances and keep My statutes and observe them.‡

<sup>25</sup> “They will live in the land where your fathers lived, [the land] that I gave to My servant Jacob, and they will live there, they and their children and their children's children, forever; and My servant David will be their leader forever.  [Is 60:21 ; Joel 3:20 ; Amos 9:15 ] ‡

26 “I will make a covenant of peace with them; it will be an everlasting covenant with them. And I will place them and multiply them, and will put My sanctuary in their midst forever. ‡

27 “My dwelling place also will be with them; and I will be their God, and they will be My people. ‡

28 “Then the nations will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD who sets apart and sanctifies Israel [for holy use], when My sanctuary is in their midst forever.” ’ ” ‡

Prophecy about Gog and Future Invasion of Israel

1 AND THE word of the LORD came to me, saying,

2 “Son of man, set your face against Gog of the land of Magog, the chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him, ‡

3 and say, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief ruler of Meshech and Tubal.

4 “I will turn you around and put hooks into your jaws, and I will bring you out, and all your army, horses and horsemen, all of them magnificently clothed in full armor, a great horde with buckler (small shield) and [large] shield, all of them wielding swords; ‡

5 Persia (Iran), Cush (Ethiopia), and Put (Libya, N. Africa) with them, all of them with shield and helmet;

6 Gomer and all its troops; Beth-togarmah from the remote parts of the north and all its troops—many peoples with you. ‡

7 “You [Gog] be prepared; prepare yourself, you and all your hordes that are assembled around you, and be a guard and a lookout for them. ‡

8 “After many days you will be summoned [for service]; in the latter years you shall come into the land that is restored from [the ravages of] the sword, where people have been gathered out of many nations to the mountains of Israel, which had been a continual wasteland; but its people were brought out of the nations, and they are living securely, all of them.  [Is 24:22 ] ‡

9 “You will go up [against them], you will come like a storm; you shall be like a cloud covering the land, you and all your troops, and many peoples with you.” ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “It will come about on that day that thoughts will come into your mind, and you will devise an evil plan,

<sup>11</sup> and you will say, ‘I will go up against an open country; I will come against those who are at rest and peaceful, who live securely, all of them living without walls and having neither bars nor gates,’ ‡

<sup>12</sup> to take spoil and seize plunder, to turn your hand against the ruins which are now inhabited, and against the people who are gathered from the nations, who have acquired cattle and goods, who live at the center of the world [Israel].’ ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish (southern Spain), with all its young lions (villages) will say to you, ‘Have you come to take spoil? Have you assembled your hordes [of fighting men] to seize plunder, to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take great spoil?’ ” ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “On that day when My people Israel live securely, will you not become aware of it [and become active]? ‡

<sup>15</sup> “You will come from your place in the remote parts of the north, you and many nations with you, all of them riding horses, a great horde, and a mighty army; ‡

<sup>16</sup> and you will go up against My people Israel like a cloud to cover the land. In the last days it will come about that I will bring you against My land, so that the nations may know Me when I show Myself holy through you before their eyes, O Gog.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Are you the one of whom I spoke in former days through My servants, the prophets of Israel, who prophesied in those days for many years that I would bring you (Gog) against them?

<sup>18</sup> “It will come about on that day, when Gog comes against the land of Israel,” says the Lord GOD, “that My wrath will rise and show on My face.

<sup>19</sup> “In My zeal and in My blazing rage I declare that on that day there will most certainly be a great earthquake in the land of Israel, ‡

<sup>20</sup> so that the fishes of the sea, the birds of the sky, the animals of the field, all the creatures that crawl on the earth, and all the men that are on the face of the earth will tremble and shake at My presence; the mountains will crumble, the steep places will fall, and every wall will fall to the ground. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “I will call for a sword against Gog throughout all My mountains,” says the Lord GOD. “Every man’s (invading soldier’s) sword will be against his brother (ally) [in panic and confusion]. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “With pestilence and with bloodshed I will enter into judgment with Gog; and I will rain on him torrents of rain with [great] hailstones, fire and brimstone on his hordes and on the many nations that are with him.  [Ps 11:6 ]
‡

<sup>23</sup> “Thus I shall magnify Myself and demonstrate My greatness and sanctify Myself, and I will be recognized and will make Myself known in the sight of many nations; they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD.” ’ ‡

Ezekiel 39

Prophecy against Gog—Invaders Destroyed

<sup>1</sup> “AND YOU, son of man, prophesy against Gog, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Behold, I am against you, O Gog, chief prince (ruler) of Meshech and Tubal;
‡

<sup>2</sup> and I will turn you around and lead you along, and bring you up from the remotest parts of the north, and I will bring you against the mountains of Israel. ‡

<sup>3</sup> “I will strike your bow from your left hand and make your arrows to fall out of your right hand.

<sup>4</sup> “You will fall [dead] on the mountains of Israel, you and all your troops and the nations who are with you. I will give you to every kind of predatory bird and animal of the field as food. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “You will fall in the open field, for I have spoken,” says the Lord GOD.

<sup>6</sup> “I will also send fire on Magog and on those who live securely in the coastlands; and they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “I will make My holy name known in the midst of My people Israel, and I will not let them profane My holy name anymore; and the nations will know that I am the LORD, the Holy One of Israel. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “Behold, it is coming and it will be done,” says the Lord GOD. “That is the day of which I have spoken. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “And [when you, Gog, no longer exist] those who live in the cities of Israel will go out and make fires with the weapons and burn them, both the [large] shields and the bucklers (small shields), the bows and the arrows, the war clubs and the spears; and for seven years they will burn them.

<sup>10</sup> “They will not take any wood from the field or cut down and gather [any] firewood from the forests, because they will make their fires using the weapons. And they will take the spoil from those who despoiled them and seize the plunder of those who plundered them,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

11 “And on that day I will give Gog a place for burial there in Israel, the valley of those who pass through east of the sea, and it will block the way of those who would pass through. So they will bury Gog there with all his hordes, and they will call it the Valley of Hamon-gog (the multitude of Gog).

12. “For seven months the house of Israel will be burying them in order to cleanse the land. ‡

13 “Yes, all the people of the land will bury them; and it will be to their renown on the day that I appear in My glory and brilliance,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

14 “They will elect men who will constantly go through the land, [men commissioned] to bury those who were passing through, those bodies that lie unburied on the surface of the ground, in order to cleanse it. At the end of seven months they will do a search. ‡

15 “As those who pass through the land pass through and anyone sees a human bone, he will set up a marker beside it, until the buriers have buried it in the Valley of Hamon-gog.

16 “And even the name of the city will be Hamonah. In this manner they shall cleanse the land.” ‡

17. “As for you, son of man, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘Say to every kind of bird and to every animal of the field, “Assemble and come, gather from every side to My sacrifice that I am slaughtering for you, as a great sacrificial feast on the mountains of Israel, and you will eat flesh and drink blood. ‡

18 “You will eat the flesh of mighty men and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, as though they were rams, lambs, goats, and bulls, all of them fatlings of Bashan [east of the Jordan]. ‡

19 “So you will eat fat until you are filled and drink blood till you are drunk, at the sacrificial feast which I have prepared for you.

20 “You will eat your fill at My table with horses and riders, with mighty men, and with all the men of war,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

21. “And I will bring [and manifest] My glory among the nations; and all the nations will see My judgment and justice [in the punishment] which I have executed and My hand which I have laid on them. ‡

22 “So the house of Israel will know [with absolute confidence] that I am the LORD their God from that day forward. ‡

23 “And the nations will know [without any doubt] that the house of Israel went into exile for their great sin, because they acted treacherously against

Me; and I hid My face (favor, blessing) from them. So I gave them into the hand of their enemies, and they all fell [into captivity or were killed] by [the power of] the sword.  [Deut 31:17. ] ‡

<sup>24</sup> “I dealt with them in accordance with their uncleanness and their transgressions, and I hid My face from them.” ’ ” ‡

Israel Restored

<sup>25</sup> Therefore thus says the Lord GOD, “Now I will restore the fortunes of Jacob (Israel) and have mercy on the whole house of Israel; and I will be jealous for My holy name [demanding what is rightfully and uniquely mine]. ‡

<sup>26</sup> “They will forget their disgrace and all their treachery (unfaithfulness) which they perpetuated against Me, when they live securely in their own land and there is no one who makes them afraid. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “When I bring them back from the nations and gather them out of their enemies’ lands, then I shall show Myself holy [and My justice and holiness will be vindicated] through them in the sight of many nations. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “Then they will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD their God because I made them go into exile among the nations, and then gathered them to their own land. I will leave none of them there [among the nations] any longer. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “I will not hide My face from them any longer, because I will have poured out My Spirit on the house of Israel,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

Ezekiel 40

Vision of the Man with a Measuring Rod

<sup>1</sup> IN THE twenty-fifth year of our exile [in Babylon], in the beginning of the year, on the tenth [day] of the month, in the fourteenth year after the city [of Jerusalem] was taken, on that [very] same day the hand of the LORD was upon me and He brought me there. ‡

<sup>2</sup> In the visions of God He brought me to the land of Israel and set me down on a very high mountain, on the south side of which there was what seemed to be a structure of a city. ‡

<sup>3</sup>-So He brought me there; and behold, there was a man [an angel] whose appearance was like bronze, with a line of flax and a measuring rod in his hand; and he was standing in the gateway.‡

<sup>4</sup> The man said to me, “Son of man, look with your eyes and hear with your ears and set your heart on all that I am going to show you; for you have been brought here that I may show it to you. Declare to the house of Israel all that you see.”‡

Measurements Relating to the Temple

<sup>5</sup> And behold, there was a wall all around the outside [area] of the temple (house) [of the LORD], and in the man’s hand a measuring rod six cubits long (10.2 ft.), each cubit being longer than the standard one by a hand width. So he measured the thickness of the wall, one rod; and the height, one rod.‡

Ezekiel’s Temple

<sup>6</sup> Then he went to the gate which faced the east and went up its [seven] steps and measured the threshold of the gate, one rod in width; and the other threshold [of the gate inside the thick wall] was one rod in width.

<sup>7</sup>—The guardroom was one rod long and one rod wide, and [the space] between the guardrooms was five cubits. And the threshold of the gate by the porch (portico) of the gate facing inward was one rod.

<sup>8</sup> He also measured the porch of the gate facing inward [toward the temple of the LORD], one rod.

<sup>9</sup> Then he measured the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and its side pillars, two cubits. The porch of the gate faced inward [toward the temple of the LORD].

<sup>10</sup> There were three guardrooms on each side of the gate toward the east; the three were the same size, and the side pillars on each side measured the same.

<sup>11</sup> And he measured the width of the gateway, ten cubits, and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

<sup>12</sup> On each side a border (barrier wall) one cubit wide stood in front of the guardrooms on each side; and the guardrooms were six cubits square on each side.

<sup>13</sup> He measured the gate from the roof of one guardroom to the roof of the other, a width of twenty-five cubits from one door to the opposite door.

<sup>14</sup> He made [the measurement of] the side pillars sixty cubits high; the gate extended all around to the side pillar of the courtyard.

<sup>15</sup> From the front of the entrance gate [on the outside] to the front of the inner porch (portico) of the gate [the distance] was fifty cubits.

16 There were shuttered windows looking toward the guardrooms, and toward their side pillars within the gate all around, and likewise for the porches. And windows were all around inside; and palm tree decorations were on each side pillar. ‡

<sup>17</sup> Then he brought me into the outer courtyard, and behold, there were chambers and a pavement made for the courtyard all around; thirty chambers faced the pavement. ‡

<sup>18</sup> The pavement (that is, the lower pavement) was by the side of the gates, corresponding to the length of the gates.

<sup>19</sup> Then he measured the width from the front of the lower gate to the front of the exterior of the inner court, a hundred cubits [both] on the east and on the north.

<sup>20</sup> And as for the gate of the outer courtyard which faced the north he measured [both] its length and its width.

<sup>21</sup> Its guardrooms, three on each side, and its side pillars and its porches had the same measurement as the first gate. Its length was fifty cubits and the width was twenty-five cubits.

22-Its windows and its porches and its palm tree decorations had the same measurements as the gate that faced toward the east. It was reached by going up seven steps, and its porch was in front of them.

<sup>23</sup> The inner courtyard had a gate opposite the gate on the north as well as the gate on the east; and he measured a hundred cubits from gate to gate.

<sup>24</sup> Then he led me toward the south, and behold, there was a gate toward the south; and he measured its side pillars and its porches, and they measured the same as the others.

<sup>25</sup> The gate and its porches had windows all around like those windows [in the other gateways]; the length was fifty cubits and the width was twenty-five cubits.

<sup>26</sup> There were seven steps going up to the gate, and its porches were in front of them; and it had palm tree decorations [carved] on its side pillars, one on each side.

<sup>27</sup> The inner courtyard had a gate toward the south; and he measured from gate to gate toward the south, a hundred cubits.

<sup>28</sup> Then the man (angel) brought me to the inner courtyard by the south gate; and he measured the south gate according to those same measurements.

<sup>29</sup> Its guardrooms also, its side pillars and its porches measured the same as the others. And the gate and its porches had windows all around; the length was fifty cubits and the width was twenty-five cubits.

<sup>30</sup> There were porches all around, twenty-five cubits long and five cubits wide. ‡

<sup>31</sup> Its porches faced the outer courtyard; and palm tree decorations were [carved] on its side pillars, and its stairway had eight steps.

<sup>32</sup> He brought me into the inner courtyard toward the east, and he measured the gate; it measured the same as the others.

<sup>33</sup> Its guardrooms also, its side pillars and its porches measured the same as the others. The gate and its porches had windows all around; it was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide.

<sup>34</sup> Its porches faced the outer courtyard; and palm tree decorations were [carved] on either side of its side pillars, and its stairway had eight steps.

<sup>35</sup> Then he brought me to the north gate and he measured it; the measurements were the same as those of the other gates, <sup>36</sup> with its guardrooms, its side pillars, its porches; and the gate had windows all around. The length was fifty cubits and the width was twenty-five cubits.

<sup>37</sup> Its side pillars faced the outer courtyard, and palm tree decorations were [carved] on them on either side. And its stairway had eight steps.

<sup>38</sup>-A chamber with its doorway was by the side pillars of the gates; there the burnt offering was to be washed.

<sup>39</sup> In the porch (portico) of the gate were two tables on each side, on which to slaughter the burnt offering, the sin offering and the guilt offering. ‡

<sup>40</sup> On the outer side, as one went up to the gateway toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side of the porch of the gate were two tables.

<sup>41</sup> Four tables were on each side next to the gate; [a total of] eight tables on which they slaughter sacrifices.

<sup>42</sup> Moreover, there were four tables of hewn stone (ashlar) for the burnt offering, a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half wide, and one cubit high, on which they lay the instruments with which they slaughter the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

<sup>43</sup> The double hooks, one hand width in length were installed in the house all around. The meat of the offering was [to be placed] on the tables.

<sup>45</sup> He [who was guiding me] said to me, “This is the chamber which faces toward the south; it is for the priests who have the responsibility and take care of the temple; ‡

<sup>46</sup> but the chamber which faces toward the north is for the priests who have the responsibility and take care of the altar. These are the sons of Zadok, who [alone] from the sons of Levi come near to the LORD to minister to Him.” ‡

<sup>47</sup> He measured the courtyard, a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits wide, a perfect square; and the altar was in front of the temple.

<sup>48</sup> Then he brought me to the porch of the temple, and he measured each side pillar of the porch, five cubits on each side; and the width of the gate was three cubits on each side.

<sup>49</sup> The length of the porch was twenty cubits and the width eleven cubits; and at the stairway by which it was ascended, there were [two] columns beside the side pillars, one on each side [of the entrance]. ‡

Ezekiel 41

The Inner Temple

<sup>1</sup> THEN HE (the angel) brought me to the nave (outer sanctuary) and measured the side pillars; six cubits wide on each side was the width of the side pillar.

<sup>2</sup> The width of the entrance was ten cubits and the sides of the entrance were five cubits on each side; and he measured its length, forty cubits, and its width, twenty cubits.

<sup>3</sup> Then he went inside [the inner sanctuary] and measured each side pillar of the doorway, two cubits, and the doorway, six cubits [high], and the width of the doorway, seven cubits.  [Heb 9:6, 7; 10:19–25. ]

<sup>4</sup> He measured the length [of the interior of the inner sanctuary], twenty cubits, and the width, twenty cubits, opposite the nave (outer sanctuary); and he said to me, “This is the Most Holy Place.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then he measured the wall of the temple, six cubits [thick, to accommodate side chambers]; and the width of every side chamber, four cubits, all around the temple on every side.

<sup>6</sup> The side chambers were three stories [high], one above another, and thirty chambers in each story; and the side chambers extended to the wall which stood on their inward side all around, so that they would be attached, but not attached to the wall of the temple itself. ‡

<sup>7</sup> The side chambers became wider at each successive level as they encompassed the temple. Because the structure surrounding the temple went higher by stages on all sides of the temple, for that reason the width of the temple increased as it went higher; and thus one went up from the lowest story to the highest one by way of the second story. ‡

<sup>8</sup> I also saw that the temple (house) had a raised platform all around it; the foundations of the side chambers measured a full rod of six long cubits in height. ‡

<sup>9</sup> The thickness of the outer wall of the side chambers was five cubits. But the free space between the side chambers belonging to the temple

<sup>10</sup> and the outer chambers was a width of twenty cubits all around the temple on every side.

<sup>11</sup> The doorways of the side chambers toward the free space were one doorway toward the north and another doorway toward the south; and the width of the free space was five cubits all around.

<sup>12</sup> The building that was in front of the separate area on the side toward the west was seventy cubits wide; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length was ninety cubits.

<sup>13</sup> Then he measured the temple, a hundred cubits long; the separate area and the building with its walls were also a hundred cubits long.

<sup>14</sup> Also the width of the front of the temple and the separate areas along the east side totaled a hundred cubits.

<sup>15</sup> He (the angel) measured the length of the building along the front of the separate area behind it, with a gallery on each side, a hundred cubits; he also measured the inner sanctuary and the porches (porticoes) of the courtyard.

<sup>16</sup> The thresholds, the latticed windows, and the galleries all around their three stories, opposite the threshold, were paneled with wood all around, and from the ground to the windows (but the windows were covered), ‡

<sup>17</sup> over the entrance, and to the inner room, and on the outside, and on all the wall all around inside and outside, by measurement.

<sup>18</sup> It was carved with [figures of] cherubim and palm trees; so that a palm decoration was between cherub and cherub, and every cherub had two faces, ‡

<sup>19</sup> so that the face of a man was toward the palm decoration on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm decoration on the other side. It was carved [this way] on the entire house (temple) all around. ‡

<sup>20</sup> From the floor to [the space] above the entrance cherubim and palm decorations were carved, and also on the wall of the nave [the Holy Place].

<sup>21</sup> The doorposts of the nave were square; as for the front of the sanctuary, the appearance of one doorpost was like that of the other.

<sup>22</sup> The altar was of wood, three cubits high and two cubits long; and its corners, its base, and its sides were wood. And he said to me, “This is the table that is before the LORD.” ‡

<sup>23</sup> The nave (Holy Place) and the sanctuary (Holy of Holies) each had a double door. ‡

<sup>24</sup> Each of the doors had two leaves, two swinging (folding) leaves; two leaves for the one door and two leaves for the other.

<sup>25</sup> And there were carved on them, on the doors of the nave, cherubim and palm decorations like those carved on the walls; and there was a threshold of wood on the front of the porch outside.

<sup>26</sup> There were latticed windows and palm decorations on one side and on the other, on the sides of the porch. Thus were the side chambers and the thresholds of the house. ‡

Ezekiel 42

Chambers of the Temple

<sup>1</sup> THEN HE (the angel) brought me out into the outer courtyard, toward the north; and he led me to the [attached] chamber which was opposite the separate area and opposite the building to the north. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Along the length, one hundred cubits, was the north door; and the width was fifty cubits.

<sup>3</sup> Opposite the twenty cubits which belonged to the inner courtyard, and opposite the pavement which belonged to the outer courtyard, was gallery (balcony) corresponding to gallery in three stories. ‡

<sup>4</sup> In front of the [attached] chambers was an inner walkway ten cubits wide and one hundred cubits long; and their entrances were on the north.

<sup>5</sup> Now the upper chambers were smaller because the galleries took away more space from them than from the chambers on the lower and middle stories of the building;

<sup>6</sup> for they were in three stories and did not have pillars like the pillars of the [outer] courtyards; therefore the upper chambers were set back from the ground more than the lower and the middle ones.

<sup>7</sup> And the outer wall, by the side of the chambers, toward the outer courtyard facing the chambers, was fifty cubits long.

<sup>8</sup> For the length of the chambers which were in the outer courtyard was fifty cubits, while the length of those facing the temple was a hundred cubits.

<sup>9</sup> Below these chambers was the entrance on the east side, as one enters them from the outer courtyard.

<sup>10</sup> In the width of the wall of the courtyard toward the east, facing the separate area and facing the building, were chambers;

<sup>11</sup> and a passage in front of them was like the appearance of the [attached] chambers on the north, and they had the same length and width, and all their exits were like both their arrangements and their entrances. ‡

<sup>12</sup> And like the entrances of the chambers that were toward the south there was an entrance at the head of the walkway, the walkway in front of the dividing wall toward the east, as one enters them.

<sup>13</sup> Then he (the angel) said to me, “The north chambers and the south chambers, which are opposite the separate area, are the holy chambers where the priests who are close to the LORD shall eat the most holy offerings. There they shall place the most holy things—the grain offering, the sin offering, and the guilt offering—for the place is holy. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “When the priests enter [the Holy Place], they shall not go out from the sanctuary into the outer court unless they lay there their garments in which they minister, for these are holy (set apart). They shall put on other garments before they approach that which is for the people.” ‡

<sup>15</sup> Now when he had finished measuring the inner temple, he brought me out toward the gate which faced east and measured the outer area all around.

<sup>20</sup> He measured it on the four sides; it had a wall all around, the length five hundred and the width five hundred, to make a separation between that which was holy [the temple proper] and that which was common [the outer area]. ‡

Ezekiel 43

Vision of the Glory of God Filling the Temple

<sup>1</sup> THEN HE (the angel) led me to the gate, the gate that faces toward the east.

<sup>2</sup> And behold, the glory and brilliance of the God of Israel was coming from the way of the east; and His voice was like the sound of many waters, and the earth shone with His glory.  [Rev 1:15 ; 14:2 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> And it was like the appearance of the vision which I saw, like the vision I saw when He came to destroy the city. And the visions were like the vision I saw beside the River Chebar [near Babylon]; and I fell face downward.  [Ezek 1:4 ; 3:23 ; 10:15 , 22 ] ‡

<sup>4</sup> And the glory and brilliance of the LORD entered the temple by way of the gate facing toward the east. ‡

<sup>5</sup> Then the Spirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner courtyard; and behold, the glory and brilliance of the LORD filled the temple. ‡

<sup>6</sup> And I heard One speaking to me from the temple, while a man was standing beside me. ‡

<sup>7</sup> And He [the LORD] said to me, “Son of man, this is the place of My throne and the place of the soles of My feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the sons (descendants) of Israel forever. And the house of Israel will not again defile My holy name, neither they nor their kings, by their [idolatrous] prostitution and by the corpses and monuments of their kings in their graves, ‡

<sup>8</sup> by setting their threshold by My threshold and their doorpost beside My doorpost, with [only] the wall between Me and them. They have defiled and desecrated My holy name by the vile atrocities which they have committed. So I have consumed them in My anger. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “Now let them put far away from Me their [idolatrous] prostitution and the corpses and monuments of their kings, and I will dwell in their midst forever. ‡

<sup>10</sup> “As for you, son of man, describe the temple to the house of Israel, so that they will be ashamed of their sins; and let them measure its plan [in detail]. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “If they are ashamed of all that they have done, make known to them the design of the temple (house), its layout, its exits, its entrances, all its designs, all its statutes, and all its laws. And write it down in their sight, so that they may keep its whole design and all its statutes and do them.

<sup>12</sup> “This is the law of the temple: Its entire area all around on the top of the mountain (Mount Moriah) shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the temple. ‡

The Altar of Sacrifice

<sup>13</sup> “And these are the measurements of the altar [of burnt offering] in cubits (the cubit being a [long] cubit [the length of a forearm] and a hand width): the base shall be a cubit [long] and a cubit wide, with its border on its edge all around it of a span [in width]. And this shall be the height of the base of the altar. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “From the base on the ground to the lower ledge shall be two cubits and the width one cubit; and from the smaller ledge to the larger ledge shall be four cubits and the width one cubit.

<sup>15</sup> “The altar hearth shall be four cubits high, and from the altar hearth shall extend upwards four horns [one from each corner, each one cubit high].

<sup>16</sup> “Now the altar hearth shall be twelve cubits long by twelve wide, square in its four sides.

<sup>17</sup> “The ledge shall be fourteen cubits long by fourteen wide on its four sides, and the border around it shall be half a cubit; and its base shall be a cubit all around, and its steps shall face the east.”  [Ex 20:26. ] ‡

The Offerings

<sup>18</sup> And He [the LORD] said to me, “Son of man, thus says the Lord GOD, ‘These are the statutes and regulations for [the use of] the altar on the day that it is built, to offer burnt offerings on it and to sprinkle blood on it. ‡

<sup>19</sup> ‘You shall give to the priests, the Levites who are from the descendants of Zadok, who are close to Me to minister to Me,’ says the Lord GOD, ‘a young bull for a sin offering [as a memorial to Christ’s sacrifice]. ‡

<sup>20</sup> ‘And you shall take some of its blood and put it on the four horns [of the altar of burnt offering] and on the four corners of the ledge and on the border all around; thus you shall cleanse it (from sin) and make atonement for it.

<sup>21</sup> ‘You shall also take the bull for the sin offering, and it shall be burned in the appointed place of the temple, outside the sanctuary.  [Heb 13:11. ] ‡

<sup>22</sup> ‘On the second day you shall offer a male goat without blemish for a sin offering, and they shall cleanse the altar as they cleansed it with the bull.

<sup>23</sup> ‘When you have finished cleansing it, you shall offer a young bull without blemish and a ram from the flock without blemish.

<sup>24</sup> ‘You shall present them before the LORD, and the priests shall throw salt on them, and they shall offer them up as a burnt offering to the LORD.’ ‡

<sup>26</sup> ‘For seven days they shall make atonement for the altar and purify it; so the priests shall consecrate it [to receive offerings].’  [Ex 29:37 ]

<sup>27</sup> ‘When they have completed these days, on the eighth day and from then onward, the priests shall offer your burnt offerings on the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you,’ says the Lord GOD.”  [Rom 12:1 ; 1 Pet 2:5 ] ‡

Ezekiel 44

Gate for the Prince

<sup>1</sup> THEN HE brought me back by the way of the outer gate of the sanctuary, which faces the east; and it was shut. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Then the LORD said to me, “This gate shall be shut; it shall not be opened, and no one shall enter by it, for the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered by it; therefore it shall be shut. ‡

<sup>3</sup> “As for the prince, he shall sit in it as prince to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by way of the porch (portico) of the gate and shall go out the same way.” ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then He brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the house; I looked, and behold, the glory and brilliance of the LORD filled the house of the LORD, and I fell face downward.  [Rev 15:8 ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> The LORD said to me, “Son of man, pay careful attention, see with your eyes and hear with your ears all that I say to you concerning all the statutes of the house of the LORD and all its laws; and pay careful attention to the entering of the house [by people], with all the departures from the sanctuary [of people, those who are allowed to enter the temple and all those who are excluded from the sanctuary]. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “You shall say to the rebellious ones, to the house of Israel, ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Enough of all your repulsive acts, O house of Israel!” ‡

<sup>7</sup> “In that you brought in foreigners, uncircumcised in heart and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in My sanctuary to pollute and profane it—My house—when you offered My bread, the fat, and the blood; and they made

My covenant void — this in addition to all your other repulsive acts. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “And you have not kept charge of My holy things yourselves, but you have chosen foreigners [to please yourselves] and have set them in charge of My sanctuary.” ‡

<sup>9</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “No foreigner uncircumcised in heart and flesh, of all the foreigners who are among the sons of Israel, shall enter My sanctuary.” ‡

<sup>10</sup> “But the Levites who went far away from Me when Israel went astray, who went astray from Me after their idols, they shall bear the punishment for their sin and guilt. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “Yet they shall minister in My sanctuary, having oversight [as guards] at the gates of the temple and ministering in the temple. They shall slaughter the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister to them. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “Because the priests ministered to them before their idols and became a stumbling block of sin to the house of Israel, therefore I have lifted up My hand and have sworn [an oath] against them,” says the Lord GOD, “that they shall bear the punishment for their sin and guilt. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “And they shall not come near to Me to serve as priests to Me, nor come near to any of My holy things, to the things that are most holy; but they shall bear their shame and their disgrace and [the consequences of] their repulsive acts which they have committed. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Yet I will appoint them as caretakers of the temple, for all its service and for all that shall be done in it. ‡

Ordinances for the Levites

<sup>15</sup> “But the Levitical priests, the sons of Zadok, who performed the duty of My sanctuary when the children (descendants) of Israel went astray from Me, shall come near to Me to minister to Me; and they shall stand before Me to offer to Me the fat and the blood,” declares the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “They shall enter into My sanctuary; and they shall come near to My table to minister to Me and they shall perform [the priestly] duty to me. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “It shall be that when they enter the gates of the inner courtyard, they shall be clothed in linen garments; no wool shall be on them while they minister at the gates of the inner courtyard and within the temple (house). ‡

<sup>18</sup> “They shall have linen turbans on their heads and linen undergarments on their loins; they shall not dress themselves with anything which makes them sweat. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “When they go out into the outer court, into the outer courtyard to the people, they shall take off the garments in which they have been ministering and leave them in the holy chambers; then they shall put on other clothing so that they will not transmit holiness to the people with their [ceremonial] garments. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “Also they shall not shave their heads, yet they shall not allow their hair to grow long; they shall only cut short or trim their hair. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “And they shall not marry a widow or a divorced woman; but they shall marry virgins of the descendants of the house of Israel, or a widow who was previously married to a priest. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “The priests shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the common, and teach them to distinguish between the (ceremonially) unclean and the clean. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “In a controversy they shall take their stand to act as judges; they shall judge it in accordance with My ordinances. They shall also keep My laws and My statutes in all My appointed feasts and sanctify My Sabbaths. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “They shall not go to a dead person to defile themselves; except for father or for mother, for son or for daughter, for brother or for sister who has had no husband; they may defile themselves.  [Lev 21:1, 2 ]

<sup>26</sup> “After he is cleansed [from the defilement of a corpse], seven days more shall elapse for him [before returning to the temple]. ‡

<sup>27</sup> “On the day that he goes into the sanctuary, into the inner courtyard to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

<sup>28</sup> “It [their ministry to Me] shall be as an inheritance to them, for I am their inheritance; and you shall give them no property (land) in Israel, for I am their possession.  [Josh 13:14, 33 ] ‡

<sup>29</sup> “They shall eat the grain offering, the sin offering and the guilt offering; and every devoted thing (offering) in Israel [dedicated by a solemn vow to God] shall be theirs. ‡

<sup>30</sup> “The first of all the first fruits of every kind, and every contribution and offering of every kind, from all your contributions and offerings, shall belong to the priests. You shall also give to the priest the first of your coarse meal and bread dough, so that a blessing may rest on your house. ‡

<sup>31</sup> “The priests shall not eat any bird or animal that has died a natural death or has been torn to pieces. ‡

Ezekiel 45

The LORD 's Portion of the Land

1 “MOREOVER, WHEN you divide the land by lot for inheritance, you shall [set apart and] offer an allotment (contribution) to the LORD, a holy portion of the land [to be used for sacred purposes]. The length shall be 25,000 cubits, and the width shall be 20,000 cubits . It shall be holy (set apart for sacred use) within its every area. [Ezek 48:9 , 12 , 13] ‡

2 “Of this there shall be a square plot five hundred by five hundred cubits in perimeter for the holy place, and fifty cubits for the open space around it.

3 “And in this area you shall measure off a portion 25,000 cubits in length and 10,000 cubits in width. And in it shall be the sanctuary which is most holy. ‡

4 “It shall be the holy portion of the land; it shall be for the priests, the ministers of the sanctuary, who come near to minister to the LORD, and it shall be a place for their houses and a holy place for the sanctuary. ‡

5 “And another portion of land 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits wide shall be for the Levites, the ministers of the temple (house), and they shall possess it as a place in which to live. ‡

6 “You shall give the city possession of an area 5,000 cubits wide and 25,000 cubits long, alongside the portion set aside as a holy section. It shall belong to the whole house of Israel. ‡

Portion for the Prince

7 “The prince shall have land on either side of the portion set aside as a holy section and the property of the city, adjacent to the holy section and the property of the city, on the west side toward the west and on the east side toward the east, and in length comparable to one of the portions, from the west border to the east border. ‡

8 “This shall be his land for a possession in Israel; so My princes shall no longer oppress My people, but they shall give the rest of the land to the house of Israel according to their tribes.” ‡

9 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “Enough, O princes of Israel! Put away violence and destruction, and practice justice and righteousness. Stop your forceful seizure of property from My people,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

10 “You shall have just balances and weights [on your scales and just measures], a just ephah [dry volume measure] and a just bath [liquid measure].‡

11 “The ephah and the bath [measures] shall be the same quantity, the bath containing one tenth of a homer and the ephah one tenth of a homer; their standard [measure] shall be according to the homer.

12 “The shekel shall be twenty gerahs; twenty shekels, twenty-five shekels, and fifteen shekels [added together, a total of sixty] shall be your maneh (mina).‡

13 “This is the offering that you shall offer: a sixth of an ephah from a homer of wheat; a sixth of an ephah from a homer of barley;

14 and the prescribed portion of oil, (namely, the bath of oil), a tenth part of a bath [of oil] from each kor (which is ten baths or a homer, for ten baths make a homer);

15 and [you shall offer] one sheep out of every flock of two hundred from the watering places of Israel—for a grain offering, for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings to make atonement for [those who brought] them,” says the Lord GOD.‡

16 “All the people of the land shall give to this offering for the prince in Israel.

17 “It shall be the prince’s responsibility to provide the burnt offerings, the grain offerings, and the drink offerings at the feasts, on the New Moons and on the Sabbaths, at all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He shall prepare and provide the sin offering, the grain offering, the burnt offering and the peace offerings, to make atonement for the house of Israel.”

18 ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “In the first month, on the first of the month, you shall take a young bull without blemish and cleanse the sanctuary (from sin).‡

19 “The priest shall take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the door posts of the temple, on the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and on the posts of the gate of the inner courtyard.‡

20 “You shall do this on the seventh [day] of the month for everyone who goes astray [and sins through error or ignorance] and for him who is naive; so shall you make atonement for the temple (house).‡

21 “In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, you shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.‡

22 “On that day the prince shall provide for himself and for all the people of the land a bull for a sin offering.‡

<sup>23</sup> “And for the seven days of the feast he shall provide as a burnt offering to the LORD seven bulls and seven rams without blemish on every day for the seven days, and a male goat daily for a sin offering. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “He shall provide as a grain offering [to be offered] with each bull an ephah [of grain], an ephah with each ram, and a hin of oil with each ephah [of grain]. ‡

<sup>25</sup> “In the seventh month, on the fifteenth day of the month at the feast, he shall provide [offerings] like these for the seven days, as the sin offering, the burnt offering, the grain offering, and the oil.” ‡

Ezekiel 46

The Prince’s Offerings

<sup>1</sup> ‘THUS SAYS the Lord GOD, “The gate of the inner courtyard that faces east shall be shut during the six working days, but it shall be opened on the Sabbath day and opened on the day of the New Moon.

<sup>2</sup> “The prince shall enter by the porch (portico) of the gate from outside and stand by the post of the gate. The priests shall prepare and provide his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate and then go out; but the gate shall not be shut until evening. ‡

<sup>3</sup> “The people of the land shall also worship at the entrance of that gate before the LORD on the Sabbaths and on the New Moons.

<sup>4</sup> “The burnt offering which the prince shall offer to the LORD on the Sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish and a ram without blemish. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “The grain offering shall be an ephah with the ram, and the grain offering with the lambs as much as he is able to give, and a hin of oil with an ephah. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “On the day of the New Moon he shall offer a young bull without blemish, also six lambs and a ram, without blemish.

<sup>7</sup> “And he shall provide a grain offering, an ephah with the bull and an ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as he is able, and a hin of oil with an ephah.

<sup>8</sup> “When the prince enters, he shall enter by way of the porch of the gate and go out by the same way. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “But when the people of the land come before the LORD at the appointed feasts, he who enters by way of the north gate to worship shall go out by way of the south gate. And he who enters by way of the south gate shall go out by way of the north gate. No one shall return by way of the gate through which he entered, but shall go out straight ahead [through the opposite gate].  [Phil 3:13] ‡ <sup>10</sup> “When they go in, the prince shall go in among them; and when they go out, he shall go out.

<sup>11</sup> “At the feasts and the appointed festivals the grain offering shall be an ephah with a bull and an ephah with a ram, and with the lambs as much as one is able to give, and a hin of oil with an ephah. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “When the prince provides a freewill offering, a burnt offering, or peace offerings voluntarily to the LORD, the gate that faces east shall be opened for him, and he shall provide his burnt offering and his peace offerings as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he goes out the gate shall be shut. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “And you [priests] shall provide a lamb a year old without blemish as a burnt offering to the LORD each day; morning by morning you shall provide it. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Also you shall provide a grain offering with it morning by morning, one-sixth of an ephah with one-third of a hin of oil to sprinkle on the finely-milled flour. This is a perpetual ordinance for a continual grain offering to the LORD.

<sup>15</sup> “Thus they shall provide the lamb, the grain offering and the oil every morning as a continual burnt offering.”

<sup>16</sup> ‘Thus says the Lord GOD, “If the prince gives a gift to any of his sons from his inheritance, it shall belong to his sons [permanently]; it is their possession by inheritance.

<sup>17</sup> “But if he gives a gift from his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his until the year of liberty [the Year of Jubilee]; after that it shall be returned to the prince. His inheritance shall be only his sons’ [permanently]; it shall belong to them. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “Moreover, the prince shall not take from the people’s inheritance by oppression and by evicting them from their property; he shall give his sons an inheritance from his own possession, so that My people will not be scattered, anyone from his possession.” ’ ” ‡

The Boiling Places

<sup>19</sup> Then he [my guide] brought me through the entrance, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers for the priests, which faced the north;

and behold, a place was there at their extreme westward end.

<sup>20</sup> He said to me, “This is the place where the priests shall boil (cook) the guilt offering and the sin offering, and where they shall bake the grain offering, so that they do not bring them out into the outer courtyard to transmit holiness to the people.” ‡

<sup>21</sup> Then he brought me out into the outer courtyard and led me across to the four corners of the courtyard; and behold, in every corner of the courtyard there was a small courtyard.

<sup>22</sup> In the four corners of the courtyard there were enclosed courtyards, forty cubits long and thirty wide; these four in the corners were the same size.

<sup>23</sup> There was a row of masonry all around inside them, around [each of] the four courtyards, and it was made with cooking hearths under the rows all around.

<sup>24</sup> Then he said to me, “These are the kitchens of the cooks, where the ministers (Levites) of the temple shall boil (cook) the sacrifices of the people.” ‡

Ezekiel 47

Water from the Temple

<sup>1</sup> THEN HE [my guide] brought me back to the door of the house [the temple of the LORD]; and behold, water was flowing from under the threshold of the house (temple) toward the east, for the front of the temple was facing east. And the water was flowing down from under, from the right side of the house, from south of the altar. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Then he brought me out by way of the north gate and led me around on the outside to the outer gate by the way of the gate that faces east. And behold, water was spurting out from the south side [of the gate].  [Zech 14:8; Rev 22:1, 2 ]

<sup>3</sup> When the man went out toward the east with a measuring line in his hand, he measured a thousand cubits, and he led me through the water, water that was ankle-deep. ‡

<sup>4</sup> Again he measured a thousand [cubits] and led me through the water, water that was knee-deep. Again he measured a thousand [cubits] and led me through the water, water reaching the hips.

<sup>5</sup> Again he measured a thousand [cubits]; and it was a river that I could not pass through, for the water had risen, enough water to swim in, a river that could not be crossed [by wading].

<sup>6</sup> And he said to me, “Son of man, have you seen this?” Then he brought me back to the bank of the river.

<sup>7</sup>-Now when I had returned, behold, on the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other. ‡

<sup>8</sup> Then he said to me, “These waters go out toward the eastern region and go down into the Arabah (the Jordan Valley); then they go toward the sea, being made to flow into the sea, and the waters of the Dead Sea shall be healed and become fresh.

<sup>9</sup> “It will come about that every living creature which swarms in every place where the river goes, will live. And there will be a very great number of fish, because these waters go there so that the waters of the sea are healed and become fresh; so everything will live wherever the river goes.

<sup>10</sup> “And it will come about that fishermen will stand beside it [at the banks of the Dead Sea]; from Engedi to Eneglaim there will be dry places to spread nets. Their fish will be of very many kinds, like the fish of the Great [Mediterranean] Sea. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “But its swamps and marshes will not become fresh [and wholesome for animal life]; they will [as the river subsides] be left encrusted with salt.

<sup>12</sup> “By the river on its bank, on one side and on the other, will grow all kinds of trees for food. Their leaves will not wither and their fruit will not fail. They shall bear every month because their water flows from the sanctuary, and their fruit will be for food and their leaves for healing.”  [Rev 22:2 ] ‡

Boundaries and Division of the Land

<sup>13</sup> Thus says the Lord GOD, “This shall be the boundary by which you shall divide the land as an inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel; Joseph shall have two portions. ‡

<sup>14</sup>-“You shall divide it as an inheritance, each one equally with the other. I lifted up My hand and swore to give it to your fathers, and this land shall fall to you as an inheritance. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “So the boundary will extend from the [Mediterranean] Sea to Hazar-enan at the border of Damascus, and on the north, northward, is the border of Hamath. This is the north side. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “The east side, from between Hauran, Damascus, Gilead, and the land of Israel, shall be the Jordan; from the north border to the eastern sea you shall measure. This is the east side.

<sup>19</sup> “The south side, southward, from Tamar [near the Dead Sea] shall extend as far as the waters of Meribath-kadesh, to the Brook of Egypt and to the Great [Mediterranean] Sea. This is the south side toward the south. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “So you shall divide this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel.

<sup>22</sup> “You shall divide it by lot as an inheritance among yourselves and among the foreigners who stay among you, who give birth to sons among you. They shall be to you as the native-born [in the country] among the children (descendants) of Israel; they shall be allotted an inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “In whatever tribe the foreigner resides, there shall you give him his inheritance,” says the Lord GOD.

Ezekiel 48

Division of the Land

<sup>8</sup> “And beside the border of Judah, from the east side to the west side, shall be the allotment and contribution of land which you shall set apart and offer, 25,000 cubits in width, and in length like one of the [tribal] portions, from the east side to the west side; and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it. ‡

<sup>9</sup> “The allotment [of land] that you shall set apart and offer to the LORD shall be 25,000 cubits in length and 10,000 in width.

Portion for the Priests

<sup>10</sup> “The holy allotment shall be for these, namely for the priests, toward the north 25,000 cubits in length, and toward the west 10,000 in width, and toward the east 10,000 in width, and toward the south 25,000 in length; and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst of it.

<sup>11</sup> “It shall be for the priests who are sanctified of the sons of Zadok, who have kept My charge, and who did not go astray when the children (descendants) of Israel went astray as the [other] Levites did. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “And this [land offering] shall be an allotment to them from the allotment of the land, a most holy portion beside the border of the [other] Levites.

<sup>13</sup> “Alongside the border of the priests, the [other] Levites shall have 25,000 cubits in length and 10,000 in width. The whole length shall be 25,000 cubits and the width 10,000.

<sup>14</sup> “And they shall not sell any of it or exchange it, or allow this choice portion of land to pass to others; for it is holy to the LORD. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “The remaining [strip of] 5,000 cubits in width and 25,000 in length shall be for the city’s common (secular) use, for a place in which to live and for open country. The city shall be in the midst of it. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “These shall be the measurements of it: the north side 4,500 cubits, the south side 4,500, the east side 4,500, and the west side 4,500.  [Rev 21:16 ]

<sup>17</sup> “The city shall have open country: toward the north 250 cubits, and toward the south 250, toward the east 250, and toward the west 250.

10,000 cubits to the east and 10,000 to the west; and it shall be beside the holy allotment. The produce from it shall be food for the workers of the city.

<sup>19</sup> “The workers of the city, from all the tribes of Israel shall cultivate it. ‡ <sup>20</sup> “The whole allotment shall be 25,000 by 25,000 cubits; you shall set apart the holy allotment, a square, with the property of the city.

Portion for the Prince

<sup>21</sup> “The remainder, on both sides of the holy allotment and of the property possessed by the city, shall belong to the prince. In front of the 25,000 cubits of the allotment toward the east border and westward in front of the 25,000 toward the west border, alongside the [tribal] portions, it shall be for the prince. The holy allotment with the sanctuary of the temple shall be in the midst of it. ‡

<sup>22</sup> Exclusive of the property of the Levites and of the property of the city, which are in the middle of that which belongs to the prince, everything between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin shall be for the prince.

Portion for Other Tribes

<sup>29</sup> “This is the land which you shall divide by lot among the tribes of Israel as their inheritance, and these are their several portions,” says the Lord GOD. ‡

The City Gates

<sup>30</sup> “These are the exits of the city: on the north side, [which is to extend] 4,500 cubits by measurement,

<sup>31</sup>.there shall also be gates of the city, named after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates toward the north: one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi. ‡

<sup>32</sup> “On the east side, 4,500 cubits, also three gates: one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

<sup>33</sup> “On the south side, 4,500 cubits, by measurement, also three gates: one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.

1:1 in my thirtieth year. This most likely refers to Ezekiel’s age. He was preparing to become a priest when the Babylonians attacked Judah in 597 BC. I saw visions of God. As with all the true prophets of ancient Israel, the visitation of God was at His initiative, calling certain people to special responsibilities. The word “vision” is derived from the common Hebrew verb meaning “to see,” rather than from the specific verb used for prophetic vision as in Isaiah 1.

1:3 the word of the LORD . Ezekiel uses this introductory phrase 50 times in this book. It always introduces a divine message and sometimes a new section. Ezekiel. The name comes from the verb meaning “to seize, to hold fast,” coupled with the term meaning “God.” Thus Ezekiel’s name indicates that he was a man whom God had seized.

1:4 stormy wind . . . great cloud . . . fire flashing continually. Compare the descriptions of divine appearance in Exodus 19:16–20 ; Psalm 18:7–15 ; and Micah 1:2–4 .

1:5 four living beings. These creatures are related to the cherubim—celestial beings associated with God’s holiness and glory, and sometimes poetically with storm winds upon which God travels (Ps 18:10 ). There are two basic approaches to understanding them: as a highly symbolic representation of deity, or as highly symbolic representations of angelic beings who serve in God’s presence. Probably they are angels, since God Himself is not revealed until the end of the section (v. 26 ).

1:10 man . . . lion . . . ox . . . eagle. Composite fantastic figures in these classic combinations have been found in Mesopotamian and Egyptian iconography. The idealized strengths of each figure were thus presumed to reside in these living beings.

1:18 rims . . . full of eyes. The wheels had an exquisite beauty and an animate intelligence.

1:19–21 spirit . . . in the wheels. The prophet stresses the association of the wheels with the living beings, as well as the beings’ ability to travel where they wished. It appears that the wheels represented the flexibility and mobility of the living beings. This is a pictorial representation of God’s omnipresence.

1:24 Almighty. This is the divine name Shaddai , most likely based on a word meaning “mountain,” to suggest God’s omnipotence and majesty (10:5 ).

1:26 throne. While Isaiah describes the elevation of the Lord’s throne (Isa 6:1 ), Ezekiel focuses on its beauty.

1:27–28 glory and brilliance of the LORD . The “glory” indicates the wonder, majesty, and worthiness of the living God. Amid the wheels, the beings, the colors, and the dazzling light was a figure who appeared like a man (v. 26 ). Compare the vision of Daniel who saw One “like a Son of Man” (Da 7:13 ). I fell face downward. The prophet’s response was to fall down in worship and submission. All believers should recognize God's great glory and fall down in humble submission before Him (Php 2:10-11 ).

2:1 Son of man. Ezekiel uses this phrase more than 90 times to refer to himself. It emphasizes his humanity in his God-given role as a spokesman for God. The meaning of the phrase is "human one." In the Old Testament, only Daniel 7:13 and 8:17 also employ this phrase. In the New Testament, "Son of man" is used frequently by Jesus for Himself. With this phrase Jesus was calling Himself "the Human One"—the long-awaited Messiah who came as God in the flesh (Lk 21:27 ; Jn 1:14 ; 2Jn 7 ).

2:2 the Spirit entered me. This reference to the indwelling of the Holy Spirit in God's prophet is of great importance. The visions and messages of Ezekiel were revelations from the living God.

2:5 they are a rebellious house. God told Ezekiel to take His Word to the sons of Israel. These people were to hear what the Lord Himself was to say to them. Listening or not listening, belief or unbelief, would not change what was spoken. Our belief or unbelief has no effect on what God tells us or what the Bible says. His word remains true. By its very nature, it is worthy of belief.

2:6 briars . . . thorns . . . scorpions. These images vividly portray the nature of the rebellious opponents of Ezekiel's warnings. God told Ezekiel not to allow fear to hinder his message, whether or not the message was wanted (v. 7 ).

2:10 lamentation (funeral songs) and mourning and woe. The unusual feature of writing on both sides of a scroll indicates the magnitude of the nation's transgressions and its need for words of grief (Zec 5:3 ; Rev 5:1 ). Although Ezekiel would later bring words of comfort and consolation (chs. 33-48 ), his first prophecies from God contained only sorrow and sadness.

3:1-3 eat this scroll. The symbolic act of eating the scroll demonstrated that Ezekiel internalized the message in preparation for speaking to the people.

3:8-9 I have made your face as hard as their faces. There may have been an intentional pun on Ezekiel's name, which means "strongly seized by God" (1:3 ) or "God strengthens." Double meanings in biblical names are common.

3:14 I went embittered [by the sins of Israel] in the rage of my spirit. Ezekiel's human perspective caused him to focus on the distasteful calling of delivering a message that would not be well received. The prophet was angry and appalled. But God was present to help him deal with these feelings and then move him on to live and work among the captives.

3:17 a watchman. He stood on the city wall guarding against any external or internal threat. He would sound an alarm upon sighting impending danger (2Sa 18:24 ). God made Ezekiel a spiritual watchman over His people.

3:20 when a righteous man turns from his righteousness . . . and sins. The prophet's responsibility was to warn, if he saw apostasy taking place. If he did not, he became culpable too. Even for the most devoted and the most saintly, righteousness can become something to spurn and iniquity can become something to embrace. God says that repudiation of righteousness leads to death.

3:26 cannot be a man who rebukes the people. This phrase qualified what was meant by Ezekiel's being mute. The idea may be better stated as "not be a legal mediator." During his "mute" period, Ezekiel would not be allowed to speak as a mediator on behalf of the people before God, their Judge.

3:27 He who hears, let him hear. Jesus used this warning often in His teaching (Mk 4:23 ). The phrasing emphasizes individual responsibility and readiness to accept the divine message.

4:1 take a brick. The brick would have been soft enough to inscribe with a stylus.

4:2 lay siege. The city of Jerusalem would come under siege, meaning that the Babylonians would surround the city and cut off its outside supplies. The purpose was to starve its inhabitants into submission. By his symbolic drawing, Ezekiel may have been commanded to do what other "prophets" of the nations might do. That is, the hired "prophets" of pagan nations might use such a drawing as a device for invoking the gods to bring about the event graphically described. In Ezekiel's case, the drawing was the opposite of what the people wanted. As they sat in captivity, the worst news would have been that the holy city had been destroyed.

4:3 an iron plate. This was a plate that Ezekiel possessed as a priest; it was for baking grain for the cereal offerings (Lev 2:5 ; 6:21 ). Here its purpose was to represent a wall between Ezekiel and the city.

Ezekiel's Temple

Ezekiel uses a long or "royal" cubit, about 21 inches or 53 centimeters ("cubit and a handbreadth," Eze 40:5 ) as opposed to the standard Hebrew cubit of about 18 inches or 46 centimeters.

Scripture describes a floor plan but provides few height dimensions. This artwork shows an upward projection of the temple over the floor plan. This temple existed only in a vision of Ezekiel (Eze 40:2 ) and was never actually built as were the temples of Solomon, Zerubbabel and Herod, but some premillennial interpreters believe that it will be built in the future.

- A. Wall ( 40:5, 16–20 )
- B. East gate ( 40:6–14, 16 )
- C. Portico ( 40:8 )
- D. Outer court ( 40:17 )
- E. Pavement ( 40:17 )
- F. East inner court ( 40:19 )
- G. North gate ( 40:20–22 )
- H. North inner court ( 40:23 )
- I. South gate ( 40:24–26 )
- J. South inner court ( 40:27 )
- K. Gateway ( 40:28–31 )
- L. Gateway ( 40:32–34 )
- M. Gateway ( 40:35–38 )
- N. Priests' rooms ( 40:44–45 )
- O. Court ( 40:47 )
- P. Temple portico ( 40:48–49 )
- Q. Outer sanctuary ( 41:1–2 )
- R. Most Holy Place ( 41:3–4 )
- S. Temple walls ( 41:5–7, 9, 11 )
- T. Base ( 41:8 )
- U. Open area ( 41:10 )
- V. West building ( 41:12 )
- W. Priests' rooms ( 42:1–10 )
- X. Altar ( 43:13–17 )
- AA. Rooms for preparing sacrifices ( 40:39–43 )
- BB. Ovens ( 46:19–20 )
- CC. Kitchens ( 46:21–24 )

Go to Index of Charts and Maps

4:7 set your face toward the siege. As horrible as it was, the siege ultimately showed God's faithfulness to His covenant established in the days of Moses—that idolatry and disobedience would bring curses, which would include being conquered, captured, and removed from the land (Dt 28:15–68 ).

4:8 put ropes on you. Ezekiel was bound while lying on either side for the entire 430 days, but the activities described in Ezekiel 4:9–17 show that his lying down and being tied up occurred only during parts of each day.

4:17 waste away [in punishment] for their wickedness. The people had broken their covenant with God, and He had no choice but to bring upon them the promised consequences of their disobedience (Lev 26:14–29 ).

5:1 a barber's razor and shave your head and your beard. Shaving the head was an act showing shame or disgrace in Hebrew culture (7:18 ). It also represented a type of pagan mourning forbidden by the law (27:31 ). Shaving the head was a mark of defilement, making a priest like Ezekiel ritually unclean, and so unable to perform his duties in the temple (Lev 21:5 ). This message was telling the people that they were about to be humiliated and defiled.

5:2 one third . . . one third . . . one third. Each citizen of Jerusalem would suffer one of the three fates depicted by each of the three mounds of hair: (1) some would be burned along with the city or would die from plague, famine, or other siege conditions (5:12 ; 2Ki 25:9 ); (2) some would be murdered by the sword during the attack (5:12 ; 2Ki 25:18–21 ); and (3) some would be scattered in the wind—referring to the exile (5:12 ; 2Ki 25:11–17 ).

5:9–17 I will do among you that which I have not done. The elements in God's judgment on the people for their sins can be enumerated in this way: (1) a judgment that will be worse in extent than ever before; (2) a terrible famine that will lead to cannibalism; (3) pestilence, meaning plagues and diseases associated with famine; (4) violent death by sword or wild beasts; and (5) the scattering and killing of a remnant. These punishments would come as the result of the people's idolatry.

6:2–3 high places. These were originally elevated locations for worship of the god Baal and other deities of the Canaanite pantheon. The term "high place" could be used of any location, whether hilltop or valley. Before entering the promised land, the Hebrews had been commanded to abolish all the high places where idols were worshiped (Nu 33:52 ).

6:4–6 I will throw down your slain . . . lay the dead bodies . . . scatter your bones. These phrases refer to God's judgment. Dead people lying unburied and bones scattered around signify the ultimate defilement of the land. God would bring this upon them because they had defiled and desecrated themselves by worshiping in the pagan high places.

6:13 Then you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD. As in verses 7 and 10 , the Lord states the purpose of the coming destruction of His city and many of its people. The use of God's personal name further emphasizes the intent to bring His people back to a personal, intimate relationship with Himself.

6:13 God's Desire for Exclusiveness—God's point throughout the Book of Ezekiel is the same; His relationship with us is exclusive. He doesn't share that primary God-man relationship with anybody else or anything. As a model for exclusiveness, Ezekiel uses the marriage relationship. Exclusiveness is the boundary that provides the shape to that relationship. It is the same with our relationship with God. When we violate God's desire for exclusiveness, we ruin our relationship with Him. God designed us for Himself alone. If we have anything less than an exclusive relationship with Him, we become less than what we were created to be. Go to Theological Notes Index

7:2–3 The end. Three uses of this key word stressed that the fulfillment of the prophecy was at hand.

7:10 the rod has blossomed. The flowering of the rod indicates that the time to bring judgment was ripe. These words describe one whose time had come, a person marked by arrogance. In this case, it pictures the chosen instrument of God (Nu 17:5 ) with whom He would discipline Jerusalem and Judah —namely Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon and the characteristic representative of the arrogant and evil Babylonians.

7:12 Let not the buyer rejoice. The fact of coming judgment was so certain, and its effects would be so lasting and devastating, that transactions of buying and selling would be concluded improperly or not at all.

7:16–19 Even when their survivors escape. Those left alive would hide in the hills and be characterized by four things: (1) mourning—displaying their humiliation over sin by wearing sackcloth and shaving their heads (Isa 15:2 ); (2) weakness; (3) horror; and (4) disgust and disillusionment over wealth.

7:20 the beauty of [gold for] ornaments. The people had sinned horribly when they crafted idols out of the temple treasures and then worshiped what their hands had made (Ro 1:25 ).

8:5–6 to drive Me far away from My sanctuary. The people thought that just because the temple stood among them, whatever wrong they might do could not bring ultimate disaster. They thought the temple guaranteed their security. They did not realize that their evil had actually caused God to leave His temple, which would then no longer be their protection.

8:11 seventy elders. These men were the nation's leaders (Nu 11:16–25 ).

8:13–14 Tammuz. This was a fertility god. The women were crying out to the idol because they had no children or because the crops were failing. In the sixth month, August-September, Tammuz was thought to “die” with the scorched land. Worshipers would wail over his death and cry for his resurgence.

8:17–18 they are putting the branch to their nose. This action is not mentioned elsewhere. In the context it appears to be (1) a ritualistic gesture used in idol worship, or (2) an action indicative of the extensive violence which was occurring in Judah as a result of idolatry.

9:5–6 Follow him . . . throughout the city. The universality of this judgment is shocking to us; but this is in line with divine judgments from the time of the flood in Genesis to the final judgment described in Revelation.

9:6–7 My sanctuary. The corrupt spiritual leaders had been practicing idolatry and immorality in the temple itself (8:3–16). Judgment would begin with them because they had led the nation astray.

9:9 wickedness . . . blood . . . perversion and injustice. These three reasons are given as the offenses that deserve this terrible outpouring of God’s wrath. The people and especially rich rulers willfully chose to believe that God did not see or care what injustices went on.

10:3–5 a cloud [the Shekinah glory of God] filled the inner courtyard. The cloud represented God’s glory (as in 1:4), which was seen moving from the inner court to the threshold of the temple. From there it filled the temple.

10:9–17 the first face was the face of the cherub. Whereas one of the four faces in 1:10 is a bull, here it is a cherub. These are ancient sculptures with animal bodies and wings but human faces. The difference of the faces between 1:10 and 10:14 should not be called an error; it is possible that the images that Ezekiel saw were changing from time to time.

10:20–22 and I knew that they were cherubim. They sometimes serve as guardians (Ge 3:24). They are associated with God’s throne and presence (the mercy seat on the ark, Ex 25:18–22; 1Ch 13:6). They are also associated with God’s chariot-like throne (v. 1; 1:20–26; Ps 18:10).

11:3 Is not the time near to build houses? These officials were proclaiming that the inhabitants of Jerusalem were as secure behind the city’s walls as meat was safe in its cooking pot. There was no impending doom, they said; therefore, new construction projects were encouraged.

11:13 Alas, Lord GOD. Ezekiel’s reaction showed that Pelatiah, one of the corrupt city leaders (v. 1), was struck dead by God as undeniable proof that the prophet’s message would come true. Ezekiel himself was awestruck and asked if this meant that God would not after all preserve a remnant.

11:15 your fellow exiles. The people in Jerusalem (representative of Judah) regarded the exiles as sinners because they had been deported to Babylon.

11:16 yet I have been a sanctuary for them. God explained to Ezekiel that the Hebrews taken captive and spread among foreign lands were actually the remnant whom God was protecting. God Himself would continue as their sanctuary—a word in Hebrew that literally means a “holy place.”

11:18–20 they will remove from it all [traces of] its detestable things. When the remnant returned to the land, they would abolish idolatry. At that time God would establish a new covenant with them (Jer 31:31–34). Then God would pour out His Spirit (36:26–27; Joel 2:28–29) so that His people would become united in purpose and empowered to maintain their righteousness. They would finally and truly become His people (Ex 6:6–8).

11:23 the glory and brilliance of the LORD went up. The Hebrew term for “glory” literally means of “weight” or “significance” and refers to the wonder and majesty of the living God.

11:24–25 And the Spirit lifted me up. Ezekiel’s visions are not merely dreams; they were inspired by God Himself and thus were prophetic. Chaldea. This is an alternative term for Babylon.

12:3–7 prepare your belongings for exile, and move. Ezekiel’s next visual demonstration warned the captives already in Babylon that they should not expect a quick return to Jerusalem. He had already shown that the city would soon fall (chs. 4–5) and those not killed would be led into exile. These exiles should have understood Ezekiel's meaning.

12:11–14 they will go into exile, into captivity. Speaking in 592 BC, Ezekiel predicted the deportation of Jerusalem's population to Babylon six years later and prophesied exactly what would happen to their leader Zedekiah. The king would attempt to escape by night, secretly and in disguise; but he would be caught and blinded by the Babylonians, then carried off to Babylon where he would later die.

12:15–16 So they will know and understand fully that I am the LORD . The defeat of God's people would not indicate the Lord's lack of strength, but the serious consequences of sin against Him. Yet He would demonstrate that His purpose had always been to restore His people to Himself (Heb 12:1–11 ). Through the difficult experience, His people would learn that their God was both holy and loving. Sin offended Him, but He still would reach out to restore the sinner.

12:22 The days are long and every vision fails. This proverb among the exiles indicates how hardened they were to Ezekiel's prophecies. Although already captive, the people were cynical and apathetic, mistakenly thinking that a delay in judgment meant no judgment, at least in their lifetime (vv. 25 ,27 –28 ; 2Pe 3:3–4 ).

12:23–25 The days draw near as well as the fulfillment of every vision. This proverb would replace the old one (v. 22 ), and false prophets opposing Ezekiel would cease to speak. The exiles would live to see the judgment on Jerusalem fulfilled.

13:2–4 foxes among the ruins. In the immediate context (v. 5 ), the foxes are pictured roaming amid the rubble of ruined city walls. The prophets were fools because they confused their own thoughts with God's. They were like foxes among the ruins because they scavenged for themselves while causing, ignoring, and profiting from the human wreckage surrounding them.

13:5 the day of the LORD . This phrase refers to times when God triumphs (7:19 ; 30:3 ). It is particularly used by the prophets to describe those periods in which God is unusually active in the affairs of His people, either for deliverance or for judgment (Joel 2:1 ; Zep 1:7 ). In that day, God will actively bring about His purposes for the world; He will rescue the righteous and judge evildoers.

13:10–16 you will perish in its midst. The false prophets would experience God's wrath—just as the walls of Jerusalem which were being constructed at that time would be destroyed. Jerusalem would be conquered and captured for the sins of its inhabitants. The preaching of a false peace had prompted people to build for a “certain” future, but only the opposite was certain. The false prophets had deceived the people with false hopes of comfort and prosperity (v. 10 ). Their deception placed them not only at odds with God's truth, but also with God Himself. Their destruction was certain.

13:17–19 set your face against the daughters of your people. The Hebrew women who were false prophetesses were confusing their own ideas with God's and casting magic death spells through sorcery or witchcraft (Lev 19:26 ).

14:1–3 certain of the elders of Israel. God revealed to Ezekiel that this group consisted of double-minded men (1Ki 18:21 ; Mt 6:24 ; Jas 1:5–8 ). Outwardly, they came to seek a word from God through His true prophet Ezekiel, but in their hearts they harbored loyalties to other gods.

14:5 take hold of the heart (mind) of the house of Israel. These words announce God's restorative purpose (Pr 3:12 ; Rev 3:19 ) in allowing sin to run its course.

14:8 I will cut him off from among My people. The unrepentant idolater would be separated not only from God, but also from God's people (13:9 ). This experience would be a strong visual warning and an international example—proverb—of God's absolute honoring of His promise to punish disobedience with cursing (Lev 20:1–7 ).

14:9–11 They [both] will bear the punishment of their wickedness. The relationship between God's sovereignty and human responsibility is implicit in these verses. God allows false preaching for His own inscrutable purposes, but the preacher is held accountable for the content of the message. These were Israelite false prophets who deliberately ignored the truth and mixed it with falsehood.

15:6 the grapevine among the trees of the forest. Unlike an olive tree whose wood is also useful, the grapevine has only one use, to bear grapes.

15:6–8 the fire will consume them. God had designed the people of Israel for a particular purpose, to bring glory to His name by living faithfully to His covenant and by bringing the nations to the knowledge of the Lord. Instead, Israel had become like the pagan nations around them.

16:2 make Jerusalem understand [the heinous and vile nature of] her repulsive (idolatrous) acts. What follows is an animated development of the dreary story, designed to teach errant Jerusalem the real nature of her character in the eyes of God. The word “abominations” describes that which makes one physically ill.

16:3 your [spiritual] father was an Amorite and your [spiritual] mother a Hittite. These shocking words refer to the cultural and moral origins of Jerusalem. Ancient Canaan was inhabited by Semitic and non-Semitic peoples. The Amorites and Hittites are associated in Scripture with the southern hill country, where Jerusalem is (Nu 13:29). The point is that non-Israelites founded this city. Jebusites controlled it when the Israelites entered the land under Joshua (Jos 15:8). Israel did not obtain full control of the city until David conquered it (2Sa 5:6–7). In other words, Israel was not as pure as it thought it was.

16:4 nor were you rubbed with salt. God reminds Jerusalem that He had rescued them from being like an abandoned newborn child—unwashed, unsanitary, and exposed to the elements to die. God alone has given her glory.

16:6 while you were there in your blood, ‘Live!’ Ezekiel warned the Jews remaining in Jerusalem to repent, reminding them that not merely their existence, but their living relation to God, was dependent upon His free grace. God alone is the Author of eternal life, just as He is Creator of all life (Jn 5:24).

16:7–9 your breasts were formed. The city is compared to a young woman, mature and lovely. Yet it was naked and bare until God covered it with a relationship of covenantal love. This began when David moved the ark of the covenant there and God established the covenant with David (2Sa 6:1–7:17).

16:15 you trusted in and relied on your beauty. These words indict God’s people for forgetting that their fame and fortune were God’s gifts and not their own doing (v. 14). They relied on themselves and their gifts instead of on God. They came to believe that their material wealth and health as a nation absolutely demonstrated God’s approval of their spiritual life, even though they were becoming spiritually corrupt.

16:27–29 You prostituted yourself. Jerusalem’s kings had sought political alliances with Assyria (2Ki 15:17–20) and Babylon (2Ki 20:12–19) instead of relying on their God for security. Probably a part of the treaty-making ceremonies was to worship the other nation’s god. For Israel to do this would be a violation of the First Commandment.

16:36 your lewdness was poured out. Jerusalem was filthy spiritually because the city had soiled itself by worshiping foreign idols and practicing infanticide (vv. 20–21; Dt 12:29–32).

16:41 I will make you cease your prostitution. During the captivity, Israel would abandon idolatry and polytheism, as Ezekiel predicted. God’s anger over the people’s sin would be satisfied.

16:44–47 Samaria . . . Sodom. Along with Jerusalem, these three are presented as sisters in the religiously and morally corrupt cultures in Canaan. Ezekiel even makes the point that Jerusalem had become more corrupt than the other two.

16:53–59 you who have despised the oath by breaking the covenant. The punishment of the exile and captivity was appropriate. The clear promise of the covenant was that blessings and curses were dependent upon Israel’s obedience or disobedience (Ex 24; Lev 26; Dt 28–29).

16:60–63 Nevertheless, I will remember. Despite Jerusalem’s disobedience to the Mosaic covenant and the resulting punishment, the covenant with Abraham—My covenant—would still be honored. Fulfillment of the covenant with Abraham did not depend on the people’s faithfulness; God had made the promise and He would keep it (Ge 15 ; 17:7–8 ; Lev 26:40–45 ; Ps 145:13 ). The everlasting covenant had been made with Abraham before the Hebrew nation even existed. This covenant would be remembered and reestablished with the exiled Judeans. At that time, God’s people would be ashamed by the contrast between their faithlessness and God’s faithfulness and the fact that they were being exalted over those who were less sinful—Sodom and Samaria. The people of these other sinful nations would also inherit land, but only by God’s grace, because no such covenant was made with them.

17:2–10 ask a riddle and tell a parable. Both of these words can be used to refer to an allegory. The “parable” primarily refers to a comparison between two things. A “riddle” was sometimes used as a political contest of mental competition between kings, in which the loser would submit to the winner and be killed. The details of the allegory: great eagle is the king of Babylon (v. 12); Lebanon symbolizes Canaan, of which Jerusalem (v. 12) is the major city; the top of the cedar is the king of Jerusalem and Judah (v. 12); the topmost of its young twigs refers to the nobility of Judah; the city of merchants is Babylon; the seed is a member of the royal family (v. 13); the fruitful field is the land where this royal offspring would rule (vv. 13–14); another great eagle is the king of Egypt (v. 15); and the vine is the remnant and ruler left in Judah. This remnant failed to prosper because they made a treaty with the Egyptian Pharaoh. As a result, even the remnant was slain and scattered by Babylon’s army (vv. 15–21).

17:11–21 Say now to the rebellious house. Since Ezekiel had preached earlier about Jerusalem’s past abominations (ch. 16), the people were likely charging God with unfairness in punishing the present population. Ezekiel points out that present and past sins make God’s actions just and fair. In this section, the Lord explains His grounds for using Babylon to judge Judah.

17:22 I Myself will take. The Hebrew is emphatic: “I myself will take.” In contrast to human kings, God declared that He personally would pick out, plant, and make prominent “a tender one,” that is a twig or a sprig. Cedar branches are symbolic of rulers on the Davidic throne (17:3–4, 12–13) and elsewhere of a line of David’s descendants prophesied to produce the Messiah (2Sa 7:16 ; Isa 11:1–5 ; Jer 22:24–30 ; Zec 6:9–13 ; Mt 1:1–17 ).

17:23–24 make the dry tree flourish. What was accomplished in the restoration under Zerubbabel was a fulfillment of this promise. But as is often the case, in biblical prophecy, the greater fulfillment is still to come in the reign of the Savior King.

18:2–3 set on edge. The Hebrew word that is rendered here is literally “made dull” but can refer to a sour sensation. The main idea of the proverb is that children are affected by their parents’ behavioral choices just as eating sour grapes produces a bitter taste. However, the people were interpreting and applying this proverb incorrectly; therefore, God said they should not use it any longer.

18:4 The soul who sins will die. In this verse, the physical, earthly consequences of sinful behavior are being addressed (3:16–21 ; 33:12–20 ; Dt 30:15–20 ).

18:6 approach a woman during her [monthly] time of impurity. In ancient Israel, intimacy during the woman’s menstrual period was prohibited. The Old Testament does not explain the reason for this, but it may be tied to the special role of blood for the atoning of sin (Lev 15:19–33 ).

18:19–32 Why should the son not bear the punishment for the father’s sin? In this passage, Ezekiel further clarifies his teaching on individual responsibility for sin by answering certain questions that reflect what his audience might be thinking in response to his previous message. God’s response to their questions through Ezekiel is, in part, also composed of questions.

19:2–10 lioness . . . vine in your vineyard. Most likely both of these terms represented the nation of Israel since each was a “mother” of kings—the “cubs” and the “branches.” The vine and lion images are common symbols for Hebrew royalty and nationality (15:1–6 ; 17:1–10 ; Ge 49:9 ).

19:13 In a dry and thirsty land. To anyone who loved the covenantal promises focused on God’s worship in Jerusalem, any alternative to Jerusalem was akin to living in the desert.

20:2–4 I will not be inquired of by you. God explains to Ezekiel that the elders of Israel had forfeited any right to inquire of Him due to the abominations of their fathers. All the people are responsible for their own sins, and this does not mean that these Hebrews were paying for sins their ancestors had committed. Instead, the present generation of Hebrews in exile had clearly shown their failure to learn practical lessons from history, and thus had condemned themselves to repeat many mistakes. These leaders came to God with questions, but the questions were foolish and demonstrated the people's sinfulness. God gives a remedial review of their past.

20:11 if a man keeps, he will live. Following their exodus from slavery in Egypt, God began to sanctify the Israelites by revealing to them a code of law and entering a covenant relationship with them on a Creator-creature basis. This does not teach that eternal salvation can be earned by good works, but that the quality of the believer's physical and spiritual life on earth are related to his or her obedience to the living God.

20:12 I gave them My Sabbaths. This is an important verse for understanding the Sabbath (Ex 20:8–11; Dt 5:12–15). Sabbath means "rest." That is, the Sabbath was a day to cease all ordinary work or labor, as clearly emphasized in Exodus 20:8–11. The Sabbath was to serve as a sign of God's covenantal relationship with His people, Israel.

20:20 Sanctify My Sabbaths. This word means "to treat as holy," "to observe as distinct," and "to consecrate." God commands that His Sabbaths be continually maintained by His people as sacred—distinct and separate from ordinary days.

20:32 We will be like the [pagan] nations. Chosen to be a nation separate from sin and secular ways—a special instrument to reveal God's glory—Israel's consistent tendency was to identify with the neighboring ungodly nations and to take on their idolatrous ways (Ex 19:5).

20:33–36 I will bring you out from the peoples. The judgment of captivity in Babylon had begun in the deportations of 605 and 597 BC and would be continued with Jerusalem's fall in 586 BC. However, God also promised to restore Judah and to judge her enemies with fury (Dt 4:34). This refers to the Persian conquest of Babylon in 539 BC and to the three returns of the Jews to their land and the rebuilding of their homeland (538–330 BC), yet Israel would again be taken captive and made to wander throughout the nations during the Roman occupation.

20:37 I will make you pass under the rod. This is the way a shepherd counts and controls his sheep (Lev 27:32; Jer 33:13).

20:39 Go, let everyone serve his idols. This is an ironic command; the rest of the verse indicates that God was giving the stubborn people over to what they had decided. God grants each one a destiny consistent with his or her decisions.

20:44 And you will know [without any doubt] that I am the LORD . The promise of this verse is that the Lord will gather the nation of Israel from places where they have been dispersed and that they will repent because of the evil things they have done.

20:46–47 the forest land of the Negev. This refers to the land of Judah—the Southern Kingdom—which had more trees then than now.

21:6 groan with breaking heart. This phrase translates words that literally mean "breaking of the loins," suggesting intense emotional upheaval.

21:12 Cry out and wail . . . strike your thigh. Ezekiel was told to add verbal groans and a physical gesture to his musical message. In that culture, these actions displayed great grief and sorrow (Jer 31:19).

21:14–17 let the sword be doubled the third time. This was a numeric device (Pr 6:16) used here to emphasize the extent and effectiveness of the sword's employment against Judah.

21:19–20 point out a way. Ezekiel was to place a signpost at a fork in the road leading to the capital cities of Ammon and Judah.

21:21 shakes the arrows. There was a method of casting lots using arrows inscribed with names. They were shaken about in the quiver and then dropped to the ground like throwing dice. looks at the liver. Sheep livers from sacrificed animals were studied. The shades and shapes of various sections of the organ were the basis for a positive or negative prediction.

21:26–27 turban . . . crown. These stand for the priesthood and kingship. Both would be removed from Judah.

21:28 concerning the sons of Ammon. The Ammonites joined other nations east of the Jordan in raiding Judean territory, in return for protection from Nebuchadnezzar. Later, during the reign of Zedekiah, Ammon, Moab, Edom, and others conspired against Babylon, but with false hopes of help from Egypt (Jer 27:3–11 ).

22:1–5 you have caused your day [of judgment and punishment] to approach. The city was ripe for judgment. When such hypocrisy is exposed and punishment is executed before the world, God's people become lasting objects of ridicule.

22:6–12 the princes of Israel. Jerusalem's princes had shed the blood of innocent people (7:27 ; 11:1 ; 12:10 ; 19:1 ; 21:13 ). These evil leaders had been (1) taking advantage of parents and the weak; (2) rejecting God and His covenant, leading to ungodliness and inhumanity; (3) murdering the innocent by slandering them; (4) preferring idolatrous religion and its immoral rituals; (5) engaging in sexual immorality with neighbors, family, and relatives; and (6) loving money and using it to get ahead of fellow citizens.

22:26 Her priests. Those who were supposed to be leaders were not examples of separation from worldly ways (Ex 19:6 ). Some at least were motivated by monetary gain (Mic 3:11 ).

22:28 have smeared whitewash for them. The false prophets were involved in “whitewashing” the sins of the nation’s leaders.

22:30 searched for a man among them. God could not find a spiritual leader to guide the people in godliness.

23:4 Oholah. In Hebrew, Oholah means “her own tabernacle” and Oholibah means “My tabernacle is in her.” These seem to refer to God’s sanctuaries in each land or, in a distinct usage, to the tent shrines for Canaanite idols as opposed to God’s true temple.

23:9–10 They uncovered her nakedness. This means to be stripped bare and so put to great shame. Ezekiel is reminding his audience of how God already had judged Samaria through Assyrian conquest and captivity in 722 BC (2Ki 17:5–41 ).

23:14 she saw men pictured on the wall. These lines tell how Judean envoys to Babylon became enamored of Babylonian rulers and their power through pictures (Jer 22:14 ) on their palace and temple walls.

23:17–18 she had been defiled by them. This is an allusion to Judah’s turning in disappointment and disgust from relying on Babylon to relying on Egypt (2Ki 23:28–24:1 ). God’s alienation from Jerusalem is an allusion to the city’s coming defeat by Nebuchadnezzar.

23:24 large shield. This large shield was rectangular in shape.

23:32–34 You will drink your sister’s cup. The cup is often symbolic of God’s judgment (Ps 75:7–8 ; Jer 25:15–29 ). The phrase portrays how completely Judah would drink the cup of wrath, breaking what was already broken. tear your breasts. This image gives a picture of the resultant agony and anguish.

24:1–2 record the name of the day. This would be a bitter reminder of God’s trustworthiness to do what He promised through the prophets.

24:5 flock. The flock was symbolic of God’s chosen people (ch. 34 ). bones. Bones were sometimes used as fuel for fire.

24:6 Without making any choice. God does not play favorites; His judgment would fall equally on all inhabitants of the city, for they all had sinned.

24:16 you shall not mourn and you shall not weep. This command of God may be one of the hardest ever given to one of His servants. The picture of Ezekiel's wife dying and Ezekiel not being allowed to grieve illustrated God's pain over the death of His wife—Jerusalem—and His inability to mourn because the nation deserved the punishment. Ezekiel was called by God to “be a sign to the exiles” by demonstrating what they should do in response to the “death” of their desire and delight—their nation and its capital city. What Ezekiel was commanded to accept and do illustrated the degree of personal sacrifice and separation from ordinary life that the prophetic ministry often required. A long period of mourning was normal in the ancient Middle East.

24:21 the delight of your soul. The Judeans had the wrong kind of pride about the temple. Instead of the temple being a place of worship and the house of God, the Judeans took pride in the building as a sign of their importance.

24:22–24 sign. When Jerusalem fell, God would prove Himself as trustworthy and righteous, and Ezekiel as His true prophet (v. 27). you will know [without any doubt] that I am the Lord GOD . The trials that the Israelites were going through would prompt them to depend on the Lord and know that He is holy.

25:2 set your face toward the Ammonites. This country corresponds roughly to the present-day country of Jordan with its capital Amman.

25:4 people of the East. This is another title for the Babylonians (21:31 ). Ancient historical records mention Ammon's subjugation by Nebuchadnezzar five years after the fall of Jerusalem. Arab invaders came to dominate the territory, and Persian control began about 530 BC.

25:8–12 Moab and Seir. Moab was south of Ammon and east of the Dead Sea. Seir (Edom) was located south of Moab. They were the descendants of Esau.

25:15 Philistines. The Philistines were along the Mediterranean coast in southwest Palestine.

25:16 Cherethites. This term was used here as a substitute term for some or all of the Philistines who had migrated from Crete. Their remote ancestors were Aegeans.

26:2 Tyre. Tyre was a major seaport and the leading city in Phoenicia (present-day Lebanon). has said. The past tense could refer to an event that had not yet taken place, using a Hebrew idiom which describes a future event so certain that it can be expressed as having already been accomplished (Isa 9:6 ; 52:13–53:12 ).

26:7–14 I will make you [Tyre] a bare rock. This prophecy of Tyre's fate had two steps. First the Babylonian army under Nebuchadnezzar laid siege to it, and Persia defeated it in about 525 BC. Then in 322 BC Alexander the Great defeated it again when his army built a causeway a half a mile long between the shore and the city on its island. He tore down defensive walls to build the causeway.

27:1–25 take up a dirge (funeral poem to be sung) for Tyre. Prosperity often leads to pride, which results in the abandonment of God (Dt 18:11–14 ). Jerusalem and Tyre both claimed to be unique, the former because of her exclusive claim to true religion and the latter because of the exclusive emphasis on material gain. Yet the wealth of Tyre vanished quickly.

27:6 Bashan. This was the broad and fertile plateau east of the Sea of Galilee and the upper Jordan.

27:8 Sidon. Sidon was a Phoenician seaport about 30 miles north of Tyre. The two cities were rivals but Tyre tended to dominate.

27:10–11 Lud and Put. These places were thought to be in western Asia Minor and Africa.

27:13 Javan (Greece), Tubal and Meshech. Javan is Greece. Tubal and Meshech are thought to have been in eastern Asia Minor or modern Turkey.

27:14 Beth-togarmah. This phrase may refer to the people of Armenia in eastern Asia Minor (38:6 ).

27:15 Dedan. This may have been “Redan” or Rhodes which was a major trading center in the southern Aegean Sea.

27:17 balm. Balm was an aromatic resin or other gummy substance that may have had medicinal value (Jer 8:22 ).

27:19 cassia. Cassia was either a type of cinnamon tree or a plant from which perfume and incense were made. sweet cane. This refers to an oil-producing reed found in swamps.

27:21 Kedar. Kedar was a nomadic tribe in Arabia.

27:22 Sheba and Raamah. These places were located near Arabia (Ge 10:6–7 ).

27:23 Canneh and Eden . . . Chilmad. These three places were probably in Mesopotamia, most likely south of Haran.

28:2 Because your heart is lifted up. Ezekiel rebuked the king of Tyre for imagining that by his wisdom he had acquired his riches of silver and gold. He had filled the city with violence because of the abundance and unrighteousness of his trade. God would therefore bring a ruthless nation against him.

28:10 the death of the uncircumcised. This term denotes a disgraceful death (31:18 ).

28:12 king of Tyre. The lamentation is for the king of Tyre because he is exhibiting the character and attitudes of Satan. You had the full measure. In effect, the king affixed the official seal of his signet ring to the plans that made Tyre one of the leading centers of commerce in that day.

28:14 cherub. Satan was a created being (v. 13 ). He does not have the characteristics of God. He belonged to the order of angels called Cherubim. the holy mountain of God. The focus here seems to be on the king of Tyre’s attempt to enter into the council of the gods. So instead of the verse referring to the king’s presence in Jerusalem, it could refer more logically to a Phoenician ritual, the celebration of their patron god Melqart’s fiery resurrection. This king wanted to imitate Melqart.

28:15 blameless. Satan was not created evil. unrighteousness and evil. The Bible does not say where this iniquity came from, but his sin was pride (1Ti 3:6 ).

28:16–19 the abundance of your commerce. The expression is most easily and appropriately applied to the human king who was the driving force behind the development of Tyre’s commercial empire.

28:17 because of your beauty. This was part of the sin of pride, which made Satan want to be like the Most High (Isa 14:13–14 ). cast you to the ground. Jesus said that He saw Satan fall (Lk 10:18 ).

28:24 briar or a painful thorn. These words refer to the nations around Israel who had been enemies and evil influences. When the judgments were executed fully, these nations would no longer be able to harass and oppress Israel.

29:3 The great monster. The Pharaoh is pictured here as a crocodile. Pharaoh’s arrogant pride is described by his words about the Nile River, “I have made it for myself.”

29:4–5 I will put hooks in your jaws. Whereas verse 3 explains why Pharaoh would be punished, these verses explain how the punishment would be accomplished. The imagery pictures a crocodile being caught, carried out of the water onto land, and left as carrion.

29:8 sword. Here is another reference to the Babylonian army under Nebuchadnezzar, the predicted human instrument of God’s coming wrath (21:1–7 ; 9–11 ,19–20 ).

29:10 to [southern] Syene, even as far as the border of Ethiopia. This phrase refers to places most likely near the northern and southern boundaries of ancient Egypt, indicating the totality of the land (Jdg 20:1 ). The desolation would extend to the land south of Egypt—ancient Nubia, which is modern Sudan.

29:14–15 land of Pathros. This was southern Egypt. It would thereafter never again dominate other nations.

29:18 every [soldier's] head became bald. The siege of Tyre was protracted, lasting about 13 years.

29:21 In that day. This refers to the day when Egypt would fall to Babylon, and a prophecy about the Messiah should not be read into this text.

30:5 Ethiopia. This is the Hebrew Cush, and refers to the area south of Egypt toward modern Ethiopia.

30:9 day of [judgment for] Egypt. This was the day that Egypt and her allies would be conquered. It was part of a larger period of God's judgment on the nations outside Israel by means of Babylon; in fact, Ezekiel describes the Babylonians as "messengers" sent from God Himself.

30:13–19 Memphis. Ancient Memphis was a significant city in Egypt. It was capital of the Old Kingdom in the third century BC.

30:21 I have broken the arm of Pharaoh. The prophecy refers to Pharaoh Hophra's unsuccessful attempt to relieve the siege of Jerusalem just a few months earlier (29:2 ,6–7). God used Nebuchadnezzar to defeat the Egyptian army.

31:4 The waters nourished it. These waters were the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. They were important for agricultural fertility and fostered the development of great cities along trade routes.

31:10–14 I will hand it over to a mighty one and a mighty one of the nations. The meaning is that Assyria had been cut down by Babylon. The picturesque conclusion to this second message of chapter 31 indicates that all the other nations that observe Assyria's ruin would share its destiny of death.

31:18 Pharaoh and all his hordes. If Assyria, the greatest nation, had fallen to the Babylonians, surely a nation less great (Egypt) would also fall.

32:2 lion . . . monster in the seas. These words depict Egypt as proud and powerful.

32:14 rivers run [slowly and smoothly] like oil. This phrase is not used anywhere else in the Bible. It pictures the time following massive killing when the Nile and its tributaries would experience a "deadly" calm.

32:24 Elam [a conquest of Assyria] is there. Elam was east and southeast of Assyria in what is now Iran. The people of Elam were descended from one of the sons of Shem (Ge 10:22 ; 1Ch 1:17 ).

32:30 princes of the north. This is a reference to lands that are north of Israel like Tyre and Sidon.

32:31 Pharaoh will see. Now the message (vv. 17–32) comes full circle. The point is that Egypt and Pharaoh will die like the other nations at the hand of the living God who judges every nation with justice.

33:2 the sons of your people. This phrase refers to fellow Israelites in exile with Ezekiel, now including the people of Judah deported to Babylon after Nebuchadnezzar.

33:12–20 I will judge you, every one [of you] in accordance with his own ways. God presents His rationale in these verses for deciding who would be rewarded with life and who would suffer death; He would save those who repent and turn to Him, but would condemn those who trust in themselves and do evil. After presenting His rationale, God declares that His judgment is just and fair—certainly more just than the practices of the Israelites.

33:25–26 Should you take possession of the land? Ezekiel confronted his people with specific examples of their past and present refusal to obey God's revealed will for their lives (18:6 ,10 ; 22:11 ; Ex 20:4–5 ,13 ; Lev 7:26–27 ; 17:10–14 ; Dt 12:16 ,23). Was it not then reasonable that God would punish the present generation by removing them from the land, at least temporarily? The writer of Hebrews, after using the example of Israel's failure to enter the land, admonished the church in a similar way (Heb 4:1 ).

33:30–33 they hear your words, but they do not practice them. This section contrasts the actions and attitudes of the exiles with the life of God's prophet Ezekiel. The exiles had claimed to go to the prophet to receive God's revelation, but their behavior was inconsistent with their stated beliefs. Their true desire was for entertainment, not for divine enlightenment. If the fall of Jerusalem failed to awaken them spiritually, nothing would. Yet it certainly would open their eyes to the divine truth of Ezekiel's preaching. In these verses then, God also comforted and consoled Ezekiel.

34:7–10 did not feed My flock. The crimes of Israel's leaders come under review before their punishment is pronounced.

34:11–16 a cloudy and gloomy day. This was the day Jerusalem fell (30:1–5). It may also speak of the future day of deliverance when God will seek out His sheep. Israel, though guilty and misguided, would eventually be rescued by the divine Good Shepherd and restored to the promised land (chs. 33–39).

34:23–24 I will appoint . . . he will feed. The change from the pronoun I to he in this verse indicates that God would continue operating as the Chief Shepherd through this chosen future ruler from the Davidic line. He is the Messiah—God's only Son and His servant.

34:25–31 covenant of peace. These exiles were encouraged through these promises (37:26–28 ; 38:11–13 ; 39:25–29 ; Isa 54:10): (1) security from foreign aggressor nations; (2) showers of blessing, meaning productivity and prosperity; and (3) the certainty that the Lord is Israel's God and desires reunion with His people and a lasting relationship built on a new covenant (Jer 31:31–34 ; Heb 8:6).

35:6–9 I will make you an everlasting desolation. Having stated why Edom deserved judgment, Ezekiel explained how the nation would be punished. The punishment would include widespread death and unrelieved destruction (Isa 34:6–8 ; 63:1–6 ; Jer 49:7–13 ).

36:1–7 The ancient heights. This was a term for Israel because the hill country was central to the country's geography. God is glorified and the exiles comforted by the following: (1) exposing the crimes of the enemies of His nation; (2) exonerating His land from false charges; and (3) executing judgment and justice against the foreign nations.

36:12 My people Israel. Despite all their sinfulness, which the book has taken enormous pains to detail and describe, the nation was still referred to as the people of God. They would finally and forever take possession of their land, symbolized by the mountains and the central hills of Palestine, which are personified as "you" in this verse.

36:19 I judged and punished them in accordance with their conduct and their [idolatrous] behavior. Israel had been hypocritical and unholy; they had not separated themselves or made themselves distinct from the pagan world around them (v. 18 ). God had given His people the promised land as a place where they could show the world the difference it makes to follow the true God (Dt 7:1–11 ). They failed to follow God, so He forced them out of the land. Through either their obedience or their disobedience, God would demonstrate to the watching world His personality, power, and plans.

36:25 sprinkle clean water on you. This symbolized cleansing from sin.

36:27 I will put my Spirit within you. The regenerating and empowering work of the Holy Spirit on individuals would not only restore the people physically to the land, but would restore them spiritually, by giving them a new heart and new spirit to help them follow Him and do His will (11:19–20 ; 18:31 ; 37:14 ; Jer 31:31–34 ; Joel 2:28–29 ; Ro 7:7–8:11 ).

36:28–30 you will be My people. The purpose of the Mosaic covenant would finally be realized (Dt 26:16–19 ; 29:13 ; 30:8 ). The Israelites would become a people dedicated to God's ways.

36:31–32 I am not doing this for your sake. The restoration from the exile would recover God's glorious reputation among the nations and erase the guilt of the Israelites' sin. This is all a product of God's favor on the Israelites—even though they had done nothing to merit such mercy.

37:4 Prophesy to these bones. Ezekiel's prophecies had often been directed to people as deaf as these old, dry bones.

37:5 breath. This word is translated as wind or spirit in other places. The breath sent by God into the lifeless bodies symbolizes the Holy Spirit who brings renewal, regeneration, and rebirth (Jn 3:5–8 ; 6:44 ; 7:37–39 ; Ro 8:9–11 ).

37:6 you may come alive. This passage is not about resurrection from physical death, but rebirth from spiritual death brought about by divine power. Psalm 87 is another text that speaks of spiritual rebirth. The point of Jesus' words to Nicodemus in John 3 was that he should have known and understood the concept of a second birth.

37:10 an exceedingly great army. The dead bones in the valley (vv. 1–2 ) must have looked like the aftermath of a horrible military defeat in which there were no survivors even to bury the dead.

37:11–14 these bones. The bones symbolize the whole house of Israel. This identification picks up on imagery already used: (1) those identified as dry or spiritually dead; (2) those identified as despondent and dejected, with no apparent hope of being “resurrected” as the people of the living God; and (3) those described as disassembled and dispersed before being rejoined and rebuilt. The major thrust of this passage is the coming spiritual rebirth of God's chosen people through the agency of His Spirit.

37:24–25 My servant David. This title refers to the Messiah and King who would come from David's line to save Israel (2Sa 7:8–16 ).

37:26–28 My sanctuary in their midst. The sanctuary or holy place of the living God is His dwelling place among His people (Zep 3:15–18 ). My sanctuary. This is a synonym for tabernacle. Both can be used of God's dwelling in the midst of His people in the wilderness. Here they point to the future dwelling of the living God in the midst of His people forevermore.

38:2 Son of man. This is a title for Ezekiel emphasizing his humanity, even though his message was from God. The proper names in this prophecy do not have to be specifically identified for an understanding of the main message.

38:3 Gog. This leader or king only appears in Scripture here and in Revelation 20:8 . Several ideas about his identity have been suggested but none are completely convincing.

38:8 After many days . . . in the latter years. The first phrase usually denotes an indefinite time period, sometimes extending into the distant future or the end times (Da 8:26 ). The second phrase frequently points to messianic times or to the times when Israel is regathered. From Ezekiel's viewpoint, he was predicting a time in the very distant future—the end times. Unless the passage refers to spiritual warfare, the invasion of Israel and the subsequent time of confident and carefree peace are still future events. they are living securely. This phrase indicates that the Israel of this passage is secure; the nation is not safe from attack, but it is safe from defeat.

38:18–23 My wrath will rise and show on My face. These verses speak of God defending His nation against Gog and his army with supernatural and earthshaking methods. Unusually strong language concerning the wrath of God is found in these verses.

39:6 I will also send fire. Often fire from the Lord has the form of lightning bolts (1Ki 18:38 ).

39:12 cleanse the land. The law of Moses prescribed the sacrifice of a heifer to cleanse the land if a murdered person was found in a region (Dt 21:1–9 ).

39:17–20 Say to every kind of bird. A poem or song is addressed to the scavenging birds and beasts who come to the multitude of dead bodies (vv. 14–16 ). Whether figurative or not, the passage powerfully pictures God's sovereign control over the complete conquest of Israel's future and most ferocious enemies (Rev 19:11–21 ). The meal would be a divinely prepared sacrifice served at God's table.

39:21–22 My glory among the nations. The universal knowledge of the living God of Israel will be based finally on the outcome of the battle described in chapters 38 and 39 . Ezekiel followed the great theme of biblical theology begun in Genesis 12:3 that the ultimate purpose of God in His choice of Abraham and Sarah was to make His blessings known to all the families of the earth. God will demonstrate His glory both among the nations and among His chosen people Israel.

40:1 In the twenty-fifth year of our exile. The actual date would have been about 573 BC. This final vision of the temple in the book is one of God returning to dwell in the midst of His people who are now restored in their homeland. These are difficult chapters to interpret because of how easy it is to get bogged down in the architectural details. The writing is apocalyptic in style and expresses in symbolic manner how God would restore Israel in the future.

40:3–5 a line of flax and a measuring rod in his hand. This man with a measuring rod is a kind of angelic architect who serves as both a guide and an interpreter for Ezekiel. Declare to the house of Israel all that you see. The details of the temple would have been of great importance and enormous interest to the exiles because the temple was the focal point of all of their worship.

40:7 cubits . . . rod. A cubit was about 18 inches long. A measuring rod was six cubits or ten and one-half feet in length.

40:16 palm tree decorations. These were common decorations that were also found in Solomon's temple (1Ki 6:29–35).

40:22 It was reached by going up seven steps. This would indicate that the temple area is a huge raised area, built up above the level of the surrounding land.

40:38–43 Four tables were on each side . . . on which they slaughter sacrifices. Ezekiel observes a room where the animals are slaughtered and washed for sacrificial offerings. These sacrifices point to the ultimate sacrifice; the sacrifice of God's only Son on the cross once for all (Heb 7:20–28 ; 9:25–30 ).

40:44–47 chamber . . . for the priests. The guide explains that the chamber on the north side is for the priests who run the day-to-day operations of the temple. The chamber on the south side is for the priests who perform the sacrifices.

41:1–4 Then he (the angel) brought me to the nave. The basic temple has three areas: the outer area, the holy place or "nave," and the inner area or the "most holy place." The innermost room is the focal point of the whole structure. Only the High Priest could enter it and then only once a year on the Day of Atonement.

41:13–15 Then he measured the temple. Ezekiel would have found pleasure in the symmetrical precision of the temple. It would have meant that it all fit together perfectly. There was nothing that was out of place. This may represent the order and harmony in God's future kingdom.

41:22 This is the table that is before the LORD. This is a reference to the table that held the shewbread or bread of the Presence (Ex 25:23–30 ), a reminder that man lives his whole life constantly in the divine presence. When God is not present to bless His people, their worship is unacceptable, because such worship will inevitably be merely formal and devoid of blessing. When God is present with His people in worship, they are then enabled to worship.

42:1–14 Then he (the angel) brought me out into the outer courtyard. At this point the text has given us many details of the physical descriptions of the temple. No references have been made to God's spiritual presence. Ezekiel has set the scene for the return of the Lord to His temple and city.

42:13–14 the holy chambers where the priests who are close to the LORD shall eat. This chapter focuses on the buildings designed for the use of the priests. They were used for storage, changing, and eating.

42:15–20 he brought me out. After seeing the inside of the temple area, the guide takes Ezekiel to see the surrounding grounds.

43:2 the glory and brilliance of the God of Israel was coming. Nineteen years before, Ezekiel had a vision of the Lord leaving His temple (10:18–22 ; 11:22–24 ). Now he gets a chance to see His return. Ezekiel's response is one of being overwhelmed with awe.

43:3 the River Chebar. This was where the Jewish exiles were located in Babylonia.

43:7–12 I will dwell in the midst of the sons (descendants) of Israel forever. When God left Jerusalem, it rapidly moved towards destruction. Here, when God returned, everything was rebuilt as a permanent dwelling. The Lord stipulated that Israel was not to defile God's holiness as it had done in the past.

43:20–23 make atonement . . . sin offering. These suggest purification and cleansing from sin. Because of the sinlessness—without blemish—of the sacrifice, the people for whom the sacrifice is made are declared acceptable before God (v. 27 ; Ex 29:14 ; Lev 3 ; 4:12 ).

44:1–3 This gate shall be shut. Today this is known as the “Golden Gate” and dates from several centuries after Christ. It is walled shut today in accordance with an Islamic tradition.

44:4–9 I looked, and behold, the glory and brilliance of the LORD filled the house of the LORD, and I fell face downward. Ezekiel experiences another awe-inspiring vision of God's glory leading him to bow in worship (1:28–2:1 ). God demands that His renewed people follow His regulations exactly. He emphasizes the necessity of holiness and righteousness, especially in light of Israel's past.

44:11–14 Yet they shall minister in My sanctuary. God explains to Ezekiel why the Levites would be limited to certain types of temple ministry. The Levites (with the exception of the sons of Zadok; v. 15 ) could not be priests but could be ministers (servants or attendants). They could not serve in the inner court or temple, where the holy things are located; but they could oversee the general operation of the temple complex.

44:23 The priests shall teach My people the difference between the holy and the common. These verses speak of holiness in conduct. These regulations continued practices already prescribed in the law of Moses (Lev 10:6 , 9 ; 21:1–7 ,10 ,14 ). Their aim was to help the priests avoid conformity to the immoral and idolatrous religious rituals and conduct among the pagan nations. The priests, then and in the future, have the responsibility of modeling and maintaining the highest standards of morality, self-control, self-denial, discipline, and obedience to God's will.

44:28 I am their inheritance. God was to be the priests' inheritance in all respects; they were not to inherit land or cities.

45:1–5 the holy portion of the land. A distinct or holy section was to be allocated for God. This area would be divided into two equal sections. One would be the portion for the Zadokites. In the center of this part of the holy district is the holy square-mile environs for the temple. The other half of the holy district would be the portion given to the Levites. All this is holy; God owns it.

45:6 the city. Most likely the city is Jerusalem.

45:7–8 My princes. Their identity is unknown (44:3 ), but his allotted area is on both sides of the holy district. The prince and God's princes of the Messianic Period—in contrast to previous leaders of Israel (11:1–13 ; 14:1–11 ,20–22 ; 34:1–10 )—will not be greedy for riches and real estate but will give the land that remains to the people.

45:10–11 Ye shall have just balances. The merchants were exhorted to use accurate measures. They must not cheat anymore when weighing produce (Lev 19:35 ; Am 8:5 ; Mic 6:10–12 ). God called for an end to dishonesty and deceit; a time is coming when all such scheming will end (37:15–28 ).

45:18 In the first month, on the first of the month. This is an annual day of purifying the temple sanctuary. In the light of Jesus' death on the cross, the actions of the prince symbolize and emphasize that God has made atonement for all through the sacrifice of the Messiah. The prince represents the people in these actions of worship.

45:21 you shall have the Passover, a feast of seven days. In this passage the Feasts of Passover and Tabernacles are observed (Ex 12:1–14 ; Lev 23:5–8 ,33–43 ; Nu 28:16–25 ). The dates are in relation to the Levitical calendar, the Jewish religious year. The procedures as well are very similar to those of the Mosaic system. These feasts commemorate God's faithfulness to His promises.

46:1–8 The prince shall enter. What the rituals signified under the law was fulfilled by the Messiah. At the time of this prince, certain promises were being fulfilled and the covenants consummated in the Messianic Age (40:6–16 ,28–37 ; 43:18–27 ; Ex 20:8–11 ).

46:9 No one shall return by way of the gate through which he entered. The prescribed protocol was probably to ensure an orderly procession and service. Such regulations would be needed on the special feast days due to the participation of large numbers of people.

46:14 a perpetual ordinance. This is a change from the provisions in the law (Nu 28:5 ). God's people cannot be reminded too often of God's provisions for them; nor can they thank Him too much or too frequently.

46:24 These are the kitchens of the cooks. These were kitchen areas for the people to boil their sacrifices. The temple was a place for sacrificing, cooking, and eating. To combine the two elements is healthy for spiritual fellowship.

47:7–12 their water flows from the sanctuary. The living water that God will provide has immeasurable power to renew, restore, and resurrect life. The water is a river of healing and the source of abundant life for everything and everyone.

47:14 You shall divide it as an inheritance, each one equally with the other. Equality of inheritance is stressed. The unilateral and unconditional nature of the Abrahamic covenant is suggested; this inheritance is a free gift of God's grace which God's people did and could do nothing to deserve.

47:21–23 and among the foreigners. Non-Israelites who married and settled within the Jewish communities were to be accepted as native Israelites, qualified to share in the territorial inheritance of whatever tribe they joined (Lev 19:34 ).

48:1 Now these are the names. The land would be divided into thirteen parts. The division makes it clear that all who believe have a place.

48:31 named after the names of the tribes of Israel. The gates are named after the original twelve tribes (Rev 21:12–13 ). The gate for Joseph represents the two tribes of Manasseh and Ephraim.

48:35 The LORD is There. This return of the Lord and the regathering of His people is predicted by Ezekiel in 11:17 ; 20:33–44 ; 37:15–28 and 39:21–29 . The Lord was forced to depart from the city and the temple because of the wickedness of the Israelites (8:6 ; 10:18 ). But here, Ezekiel foresees the return of God in all His glory to His people, His temple, and His land. This was a powerful message in its context. Ezekiel and his immediate audience were far away from their homeland. This vision of the coming restoration would have inspired much hope in the faithful.

The Book of Daniel

- AUTHOR: Daniel's life and ministry bridge the entire seventy-year period of Babylonian captivity. This claims Daniel as author, and it uses the first person from 7:2 onward. The Jewish Talmud supports this claim, and Christ attributed a quote from 9:27 to "the prophet Daniel" (Mt 24:15 ). Daniel's wisdom and divinely given interpretive abilities brought him into a position of prominence, especially in the courts of Nebuchadnezzar and Darius.
- TIMES: c. 605–536 BC
- KEY VERSES: Da 2:20–22
- THEME: Daniel is one of very few heroes in the Bible whose record is flawless. He is an example of how to live and work as a believer in a hostile environment; a man of action while at the same time fully aware of his dependence on God. The important prophecies in Daniel have inspired many interpretations over the years. Many have attempted to identify the various elements of the prophecies and apply them to contemporary figures.

Daniel 1

The Choice Young Men

<sup>2</sup> The Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, along with some of the articles of the house of God; and he brought them into the land of Shinar, to the house of his god, and brought the articles into the treasury of his god.  [2 Chr 36:5–7; Jer 27:19, 20; Dan 5:1–3 ] ‡

<sup>3</sup> And the [Babylonian] king told Ashpenaz, the chief of his officials, to bring in some of the sons of Israel, including some from the royal family and from the nobles,  [2 Kin 20:17, 18. ]

<sup>4</sup> young men without blemish and handsome in appearance, skillful in all wisdom, endowed with intelligence and discernment, and quick to understand, competent to stand [in the presence of the king] and able to serve in the king's palace. He also ordered Ashpenaz to teach them the literature and language of the Chaldeans. ‡

<sup>5</sup> The king assigned a daily ration for them from his finest food and from the wine which he drank. They were to be educated and nourished this way for three years so that at the end of that time they were [prepared] to enter the king's service. ‡

<sup>6</sup> Among them from the sons of Judah were: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah.

<sup>7</sup> The commander of the officials gave them [Babylonian] names: Daniel he named Belteshazzar, Hananiah he named Shadrach, Mishael he named Meshach, and Azariah he named Abed-nego. ‡

Daniel's Resolve

<sup>8</sup> But Daniel made up his mind that he would not defile (taint, dishonor) himself with the king's finest food or with the wine which the king drank; so he asked the commander of the officials that he might [be excused so that he would] not defile himself.  [Num 6:1–4; 1 Cor 10:21. ] ‡

<sup>9</sup> Now God granted Daniel favor and compassion in the sight of the commander of the officials, ‡

<sup>10</sup> and the commander of the officials said to Daniel, “I am afraid of my lord the king, who has prearranged your food and your drink; for why should he see your faces looking more haggard than the young men who are your own age? Then you would make me forfeit my head to the king.”

<sup>11</sup> But Daniel said to the overseer whom the commander of the officials had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, <sup>12</sup> “Please, test your servants for ten days, and let us be given some vegetables to eat and water to drink.

<sup>13</sup> “Then let our appearance and the appearance of the young men who eat the king’s finest food be observed and compared by you, and deal with your servants in accordance with what you see.”

<sup>14</sup> So the man listened to them in this matter and tested them for ten days.

<sup>15</sup> At the end of ten days it seemed that they were looking better and healthier than all the young men who ate the king’s finest food.

<sup>16</sup> So the overseer continued to withhold their fine food and the wine they were to drink, and kept giving them vegetables.

<sup>17</sup> As for these four young men, God gave them knowledge and skill in all kinds of literature and wisdom; Daniel also understood all kinds of visions and dreams.  [Luke 21:15; James 1:5–7. ] ‡

<sup>18</sup> At the end of the time set by the king to bring all the young men in [before him], the commander of the officials presented them to Nebuchadnezzar.

<sup>19</sup> The king spoke with them, and among them all not one was found like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah; so they were [selected and] assigned to stand before the king and enter his personal service. ‡

<sup>20</sup> In every matter of wisdom and understanding about which the king consulted them, he found them ten times better than all the [learned] magicians and enchanters (Magi) in his whole realm. ‡

<sup>21</sup> And Daniel remained there until the first year of [the reign of] King Cyrus [over Babylon; now this was at the end of the seventy-year exile of Judah (the Southern Kingdom) in Babylonia, as foretold by Jeremiah].  [Ezra 1:1–3; Jer 25:11, 12; 29:10. ] ‡

The King’s Forgotten Dream

<sup>2</sup> Then the king gave a command to call the magicians, the enchanters, the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans to tell the king his dreams. So they came in and stood before the king. ‡

<sup>3</sup> The king said to them, “I had a dream, and my spirit is troubled and anxious to know the [content and meaning of the] dream.”

<sup>4</sup> Then the Chaldeans said to the king in Aramaic, “O king, live forever! Tell the dream to your servants, and we will declare the interpretation.” ‡

<sup>5</sup> The king replied to the Chaldeans, “My command is firm and unchangeable: if you do not reveal to me the [content of the] dream along with its interpretation, you shall be cut into pieces and your houses shall be made a heap of rubbish. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “But if you tell [me] the [content of the] dream along with its interpretation, you shall receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. So tell me the dream and its interpretation.” ‡

<sup>7</sup> They answered again, “Let the king tell the dream to his servants, and we will explain its interpretation [to you].”

<sup>8</sup> The king replied, “I know for certain that you are bargaining for time, because you have seen that my command [to you] is firm and irrevocable.

<sup>9</sup> “If you will not reveal to me the [content of the] dream, there is but one sentence for you; for you have [already] prepared lying and corrupt words [and you have agreed together] to speak [them] before me [hoping to delay your execution] until the situation is changed. Therefore, tell me the dream [first], and then I will know [with confidence] that you can give me its interpretation.”

<sup>10</sup> The Chaldeans answered the king and said, “There is not a man on earth who can tell the king this matter, for no king, lord or ruler has ever asked such a thing as this of any magician or enchanter or Chaldean.

<sup>12</sup> Because of this the king was indignant and extremely furious and gave a command to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.

<sup>13</sup> So the decree went out that the wise men were to be killed; and they looked for Daniel and his companions to put them to death.

<sup>14</sup> Then Daniel replied with discretion and wisdom to Arioch, the captain of the king's bodyguard, who had gone out to execute the wise men of Babylon;

<sup>15</sup> he said to Arioch, the king's captain, "Why is the decree from the king so harsh and urgent?" Then Arioch explained the matter to Daniel.

<sup>16</sup> So Daniel went in and asked the king to appoint a date and give him time, so that he might reveal to the king the interpretation of the dream.

<sup>17</sup> Then Daniel returned to his house and discussed the matter with Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions,

<sup>18</sup>-in order that they might seek compassion from the God of heaven regarding this secret, so that Daniel and his companions would not be executed with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. ‡

The Secret Is Revealed to Daniel

<sup>19</sup> Then the secret was revealed to Daniel in a vision of the night, and Daniel blessed the God of heaven. ‡

<sup>20</sup> Daniel answered, ‡

"Blessed be the name of God forever and ever,
For wisdom and power belong to Him.

<sup>21</sup> "It is He who changes the times and the seasons; ‡
He removes kings and establishes kings.
He gives wisdom to the wise
And [greater] knowledge to those who have understanding! [
Dan 4:35]

<sup>22</sup> "It is He who reveals the profound and hidden things; ‡
He knows what is in the darkness,
And the light dwells with Him. [Job 15:8; Ps 25:14; Matt 6:6]
]

<sup>23</sup> "I thank You and praise You, O God of my fathers, ‡
For You have given me wisdom and power;
Even now You have made known to me what we requested of
You,
For You have made known to us [the solution to] the king's matter."

<sup>24</sup> So Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to destroy the wise men of Babylon; he went and said this to him: "Do not execute the wise men of Babylon! Bring me before the king, and I will reveal to the king the interpretation [of his dream].”

<sup>25</sup> Then Arioch hurriedly brought Daniel before the king and said this to him: “I have found a man among the exiles of Judah who can explain to the king the interpretation [of the dream].”

<sup>26</sup> The king said to Daniel, whose [Babylonian] name was Belteshazzar, “Are you able to reveal to me the [content of the] dream which I have seen and its interpretation?”

<sup>27</sup> Daniel answered the king and said, “Regarding the mystery about which the king has inquired, neither the wise men, enchanters, magicians, nor astrologers are able to answer the king,

<sup>28</sup> but there is a God in heaven who reveals secrets, and He has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what will take place in the latter days (end of days). This was your dream and the vision [that appeared] in your mind while on your bed. ‡

<sup>29</sup> “As for you, O king, as you were lying on your bed thoughts came into your mind about what will take place in the future; and He who reveals secrets has shown you what will occur. ‡

<sup>30</sup> “But as for me, this secret has not been revealed to me because my wisdom is greater than that of any other living man, but in order to make the interpretation known to the king, and so that you may understand [fully] the thoughts of your mind. ‡

The King’s Dream

<sup>31</sup> “You, O king, were looking, and behold, [there was] a single great statue; this image, which was large and of unsurpassed splendor, stood before you, and its appearance was awesome and terrifying.

<sup>32</sup> “As for this statue, its head was made of fine gold, its breast and its arms of silver, its belly and its thighs of bronze, ‡

<sup>34</sup> “As you were looking, a stone was cut out without [human] hands, and it struck the statue on its feet of iron and clay and crushed them.  [1 Pet 2:3–8 ] ‡

<sup>35</sup> “Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver, and the gold were crushed together and became like the chaff from the summer threshing floors; and the wind carried them away so that not a trace of them could be found. And the stone that struck the statue became a great mountain and filled the whole earth. ‡

The Interpretation—Babylon the First Kingdom

<sup>36</sup> “This was the dream; now we will tell the king its interpretation.

<sup>37</sup> “You, O king, are the king of [earthly] kings, to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom, the power, the strength and the glory;  [Jer 25:9 ; 27:6 ; 28:14. ] ‡

<sup>38</sup> and wherever the sons of men dwell, and the beasts of the field, and the birds of the heavens, He has given them into your hand and has made you ruler over them all. You [king of Babylon] are the head of gold. ‡

Medo-Persia and Greece

<sup>39</sup> “After you will arise another kingdom (Medo-Persia) inferior to you, and then a third kingdom of bronze (Greece under Alexander the Great), which will rule over all the earth. ‡

Rome

<sup>40</sup> “Then a fourth kingdom (Rome) will be strong as iron, for iron breaks to pieces and shatters all things; and like iron which crushes things in pieces, it will break and crush all these [others].  [Dan 7:7 , 23 ] ‡

<sup>41</sup> “And as you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter’s clay and partly of iron, it will be a divided kingdom; but there will be in it some of the durability and strength of iron, just as you saw the iron mixed with common clay.

<sup>42</sup> “As the [ten] toes of the feet were partly of iron and partly of clay, so some of the kingdom will be strong, and another part of it will be brittle.

<sup>43</sup> “And as you saw the iron mixed with common clay, so they will combine with one another in the seed of men; but they will not merge [for such diverse things or ideologies cannot unite], even as iron does not mix with clay.

The Divine Kingdom

<sup>44</sup> “In the days of those [final ten] kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will its sovereignty be left for another people; but it will crush and put an end to all these kingdoms, and it will stand forever.  [Dan 7:14–17 ; Luke 1:31–33 ; Rev 11:15 ] ‡

<sup>45</sup> “Just as you saw that a stone was cut out of the mountain without hands and that it crushed the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold, the great God has revealed to the king what will take place in the future; so the dream is true and its interpretation is trustworthy.” ‡

Daniel Promoted

<sup>46</sup> Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell face downward and paid respect to Daniel [as a great prophet of the highest God], and gave orders for an offering and fragrant incense to be presented to him [in honor of his God]. ‡

<sup>47</sup> The king answered Daniel and said, “Most certainly your God is the God of gods and the Lord of kings and a revealer of mysteries, since you have been able to reveal this mystery!”  [Prov 3:32; Rev 19:16.]

<sup>48</sup> Then the king promoted Daniel [to an exalted position] and gave him many great gifts, and he made him ruler over the entire province of Babylon and chief governor over all the wise men of Babylon. ‡

The King’s Golden Image

<sup>1</sup> NEBUCHADNEZZAR THE king made a gold [-plated] image, whose height [including the pedestal] was sixty cubits (ninety feet) and its width six cubits (nine feet). He set it up on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon.

<sup>2</sup>-Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent word to assemble the satraps, the prefects and the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates and lawyers and all the chief officials of the provinces to come to the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

<sup>3</sup> Then the satraps, the prefects, the governors, the counselors, the treasurers, the judges, the magistrates and lawyers, and all the chief officials of the provinces gathered together for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up; and they stood before it.

<sup>4</sup> Then the herald loudly proclaimed, “You are commanded, O peoples, nations, and speakers of every language, ‡

<sup>5</sup> that at the moment you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon (four-stringed harp), dulcimer, bagpipe, and all kinds of music, you are to fall down and worship the golden image that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up.

<sup>7</sup> So when the people heard the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, dulcimer, bagpipe and all kinds of music, all the peoples, nations, and speakers of every language fell down and worshiped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

Worship of the Image Refused

<sup>10</sup> “You, O king, have made a decree that everyone who hears the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, dulcimer, bagpipe, and all kinds of music is to fall down and worship the golden image.

<sup>11</sup> “Whoever does not fall down and worship shall be thrown into the midst of a furnace of blazing fire.

<sup>12</sup> “There are certain Jews whom you have appointed over the administration of the province of Babylon, namely Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. These men, O king, pay no attention to you; they do not serve your gods or worship the golden image which you have set up.” ‡

<sup>13</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar in a furious rage gave a command to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego; and these men were brought before the king.

<sup>14</sup> Nebuchadnezzar said to them, “Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods or worship the golden image which I have set up?

<sup>15</sup> “Now if you are ready, when you hear the sound of the horn, pipe, lyre, trigon, harp, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, to fall down and worship the image which I have made, very good. But if you do not worship, you shall be thrown at once into the midst of a furnace of blazing fire; and what god is there who can rescue you out of my hands?” ‡

<sup>16</sup> Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego answered the king, “O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to answer you on this point. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to rescue us from the furnace of blazing fire, and He will rescue us from your hand, O king.

<sup>18</sup> “But even if He does not, let it be known to you, O king, that we are not going to serve your gods or worship the golden image that you have set up!”  [Job 13:15; Acts 4:19, 20. ]

Daniel’s Friends Protected

<sup>19</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar was filled with fury, and his facial expression changed toward Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Then he gave a command that the furnace was to be heated seven times hotter than usual.

<sup>20</sup> He commanded certain strong men in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego and to throw them into the furnace of blazing fire.

<sup>21</sup> Then these [three] men were tied up in their trousers, their coats, their turbans, and their other clothes, and were thrown into the midst of the furnace of blazing fire.

<sup>22</sup> Because the king’s command was urgent and the furnace was extremely hot, the flame of the fire killed the men who carried up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego.

<sup>23</sup> But these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell into the midst of the furnace of blazing fire still tied up.

<sup>24</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar the king [looked and] was astounded, and he jumped up and said to his counselors, “Did we not throw three men who were tied up into the midst of the fire?” They replied to the king, “Certainly, O king.”

<sup>25</sup> He answered, “Look! I see four men untied, walking around in the midst of the fire, and they are not hurt! And the appearance of the fourth is like a son of the gods!”  [Phil 2:5–8. ] ‡

<sup>26</sup> Then Nebuchadnezzar approached the door of the blazing furnace and said, “Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come out [of there]! Come here!” Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the midst of the fire.

<sup>27</sup> The satraps, the prefects, the governors and the king’s counselors gathered around them and saw that in regard to these men the fire had no effect on their bodies—their hair was not singed, their clothes were not scorched or damaged, even the smell of smoke was not on them. ‡

<sup>28</sup> Nebuchadnezzar responded and said, “Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who has sent His angel and rescued His servants who believed in, trusted in, and relied on Him! They violated the king's command and surrendered their bodies rather than serve or worship any god except their own God. ‡

<sup>29</sup> "Therefore I make a decree that any people, nation, or language that speaks anything offensive against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego shall be cut into pieces and their houses be made a heap of rubbish, for there is no other god who is able to save in this way!" ‡

<sup>30</sup> Then the king caused Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego to prosper in the province of Babylon.

Daniel 4

The King Acknowledges God

<sup>1</sup> NEBUCHADNEZZAR THE king, to all the peoples, nations, and speakers of every language that live in all the earth: "May your peace abound! ‡

<sup>2</sup> "It has seemed good to me to declare the signs and wonders which the Most High God has done for me. ‡

<sup>3</sup> "How great are His signs ‡
And how mighty are His wonders!
His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom
And His dominion is from generation to generation.  [Dan 7:13, 14; Luke 1:31–33 ]

The Vision of a Great Tree

<sup>4</sup> "I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at rest in my house and prospering in my palace.

<sup>5</sup> "I saw a dream and it made me afraid; and the fantasies and thoughts and the visions [that appeared] in my mind as I lay on my bed kept alarming me. ‡

<sup>6</sup> "So I gave orders to bring in before me all the wise men of Babylon, so that they might make known to me the interpretation of the dream.

<sup>7</sup> "Then the magicians, the enchanters (Magi), the Chaldeans [who were the master astrologers] and the diviners came in, and I told them the dream, but they could not interpret it and make known its meaning to me. ‡

<sup>8</sup> "But at last Daniel came in before me, whose name is Belteshazzar, after the name of my god, and in whom is a spirit of the holy gods; and I told the dream to him, saying, ‡

<sup>9</sup> ‘O Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, because I know that a spirit of the holy gods is in you and no mystery baffles or troubles you, tell me the visions of my dream which I have seen, along with its interpretation. ‡

<sup>10</sup> ‘The visions that passed through my mind as I lay on my bed were these: I was looking, and behold, there was a tree in the middle of the earth, and its height was great. ‡

<sup>11</sup> ‘The tree grew large and became strong
And its height reached to heaven,
And it was visible to the end of the earth.

<sup>12</sup> ‘Its leaves were beautiful and its fruit abundant, ‡
And in it was food for all.
The beasts of the field found shade under it,
And the birds of the sky nested in its branches,
And all living creatures fed themselves from it.

<sup>13</sup> ‘And behold, I saw in the visions of my mind as I lay on my bed, an angelic watcher, a holy one, descended from heaven. ‡

<sup>14</sup> ‘He shouted aloud and said this: ‡ “Cut down the tree and cut off its branches;
Shake off its leaves and scatter its fruit;
Let the living creatures run from under it
And the birds fly from its branches.

<sup>15</sup> “Nevertheless leave the stump with its roots in the ground,
Bound with a band of iron and bronze
In the new grass of the field;
And let him be wet with the dew of heaven,
And let him feed with the animals in the grass of the earth.

<sup>16</sup> “Let his mind and nature be changed from a man’s ‡
And let an animal’s mind and nature be given to him,
And let seven periods of time pass over him.

<sup>17</sup> “This sentence is by the decree of the angelic watchers ‡
And the decision is a command of the holy ones,
So that the living may know [without any doubt]
That the Most High [God] rules over the kingdom of mankind

And He bestows it on whomever He desires
And sets over it the humblest and lowliest of men.”  [Dan 2:21
; 5:21 ]

<sup>18</sup> ‘This is the dream which I, King Nebuchadnezzar, have seen. Now you, Belteshazzar, explain its meaning, since none of the wise men of my kingdom are able to reveal its interpretation to me; but you are able, for a spirit of the holy gods is in you.’ ‡

Daniel Interprets the Vision

<sup>19</sup> “Then Daniel, whose [Babylonian] name was Belteshazzar, was appalled and speechless for a while [because he was deeply concerned about the destiny of the king], and his thoughts alarmed him. The king said, ‘Belteshazzar, do not let the dream or its interpretation frighten you.’ Belteshazzar answered, ‘My lord, may the dream be [meant] for those who hate you and its message for your enemies! ‡

<sup>20</sup> ‘The tree that you saw, which became great and grew strong, whose height reached to heaven and which was visible to all the earth, ‡

<sup>21</sup> whose foliage was beautiful and its fruit abundant, and on which was food for all, under which the beasts of the field lived, and in whose branches the birds of the sky nested—

<sup>22</sup> it is you, O king, who have become great and grown strong; your greatness has increased and it reaches to heaven, and your dominion [reaches] to the ends of the earth. ‡

<sup>23</sup> ‘In that the king saw an angelic watcher, a holy one, descending from heaven and saying, “Cut the tree down and destroy it; but leave the stump with its roots in the earth, but with a band of iron and bronze around it in the new grass of the field, and let him be wet with the dew of heaven, and let him feed with the beasts of the field until seven periods of time pass over him,” ‡

<sup>24</sup> this is the interpretation, O king: It is the decree of the Most High [God], which has come upon my lord the king:

<sup>25</sup> that you shall be driven from mankind and your dwelling place shall be with the beasts of the field; and that you be given grass to eat like the cattle and be wet with the dew of heaven; and seven periods of time shall pass over you, until you know [without any doubt] that the Most High [God] rules over the kingdom of mankind and He bestows it to whomever He desires. ‡

<sup>26</sup> ‘And in that it was commanded to leave the stump with the roots of the tree [in the earth], your kingdom shall be restored to you after you recognize (understand fully) that Heaven rules.‡

<sup>27</sup> ‘Therefore, O king, let my advice to you be [considered and found] acceptable; break away now from your sins and exhibit your repentance by doing what is right, and from your wickedness by showing mercy to the poor, so that [if you repent] there may possibly be a continuance of your prosperity and tranquility and a healing of your error.’‡

The Vision Fulfilled

<sup>29</sup> “Twelve months later he was walking on the upper level of the royal palace of Babylon.

<sup>30</sup> “The king said thoughtfully, ‘Is not this the great Babylon which I myself have built as the royal residence and seat of government by the might of my power and for the honor and glory of my majesty?’‡

<sup>31</sup> “While the words were still in the king’s mouth, a voice came [as if falling] from heaven, saying, ‘O King Nebuchadnezzar, to you it is declared: ‘The kingdom has been removed from you,‡

<sup>32</sup> and you will be driven away from mankind, and your dwelling place will be with the animals of the field. You will be given grass to eat like the cattle, and seven periods of time will pass over you until you know [without any doubt] that the Most High God rules over the kingdom of mankind and He bestows it on whomever He desires.’’‡

<sup>33</sup> “Immediately the word concerning Nebuchadnezzar was fulfilled. He was driven away from mankind and began eating grass like cattle, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven until his hair had grown like eagles’ feathers and his nails were like birds’ claws .

<sup>34</sup> “But at the end of the days [that is, at the seven periods of time], I, Nebuchadnezzar, raised my eyes toward heaven, and my understanding and reason returned to me; and I blessed the Most High [God] and I praised and honored and glorified Him who lives forever,‡

For His dominion is an everlasting dominion;
And His kingdom endures from generation to generation.
<sup>35</sup> “All the inhabitants of the earth are regarded as nothing.‡
But He does according to His will in the host of heaven
And among the inhabitants of the earth;

And no one can hold back His hand
Or say to Him, ‘What have You done?’

<sup>36</sup> “Now at the same time my reason returned to me; and for the glory of my kingdom, my majesty and splendor were returned to me, and my counselors and my nobles began seeking me out; so I was re-established in my kingdom, and still more greatness [than before] was added to me. ‡

<sup>37</sup> “Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and honor the King of heaven, for all His works are true and faithful and His ways are just, and He is able to humiliate and humble those who walk in [self-centered, self-righteous] pride.” ‡

Belshazzar’s Feast

<sup>1</sup> BELSHAZZAR THE king [who was a descendant of Nebuchadnezzar] gave a great feast for a thousand of his nobles, and he was drinking his wine in the presence of the thousand [guests]. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Belshazzar, as he tasted the wine, gave a command to bring in the gold and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem, so that the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines might drink from them. ‡

<sup>3</sup> Then they brought in the gold and silver vessels that had been taken out of the temple, the house of God which was in Jerusalem; and the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines drank from them.

<sup>4</sup> They drank the wine and praised the gods of gold and silver, of bronze, iron, wood and stone. ‡

<sup>5</sup> Suddenly the fingers of a man’s hand appeared and began writing opposite the lampstand on [a well-lit area of] the plaster of the wall of the king’s palace, and the king saw the part of the hand that did the writing. ‡

<sup>7</sup> The king called aloud to bring in the enchanters (Magi), the Chaldeans [who were master astrologers] and the diviners. The king said to the wise men of Babylon, “Whoever can read this writing and explain its interpretation to me shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold put around his neck, and have authority as the third ruler in the kingdom.” ‡

<sup>8</sup> Then all the king’s wise men came in, but they could not read the writing or reveal to the king its interpretation. ‡

<sup>9</sup> Then King Belshazzar was greatly perplexed, his face became even paler, and his nobles were bewildered and alarmed. ‡

<sup>10</sup> Now the queen [mother], overhearing the [excited] words of the king and his nobles, came into the banquet area. The queen [mother] spoke and said, “O king, live forever! Do not be alarmed at your thoughts or let your face be changed.

<sup>11</sup> “There is a man in your kingdom in whom is a spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of your father, illumination, understanding and wisdom like the wisdom of the gods were found in him. And King Nebuchadnezzar, your father—your father the king, appointed him chief of the magicians, enchanters, Chaldeans and diviners. ‡

<sup>12</sup> “It was because an extraordinary spirit, knowledge and insight, the ability to interpret dreams, clarify riddles, and solve complex problems were found in this Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar. Now let Daniel be called and he will give the interpretation.” ‡

Daniel Interprets Handwriting on the Wall

<sup>13</sup> Then Daniel was brought in before the king. And the king said to Daniel, “Are you that Daniel who is one of the sons of the exiles of Judah, whom my father the king brought from Judah?

<sup>14</sup> “I have heard of you, that a spirit of the gods is in you, and that illumination, insight, and extraordinary wisdom have been found in you. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “Now the wise men and the enchanters, were brought in before me so that they might read this writing and reveal its meaning to me, but they could not give the interpretation of the message. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “But I personally have heard about you, that you are able to make interpretations and solve complex problems. Now if you are able to read the writing and reveal its interpretation to me, you shall be clothed with purple and have a chain of gold put around your neck, and you shall have authority as the third ruler in the kingdom.” ‡

<sup>17</sup> Then Daniel answered and said before the king, “Keep your gifts for yourself and give your rewards to someone else; however, I will read the writing to the king and reveal the interpretation to him.

<sup>18</sup> “O king, the Most High God gave Nebuchadnezzar your father a kingdom and greatness and glory and majesty; ‡

<sup>19</sup> and because of the greatness that He gave him, all the peoples, nations, and speakers of every language trembled and feared him. Whomever he wished he killed, and whomever he wished he kept alive; whomever he wished he promoted and whomever he wished he humbled. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “But when his heart was lifted up and his spirit became so proud that he behaved arrogantly, he was deposed from his royal throne and his glory was taken away from him. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “He was also driven from mankind, and his mind was made like that of an animal, and his dwelling place was with the wild donkeys. He was given grass to eat like cattle, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven until he came to know [without any doubt] that the Most High God rules over the kingdom of mankind and He appoints it to whomever He wills. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “And you, his son, O Belshazzar, have not humbled your heart (mind), even though you knew all this. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “And you have exalted yourself against the Lord of heaven, and the vessels of His house have been brought before you, and you and your nobles, your wives and your concubines have been drinking wine from them; and you have praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood and stone, which do not see or hear or understand. But the God who holds in His hand your breath of life and your ways you have not honored and glorified [but have dishonored and defied]. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “Then the hand was sent from the presence [of the Most High God], and this inscription was written:

<sup>25</sup>. “This is the inscription that was written, ‘ MENE , MENE , TEKEL , UPHARSIN [numbered, numbered, weighed, and divided].’

<sup>26</sup> “This is the interpretation of the message: ‘ MENE ’—God has numbered the days of your kingdom and put an end to it;

<sup>28</sup> ‘ PERES ’—your kingdom has been divided and given over to the Medes and Persians.” ‡

<sup>29</sup> Then Belshazzar gave the command, and Daniel was clothed with purple and a chain of gold was put around his neck, and a proclamation concerning him was issued [declaring] that he now had authority as the third ruler in the kingdom. ‡

<sup>30</sup>. During that same night Belshazzar the [last] Chaldean king was slain [by troops of the invading army]. ‡

31—So Darius the Mede received the kingdom; he was about the age of sixty-two. ‡

Daniel 6

Daniel Serves Darius

<sup>1</sup> IT SEEMED good to Darius [who became king after Belshazzar] to appoint over the kingdom 120 satraps who would be in charge throughout the kingdom, <sup>2</sup> and over them three chief commissioners (of whom Daniel was one), that these satraps might be accountable to them, so that the king would have no loss [from disloyalty or mismanagement].

<sup>3</sup> Then this Daniel, because of the extraordinary spirit within him, began distinguishing himself among the commissioners and the satraps, and the king planned to appoint him over the entire realm. ‡

<sup>4</sup> Then the [other two] commissioners and the satraps began trying to find a reason to bring a complaint against Daniel concerning the [administration of the] kingdom; but they could find no reason for an accusation or evidence of corruption, because he was faithful [a man of high moral character and personal integrity], and no negligence or corruption [of any kind] was found in him. ‡

<sup>5</sup>—Then these men said, “We will not find any basis for an accusation against this Daniel unless we find something against him in connection with the law of his God.”  [Acts 24:13–21; 1 Pet 4:12–16 ]

<sup>6</sup> Then these commissioners and satraps agreed to approach the king and said to him, “King Darius, live forever! ‡

<sup>7</sup> “All the commissioners of the kingdom, the prefects and the satraps, the counselors and the governors have consulted and agreed together that the king should establish a royal statute and enforce an injunction that anyone who petitions (prays to) any god or man besides you, O king, during the next thirty days, shall be thrown into the den of lions.

<sup>8</sup> “Now, O king, establish the injunction and sign the document so that it may not be changed, in accordance with the law of the Medes and Persians, which [insures that it] may not be altered or revoked.” ‡

<sup>10</sup> Now when Daniel knew that the document was signed, he went into his house (now in his roof chamber his windows were open toward Jerusalem); he continued to get down on his knees three times a day, praying and giving thanks before his God, as he had been doing previously.  [Ps 5:7. ] ‡

<sup>11</sup> Then, by agreement, these men came [together] and found Daniel praying and making requests before his God.

<sup>12</sup> Then they approached and spoke before the king regarding his injunction, “Have you not signed an injunction that anyone who petitions (prays to) any god or man except you, O king, within the designated thirty days, is to be thrown into the den of lions?” The king answered, “The statement is true, in accordance with the law of the Medes and Persians, which may not be altered or revoked.” ‡

<sup>13</sup> Then they answered and said before the king, “Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, does not pay any attention to you, O king, or to the injunction which you have signed, but keeps praying [to his God] three times a day.” ‡

<sup>14</sup> Then, as soon as the king heard these words, he was deeply distressed [over what he had done] and set his mind on rescuing Daniel; and he struggled until the sun went down [trying to work out a way] to save him. ‡

<sup>15</sup> Then, by agreement, these same men came to the king and said, “Know, O king, that it is a law of the Medes and Persians that no injunction or statute which the king establishes may be altered or revoked.” ‡

Daniel in the Den of Lions

<sup>16</sup> Then the king gave a command, and Daniel was brought and thrown into the den of lions. The king said to Daniel, “May your God, whom you constantly serve, rescue you Himself!”  [Ps 34:7, 19; 37:39, 40; 50:15. ]

<sup>17</sup> A stone was brought and laid over the mouth of the den; and the king sealed it with his own signet ring and with the signet rings of his nobles, so that nothing would be changed concerning Daniel. ‡

<sup>18</sup> Then the king returned to his palace and spent the night fasting; and no music or entertainment was brought before him, and he remained unable to sleep. ‡

<sup>20</sup> When he had come near the den, he called out to Daniel with a troubled voice. The king said to Daniel, “O Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you constantly serve, been able to rescue you from the lions?” ‡

<sup>22</sup> “My God has sent His angel and has shut the mouths of the lions so that they have not hurt me, because I was found innocent before Him; and also before you, O king, I have committed no crime.”  [2 Tim 4:17 ] ‡

<sup>23</sup> Then the king was greatly pleased and ordered that Daniel be taken out of the den. So Daniel was taken out of the den, and no injury whatever was found on him, because he believed in and relied on and trusted in his God. ‡

<sup>24</sup> The king then gave a command, and those men who had maliciously accused Daniel were brought and thrown into the den of lions, they, their children and their wives; and before they reached the bottom of the den, the lions overpowered them and crushed all their bones. ‡

<sup>25</sup> Then Darius the king wrote to all the peoples, nations, and speakers of every language who were living in all the land: “May peace abound to you! ‡

<sup>26</sup> “I issue a decree that in all the dominion of my kingdom men are to [reverently] fear and tremble before the God of Daniel, ‡

For He is the living God, enduring and steadfast forever,
And His kingdom is one which will not be destroyed,
And His dominion will be forever.

<sup>27</sup> “He rescues and saves and performs signs and wonders ‡
In heaven and on earth—
He who has rescued Daniel from the power of the lions.”

<sup>28</sup> So this [man] Daniel prospered and enjoyed success in the reign of Darius and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian. ‡

Daniel 7

Vision of the Four Beasts

<sup>1</sup> IN THE first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions appeared in his mind as he lay on his bed; then he wrote the dream down and related a summary of it. ‡

<sup>2</sup> Daniel said, “I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of heaven were stirring up the great sea (the nations).

<sup>3</sup> “And four great beasts, each different from the other, were coming up out of the sea [in succession]. ‡

4.“The first (the Babylonian Empire under Nebuchadnezzar) was like a lion and had the wings of an eagle. I kept looking until its wings were plucked, and it was lifted up from the ground and made to stand on two feet like a man; a human mind was given to it.  [Dan 2:37 , 38 ] ‡

5.“And behold, another beast, a second one (the Medo-Persian Empire), was like a bear, and it was raised up on one side (domain), and three ribs were in its mouth between its teeth; and it was told, ‘Arise, devour much meat.’ ‡

6.“After this I kept looking, and behold, another one (the Greek Empire of Alexander the Great), like a leopard, which had on its back four wings like those of a bird; the beast also had four heads (Alexander’s generals, his successors), and power to rule was given to it.  [Dan 2:39 ; 8:20–22 ] ‡

7.“After this I kept looking in the night visions, and behold, [I saw] a fourth beast (the Roman Empire), terrible and extremely strong; and it had huge iron teeth. It devoured and crushed and trampled down what was left with its feet. It was different from all the beasts that came before it, and it had ten horns (ten kings).  [Dan 2:40–43 ; 7:23 ] ‡

8 “While I was considering the horns, behold, there came up among them another horn, a little one, and three of the first horns were pulled up by the roots before it; and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth boasting of great things. ‡

The Ancient of Days Reigns

9.“I kept looking ‡
Until thrones were set up,
And the Ancient of Days (God) took His seat;
His garment was white as snow
And the hair of His head like pure wool.
His throne was flames of fire;
Its wheels were a burning fire.  [1 Kin 22:19 ; Ps 90:2 ; Ezek 1:26–28 ; Dan 7:13 , 22 ; Matt 19:28 ; Rev 20:4 ]

10.“A river of fire was flowing ‡
And coming out from before Him;
A thousand thousands were attending Him,
And ten thousand times ten thousand were standing before Him;
The court was seated,

And the books were opened.

<sup>11</sup> “Then I kept looking because of the sound of the great and boastful words which the horn was speaking. I kept looking until the beast was slain, and its body destroyed and given to be burned with fire. ‡ <sup>12</sup> “As for the rest of the beasts, their power was taken away; yet their lives were prolonged [for the length of their lives was fixed] for a predetermined time.

The Son of Man Presented

<sup>13</sup> “I kept looking in the night visions, ‡
And behold, on the clouds of heaven
One like a Son of Man was coming,
And He came up to the Ancient of Days
And was presented before Him.

<sup>14</sup> “And to Him (the Messiah) was given dominion (supreme authority), ‡
Glory and a kingdom,
That all the peoples, nations, and speakers of every language
Should serve and worship Him.
His dominion is an everlasting dominion
Which will not pass away;
And His kingdom is one
Which will not be destroyed.  [Rev 5:1–10 ]

The Vision Interpreted

<sup>15</sup> “As for me, Daniel, my spirit was distressed and anxious within me, and the visions [that appeared] in my mind kept alarming (agitating) me. Visions in Daniel

<sup>16</sup> “I approached one of those who stood by and began asking him the exact meaning of all this. So he told me and explained to me the interpretation of the things:

<sup>17</sup> ‘These four great beasts are four kings who will arise from the earth.

<sup>18</sup> ‘But the saints (believers) of the Most High [God] will receive the kingdom and possess the kingdom forever, for all ages to come.’  [Rom 8:17 ; 1 Pet 2:9 ; Rev 3:21 ] ‡

19 “Then I wished to know the exact meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others, extremely dreadful, with teeth of iron and claws of bronze, which devoured, crushed and trampled down what was left with its feet,

20 and the meaning of the ten horns (kings) that were on its head and the other horn which came up later, and before which three of the horns fell, specifically, that horn which had eyes and a mouth that boasted great things and which looked larger than the others.

21 “As I kept looking, that horn was making war with the saints (believers) and overpowering them  [Rev 13:7–9 ] ‡

22 until the Ancient of Days came and judgment was passed in favor of the saints of the Most High [God], and the time arrived when the saints (believers) took possession of the kingdom. ‡

23 “Thus the angel said, ‘The fourth beast shall be a fourth kingdom on earth, which will be different from all other kingdoms and will devour the whole earth and tread it down, and crush it. ‡

24 ‘As for the ten horns, out of this kingdom ten kings will arise; and another will arise after them, and he will be different from the former ones, and he will subdue three kings. ‡

25 ‘He will speak words against the Most High [God] and wear down the saints of the Most High, and he will intend to change the times and the law; and they will be given into his hand for a time, [two] times, and half a time [three and one-half years].  [Rev 13:1–6 ] ‡

26 ‘But the court [of the Most High] will sit in judgment, and his dominion will be taken away, [first to be] consumed [gradually] and [then] to be destroyed forever. ‡

27 ‘Then the kingdom and the dominion and the greatness of all the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be given to the people of the saints (believers) of the Most High; His kingdom will be an everlasting kingdom, and all the dominions will serve and obey Him.’ ‡

28 “This is the end of the matter. As for me, Daniel, my [waking] thoughts were extremely troubling and alarming and my face grew pale; but I kept the matter [of the vision and the angel’s explanation] to myself.” ‡

Daniel 8

Vision of the Ram and Goat

<sup>1</sup> IN THE third year of the reign of King Belshazzar a [second] vision appeared to me, Daniel, [this was two years] after the one that first appeared to me. ‡

<sup>2</sup> I looked in the vision and it seemed that I was at the citadel of Susa, [the capital of Persia], which is in the province of Elam; and I looked in the vision and I saw myself by the Ulai Canal. ‡

<sup>3</sup> Then I raised my eyes and looked, and behold, there in front of the canal stood a [lone] ram (the Medo-Persian Empire) which had two horns. The two horns were high, but one (Persia) was higher than the other (Media), and the higher one came up last.

<sup>4</sup> I saw the ram (Medo-Persia) charging westward and northward and southward; no beast could stand before him, nor was there anyone who could rescue [anything] from his power, but he did as he pleased and magnified himself.  [Dan 8:20. ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> As I was observing [this], behold, a male goat (Greece) was coming from the west [rushing] across the face of the whole earth without touching the ground; and the goat had a conspicuous and remarkable horn (Alexander the Great) between his eyes.  [Dan 8:21. ]

<sup>6</sup> He came up to the ram that had the two horns, which I had seen standing in front of the canal, and charged at him in [the fury of] his power and wrath.

<sup>7</sup> [In my vision] I saw him come close to the ram (Medo-Persia), and he was filled with rage toward him; and the goat (Greece) struck the ram and shattered his two horns, and the ram had no strength to stand before him. So the goat threw him to the ground and trampled on him, and there was no one who could rescue the ram from his power.

<sup>8</sup> Then the male goat magnified himself exceedingly, and when he was [young and] strong, the great horn (Alexander) was [suddenly] broken; and in its place there came up four prominent horns [among whom the kingdom was divided, one] toward [each of] the four winds of heaven. ‡

The Little Horn

<sup>9</sup> Out of one of them (Antiochus IV Epiphanes) came forth a rather small horn [but one of irreverent presumption and profane pride] which grew exceedingly powerful toward the south, toward the east, and toward the Beautiful Land (Israel).  [Dan 8:23. ] ‡

<sup>10</sup> And [in my vision] this horn grew up to the host of heaven, and caused some of the host and some of the stars to fall to the earth, and it trampled on

them. ‡

11 Indeed, it magnified itself to be equal with the Commander of the host [of heaven]; and it took away from Him the daily sacrifice (burnt offering), and the place of His sanctuary was thrown down (profaned). ‡

12 Because of the transgression [of God's people—their irreverence and ungodliness] the host will be given over to the wicked horn, along with the regular sacrifice; and righteousness and truth will be flung to the ground, and the horn will do as it pleases [by divine permission] and prosper. ‡

13 Then I heard a holy one (angel) speaking, and another holy one said to the one who was speaking, “How much time will be required to complete the vision regarding the regular sacrifice, the transgression that brings horror, and the trampling underfoot of both the sanctuary and the host [of the people]?” [Luke 21:24] ‡

14 He said to me, “For 2,300 evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary will be cleansed and properly restored.”

Interpretation of the Vision

15 When I, Daniel, had seen the vision, I sought to understand it; then behold, standing before me was one who looked like a man. ‡

16 And I heard the voice of a man between the banks of the Ulai, which called out and said, “Gabriel, give this man (Daniel) an understanding of the vision.” [Dan 9:21; Luke 1:19, 26] ‡

17 So he came near where I was standing, and when he came I was frightened and fell face downward; but he said to me, “Understand, son of man, that the [fulfillment of the] vision pertains to [events that will occur in] the time of the end.” ‡

18 Now as he (Gabriel) was speaking with me, I drifted into a deep sleep (unconsciousness) with my face to the ground; but he touched me and made me stand [where I had stood before]. ‡

19 He said, “Behold, I am going to let you know what will happen during the final time of the indignation and wrath [of God upon the ungodly], for it concerns the appointed time of the end. ‡

The Ram's Identity

20 “The ram which you saw with the two horns represents the kings of Media and Persia.

The Goat

<sup>21</sup> “The shaggy (rough-coated) male goat represents the kingdom of Greece, and the great horn between his eyes is the first king. ‡

<sup>22</sup> “Regarding the shattered horn and the four others that arose in its place, four kingdoms will rise from his (Alexander’s) nation, although not with his power and heritage. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “At the latter period of their reign, ‡
When the transgressors have finished,
A king will arise
Insolent and skilled in intrigue and cunning.

<sup>24</sup> “His power will be mighty, but not by his own power; ‡
And he will corrupt and destroy in an astonishing manner
And [he will] prosper and do exactly as he wills;
He shall corrupt and destroy mighty men and the holy people.

 [Dan 8:9–12 ; 2 Thess 2:3–10 ; Rev 13:4–10 ]

<sup>25</sup> “And through his shrewdness ‡
He will cause deceit to succeed by his hand (influence);
He will magnify himself in his mind,
He will corrupt and destroy many who enjoy a false sense of security.
He will also stand up and oppose the Prince of princes,
But he will be broken, and that by no human hand [but by the hand of God].  [Rev 19:19 , 20 ]

<sup>26</sup> “The vision of the evenings and the mornings ‡
Which has been told [to you] is true.
But keep the vision a secret,
For it has to do with many days in the now distant future.”

<sup>27</sup> And I, Daniel, was exhausted and was sick for [several] days. Afterward I got up and continued with the king’s business; but I was astounded at the vision, and there was no one who could explain it. ‡

Daniel 9

Daniel's Prayer for His People

<sup>1</sup> IN THE first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of Median descent, who was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans—‡

<sup>2</sup> in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, understood from the books the number of years which, according to the word of the LORD to Jeremiah the prophet, must pass before the desolations [which had been] pronounced on Jerusalem would end; and it was seventy years.  [Jer 25:11, 12; 29:10] ‡

<sup>3</sup> So I directed my attention to the Lord God to seek Him by prayer and supplications, with fasting, sackcloth and ashes. ‡

<sup>4</sup> I prayed to the LORD my God and confessed and said, “O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps His covenant and extends lovingkindness toward those who love Him and keep His commandments, ‡

<sup>5</sup> we have sinned and committed wrong, and have behaved wickedly and have rebelled, turning away from Your commandments and ordinances. ‡

<sup>6</sup> “Further, we have not listened to and heeded Your servants the prophets, who spoke in Your name to our kings, our princes and our fathers, and to all the people of the land. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “Righteousness belongs to You, O Lord, but to us confusion and open shame, as it is this day—to the men of Judah, to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, those who are nearby and those who are far away, in all the countries to which You have driven them, because of the [treacherous] acts of unfaithfulness which they have committed against You. ‡

<sup>8</sup> “O LORD, to us belong confusion and open shame—to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers—because we have sinned against You.

<sup>9</sup> “To the Lord our God belong mercy and lovingkindness and forgiveness, for we have rebelled against Him; ‡

<sup>10</sup> and we have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God by walking in His laws which He set before us through His servants the prophets.

<sup>11</sup> “Yes, all Israel has transgressed Your law, even turning aside, not obeying Your voice; so the curse has been poured out on us and the oath which is written in the Law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against Him.  [Lev 26:14–45; Deut 28:15–68] ‡

<sup>12</sup> “And He has carried out completely His [threatening] words which He had spoken against us and against our rulers [the kings, princes, and judges] who ruled us, to bring on us a great tragedy; for under the whole heaven there has not been done anything [so dreadful] like that which [He commanded and] was done to Jerusalem. ‡

<sup>13</sup> “Just as it is written in the Law of Moses, all this tragedy has come on us. Yet we have not wholeheartedly begged for forgiveness and sought the favor of the LORD our God by turning from our wickedness and paying attention to and placing value in Your truth.  [Deut 4:29; 28:15ff ] ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore the LORD has kept the tragedy ready and has brought it on us, for the LORD our God is [uncompromisingly] righteous and openly just in all His works which He does—He keeps His word; and we have not obeyed His voice. ‡

<sup>15</sup> “And now, O Lord our God, who brought Your people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand and who made for Yourself a name, as it is today—we have sinned, we have been wicked. ‡

<sup>16</sup> “O Lord, in accordance with all Your righteous and just acts, please let Your anger and Your wrath turn away from Your city Jerusalem, Your holy mountain. Because of our sins and the wickedness of our fathers, Jerusalem and Your people have become an object of scorn and a contemptuous byword to all who are around us. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “Now therefore, our God, listen to (heed) the prayer of Your servant (Daniel) and his supplications, and for Your own sake let Your face shine on Your desolate sanctuary. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “O my God, incline Your ear and hear; open Your eyes and look at our desolations and the city which is called by Your name; for we are not presenting our supplications before You because of our own merits and righteousness, but because of Your great mercy and compassion. ‡

<sup>19</sup> “O Lord, hear! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, listen and take action! Do not delay, for Your own sake, O my God, because Your city and Your people are called by Your name.”

Gabriel Brings an Answer

<sup>20</sup> While I was still speaking and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God in behalf of the holy mountain of my God,

<sup>21</sup> while I was still speaking in prayer and extremely exhausted, the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the earlier vision, came to me about the time of the evening sacrifice.  [Dan 8:16 ] ‡

<sup>22</sup> He instructed me and he talked with me and said, “O Daniel, I have now come to give you insight and wisdom and understanding.

<sup>23</sup> “At the beginning of your supplications, the command [to give you an answer] was issued, and I have come to tell you, for you are highly regarded and greatly beloved. Therefore consider the message and begin to understand the [meaning of the] vision. ‡

Seventy Weeks and the Messiah

24 “Seventy weeks [of years, or 490 years] have been decreed for your people and for your holy city (Jerusalem), to finish the transgression, to make an end of sins, to make atonement (reconciliation) for wickedness, to bring in everlasting righteousness (right-standing with God), to seal up vision and prophecy and prophet, and to anoint the Most Holy Place . ‡

25 “So you are to know and understand that from the issuance of the command to restore and rebuild Jerusalem until [the coming of] the Messiah (the Anointed One), the Prince, there will be seven weeks [of years] and sixty-two weeks [of years]; it will be built again, with [a city] plaza and moat, even in times of trouble. ‡

26 “Then after the sixty-two weeks [of years] the Anointed One will be cut off [and denied His Messianic kingdom] and have nothing [and no one to defend Him], and the people of the [other] prince who is to come will destroy the city and the sanctuary. Its end will come with a flood; even to the end there will be war; desolations are determined.  [Is 53:7–9 ; Nah 1:8 ; Matt 24:6–14 ] ‡

27 “And he will enter into a binding and irrevocable covenant with the many for one week (seven years), but in the middle of the week he will stop the sacrifice and grain offering [for the remaining three and one-half years]; and on the wing of abominations will come one who makes desolate, even until the complete destruction, one that is decreed, is poured out on the one who causes the horror.” ‡

Daniel 10

Daniel Is Terrified by a Vision

<sup>1</sup> IN THE third year of Cyrus king of Persia a message was revealed to Daniel, who was named Belteshazzar; and the message was true and it referred to great conflict (warfare, misery). And he understood the message and had an understanding of the vision.  [Dan 8:26 ; Rev 19:9 ]

2 In those days I, Daniel, had been mourning for three entire weeks.

<sup>3</sup> I ate no tasty food, nor did any meat or wine enter my mouth; and I did not anoint (refresh, groom) myself at all for the full three weeks.

<sup>4</sup> On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was on the bank of the great river Hiddekel [which is the Tigris],

<sup>5</sup> I raised my eyes and looked, and behold, there was a certain man dressed in linen, whose loins were girded with [a belt of] pure gold of Uphaz. ‡

<sup>6</sup>-His body also was like beryl [with a golden luster], his face had the appearance of lightning, his eyes were like flaming torches, his arms and his feet like the gleam of burnished bronze, and the sound of his words was like the noise of a multitude [of people or the roaring of the sea].  [Rev 1:12–16; 19:6] ‡

<sup>7</sup> And I, Daniel, alone saw the vision [of this heavenly being], for the men who were with me did not see the vision; nevertheless, a great panic overwhelmed them, so they ran away to hide themselves.

<sup>8</sup> So I was left alone and saw this great vision; yet no strength was left in me, for my normal appearance turned to a deathly pale, and I grew weak and faint [with fright].

<sup>9</sup> Then I heard the sound of his words; and when I heard the sound of his words, I fell on my face in a deep sleep, with my face toward the ground.

Daniel Comforted

<sup>10</sup> Then behold, a hand touched me and set me unsteadily on my hands and knees. ‡

<sup>11</sup> So he said to me, “O Daniel, you highly regarded and greatly beloved man, understand the words that I am about to say to you and stand upright, for I have now been sent to you.” And while he was saying this word to me, I stood up trembling. ‡

<sup>12</sup> Then he said to me, “Do not be afraid, Daniel, for from the first day that you set your heart on understanding this and on humbling yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to your words. ‡

<sup>13</sup>-“But the prince of the kingdom of Persia was standing in opposition to me for twenty-one days. Then, behold, Michael, one of the chief [of the celestial] princes, came to help me, for I had been left there with the kings of Persia. ‡

<sup>14</sup> “Now I have come to make you understand what will happen to your people in the latter days, for the vision is in regard to the days yet to come.” ‡

<sup>15</sup> When he had spoken to me according to these words, I turned my face toward the ground and was speechless. ‡

<sup>16</sup> And behold, one who resembled the sons of men touched my lips. Then I opened my mouth and spoke and said to him who was standing before me, “O my lord, because of the vision anguish has come upon me, and I have retained no strength. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “For how can such a [weakened] servant of my lord talk with such [a being] as my lord? For now there remains no strength in me, nor has any breath been left in me.”

<sup>18</sup> Then the one (Gabriel) whose appearance was like that of a man touched me again, and he strengthened me.

<sup>19</sup> He said, “O man, highly regarded and greatly beloved, do not be afraid. Peace be to you; take courage and be strong.” Now when he had spoken to me, I was strengthened and said, “Let my lord speak, for you have strengthened me.” ‡

<sup>20</sup> Then he said, “Do you understand [fully] why I came to you? Now I shall return to fight against the [hostile] prince of Persia; and when I have gone, behold, the prince of Greece is about to come. ‡

<sup>21</sup> “But I (Gabriel) will tell you what is inscribed in the writing of truth. There is no one who stands firmly with me and strengthens himself against these [hostile spirit forces] except Michael, your prince [the guardian of your nation]. ‡

Daniel 11

Conflicts to Come

<sup>1</sup> “ALSO I, in the first year of Darius the Mede, I (Gabriel) arose to be an encouragement and a protection for him. ‡

<sup>2</sup> “And now I will tell you the truth. Behold, three more kings are going to arise in Persia. Then a fourth will become far richer than all of them. When he becomes strong through his riches he will stir up the whole empire against the realm of Greece.

<sup>3</sup> “Then a mighty [warlike, threatening] king will arise who will rule with great authority and do as he pleases. ‡

<sup>4</sup> “But as soon as he (Alexander) has risen, his kingdom will be broken [by his death] and divided toward the four winds of heaven [the north, south, east, and west], but not to his descendants, nor according to the [Grecian] authority with which he ruled, for his kingdom will be torn out and uprooted and given to others (his four generals) to the exclusion of these. ‡

<sup>5</sup> “Then the king of the South (Egypt) will be strong, along with one of his princes who will be stronger than he and have dominance over him; his domain will be a great dominion.

<sup>6</sup> “After some years the Syrian king of the North and the Egyptian king of the South will make an alliance; the daughter (Berenice) of the king of the South will come to the king of the North to make an equitable and peaceful agreement (marriage); but she will not retain the power of her position, nor will he retain his power. She will be handed over with her attendants and her father as well as he who supported her in those times.

<sup>7</sup> “But out of a branch of her [familial] roots will one (her brother, Ptolemy III Euergetes I) arise in his place, and he will come against the [Syrian] army and enter the fortress of the king of the North, and he will deal with them and will prevail.

<sup>8</sup> “Also he will carry off to Egypt their [Syrian] gods with their cast images and their precious and costly treasure of silver and of gold, and he will refrain from waging war against the king of the North for some years.

<sup>9</sup> “And the king of the North will come into the realm of the king of the South, but he will retreat to his own country [badly defeated].

<sup>10</sup> “His sons will prepare for battle and assemble a multitude of great forces; which will keep on coming and overflow [the land], and pass through, so that they may again wage war as far as his fortress. ‡

<sup>11</sup> “The king of the South (Ptolemy IV Philopator of Egypt) will be enraged and go out and fight with the king of the North (Antiochus III the Great); and the Syrian king will raise a great multitude (army), but the multitude shall be given into the hand of the Egyptian king.

<sup>12</sup> “When the multitude (army) is captured and carried away, the heart of the Egyptian king will be proud (arrogant), and he will cause tens of thousands to fall, but he will not prevail.

<sup>13</sup> “For the king of the North will again raise a multitude (army) greater than the one before, and after several years he will advance with a great army and substantial equipment.

<sup>14</sup> “In those times many will rise up against the king of the South (Egypt); also the violent men among your own people will arise in order to fulfill the [earlier] visions, but they will fail.

<sup>15</sup> “Then the king of the North (Syria) will come and build up siege ramps and capture a well-fortified city. The forces of the South will not stand their ground, not even the finest troops, for there will be no strength to stand [against the Syrian king].

<sup>16</sup> “But he (Syria) who comes against him (Egypt) will do exactly as he pleases, and no one will be able to stand against him; he (Antiochus III the Great) will also stay for a time in the Beautiful and Glorious Land [of Israel], with destruction in his hand. ‡

<sup>17</sup> “He will be determined to come with the power of his entire kingdom, and propose equitable conditions and terms of peace, which he will put into effect [by making an agreement with the king of the South]. He will also give him his daughter (Cleopatra I), in an attempt to overthrow the kingdom, but it will not succeed or be to his advantage. ‡

<sup>18</sup> “After this, he (Antiochus III the Great, King of Syria) will turn his attention to the islands and coastlands and capture many [of them]. But a commander (Lucius Scipio Asiaticus of Rome) will put an end to his aggression [toward Rome’s territorial interests]; in fact, he will repay his insolence and turn his audacity back upon him.

<sup>19</sup> “Then he will turn back toward the fortresses of his own land [of Syria], but he will stumble and fall and not be found. ‡

<sup>20</sup> “Then in his place one (his eldest son, Seleucus IV Philopator) will arise who will send an oppressor through the Jewel of his kingdom; yet within a few days he will be shattered, though not in anger nor in battle.

<sup>21</sup> “And in his place [in Syria] will arise a despicable and despised person, to whom royal majesty and the honor of kingship have not been conferred, but he will come [without warning] in a time of tranquility and seize the kingdom by intrigue.  [Dan 8:9–12, 23–25 ] ‡

<sup>22</sup> “The overwhelming forces [of the invading armies of Egypt] will be flooded away before him and smashed; and also the prince of the covenant [will be smashed]. ‡

<sup>23</sup> “After an alliance is made with him he will work deceitfully, and he will go up and gain power with a small force of people. ‡

<sup>24</sup> “In a time of tranquility, [without warning] he will enter the most productive and richest parts of the kingdom [of Egypt], and he will accomplish that which his fathers never did, nor his fathers’ fathers; he will distribute plunder, spoil and goods among them. He will devise plans against strongholds, but only for a time [decreed by God].

ally] the king of the South (Ptolemy VI) with a great army; so the king of the South will prepare an extremely great and powerful army to wage war, but he will not stand, for schemes will be devised against him.

<sup>26</sup> “Yes, those who eat his fine food will betray and destroy him (Ptolemy VI), and his army will be swept away, and many will fall down slain.

<sup>27</sup> “And as for both of these kings, their hearts will be set on doing evil; they will speak lies over the same table, but it will not succeed, for the end is yet to come at the appointed time.

<sup>28</sup> “Then he (Antiochus IV Epiphanes) will return to his land with great treasure (plunder); and his heart will be set against the holy covenant, and he will take action and return to his own land (Syria).

<sup>29</sup> “At the time appointed [by God] he will return and come into the South, but this last time will not be successful as were the previous invasions [of Egypt].

<sup>30</sup> “For ships of Cyprus [in Roman hands] will come against him; therefore he will be discouraged and turn back [to Israel] and carry out his rage against the holy covenant and take action; so he will return and show favoritism toward those [Jews] who abandon (break) the holy covenant [with God]. ‡

Ptolemies and Seleucids

<sup>31</sup> “Armed forces of his will arise [in Jerusalem] and defile and desecrate the sanctuary, the [spiritual] stronghold, and will do away with the regular sacrifice [that is, the daily burnt offering]; and they will set up [a pagan altar in the sanctuary which is] the abomination of desolation. ‡

<sup>32</sup> “With smooth words [of flattery and praise] he will turn to godlessness those who [are willing to] disregard the [Mosaic] covenant, but the people who [are spiritually mature and] know their God will display strength and take action [to resist].

<sup>33</sup> “They who are wise and have spiritual insight among the people will instruct many and help them understand; yet for many days some [of them and their followers] will fall by the sword and by flame, by captivity and by plunder.

<sup>34</sup> “Now when they fall they will receive a little help, and many will join with them in hypocrisy.

<sup>35</sup> “Some of those who are [spiritually] wise and have insight will fall [as martyrs] in order to refine, to purge and to make those among God’s people pure, until the end time; because it is yet to come at the time appointed [by God]. ‡

<sup>36</sup> “Then the king (the Antichrist) will do exactly as he pleases; he will

exalt himself and magnify himself above every god and will speak astounding and disgusting things against the God of gods and he will prosper until the indignation is finished, for that which is determined [by God] will be done. ‡

37 “He will have no regard for the gods of his fathers or for the desire of women, nor will he have regard for any other god, for he shall magnify himself above them all. ‡

38 “Instead, he will honor a god of fortresses, a god whom his fathers did not know; he will honor him with gold and silver, with precious stones and with expensive things.

39 “He will act against the strongest fortresses with the help of a foreign god; he will give great honor to those who acknowledge him and he will cause them to rule over the many, and will parcel out land for a price.

40 “At the end time the king of the South will push and attack him (the Antichrist), and the king of the North will storm against him with chariots and horsemen and with many ships; and he will enter countries, overwhelm them and pass through. ‡

41 “He shall also enter the Beautiful and Glorious Land (Israel), and many countries will fall, but these will be rescued out of his hand: Edom, Moab, and the foremost [core] of the people of Ammon. ‡

42 “Then he will stretch out his hand against other countries, but Egypt will not be among the ones which escape.

43 “He will have power over the treasures of gold and silver and over all the precious things of Egypt, and the Libyans and the Ethiopians will follow in his footsteps. ‡

44 “But rumors from the east and from the north will alarm and disturb him, and he will set out with great fury to destroy and to annihilate many.

45 “He will pitch his palatial tents between the seas and the glorious Holy Mountain (Zion); yet he will come to his end with no one to help him [in his final battle with God].  [2 Thess 2:4; Rev 13:5–8. ] ‡

Daniel 12

The Time of the End

1 “NOW AT that [end] time Michael, the great [angelic] prince who stands guard over the children of your people, will arise. And there will be a time of distress such as never occurred since there was a nation until that time; but at that time your people, everyone who is found written in the Book [of Life], will be rescued. ‡

2 “Many of those who sleep in the dust of the ground will awake (resurrect), these to everlasting life, but some to disgrace and everlasting contempt (abhorrence).  [John 5:29 ] ‡

3 “Those who are [spiritually] wise will shine brightly like the brightness of the expanse of heaven, and those who lead many to righteousness, [will shine] like the stars forever and ever.  [Matt 13:43 ] ‡

4 “But as for you, Daniel, conceal these words and seal up the scroll until the end of time. Many will go back and forth and search anxiously [through the scroll], and knowledge [of the purpose of God as revealed by His prophets] will [greatly] increase.”  [Amos 8:12 ] ‡

5 Then I, Daniel, looked, and behold, there stood two others, the one [angel] on this bank of the river and the other [angel] on that bank of the river. ‡

6 And one said to the man dressed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, “How long will it be until the end of these wonders?”  [Dan 10:5 ] ‡

7 And I heard the man dressed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, as he held up his right hand and his left hand toward heaven, and swore by Him who lives forever that it would be for a time, times, and a half a time (three and a half years); and as soon as they finish shattering and crushing the power of the holy people, all these things will be finished. ‡

8 As for me, I heard, but I did not understand; so I said, “My lord, what will be the outcome of these things?”

9 And the angel said, “Go your way, Daniel, for the words are concealed and sealed up until the end of time.

10 “Many will be purged, purified (made white) and refined, but the wicked will behave wickedly. None of the wicked shall understand, but those who are [spiritually] wise will understand.  [Dan 11:33–35 ] ‡

11 “From the time that the regular sacrifice [that is, the daily burnt offering] is taken away and the abomination of desolation is set up [ruining the temple for worship of the true God], there will be 1,290 days.  [Dan 11:31 ]

12 “How blessed [happy, fortunate, spiritually prosperous] and beloved is he who waits expectantly [enduring without wavering for the period of tribulation] and comes to the 1,335 days!

13 “But as for you (Daniel), go your way until the end [of your life]; for you will rest and rise again for your allotted inheritance at the end of the age.”  [Heb 11:32–40 ] ‡

The Kingdom of Babylon

Go to Index of Charts and Maps

1:1 Jehoiakim king of Judah. Jehoiakim was an evil king who sided first with the Egyptians and then with the Babylonians, until he finally decided to rebel. His independence was short-lived, however, and he remained under Babylonian domination until his death (2Ki 23:34–24:6).

1:2 the treasury of his god. These articles taken from the temple appear later, on the night of Belshazzar's feast (ch. 5). Eventually they were returned to Zerubbabel, who brought them back to Israel (Ezr 1:7).

1:3 chief of his officials. A term which became synonymous with “official.” In ancient Middle Eastern monarchies, royal harems were typically superintended by men who had been emasculated and were considered reliable to serve in that capacity. A eunuch was often regarded as a privileged official. Some have speculated that Daniel and his friends were eunuchs, but there is no specific statement in the book to this effect.

1:4 literature and language. The language of most of Mesopotamia was Akkadian, which was written in cuneiform script. Over the centuries the Babylonians and Assyrians produced a massive body of literature of all types. Though Aramaic had begun to replace Akkadian by the time of Nebuchadnezzar, scholars continued to study and write literature in their classical tongue. Chaldeans. This name was commonly applied to Babylonians in general, and also to the guild of astrologers, diviners, and other practitioners of wisdom to which Daniel was being introduced (1:17 ; 2:2 ; 3:8).

1:7 names. Daniel means “God is my Judge”; Belteshazzar means “Lady protect the king,” referring to the goddess Sarpanitu, wife of the god Marduk. Hananiah means “The Lord is gracious”; Shadrach means “I am fearful of the God.” Mishael means “Who is what God is?”; Meshach means “I am of little account.” Azariah means “The Lord has helped me”; Abed-nego means “Servant of [the god] Nebo.”

1:8 defile (taint, dishonor) himself. The issue here was not the richness of the food or the alcohol. The king’s table no doubt included unclean meats and food which had not been prepared according to the law. In addition, both meat and wines may well have already been offered to idols.

2:2 magicians. The word translated “magicians” refers to those who use a pen—most likely, those learned in the sacred writings of the Babylonians.

2:4 in Aramaic. Daniel 2:4b–7:28 is written in Aramaic, the common language of the day.

2:8 bargaining for time. Nebuchadnezzar obviously did not have any faith in the integrity of his wise men or in the reality of their wisdom. He wanted to know for sure that the interpretation of his dream was a supernatural revelation, not just a clever story to please a king.

2:11 except the gods. The wise men were forced to acknowledge their own limitations. As far as they knew, they were doomed because the gods who had the answers did not speak with men.

2:18 that they might seek compassion from the God of heaven. Daniel and his friends knew the same thing that the other wise men did: only God could possibly reveal the king’s dream. But, unlike the other wise men, they knew that their God would answer when they called on Him.

2:28 the latter days. This is an expression used frequently for the end times when God will intervene in human history to establish His eternal kingdom (Isa 2:2 ; Hos 3:5 ; Mic 4:1–3 ).

2:31 a single great statue. The image that Nebuchadnezzar saw represented four kingdoms that would rule over all the earth.

2:37 to whom the God of heaven has given the kingdom. The rulers of the nations of the world may not recognize God’s authority, but that does not alter the fact that they have their positions only through His permission.

2:38 head of gold. The first worldwide empire, the head of gold, was Babylon.

2:39 another kingdom (Medo-Persia) inferior to you. The second empire, the chest and arms of silver, was Medo-Persia. Just as silver is inferior to gold, Medo-Persia was inferior to Babylon, not in size but in its effectiveness in governing its people. third kingdom of bronze. The third kingdom would be the Greek Empire.

2:40 a fourth kingdom (Rome) will be strong as iron. The fourth kingdom, the legs of iron, is the only one not specifically identified within the Book of Daniel. Rome is the most likely choice, for it succeeded Greece, and was certainly a very strong empire.

2:41–45 it will be a divided kingdom. Some believe that this is a reference to the Roman Empire’s decline, when the kingdom was divided and the fabric of the empire was weakening in the early centuries after Christ. In this case the “kingdom that will never be destroyed” (obviously the kingdom of God) is a spiritual kingdom introduced by Christ at His first coming, and the mountain that grew from the rock would be a reference to the spread of Christianity, which eventually was named the state religion of the Roman Empire.

Others believe that verses 41–45 point to future events that have not yet been fulfilled. When this vision is compared with the four beasts of chapter 7, it seems clear that the fourth kingdom is yet to come. It is theorized that the kingdom of iron does actually refer to the Roman Empire, which will be revived in some form in the last days, perhaps as a ten-nation confederacy (the ten toes, or the ten horns of the beast of chapter 7). In this case, the “kingdom that will never be destroyed” is a literal kingdom to be established by Jesus Christ at the second coming, at which time He will destroy the kingdoms of the world (Rev 19:15).

3:1 cubits. A cubit in Israel was approximately 18 inches; in Babylon it was about 20 inches. Nebuchadnezzar’s image was 90 to 100 feet tall. The odd proportions of this figure (a normal human height-to-width ratio is about 4:1 rather than 10:1) may indicate that the height includes a base or pedestal.

3:2 satraps. Satraps were the chief officials of the provinces of the empire.

3:18 But even if He does not. The faithful men knew that God could deliver them (v. 17), yet they were also aware that God could have chosen not to do so. Faith in God may not translate into victory in every circumstance (Heb 11:32–39). To these men the outcome was irrelevant, for what was at stake was not God’s ability or their own lives, but their faith and obedience to serve Him regardless of the cost.

3:25 I see four men untied. The fourth man walking with the three friends in the furnace may have been an angel. Many believe that this was an appearance of the pre-incarnate Christ.

3:28 Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego. Pagan cultures did not deny the existence of other gods, even those of other peoples. Nebuchadnezzar was impressed with the God of Israel, but that did not mean that he recognized that God is the only true god.

4:1 Nebuchadnezzar the king. These verses are a royal proclamation by Nebuchadnezzar concerning the God of Israel, in which the king celebrated what God had done for him and extolled His power and dominion.

4:8 my god. This refers to Marduk. Nebuchadnezzar was still a pagan, but he also recognized that Daniel had the spirit of his God, and that Daniel’s God was different from other gods.

4:9 chief of the magicians. Daniel’s position as head magician did not mean that he practiced sorcery or witchcraft, a thing clearly forbidden by the law (Dt 18:10–11). In the pluralistic Babylonian society, Daniel’s relationship with the God of Israel would automatically have been categorized as another form of magic, or astrology, or divination, the “wisdom” of the day. He received the honor and position of one who has favor with the gods.

4:16 seven periods of time. These times could refer to years, months, weeks, days, or hours. Most take them as years, as elsewhere in the book (7:25).

4:20 tree. In the Old Testament, a tree is a common symbol for a ruler (Jdg 9:7–15 ; Eze 31:2–14 ; Zec 11:1–2).

4:23 angelic watcher. The term “watcher” means “waking one,” one who is constantly alert. The parallel “holy one” suggests that the watcher is either the Lord Himself or one of His angels (3:28 ; 6:22 ; 8:16 ; 10:13).

4:32 until you know [without any doubt] that the Most High God rules. Nebuchadnezzar would become insane, yet in his animal-like state he would learn more of God than he ever had before. The chastisement of God is always for a holy and helpful purpose, if we will accept it.

5:1 Belshazzar the king. Belshazzar is called the king and the son of Nebuchadnezzar. Other ancient records, however, seem to dispute both facts. These records indicate that Belshazzar was the son of Nabonidus, the last king of Babylon. It is possible that Belshazzar was the grandson of Nebuchadnezzar. In ancient writings, the term father is often used to indicate ancestry rather than immediate family (2Ki 14:3 ). Belshazzar may have served as vice-regent while his father was still living (Nabonidus seems to have spent a number of the years of his reign in Arabia). Thus, he would have been acting as king, even if he was not officially king. Note that Darius the Mede was also called king, even though he served Cyrus (5:31 ; 6:6 ).

5:7 third ruler. Assuming that Belshazzar was acting as regent for his father Nabonidus, the “third ruler” would have been next in line for the throne.

5:11 a spirit of the holy gods. This is the same expression used by Nebuchadnezzar (4:8–9 ,18 ).

5:13 Daniel who is one of the sons of the exiles. Daniel was an old man by this time, possibly 80 years old or older.

5:25–28 MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN. MENE means “numbered.” The repetition is for emphasis. God had numbered the days of Belshazzar’s kingdom, and the time was up. TEKEL means “weighed.” God had weighed Belshazzar’s character, and he did not measure up. UPHARSIN (the plural of PERES ) means “divided.” That very night Babylon would be divided and defeated by the Medes and the Persians.

5:30 During that same night. That very evening (October 12, 539 BC), Babylon fell to the Persian army commanded by Gubaru.

5:31 Darius the Mede. Darius the Mede is mentioned by name only in the Book of Daniel. He cannot be the famous Darius I Hystaspes because Darius I was not a Mede, and he lived too late (522–486 BC) to be a contemporary of Daniel. It is believed that “Darius the Mede” was Gubaru, a governor appointed by Cyrus. Ancient literary sources indicate that this official took over immediately in Babylon until Cyrus appointed his own son Cambyses as co-ruler around 538 BC. Why Gubaru might have been called Darius is uncertain, though ancient rulers often took other names for themselves.

6:3 the extraordinary spirit. This probably refers to Daniel’s surpassing ability to do his job well and perhaps also indicates a commendable attitude.

6:5 the law of his God. Daniel had such integrity that, even after a life spent in government circles, his enemies could find nothing against him. His devotion to God was so well-known that these men were confident that Daniel would obey His law even if it would cost him his life.

6:13 one of the exiles from Judah. Daniel’s accusers did not describe him as governor (v. 2 ), but as a captive from another land, in order to implicate him as a treasonous and dangerous person.

6:14 was deeply distressed. It is clear that Darius had not factored Daniel into the situation in the beginning. He never had the intention of harming him.

6:23 he believed in and relied on and trusted in his God. Daniel’s faithfulness got him into trouble; faith got him out of it (Heb 11:33 )

6:24 their children and their wives. The entire families of the wicked conspirators were destroyed because the Persians, like the Hebrews and other peoples, considered guilt a collective responsibility (Nu 16:1–35 ; Jos 7 ).

6:28 and in the reign of Cyrus. Gubaru, or Darius, served Cyrus for about one year, after which Cyrus appointed his son Cambyses as regent over Babylon.

7:1 the first year of Belshazzar. Chapter 5 records Belshazzar’s death, indicating that the Book of Daniel is not arranged chronologically.

7:3 four great beasts. These four beasts represent kings or kingdoms, like the four metals of the statue in chapter 2 .

7:4 like a lion and had the wings of an eagle. There has been almost universal agreement from the early centuries until today that this beast represents Babylon. It is also agreed that the visions of chapters 2 and 7 speak of the same four kingdoms.

7:5 like a bear. The bear seems to represent Babylon's successor, the Medo-Persian Empire (2:38–39 ). The three ribs may represent the three kingdoms that Medo-Persia devoured—Babylon, Libya, and Egypt.

7:6 like a leopard. The leopard is believed to represent Greece. The Greeks, under the leadership of Alexander the Great, rapidly conquered the known world. four heads. After Alexander's death, his empire was divided into four different parts (8:8–22 )—Macedonia, Egypt, Syria, and Thracia.

7:7 fourth beast. The last of the beasts may represent Rome (2:40 ).

7:9 Ancient of Days. “Ancient of Days” is a reference to God the Father as certified by the submission of the “one like a Son of Man” (vv. 13–14 ) and His role in judgment (v. 22 ).

7:10 And the books were opened. The books record the names and deeds of those who will be judged (Rev 20:12 ).

7:13 on the clouds of heaven. John uses the same expression to speak of Jesus coming in judgment (Rev 1:7 ). One like a Son of Man. The term “Son of Man” is an expression meaning “human,” but clearly this “one like” the Son of Man was no ordinary human. Jewish and Christian expositors have both identified this individual as the Messiah. Jesus Himself used this name to emphasize His humanity (Mt 9:6 ; 10:23 ).

7:14 to Him \(the Messiah\) was given dominion. Jesus will reign over all things (1Co 15:27–28 ; Eph 1:20–23 ; Php 2:9–11 ; Rev 17:14 ; 19:10 ).

Visions in Daniel

Go to Index of Charts and Maps

7:21 that horn was making war. The little horn’s militaristic character is seen also in 11:38–39 and particularly in Revelation 13:1–10. There, in the guise of a beast, this blasphemous enemy of the saints prevails for 42 months. The connection between Daniel’s “little horn” and John’s “beast from the sea” is unmistakable.

7:24 the ten horns. Some perceive the fourth beast as representing Rome, and the ten horns as the fragments of the Roman Empire. Others see the fourth beast as a revived Roman Empire and the ten horns as kings of a future realm.

7:25 a time, [two] times, and half a time. If the expression “time” is taken to mean a year, and “times” as two years, the three and a half years would exactly equal the 42 months mentioned in the Book of Revelation (Rev 13:1–10), half of the 70th “week” of years of 9:27. Some also believe that the expression does not indicate a specific number of years but instead a period of time that God in His mercy would shorten.

8:1 In the third year. After writing in Aramaic from 2:4–7:28, Daniel returns to writing in Hebrew.

8:3 a [lone] ram (the Medo-Persian empire) which had two horns. The ram represents Medo-Persia (v. 20). The two horns symbolize the peoples of Media and Persia.

8:5 a male goat. The goat represents Greece (v. 21). The remarkable horn symbolizes Alexander the Great (v. 21) who launched his attack against Persia in 334 BC. Within two years, he had essentially subdued the Persian Empire. His conquest was so rapid that it seemed as if he never touched the ground.

8:8 the great horn (Alexander) was [suddenly] broken. Alexander the Great died at the height of his career, before he was 33 years old. After his death, his empire was divided among his four generals (11:4 ).

8:9 a rather small horn. This horn is Antiochus Epiphanes, who ruled part of the Greek Empire from 175 to 164 BC.

8:11 Commander of the host. This is clearly God Himself. The “host” refers to God’s people (12:3 ; Ge 15:5 ). Antiochus is remembered in infamy by the Jews because he desecrated the temple by setting up a statue of Zeus and sacrificing a pig on the holy altar.

8:14 2,300 evenings and mornings. This was the amount of time between Antiochus’ pollution of the temple and the Maccabees’ cleansing of it.

8:16 Gabriel. This is the first mention of the angel Gabriel. This angel is mentioned by name three other times (9:21 ; Lk 1:19 ,26 ).

8:24 not by his own power. Like the antichrist (2Th 2:9 ), Antiochus would be energized by Satan.

8:25 broken, and that by no human hand. According to the book of 2 Maccabees, Antiochus died of a painful disease.

9:2 from the books. The “books” were the Scriptures, specifically the Book of Jeremiah, which states that the captivity would last 70 years (Jer 25:11–12 ; 29:10–14 ). By this time, Daniel himself had been in captivity for about 67 years, and he knew that the punishment was nearly over.

9:3–4 Prayer and Fasting— There are many examples in Scripture of people who pray to learn the will of God. There are also some examples of people who do not pray and find themselves in trouble (Jos 9 ). Most Christians quickly learn that one of the most important ways we learn the will of God for our lives is through prayer. “If any of you lacks wisdom [to guide him through a decision or circumstance], he is to ask of [our benevolent] God, who gives to everyone generously and without rebuke or blame, and it will be given to him” (Jas 1:5 ). See also Psalm 143:8–10 and James 4:2 .

Other verses in the Bible link prayer with fasting. To fast is to abstain for a period of time from some important and necessary activity in our lives. The purpose of fasting is to be able to spend that time in prayer before God. Different kinds of fasting are possible. One may, for a time refrain from sleep (2Co 6:5 ; 11:27 ), marital sex (1Co 7:1–5 ), or food (Mt 4:1–2 ). There are also many examples of fasting in the Word: Moses in Deuteronomy 9:9 , Elijah in 1 Kings 19:8 , Daniel in Daniel 9:3 , Ezra in Ezra 10:6 , and Nehemiah in Nehemiah 1:4 . Go to Theological Notes Index

9:11 the curse . . . and the oath. Covenant documents typically contained statements concerning the penalties for covenant violation (Lev 26:3–45 ; Dt 27–28 ). The most feared and devastating curse of all had come to pass when the people were deported from the land.

9:21 the time of the evening sacrifice. The temple was in ruins, and regular daily sacrifices were impossible. Nevertheless, Daniel observed the ritual of worship by praying at the hour of the evening sacrifice. Daniel’s prayer was his evening offering.

9:24 Seventy weeks. The word “weeks” can also be translated “sevens.” Many scholars agree that the “sevens” are periods of seven years.

9:25 the issuance of the command to restore and rebuild Jerusalem. This may refer to the decree of Cyrus in Ezra 1 , the decree of Darius in Ezra 6 , the decree of Artaxerxes in Ezra 7 , or the decree of Artaxerxes in Nehemiah 2 .

9:26 sixty-two weeks. When the 7 weeks and 62 weeks (v. 25 ) are added together, they equal 483 years. If these years are added to the date of the decree of Artaxerxes in Nehemiah 2 (445 BC), with an adjustment to allow for a 360-day year, the end of the 69 weeks coincides with the date of the triumphal entry into Jerusalem just before the crucifixion. the [other] prince who is to come. This seems to be a reference to the antichrist.

9:27 in the middle of the week. That is, 3–1/2 years later. These 3–1/2 years of the rule of the antichrist seem to correspond with the “time, [two] times, and half a time” when the fourth beast rules (7:25) and with the 42-month rule of the beast from the sea (Rev 13:1–10). one who makes desolate. Antiochus committed an abomination by setting up an altar to the god Zeus in the holy place in the temple in Jerusalem (11:31). The antichrist will also commit an abomination of desolation against the living God. Jesus’ reference to “the abomination of desolation . . . spoken of by the prophet Daniel” (Mt 24:15) occurred long after the desolation caused by Antiochus and indicates that this verse is describing the abomination of the antichrist and not that of Antiochus.

10:2 three entire weeks. This period of time refers to Daniel’s observance of the Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which took place during the first month of the year (Ex 12:1–20).

10:6 his face had the appearance of lightning. The description of this man is very much like Ezekiel’s description of the glory of God (Eze 1:4–28) and John’s description of the risen Christ (Rev 1:9–20).

10:13 the prince of the kingdom of Persia. This prince cannot be a human ruler because the conflict referred to here is in the spiritual, heavenly realm, as the allusion to the angel Michael (also referred to as a prince) makes clear. This prince, therefore, must be understood as a satanic figure who was to supervise the affairs of Persia, inspiring its religious, social, and political structures to works of evil. The apostle Paul refers to “spiritual forces of wickedness in the heavenly (supernatural) places” (Eph 6:12). The prince of Persia apparently sought to detain the angel so that Daniel would be prevented from hearing more of God’s revelation (vv. 12–14). Michael. Michael seems to be one of the most powerful angels. He is mentioned three times in the Old Testament, all in the Book of Daniel (v. 21; 12:1), and twice in the New Testament (Jude 9; Rev 12:7).

10:20 against the [hostile] prince of Persia. Persia was under the ultimate dominion of an evil spirit from Satan (vv. 13–14), and so also was Greece. The succession of world powers follows the pattern of Daniel’s second vision (8:20–22).

11:1 the first year of Darius. This is the same year as that of the revelation of the 70 weeks, 539 BC.

11:2 three more kings. Darius (under Cyrus) was followed by Cambyses (530–522 BC), Gaumata (522 BC), Darius I (522–486 BC), and Xerxes (486–465 BC)—who was the richest king of all, due to the extent of the empire’s conquests and the severe taxation.

11:4 but not to his descendants. The “mighty king” of verse 3 fits with Alexander the Great, the first ruler of the Greek Empire. When Alexander died, his four generals carved up the Macedonian Empire. Antigonus ruled from southern Syria to central Asia; Cassander ruled over Macedonia; Ptolemy ruled in Egypt and southern Syria, including Palestine; Lysimachus ruled over Thrace.

11:5 the king of the South. Alexander’s general Ptolemy I Soter was the first king of the Southern Kingdom—that is, Egypt.

11:6–15 After some years. The events described in these verses fit with the actual history of the divided Greek Empire. the daughter (Berenice) of the king. This refers to Berenice, the daughter of Ptolemy Philadelphus (285–246 BC) of Egypt. the king of the North. This is Antiochus II Theos (261–246 BC) of Syria. a branch of her [familial] roots. This is Berenice’s brother, Ptolemy III Eurgetes (246–221 BC), who conquered Seleucus Callinicus (246–226 BC) of Syria (the king of the North). Seleucus did attempt a return attack on Egypt, but returned to Syria without accomplishing his goal. The kings of Egypt and Syria (the south and the north) continued to war against each other in the manner described in the prophecy. capture a well-fortified city. Antiochus of Syria defeated the fortified city of Sidon in 198 BC.

11:17 his daughter (Cleopatra I), in an attempt to overthrow the kingdom. Antiochus III’s daughter Cleopatra was given in marriage to Ptolemy V Epiphanes of Egypt in order to destroy or undermine Egypt, but Cleopatra sided with her husband over her father.

11:18–19 the islands and coastland . . . his own land. Antiochus III undertook a vigorous campaign into Asia Minor and the Aegean region. The Roman Lucius Cornelius Scipio defeated Antiochus. Having lost all that he had gained, Antiochus returned to his own land, where he was defeated and killed while trying to plunder a temple.

11:21 a despicable and despised person. Antiochus IV Epiphanes seized the throne through treachery and later defiled the temple in Jerusalem (v. 31 ; 9:27 ).

11:29 he will return and come into the South. After learning that Ptolemy VI and Ptolemy VII had formed a union against him, Antiochus returned to Egypt in 168 BC, but he was driven out by the Romans.

Ptolemies and Seleucids

Soon after the death of Alexander the Great in 323 BC, his generals divided his empire into four parts, two of which—Egypt and Syria—were under the rule of the Ptolemies and Seleucids respectively. The Holy Land was controlled from Egypt by the Ptolemaic dynasty from 323 to 198, and was subsequently governed by the Seleucids of Syria from 198 to 142.

The Diadochi, as the successors of Alexander were called, struggled bitterly for power over his domain. At first Ptolemy I seized his own satrapy, Egypt and North Africa, which had splendid resources and natural defense capabilities. Seleucus gained Syria and Mesopotamia, and by 301 Lysimachus held Thrace and Asia Minor while Cassander ruled Macedon. The situation changed again by 277, when only three major Hellenistic kingdoms stabilized in Egypt, in Syria, and in Macedonia under the Antigonids (277–168). Each continued until the eventual triumph of Rome.

Daniel 11 treats the “king of the South” and the “king of the North,” describing their conflicts, wars and alliances. Their hostility toward the people of God culminated in the “abomination that causes desolation” (11:31 ), identified historically with the reign of Antiochus IV Epiphanes (175–164). The Maccabean revolt followed, leading eventually to the founding of the Hasmonean dynasty.

Continued political rivalries in Judea brought the intervention of the Roman general Pompey in 63 BC. This event signaled the end of Jewish political independence, except for periods of brief autonomy during the ill-fated revolts of the first and second Christian centuries.

11:31 abomination of desolation. Antiochus defiled the sanctuary by sacrificing a pig on the altar. He put a stop to the daily sacrifices, and he set up an image of Zeus in the holy place. Jesus said that a similar thing would happen just prior to His return (Mt 24:15 ).

11:32 the people who [are spiritually mature and] know their God. The books of Maccabees record the story of Mattathias, the father of five sons, who refused to offer profane sacrifices and killed the king's agents. He and his sons then fled to the mountains and began the famous Maccabean revolt.

11:32 Know God Through His Word— The highest knowledge to which men and women can attain is personal knowledge of God (Jer 9:24 ). One of the most valuable teachings of Scripture is that we can actually know God through His Word. To know God personally is to be saved and have eternal life (Jn 17:3 ). We gain this knowledge primarily through interaction with His Word in four ways: First, we listen to and receive God's Word as the Holy Spirit interprets it and applies it to our hearts. Second, Scripture reveals God's nature and character. We know God through understanding of the works He has done, which are explained in Scripture. Third, our knowledge of God moves from intellectual to personal when we accept the invitation He has given us and do what He commands. Fourth, our personal knowledge of God grows as we rejoice in the love He shows us in Scripture and express joy in response to what He has done for us and given us. The Word leads to knowledge of all that is true about God. This knowledge of God then produces fellowship with Him. Go to Theological Notes Index

11:35 it is yet to come at the time appointed. Clearly, the trouble and wickedness of Antiochus' reign was not the end. That is yet to come.

11:36 Then the king. Many ancient and modern interpreters have concluded that at this point a new person, the antichrist, is introduced. This king is distinguished from the king of the North (v. 40 ); therefore, he cannot be Antiochus Epiphanes. It appears that there is a gap of many years between verses 35 and 36 , and this refers back to "the end time" which will come at the "time appointed" (v. 35 ).

11:38 a god whom his fathers did not know. This is probably a reference to self-worship (v. 37 ; 2Th 2:4 ).

11:40 the end time. This is the period just before the return of Christ (Mt 24:14 ).

11:45 with no one to help him. The end of the king is sealed at Christ's second coming (Rev 19:11–21 ).

12:1 written in the Book. The book of life is God's record of those who are justified by faith (Ex 32:32 ; Ps 69:28 ; Lk 10:20 ; Rev 20:12 ).

12:2 Many . . . who sleep . . . will awake. This passage appears to refer to a general resurrection, while other passages suggest that there is more than one (Jn 5:25 ). It is not unusual for prophecy in the Old Testament to present events separated by a considerable span of time as if they occurred in immediate relationship to each other (see, for example, Isa 61:1–2 ).

12:6 How long . . . until the end. This question refers to the duration of the trials, not the dates of the events.

12:7 a time, times, and a half a time. If a "time" is a year, this adds up to 3½ years (7:25 ), which may refer to the period immediately preceding the second coming of Christ (7:27 ). Some believe that this expression is not meant to indicate anything more specific than a length of time.

12:11 1,290 days. Various interpretations have been suggested. One significant interpretation is that these days refer to the time following a point halfway through a seven-year period of tribulation prior to the coming of Christ (9:27 ).

12:12 1,335 days. The extra 45 days may be the amount of time that the last battles will take before the victory is completely established.

12:13 you will rest and rise again for your allotted inheritance. Daniel died before these things came to pass, but at the end he will be among those resurrected (v. 2 ).

The Book of

Hosea

- AUTHOR: Few critics argue with the claim in 1:1 that Hosea is the author of this book. The author's place of birth is not given but his familiarity and obvious concern with the Northern Kingdom point to his living in Israel, rather than Judah. Hosea had a real compassion for his people. His personal suffering because of his wife, Gomer, gave him some understanding of God's grief over the people's sin, and this grief becomes the source of the unique tenderness and hope that characterizes Hosea's book.
- TIMES: c. 755–710 BC
- KEY VERSE: Hos 4:1
- THEME: Hosea was a contemporary of Isaiah, prophesying near the end of Israel's existence. It is clear from reading the text that Assyria was about to take over. In the second verse of Hosea, God tells Hosea to marry a prostitute named Gomer to provide a living illustration of God's faithfulness and Israel's unfaithfulness. By this, Hosea demonstrates that God loves us, as He did Israel, knowingly and in spite of all our propensities to reject His love for us.

Hosea 1

Hosea's Wife and Children

<sup>1</sup> THE WORD of the LORD that came to Hosea the son of Beeri in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel. ‡

<sup>2</sup> When the LORD first spoke through Hosea, the LORD said to him, “Go, take for yourself a wife of prostitution and have children of [her] prostitution; for the land commits great acts of prostitution by not following the LORD.” ‡

<sup>3</sup> So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, and she conceived and bore him a son.

<sup>4</sup> And the LORD said to him, “Name him Jezreel; for yet in a little while I will avenge the blood [that was shed in the Valley] of Jezreel and inflict the punishment for it on the house of Jehu, and I will put an end to the kingdom of the house of Israel.  [2 Kin 10:1–11 ] ‡

<sup>5</sup> “On that day I will break the bow [of the military power] of Israel in the Valley of Jezreel.” ‡

<sup>6</sup> Then Gomer conceived again and gave birth to a daughter. And the LORD said to Hosea, “Name her Lo-Ruhamah (not shown mercy), for I will no longer have mercy on the house of Israel, that I would ever forgive them. ‡

<sup>7</sup> “But I will have mercy on the house of Judah and will rescue them by the LORD their God, and will not rescue them by bow, sword, war, horses, or horsemen.”  [Is 31:8 ; 37:33–35 ] ‡

<sup>8</sup> Now when Gomer had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, she conceived and gave birth to a son.

<sup>9</sup> And the LORD said, “Name him Lo-Ammi (not my people), for you are not My people and I am not your God.”

<sup>10</sup> Yet the number of the sons of Israel ‡
Shall be like the sand of the sea,
Which cannot be measured or numbered;
And in the place
Where it is said to them,
“You are not My people,”
It will be said to them,

“You are the sons of the living God.”  [Gen 22:17; Rom 9:26 ]

<sup>11</sup> Then the sons of Judah and the sons of Israel shall be gathered together,‡

And they will appoint for themselves one leader,
And they will go up from the land,
For great and glorious will be the day of Jezreel.  [Is 11:12, 13;
Ezek 37:15–28 ]

Hosea 2

Israel’s Unfaithfulness Condemned

<sup>1</sup> “[HOSEA,] SAY to your brothers, ‘Ammi (you are my people),’ and to your sisters, ‘Ruhamah (you have been pitied and have obtained mercy).’

<sup>2</sup> “Contend with your mother (nation); contend,‡
For she is not my wife and I am not her husband;
And have her remove her [marks of] prostitution from her face

And her adultery from between her breasts  [Is 50:1 ]

<sup>3</sup> Or I will strip her naked‡
And expose her as on the day she was born,
And make her like a wilderness
And make her like a parched land
And slay her with thirst.

<sup>4</sup> “Also, I will have no mercy on her children,‡
Because they are the children of prostitution.

<sup>5</sup> “For their mother has played the prostitute;‡
She who conceived them has acted shamefully,
For she said, ‘I will pursue my lovers
Who give me my food and my water,
My wool and my flax, my oil and my [refreshing] drinks.’

<sup>6</sup> “Therefore, behold, I [the LORD God] will hedge up her way with thorns;‡
And I will build a wall against her [shutting off her way] so that she cannot find her paths.

<sup>7</sup> “She will [passionately] pursue her lovers, but she will not overtake them;‡

And she will seek them, but will not find them.
Then she will say, ‘Let me go and return to my first husband,
For it was better for me then than now!’

<sup>8</sup> “For she (Israel) has not noticed nor understood nor realized that it was I [the LORD God] who gave her the grain and the new wine and the oil,‡

And lavished on her silver and gold,
Which they used for Baal and made into his image.

<sup>9</sup> “Therefore, I will return and take back My grain at harvest time

And My new wine in its season.

I will also take away My wool and My flax
Given to cover her nakedness.

<sup>10</sup> “And now I will uncover her lewdness and shame‡
In the sight of her lovers,
And no one will rescue her from My hand.

<sup>11</sup> “I will also put an end to all her rejoicing,‡
Her feasts, her New Moons, her Sabbaths,
And all her festivals.

<sup>12</sup> “I will destroy her vines and her fig trees
Of which she has said, ‘These are my wages
Which my lovers have given me.’

And I will make them a forest,
And the animals of the open country will devour them.

<sup>13</sup> “And I will punish her for the [feast] days of the Baals,
When she used to offer sacrifices and burn incense to them
And adorn herself with her earrings and nose rings and her jewelry,

And follow her lovers, so that she forgot Me,” says the
LORD.

Restoration of Israel

<sup>14</sup> “Therefore, behold, I will allure Israel
And bring her into the wilderness,
And I will speak tenderly to her [to reconcile her to Me].

<sup>15</sup> “Then I will give her her vineyards from there,‡

And make the Valley of Achor a door of hope and expectation [anticipating the time when I will restore My favor on her].

And she will sing there and respond as in the days of her youth
As in the day when she came up from the land of Egypt.  [Ex 15:2 ; Josh 7:24–26 ]

<sup>16</sup> “It shall come about in that day,” says the LORD,
“That you will call Me Ishi (my husband)
And will no longer call Me Baali (my Baal).

<sup>17</sup> “For I will remove the names of the Baals from her mouth, ‡
So that they will no longer be mentioned or remembered by their names.  [Ex 23:13 ]

<sup>18</sup> “And in that day I will make a covenant for Israel ‡
With the animals of the open country
And with the birds of the heavens
And with the creeping things of the ground.
And I will abolish the bow and the sword and [banish] war
from the land

And will make them lie down in safety.

<sup>19</sup> “And I will betroth you (Israel) to Me forever;
Yes, I will betroth you to Me in righteousness and in justice,
In lovingkindness and loyalty, and in compassion.

<sup>20</sup> “I will betroth you to Me in stability and in faithfulness. ‡
Then you will know (recognize, appreciate) the LORD [and respond with loving faithfulness].

<sup>21</sup> “It will come about in that day that I will respond,” says the LORD. ‡

“I will respond to the heavens [which ask for rain to pour on the earth], and they will respond to the earth [which begs for the rain],

<sup>22</sup> And the earth shall respond to the grain and the new wine and the oil [which beg it to bring them forth],
And they will respond to Jezreel [My Israel, who will now be restored].

<sup>23</sup> “I will sow her for Myself in the land. ‡
I will also have mercy on her who had not obtained mercy;
And I will say to those who were not My people,

‘You are My people,’
And they will say, ‘You are my God!’ ”  [1 Pet 2:9, 10 ]

Hosea 3

Hosea’s Second Symbolic Marriage

<sup>1</sup> THEN THE LORD said to me, “Go again, love a woman (Gomer) who is beloved by her husband and yet is an adulteress, even as the LORD loves the children of Israel, though they turn to other gods and love the raisin cakes [used in the feasts in pagan worship].” ‡

<sup>2</sup> So I bought her for myself for fifteen pieces of silver and a homer and a half of barley [the price of a common slave].

<sup>3</sup> And I said to her, “You shall stay with me for many days. You shall not play the prostitute nor shall you have a man; so I will also be toward you [until you have proved your faithfulness].” ‡

<sup>4</sup> For the sons of Israel will remain for many days without king or prince, without sacrifice or [idolatrous] pillar, and without ephod or teraphim (household idols). ‡

<sup>5</sup> Afterward the sons of Israel will return [in deep repentance] and seek the LORD their God and [seek from the line of] David their king [the King of kings—the Messiah]; and they will come trembling to the LORD and to His goodness and blessing in the last days.  [Jer 30:9; Ezek 34:24 ] ‡

Hosea 4

God’s Controversy with Israel

<sup>1</sup> HEAR THE word of the LORD, you children of Israel, ‡
For the LORD has a [legal] case with the inhabitants of the land,

Because there is no faithfulness [no steadfast love, no dependability] or loyalty or kindness
Or knowledge of God [from personal experience with Him]
in the land.

<sup>2</sup> There is [false] swearing of oaths, deception (broken faith), murder, stealing, and adultery;

They employ violence, so that one [act of] bloodshed follows closely on another.

<sup>3</sup> Therefore the land [continually] mourns,‡
And everyone who lives in it languishes [in tragic suffering]
Together with the animals of the open country and the birds of the heavens;
Even the fish of the sea disappear.

<sup>4</sup> Yet let no one find fault, nor let any rebuke [others];‡
For your people are like those who contend with the priest.

<sup>5</sup> So you will stumble in the daytime,‡
And the [false] prophet will also stumble with you in the night;

And I will destroy your mother (Israel).  [Ex 19:6 ]

<sup>6</sup> My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge [of My law, where I reveal My will].‡
Because you [the priestly nation] have rejected knowledge,
I will also reject you from being My priest.
Since you have forgotten the law of your God,
I will also forget your children.

<sup>7</sup> The more they multiplied [in numbers and increased in power], the more they sinned against Me;‡
I will change their glory into shame.

<sup>8</sup> They (the priests) feed on the sin offering of My people
And set their heart on their wickedness.  [Lev 7:7, 8 ]

<sup>9</sup> And it shall be: like people, like priest [both are wicked and both will be judged];‡
So I will punish them for their ways
And repay them for their deeds.

<sup>10</sup> They will eat, but not have enough;‡
They will play the prostitute, but not increase [their descendants],
Because they have stopped giving heed to the LORD.

<sup>11</sup> Prostitution, wine, and new wine take away the mind and the [spiritual] understanding.‡

<sup>12</sup> My people consult their [lifeless] wooden idol, and their

[diviner's] wand gives them oracles.‡
For a spirit of prostitution has led them astray [morally and spiritually],
And they have played the prostitute, withdrawing themselves from their God.
<sup>13</sup> They sacrifice on the tops of the mountains‡
And burn incense on the hills,
Under oaks, poplars, and terebinths,
Because the shade is pleasant there.
Therefore your daughters play the prostitute
And your brides commit adultery.
<sup>14</sup> I will not punish your daughters when they play the prostitute
Or your brides when they commit adultery,
For the men themselves slip away with prostitutes,
And they offer sacrifices with temple prostitutes [who give their bodies in honor of the idol].
So the people without understanding [stumble and fall and] come to ruin.

<sup>15</sup> Though you, Israel, play the prostitute [by worshiping idols],‡
Do not let Judah become guilty [of the same thing];
And do not go to Gilgal [where idols are worshiped],
Or go up to Beth-aven (House of Wickedness),
Nor swear [oaths in idolatrous worship, saying],
“As the LORD lives!”
<sup>16</sup> For Israel is stubborn,‡
Like a stubborn heifer.
Can the LORD now pasture them
Like a lamb in a large field?
<sup>17</sup> Ephraim is joined to idols,‡
So let him alone [to suffer the consequences].
<sup>18</sup> When their liquor is gone [and their drinking parties are over],‡
They habitually go to play the prostitute;
Ephraim's rulers continue to dearly love shame [more than her glory which is the LORD, Israel's God].

<sup>19</sup> The wind [of God's relentless wrath] has wrapped up Israel in its wings, ‡

And [in captivity] they will be ashamed because of their sacrifices [to calves, to sun, to moon, to stars, and to pagan gods].

Hosea 5

The People's Apostasy Rebuked

<sup>1</sup> HEAR THIS and pay close attention, O priests! ‡
Give heed, O house of Israel!
Listen, O house of the king!
For the [pronounced] judgment pertains to you and is meant for you to hear,
Because you have been a snare at Mizpah
And a net spread out over Tabor (military strongholds on either side of the Jordan River).

<sup>2</sup> The revolters have gone deep into depravity, ‡
But I [the LORD God] will chastise them all.

<sup>3</sup> I know Ephraim, and Israel is not hidden from Me; ‡
For now, O Ephraim, you have played the prostitute and have worshiped idols;

Israel has defiled itself.

<sup>4</sup> Their [immoral] practices will not permit them ‡
To return to their God,
For the spirit of prostitution is within them
And they do not know the LORD [they do not recognize, appreciate, heed or cherish Him].

<sup>5</sup> But the pride and self-reliance of Israel testifies against him.
Therefore Israel, and [especially] Ephraim, stumble and fall in their wickedness and guilt;

Judah also has stumbled with them.

<sup>6</sup> They will go with their flocks and with their herds ‡
To seek the LORD [diligently searching for Him], but they will not find Him;
He has withdrawn from them [refusing to hear the prayers of the unrepentant].

<sup>7</sup> They have dealt treacherously against the LORD, ‡
For they have borne illegitimate (pagan) children.
Now the New Moon will devour them along with their land [bringing judgment and captivity].

<sup>8</sup> Blow the horn in Gibeah, ‡
The trumpet in Ramah [the lofty hills on Benjamin's northern border].
Sound the alarm at Beth-aven:
“Behind you and coming after you [is the enemy], O Benjamin [be on guard]!”

<sup>9</sup> Ephraim will become a desolation in the day of rebuke;
Among the tribes of Israel I declare what is certain.

<sup>10</sup> The princes of Judah are like those who move a boundary marker; ‡

I will pour out My wrath on them like [an unrestrained flood of] water.  [Deut 19:14; Prov 22:28. ]

judgment, ‡

Because he was determined to follow man's command (vanities, filth, secular precepts).

<sup>12</sup> Therefore I am like a moth to Ephraim ‡
And like dry rot to the house of Judah [in My judgment against them].

<sup>13</sup> When Ephraim saw his sickness, ‡
And Judah his wound,
Then Ephraim went to Assyria [instead of the LORD]
And sent to [Assyria's] great King Jareb [for help].
But he cannot heal you
Nor will he cure you of your wound [received in judgment].

<sup>14</sup> For I will be like a lion to Ephraim ‡
And like a young lion to the house of Judah.
I, even I, will tear to pieces and go on [tearing];
I will carry off [the prey] and there will be no one to rescue
them.

<sup>15</sup> I will go away and return to My place [on high] Until they acknowledge their offense and bear their guilt and seek My face;

In their distress they will earnestly seek Me, saying,

Hosea 6

The Response to God's Rebuke

<sup>1</sup> "COME AND let us return [in repentance] to the LORD, ‡
For He has torn us, but He will heal us;
He has wounded us, but He will bandage us.

<sup>2</sup> "After two days He will revive us; ‡
On the third day He will raise us up
That we may live before Him.  [Is 26:19; Ezek 37:1–10 ]

<sup>3</sup>—"So let us know and become personally acquainted with Him; let us press on to know and understand fully the [greatness of the] LORD [to honor, heed, and deeply cherish Him]. ‡

His appearing is prepared and is as certain as the dawn,
And He will come to us [in salvation] like the [heavy] rain,
Like the spring rain watering the earth."

The Reply of the Lord

<sup>4</sup> O Ephraim, what shall I do with you?
O Judah, what shall I do with you?
For your [wavering] loyalty and kindness are [transient] like the morning cloud
And like the dew that goes away early.

<sup>5</sup>.Therefore, I have hewn them in pieces by [the words of] the prophets; ‡
I have slain them by the words of My mouth;
My judgments [pronounced upon them by the prophets] are like the light that shines forth [obvious to all].

<sup>6</sup> For I desire and delight in [steadfast] loyalty [faithfulness in the covenant relationship], rather than sacrifice, ‡
And in the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings. [
Matt 9:13; 12:7 ]

<sup>7</sup> But they, like Adam, have transgressed the covenant;
There they have dealt treacherously against Me.

<sup>8</sup> Gilead is a city of wrongdoers;
It is tracked with bloody footprints .
<sup>9</sup> And as bands of robbers [lie in] wait for a man,
So a band of priests murder on the road toward Shechem [covering their crimes in that city of refuge];
Certainly they have committed crimes and outrages.
<sup>10</sup> I have seen a horrible thing [sins of every kind] in the house of Israel!
Ephraim's prostitution (idolatry) is there; Israel has defiled itself.
<sup>11</sup> Also, O Judah, there is a harvest [of divine judgment] appointed for you,
When I restore the fortunes of My people [who have been slaves to the misery of sin].

Hosea 7

Ephraim's Sin

<sup>1</sup> WHEN I would heal Israel, ‡
The sin (guilt) of Ephraim is uncovered,
And the wickedness of Samaria,
Because they practice false dealing;
The thief enters,
Bandits ravage and raid outside.
<sup>2</sup> But they do not consider in their hearts (minds) ‡
That I remember [always] all their wickedness.
Now their deeds surround and entangle them;
They are before My face.
<sup>3</sup> They make the king glad with their wickedness, ‡
And the princes with their lies.
<sup>4</sup> They are all adulterers; ‡
Like the heat of an oven
When the baker ceases to stir the fire, [their passion smolders]
From the kneading of the dough until it is leavened.
<sup>5</sup> On the [special] day of our king, the princes became sick with the heat of wine;
The king stretched out his hand [in association] with scoffers (lawless people).

<sup>6</sup> As they approach their plotting,
Their mind burns [with intrigue] like an oven [while they lie in wait].

Their anger smolders all night;
In the morning it blazes like a flaming fire.

<sup>7</sup> They are all hot like an oven ‡
And they consume their judges (rulers);
All their kings have fallen.

There is no one among them who calls to Me.

<sup>8</sup> Ephraim mixes himself with the [Gentile] nations [seeking favor with one country, then another]; ‡

Ephraim is a cake not turned [worthless; ready to be thrown away].

<sup>9</sup> Strangers have devoured his strength, ‡
Yet he does not know it;
Gray hairs are sprinkled on him,
Yet he does not know.

<sup>10</sup> Though the pride of Israel testifies against him, ‡
Yet they do not return [in repentance] to the LORD their God, Nor seek nor search for nor desire Him [as essential] in spite of all this.

<sup>11</sup> Ephraim also is like a silly dove, without heart or good sense; ‡

They call to Egypt [for help], they go to Assyria.

<sup>12</sup> When they go, I will spread My net over them; ‡
I will bring them down like birds of the heavens [into Assyrian captivity].

I will chastise them in accordance with the proclamation
(prophecy) to their congregation.  [Lev 26:14–39;
Deut 28:15–68 ]

<sup>13</sup> Woe (judgment is coming) to them, for they have wandered away from Me! ‡

Devastation is theirs, because they have rebelled and trespassed against Me!

I would redeem them, but they speak lies against Me.

<sup>14</sup> They do not cry out to Me from their heart ‡

When they wail on their beds [in unbelieving despair];
For the sake of grain and new wine they assemble themselves [as if worshiping Baal];
They rebel against Me.

<sup>15</sup> Although I trained and strengthened their arms [for victory over their enemies],

Yet they devise evil against Me.

<sup>16</sup> They turn, but they do not turn upward to the Most High. ‡

They are like a poorly crafted bow [that misses the mark];

Their princes shall fall by the sword

Because of the insolence of their tongue.

This will be cause for their mockery and disdain in the land of Egypt.

Hosea 8

Israel Reaps the Whirlwind

<sup>1</sup> SET THE trumpet to your lips [announcing impending judgment]! ‡

Like a [great] vulture the enemy comes against the house of the LORD,

Because they have broken My covenant

And transgressed and rebelled against My law.

<sup>2</sup> Then they will cry out to Me, ‡

“My God, we of Israel know You!”

<sup>3</sup> Israel has rejected the good;

The enemy shall pursue him.

<sup>4</sup> They set up kings, but not from Me [therefore without My blessing]; ‡

They have appointed princes, but I did not know it.

With their silver and their gold they made idols for themselves,

That they might be cut off.

<sup>5</sup> He has rejected your [pagan] calf, O Samaria, saying, ‡

“My wrath burns against them.”

How long will they be incapable of innocence?

<sup>6</sup> For even this [loathsome calf] is from Israel.

A craftsman made it, so it is not God;
Surely the calf of Samaria will be broken to pieces and go up in flames.

<sup>7</sup> For they sow the wind [in evil] ‡
And they reap the whirlwind [in disaster].
The standing grain has no growth;
It yields no grain.
If it were to yield, strangers would swallow it up.

<sup>8</sup> Israel is [as if] swallowed up [by enemies]; ‡
They are now among the nations
Like a vessel [of cheap, coarse pottery] that is useless.

<sup>9</sup>. For they have gone up to Assyria, ‡
Like a wild donkey wandering alone and taking her own way;
Ephraim has hired lovers (pagan allies).

<sup>10</sup> Yes, even though [with presents] they hire allies among the
Now I will gather them up;
And [in a little while] they will begin to grow weak and diminish
Because of the burden imposed by the king of princes [the king of Assyria].

<sup>11</sup> For Ephraim has constructed many altars for sin;
They are altars intended for sinning [which multiply his guilt].

<sup>12</sup> I wrote for him the ten thousand precepts of My law, ‡
But they are regarded as a strange thing [which does not concern him].

<sup>13</sup> As for My sacrificial offerings, ‡
They sacrifice the meat [as a mere formality] and eat it,
But the LORD is not pleased with them and does not accept
them.

Now He will remember and take into account their wickedness and guilt,
And punish them for their sins.
They will return [in captivity] to [another] Egypt [that is,
Assyria].  [Deut 28:68 ]

14. For Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces [and pagan temples], ‡
And Judah has built many fortified cities;
But I will send a fire upon their cities so that it may consume their palaces and fortresses.  [Amos 1:4, 7, 10, 12, 14; 2:2, 5 ]

Hosea 9

Ephraim Punished

1. DO NOT rejoice, O Israel, with exultation as do the [pagan] peoples, ‡

For you have played the prostitute, turning away from your God.

You have loved prostitutes' earnings on every threshing floor [attributing the harvest to the Baals instead of to God].

2 The threshing floor and the wine press will no longer feed them,

And the new wine will fail them [because they failed to honor the God who provides].

3. They will not remain in the land of the LORD, ‡

But Ephraim will return to [another] Egypt [in bondage]

And they will eat [ceremonially] unclean food in Assyria.  [2 Kin 25:26 ; Ezek 4:13 ]

4 They will not pour out drink offerings of wine to the LORD; ‡

Their sacrifices will not please Him.

Their bread will be like mourners' bread [eaten at funerals];

All who eat it will be [ceremonially] unclean,

For their bread will be for themselves;

It will not enter the house of the LORD [to be consecrated].

5 What will you do on the day of the appointed festival

And on the day of the feast of the LORD [when you are in exile]?

6 For behold, they will go away because of devastation and destruction;

Egypt will gather them up, Memphis will bury them.
Weeds will take over their treasures of silver;
Thorns will grow in their tents.

7. The days of punishment have come; ‡
The days of retribution are at hand;
Let Israel know this!
The prophet is [considered] a fool;
The man [of God] who is inspired is [treated as if] demented,
Because of the abundance of your wickedness and guilt,
And because your deep antagonism [toward God and the prophets] is so great.  [Luke 21:22. ]

8. Ephraim was a watchman with my God, a [true] prophet [to warn the nation];
But the snare of a bird catcher was laid in all his paths.
And there is only deep hostility in the house of his God (the land of Israel).

9. They have deeply corrupted (perverted) themselves ‡
As in the days of Gibeah.
The LORD will remember their wickedness and guilt;
He will punish their sins.  [Judg 20. ]

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness [an unexpected and refreshing delight]; ‡
I saw your fathers (ancestors) as the first ripe fruit on the fig tree in its first season,
But they came to Baal-peor and consecrated themselves to shamefulness [the worship of Baal],
And [because of their spiritual and physical adultery] they
